The Herald subscription list is a splendid blend of town and rural readers, folks who can and do pay for their papers—they do not ask or want it donated to them. Many 30 and 40 year continuous subscriptions.

VOLUME 47

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1952

One murder trial of a Latin citizen, was dismissed this week on motion of Earl Cayton, District Attorney, who asked the court for dismissal. He stated to Judge

Rainmaking Meeting Held At Lamesa

A lot of farmers from this section of the south Plains, attended a meeting early this week at Lamesa. They were addressed by a gentleman from Denver, Colorado, about increasing the rainfall on the south Plains. The speaker stated that they did not claim to make rain, but to increase it.

The company he represents has been "seeding clouds" in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma for the past few years. Some believe they have had good results. Most of the Texas experiments were in the Panhandle section, and they had better than the average rainfall up there last year, while the south Plains has been very dry.

He stated that the cost of the operation would be 5c per acre on one million acres, and as low as 1c per acre on 5 million acres. R. J. Purcell of this city, along with committeemen from Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, Martin, Howard and Borden were on the committee with Purcell.

City Collecting A Lot of Fines

We don't know whether or not you were a "sustaining member" of the fined brigade last year, but according to records kept at the city hall, there were more than $12,000.00. We believe those of the county were considerably less. Anyway, it costs a lot of good money to be mean.

That $12,000 is a far cry from the $155.00 collected in 1939. But there are a lot more people here to be mean than then. But in proportion, we believe that the larger we get the meaner we become.

When a town begins a rapid growth as has Brownfield the past few years, we get a lot of mighty good folks, but with them we get some of the nation's riff-raff.

The fines help out a lot in the conduct of business, but statistics show that fines do not touch top, side or bottom of the cost of prosecuting criminals. In fact our judicial department is one of our most costly.

So, fines must be imposed to help carry the cost. Sometimes fines are a deterrent, and the sinners goes and sins no more. Then again, the whelps are into something by the time they are out of sight of the city hall or courthouse.

Too Many Fast, Careless Drivers, the Local Police Report; 12 Wrecks Since Jan. 1

Police Chief, Houston Hamilton, stated this week to a reporter that there had been entirely too many wrecks and collisions in the city since the first of the year. There has been twelve since January 1. Some of these are caused by pure carelessness, and others are going to fast on the streets. This writer agrees 100 per cent with Houston. We see them every day racing up and down the streets as if their life depended on their making a light before it changes.

Then we have seen some that turned corners, even in downtown crowded streets until it looked like they were almost on two wheels. Houston believes the damage since the first of the year will run around $1500. We believe that Mayor Primm and the chief will just have to have their men crack down. A few heavy fines might produce a sobering effect.

Reed, District Judge, that two state witnesses had reversed their testimony. This was the case of Jessie Cano, charged in the death of another Latin.

Also the case against another Latin, Chico Padillo, was continued. Padillo is also charged in the murder of one of his own race. The case against Johnnie Higgins, Brownfield Negro, got under way Thursday. He is charged in the murder of another Negro last December.

Information was given us Thursday from the Sheriff's office, that D. E. Wickson, charged in the alleged murder of his wife some two weeks ago, had not been indicted by the grand jury at that time.

Christian Church Lets Contract For Educational Bldg.

At a call meeting of the official board of First Christian Church a contract was let to a Lubbock firm to construct a new $32,000 educational building, according to announcements made by the pastor, Rev. Homer W. Haislip. In a business meeting last Sunday morning with the church board, with Chairman Herbert Chesshir presiding the contract was given a vote of unanimous approval by members of the congregation. Construction will begin at an early date.

The new building will contain more than 6,000 square feet of floor space and will provide adequate facilities for a constructive program of Christian education.

In addition to class rooms and assembly halls the new plant will contain a kitchen, large social hall, Boy Scout room, nursery, church parlor, pastor's study, church office, library and room for visual aids.

This will be the second unit of a long-range building program for the local church. Later, a large stuctuary will be constructed on the east side of the present sanctuary. The final unit of the building program will be an educational plant connecting the chapel and sanctuary will be constructed on This will leave ample space for an open court which will not only be beautiful but of practical value for many church activities.

First Christian Church was reorganized five years ago and his grown rapidly. During past months the Christian Training Fellowship has been developed with special emphasis on the Sunday night age-level for adequate training for happy, wholesome Christian people living and efficient, dynamic Christian service.

Calvert Announces For Re-Election

ROBERT S. CALVERT

Robert S. Calvert of Travis County, Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas, has filed his application with the State Democratic Executive Committee for a place on the 1952 Democratic Primary Ballot as a candidate for his second elective term.

Calvert, appointed in 1949 by the late Governor Beauford Jester to fill an unexpired term, is now serving his first elective term.

He is a native born Texan, born in McLennan County. He later moved to Brown County where he attended the public schools and Howard Payne College. Calvert held responsible positions in Sweetwater with the Santa Fe Railroad, the West Texas Electric Company and First National Bank.

During World War I Calvert enlisted and, after receiving technical training at Cornell University, served with the Air Forces in France and Germany.

Comparatively new as Comptroller, Calvert is not new to that department. He served as financial statistician and chief clerk to the late George H. Sheppard for a number of years.

Calvert is a member of the Austin Lions Club, American Legion and Ben Hur Temple of the Shrine. He is an elder of the Central Christian Church in Austin.

Bynum Announces For County Clerk

In an announcement made this week, Jack Bynum announced his candidacy for the office of Terry County Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

In his statement, Bynum said: "I would like to take this means of announcing as a candidate for the office of Terry County Clerk.

"I have lived in the county the greater part of my life, and am a graduate of the Brownfield High school. I received my Business Administration degree in Accounting from Southern Methodist University.

"I feel that I am qualified to fill this office, and if you see fit to elect me, I will do my very best to serve you in an efficient manner.

"I will personally strive to contact each voter between now and election time, and failure to do so will not be intentional.

"Your vote and influence will sincerely be appreciated.

JACK BYNUM.

Sam Gossett Becomes Candidate For Sheriff

I wish to take this means of announcing as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Terry County.

With the dealings I have had with the county I think I can make you a Sheriff if you see fit to elect me.

I will look after this office to the best of my ability, and I will try to see as many voters as possible before the election.

SAM GOSSETT.

March of Dimes A Bit Short of Goal

Milton Bell, General Chairman of the March of Dimes, stated this week, that the preliminary report of the drive showed a collection of $4,737.10. This is shy the $5,000 expected by $262.90. But Milton hopes that the finals will put the fund over. He also stated that if there were still some who had not donated in the drive against polio, a letter and remittance could be addressed to March of Dimes, care postoffice, Brownfield, and the funds would reach the proper authorities.

To say the least, Milton is mighty well pleased with the results, and stated that the cooperation had been 100 per cent, and willingness to help on the part of everyone. The following are the collections listed:

Business and professional donations, sponsored by Rotary Club, $900.00; Terry County Farm Bureau members, $152.20; Cafes' Coffee Day, $142.50; Junior Chamber of Commerce, $40.75; Jones Theatres, including intake of $100 from concessions as a gift, $378.40; National Guard, $187.04; National KTFY, $211.04; Downtown Fellowship Bible Class, $50.00; Lions Club, $118.50.

Lambda Omega Club, $56.10; Dimenishing Coffees held over town, $1,500.68; American Legion sponsored President's Ball, $112.40; Terry County HD Clubs, pie and cake sales, $111.35; Iron Lungs put out by National Guard, $355.95; and School Cards, $429.39.

Bell stated that the local Negro school gave $1.00 for each student enrolled. Very commendable, we think.

Colored School Did Well In March of Dimes

According to a statement from Robert C. D. Tielue Jr., principal of the Wheatley Colored School, one hundred and five ($105.00) dollars was reported raised for the "March of Dimes" parade by the students and faculty of Wheatley. This amount was approximately thirty-five per cent more than given by the colored school to the polio fund last year, he stated, and "we intend to go even higher next year if possible," Tielue stated.

The students were very active in the polio drive with their dime card solicitation covering a major portion of the city and played one benefit basketball game with the seventh graders at Junior High, which netted them approximately twenty-five dollars. They gave five dollars to "the man on the keg" at KTFY. The principal gave a donation (personal) of $25.00 and the rest was raised by the students.

Aschenbeck Resigns As City Secretary

Announcement was made Tuesday that J. H. (Bill) Aschenbeck, City Secretary for the past four years, had tendered his resignation. A. J. (Jake) Geron, successor to Mr. Aschenbeck, will assume the duties of City Secretary on March 1.

In announcing Aschenbeck's resignation, E. D. Jones, City Superintendent, made the following statement: "Speaking in behalf of the Mayor and City Council, while we deeply regret losing Bill, we wish him all success in his new undertaking."

"I want to express my appreciation to the citizens of Brownfield and to the mayor and city council for the position I have held the past several years," Mr. Aschenbeck told a Herald representative, "and as a citizen of Brownfield, I appreciate the untiring efforts and unselfish devotion to duty shown by the mayor and city council in the interest of the City of Brownfield."

South Plains Floral Group to Sponsor Student Art Contest

The South Plains Floral association meeting with Brownfield Floral as host here Monday, announced a contest among high school art students which will reward the winner with a $25 prize.

Object of the contest is the adoption of an official insignia for the floral group, J. M. Holloway of Lubbock, said that, in addition to the cash prize, an orchid would be presented to the teacher of the student submitting the winning design.

Present at the meeting were Jack Thomas, M. C. Sharp Jr., Ed Haley, O. W. Ribble, Perry Adams, Don Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Baldwin and Newell Baldwin and Holloway, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Lem Chesshir of Morton; J. E. Chism of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers and Dewey Rogers of Brownfield; Mrs. J. T. Hoy and Mrs. Lera Eliis of Brownfield.

The group's next meeting will be held in Lubbock March 3, with Ed Haley of Lubbock acting as host.

C-C to Reorganize Highway 51 Assn.

