Asks Election As Your Assessor-Collector

After giving much thought to the matter, I have decided to ask the voters of this county to concenter me as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector.

Due to the many duties of the office I will not be able to contact each of you personally. However, if you consider me capable to continue in this office I will greatly appreciate your continued help and influence.

Jaycees Sponsoring 'Wooden' Iron Lung

The members of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the building of a "wooden" iron lung, to be used in the treatment of polio. This wooden lung will function in the same way as the iron lung and is approved by the American Medical Association.

The blueprints are being furnished free of charge by the Popular Science. Dr. Sibley and Dr. Roberson were asked their professional medical opinion and they were very enthusiastic about the machine. Cicero Smith Lumber Co. donated the lumber and C. W. Denison of Denison & Eaves Appliance Service will do the electrical and pipe fittings.

The Brownfield FFA woodworking class will do the wood construction under the supervision of Lester Buford and Ray Hensley. The blueprints have not arrived yet but have been ordered. The Jaycees will furnish all metal used in construction, unless some other benefactor or benefactors care to donate. The supervision of the lung is under Dr. Sibley.

Jaycees Name Clyde Bond, Jr., Outstanding Young Man of 1951

For the past eleven years, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has chosen a young man who in their estimation, is the Outstanding Man of the year in Brownfield. This year, they made a very wise choice in Clyde Bond, Jr. Clyde, or "Junior," as most of us know him, was born and reared in Brownfield. He is 26 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bond and the grandson of Mrs. J. C. Bond. He has two younger brothers, Alfred and Bill.

Clyde Jr. has always been interested in sports of all kinds and was instrumental in the success of the Junior and Men's softball leagues last summer. Brownfield is fast becoming noted for its good football players and most of them can credit Clyde for his supervision over them at the start of their gridiron careers.

Bond was presented a Distinguished Service Award Key by Jaycee president Crawford Taylor Monday night at the annual Jaycee's Presentation Banquet.

He merited the award for continuous service to the community over a long period of years during which his chief aim was the betterment of community life for our youth.

A secret committee, composed of Harry Goble, J. T. Hoy and Dr. Roberson, made the selection beforehand and the identity of the young man was kept secret until he was presented. The presentation was made before a large audience, consisting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce members and guests, which included city and county officials. The principal speaker was State Senator Kilmer Corbin. State Representative Waggoner Carr was also present.

Outstanding young men of former years are: Ray Christopher, Virgil Burnett, C. C. Primm, Frank Szydoski, Herbert Chesshir, J. E. (Buddy) Gillham, Bruce Zorns, Sam Privitt, Johnny Kendrick, and Dr. W. A. Roberson.

New Preacher For Church of Christ Arrives

THIRD PAY ZONE IN WEST TERRY WELL

Reports spread this week that the Coroco Drilling Co., for the Atlas Insurance Co., putting down a well ten miles west of Brownfield, and just north of the Plains highways, had hit the third pay zone in this well. The well is located on the section just west of the County Farm.

The venture was started as strictly a wildcat well, as there were no other oil wells within five or six miles of it. At 8,292-8,351, the well unloaded 51 feet of clean oil on a 4 1/2 hour test. Nearly 1000 feet deeper, 9,194-9,245 the 3 1/2 hour recovery was 750 feet of oil, and 140 of mud-cut oil.

The latest strike and test was at 10,057-117 feet, when 7,100 feet of clean oil and 30 feet of heavy metal used in construction, unless some other benefactor or benefactors care to donate. The supervision of the lung is under Dr. Sibley.

missioners Court of Terry county, recently, it was decided to raise the pay of all officials, clerks, deputies, road hands, etc., 15 per cent. This will amount to no small sum in the final analysis, but since their pay was last boosted, things they have to buy has climbed, and their dollar purchasing power has declined.

In other words, the old 1940 dollar is now able to get only about 50 cents worth of the same stuff it purchased back 12 years ago, on an average, and in some instances will not purchase a-third what it would in 1940. Take the automobile that could be bought for around $1,000 in 1940, will cost in the neighborhood of $2,500 now. Many other things could be mentioned.

Anyway, according to Dube Pyeatt, county clerk, the salaries of all the salaried officials, have been raised to $5,400 per annum, including the 15 per cent raise. Presently the Commissioners will receive $3,700 annually. Mr. Pyeatt was not sure just what the total boost in salary of the County Agent and Home Demonstrator would be, as the State pays part of their salaries.

But the 15 per cent raise will include all clerks, deputies, as well as all the hands that work on the county roads, or any other labor the county may employ, as we understand it, such as janitors and gardeners around the public buildings.

From our exchanges all over this section, as well as accounts in many of the dailies, we see that many counties have already boosted the salaries of officials and employees to meet the HCL.

Every other year, county officials must stand the expense of political announcements and primary election expenses, as counties do not pay for the primary election expenses. This alone takes no little sum from their pay checks.

Preston Smith Out For State Senate

PRESTON SMITH

Preston Smith, 39, Lubbock, Texas, business man and a former legislator, has announced his candidacy for State Senator from the 28th Senatorial District, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primaries of next summer.

Smith is the first candidate to announce for the newly-created 28th district, which was cut out of the old 30th district by the re-appointment of senatorial districts by the Texas Legislature. The new district is made up of eleven counties instead of 24 in the old 30th District which comprises Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Lynn, Yoakum, Dawson, Gaines, Martin, Terry and Andrews counties.

Smith a native of Williamson County, moved to the South Plains in 1923, with his parents. He resided on a farm in Gaines County until entering Lamesa High school in 1929. After graduating from Lamesa High school in 1930, he moved to Lubbock and attended Texas Technological College until he received a degree in business administration in 1934. While attending Tech he was employed on farms near Lubbock and as a part-time service station operator. After graduation he operated his own service station until 1936 when he entered the theatre business. He now owns and operates five theatres in Lubbock and is recognized as one of the leading independent operators of the state.

Smith first entered politics in 1944 when he was elected State Representative from the old 119th District. He was re-elected twice to the office without an opponent. In 1950 he made the race for

Christian Church To Build Addition

At a call meeting of the board members of the First Christian Church Monday night, contract was let to a Lubbock firm for the erection of a new educational building, with construction to start soon.

The addition to the church will cost approximately $31,897, according to Herbert Chesshir, chairman of the board, and will include 10 classrooms, a recreational room, and a Boy Scout room.

The New GMC Truck Is A Great Machine

We are announcing the new 1952 GMC trucks in this issue of the Herald. We were informed by the personnel at the Ross Motor Co., that they would not keep the trucks on hand, presently, but would order them for customers, as they can be obtained from wholesalers on short notice.

One of the new models is a three cylinder diesel, which will, it is believed, be a prime favorite in the medium weight trucks. If interested in a new truck, we advise you to drop in at Ross Motors and have a talk with them about their new models.

'MARCH OF DIMES' GETS GOOD COOPERATION' - BELL

We believe this year will make the 4th or 5th year that Milton Bell has headed the March of Dimes drive in Terry and Yoakum counties. Anyway, Milton stated to a reporter this week, without stuttering, that he has never had the co-operation as he has had

RELATED: TO LATE TO CLASSIFY

According to reports received from the Fashion Center in Dallas, some of the Brownfield buyers were there with some 1200 other buyers from over the state, getting in on the buying of spring and summer wearing apparel for their respective stores.

Among them were Mrs. Frances Gage and R. E. Self of Collins, and Mrs. Joe Shelton from Shelton's.

A news item from the Executive Vice-President of the Studebaker Corporation, tells us that the showing of the new Studebakers over the nation two weeks ago, was the greatest in the way of interest, in history. The "Starliner" proved to be the most popular type, Mr. Elliott stated.

And Short Forbus, the local Studebaker dealer here, joins the national organization in stating that he had a fine showing and much interest at his place on South Fifth.

That there new Arkansas boy, Bob Wells, that fills prescriptions at the Nelson Pharmacy, pulled a fast one on us 'tother day. He handed us an almanac that speaks Spanish, and we didn't realize we had something that was "Greek" to us till we got back to the office, and tried to see when it is going to rain.

