Lions' Talent Show Next Friday Night

Plans are about complete for the Lions' Club Talent Show, to be staged at the high school auditorium next Friday night, Feb. 29, when the local amateur talent will be presented.

With prizes for the winners of the adult and student classes of the contest, several dozen talented people have already auditioned. Those who wish to make a last minute entry should register immediately at the Chamber of Commerce, Supp. O. R. Douglas at the high school, or with Herbert Chesshir at Martin-Chesshir Motor Co.

The show will start at 7:30 p. m. with admission costing 75 cents and 25 cents. Bob Tobey will be master of ceremonies.

There will be a dress rehearsal Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7 o'clock at the new high school. If contestants are not present at the rehearsal they cannot participate in the show, according to reports.

Williams Brothers Sailing to Far East

Bobby Earl and Wesley Knox Williams, sons of Mrs. Voncie Williams, 121 South Monroe, San Angelo, and former residents of Brownfield, are both in the U. S. Navy and are en route to the Far East.

Bobby Earl, who has been in the Navy three years, and recently stationed at Pensacola, Fla., has been assigned to the USS Citkah Bay, which will depart from San Francisco on February 29, en route to Japan.

Wesley Knox is aboard the General Morton, which is en route to the Subic Bay in the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Williams and Bobby, and another son, Lynn, visited her mother, Mrs. S. H. Holgate, 902 East Broadway, her sister, Mrs. Jack Hamilton, and other relatives here Sunday. Barney Holgate and family of Lubbock also were here. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Hamilton, who has a screen and projector, showed various moving pictures to the group.

G. W. LUKER AT MEET IN HOUSTON

G. W. Luker, director of the Brownfield National Farm Loan Association, is in Houston, where he attended the stockholders' meeting of the Federal Land Bank of Houston which was held Thursday and Friday.

200 Attend the Rain Meeting

About 200 farmers and business men in the area attended a meeting Tuesday night in the district courtroom, and discussed methods to increase rainfall on the South Plains.

Voting to hold further meetings, and to study the possibilities of such a project in this county, the group nominated and elected Al Muldrow and Paul Blackstock to represent Terry County farmers in a Weather Improvement Association, if such an organization is formed in this area.

Sam Allen, Lamesa, Farm Bureau president of Dawson County, and R. J. Purcell, local farmer-business man, discussed methods being used by Krick Weather Service of Denver, Colo., with apparently gratifying results in many instances in sections of the west.

Considering that Terry County's share in the operation, if adopted by an organization to be formed, will amount to approximately $7,500, Mr. Purcell told the group that such an operation would cost each farmer in the county about $40.00.

Mr. Muldrow and Mr. Blackstock will go to Lamesa Saturday night to meet with representatives from Gaines, Borden, Dawson, Howard, Lynn, Yoakum and Terry counties, to discuss the weather project. Another meeting is slated for Brownfield next Saturday, March 1, when farmers in this county will probably form an organization.

The meeting here Tuesday night was called by the Terry County Farm Bureau, but J. T. Fulford, president, told the group that the Farm Bureau, as an organization, would take no further steps in the movement.

Hub King, secretary to the Farm Bureau, gave a report on a labor conference he recently attended in Fort Worth, with others from Terry County Farm Bureau.

Top of Courthouse To Remain As Is

We had asked several around the courthouse if the new addition to the county edifice was to remain as presently, as the extreme top does not match the old building. None seemed to know, but one stated that the Commissioners had not accepted the building.

Sam Gossett, Commissioner of Precinct 2, presently, was in on business Tuesday, and stated the top of the addition would remain as is. In the future, if an addition is built on the west side, it would make a balanced appearing building.

Hadn't thought of that, but it is good reasoning.

Final Rites Sunday For Mrs. Ella Mae Morris

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Mae Morris, 27, were held in the Crescent Hill Church of Christ Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Morris died Friday at 6 a. m. Survivors are two daughters, Joyce and Sharon; two sons, Willford Norman and Douglas Wesley, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Robertson of Colorado City.

Services were conducted by Joe Chisholm, who was assisted by T. J. Finley, minister of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ. The Brownfield Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. She was taken to the Teavill cemetery near Colorado City for burial.