Harmon Howze, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, and Red Smith, secretary-manager announced this week that this organization is now laying plans for the reorganization of the Highway 51 Association, which has been dormant for the past five or six years.

Purpose of the association is to work toward the completion of Highway 51. Membership of the organization is made up of representatives of cities and towns situated on the highway between the Canadian and Mexican borders.

Lacking only the erection of a bridge across the Canadian river between Channing and Vega to complete the highway clear across the United States, closing of this final gap will mark up a saving of some sixty miles and a considerable amount of time to traffic which is at present being routed around by way of Amarillo.

A Big Drive On For Heart Funds

Funds for a more extensive campaign to combat the nation's No. 1 killer, heart disease, are being sought in the annual Heart Fund appeal of South Plains Heart association.

Heart and circulatory diseases cause approximately 44 per cent of all deaths in the United States, said Dr. W. H. Gordon, Lubbock heart specialist who is chairman of the fund campaign. Deaths from those diseases numbered 745,000 in 1950.

The fund campaign opened February 1 and will continue during the remainder of February. Donations may be mailed to Heart, care of your local postmaster. A total of $25,000 is being sought.

Dr. Frank C. Goodwin of Lubbock is president of the association. Howard Walker and J. Orville Smith are co-chairmen with Dr. Gordon of the fund campaign.

Of funds received, 60 per cent will be used in the South Plains area, 25 per cent will go to the American Heart Association for research and grants for study, and 15 per cent will go for state wide education, research and services.

Terry County Nearly Reaches Cotton Quota

A total of 69,500 bales of cotton were ginned in Terry County up to February 1, it was reported Wednesday. This number is only 500 bales shy of the estimated 70,000 at the beginning of the season.

Terry to Have Over 4000 Voters this Year

Mrs. Florene Webb, Assessor-Collector of state and county taxes, informed us this week that 4020 people qualified this year as voters by paying their poll taxes. This does not include exemptions of youngsters who will vote free this year, or oldsters past 60 years of age. These do not have to be obtained in counties that do not have a city of 10,000 or over.

The exemptions, however, may run several hundred, and maybe putting the possible qualified voters up around 4500. This of course is our private opinion, as Mrs. Webb made no such statement. She did not hazard a guess. As to the property taxes, she stated that she was sure that 90 per cent was collected.

City Has Good Collection

Bill Aschenbeck, assessor-collector for the city, also stated that collections were good and he seemed well pleased with results. He stated that the taxes in dollars and cents on the city rolls ran around $43,000, and he felt sure that 85 to 90 per cent had been collected. Also that quite a lot of delinquent taxes had been collected, considering that not too many owed delinquent taxes.

Simms Also Reports Good Collections

R. A. (Raymond) Simms, assessor-collector as well as secretary of the board of the Brownfield Consolidated Independent School district, was well pleased with collection this year. Of the some $227,000 on the rolls, he had collected $208,000 or some 90 per cent.

He also stated that he had collected quite a lot of delinquent taxes, but there was not a great deal of them, that owed for taxes of former years.

Brownfield FFA Wins a Drip-O-Lator

The Herald has before it notice from a Fort Worth advertising company, that the Brownfield Chapter FFA earned a Drip-O-Lator, in the Texo Community Prize Program. This nice prize was earned by the local FFA, of course by purchase of the Texo feeds, manufactured by Burrus Feed Mills, and sold locally by Val Garner Grain Co.

In conversation with Ralph Coenough, Manager of Garner Grain, he stated that the date had not been set at that time when the Drip-O-Lator would be presented to Lester F. Buford, instructor of agriculture in the local schools. However, Mr. Coenough had been unable to contact Mr. Buford, Wednesday morning.

Examination Soon For Meadow P.O.

We were reminded last week by Luther Malcolm, local Civil Service Secretary, that an examination for Postmaster of Meadow was coming up, and that February 7th was the last date to file their intentions of applying for the job. The office pays a salary of $3,645.00 per year. On account of sickness in the family, the article, written in the home, was misplaced.

Then later that week acting postmaster Shannon had some business in the Herald office, and repeated the request of Luther. Will state that Mr. Shannon is an active applicant, and will take the examination, which is scheduled to be held here later this month. Applicants must be a patron of the Meadow office.

Malcolm stated to a reporter this week that so far he did not know of any applicants, except Mr. Shannon, but of course these applicants must go to Washington first. The PO Dept. at Washington will later set the date of the examination, Malcolm stated.

SHEPPERD TO ADDRESS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater will be the main speaker at the annual banquet of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce in the Esquire

JOHN BEN SHEPPERD

Restaurant here at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, Feb. 12.

The program is expected to attract many citizens from surrounding Terry County communities and other West Texas points. Wayne B. Smith, chamber manager, is handling arrangements for the affair.

Shepperd's last formal appearance in Brownfield was at the city's Harvest Festival in 1949 and the favorable impression he made then led to the banquet speaking engagement. Shepperd is one of the state's outstanding speakers.

The speaker has been Secretary of State since February, 1950, when he was appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers. Prior to that he was a practicing east Texas attorney.

As Secretary of State, Shepperd performs many official duties for Governor Shivers, in addition to being the administrator and legal supervisor of the five major divisions in his department.

The speaker's career as a lawyer and a state official has been highlighted by his public service and civic achievements. He has directed two statewide citizenship projects in recent years, "Operation Democracy" for the American Legion and "ROD Month" (Responsibilities, Obligations and Duties of the Citizen) for the State Bar Association.

In addition to his civic activities, Shepperd is secretary of the Texas Economy Commission, a citizen organization seeking more efficiency and economy in state government. He has practiced this policy in his department by reorganizing it with the result that many thousands of taxpayers' dollars a year have been saved.

He is a former president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and when younger was selected on several occasions as the outstanding young man of the year not only in his hometown but in the state.

Probably his best known project, which he originated, was the "Gladewater Plan," a citizen participation program to show that Democracy is better than Communism.

Mrs. Doss Named State Chairman At TFWC Meeting

(From Seminole Sentinel)

Mrs. M. S. Doss, Seminole club leader, was named State Chairman of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children by Mrs. Van Hooks Stubbs, Federation president, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs held Jan. 8 and 9 at headquarters in Austin.

The meeting was held for the purpose of coordinating plans for the 1952-53 administration and attending to other club business.

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is a new division under the Welfare Department, of which Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Henry M. Bailey are chairmen. They met with Cal Campbell, field director of the Warm Springs Foundation, to determine the work that the club women of Texas can accomplish toward the foundation during the next two years.

The program and projects as presented to the directors by Mrs. Doss were approved.

The plans to be carried out include first, education and publicity. (a) To interpret the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation program to club members and the communities of Texas. (b) To promote better understanding of the Foundation work, what it does mean and can mean to Texas, through films, material for programs, radio and press.

Second, to promote cooperation with any group collecting funds for Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation by club assistance.

Agriculture Field Day Here in July

Wayne Smith manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, stated this week that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an Agricultural Field Day here in July. The following counties will be included in the event: Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, Lamb and Lubbock.

Smith stated that new and improved fertilizing machinery, never before shown here can be seen on display by the manufacturers and distributors. Also aerial crop dusting at its best, will be demonstrated.

A local committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, will take care of details and arrangements, and try to make the day a great success for the thousand or more visiting farmers.

Irrigation Meeting Next Monday

A meeting concerning irrigation in Terry County will be held Monday morning in the District Court room, beginning at 10 o'clock and ending at 3 in the afternoon.

Bob Thurman, irrigation specialist, will speak on the following subjects: "Well Construction," "Selection of Pump and Power Units," "Land Preparation for Irrigation," "Methods of Irrigation," "Equipment and Pipeline Structures," "Soils and Irrigation," "Time of Irrigation," and will conduct a question and answer period.

Brownfield To Be Well Represented at Mineral Wells Concert Tonight

Out of 220 voices chosen from the State of Texas for a concert in Mineral Wells, two were Brownfield students—Ginger Gunn, soprano, and Dale Travis, bass. Also two bands consisting of ninety players each will play at the concert, and three Brownfield students were chosen for this. They were Jane Griggs, playing French horn; Ronnie Daniels, clarinet, and Kenneth Spears, Harold Mulkey, chorus director, and Fred Smith, band director, of the local high school, accompanied the delegation to Mineral Wells. They left Brownfield Wednesday morning and the concert will be Friday night.

Brownfield is real proud of these five outstanding students of music.

Shag Bynum is in the local hospital this week recuperating from illness. Virgil was usually called Shag by old timers, on account of his abundance of thick, wavy hair—a lot of which is now "gone with the wind." He is one of our proficient barbers.

MARION COUNTY CENTER OF ILLICIT STILLS

The Texas Liquor Control Board inspectors in December reported the seizure of seven illicit stills. With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 385 gallons, inspectors captured 1,410 gallons of mash and made three arrests. Six stills were taken in Marion County, and one was taken in Harrison County.

No states cover the longitude of Texas, or show such a change of scenery and climate, beginning with pineywoods section of deep east Texas, to the cactus and cat-claw of the far western part. And with the almost winter frigid climate of the middle west in the Texas Panhandle to the warm almost tropical conditions of the lower Rio Grande valley, with its palms and citrus fruit trees and its winter gardens. It also of course takes in the warm beaches of the gulf area, where winter soon adjourns, and is never frigid. If you are inclined to make a home in Texas, and have not fully decided just where you'll settle, you sure have a long range of choices. Recently the local Chamber of Commerce handed us a booklet that well illustrates the above statements. On one side is a good up-to-date road map. Many maps you get at filling stations are far out of date. For instance, after the Brownfield-Lamesa highway 13 was finished, it was from two to four years before some of the filling station maps showed the completed road. Perhaps some not knowing differently or failed to inquire of the obliging filling station operator, went from Lamesa to Brownfield or vice versa; via Tahoka, as a paved highway was shown over that route all the way. But it is some 30 miles further. One would be almost as far from Brownfield after they reached Tahoka as they were when they left Lamesa. But the service station men are not to blame for this condition. They hand out the maps they were given by their companies. The safest bet for those contemplating a tour of Texas, is to obtain an official State Highway map from that department at Austin, or after you enter Texas, at the first State Highway headquarters, which are found in almost all county seats. Or perhaps at a chamber of commerce office. And if you do write, or call at such places, ask for the official Roadside Park map, which has 18 of the prettiest roadside parks printed in colors. They are beautiful and well kept. Aside from that, the State Highway Department issues maps semi-annually, spring and fall, and they are up to date, and will show all the roads that have been paved. Even travelers living in another part of vast Texas are often non-plused about the highways that have been finished or not finished as the case may be. But you can always depend that service station operators will give you all the information you need, if they know what you want, and if in their power to do so.