Speaking of rain and the weather, Bob made another wise crack 'tother day when we told him only fools and newcomers tried to predict the weather here. Says Wells, "that's the only kind here, ain't it?"

LOCAL FIRM COMPLETES JOHN DEERE DAY PLANS

Next Wednesday, January 30, is a very special day at the Johnson Implement Company, as they are having their formal opening in their new building, and inviting patrons and friends in this area to the annual John Deere Day.

Joe W. Johnson and Charles Kersh are co-owners of the business establishment. Although they moved "downtown" last summer to their present location—on the Seagraves highway and Foster Gin road—they have not had a formal opening; so they are combining the two big events.

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the "Free Show," as their patrons include residents and John Deere tractor owners in Terry, Yoakum and Gaines counties, and Eastern New Mexico. Demonstrations of the latest types of machinery, and a tour of the establishment are being planned; lunch will be served at noon by members of home demonstration clubs in this county; and in the afternoon there will be a free picture show, featuring "Galalahad Jones," starring Marjorie Lord, Richard Crane and Jonathan Hale, will be shown, with other movies.

Representatives of 4-H Clubs and FFA Chapters in the county are also being invited, according to Mr. Kersh.

Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Kersh have both had many years experience in the tractor and implement business. Their aims are to always sell service, and have one of the most complete plants on the South Plains. The new establishment includes a 50'x140' service department, show room, office, 20'x30' paint room, 50'x120' warehouse, with 13,600 square feet this year, both from the standpoint of individuals and organizations.

This may be partly explained from the fact that this section of Texas has had the highest incidence of polio in the past few years on medical record. And too, as Milton explained, we have had to ask the National Chapter for $7,500 more money than we have put into the organization. He has hopes that we will raise our largest amount on record this year. The chairman takes this pre-close opportunity to express his sincere thanks for the willingness and efforts of all.

He stated that all the local service clubs were working like beavers. Tomorrow, the 26th, the Lions Club is sponsoring an all-day "Coffee" at each cafe. On that day, all sales of coffee will go to the March of Dimes fund. The idea is to see just how many each person can "coffee up" that day. By the way, the Rotary Club has already donated $404.00, and will take care of all Business donations. Their president, Al Muldrow, will make an introductory speech at the Rialto Theatre Monday night.

At that time the National Guard will take up collections. Red Smith, president of the Lions Club, will make an introductory speech Monday night at the Rialto Theatre, where a collection will also be made by the National Guard. The Lions have already donated $118.50.

Wednesday night the Wheatley colored school basketball team played the Junior High. Bell said he didn't know which team won or what the score was, but the March of Dimes won, as it got all the proceeds.

Don't forget those tiny "iron lungs" you will find at each place of business. When you have some loose change that is burning your pockets, just drop it in those iron lungs.

Zoologists recognize over 900,000 species of living animals.

There are two experienced men in the parts department, Walter Skiles and Woodrow Day. In the service department are Clyde Glover, E. F. Polan, Claid Nixon and Dial Henley. Lewis Ervin is salesman for the Johnson Implement Company, and Ray Waiser is manager of the "setting up and delivery" crew for new machinery. Assisting him are Ben Ramsey, Leonard Melear, Archie Bingham, Alton Green and Jessie Keith.

Mrs. Jennie Hayden is book keeper. Johnson Implement Company has one of the most complete repair stock of parts on the South Plains, Mr. Kersh said, "and we are equipped with all special tools for servicing John Deere tractors. Our parts and service men have had years of experience, and have attended trade schools to learn more about John Deere implements."

Complete steam cleaning is featured in the paint department. A large loading dock is at the rear of the warehouse, where a heated "setting up" room is for the convenience of service men and patrons.

A fenced enclosure is used for storing merchandise and the "overflow" new machinery, when the warehouse is filled.

The firm has the latest equipment for handling heavy loads, with hoists; and three pickups and a heavy truck with a tilting trailer for deliveries and bringing in used machinery.

In the last issue of the Anton News, the editor, Afton Richards, issued a great tirade against this paper and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and its publisher, Charles A. Guy, in particular. This was because of the fact that the Herald and Avalanche-Journal are not in sympathy with a statement from a Lubbock Judge that he approved "rotten Democratic to fairly good" Republican administrations," perhaps. When a boy was used to be a saying that if a pup followed an old suck-egg dog around, they'd soon get to sucking eggs themselves. Then there is a Biblical injunction to shun the very appearance of evil. So to be perfectly frank, we just don't think much of a judge or any other citizens that condones rotten politics. Nor have we ever thought we would live to see the day that we'd enjoy a brass collar around our neck, and led like a sheep to the slaughter (poling place). But, if the other guy feels good on the leash, that is their business. We are not going to try to make any defense for Editor Guy. He is fully able to take care of himself. But we are going to give the youthful editor of the Anton paper a bit to put in his pipe and smoke about our loyalty to the south and its traditions, although we admit some of the trails were devious. We were brought up in the home of an ex-Confederate soldier, who put in the full four years on the firing line with one slight wound on the hand. He had a brother also that went through the conflict, received a serious wound, and died soon after the Civil War closed from the effects of that wound, it was thought. Our mother had only two brothers, both of whom were in the conflict. One failed to return home-alive. The other one, Uncle Riley Jones, returned without wound so far as we ever knew. Our mother had two brothers-in-law in the conflict. As long as our father lived, he always voted the Democratic ticket, when allowed to vote after the departure of the carpetbaggers and scallows. About the time the writer was a young squirt some 13 years of age, and the Cleveland Democratic depression was on, one of our brothers sorter strayed off with the James B. Weaver Populist party. And we remember that a brother, then in Texas, wrote him that the Stricklins had always voted 'er straight with one exception. Somewhere in the late 1850s, dad had gone over to the Greenbackers, whoever they were. Very likely the party then in power had become rotten to the core. Many Democrats for the same reason fell out with Grover Cleveland about 1893. But many of the Trumaner-Socialist, as old as the writer, cannot remember the Cleveland Democratic depression—only the Hoover Republican depression. In fact, they don't want to remember it, as they lived like kings about 1930 to what they did in 1893 and thereabouts. Lots of people like to forget that when the Hoover depression struck, we had a Democratic congress. But they forget the Cleveland depression, or the Republican prosperity under McKinley in 1898, brought on by the short Spanish-American War. We have had three wars since the turn of the century, all under Democrats—war prosperity. We had rather have a bit less prosperity, sans the wars. As to our voting record, for the 43 years we have been in Terry County, our vote has been cast each four years, beginning with 1912 and Woodrow Wilson's first term, on through all of FDR's four terms. But we got fed up with Truman's so-called democracy in three years, cast a vote for Strom Thurmond—no Tom Dewey—as Richards would have people believe. Now, just for amusement, we would like to have a comparison of the Richards family record for loyalty to the South and the real Democratic party. We hope none of them were buswhackers during the war, or that they drifted in as carpetbaggers after the war. Also, with just one exception have been true and tried "real" Democrats. Personally, we have never been so infernal little as to think a man was a low life scoundrel because he was a Republican. Nor, do we think all who call themselves Democrats are peerless wonders. We are also sorter fed up on all this talk of "social equality" that is put out by the little Missourian. There are a lot of white people as well as colored ones that we don't want in our home, or anything to do with them. And when we want a colored man to clean our yard or make a crop, or pick our cotton, that is what we want. On the other hand, if we wish to hire a white man, that too, is our business, and we don't want any bureaucrats telling us what we should do. Evidently Mr. Richards would be all smiles and a yard wide and all wool if the powers that be at Washington told him to get a Polynesian when he needed a printer—papa knows Cleveland about 1893. As we stated above so we repeat, that if the Lubbock Judge wants Pendergast rapine, gambling, murder, theft, bondngling, with the hand outs of mink coats, deep freezers, influence in trimming taxes, while they pore it on others, that is his business, but we shall have to judge him by the company he likes. On the other hand, if we wish a clean government above suspicion, we also claim that as our business. And Mr. Richards we'll have lots of company this year all over the south, as well as in Terry, Hockley and other sections of Texas. The cotton and feed raising farmers that we have heard talk, are not too well pleased with how matters have been handled by Mr. Truman and his cronies. By the way, Afton, while speaking of voting 'er straight, we even voted for Al Smith in 1928 instead of Hoover. How did your folks vote? Hoover was not elected by our vote, although he was not altogether to blame for conditions as the Senate and House were both Democratic the last two years of his administration, and that was the worst part of it. Yes, we took Al with his anti-prohibition, Catholicism and all and still believe Al would have made a good president.

