Ten Basketball Teams Accept Wheatley Invitation to Play in Tournament Here

Coach Tiedel of the Wheatley school said today that 10 schools in West Texas and New Mexico had accepted invitations to participate in the first South Plains Class C Invitational Tournament, to be held here in the Junior High gym on Saturday, March 15. And that there was a possibility that several more would come in before the deadline Monday.

To Aid School's Athletic Program

All net proceeds, after expenses from the tournament, will be placed in the athletic fund of Wheatley to conduct such sports as softball, track and other games on the big playing field, the coach-principal said. The Wheatley Tigers and Tigerettes leave early Saturday morning for Lubbock to participate in division competition. Tickets are on sale now (that is reserved tickets as a special section will be reserved for white fans) at Charlie Price's Western Auto Store, Primm's Drug and Stells' Grocery and Market.

Trophies to Be Awarded

Several of the leading civic and charity organizations of the city have promised to buy blocks of tickets and two beautiful trophies have been donated for this unique affair for colored students in West Texas. Anyone or any organization desiring to aid Wheatley in this tournament should call Coach Tiedel at the Wheatley school. The telephone number is listed as 797-J.

The Wheatley PTA will serve meals and sandwiches to the number of colored students expected here on March 15 to witness the tournament. Mrs. Rosetta Harmon is president and can be reached at 1022-J. All persons helping to make this affair a success will be mentioned here in a later issue.

THANKS FOR THE INVITATION

The Herald takes this means of thanking the Humble Oil and Refining Co. to attend the opening of their new office building in Midland tomorrow. The invitation was issued by N. N. Finnegan Jr., of the Houston office.

We are in hopes that at least one of the personnel will be able to make the date. If not, thanks a million, anyway.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, I, C. C. Primm, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, believe that the American Red Cross is a great humanitarian organization, and that in view of the present critical world situation it is imperative that they be fully prepared to answer the call of people in need.

WHEREAS, the humanitarian aims of this voluntary organization can be met only if people everywhere heed the call of their less fortunate brothers.

WHEREAS, I as Mayor, hereby designate March as Red Cross month in Brownfield and urge you to wholeheartedly cooperate in making the annual campaign a success.

The Herald Now Issued on Thursday

Maybe we made it plain last week to some who read the columns or the editorials that we have moved up the publication day of the Herald from Friday to Thursday. We gave several reasons, among them, that a holiday coming on Friday would knock us into a cocked hat. And that we could save a trip to Meadow each week to carry the mails to insure delivery on Fridays.

Right here we might also caution the community correspondents that this will mean we have to have their news a bit earlier to insure publicity. And this also goes for those with news items, including social affairs, churches, schools, etc.

Lackey Enters Horse In Texas Futurity

Again the Texas Futurity trials and eliminations will be held at Big Spring Fair ground May 10th. This show is sponsored by Texas Horse Breeders Association.

Already one entry has been made by a Brownfield owner, Mr. C. R. Lackey, who has named "Little Ute" in the 300 yard division. There are already 27 entries in that field.

Lions Club Talent Show Big Success

given last Friday night turned out to be a great success filled with fun and the best of entertainment. The grand prize was won by a Meadow boy, Sonny Curtis, who sang and played on his guitar. He received a 17-jewel watch and was given a six weeks contract to be on a radio program over KTFY of Brownfield.