We have seen not a little criticism of Gen. Ike Eisenhower lately anent the supposition that he has come out on nothing, and that no one knows where he stands on either foreign or domestic affairs. We admit that this writer was inclined to go along with such criticism. Or should we say, we just drew on our own opinion? It is true that Ike has been rather silent since he became the head of NATO. He has a big boss in Washington, and his boss belongs to another political persuasion. Ike probably remembers what happened to MacArthur. Anyway, it will be remembered that for some 18 months, the general was head of Columbia U., in New York, and during that period he made any number of addresses to the student body, as well as other gatherings as far west as St. Louis. Collier's magazine, having national circulation, had one of its many editors check up on these addresses, and to our notion, the several mentioned just about covered the ground that is so much in dispute these days. Ike made it plain enough for most anyone to understand that he believed the only salvation of this country is to track the constitution. He also made it very plain that this nation is running into trouble in centralizing everything in Washington. And that he believed the nation would be much better off if it left many things now being attended to at the National Capital to the states. That is on the domestic side of the ledger. But he went perhaps further afield than most will like on the foreign side. But he made this very plain by stating emphatically that he was very much opposed to helping those nations that do not try to help themselves. This most of us can agree 100 per cent. And most of us are willing to help the European nations some, if they will get in the collar and prove they are trying to make a comeback and stand on their own feet. Most people in the south are strictly opposed to Taft, as he has never made any bones that he isn't a Republican. But we don't believe Taft is half the standpatter that some people think. His reasoning is always pretty clear on domestic or foreign matters. At least the folks in Ohio seem to have much confidence in Taft. He beat the best the Democrats could put up two years ago by a smashing majority, despite the fight on him by labor bosses. It is believed the rank and file of union labor, perhaps a bit secretly, supported Taft. Next week we aim to give just a bit about the Democratic presidential hopefuls. Frankly, we do not think Stassen or Warren have much chance with the GOPers, although both are admirable men.

A week or so ago we said something in these editorials about the fact that the average run of mine person, even if he does not go along with all the stuff that comes out of Washington, is unpatriotic or moronic. Some even think we are cruel and heartless if we do not believe that we should make every sacrifice and be taxed to the hilt in order to feed, clothe and educate people whose friendliness toward the USA is questionable. And who, perhaps in the six years since World War II closed, have made little efforts toward a comeback, leaning more and more on American gift dollars. But once in awhile some brave soul kicks over the traces and has his say. Such a one is Editor Matthews of the Arizona Daily Star of Tucson, who has been giving his readers a series of editorials on the subject of moderation in expenditures. And of course Editor Matthews believes our great nation is headed for bankruptcy if some brakes are not applied. Taxes are presently so high that they make your head swim, but Mr. Truman came before congress and asked for more and more taxes, and an expenditure of 85 billion dollars. And next year, he will, if re-elected believe that it is a mandate of the people, and will perhaps ask for 100 billion appropriation. But Truman is not going to get 85 billion, but he always asks for more than he expects. Even Senator Tom Connally believes that the amount will be cut to around 70 billion, and there will be no new taxes. This is election year, remember? Speaking of election, one man has come out with the prediction that Mr. Truman or any man nominated by the Democrats would be elected. He based this prediction on the fact that there are 2 1/2 million federal employees, and that they will control another 7 1/2 million votes. Maybeso, but a lot of the federal employees are now in the civil service division, and are not hedged by appointment of higher ups. So, these employees may vote just as they please like the rank and file of union labor did in Ohio two years ago. Frankly, it was the middlewest farmers that put Truman over two years ago.

It used to make us sorter drool if a lot of good eatin' food was mentioned, but as we get up more in years, food appeals less and less, especially since the stuff got too high for poor people to eat. But some guy with a love of statistics has come up with the pile of food an average family of four will consume in a year, and it makes good reading matter for the statistically minded. For instance, his list included 20 pounds cheese, 300 pounds of beef, 690 pounds of potatoes, fruits and vegetables, 131 dozen eggs, taking an average of $25 per week of the take home pay of the $1.96 per hour worker. Speaking of food makes us think that a friend recently was telling us just what was exempt in your federal income tax reports. He mentioned the canned foods, milks, etc., for the baby—if any. We could hardly conceive that this would be very bulky or would run into many dollars. About a week later we saw a picture in a magazine showing stacks and boxes of such food for Junior. It really ran into dollars and cents, and would cut quite some hole in the income report.

Apparently Washington is not the only place where waste abounds. For years we have heard that there are too many different funds down at the State Capitol. And monthly we get a statement from the Comptroller giving the balances and expenditures of the different funds, and it takes a page some 8x14 inches to accommodate the number, printed in ordinary sized newspaper type. Keeping track of all these funds, some rather unnecessary, Gov. Shivers appointed a commission to try and simplify the matter. And the new Commissioner of Agriculture, John C. White, has found a raft of them in his own department. He has a fund of some $678,000 to spend in his department, which includes the legislative appropriation. But on top of that, he has some 12 special funds all bound to themselves, such as seed inspection, nursery inspection, license funds, etc., just to mention a few. If all these special funds could be thrown into one general fund, it would save much worry, confusion and maybe the number that have to be employed to carry on.

There is no person that we know that objects to any fraternity, society, organization or religious body carrying on their own schools, at their own expense. Nor is anyone greatly worried about what they teach, just so it is nothing subvertive. But it makes a great deal of difference with the vast majority of American people what is taught in our public free schools. Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana, came out pretty strong on this point recently in a speech. He doesn't believe that either Catholicism or Protestantism should be taught in our public schools. That is the duty their home and church is due the pupils. Nor does the Senator believe that Communism, Nazism or Socialism should be taught in our public schools. This is not the right of any one teacher or gang of teachers, as has been the case in many countries. For that reason, Senator Jenner as well as many others, are against to much federal meddling in our public school system. Likely that with a heavy federal appropriation, the party in power might take too much authority in suggesting just what should or should not be taught in the schools. And according to the Senator, in some of the big city schools, teachers are now teaching things most of us consider un-American. Let us keep our public schools in the same trend in which they were started by our founding fathers.

One ride and You'll say:

"That's the Smartest Million Dollars BUICK Ever Spent"

WHEN we tell you that every 1952 Buick rides like a million dollars, we're not just slinging slang—we're talking real money—right-on-the-barrelhead cash.

A million dollars and more were poured into research and testing—design and tools—engineering, production and components—to team up the combination of ride features you'll find on a Buick—and on no other car in the world.

A million dollars and more was the price paid to work out control of end-sway and side-roll on curves—to double-check vertical "throw" with shock absorbers and big soft-acting coil springs for all four wheels—to V-brace the torque-tube keel and X-brace the frame—to cushion body and engine—and to silk out the whole operation with Dynaflo Drive.*

You may not care how the job was done, or what it cost. But we'll lay you this: You're going to say "thanks a million" to Buick engineers once you get this spirited smoothie under your hands and haunches.

Old familiar roads take on a new smoothness. Gone are the weave and wander, the jitter and jounce that you've felt in lesser cars. You ride with road-hugging assurance and level ease.

All of which only begins to tell you what really great cars these 1952 Buicks turned out to be.

Never before have style and stamina—comfort and character—power, performance and price been brought together with such satisfying skill.

The obvious thing for you to do is come in and look them over. How about taking half an hour off to do that—today?

FARM QUESTION BOX

by
ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WG7

Q I have a flower aquarium. It is a glass bowl in which the flowers are placed in water and the bowl is inverted. The bowl is full of water. What do you place in the water as a preservative?

A One of our lady gardeners who uses such a bowl tells me not to use anything in the water. Just make sure the bowl is full so there is a minimum of air in it. Personally, I think using boiled water and perhaps a little formaldehyde in it might help. Be sure the bowl is as clean and sterile as possible.

Q Do turnips keep better if waxed? How should they be waxed and where? What kind of wax?

A Yes, turnips and other root crops keep better if dipped in wax. Ask your farm supply and seed store man to try to get you some of the wax made and sold for this. Paraffin, melt paraffin, thin it with a little shortening or cooking oil and dip them in that.

Q What has become of the old Canfield apple so popular sixty years ago? And, secondly, what is the origin of the splendid new Cortland apple, from what varieties was it developed?

A The Canfield, like so many other good old varieties of fruit, has been gradually crowded out by more land, Delicious, Stayman, etc. The Cortland was developed at Geneva Experiment Station by crossing McIntosh and Ben Davis.

Q I have a lead water pipe that has been laid over seventy years in the ground. Lately, it doesn't run full capacity any more. About five years ago we had the same trouble, and we were able to get some sort of moss out of the pipe. This last time we put the force pump on and we can't seem to get the moss out.

Would you know of some sort of a solution that would kill it and loosen it up so we could force it out?

A Lead pipe is valuable and worth trying to save. I would try to flush it out with kerosene or gasoline, and if that fails, try a solution of lye or even dilute muriatic acid. There is a fire risk with the kerosene or gas and the lye and acid will eat into the lead so the pipes must be flushed promptly and thoroughly with water to reduce that hazard. Better hire a plumber with a suitable force pump, etc. to get the solution in and catch and save it at the lower end. It's a mean job but better than going dry or laying new pipe.