Like the Crosbyton Review, we admit we are becoming fast fed up on many things that are happening almost daily up at Washington. And we are not alone. They go in droves right here in old Terry. And the US Senators and Congressmen after a summer-fall visit with the folks back home, went back to Washington with the determination to put their feet down on extravagant spending, despite what the president wants. This is election year—remember? But in the Trend

Column of the Review, Editor Curry, a very level-headed individual, left us this thought: "The last session of Congress appropriated a total of near 98 billion dollars, and that, folks, figures out some $635 for each man, woman and child in the United States, or $2,540 for every family of four persons." And chairman Cannon of the Appropriations Committee, went on to state, "never has there been such delay and confusion and attendant waste as there has been this year." Yes, we agree that most of us will remember Cannon's words when we pay our taxes. To quote Trends a bit further, we find this one: "Another item in this week's news that really burned us up. It was the account of a defendant up at St. Paul, Minn., a criminal of the worst degree, according to the government. This man was fined $1,000 and sentenced to six months imprisonment by a US District Court on a very heinous offense. What was it? He willfully sold television sets without obtaining the cash down payment, required by Regulation W. So, you think you live in a Democracy? Well, brother just look what a 'Democracy' can do to you!"

Did you hear the address of Hon. Price Daniell, presently our State attorney general, Monday night? We did, and to our notion, Daniel hued to the line of straight out old Democracy. Of course the so-called "liberals," pinkies, minka da coatas, deepa da freeze, influence salesmen and fellow travelers did not like the address. But Price Daniel left no doubt in any one's mind that he, like millions of other Texans, and people all over the South are fed up with the tru-deal stuff. That he was squarely against Truman or anyone he selects as his successor, providing Truman does not run for re-election. In his address and announcement for the United States Senate to succeed Tom Connally, he promised to keep the campaign on a high plane. There will be no mud slinging on his part, he stated, but at the same time, he is going to expose the mess at Washington from the street corner to the house-top. We believe that after a certain age in the life of mankind, they begin to lose their usefulness. Some 20 years ago, we had a man in the US Senate from Texas, that never came home to campaign. Some people wondered about this. His campaign manager here in Texas, would make up his organizations to campaign for the old

Senator's re-election. One time an attorney of Lubbock at that time, and our State Senator, informed us that he had just visited Washington, and had business with this old Senator. He found him in his office, as he never attended senate sessions. Our informant stated that the old Senator was the worst dissipated looking man he ever saw, and kept a bottle handy on his desk at all times. As stated above, the people back in Texas did not know this, as his cohorts did all the planning, keeping the Senator up at Washington and out of sight of his constituents. In a few years he passed on, and only then was his body brought back to his home state for a funeral. For this reason, we believe Texas ought to infuse new blood in its body politic occasionally. Before his first term is near over, our present Junior Senator, Lyndon Johnson, is known far and wide as the watchdog of the treasury. He is making good, and we need a new young man to help guard Texas' interests. We do not intimate that Senator Connally is in the condition of the above described old Senator. So far as we know, Tom is in good health for one of his age. We also

The Hunting Season Takes Its Toll

AUSTIN.—The Chief Clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission said incomplete casualty reports from the recent major hunting seasons show that at least 28 Texans died from accidents. All but six of the tentative total died from gunfire. Five drowned and one died of a broken neck sustained in a fall from a deer stand in a tree. At least six other persons died from heart attacks attributed to over exertion while hunting. The chief clerk said the total for the last season would approximate that of the previous season when at least 35 were listed as having died from assorted causes including heart attacks.

Services Held For Meadow Resident

Funeral services were held at the Ropesville Baptist Church Monday, January 14, for C. E. Mackey, 74, of Meadow, a longtime resident of the South Plains area. Mr. Mackey passed away in a Lubbock hospital Sunday, January 13, after a brief illness. He was born August 6, 1877, in Hunt County, and had lived in the Meadow area the past 22 years. In addition to his wife he is survived by one son, Dana, of Lubbock, four daughters, Mrs. Vada Ledbetter of Fort Worth, Mrs. Emma Montgomery of Lorenzo, Mrs. Alpha Cate and Mrs. Fannie Neitsch, both of Lubbock; four brothers, two sisters, 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. GOOD PUPILS—Here are three "catching eye-fuls" from whom light-fingered crooks are hearing these days. These New York lovelies, left to right: Dorothee Wolf, Mary Sanios and Mary Jane Vignola, are real detectives—"private eyes" whose job is in the public eye. When this picture was taken they had just been credited with apprehending a shoplifter with a long record. Miss Sanios spotted the thief with $260 worth of stolen goods in a Manhasset, N. Y., store and all three girls held onto the culprit until police arrived. Well, if you've got to be arrested, what better way than being held by three girls such as these?

"Out of thin air" comes the HIGHEST HORSEPOWER in Buick history

NOTE FROM YOUR BUICK DEALER:

Presented here is the story of a great new engine development, as told by the men who did the job. We reprint the story here in its entirety — as we couldn't beat it if we tried.

No, we didn't have to build a new engine. We took Buick's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which makes the most of high compression. We drew on 12 patient years of Buick carburetion research.

And we came up with more might, more miles, from gas—right out of thin air, in more ways than one.

When you talk about "miles per gallon" you think of fuel, because that's what you buy. But air's free—and for every gallon of gasoline, a busy engine can gulp more than 8,000 gallons of air.

The problem is to deliver air in the right proportions, throughout the full range of speeds at which you drive.

A carburetor—big enough to supply the air needed at full throttle—can be wasteful in stop-and-go driving. A carburetor sized for thrift in city traffic literally smothers your engine when you really give it the gun.

So Buick engineers developed the Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—and here's how it works.

Loading along, two barrels are working, two stay closed. And you get a low-speed thrif and smoothness that's out of this world. As you pick up speed, the "stand-bys" come into play—feeding not just more gas, but more air too—so you keep getting maximum power from each drop of fuel.

You have 170 effortless horsepower when you need it—a tremendous reserve ready to go into instant action at the nudge of your toe.

You have the satisfaction of knowing that you get this power with a frugal use of gas. At 40 you use less gas than you formerly used at 30.

That's the story of Airpower carburetion in facts and figures straight from the factory. But statistics can't tell you the breath-taking joy of heading for new horizons in a great-powered new ROADMASTER.

When can you do that? Better come in soon. Lots of other folks are flocking into our showroom these days to see the greatest array of new Buicks we've had in years.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

ANNUAL REPORT GIVEN OF WORK BY CO. AGENT

According to an annual report made to the extension service of Texas A&M College, by County Agent Jim Foy, Terry county has some 415,000 acres of cultivated land and approximately 65 per cent of this acreage is of the sandy nature to the extent that wind erosion must be constantly guarded against.

"There are 1,500 farms in Terry county and 200 irrigation wells in the farms. With about half of these wells being developed this year (1951) irrigation covers 20,000 acres.

"The agricultural income of Terry county continues to be augmented to a small extent with income from the sales of mineral rights in connection with the oil resources of the county. There are now 150 oil wells in production. A salt cake mine with its chemical plant and a carbon black plant add to the revenue of the county.

"A total of 33 days was devoted to general feeder insects during the year. More of the agent's time was spent on this one program than any other project the agent worked on during the year. The majority of work was on cotton insects. The damage to the county overall was less than 10 per cent. Three hundred or more farms were visited, and to many different fields to make infestation counts and to help the farmer make his, and his neighbors' infestation counts.

"Approximately 50 per cent of the land in the county has been deep broke. This deep breaking brings a clay to the surface and prevents wind erosion, which this year enabled the farmers to hold 35 per cent of the cotton that was planted. This is the first time that the farmers were able to hold what they planted.