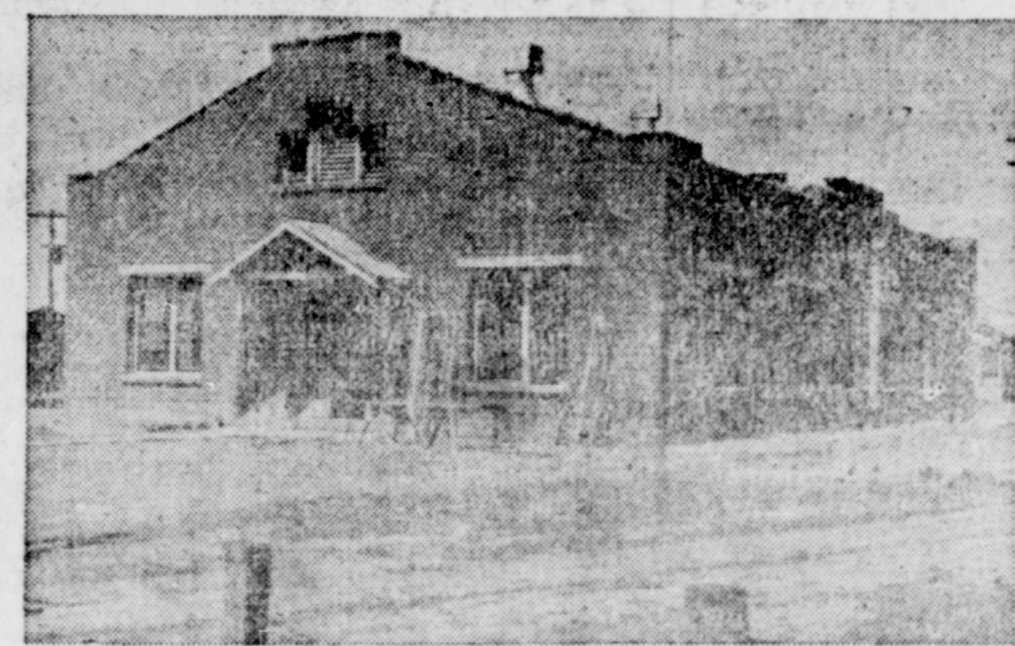

Fifty contestants from all over this section of the country took part in the show. Bob Tobey was master of ceremonies. Prizes went to winners of both the adult and the student divisions of the show. Receiving prizes in the adult division were Tino's Early Birds, a Latin-American duet team from O'Donnell; Red Smith, a cowboy performer and singer from Brownfield; and Mr. and Mrs. James Rickles and son, Larry. Rickles is the pastor of the Brownfield Church of God and the family sung a sacred number while Mrs. Rickles played the accordion.

Winners of the student division were Chester Custer, who won first place by singing "Ain't Gonna Take It Sitting Down." Second place winner was Bobby Quigg; and a third place winner went to Davis Tolar, a colored boy of Brownfield Wheatley. Davis gave a reading of Abraham Lincoln.

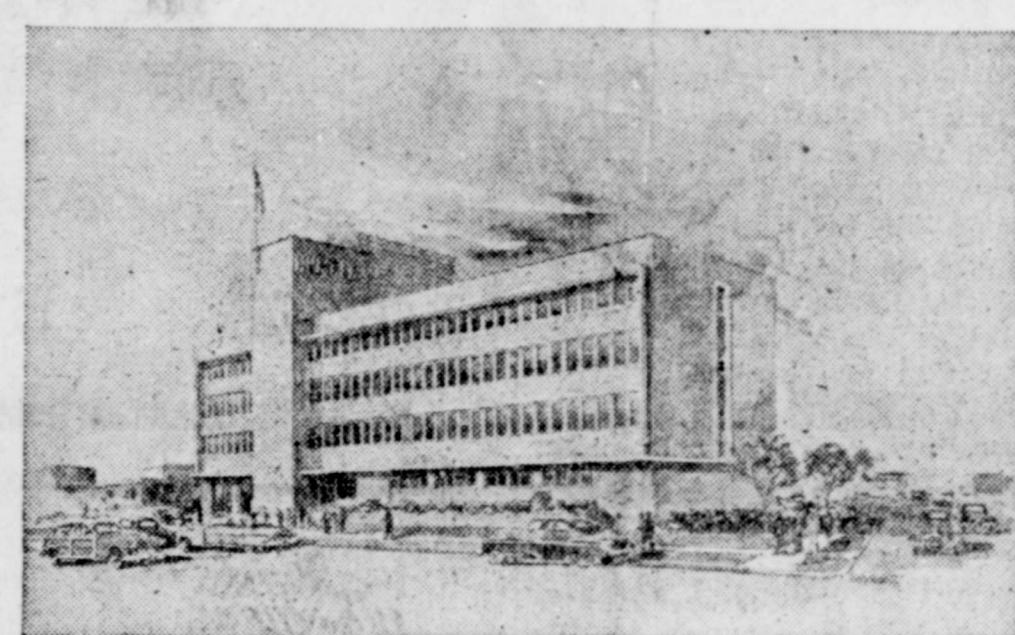

Prizes for the first place winners were $15 gift certificates; second place, $7.50 gift certificates; and third place, $5 gift certificates.