Herald Is Short And Sweet

Postmaster Joe Shelton notified the Herald early this week that Friday would be Mr. Birthington's Washday, and all and sundry mail help would get a holiday. So, we decided to cut the Herald a bit short, and hit the mails Thursday instead of Friday. See you next week.

Clovis Kendrick Still In Critical Condition

Report here Monday was to the effect that Clovis Kendrick was very ill in a Texarkana hospital. He and wife were visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Henson at Ashdown, Ark., when he took sick. He is believed to have meningitis.

President Dick McDuffie of the First National Bank, phoned down there about 7:30 a. m. Tuesday, and received the news that Clovis' fever had broken, and that he had a chance of recovery.

At press time Wednesday night, reports from Texarkana were that Kendrick's condition was critical and that he appeared to be growing weaker.

Johnny Scarbrough Pretty Badly Burned

Johnny Scarbrough, who makes his home in the Stricklin residence, was severely burned on the right arm early this week. Johnny is a member of a drilling crew out in the Slaughter field near Sundown. He attempted to light an oil stove in which some gas had accumulated, and an explosion followed.

He is doing fine at the local hospital. They reported that it was a second degree burn, and will require no skin grafting, and the leaders will probably be OK, not causing drawn fingers.

Cub Pack 27 to Be Organized

A reorganization meeting of the parents of members of Cub Pack 27 was held Monday night, at the First Methodist Church. Curt Wilcox, a Southern District Executive of the Cub Scouts, gave a talk explaining Cubbing and its relationship to home life.

The Pack will be divided into dens. Any boy or parent who is interested in the Cub Scouts can contact J. C. Powell by phoning 755-RX.

Pack 27 is sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

After the meeting refreshments of coffee and cookies were served to approximately 30 parents.

Lubbock Lady Dies In Doctor's Office

Mrs. R. L. Brown of Lubbock died in the office of a local physician, Tuesday. As we understand it, she had left the office and gone to a nearby drug store. Becoming ill again, she returned to the office of the doctor, where she died.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gober of Meadow, where Mrs. Brown attended school, and graduated from high school. She has been living in Lubbock since 1943. Survivors include her husband, parents, a sister, Mrs. Mary Trout, Hobbs, N. M., and two brothers, Lester and Alfred Gober, Meadow.

At the time we go to press, no funeral arrangements had been announced.

Coke Toliver was recently employed as office clerk for Stanolind Oil Company, and at the present time is working in the office in Sundown. He will be transferred to the Brownfield office in the near future.

Opening Of New Church Brings Memories Of The Long Past

The first service to be held Sunday in the new Church of Christ, which we presume will be known as Southside Church. Few newcomers know where the Old Lamesa Road was located. The new building brings back memories of way back about 1910, when the three male members and their wives and children composed the congregation that met in the old school building near where the No. 2 Farmers C-op Gin now stands.

The late W. G. Hardin, R. H. Banowsky, who is now an elder in the Riverside, Fort Worth, congregation, and the writer, were the three male members. Some of the trustees objected to the "Campbellites" meeting in the school building, and the worship and

Fire Prevention Inspection Planned

Members of the Terry County Insurance Exchange and the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce have invited the West Texas Field Club which is composed of about 45 insurance men in this area, to come to Brownfield in the near future for a complete city inspection for fire hazards.

According to W. T. McKinney, president of the Terry County Insurance Exchange, the group has been invited to this city, since the 25 per cent good fire record that Brownfield has been experiencing the past few years, no longer exists, and the city now has a 15 per cent debit on fire records. This fact is due to the two large fires here last year, when Fuur's and Portwood Motor Company were destroyed.

An effort is being made to regain the good fire record in the city. A meeting of representatives of the city and civic clubs will be held Monday at 10 o'clock a. m. at the City Hall Council room, for the making of preliminary plans.

When the inspection is made here, probably March 12, the insurance men will "Red Tag" every fire hazard they find within the city limits. The survey will probably take about two days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Harris have returned home after a few days visit in Roswell, N. M., with their daughter and family, Capt. and Mrs. C. H. Morrison. Roy is recuperating from a broken arm he received a few weeks ago while at work in his machine shop.