Q What is the best and most economical way to get land back into cultivation again that has been idle for several years? Most of this land is sandy loam but there are some spots of clay.

A Plow or disk; put on two tons of ground limestone and 300-500 pounds twenty per cent superphosphate per acre; plant and grow under two or three cover crops and any manure that is available; and then it should be in good shape for crops. Rye, oats and buckwheat are the most practical cover crops to use.

Q Is there anything that I can do to prevent mice from making homes in my car when it is put up for the winter in a garage?

A Someone told me, using rags soaked in "coal tar" on the floor of the garage. Do you think it would help? Is coal tar combustible?

A Coal tar is not very inflammable, neither is it good repellent for rats and mice. Putting mothballs or PDB crystals in your car will protect it from mice. I think I would also spread a band of chloride of lime six inches wide on the floor all around the car as an additional barrier to repel them.

Where to Plant Shade Trees

COLLEGE STATION.— Comfort can be added to home grounds by planting trees for shade, suggests Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. She points out, however, that careful planning should precede planting so that there will be both convenience and attractiveness without crowding.

Miss Hatfield says when planting trees, place some for shade, while others can be used to screen barns and other outbuildings and make windbreaks.

For appearance at least two trees are needed on the front lawn or side front for framing the house. Remember to keep the front lawn smooth and unbroken. Trees with trimmed trunks will not break the contour of the lawn, says Miss Hatfield.

For a background, plant at least one large tree to show above the roof so the long hard lines will be softened. Use two, four, six eight or even more trees in the back. If the house faces the north, the framing trees may be mimosa or others that give scant shade but are attractive. Shade is not needed on the north side of the house. If the house faces south or west, plant trees that will make heavy shade.

Plant trees close enough to the house to make shade but far enough away so that the limbs of the trees will not scrape. Large trees should be 20 or 30 or more feet away from the building. Small trees may be 10 to 15 feet away. Again, it is important to prune the trees so that the limbs will not scrape the roof.

Trees are the most important and most permanent of all plants used in the landscape. Even though they require the most room and crowd out more plants and shrubs, they more than pay for themselves in shade and beauty.

With good care, which includes watering and fertilizing, trees will grow and be a pleasure forever.

LOW IN COST -- HIGH IN COMFORT

HOUSE PLAN No. 38

Grow A Vegetable Garden in 1952

COLLEGE STATION.— There are a lot of reasons why most families should include a home vegetable garden in their 1952 plans for aiding national defense. According to J. E. Hutchison, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, home gardens can be the source of much low priced food; the nutritional value of the family's diet may be improved and working the garden provides recreation for the gardener.

It is just good business, continues Hutchison, to produce at home a part of the family's vegetable needs. Each person needs from 600 to 700 pounds of fresh vegetable annually to maintain good health and chances are good each member of the family will get his share if the production comes from a home garden. In these tense and unsettled times, physical fitness is a must for every citizen, says the specialist and fresh vegetables are needed for balancing the daily diet.

He points out that a small garden can be just as profitable as the larger ones. It may not be possible to produce a surplus for canning or freezing but production can be high because small plots can be irrigated and given better care.

Most gardens should be prepared for spring planting in January and February, says Hutchison. Low spots should be avoided as garden sites for during periods of heavy rainfall, the excess water may drown out the vegetables. Vegetables need sunlight and a shady back yard doesn't make a choice garden site.

If compost or barnyard fertilizer is used on the garden plot, it should be applied early and worked into the soil. Commercial fertilizers can be used in most sections of the state to increase yields and improve the quality of the vegetables.

Hutchison suggests that families needing more information on home gardening, contact their local county Extension Agents for the best varieties to grow and the latest information on soil preparation and care, as well as, how to control insects that may cause trouble during the growing season. Bulletins and other materials are available upon request, and demonstrations will be given by gardeners and Extension Agents that should help even the experienced gardener do a better job, says Hutchison.

How would you like to have an attractive home with three bedrooms and a separate dining room in just 1,380 square feet of floor area at a comparatively small cost? Impossible? Not at all—as you readily will see after studying Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5138.

The house was designed especially for a farm family, with particular emphasis on the kitchen. The family can eat its meals there, in a space so ample that it seems almost like another room. The three windows afford plenty of light and air.

The location of the kitchen range is such that the fireplace chimney serves both living room and kitchen. There is a storage wall by the range which will provide plenty of shelf storage plus space for brooms, mops, and other such items. Also, there are 16 feet of counter top.

The comfortable-sized living room is planned for what its name implies. With the use of a modern sliding door unit it can be opened into the dining room when extra breathing space is needed. But each has the privacy and usefulness of a completely separate room.

The plan calls for a brick veneer finish, but the house will be equally attractive in other materials, just so there is the change in texture which is indicated in the gables and entrance porch.

Simple lines plus few corners plus limited decoration with stock door and window units equals economy in construction cost. It would be very difficult to draw up a plan that provides more comfort and convenience in 1,380 square feet of floor space.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5138 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5138. interferes greatly with school attendance. The control of chickenpox and all other communicable diseases depends upon the cooperation of parents with their family physicians, and school and health authorities.

Chickenpox Cases Numerous in Winter

AUSTIN.—Chickenpox cases are most numerous in winter and spring says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Ordinarily, people do not consider it a serious disease. But probably the most serious factor is that light cases of chickenpox are similar. Only a physician can tell the difference. At the first sign of skin eruptions you should put the patient in bed and call the family doctor.

As in any other illnesses, chickenpox lowers body resistance to other disease germs. Thus, complications such as pneumonia, inflammation of the kidneys, erysipelas and gangrene of the skin may occur, resulting in a serious illness.

Chickenpox is highly contagious. It usually develops two to three weeks after exposure. After one attack, the patient is immune to the disease. Although chickenpox occurs most frequently among children less than fifteen years of age, adults, too, can get the disease if they did not have it when they were children.

The chickenpox germ gains entrance to the body through the mouth and nose. Skin eruptions of a sick person contain the germs. The disease spreads rapidly through families and schools, as an infected person can spread his germs widely through careless coughing, using a common drinking cup, towel, or washcloth. For his own welfare and to protect others the patient should stay in bed and apart from susceptible members of the household until all danger of spreading the disease is passed.

Control of chickenpox is important because the disease is so highly infectious that it attacks large numbers of children. This

Getting the Most Out of Feed Crop

LUBBOCK.— How to get the most out of a relatively poor field of hegari was demonstrated by the animal husbandry department recently at Texas Tech in a lamb-feeding experiment.

The experiment, involving 1130 acres of dry-land hegari and 196 head of Rambouillet lambs, was conducted by the department with the aid of Claude Ash, Bronte graduate student. Ash will use the data collected for his master's thesis.

Each acre of hegari and supplemental feed produced 195 pounds of lamb, when sold at market price would bring $54.60. If the hegari had been cut and sold, it would have brought an estimated $30 an acre.

Seventeen head of lambs grazed, and were fed a supplemental formula, on each acre. The formula, costing about $2 for each acre of hegari consumed, consisted of 44 pounds of cottonseed hulls, 27 pounds of cottonseed meal, eight pounds each of salt and limestone.

Harvesting the hegari acreage with livestock brought the department $22 more per acre than it would have realized if it had harvested the grain commercially.

Com. White Hits At Grain Storage Scandal

AUSTIN.—John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture for Texas, has said that the grain scandals "breaking out in Texas like the rash" could have been prevented if HB 670 had passed in the last legislature.

He said this new grain warehouse legislation, endorsed by the State Department of Agriculture, would have provided for a stricter program of licensing and inspection. He added that most warehousemen, "who, as reliable business men, are as anxious as anyone else to get rid of the grain bootleggers," are themselves in favor of a law "with some teeth in it."

"I'm going to press for enactment of such legislation again," White added. "With a bill like that, we can get at those unscrupulous storage operators who convert the farmers' grain to their own use."

The Commissioner pointed out that alleged grain shortages amounting to more than $2,000,000 have been reported during the past few days. Most losses were suffered by the Commodity Credit Corporation," he said. "But what about the individual farmers who also suffered losses?" he asked.

"These farmers have a right to expect protection from the state, but the Department can't help them protect their grain adequately under the present law. If these storage companies are insolvent, as reported, the farmer is just holding the bag. The only compensation he can expect would be from a company's forfeiture of its $5,000 bond."

Scalding Vegetables Before Heating

COLLEGE STATION.— Should vegetables be scalded before freezing? This question is the one most often asked the foods and nutrition specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Farm housewives especially are interested in simplifying the work involved in home preservation of food. When there is a heavy yield of green beans in the garden, is it all right to package and freeze without taking the time to preheat, cool and drain?

Jimmie Nell Harris, foods and nutrition expert specialist, answers by saying that scientists have concluded from many experiments that scalding is a necessary step in preparing most vegetables for freezing, regardless of how long they are to be stored. Scalding stops certain undesirable changes such as loss of quality and vitamin content. Heating gives a brighter color, shrinks the food, further cleans the product and stops the action of enzymes.

Scientists of the Minnesota Experiment Station made tests of three vegetables, asparagus, green beans and corn, which often mature at same time. One lot of each vegetable was frozen by the recommended scalding while another lot was frozen without preheating. Ears of corn were shucked, packaged and frozen, while others were frozen in the shuck.

All the vegetables frozen without preheating developed off flavors within a month, but those scalded before freezing showed little or no change. Unscalded and frozen green beans and asparagus lost their attractive color as well as flavor.

During freezing the unscalded green beans showed little change but deteriorated in storage and were inedible. Corn in the shuck had an off flavor by the time it was frozen. Corn shucked and packaged but not preheated changed flavor in one week.

The specialist urges homemakers to contact their local county home demonstration agent for information regarding the home freezing of vegetables.