Approximately 1,400 persons attended the show.

Levelland Editor For Representative

Forest Weimhold, publisher of the Hockley County Herald and Sunday Sun of Levelland, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office last week. He wished to make his formal announcement for the office of State Representative of the new 98th district. But he was a wee bit late, as the Herald now issues on Thursday.

Anyway, Mr. Weimhold just wants the voters to know that he is in the race, and will have a formal announcement later. Two years ago, he was a candidate when this was the Jumbo district. But with a delayed redistricting for the area for some 20 years, the last legislature has made four districts out of the most of the counties, with two or three shuffled off into other districts.

Lubbock county alone got two districts out of the old 119th. The new 98th consists of Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum, a very compact district. Watch for his announcement.

I will make you this promise that I will devote all my time to the job and use all the ability I have to make you a good commissioner.

With all due respect to my opponents, I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

Lee Announces For Office of Sheriff

We have been authorized to announce the candidacy of Chick Lee, popular service station operator for the office of Sheriff of Terry County, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Lee stated that he had entered the race at the behest of numerous friends. He will make a thorough candidacy of the county before the primary and will try to see each voter, and make his stand on measures known.

While Lee has never been an officer, he has made a study of law enforcements over the period of 30 years he has been a resident of the county. And for that reason believes he can make the county an efficient sheriff.

He has no special favorites, nor dislikes for anyone in the county, and for that reason believes he can make an impartial official.

One of the many things that has caused inflation, is the fact that the government has slapped on so many controls and hedges firms with so many ceiling prices that a manufacturer or a business man hardly know which way to turn, or what to do. But it seems that there is a bunch of bureaucrats up at Washington that has nothing else to do except study up ways and means to hold down production, and that also means employment. When production stops, so does employment, and the unemployed cannot buy, and the old run-around starts. It is a well known fact that any article you wish to buy, if short on production, is high in price, because it is scarce. But if there is plenty in supply, the price declines. That fact is what we call the law of supply and demand. Logically, then of course, the greater the production the better the benefit to the buyer. But this old, true and tried maxim seems to have been forgotten and discarded as old fashioned by the policy makers up at Braintrustville. For instance, it might be well right here to look into the meat situation, which is little understood. There was less meat consumed in the USA in 1951 than in the two previous years. Anyone who has lived out here in the meat producing country can pretty well guess the reason. The government entered a lot of restrictions on the meat supply from the ranch to the packing house. This so confused so many meat producers and processors that the effort to supply the meat was retarded. Therefore the price went sky high. You can't blame those who raise meat or those who process it to lay low on the supply end, if they see no prospect of a fair profit for their labor and investment. This goes for the farmer with a few well bred animals to the rancher with are reading this, keep in mind that the present administration is not satisfied with the present drain on the people, but keep calling for more and more taxes. And just figure how long you think this nation can stand as a free country as long as the government takes, spends and wastes more and more of the incomes from the laboring people of this nation? People are foolish, unthinking, if they are not ready to clean house at Washington from attic to cellar.

We do not fail to hear about the importance of labor. And it is important. But it is just one of the branches of the plant that makes this old country go. Fact of the matter is, that labor kinder toots its own horn, and we all know about it, it plans its outlook for the future. But there are a lot of other people you seldom hear about, and they are the ones that make wages for labor possible. They are just the little known stockholders in the companies that provide the jobs for labor. Now when the stockholders are mentioned, don't jump at the conclusion that there is just a few of them. A survey was recently made of the food and grocery business, large and small. In the majority of cases there were more stockholders than employees. For the group as a whole, there were 568,150 stockholders and 309,076 employees. And don't get the idea that the stockholders who make jobs possible are a bunch of plutocrats, as 93 per cent of them held less than 100 shares of stock. They are just the common run of the mine men and women, who seek some safe investment for the few surplus dollars they may have earned. And the profits? Sure, they are enormous. They run some 3 per cent on their investment—if they happen to get into a growing concern. If we keep electing people who discourage such investments by unfair and punitive taxes, or in other ways, we soon dry up the lifeblood of our national economy.