"A total of 21 days was devoted to Conservation of Natural Resources. About 25 miles of terraces were built under the supervision of the County Agent. This covered some 2,500 acres. Approximately 2,500 acres was placed on contour by the agent."

Livestock Is Scarce

The county agent stated in his report that the livestock situation in this county is far below normal, chiefly because of the present price of cotton. Both beef and dairy cows have been sold from farms, and farmers planted the grazing land in cotton.

"An annual Junior Calf and Pig Show helps to keep interest stimulated in selling homegrown feeds through livestock. In 1951 there were 80 entries in the calf division and 17 entries in the swine show. The average price for the fat calves was 38.24 cents per pound and 32.03 cents per pound on hogs.

4-H Club Work
The agent held or attended 57 meetings during last year, and 5,345 people were in attendance, for 4-H Club members. A total of 110 days was spent to 4-H Club work, including work with boys on projects such as dairy, beef, swine, cotton, poultry, and various contests.

For the first time a fall Gilt Show was held for 4-H and FFA boys only. There were 26 entries. Money was furnished by the Brownfield State Bank and First National Bank.

"There are a number of swine breeders in Terry County and this type of livestock has not decreased in number like beef and dairy cows. The most common breeds raised in the county are Spotted Poland China, Berkshire, and Duroc," the agent reported.

"There are 83 4-H Club members who have swine as their projects with 110 animals. In both the swine and dairy programs of the county, 4-H Club members have a chance to earn registered animals. Sears Foundation furnishes eight gilts and a boar each year. They also furnished a registered heifer to the county. In 1951 John W. Tuttle received the heifer program through which a number of members have received a registered animal."

250,000 Acres Cotton
"In the crop year of 1951, Terry County had about 250,000 acres planted to cotton. One of the big problems this year has been to get the cotton harvested after it opened, and before we got one of our usual sand storms, which would blow it out. This created a labor shortage, as soon as the cotton was ready to pull.

"The Terry County Farm Bureau organized a Labor Association to contract Mexican Nationals to pull the cotton. Over 2,500 Nationals were brought into the county for this purpose. At the present time all reports indicate that the farmers using the Nationals are well satisfied with the work that is being done.

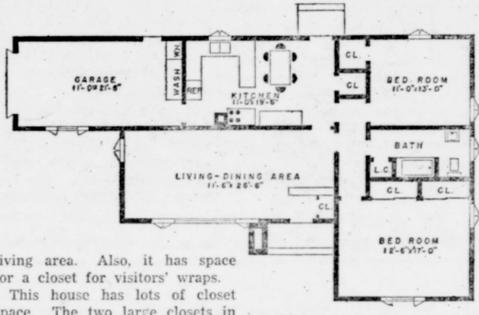

"It is now estimated that some 75,000 bales will be harvested and ginned in Terry County this year. Although the south half of the county was dry, the north half made some very good yields; some as high as one bale per acre on dry land.

"Grain sorghums was a minor crop this year, due to the large acreage planted to cotton."

SMALL FAMILY WITH LOTS OF ROOM

HOUSE PLAN No. 37

If yours is a small farm family verse to cramped quarters, then Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5137 was tailor-made for you. It is a small house dimensionally speaking, but it is a mansion in the comfort and convenience it provides.

The attached garage could very easily be converted into a screened porch that would open off both the living room and kitchen. As the plan is now drawn, there is plenty of space for the washing machine, water heater, and some storage on the wall next to the kitchen.

The kitchen is U-shaped to save you steps. There is considerable storage space by the stove; if you prefer, the laundry equipment could be moved from the garage and put in this area. The outside traffic from the farmstead will be routed through the back door and will not interfere with kitchen activities.

The spacious living-dining area is unusual for a house of this overall size. You will be especially thankful for all this room when you are entertaining guests. The cabinet which screens the front door is an optical illusion; it forms a small entrance that will not appreciably reduce the usable size of the room, yet it offers privacy for the dining and living area. Also, it has space for a closet for visitors' wraps.

This house has lots of closet space. The two large closets in the front bedroom are especially useful. This room has been made large so there will be space for sewing and other activities that often are carried on in the master bedroom.

The unadorned texture and lines of this house will blend well with any setting.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5137 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—plan No. 5137. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Pressure Sauce Pans Are Safe

COLLEGE STATION. — The housewife will find that cooking with a pressure sauce pan saves time, work and fuel and insures the food value of the products prepared. Louise Mason, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that such a pan should be chosen with care because it cooks with steam under pressure.

Several points should be considered when a pressure sauce pan is purchased. Miss Mason says that some pressure sauce pans have controls which automatically hold the pressure and temperature at desired points. This is done regardless of how high the heat is under the pan. Others just have pressure indicators. In using the latter it is necessary to adjust the heat so as to hold the desired pressure.

Safety features are very important since the sauce pan will contain steam under pressure. Miss Mason states that all cookers have safety devices which release the steam should the pressure get too high. Some of these devices are, a rubber diaphragm which blows out, a metal plug which melts, or a spring in the pet-cock gauge combination.

Look for protection against opening the pan too soon. Some cookers have flexible lids which snap in under the lid of the pan. These cannot be opened until the pressure is down. Flexible lids do have the disadvantage of dipping down into the pan as it is opened and closed.

Consider the handles and knobs. They should be made of material and a shape which can be handled comfortably when the pan is hot. Wood is heat resistant but it cracks and chars when overheated. Some sauce pans now have handles of heat resistant plastic. Miss Mason says the seal of approval of the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., gives further assurance of the mechanical safety of the pressure sauce pan. Be sure and look for this seal before buying. She further advises homemakers to use the instructions which come with the pan regardless of the kind bought.

The number of milk cows on U. S. farms has changed little in the last three years.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

Well, here we go off at a tangent again, after a week of rest—or did we rest? Anyway, some fellows down at A. & M. has written a book on "Why Go to College to Learn Farming?" We have never read the book, but this we do know, farming has reached that stage in the game of making good at your calling or profession that you either have to learn by reading, schooling or observation. Farming ain't what it usta be.

And speaking of farmers, a week or so gone by, we about half way invited ourself out of the W. M. Wooley farm for breakfast some of these fine mornings. Well, that individual dropped in this week and made the invitation a personal one. All come about when he made a couple barbers mad as March hares when he began to describe how he sliced that old country ham, fried home cured sausage, baked hot biscuits, good coffee and what have you.

But here's the catch. We have to be on hand at 7 or 7:30 a. m. at the farm, and that means we'll have to shuffle out of bed just about an hour before our regular time in order to make the seven mile drive to the Wooley farm. But we believe it will be worth the hour sacrifice of sleep to get the good eats. So, watch for our headlight some morning, W. M.

The Baptist people are not the only folks in Texas who regret the passing of Ex-Governor Pat M. Neff. Neff was a natural politician if there ever was one. He knew how to meet and make people like him whether it happened to be a corn-field farmer or a gold plated oil millionaire.

Pat was brought up on a farm near McGregor in McLennan county, we believe by a widowed mother (Mother Neff), and for many years of his youth made a living the hard way, saving all he could for college and a career. Pat Neff visited Brownfield about 1918 when we received our railroad to address a picnic and celebration crowd. The writer, among many others, were introduced to the then prosecuting attorney of McLennan county, by our mutual friend, W. W. Price. Judge Price also attended Baylor University.

What to us was always amazing was the surpassing memory of Neff. Two years after that time he became a candidate for governor of Texas, against some prominent political opponents. At that time the writer was County Democratic Chairman, and at the spring convention, there being no others present who wanted to pay their own way to the State Convention at Dallas in May, the job was unloaded on us.

It appeared to us that some of the big guns at the convention were trying mightily to overshadow the youthful attorney from Waco, but that fact didn't seem to faze Pat. Just before a session was to begin, the writer walked down an aisle and shook hands with Mr. Neff. Without the slightest hesitancy he called our name, where we was from, and asked about Word Price. At that very moment we became a vest pocket vote for Neff.

While considered a politician as do all who seek public office, Pat Neff had a high conception of morality in and out of office, and he carried out this ideal in the office of Governor. There were no scandals during the Neff administration. His sense of the right went with him later as president of Baylor University, and that institution had a wonderful growth under his administration. The state of Texas has lost a great and good man.