Look for Performance As Well As Breed

COLLEGE STATION.— Cattle-men are finding that looks alone are not always the most reliable consideration when breeding stock is bought. Many ask for a record of performance on each beef animal they buy and are finding that tested stock pays well.

According to U. D. Thompson, assistant animal husbandman, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the progeny testing program on bulls conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Balmorhea and more recently at Bluebonnet Farm and in cooperation with Texas Tech at Pantex Farms, shows the value of the program. Animals very similar in outward appearance, he says, responded differently in the tests. Rate of gain and maturity varied considerably between the different lots tested and both are very important in meat production.

Thompson emphasizes that type, quality, size, growth ability, disposition, and the milk production of the mothers of both the cows and bulls to be used in the herd for replacements should be considered when purchases are made. Large, well-developed cows tend to produce large calves, he added, and mammary development is considered a mighty important part of a well-developed cow.

Cows should be culled from the herd that do a poor job of raising their calves. Thompson emphasizes that herd culling should be continuous and cattle that show evidences of disease should be removed from the herd as soon as they are discovered.

Cows that do not pay their way are too expensive to maintain because of the present high labor and feed costs. Finally Thompson says, select stock that will produce fast-growing animals that yield desirable carcasses when they are marketed. Performance tests assure buyers that they are getting this kind of livestock.

HOUSE WARMING FOR THE CHARLIE MOORES

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore were honored with a house-warming Sunday, February 3, from 2 to 5 o'clock in their new home at 501 North C street.

The couple received many lovely gifts and congratulations, and a number of old time friends called during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore moved to Terry County in 1907, and during the years have watched the county grow. Mr. Moore is a prominent building contractor in Brownfield.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Lillie McPherson and Mrs. Ida Bruton. Mrs. Kenneth Moore presided at the guest book, and gifts were displayed by Mrs. W. B. Brown and Mrs. Minnie Williams.

Mrs. L. V. Wagner and Mrs. J. T. Bryant served punch and cake from the refreshment table laid with a lace cloth over white, and center decorations of daffodils. Each hostess also wore a corsage of daffodils tied with green ribbon.

The hostesses included: Mesdames Brown, McPherson, Wagner, Williams, Claud Buchanan, J. W. Nelson, Bruton, Bryant, E. V. Riley, L. R. Riney and M. E. Hinson.

HD CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. GOSSETT

Members of the Meadow-Challis Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 5, in the home of Mrs. Sam Gossett, at which time the by-laws and constitution of the club were revised.

Patterns and material for dresses were discussed, and each member is to have her pattern and material at the next club meeting which will be held February 19 in the home of Mrs. George Martin.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to Mesdames W. J. Moss, George Martin, Eva Hicks, and the hostess; one new member, Mrs. Floyd Joplin, and three visitors, Mrs. J. E. Evans, Mrs. Winford Tucker and Mrs. Donald Tucker.

Couple Wed Here Recently at Church

After a wedding trip to El Paso, Juarez, Ruidosa and Roswell, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Pat McMillan are at home at 709 North Atkins.

The couple were married January 17, in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Tom Keenan, pastor, read the double ring ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and greenery were on either side of the fireplace.

Mrs. McMillan is the former Miss Maxine Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Shirley of Hot Springs, Ark., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marie McMillan of Brownfield.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Leon Parks. She wore a black velvet skirt with a white wool top with full-pleated sleeves. Her hat was black velvet and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Mrs. Jack Eicke, matron of honor, wore a tan gabardine suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was pink chrysanthemums. Don Cates was best man.

About 20 wedding guests were present from Big Spring and Brownfield.

Until her marriage, Mrs. McMillan was employed by Furr Foods, Inc. She was graduated from Hot Springs High school. McMillan is manager of the Robert Thompson Lumber Company. He attended Brownfield High school and served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Thanks A Lot, Girls!

Hurrah for Bernadine Grabber, who works for the Brownfield Printing Co., for a lift this week in reporting society, as Mrs. Coward was down with relapse from flu. Bernadine has had lots of reporting experience.

Also, to Mrs. Mary Dee Mason of the same shop, who has called for notes on happenings, and carried them to Miss Grabber, and returned them when written. Friends in need, etc., you remember.

MRS. HAROLD GAITHER, Lamesa, Texas, who before her marriage last Tuesday evening was Miss Mary LaRue Ross. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross, 902 East Tate, city.

Announcement of her marriage to Harold Gaither of Lamesa appeared in last week's Herald. The couple are on a wedding trip to Dallas, after which they will reside in Lamesa. Mr. Gaither is employed by the Seismic Exploration, Inc., there.

HD CLUBS HAVE BAKE SALE FOR MARCH OF DIMES

Proceeds from the sale of pies and cakes amounted to $11.35 to be donated to the March of Dimes, by members of Terry County Home Demonstration Clubs on Thursday, January 31, from 10:30 until 11:30 a. m.

The sale was held on the bandstand of the courthouse lawn. The Junior High school band played several numbers and marched around the square.

All nine of the clubs in the county participated in the sale. The sale was part of a statewide drive by home demonstration clubs, which was directed by their president, Mrs. R. M. Alorode of Munday, Texas, to give one hour on January 31 to the March of Dimes.

Rex Owens accompanied his wife and his father, Howard Owens, to Glenrose last Saturday, returning home on Sunday. Both of them will receive treatment there for about two weeks.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CIRCLE MET MONDAY

The circles of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met for their various Bible studies Monday afternoon of this week.

The Bagby Circle met at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Exer Hicks, with nine members present. Mrs. D. P. Carter taught the lesson.

Lois Glass Circle, with seven members attending, met at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. C. L. Green, with Mrs. A. W. Turner teaching the lesson.

Mrs. Ruth Auburg was hostess at 4 o'clock to the Lottie Moon Circle, with eight present, one new member, Mrs. W. M. Adams, and one visitor, Mrs. Lee Short.

The Janelle Doyle Circle met with Mrs. Peachie Leach, and Mrs. Lucy Cowan taught the lesson. Ten members were present, and one new member, Mrs. S. H. Morgan.

Mrs. H. B. Grant was hostess to the Blanche Grove Circle with nine members present, and Mrs. L. J. Dunn teaching the lesson.

Lucille Reagan Circle met with Mrs. Henry Fugitt and seven members were present. The Bible study teacher, Mrs. Lerner, was out of town and the club held a general discussion.

All circles will meet next Monday for a Mission study.

WELLMAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET

The Wellman Missionary Society met Monday night, January 28, at the church for their regular business session. The ten members present voted to not hold their sweetheart banquet, originally scheduled for February 14, the reason being that the Workers Conference will meet with this community on that date.

The group voted to instruct Margaret Weaver to send out cards to all church members regarding the conference. Mrs. Charles Jackson, vice-president, had charge of the meeting, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Hamm.

Miss Nora Mae Kerby was program chairman, and conducted a study on "Christ Commissioned His Disciples."

The society will meet next Monday night, February 11, at 7:30.

Congratulations..

JESSIE G. RANDAL P-TA TO MEET FEB. 14

A meeting of the Jessie G. Randal P-TA will be held Thursday, February 14, at 3:30 o'clock in the school cafeteria.

A Founders' Day program has been planned by the committee, Mrs. Jessie G. Randal, Mrs. Lee Fulton and Mrs. Wayland Parker. The history of P-TA will be presented in pantomime, with characters being children from different chapters, ranging in age from 7 to 10 years. Each will give the history of P-TA for the period he or she represents. This organization was founded February 17, 1897.

The program is a titled outline of milestones along the way, and will review major events of the National Congress since its founding in 1897.

A Founders' Day gift will be taken up, and this consists of a birthday gift sent to the treasurer of the State P-TA. It is a special contribution used only for extension service. Mrs. Randal will speak on Founders' Day and give the causes the extension service

CEN-TEX HARMONY CLUB MEETS

Mrs. W. H. Dallas and Mrs. Clemmie Hamilton were hostesses to the Cen-Tex Harmony Club when members met Tuesday evening of this week at 7 o'clock at the Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse.

Mrs. Grace Wood presided in the absence of Mrs. Fred Bucy. Following the business session, a program was given, which included: A discussion of "What Is Happening to Music in America?" by Mrs. Viola Stallings; "What Is Happening to Music in America?" by Mrs. J. M. Teague; and "Musical Oddities" by Mrs. Jim Griffith.

Mrs. Dallas played "The Last Rose of Summer," and a French Waltz; and Mrs. Charles Winn presented two piano selections.

Twelve members were present. The next meeting will be held March 4 at the clubhouse, at which time the program will consist of Music's Organization and Composers.

John Anglin, Negro Tenor, to Sing On Second Concert Program Here Feb. 12

A career that has grown steadily because of innate artistry and a magnificent, God-given voice, is that of John Anglin, the great Negro tenor who will be heard here Wednesday, Feb. 12, at the new High School at 8:30 p. m., a presentation of Brownfield Mutual Concert Association.

It was started through the writing of the late C. B. Macklin, music critic of the Daily Oklahoman. In his Sunday column some eight years ago, Mr. Macklin stated the following about the almost unknown Negro youngster: "Quite the most astonishing and delightful performance I have

GOMEZ HD CLUB TO MEET FEB. 14

The next meeting of the Gomez Home Demonstration Club will be next Tuesday, February 14, in the home of Mrs. Charlie Barrett.

The club met recently with Mrs. Kelly Sears. Mrs. A. F. Herron, president, discussed the duties of the committee for the coming year. Mrs. Sears told some very interesting subjects that were discussed at Council.

Mrs. Alfred Tittle gave a short demonstration on making draw curtains.

Soft drinks, chocolate nut bars and roasted nuts were served to Mesdames Tress Key, A. F. Herron, Alfred Tittle, Jack Mason, Charlie Barrett and the hostess.

Associational Brotherhood Will Meet in Tahoka

The Associational Brotherhood of the First Baptist churches will meet next Tuesday evening, February 12, at 7:30 o'clock in Tahoka.