Ah Heck, There Are 6 Stricklin Boys

After writing an article last week that there were four Stricklin boys to carry on the name, giving their name and parents, our wife remarked: "Well, you left out little Tom and Jerry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stricklin of Fort Worth."

Our apology to Tom and Jerry, ages about 4 and one. Especially after they visited their grand uncle Jack in our home some two months ago.

Sunday school was moved to the district courtroom of the old wooden courthouse. During the 'teens, others came in. Gomez had a larger congregation, but five miles was quite a "fur piece" in those days.

After the railroad came, the small congregation was ambitious enough to undertake a pretty nice building at Main and Third, helped by good friends and well wishers of the town. But time marched on, and as two other large churches were within a block, Baptist and Methodist, parking became a problem.

So, in the middle 40ties, the beautiful new church costing more than $110,000 was erected out on the Lubbock road, known as the Cres-

ARRIVE HOME FROM THE PHILIPPINES

Master Sergeant and Mrs. Floyd Riley and two-month old son, Floyd Belton, arrived in Brownfield last week, and are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Riley, 310 Tahoka Road. They have been in Manila, P. I., where their son was born. Sgt. Riley was there two years with the Army Air Force, and his wife joined him last May. He will probably be stationed in Amarillo. He has spent 14 years in the Air Force.

Griffins Have Nice Time in S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Griffin returned this week from San Antonio, where they went to attend the Fiesta, the Rodeo and Fat Stock show, all rolled into one. Their daughter, Miss Judy, was one of the queens. She represented Trinity U., where she is a senior.

Mrs. Griffin was a bit ill when she left, but after reaching a warmer area and lower altitude, she reports she felt much better. While the Griffins will not boast about anything, and especially their own family, we could tell they were pleased with Miss Judy's performance.

An Editorial

By O. H.

There is much written and said about Texas game and the game laws. According to Texas Game and Fish Commission, the Tyler Courier-Times had a mighty fine editorial on game and its preservation recently, and sent us some of the quotes. Like the Courier-Times, and evidently the Commission, as the Commission surely endorsed the editorial, we believe a lot of the blame for destruction of Texas game belongs to the enthusiastic supporters of game preservation and laws as well as the average man, that hunts only occasionally. Here is some quotes from the Tyler paper we wish you to note: "What we need more than anything else is a wholesome observation on the part of the hunters themselves of the laws we now have. To them, hunting is a game just like baseball or football—and, as true sportsmen, they should observe the rules of the game as set out in the laws of their state. A hunter who kills more than the legal limit should lose caste in the world of sport. This should be so much the general attitude of hunters that he will not exceed the bag limit and no longer brag about it. And some of the hunting clubs should discipline their members that hunting law violations with them would become extinct." It will be remembered that many years ago, this whole section became game conscious, and plans perfected to raise more quail. But it was reported that some few of the promoters became the worst poachers of the lot. Just a few mind you, but the people, farmers in particular, became disgusted. As a consequence, little or no attention was paid to the idea of more game birds, and finally the legislature was asked to put on a closed season for five years in Terry and some of the adjoining counties. Leaders should set a good example.

Well, we note that Arizona and California are still battling over

Colorado river water, and of course we mean the river that forms the boundary between those two states, not our Texas Colorado river. However, so far, we have had only one side of the controversy, that of California. But if their views are correct, then we can see no legitimate argument from the Arizonians. But we do not endorse any kind of takeover by the government that makes the people of the whole nation pay for the prosperity of a few people. For that reason, we have consistently opposed the TVA, the St. Lawrence Waterway, and other vast governmental spending that do not help the whole nation of taxpayers. According to our informant, the bill now pending in congress that would cost the nation more than 2 billion dollars. Who would it benefit? It would, according to the same source, irrigate some 226,000 acres in Arizona, at a cost of $1,838 per acre, and would benefit less than 1000 Arizona landowners. Of course there would be no denying the fact that it would put millions of dollars in the pockets of these landowners, and perhaps benefit the good state of Arizona to boot. But let's see who pays and pays. According to the figures given, Texas alone would have to go down in their pockets to the tune of $90,917,000. If the people that own the land, or even Arizona as a whole, wish to go to this great expense, we have no objection. But it would benefit Texas not one single penny.