Great has been the rukus down Austin way about the automobile inspection law. Some have termed it a graft of the first water for the repair shops. Others are just as positive that in the long run, lives of Texas people or visitors may be saved by having cars put in condition to be safe for highway travel.

Have your way as you will about the matter, the law is on the statute books until repealed, and this goes for the insurance feature. However, about a month ago, some writer brought out the fact that it was not the old slow models that were causing wrecks, but the fast new models with a smart alex behind the wheels.

And we have read the account of just about every wreck in the daily papers since that time, and we will here and now admit that it is the 1948 to 1951 models that feature in just about all the highway crashes.

Last week we had the announcement of the formal dedication of the $650,000 Howard Junior College at Big Spring, but the publicity staff of the college failed to get their news matter in the mails on time, and we were ready for press when it was received. Congratulations, anyway.

And from newspaper accounts the dedication was a huge success, speakers being prominent Texas educators. We shall have to agree with most people who have had the experience, that 16 or 17 year old students, just out of high school, are too young to send way off some place to a college. So, if you have the first two years of college at hand, where most of them can stay at home, they are old and experienced enough in two more years to go off some place to finish their education.

A visitors in this great religious weekly last week was Mr. Ferris (same spelling as the wheel you ride on) who was down in this burg looking for business. He is the circulation manager of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal publications. We had a lot of fun just to ourselves, talking about the rest of the A-J folks, especially Jack Benefield, the oil reporter.

By the way, Jack is to take a position soon as editor of an oil paper or mag. down at Midland. Sorry to lose Jack, but as soon as he gets to Midland, he will be unable to see any further north than Andrews county.

Another Lubbock man who called this week was Preston Smith, who has his sights on the office of State Senator. Preston held the office of State Representative some two terms, then decided to run for Lieutenant Governor, and was nosed out by the present incumbent two years ago.

Smith is not an attorney. He is a theatre owner, but keeps abreast of the times on the news of the area, and we predict that if elected, Preston Smith will make the district an A-1 Senator.

By the way, rumor has it that the present Senator Kilmer Corbin may decide on something a bit higher, and try to unseat George Mahon as Congressman from this district. So far, this is just talk. For all we know, Senator Corbin has never issued any statement.

Gee Gee and Sam Privitt have "the cutest baby boy," born here Saturday! (Just like new parents, they think so) . . . He weighed seven pounds and seven ounces and measured 18 inches in length! While Richard Marion and his mother stayed in the hospital, it was almost necessary for Gee Gee's son and his nurse to climb over the beautiful flowers in her room, when he came for his "official" visits. "He's such a darling, no trouble at all," said Gee Gee . . . wait until the sleepless nights start

Local use of post cards has not fallen off to any noticeable degree since the price went up to two cents, said Postmaster Joe Shelton. Since it costs more to buy them in lots of 50, one firm that uses post cards for advertising purposes usually buys 49 cards every few days! Did you know that you can buy 13 post cards for a cent and a quarter?

In a cafe in Seminole owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brown, formerly of Brownfield, the walls are covered with various cattle brands that are so typical of the Southwest. Recently a couple stopped there who reside in one of the eastern states. After the lady had been looking at the walls for quite sometime, she asked a waitress, "What language is this on these walls?"

The above was told to Rev. and Mrs. Homer Haislip and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Moore when they were in Seminole Sunday. Rev. Haislip was guest speaker at the groundbreaking for a new Christian Church there.

Having been in politics for many years, Herb Chesshir said Wednesday he would not feel natural this summer if he did not go to the candidate speakings . . . left the impression that he might feel slighted if not given a special invitation to accompany some candidates . . . He might add variety to the "shows" by having automobile auctions, along with the usual cakes and pies!

Luncheon Scoops

—by Wendy Warren—

Vivian Blaine won't put a key on a table—or a hat on a bed—and the pretty, blue-eyed actress will stoutly defend her pet superstitions against all comers. The truth probably is that Vivian, who began her career in the entertainment world as a vocalist with pop bands at seventeen, is a lively, imaginative little person who loves everything dramatic. Even, she admits, the thrill of roller coaster loop-theloops at amusement parks. After several successes in musical films, Vivian recently scored again as star of the Broadway hit, "Guys and Dolls," and she is currently combining her talents as a skilled comedienne and as a velvety-voiced singer on NBC-TV every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening, in "Those Two," a video variety show on which she co-stars with comic Pinky Lee.

Originality With Ribbon or Ornament Adds Sparkle to Coiffure

BY EDNA MILES

A HUMDRUM hair-do is often to blame when a woman begins to look dull and uninteresting to her family and friends.

It need not wreck your bank account to introduce a bit of change when you're arranging your tresses. If you're looking for the golden coin of variety, you may find that you have a veritable treasure chest right upon your own dressing table.

Look at your jewelry box with a new eye and a fresh viewpoint. IT'S not recommended that you divert your diamonds or your grandmother's heirloom opals to this purpose, but, stresses the Hair Fashion Council, it's possible to do an infinite number of interesting things with your costume jewelry. For a glistening touch try catching a pearl bracelet around a strand of your hair; wind a rhinestone chain through your coronet braid; fasten a bright, be-gemmed pin in the center of your chignon.

If you're low on jewelry, even the department store variety, you can still, with a bit of experimentation, work out a new and interesting coiffure.

Narrow, black velvet ribbon is your ally in one outstanding hair-do which is basically a chignon arrangement. Instead of simply looping the bun at the nape of your neck, wind the ribbon twice around the crown of your head for a distinctively graceful Hellenic effect.

Imagination can change a humdrum hair-do into a distinctive coiffure. Velvet ribbon, left, wrapped twice around the head in the style of the ancient Greeks, vies for attention with the glitter effect, right, created with ornaments originally intended to glorify wrists or necks.

News From the Home Demonstration Agent

A training school for clothing leaders of home home demonstration clubs was held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the office of Miss Doris Mahaffey, home demonstration agent.

Osborn, Pool; Mrs. Alvin Heron and Mrs. H. N. Reid, Gomez; Mrs. Hardin Joyce, Johnson; Mrs. Frank Sargent, Union; Mrs. E. D. Saunders and Mrs. Ralph Murry, Harmony; Mrs. Sam Gossett and Mrs. George Martin, Meadow-Challis; Mrs. E. G. Lamm and Mrs. O. D. Kennedy, Willow Wells.

These leaders will give demonstrations to their respective clubs at meetings in February.

Mrs. Kellie Sears, council chairman, and Mrs. Lee Bartlett, THDA chairman, will go with Miss Mahaffey next Wednesday to Lubbock to attend a conference on club work, at the precinct 1 clubhouse. Mrs. Aubrey Russell, district agent, will preside.

Miss Mahaffey will attend an advanced workshop on dressmaking at Texas Tech the week of February 4 through 9th. Miss Salint Roberson, specialist from College Station, will be in charge of the workshop.

Auctioneer Langford In This Week

That coarse talking bird called J. L. Langford from out Challis way, was in this week to get his Lubbock daily up another notch. As he still has some youngsters at home, he has to get the Sunday Funnies too. He also claims to be mayor of the city of Challis, but we have heard that there is some doubt about that matter, as Money Price got one vote that was thrown out, as he was a write-in candidate.

At least, some say Langford is a plurality and not a majority mayor. But with that loud, coarse voice of his, he puts us more in the mind of an auctioneer than a mayor or farmer. Anyway, we got to discussing cats, and we told him meat was getting so high we can't bear to look a pig or calf in the face any longer.

Says he, "us farmers have to look 'em in the face as we have to feed the brutes twice a day to keep 'em growing. You town guys have to have a bit of meat, don't you? And we farmers have to have a profit, don't we?"

Yes, we guess so. But old timers back in Tennessee during the early 1890ties, when the Cleveland Democratic depression was on, used to say they could not look a sheep in the face, as wool, tallow and meat was so cheap. Now meat is so high we can hardly look a sheep, cow, goat or shoat in the face.