Many of the people who thoroughly understand the matter, both for and against Senator Connally, admit that Connally made a grave mistake when he sought to criticize Daniel, who happens to be Connally's opponent for re-election as US Senator from Texas. Many have expressed the opinion that if Senator Connally had paid more attention to the tidelands issue several years ago, it would have been possible at that time to get a bill through the Senate and the House restoring the tidelands to Texas, where they belong. And where they have belonged since Texas ceased to be a Republic and became one of the States of the Union. Up until the Trumanerat epidemic, there was no question in the minds of anyone that Texas retained all its public lands when it went into the union. The reason was apparent. The United States would not lend Texas money that was needed, and the agreement was that Texas enter the union retaining all its public lands, including tidelands, except some harbors. But it would have to get the needed money where and when it could. Of course in 1846, none of the lands, interior or coastal was worth much. They could be bought for a song, and you could get all you wanted in many places for the asking. But in 100 years oil was found. Oil has a magic name, and our Uncle Samuel, now run by a grab everything loose Secretary of Interior and his boss, decided they wanted the tidelands of Texas. They had oil under them. Of course the land really belonged to Texas school children, and millions of dollars underlay these lands in the form of oil. But that bunch at Washington have no compunction of conscience in taking anything they want from children. Anyway, the Hon. Twam shut up rather suddenly, when Daniel announced that he had in his files several very complimentary letters from the Senator, for the way Daniels handled the suits to hold the tidelands. But that was before Daniel decided he wanted to be a US Senator. And perhaps old Twam had forgotten he had written the letters. Well, we find that the Senator has at least one standby and support in a do-nothing attitude about the tidelands, until election time came up and he found he had a wide-awake opponent. We find that Drew Pearson, the columnist, is right with the administration in the steal of Texas tidelands. This fact alone should turn Texans cold against those who blow first hot then cold against the US taking this state owned property.

Likely as not, the administration at Washington, and not a few of the "liberal" element of the Senate and House, decided that the American farmer would be a pushover for the so-called government health insurance. But they waked up to find the old farmer reads and listens just the same as other people. And he is not ready for socialistic scheme. Here is what the largest farm organization in the United States has to say, according to the Christian Science Monitor. The Monitor then quotes the American Farm Bureau Federation: "We are opposed to any form of compulsory health insurance." The organization has a membership of 1,452,000 families. Then there is the Grange, the oldest farm organization, and second in size, again voiced its opposition to compulsory health insurance. On the other hand, the pro-health insurance advocates in organized labor has been more vocal, and we have heard it in press and over radio. But the big farm organizations that have made America great, are opposed to any kind of compulsory insurance. And their reason was made known—socialistic. There are very few wild eyed dreamers among American farmers. If you count them on a percentage basis, you will find less European idealologists among farmers than any other calling in the USA. They are pretty level headed old ducks, and they sometimes "think and think" as they go up and down the rows of their farms. But they are far less audible than many of the more "liberal with other people's money" bunch. But this newspaper believes that it is about time for the old farmer to let his wishes be known in a language the powers that be at Washington will understand.

Well, at least most Texans will go along with Senator Connally on his stand against the St. Lawrence Seaway project, after a recent Senate hearing. The Hon. Tom says he is more against the project now than he ever was, and don't want the USA to engage in its structure now nor ever. Of course the military want the project the worst way; it means the spending of millions of dollars, and that is their long suit. And the argument that iron ore must be brought from the interior to make steel? This is entirely a new one. Most steel has always been made in the interior, at least away from deep water. And since the invention of the A-bomb, most of the cries has been to keep the big mills and manufacturing industry away from the seaboard. But according to Sen. Connally, even John D. Small, chairman of the munitions board, admitted that the seaway was not of primary defense importance. Another argument heard was if we don't build the seaway, Canada will build it alone. Well, we can go along with the Senator, that if the Canadians want to build it, let 'em build it. After all, the canal will be almost wholly in their own country.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life.

A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions.

It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Some Corrections on Plains State Bank

We have seen quite a few statements in various papers of late concerning the First State Bank of Plains, of which the late R. M. Kendrick was once a long time cashier and then president. The truth of the matter is that the bank was at one time the First State Bank of Gomez, and was moved to Plains either in the fall of 1909, or early in 1910.