The price of material and labor has finally winked out one side of the newspapering business that has been in vogue since the Civil War times. The lone remaining syndicate that has since the writer entered the newspaper business a half century ago, gone the way of all flesh. We refer to the so-called "patent inside," or "ready-print," which this large syndicate with certain branch offices all over the USA, printed from 2 to 4 pages of this ready-print service, and shipped it to small town weeklies, and the other four or six blank pages were used by the local paper for local news and ads. Except for a brief period back in the 20ties, when they had competition, the ready print section carried ads from large firms all over the United States. Now the small weekly did not get the money for these ads. No sir, that revenue went to the syndicate, and the weekly paid for the service he used, plus carrying the ads free, and paid freight and postage. And the syndicate had a good argument to present to the advertisers. "Why, we cover the territory like a blanket; there is no use whatever to carry your ad in each and every country weekly. We give you the whole coverage at a far less price, and you make one check in payment instead of hundreds of them." Well, if that were literally true, that would be a good argument. But for the past several years, only one small country weekly out of half a hundred that comes to our exchange desk, carries the ready-print. Perhaps now, a lot of would-be national advertisers will seek space in the weekly press. But as long as this service ran, it was a constant knife at the throat of the hundreds and thousands of good weekly papers that never carried the service. It is with no regrets that the vast majority of weekly papers have been put on notice that the funeral of the "patent inside" is to take place the last of this month.

HIGH STATE OFFICIALS PREPARE TO LAUNCH HEART DRIVE—Governor Allan Shivers and Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd discuss the 1952 Heart Fund campaigns now being conducted in many Texas counties. Governor Shivers is honorary campaign chairman and Mr. Shepperd is state co-chairman with Banker Ben H. Wooten of Dallas. The Governor has proclaimed February as Heart Month in Texas to call attention to the ravages of heart disease, the nation's number one killer. Contributions to the Heart Fund may be made direct to local Heart associations or mailed to Heart, care of the local postmaster.

Vicious rumors can often hurt a good solid firm that is financially OK. Rumors have even been started with half truths and no information that have started runs on banks. Then, they can hurt charitable organizations beyond belief. An article by Lester David, a writer in This Week, a Sunday magazine of many dailies, that well illustrates the point. For instance, he cites one instance where a GI who lost his money in a gambling spree in the South Pacific, wired his dad in the states for $50 "to pay the Red Cross for a blood transfusion." Of course the GI just wanted an excuse to get the money from his dad, but this started a vicious rumor that hurt Red Cross with many innocent people. Then there was the one about the doctors finding a cure for polio, but the donations for the Infantile Paralysis Foundation was so good, that they would not reveal the cure. Still another was that volunteer workers for the Community Chest got a raffle of 25 per cent of the intake. That Franklin D. Roosevelt started the Polio Foundation, and that it was kept up to keep the Democrats in power. It is true that FDR started NFIP, as he was a polio victim, but he never did have one thing to say about the collection, dispensation or the officers of the fund, or how it was spent. Another that has been traced down as entirely baseless is that Red Cross nurses engaged in prostitution in the west Pacific area during the war for the benefit of service men and officers. Of course anyone knowing the care with which they are selected and the discipline under which they work would know this rumor was as senseless and unjust to these self-sacrificing girls and women, who could just as easily be at home as on the front line in the cold and mud and misery of front line hospitals. A rumor is sorter like a snowball started down a long hillside. The further it goes, the larger it gets, until when it reaches the bottom of the hill, it might knock a horse down. We wish all who are inclined to start a rumor

Several Civilian Jobs Are Open at RAFB

Several jobs for civilians now are open at Reese Air Force Base, according to Mrs. John Stoltz, civilian personnel officer there.

These include a junior aircraft material dispatcher WB 7, wages $1.22 per hour; two aircraft sheet metal manufacturers and repairers, WB 16, at $1.67 per hour; and one insect and rodent controller, WB 8, $1.27 per hour.

Men interested in any of these jobs may obtain further information and the application blanks from the Civilian Personnel office at Reese Air Force Base between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4:45 p. m., Monday through Friday.

could have read that article.