When the Banks Are Closed, Cash Needed; $19,000 Is Paid Out By One Firm Here

The writer had known for some time that it takes a whole of a lot of money in this burg to cash checks, even when the banks as usual, close at noon Saturdays, to pay the checks of working men and women, who get their pay at noon or in the afternoon. But frankly, folks, we were astonished when shown the amount one firm paid out, cashing checks last Saturday, when the banks were closed on account of the birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The head of the firm showed us the exact figures of the cash he used last weekend. "Not seeking any publicity, just want to show you the amount of cash we put out here on days the banks are closed," the proprietor stated. So, we asked that his name be used, so that others who may be astonished also, may, if they wish, verify our statement.

The firm? The C. C. Primm Drug Store, and the sum C. C. Primm showed us was exactly $19,288.30. Measured by the pile that a country weekly usually has, folks, that is a barrel of money—and by one firm. But we just wonder what the figure would run to all over town?

As we understand it, some of these checks may run as high as $500; many from one to $50 dollars, and one firm like the above may have a huge stack of them at the end of the day. Just think what the banks may have cashed if they had been open.

This is understandable from the fact that the banks usually advertise in advance the day they will be closed, and many in need of cash obtain it the day before. However, we recall that a recent bank holiday occurred on Monday, so that really the banks were closed from Saturday noon until the next Tuesday.

More Power and Economy in 1952 Buick

Buick's popular four-door Riviera sedan in the Super Series, incomparable in the medium-priced field, is presented here in its new 1952 styling. Important new exterior styling changes and exquisite new interior appointments lend a new note of elegance and beauty to the Super. New for 1952 are the sweepers and rocker panel moldings, rear fender ornaments, and high luster stainless steel wheel covers, offered as an option. A new high arc rear deck lid raises the silhouette of the rear section and provides seven per cent more room in the luggage compartment. The Riviera sedan is mounted on a national roominess and comfort. It is powered by the high performance F-263 Fireball engine which develops 128 horsepower with Dynaflow. New and bigger front wheel brakes, for greater safety, are features on all 1952 Buicks.

FLINT, MICH.—Buick today introduced its 1952 line of cars and turned the spotlight on its new Airpower carburetor, described by Buick engineers as the greatest improvement in carburetion in a decade.

The 1952 line, freshly restyled inside and out, includes 16 body styles in four horsepower ratings and four wheelbases. Eight models are offered in the Special Series and four each in the Super and custom-built Roadmaster Series.

The new cars will go on display in dealer showrooms Saturday, Jan. 19.

The new four-barrel Airpower carburetor, which is featured on the Roadmaster only, tops the list of engineering improvements for 1952. This carburetor, along with a change in manifolding and an increase in the compression ratio, boosts the horsepower output of the Roadmaster Fireball-eight engine to 170, and improves gasolene mileage and performance throughout the entire speed range. The compression ratio has been increased from 7.2 to 7.5 to 1.

Power Steering, which takes most of the effort out of driving, is offered as an option on the Roadmaster. New and bigger front wheel brakes are featured on all models.

Improvements in body and engine mountings, and insulation, plus an even more generous use of sound deadener, make all 1952 Buicks quieter, adding to passenger comfort.

"We believe these improvements, coupled with our new styling features, make Buick the outstanding car value for 1952," said Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

Style-wise the 1952 Buick is new from every angle. New rear fender ornaments, smartly styled in chrome, and a higher arc rear deck lid on the Super and Roadmaster Series, raise the silhouette of the rear section. The new trunk lid provides seven per cent more room in the luggage compartment. Rear fender ornaments also are featured on the Special Series.

A restyled bumper-grille combination that retains that low, road-hugging effect characteristic of Buick styling, and handsome new sweepers moldings, add fresh beauty to the overall appearance of the car. Stainless steel rocker panel moldings previously featured on the Roadmaster only, have been added to all series.

New high luster, stainless steel wheel covers, embossed with the Buick emblem in the center, add a further touch of distinction to the 1952 line.

New and bigger front wheel brakes, designed for greater safety, give more braking capacity at points absorbing the greatest braking load. The width of the front brake linings on the Super and Special Series has been increased one-half an inch, to 2 1/2 inches. On the Roadmaster the width of the lining has been increased to 2 1/4 inches and the thickness has been increased 3/8 per cent. All brakes have full riveted linings, for longer life.

All cars in the Super and Special Series are powered with the high performance F-263 valve-in-head Fireball-eight engine which develops 128 horsepower with Dynaflow.

Dynaflow, which now has the unqualified approval of more than 1,000,000 Buick owners, continues as standard equipment on the Roadmaster and optional on the Super and Special.

Buick Easy-Eye glass, which reduces road glare, is offered as an option on all models. Numerous changes also have been made in the interior appointments of the 1952 line, featuring many distinctive two-tone combinations in both leather and cloth. Steering wheels in red, green or blue, to match the interior colors, are featured on five models in the Roadmaster and Super Series.

PIE-EYED PIPER—Fun-loving American artist Molly Guion, who combines talent with mischief in her work, stands by her intriguing canvas of a Scottish piper which she has just completed at her New Rochelle, N. Y., home after returning from a two-year visit to England. Sketches for the oil depiction of the piper were made in Great Britain while the Scot was actually blowing his bagpipes as can easily be seen from the pain(t)ed expression on his face.

Plate favors were miniature emblems in green and white and inscribed with the Grand Chapter motto: "Faith."

Tea napkins emphasized the chosen colors and were embossed with the first names of the two honorees. The fern and emblem are the chosen symbols of the Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Flora Best Boone of Littlefield, to emphasize her motto which is "Faith is Real."

Around The Corner — And Down The Street

By Margaret Bandy Coward

We decided, with Mrs. O. L. Jones, when women work away from home, and do not have housekeepers, but depend on children to clean house when not in school—we must not look under the beds, or too closely in corners when we go home—and the children greet us, "Mother, how do you like the way we cleaned up the house?"

Brownfield telephone operators are working under great handicaps at this time, with their building "out in the street"—and they are thinking of abandoning their posts to help pour the foundation for their new office building that is

Meats, salads, cakes, pies and coffee will be served to families of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their guests.

After several musical numbers and a magician act, games of "42" will be enjoyed.

The next regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge will be held the first Monday night in February.

under construction for the dial system here! Misunderstandings often occur with patrons, but citizens of Brownfield have much to look forward to, when the new construction is completed.

We drove around the contractors' small building in the middle of the street, while the new City Hall was being built—then no sooner did it move, than the whole telephone office moved out into the street—oh well, progress continues in the fair city!

Can you imagine how you might feel as you drive down the street, and a small boy crying beside a brand new bicycle, as the spilled milk trickles out of the cartons . . . and potatoes roll out of the "busted sack?" When we took the milk and potatoes—he had some in his hip pockets—to his mother's home the other afternoon, Mrs. John Ritchey said — "What in the world!" I explained that Cherry had a wreck with the groceries—and reminded her she would do the same for one of my children. There are three new bicycles at their house since Santa Claus came—Johnny and Valdon have them too. The new fire truck at our house for our three-year-old isn't nearly as interesting as the "little boys" bicycles.

How can you explain to a three-year-old that he is too small for a bicycle?

At the meeting last week of the Maid and Matrons Club, County Attorney Vernon Townes Jr. gave an interesting talk on "The Menace of Our Youth, in Drink and Narcotics." The gist of his speech was "Since it is prevalent in larger cities it is bound to be here," with some proof of his statements.

Mrs. F. M. White, chairman, concluded the program with a paper on "How Our Youth Begins the Use of Narcotics." Her talk included the fact that the National President of the Women's Federated Clubs had sent President Truman the following message: "An offender in regard to narcotic traffic among juveniles should be punished by death."

Cubs Lose to Levelland, 46-43

In a contest that was fast, furious and interesting from the first bell to the last here Friday night, Levelland Lobos edged out the Brownfield Cubs, 46-43, in a District 7-AA basketball game before the largest crowd during the cage's season.

Max Black and Joe Don Aurburg, with 13 and 12 points respectively, led the Cub's scoring, but were unable to make the final baskets that would give them the lead over the Lobos' Harold Phelan, who tallied 16 points.