Following the supper, special music will be heard, composed of a quartet arranged by Alton Webb, and a vocal solo by Rev. Vance Zinn, pastor at Lakeview.

A message will be delivered by John Lee Smith of Lubbock, former lieutenant-governor of Texas. Larry Ramseur of Tahoka will give a report on his Ridgecrest trip.

heard this year by a young singer was that of John Anglin, phenomenal young Negro who sang last Sunday.

"One of the most satisfying features of his work, apart from his gorgeous voice and startling technique, was the intelligence and artistry he employed in breathing. Evidently he considers words of a song mean something, which is really quite a good idea, but he does not stop with that. He considers each sentence in its whole meaning and arranged his breathing so that the sense of his words will not be broken—a matter too often wholly neglected. Often, too, this neglect is not a matter of having poor breath control, but simply of ignoring the problem altogether."

Since that time Anglin has received columns of critical acclaim, but his favorite review is that of Mr. Macklin's, the one that gave the real impetus toward his singing career.

Bob Tobey, secretary of the association, also announced that Grace Hoffman, vocalist, will appear here on February 21.

Pryor-Menz Concert And Lecture Service

A four-way musical treat is scheduled here February 12, when three of the world's great Negro concert performers appear at the Brownfield High school auditorium.

The artists are: John Anglin, America's greatest Negro tenor

Martha Flowers, soprano and winner of the 1950 Marian Anderson award.

Kelley Wyatt, pianist and one of the nation's most sought-after accompanists.

The program is as follows: Scenes from George Gershwin's immortal folk opera "Porgy and Bess," in costume, climaxing a presentation of songs and spirituals.

Such a combination of talents follows the return in December of Mr. Anglin from Europe, where he was hailed the continent over, and the conclusion of a hugely successful tour of South America by Mr. Wyatt.

Those two are no strangers. They have appeared together many times in earlier Anglin American concert tours.

MARTHA FLOWERS

Tiny Miss Flowers is a relative newcomer to the concert platform. From her home in Winston-Salem however, she has quickly scored with both critics and audiences.

The Anglin-Flowers-Wyatt program is unique in that it offers to each artist the opportunity to best display God-given and treasured gifts.

TERRY TEACHERS IN SESSION MONDAY

The Terry County Teachers' Association met at the Jessie G. Randal school cafeteria Monday evening, with Elmer Watson of Meadow presiding.

Dinner was served preceding a talk on "Retirement" by Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, head of the Research in Education Department at Texas Tech. The spring meeting was voted to be held at Wellman.

Messrs. Myrl G. Gary, J. T. Bryant, Pace, O. R. Douglas, Byron Rucker and Brewer were elected to the House of Delegates to attend the district convention of TSTA that will be held in Abilene on March 13 and 14.

Six Marriage Licenses And 5 Divorce Suits

(Crowded Out Last Week)

According to records of the District Clerk, Mrs. Eldora White, five suits for divorce were filed in her office for the two weeks ending January 26. One of these was a Latin couple, the rest were Anglos.

In the same two weeks, County Clerk H. M. Pyeatt issued six licenses for marriage, as follows:

Charles Whited and Miss Doris Day; Richard W. Krapert and Miss Kathrine Marchbanks; Pat McMillan and Miss Maxine Shirley; Elizabeth H. Garcia and Miss Olivia Juanita Gutierrez; Gaudalope Marin and Miss Delfina Huerto; Jose Bazan and Miss Belen Trevnio.

Did You Get a Statement of Subscription?

During January, we just did not have time to get out the statements to our readers whose time was expiring that month. Or was it we got a bit lazy? Anyway, after sending 'em out to readers whose time expired in both January and February this week, we later noted we had sent a few to those who had already renewed.

We are sorry if this happened in your case, as we had no intention of trying to collect twice. Just tear up the statement, or if you feel a coffee or Coke would better appease you—just say so.

WORDS TO MEASURE CHARACTER

The measure of a man's real character is what he would do if he knew he would never be found out.

—Thomas Babington Macaulay.
Every individual's life seems to have been up to the present time, a life of tension, fear and danger. Recurrence of course can, comfort the mind of man because history has related people of the past with the same fear, tension and danger of today. A man would want more than this reassurance. That history relates. He wants something to work with, something to guide him or something to measure by. The immortal words of Macaulay seem to provide the human with one of the best yardsticks. They do not measure others, but provide a method by which we might measure ourselves.

Great decisions we do not confront, such as agitating wars or committing crimes, but small decisions, which are personal in nature we encounter daily. "Shall I turn this billfold in to the school officials?" Keep it. Nobody will ever know. "Nobody but you yourself. You will have to live with yourself and no one else, so consider the effect on your subconscious mind. With the doing of the right thing, respect for ourselves results and a conscience is built up with ourselves. Confidence being our guide posts, fear, danger, and tension will be wholly eliminated.

—The Editor.

Herbie Kendrick Tuesday Speaker

Tuesday afternoon Herbie Kendrick made a speech concerning honor study hall. He gratefully thanked Mr. Rucker for making this possible.

Herbie urged all students to donate games to the Student Council for use in the honor study hall. The Student Council will also welcome suggestions as to games and magazines that students would like to have in the study hall.

The honor study hall would be a success only if the students will willingly cooperate.

We seniors and juniors hope that in the near future the sophomores and freshmen will be granted this privilege. The rules follow:

I. In an honor study hall responsibility lies with each individual member of the study hall. No teacher is in charge.

a. Conversation may be carried on in a normal tone, and it is hoped that newspaper, games, etc., may be secured and placed in this room.

b. Students are expected to conduct themselves in an orderly manner and to obey all school policies.

II. Attendance in the Honor Study Hall is voluntary for those who are eligible.

1. At present eligibility includes Seniors and Juniors who have an average of B- in each subject. Later Sophomores and Freshman may be admitted.

2. A list is to be furnished from the office each six week of those eligible to the Honor Study Hall.

III. Monitors are in charge of the Honor Study Hall and it shall be the responsibility of the Student Council to see that there is a monitor for each Study Hall.

1. The duties of the monitor are:

a. To check the roll for eligibility and to make a list of those present.

b. To sign permits to leave the room.

c. To care for the Honor Study Hall and equipment. The monitor is entitled to appoint a committee to help with this.

All-School Favorite

As you all know, Joe Swan was elected "All School Favorite." We are all very proud of him, Joe was the Junior candidate and was well supported by his class.

Joe was surprised at the outcome of the race. When asked how he felt, he replied, "Golly, how would you feel? I'm glad I won."

Joe was 17 on January 30. Winning the race was a nice birthday surprise.

In case there are some students who don't know Joe, he has brown hair, blue eyes, weighs 160 pounds, and is 5'9" tall. He wore jersey No. 25 in football and was left halfback.

Joe's favorite song is "Mule Train." His favorite food is hamburgers, and he rates red and white as the colors at the top of his list. His main pet is Ford's and school.

Joe has a full schedule this year. He is taking grammar III, plain geometry, American history, V. A. IV, and study hall. He says that none of these is a favorite subject. He likes them all.

Joe has not definitely decided what he will do after he finishes, but says that he would like to go to college. However, he is undecided about what college he would like to attend.

He has a wonderful personality, and I'm sure he is a favorite among us all.

Wheatley School For Negroes Modern

(Crowded Out Last Week)

Our congratulations this week goes out to the local school board, as well as the local Negro leaders and educators, as they move into their modern school building of brick, steel and concrete in the north part of the city. Perhaps 90 per cent of the Negro population of Brownfield live within a few blocks of this new building, located on smooth, fertile land that can easily be landscaped, and the grounds made beautiful.

Recently we drove out to the building, but did not see the interior. But we have been informed that the interior of the beautiful building is just as modern as they make present day school rooms. And the building is so planned that additional room may be added to the building as the Negro population increases in the district. In fact, it is a far cry from the little, crowded frame and stucco building across the street. It is the only Negro school in Terry county.

Speaking of Negro schools, this week we received a nicely printed and illustrated booklet from the Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College (for Negroes) of Texas. They celebrated their 75th birthday last year, the school being started as the Prairie View Normal in 1876. And incidentally the school is located upon the grounds, and for a long time used the plantation buildings of a one-time slave owner.

And like the Wheatley school here, there is a vast difference in the looks of the first buildings of the P. V. A. & M. of 1876 and those pictured for 1931 in the booklet. Other than agriculture, many other courses taught in like schools for whites, have been added, such as mechanical training, science, home economic, engineering and many others. Much praise in the booklet is given to pioneering Negro educators and leaders, and their struggles to put the school where it is today.

Among them are mentioned, L. W. Minor, whom the white A. & M. president had known in Mississippi, and persuaded to come to Texas and take charge of the Use of Camp Haynes Restricted

Dr. F. B. Malone, president of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces that the property known as Camp Mammy Haynes which belongs to the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America and is located 10 miles northeast of Silvertown, Texas, has been restricted to the use of Boy Scouts, Explorers, and their leaders only. Each Scout unit in the council that desires to use the camp site for any purpose is required to obtain a permit from the Council Office, 2109 Avenue X in Lubbock.

Under an arrangement between the Silvertown Lions Club and the Boy Scout Council, the Lions Club has put a chain and lock on the main gate to the camp and has agreed to give the camp their continued supervision. The following rules apply to the use of the camp by all Scouting units either in this council or out:

1. No firearms are permitted on the property.
2. By showing your permit you may obtain a key to Camp Haynes from E. E. Minter, George Seaney or Alton Steele of Silvertown.
3. Swimming is allowed only in the small swimming area. None in the big lake.
4. All units must be accompanied by an adult leader during the entire time of their stay at Camp Haynes.

This beautiful camp site was presented to the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America by the late John Haynes in memory of this mother.

This hemispheric combustion chamber, with large, well-cooled valves right in the dome, is the basic reason FirePower outperforms all previous engines, even on non-premium fuel!