Having been reared on a farm, we always had a hankering to read stuff that is printed about agriculture and its progress in the USA. And it is really progressing. One of the several men we like to read after, is Tom Linder, Secretary of Agriculture of the state of Georgia. His articles are printed in the Market Bulletin, which is put out mostly to help Georgia farmers. But the last issued editorial by Linder carries one from the ancient to the modern in farming. The writer shows that in the ancient days the cave dwellers went out and killed their wild meat, and finally corralled some of the young animals that were finally domesticated, such as sheep, cattle and horses. At first, what little patches that were tilled, was done with hoes. Then came the stick plows with oxen as beasts of burden; then the steel plows, and finally today the two to four row planters and cultivators, drawn by fuel motor tractors. At the beginning of our nation, says Mr. Linder, our nation had so few town and city toilers, that it took only 4 per cent of the farm products to supply them, as 96 per cent lived on farms. Seventy-five years ago, with the steel, but horse or oxen drawn plows, it required the extra efforts of 80 farmers to supply 20 town people. But today, with modern machinery on the farms, 17 farm people are able to supply all the food needs as well stuff to manufacture clothing, etc., of 83 city people, as well and to clothe and feed themselves. There has not only been a radical evolution in machinery, but methods as well. Better fertilization and cultivation methods and seed selection. For instance, only a generation or so ago, when their dads were getting 15 or 20 bushels of corn per acre, the FFA and 4-H boys are now getting more than 100 bushels per acre. Also better yields of cotton, with a much longer staple. Better and higher yielding wheat and other farm products. We often hear people boasting of our huge manufacturing plants with their long assembly lines. Our farmers, too, have come a long way from even 25 years ago, with astonishing yields.

Brownfield Defeats Tahoka Quintet, 54-28

Brownfield's Cubs, who finished second in the District 7-AA basketball race, knocked over the Tahoka Bulldogs, District 4-AA champions, 54-28, in an exhibition game here Friday night.

The Cubs piled up a 17-4 lead in the first quarter, and held a 36-15 margin at the half. The Cubs coasted the rest of the way.

Joe Don Auburg, with 10 field goals good for 20 points, led Brownfield's scoring. Wayne Tekell and Blice each had eight for Tahoka.

It was the last game for six Brownfield seniors, and the Cubs turned in one of the best performances of the season. Tahoka had bad luck hitting the basket.

And Brownfield won the junior varsity tilt, 49-44. Jackie Stockton's 10 points led Brownfield's scoring, while Slover had 20 for Tahoka.

The victory was the 16th for the Cubs, who finished the season with six losses. The Brownfield team, one of the finest produced here in several years, met all comers and its losses were to some of the area's top quintets.

DESIGNED FOR ECONOMY THROUGH SIMPLICITY

HOUSE PLAN No. 40

A Southern farm and a livable house built by our Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5140 were just made for each other. This house will be especially pleasant during a scorching Dixie summer. Each room is either a corner room or a first cousin to one, so there will be lots of light and ventilation. The breezeway, of course, will be cool even on the hottest days. It can be left open, screened, or provided with windows. Either way is attractive. There is ample room in the kitchen for serving family meals and for making a compact arrangement of your freezer chest, laundry equipment, and water heater. The bath is arranged near the back entrance so that field hands may wash up before going to other sections of the house. There are closets galore in the bedrooms, a large linen closet in the hall, and ample space for linen in the bathroom. Also, there is convenient storage space in the garage for seasonal items, or for items used only occasionally. The plans call for a double fire-place opening into both the dining and living areas. However, you could have a conventional fireplace in the same place. If you prefer a basement with a central heating unit we suggest that the entrance be arranged on the breezeway and the central unit put in the basement. This house has been designed for masonry construction but will be equally attractive in conventional frame. The plans incorporate all of the economy measures that can be applied to simple construction. The straight lines and simplicity of the roof mean a minimum cost per square foot of floor area. You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5140 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch Southern Agriculturalist, Dept. L192, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number —Plane No. 5140. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Safety On Farm Is Your Business

COLLEGE STATION.—Safe living should be the objective of every citizen. The frightful toll of human life taken annually by accidents can be reduced only when safe living is actually practiced by everyone. Every day during 1952, funeral services may be held somewhere in Texas for a farm accident victim. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee headed by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, and E. C. Martin, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, strongly believe that Texans will do something about the situation.