The Cubs led for over half the game, piling up a 26-22 advantage at the half. But the Lobos came back strong in the third quarter and went ahead, 35-33, as the last period got away.

Brownfield never caught up, with Levelland controlling the backboards throughout the final canto.

In the junior varsity tilt, Levelland squeezed out a 31-28 triumph in a double overtime period. G. A. Bailey scored nine points for the Cubs, while Israel had eight for Levelland.

GMC DIESEL TRUCKS
19,500 GVW to 90,000 GVW
Your key to greater hauling profits

Another major milestone in hauling progress

GMC PRESENTS THE FIRST 2½-TON DIESEL

At last— Diesel economy and hill-leveling performance come to thousands of truckers who have never had any choice but gasoline power in the past!

TODAY America's foremost builder of Diesel trucks smashes the size-weight barrier that up to now has denied the many economies of Diesel power to haulers of medium-weight loads.

Today GMC offers users of equipment in the 19,500 GVW-35,000 GVW range a sensational new Diesel truck-tractor.

It is powered by the first welterweight Diesel truck engine—a smaller, more compact model of the famous General Motors 2-cycle engine that has made GMC America's first-choice Diesel truck.

More Miles per Gallon

Because it is Diesel-powered, this new GMC Model D450-37 will cost you far less to run per mile, far less to maintain per year than any other 2½-tonner you've ever owned. All Diesel experience proves that.

Because it is a 2-cycle Diesel, it is a fast-starting, quick-accelerating, highly responsive truck with plenty of snap in traffic—a truck that will maintain a steady "on time" schedule even on hilly runs.

Fuel economy is automatic thanks to GMC's famous Fuel Modulator. Regardless of throttle pressure this engine never gets more fuel than it needs and makes the most of what it gets. Smooth driving is assured by "easy-turn" recirculating ball-bearing steering—even electric shifting on two-speed axle models.

Nationwide Service

Equally important to the thousands of truckers who can now enjoy the benefits of Diesel power for the first time, this new GMC D450-37 is backed by the nation's largest network of Diesel service stations.

Before you buy another truck, you owe it to yourself to investigate these new GMC welterweight Diesels if you want to cut costs! We will be glad to give you facts and figures that will open your eyes. Why not come in today?

Rev. R. J. Franks, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church, and the entire congregation wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone in town, including many business firms, and friends for their donations toward the purchase of the new station wagon for Miss Jean Kinard, missionary from the local church who is now in Naranjos, Vera Cruz, Old Mexico.

Especially do they appreciate the liberal consideration given by Craig Motor Co.

Miss Kinard stated that by having the station wagon, she would be able to reach many missions in her work, that she has been unable to assist.

Leaving Monday, January 14, Miss Kinard was accompanied by her father, Virgil Kinard, and Slim Rimer, both of the Pleasant Valley community near Brownfield. The men went as far as San Antonio with Miss Kinard, who was met there by "Me-Me," a Mexican girl who was to accompany her the rest of the way to the Mission. "Me-Me" visited here last spring with Miss Kinard, and will be remembered by the congregation here.

Today I sound off on bacon—a delectable dish. The paper tells how business was in 1951, with a bacon maker out in Iowa, and you know, the report don't leave much wind in the sails for those gabby folks who keep talkin' that big business is bad medicine. These bacon makers there in Ottumwa did a whale of a business last year—sold over 300 million bucks worth of meats—but for each one dollar's worth, their profit was less than one-half cent—4 tenths to be technical and precise.

And also I been readin' about T-bone steaks and pot roasts, and what the president oof the National Cattlemen's Association said could happen if the U.S. Govet. would stop meddling. He said such meddling was making the cattlemen's cost 10 cents a pound more than would be the case with no meddling.

What you drivin' at, says Henry. It is this, I says, the public has got up on its ear, and ferret out the culprit—who, and what, is making costs high. We are way over-due in culling out the youngish theorists, the meddles, the socialists, who have burrowed into high Govt. place. It all needs airing. You will be good at that, says Henry. Thank you, I says, thank you very much—but lend a hand, I says, put in your own ear, I says, and tell your neighbors—it is their baby, too.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I get a $120-a-month pension from VA because of a non-service-connected disability that has left me so helpless that I need the regular aid of another person. I'm supposed to enter a VA hospital soon for treatment. Will the payments of $120 a month go on while I am hospitalized?

A. No. While you are receiving VA hospital care, you will be paid only the basic rate of pension and not the additional amount paid to those in need of constant aid and attendance. Basic rates are $60 a month, going up to $72 after the veteran has been on the rolls for 10 years or when he reaches the age of 65.

Q. Will I have to take a physical examination in order to apply for the new form of non-convertible term of insurance available to Korean veterans?

A. No physical examination is needed for that insurance. But you must apply in writing to VA in Washington, D. C., within 120 days after your release or separation from service, and pay the required first premium.

Q. I have just been discharged from service, and have applied for the new form of Government term insurance for non-disable veterans. At some later time, may I convert this to a permanent plan?

A. No. This insurance is not convertible to any other plan of Government life insurance. However, it may be renewed every five years—as term insurance—at the premium rate for your then-attained age.

Q. About a year ago, I interrupted GI Bill training to return to military service. Because of my service, I wasn't able to be in training on the July 25, 1951, cut-off date. After I'm released, is there any deadline for picking it up again?

A. Under VA regulations, you will be allowed to resume your GI Bill training within a reasonable period after your discharge. VA will determine what this "reasonable period" is for each veteran.

Q. I am a Korean veteran, and I am receiving VA compensation for a service-connected disability. In addition, I have a heart condition, which is non-service-connected and which makes me uninsurable. Am I eligible for the special GI insurance for disabled veterans in spite of my heart condition?

A. No. You would be barred from this special insurance for disabled veterans because of your non-service-connected disability for another type of special non-convertible GI term insurance available to veterans with the necessary service after Korea. You must apply, and pay your first premium within 120 days of your release from active duty.

FOOD OUTPUT INADEQUATE

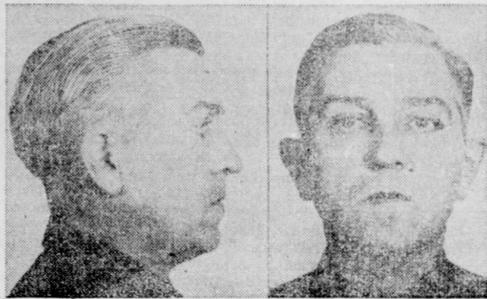

ROME (P)—The sixth world conference of the Food and Agriculture Organization found that world food output "is steadily falling behind the increase in population, and the world has less food per person than before the war when more than half the world suffered from malnutrition."

The report said it was "convinced that the progress that can be achieved in the year immediately ahead will be insufficient to change this situation radically."

And it concluded that "there is little hope of achieving by 1960 the levels of production... considered necessary for a minimum program of sound nutrition throughout the world."

Red Paints the Town

The paint on the artist is pure coincidence, as Red Skelton on his Sunday night video show on NBC demonstrates the rugged craft of portraiture. Actually, in spite of his kidding, Red's hobby is painting, and he is considered an accomplished amateur artist, and along with other noted Hollywood personalities, recently exhibited his paintings.

Tokio Boy A Favorite In Air Corps

Relatives of Sgt. Loyd A. Brooks handed us the following for publication this week. Another proof that a good boy at home usually remains a good one wherever he is located. Title of the article in the air base publication, Bull's Eye, was, "Airman of the Week."

Distinction of being chosen "Airman of the Week" for the week ending January 12, goes to Sgt. Loyd A. Brooks, of the Maintenance and Supply Group, it was announced by Special Services.

Sgt. Brooks, a clerk in the message center of the M & S Group Headquarters was selected because of his everlasting courtesy, his military appearance, and his willingness to execute his duties beyond necessary requirements.

A college graduate, Sgt. Brooks maored in Animal Husbandry at the Texas Technological College, where he received his B. S. degree before entering service.

Upon enlisting in the Air Force in December 1950, unlike many others who went to Lackland, Sgt. Brooks was given basic training at Sheppard AFB. To become a Clerk-Typist, he was then sent to Francis E. Warren AFB from where he was assigned to Nellis in April, 1951.