WHETHER you plan to buy a Chrysler or not, we cordially invite you to drive this revolutionary Chrysler FirePower V-8 engine. Only FirePower performance can possibly tell you what it is like. We want you to have that experience. The FirePower engine is a basic new design so advanced it can meet rising performance needs for years to come. Today it delivers 180 horsepower, even on non-premium fuel, and when desirable with simple changes in manifolding, compression, and carburetion the horsepower can be raised to 250 . . . or over 300, as in the experimental Chrysler K-310 car. Naturally, others will imitate this Chrysler achievement, at least in part. We honestly believe that the FirePower engine will outperform any other car in America . . . and we invite you to learn the new standard in engine performance Chrysler has set by driving it yourself.

WELLMAN SCHOOL

(Crowded Out Last Week)

The two first grades thoroughly enjoyed two shows last week in the dark room. The shows were, "The Adventures of Junior Rainey" and "The American Cowboy." In the first one Junior Rainey disobeyed Tather Cloud and became a bad boy. Later the Sun took him back to Father Cloud and Junior obeyed his parent this time and was very useful which made him quite happy.

"The American Cowboy" shows the true life of a cowboy. The children learned that a cowboy's life is not all fun and frolic—they wore no guns either. This show was suitable for all ages.

The following first graders made the "B" honor roll during the 3rd Six Weeks: Danny Adair, Danny Carmichael, Dwight Hill, Howard Dean Moorhead, Eddy Thomas, Lynn Womack, Bettie Adair, Gayle Herron, Elaine Jackson, Andrea Sedgwick, Janet Ann Smyth. The following first graders were neither tardy nor absent during the 3rd six weeks: Dwight Hill, Clyde Watkins, Tom Cavosos, Bettie Adair, Lasvia Alaniz, Elaine Jackson, Andrea Sedgwick, Janet Ann Smyth.

The first grade classes are both studying spelling now. Their first grades in spelling were recorded last week. They all did exceptionally well, according to Mrs. Lanison.

Second Grade News

Perfect Attendance for Six Weeks: Sherril Lindsay, Lonnie Moore, Freddy Sedgwick, Kenneth Smart, Betty Ann Bullock, Linda Edwards, Montie Jo Hamm, Charlene Jackson, Eveveta Thornton. We have one new student for 1952. He is Celia Hernandez.

Fourth Grade News

First Semester "B" Honor Roll: Peggy Burnett, Velda Hill, Barbara Watkins.

The students who have not been absent during the first semester are: Milton Carmichael, William Davis, Peggy Burnett and Barbara Watkins.

We are proud of the record of these students. During times when colds and influenza have been prevalent in our school district these boys and girls have been lucky and have shown determination to set a good record.

In English class last week, we had much fun learning to write letters and address envelopes correctly. At first, names of people and places were written in peculiar places, but now we believe that we can write letters almost as neatly as our larger brothers and sisters.

Fifth Grade News

We are happy to have Buddy Hawkins, Buster Chambers, Chester Ferguson back in school after being out because of illness. Spencer Marley and Larry Cabe had to miss school because of flu.

Buddy visited his cousin in Weatherford last week. Milton visited in Odessa Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Jolly and Mrs. Betcher surprised Jimmy Jolly with a birthday party last Thursday at the luncheon. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to the fifth grade and teacher.

Sixth Grade News

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McBeth visited the Joe Eary family over the weekend. Also Polly and Marian Kay Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Eary.

James Weaver is well from his illness. Silva Harboch is visiting Brenda Hazlewood.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I am on active duty in the Navy, and I have a GI term policy in force under waiver of premiums. How do I pick up my insurance again, once I am discharged?

A. You may pay the required premium to the Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within 120 days after your release from active service. The sooner you pay the premium, the better; that way you guard against any chance of your policy lapsing.

Q. How much military service must a veteran have had, in order to qualify for a non-service-connected pension?

A. He must have served for at least 90 days, part of which was within an actual war period or after June 2, 1950, and must have been discharged under other than dishonorable conditions. The 90-day minimum service requirement is waived for those who served less than that period of time and were discharged for a service-connected disability.

Semester A and B Honor Roll

"A" Honor Roll: Roger Bryant, Harold Rich, Donna Weldon, Beth Golden, Fae Beavers, Sue Burnett.

"B" Honor Roll: Darold Baldwin, Nelda Bowlin, Yvonne Thornton, Conrad Cabe, J. W. Hawkins, Joyce Bryant, Peggy Foust, Helen Rogers, Vida Mae Decker, Beryl Parker, Jo Frances Eary, Bobbie Joyce Weaver, James Willis, Rae Nell Liles.

One Hundred Per Cent in Driving Tests

This is the first year that Wellman High school has offered Driver's Education.

In the fall semester there were fourteen registered. Of this group all of the students passed both the written and driving test. Our car is a 1951 four-door Pontiac furnished by the Ross Motor Company of Brownfield. The spring semester of thirty-two students registered for driver's education. Those 32 pupils are to take their written test February 4.

It is the purpose of our driver's education at Wellman (1) to make the public driver conscious; (2) to teach driver courtesy; (3) to do our part to decrease accidents.

Students who took driver's education in the fall semester were: Louise Ballard, Mary J. Caldwell, Rae Nell Liles, Patsy Wyman, Roger Bryant, J. W. Hubbard, Doyle Welcher, Jack Hamm, Vida Decker, Ernest Lewis, Jimmy Berryhill, Nelda Bowlin, Sue Burnett, Mary Lou Bass.

Students taking driver's education in spring semester are: Margaret Ferguson, Bobbie Weaver, Nila Rich, Joyce Lynn Bryant, Jo Frances Eary, Dessie Oliver, Gloria Ingram, Earnest Berryhill, Booth Slaughter, Monty Smith, Peggy Foust, Edna McBeth, Alfred Tittle, Allen Smith, Gerald Jordan, Bill Tom Goza, John Hawkins, John Bishop, Daulton Smith, Ray Liles, Norma Fore, Donna Weldon, Yvonne Thornton, Yvonne Bowlin, Martell Smith, Lowell Weaver, Nita Christman, Bobby Bonham, Donald Oliver, Beryl Parker, Ernest Thornton, Franklin Langley.

Perfect Attendance

The Juniors who have neither been absent or tardy are: Peggy Foust and Beth Golden.

Ford Ups Power In '52 Engines

(Crowded Out Last Week)

Ford for 1952 offers a more powerful Ford V-8 engine, an entirely new six-cylinder engine, and the widest choice of power train combinations for passenger cars in the high volume field.

Ford's Strato-Star V-8 has been redesigned to step up the horsepower to 110 and to increase its torque to 196 pounds feet. Ford has made more than 12,000,000 V-8's and is the world's largest builder of V-8 engines.

The new six-cylinder engine for 1952 is called the Mileage Maker Six, and the Ford Motor Company built a multi-million dollar engine plant at Cleveland, Ohio, to manufacture it.

The Mileage Maker Six, rated at 101 horsepower and 176 pounds feet torque is a high-compression low-friction overhead valve engine developed during four years of research. It was designed for adaptability to higher compression ratios to take advantage of gasolines with higher anti-knock ratings when the fuels become available.

However, both passenger car engines are designed to operate on regular gasolines.

Only Ford in its field offers a choice of six-cylinder and V-8 engines and it also is exclusive in offering the option of three transmissions—Fordomatic, the Ford automatic transmission; the Ford overdrive, and the conventional transmission.

Six power combinations—either of the two engines with any of the three transmissions—are available on all models in the Mainline and the Customline, except the Country Sedan.

The Country Sedan is powered

1952 Pontiac; James J. Gaston, Ford; R. E. McCluskey Jr., Mercury; W. H. Key, 1952 Plymouth.

Dr. Hart Baker, Nash; Jesus Cabozos, Chevrolet; C. E. Hicks, 1952 Studebaker; Loyd Chambliss, Ford; J. A. Parks, Ford; A. R. Latham, Chevrolet; Rev. Jack T. Watkins, Ford; Walter Hord, 1952 Pontiac; B. F. Lowery, Ford; Leon P. Like, Mercury; C. C. Hughes, 1952 Chrysler; Curtis Thomason, Nash; Dick Henson, Ford and O. L. Stice, Pontiac.

by the V-8 as are the Crestline models, the Sunliner convertible, the Country Squire station wagon and the Victoria. Any of the three transmissions may be used in these models.

Both Ford engines boast an industry "exclusive" in the use of precision-molded cast-alloy crankshafts and exhaust valves. The crankshafts give up to 30 per cent longer life and all these parts are highly resistant to wear and extreme heat.

Horsepower of the V-8 was increased by a combination of higher compression ratio—up from 6.8-to-1 to 7.2-to-1—redesigned camshaft, and carburetor and by other improvements.

Both engines have close-fitting expansion control aluminum pistons, full-pressure lubricating systems, which will keep all bearings oiled by pressure, free-turning valves to give better valve seating and eliminate sticking, and the Ford automatic power pilot carburetor-ignition system which provides power with fuel economy.

The new Ford Six was designed to obtain more useable engine power and fuel economy by reducing friction and heat losses. To meet the objective, Ford engineers adopted a new combustion chamber design and overhead valve arrangement. The compression ratio is 7-to-1.

A short piston stroke results in less piston travel and the new design results in a noticeable cut in friction losses between the piston and cylinder walls. This reduction in internal friction, together with new designs in carburetion, manifolds and precision fittings of wearing surfaces, resulted in a marked increase in useful power of the engine.

The Ford Six has integral valve guides cast as part of the cylinder head, a full-flow oil filter, timing chain, and all-steel cylinder head gaskets.

The cylinder block and crankcase are cast in one piece, extending below the center of the crankshaft. In addition, the engine employs the series flow type of cooling system and a pressure-type radiator cap.

Serviceability also was built into the engine. The oil filter opening is in top of the valve cover close to the front, and the oil filter is accessible on the distributor side of the engine.