The committee met in Waco on January 19 to hear reports and to make additional plans for conducting educational programs that will carry the message of safe living to all Texans. Martin told the group that 15,500 farm people died last year in the United States as a result of accidents. The farm group, as shown by the 1950 census, makes up only 15.6 per cent of the nation's population yet more of them died from accidents than did the group working in other industries.

Right now, continued Martin, a great deal of attention is being given to solving the expected labor shortage in agriculture, while little is being done to prevent the accidents that last year caused a loss in man days sufficient to produce and harvest a goodly proportion of some of our major crops. Too little attention is given, he says, by most rural residents to making life safe on the farm.

In order to encourage more participation by individuals and groups, the committee is making plans now to recognize outstanding contributions to farm safety in the state. Agencies and organizations that work with rural people will be asked to expand their programs in safety and to nominate individuals and groups doing the most outstanding work in preventing accidents on the farm or in the home. Awards will be made annually at the State Safety Conference, and will be in the form of certificates citing the winners for their safety achievements. Youth groups such as the 4-H Clubs, FFA and FFA Chapters are expected to contribute much to the program. Farm and ranch organizations including the home demonstration clubs are also expected to step up their activities in the safety field. Young and old can do their part in reducing the number of accidents on the highways. Last year more than 35,000 lives were lost from such accidents in the United States. Chances are that several funerals were held during 1951 in your county for traffic accident victims and unless traffic safety rules and regulations are observed here after the next victim may be a member of your family or yourself. Members of the State Farm and Ranch Safety Committee are convinced that a lot of mighty good teamwork is needed now to whip the problem and they urge every citizen to participate in meetings and demonstrations where safety is discussed. They believe that in this age of mechanization larger attention to safety will make rural living more pleasant and profitable.

Cotton Planting Seed Treating Is Insurance

COLLEGE STATION.—The 1952 agricultural crop goals call for the highest production on record. They can best be met if every acre of cropland is put to its best use and weather conditions are favorable. Cotton producers have been asked to produce a 16 million bale crop in 1952 and Texas farmers will play a mighty important role in this undertaking.

According to Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, every "trick of the trade" will have to be used if the goal is met. Good management, insect control and the full utilization of labor and machinery must be used in the production operations.

Good management begins early and stays late, says Elliott. A mighty important management practice, he adds, is treating the planting seed. The scarcity of labor or just adds to the importance of getting a good stand of cotton on the first planting. Replanting is an expensive job and can often be avoided by the simple process of treating planting seed. Treating kills seed borne diseases, protects the seed and seedlings from diseases which may be in the soil and gives a better stand of cotton, he says.

The two worst cotton seedling killers in Texas are angular leaf spot and shreshin. In the Blacklands of Texas, angular leaf spot ranks next to root rot as the number one hazard in cotton production, says Elliott. It first shows up on the leaves of the young seedling and appears as a small, green, water-soaked spot that resembles a bruise. If damp weather sets in after the seedling come up, the disease spreads over the entire plant and unless the planting seed was chemically treated before planting, many of the plants may be killed. The disease affects the fruiting habits of the cotton plant and carries through to the older plants where it appears as angular spots on the leaves and as bacterial rot on the bolls.

Shreshin shows up as a brown diseased area on the stem of the cotton seedling either above or below the ground line and it causes shriveling of the plant tissues

Investigating Drug To Treat Epilepsy

AUSTIN.—Two University of Texas professors have received $6,000 to investigate drugs to treat epilepsy and other convulsive ailments. They are Dr. H. R. Henze, Main University chemistry professor, and Dr. G. A. Emerson, Galveston Medical Branch pharmacology professor. Sandoz Pharmaceuticals Co. of New York, N. Y., made the grant.

which kills the plant. At the Temple Agricultural Experiment Station, Elliott says cottonseed treated with either two or five per cent ceresan gave from 25 to 30 per cent better stands than did untreated seed. The plants showed less angular leaf spot and yielded more than 50 pounds of lint cotton per acre than did the plots planted with untreated seed. Seedlings from treated seed usually make much more rapid growth during the early growing season, adds Elliott.