A stock Texan, Sgt. Brooks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brooks of Tokio, Texas.

As a deserving award, he was honored by the Resort Hotels Committee with a dinner at the Last Frontier Hotel last night.

Miss Dorothy Brownlee, who is employed in Lubbock, and Miss Joan Free of Earth, who is a student at Texas Tech, visited Miss Brownlee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brownlee, last weekend.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends who were so thoughtful of us in the passing away of our loved one, C. E. Mackey. We want to thank our many friends and neighbors who visited him at home and at the hospital; want to thank everyone for every loving word and the lovely flowers, and every time you have visited us in our sorrow. We ask God's richest blessings on each and everyone, and if sorrow comes your way may loving hands be extended to each and every one of you is our prayer.

Mrs. C. E. Mackey
Mrs. Lela Mackey

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cope and Mr. and Mrs. J. Warner Cope and sons of Parnell visited recently with Mrs. T. J. Cope's sister, Mrs. G. G. Gore. Also visiting Mrs. Gore was another sister, Mrs. Bertha Gore of Esteline.

Jesse Jones, Texan, Writes Best Seller

HOUSTON. (AP)—Jesse Jones has been many things—financier, cabinet member, newspaper publisher—and now at 77 he's written a best selling book—and touched off a storm of controversy.

Jones refuses to join the pro and con argument over "Fifty Billion Dollars."

"I wrote it without any idea of politics," he says, "and I won't comment."

"Fifty Billion Dollars," the book Jones and the late Ed Angly wrote of the 13 years Jones headed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has had seven printings and 35,000 copies of the $6 edition have been sold.

One newspaper said Jones "threw a literary bombshell" with the book. From the editorial comment of the nation's press, it looks like he did.

"Hoarded hatreds," an "embittered, sulking" old man, "still hungry for power" thundered some of the editorials.

"Must reading for students of American history," "A fascinating story" said others.

WTCC Sponsors Poll Tax Paying Drive

Not since we became a citizen of Texas some 50 years ago have we ever seen the effort put forth until this good year, not only to get people to qualify as a voter—but to VOTE. A contest with prizes for the highest standing counties will run until after the fall election. It will not only include poll tax payments, but the percentage of votes cast in the July and August primaries, and the general election to be held in November, sponsored by West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The contest will include counties, (1) over 50,000, (2) between 20,000 and 50,000, (3) between 10,000 and 20,000, and (4) under 10,000. So far as we know Terry county, which would be in group (3) did not enter the contest on the deadline the 20th, but the organization and individuals here are more or less pushing payments of poll tax.

He Hadn't Voted in 18 Years
It is really funny that some guys get it into their heads that because they don't vote, they are not responsible for conditions. On the other hand, they are the jerks that really are responsible. Most any old ward heeler will get his own cronies out to vote. While the fellow who thinks he's not responsible stays at home, and rotten men get in office.

Preston Smith illustrated that to us pretty forcibly this week, when he related that a pretty respectable citizen of Lubbock and Mr. Smith, were talking about the Washington mess lately, when the guy surprised him by remarking: "Well, they can't blame me, I have not voted for 18 years."

Such silly remarks would be laughable if they were not so serious to our nation, state, county and local communities.

Vital Statistics Are Very Important

When Texas counties began keeping a record of births back near the turn of a century, little attention was paid to the matter at the time. Some even called it a pack of foolishness. And perhaps many births were not registered, especially if the mother was attended by a mid-wife. But the importance of having a birth certificate grows and grows.

A lot of places and states will not employ one now if they do not possess a birth certificate. Frequently people here are requested to help someone in California or elsewhere get a birth certificate in order that they may qualify for work. Let us say right here that in a lot of counties, the registration is not yet 100 per cent, but is improving. Some two years of the records were somehow lost here back in the 1920s, when they were moved from the old to the new courthouse.

Below we give the records for 1940 and 1950 for the five counties composing the local Five County Health district, Gaines, Dawson, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum. The percentage of registrations for 1950 is given first, followed by 1940:

Dawson, 87.8, 94.0; Gaines, 96.2, 91.3; Hockley, 93.4, 89.2; Terry, 97.0, 90.0; Yoakum, 100.0, 73.7. Dawson was the only county in the group that showed a worse record for 1950 than 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Kennedy of Kress visited last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Slaughter, who reside on Route 1, Seagraves.

Lieutenant-Governor of Texas, placing third in a field of twelve candidates and polling more than 115,000 votes to lead the ticket in 63 counties.

"Being a business man, I believe that the application of sound business methods should and must be applied to the operation of our State Government," Smith said. "The state should get a dollar value for every dollar it expends—that waste and extravagance should not and must not be tolerated in the expenditures of our state funds—that our State Government with efficiency and economy in its operation, can progressively move forward without additional state taxes—that millions of dollars in taxes could be saved with sound business methods and practices if applied to the operation of not only state government but to every phase of our political subdivisions within the state."

"From heritage, my belief has always been in state and local rights," Smith said. "The preservation of home rule by the states and local communities is a fundamental necessity if we are to remain a truly united people."

"Having served in the Legislature three terms, I feel that this experience, together with the wide acquaintances over Texas will be of material benefit in meeting those problems with which the people in this district are most confronted," he stated. "Those problems are many and will need vital attention. Among them are the continuation of our farm-to-market road program, a more vigorous soil conservation program, adequate provisions for the welfare of our old people, problems confronting the growth and expansion of Texas Tech, as well as those which confront our business both large and small in the district."

Smith, during his tenure in the Legislature, had an integral part in the passage of many important measures including the legislation enabling counties to vote bonds for construction of hospitals; co-author of the rural telephone bill as enacted by the special sessions of the 51st Legislature; co-author of the constitutional amendment submitted to the people and passed effecting redistricting of the state; author of legislation (passed by the House) requiring state boards, bureaus and other agencies created by the Legislature that spend state revenue to hold open meetings and notify the press in writing before any meeting is held; co-author of a bill requiring loyalty oaths of students and faculty at state institutions of higher learning; and co-author of the bill improving state hospitals and special schools.

Smith served as a member of the appropriations committee of the 50th and 51st Legislatures, chairman of the sub-committee on higher education and chairman of the conference committee for higher education in the 51st sessions.

Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Smith, who reside in Gaines County. He is married to the former Miss Ina Smith of Crosby County and has two children, Preston Michael, 11, and Jan Lauren, 6.

He is a member of the Lubbock Kiwanis Club, Masonic Lodge, Khiva Shrine Temple, and a steward and trustee in St. John's Methodist Church of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Reed accompanied his father, A. H. Reed, to Houston Monday, where the elder Mr. Reed received medical attention in a hospital. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

PURR-LS—It is said that "a cat may look at king," but in this instance it looks in a mirror at a "princess" in a bonnet of matched cultured pearls valued at thousands of dollars. The pedigreed Siamese cat, "Princess Imperial Mooky," got the chance to model this fabulous headgear at the National Retail Jewelers Association show at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS—TO LOOK AT—Holding down three of the biggest jobs in the Berkshire Music Center's orchestra in Lenox, Mass., are, left to right: Rachel Shells of Champaign, Ill., and Jane Ann Hicks of Columbus, O., who play the "bull fiddles," and Constance Weldon of Miami, Fla., who gets much from the bass tuba. The double-basses are six foot, seven inches high and the huge brass horn weighs 40 pounds—in case you get around to looking at the musical instruments.

Your United States
By FLOYD CRAMER
President of the National Association for the Preservation of Free Enterprise, Inc.)

I used to hear my grandfather talking about taxes—but he was just a babe-in-the-woods on that subject. What he'd say if he were alive today, I can't imagine.

Grandfather Cramer found it pretty easy to complain about the size of his tax bill, and so do I. But let's be fair about it: Our taxes, after all, are the government's bill for the services we ask the government to perform for us. And when the tax bill comes in, we ought to look at them the way we look at the rest of our bills, and we ought to ask ourselves the same kind of questions about them.

We ought to ask first, "Did I need to buy this thing?" And we ought to ask ourselves, secondly, "If I needed to buy it, am I being charged the right and the price?"