... AN EXAMPLE FOR EVERY AMERICAN

Biographers of Abraham Lincoln have shown that his greatness came not only from big things, but from the little things he did as well. On his birthday, it is proper that every American follow Lincoln's example, by putting aside petty differences with his fellow citizens... and fighting side by side, that this nation might remain free!

Weekend Is Bracer For Newcomers

Last weekend was certainly an initiator for the new folks here in the west, and we know they did not like it. In fact, we've been sampling them for the past 43 years, and have not learned to like howling sandies. But don't let any of the old timers kid you that it was just a "baby" or a preview of what is to come.

Fact is folks, such storms as we had the past week or infrequent—not the general rule. We may not have one like it even in March, or for that matter, for the next ten years. These real bad ones come about once in a decade. Some times they are fifteen years apart.

Of course, we'll have some more sandstorms this spring; always do, but generally speaking they only last a few hours around mid-day. Along with them, we can have some of the prettiest late winter days of any section. While very disagreeable, there are other convulsions of nature far more destructive to life and property.

Of recent date, let's just recall the serious floods of last spring in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. And the recent one in Ohio. Not only were a lot of lives lost, but millions of dollars worth of property in the way of houses, barns, stables, farm animals and poultry were destroyed, not to mention railway and other properties, bridges, etc.

As for the destruction of soil by either flood or wind erosion goes, the probably would be about a standoff in a comparative area. But washed away soil don't stop nearby. It usually stops some where near or in the gulf.

Santa Fe Crop Report Is Discouraging

Weather conditions over Texas the past few months have been unfavorable, in fact, the state is suffering from a repeat performance of the dry weather that cut down crop production last year.

With the exception of parts of east Texas and along the upper coast, drought conditions prevail over the entire state. Some plowing is being done but moisture generally is insufficient for land preparations, including the planting of spring crops, and fall planted small grains are barely holding their own.

An early winter freeze caused severe damage to tender vegetables throughout the lower part of the state and curtailed shipments. Rarely vegetables have come through so far without much damage and supplies are on the increase, especially from the irrigated sections where conditions are excellent.

Spinach and other vegetables in the non-irrigated areas have deteriorated to some extent under drought conditions. Onions have done a little better but acreage of this crop in north Texas may be reduced because of a shortage of plants.

Spring potato and tomato planting has started in the lower valleys and some watermelons have been planted in the Fallurias section.

Lack of moisture has delayed seed bed preparations and no general field crops have yet been planted.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
(Crowded Out Last Week)

Another oil well moved 8 miles. Strange how those deep holes can be pulled up and socked down elsewhere in a day or two. This is Jack Benefield's well that is supposed to be four miles east of Tokio. The last report placed the well four miles west of Tokio, which would put it considerably over in old Yoakum. Goodness, Jack, Yoakum county has plenty wells already without giving them some of ours.

But about the same time the Herald pulled an equal boner about the same well. In reporting the fact that three apparently pay zones had been encountered in the 10,000 feet they have gone, we reported that the second pay around 9000 feet had been found 5100 feet of clean oil, which has been cased off, and the well deepened, as its contract calls for 12,000 feet.

But the linotype man got it 51 instead of 5100. Well, the proof reader failed to catch the error, of just 50.49 feet of oil, according to our calculation. So much for the oil wells.

Well, dog our cats! In the last issue of the Boliver, Tennessee, Bulletin, that journal informed us of an attempted holdup of the Bank of Middleton, our old home town, the third since 1946. The would-be robber was described by bank officials and employees as a country youth, who herded all and sundry into vault—Simpsons and Wilsons.

But when they went in they locked the vault on the inside, and there was so much commotion that the youth fled, leaving all the cash that was out of the vault in the cashier's cage. The two prior robberies were both solved and the robbers apprehended and most of the money recovered.

Getting to the point we are almost scared to visit the Simpsons for a friendly chat when we go back there. We are allergic to darkness and close places. What is it they call it—claustrophobia?

And while speaking of banks and finances, some guy who is a stickler for statistics, has figured it all out that the average family of four consumed 2½ tons of food last year. Some dratted thief got about 1000 pounds of our 1250 last year. Call the law.

The late Will Rogers, cowboy-comedian, aptly stated that, "we are all ignorant, just ignorant about different things." But some of us are so conceited that we get out of sphere and woefully display our ignorance. Few of us are really marvels at our own particular professions are callings.

Yep, we still have the would-be dictators among us. A lot of us like to take cracks at old Joe Stalin and his crowd, but at times supposedly intellectuals right here in the good old USA display a huge amount of ambitions to be a dictator.

Down in old Alabama, a bunch of so-called Democrats have decreed that all and sundry must hold their noses, adjust the little brass collar and march up to the polls and cast their vote for any and all yellow dogs that happens to be on the ballot as the "nominee." This would not stop at the state and county party nominees, but all who may be nominated by a pinkish controlled convention somewhere in the north. Your own ideas are of no effect. You become a slave to a party name, and you obey your slave driver or else.

Of course the bland idea is to be tested in the courts. But many of the courts these days are made up of the servants of the state or national dictators. We never thought as a boy we'd ever live to see the day that men would be herded as cattle to the polling places and told how to vote. Or that the candidates must take a pledge to support some grafter up high in the federal government.

Amarillo is to entertain the Texas AP Managing Editor Feb. 34. And the Panhandle metropolis is already warning the delegates that they are a bit touchy about their weather. Frankly, they are a bit proud of their weather, as in times past it has given them quite some advertising, mostly on

J. Price Makes A-P Conference Selection

One of the most likable, great big, standup in the corner boys that ever played on the Cub football field, has proved his worth just as well on the college football teams. Jerry Price finished this season, and his last year of college football, as Captain of the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

According to a statement of Coach DeWitt Weaver of the Raiders, Jerrell starred with two other Raiders for top honors in the Border Conference. The others were quarterback Junior Arterburn of Ranger and Aubrey (Red) Phillips of Fort Worth. In addition Jerrell made the second team of All-American with the Associated Press teams. He also played in the East-West game this year.

The record of the 1951 playing season for the Raiders was especially good. They knocked off the highly touted Texas Christian U. team, 33-19. It won all five of the conference games, losing four non-conference games. But they were supposed to be the underdogs in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, New Year's against the powerful College of the Pacific, but won 24-14. Also winning their first bowl game in history.

Our memory now is that Jerrell had to fly in from the East-West game at San Francisco, in order to participate in the bowl game at El Paso.

Santiago, Chile, is named for Saint James.

There used to be a saying further east in Texas, "if you think the weather is 'cold' or 'hot' as case might be, or we will add 'windy,' they would just remind their listener to think how bad it is in Amarillo." However, for the last few years the weather people seem to have found the real "blow cold" place in the Panhandle—Dalhart. And Dalhart is getting all the low temperature advertising of late.

One does not see too much publicity about Ireland. But there was a right interesting article in the current issue of Pathfinder. We find that the population of both Erie and Northern Ireland still adhering to Britain, have about what they had in 176 and about what the USA had at that time. Dublin is the only city of a half million people.

It is a farming country principally. The pastures are green, and the farms fairly fertile, but just about as many people leave as are born or move to that interesting nation. One thing they do not do, is to get mixed up in the affairs of other nations. They do not hold membership in either the United Nations or the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Like Switzerland they just let their neighboring nations quarrel and fight, sweat and bleed and pay big war bills. They take no part in minding the business of the rest of the world. We have just about concluded to move to Ireland. By the way, we note that not a few workers in the USA are moving to Canada, as they only take 12½ per cent of your wages up there, while they get about a third of them in this great baliwick that wants to feed, clothe, educate and arm the rest of the world for more and more wars.

Flu has struck this burg like a ton of brick. Many families have members down with their heads under them. A Herald reporter had to go home and sweat it out last week. Got back on the job still groggy Tuesday of this week. Off again Wednesday. Then the Old He's frau came down last Saturday, and we have been making out like a stray pup since.

One of the druggists was asked last week if there was anything that would prevent one from taking the flu. His reply: "If I did, I'd be riding in a Rolls Royce. Since that time Homer has had to go home and to bed. Evidently he had no preventative remedy or he would have used it on himself.

The doctors of the town, too few in numbers perhaps, have been run ragged since the outbreak. We have heard that down below the caprock, some schools have been closed by flu epidemic.

Lyons Attend Funeral Services For Brother

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lyons, accompanied by a nephew, Cletus Floyd, attended funeral services for Mr. Lyons' brother, Frank Lyons, who passed away in an Oklahoma City hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services were conducted in Holmes Funeral Chapel in Durant, Okla., and burial was in Calera cemetery, Calera, Okla., on Tuesday, Feb. 5.

He is survived by five brothers and two sisters, all of whom attended the funeral with the exception of one brother who resides in California.

The brothers are Gus of Durant, J. J. of Tulsa, Jack of Bennington, Okla., Grover of Modesta, and J. L. of Brownfield; and his sisters include Miss Mary Lyons of Bennington and Mrs. E. R. Carter of Calera.

DONALD DURHAM IN USN TRAINING

Undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., is Donald D. Durham, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Durham of Route 1, Brownfield.

Weekend Is Bracer For Newcomers

Will Seek to Organize Terry Republicans

Mr. Mohler D. Temple, of Lubbock, a member of the State Republican Executive Committee, was a visitor in our city this week, and paid the Herald a short call. Mr. Temple is a Taft man, and stated they were evidently in for quite a fight to control Lubbock county with Eisenhower boosters. He will be back in a few days to try to get an organization under way in Terry county.

Senator Robert Taft will be in Lubbock March 12. Some of the features of the day will be a Bar Association Reception at 10:30 to 12 noon, a Kiwanis-Rotary luncheon 12:30 to 1:30 p. m., a press conference from 1:30 to 2:15. He will also deliver an address at Tech later in the afternoon, and tour the campus and some of the buildings.