For cotton producers who are not familiar with the process of treating cotton planting seed, Elliott suggests that they visit their local county agricultural agent for information on the chemical to use and methods for doing the treating job. He points out that producers who have large quantities of seed to treat might find it economical to have the job done by a commercial operator.

Regardless of who does the job, he says, be sure that the seed are covered with the treating agent and that the right material is used. American and her world allies need every bale of cotton that can be produced in 1952 and Elliott urges cotton farmers to use the best known production practices so that maximum yields can be obtained from every acre planted.

Cottage cheese, served with a salad, takes to seasoning since it is such a bland food. Mix a little onion juice and finely diced green pepper into it, or mix it with chopped canned pimiento and finely minced parsley. A little sour cream mixed into the cheese also makes it especially delicious.

Receipts from national forests during the fiscal year 1951 reached an all-time high of $56,000,000.

With Mrs. Stinnett were hostesses Mesdames R. E. Thompson, Buddy Gillham, Jack Eicke, George Wade and Donald Cade.

About 300 guests were invited, and Mrs. Eicke presided at the bride's book. The registering table was attractive with a miniature umbrella made of white lace placed on a base of red carnations. Red and white streamers of satin ribbon decorated the bride's book.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Stinnett, who presented the bride and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie McMillan. The honoree wore a red and white linen dress with a white carnation corsage dotted with tiny red hearts.

Hostesses wore corsages of red plastic kitchenware tied with white satin ribbon. The "sugar scoops," "funnel," measuring spoons and other clever corsages were presented Mrs. McMillan.

At the refreshment table were Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Gillham who served fruit punch, individual Valentine cakes, and red and white mints. A lace cloth covered the table, which was centered with a lace heart and red carnations. A small bride dressed in white satin stood in the heart.

A lovely array of gifts were displayed, with Mrs. Cade and Mrs. Wade assisting the guests as they viewed the gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillan were married January 17 in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church here. She is the former Miss Maxine Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Shirley of Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. McMillan is manager of the Robert Thompson Lumber Company.

FAMILY LIFE STUDY AT METHODIST CHURCH

An interesting and inspiring study on Family Life, with round table discussions were held Monday through Friday nights of last week at the First Methodist Church.

The study was led by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baumgardner, who represented the Lubbock district at the Methodist conference on National Family Life held in Chicago last October. They were assisted by Rev. Dallas D. Denison, pastor of the church.

Two chapters of the book, "Faith of the Family," were studied each night. This book was compiled by Arthur West, a series of articles from the different conference work groups, reports and special speakers at the meeting in Chicago.

Those leading the devotionals here were Mrs. James Warren, Burton Hackney, Mrs. Wayland Parker and Mrs. Bill Glick. Out of the discussions, the groups voted to continue emphasis on "Family Life" in the church, and Rev. Denison will devote a sermon each month to this subject. His first was last Sunday.

The study last week included the following subjects, "The Family Living Its Religion," "Growing Mature Persons In The Family," "The Family Looks To The Church," "The Family Living in the Community," and "The Family Living In a Troubled World."

Climaxing the study, Rev. Denison held a special commitment service Sunday morning. Emphasis on Family Life began at Methodist churches in the entire Lubbock district last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Baumgardner spoke on this subject at the Terry County Methodist Men's meeting in Meadow Tuesday night, and she and Mr. Baumgardner went to Slaton Wednesday night to address a group at the Slaton First Methodist Church.

Mrs. John Luckie and Students Present Concerts in Lamesa; Levelland Feb. 29

Mrs. John Luckie of Brownfield was presented in Lamesa last night by the Senior Delphian Club at the Delphian clubhouse, in an evening of music.

She was assisted by soloists Ginger Gunn and Josephine Lamb, both of Brownfield, and students of Mrs. Luckie, and other students from Big Spring, Levelland and Lamesa.

The Levelland Music Club will sponsor a concert next Friday night at the Levelland First Baptist Church, presenting Mrs. Luckie and Miss Lamb, as well as other soloists.

Miss Gunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gunn, has been studying voice with Mrs. Luckie this year, and was recently named a member of the all-state chorus, participating in a contest at Mineral Wells at the Texas Music Educators Association.

Miss Lamb is also a student of Mrs. Luckie's, and she attends Wheatley school. The girl's voice lessons are sponsored by members of the Alpha Omega Study Club here.

The following story appeared in the Dawson County Free Press about Mrs. Luckie:

"Mrs. Luckie is another of the fine musicians the war has added to the Texas musical circle. She now lives in Brownfield and leads an exceedingly busy life, combining the job of a six-year-old, wife, teacher of voice in three West Texas towns, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland. Two years ago her vacation consisted of a return trip to New York for a period of intensive coaching by the celebrated voice coach, Amy Ellerman.

"It was the role of 'Mimi' in Puccini's Grand Opera Company's New York season, and portions of which she was preparing for a concert in Carnegie Hall, when she gave it up to accompany her husband, John F. Luckie of Brownfield, on his return trip to Texas. They met and married while he was stationed in the East during the war.

"Mrs. Luckie possesses a rich full soprano voice of amazing power and vitality and always charms her audiences wherever she is presented.

"Last year she thrilled a crowd of more than 11,000 people when she was guest star for the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra."

Several members of the Cen-Tex Harmony Music Club and others attended the concert in Lamesa last night, and a number is expected to go to Levelland on February 29.

In Lamesa Mrs. Luckie sang "Nuit D' Etoiles" by Debussy; "A Gypsying Into the Sun" by Scarmolin; and "You Are Free" by Jacobi.

Texas Schools Face Critical Period

AUSTIN.—Texas schools are facing one of the most critical periods in their history, Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said as he outlined pressing needs for new buildings and more teachers over the entire state. The school population, particularly on the elementary level, is growing at an alarming rate, he pointed out. For example, births in Texas in 1945—this year's first graders—numbered 156,000. In 1947, births in the Lone Star State jumped to 197,000, an increase of 41,000. If this additional group could be divided into classes of 30 children each, Texas would still need 2100 additional teachers and classrooms in just the first and second grades.

SCHOOL NEWS

Jacob Don't Think People Think Much

The following article in the "People's Column" of a recent issue of the Dallas Morning News, caught our fancy. It was written by Jacob Sandage, one of our real thinking farmers of south Terry. We did not ask his permission, but since it appeared in a paper of statewide circulation, we did not figure he'd care for the article to appear in his home county paper:

Nonthinking Citizen
Congress will preach, but not practice, economy in government. We have too many high powered pressure groups that are not going to give up their gravy trains. Government hand-outs to farmers were conceived as a means of saving agriculture in depression years. These payments could be stopped, without endangering the security of agriculture. Some big-scale farmers get enough government checks almost to pay for a milk coat for the little woman.

We see some newspapermen who are howling about government spending and high taxes, yet some of them hold membership on some powerful pressure groups.

There can not be a reduction in taxes without a reduction in expenses, so why not ask Congress to eliminate some of the gravy trains?

As long as we expect something for nothing that long we will have high taxes and corruption in government. Great nations fall, not because they are conquered. They fall because of graft and corruption in high places.

Under our form of government

Scout Program At First Christian

Before an overflow audience Sunday night, Feb. 3, at First Christian Church of Brownfield Rev. Homer W. Haislip, the pastor, gave a special message to Boy Scouts and their parents, friends and Scout Masters. The subject of the minister's sermon was, "I'm A Boy Scout."

A high spot in the service was the presentation of the God and Country Award to Scout Michael G. Hamilton. This is a special award given by the Protestant Committee on Scouting. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton, parents of Scout Mike, were asked to stand with their son for the presentation ceremony. Scout Master Cecil Hill, leader of Troop No. 49, pinned the God and Country Award on Scout Hamilton while the pastor gave the statement of presentation. Mike is the first Scout to win this award in the Brownfield area.

Boy Scout Troop 47 is the only church sponsored troop in Brownfield. First Christian Church sponsors this troop. Leon Painter is Scout Master.

In his sermon the minister said, "First Christian Church is vitally interested in Boy Scouts. Scouting teaches our boys to play, work and live in harmony with Christian ideals. Through Scouting experiences they are better prepared to live physically, mentally and spiritually. A Boy Scout is alert, courteous, courageous, dependable and reverent."