Old files of the Herald show that it published one or more calls of Statement of Condition of the bank while it was at Gomez, after the writer came to Terry. As Terry county had the Brownfield State Bank, it was decided by the directors to move the Gomez bank to Plains, then newly organized Yoakum county. Perhaps some of the directors living in the Gomez section sold their shares to Plains and Yoakum county people. We would have to check on that.

But it was the same bank, run by practically the same officers and directors. Another error that has been repeated of late, was that when Mr. Kendrick organized and opened up the First National Bank here, and moved to Brownfield, that the Plains bank was consolidated with it the same year, 1919.

The Plains bank however existed as a separate institution for several years after the First National opened here, before the two were consolidated.

Mrs. Jack Benton of Lubbock visited Tuesday last week with her sister, Mrs. Wayne Brown, 721 East Broadway.

Former National 4-H Club Member Is One of Brownfield's Newest Residents

Alton Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Davis, route 3, Post, and former member of 4-H Clubs, is one of Brownfield's newest residents, and is now employed in the agriculture department at the Brownfield State Bank.

Winner in the National 4-H Leadership contest in 1948, Davis was recognized as one of the outstanding 4-H Club members in the United States. He was active in 4-H Club work eight years, and some of his accomplishments during that time include winner one year in State Field Crop contest; State Citizenship contest; and was runner-up to the winner in the State Food For Victory contest one year. He was elected as Texas delegate and attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago three years. A trip to the American Youth Foundation camp in Shelby, Mich., was awarded Davis one year, when he won the Danforth scholarship, based on the evaluation of character.

Another award was received by Davis when he won the Talent Club contest one year, sponsored by the Producer's Grain Co., Amarillo. He served as president of a local county and district organizations, and was president of 4-H Club while attending Texas A&M College, before going into the armed services.

He received his degree recently in animal husbandry at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

"Four-H Club work is indeed great for rural youths of America," Mr. Davis said. "I feel that I owe 4-H something—and would like to see the work in Terry County advance, and boys and girls who are members of 4-H Clubs add many accomplishments to their past records."

R. N. McClain of the agriculture department of the Brownfield State Bank said, "We feel that we are fortunate in having Mr. Davis join our organization, and feel that his services will be of value in helping promote the many farm projects sponsored by the bank."

Second to 4-H Club work is assisting with rodeos, Mr. Davis said. He was president for three years of the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo at Post, which he helped organize. He is still advisory director of the organization. While at Tech he was president of the Texas Tech Rodeo Association, and a director of the Tech College rodeo. He served for two years as a director of the Boys' Ranch Rodeo, and assisted with rodeos there.

At a recent meeting of the Brownfield Jaycees, Davis was made co-chairman for the Jaycee Rodeo. He is also an advisory director of the Levelland Junior Rodeo Association, which he is helping to organize in Levelland.

His 12-year-old brother, C. R., lives at home with his parents, and is also interested in 4-H Club work.

Mr. Davis isn't married girls!

Stockholders Meet Held in Houston

"What Does the Future Hold For Farmers?" was discussed by Judge J. A. Elkins, chairman of the Board of Directors of the City National Bank of Houston, at a meeting last week of the stockholders of the Federal Land Reserve Bank of Houston.

G. W. Luker, director of the Brownfield National Farm Loan Association, attended the meeting, which was held on February 20 and 21.

Sam H. Bober, an outstanding farmer and stockman of Newell, South Dakota, talked on "The Voice of Ownership," Wm. McCraw, former Attorney General of Texas, was the speaker at the banquet program at the Rice Hotel on the evening of February 20.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston, (which is wholly owned by 141 national farm loan associations in the state, and which in turn are owned by over 33,000 farmers and ranchers, will celebrate its 35th anniversary on April 4 of this year.

During the past 35 years approximately 125,000 farmers and ranchers of Texas have used the facilities of the Federal Land Bank of Houston in obtaining long-term farm mortgage loans. Loans outstanding at the present time are approximately $103,000,000. Twenty-nine per cent of all long-term farm mortgage loans made in the state of Texas during 1951 were made by the bank.

During the past eight years the bank has returned $15,000,000 in cash savings to these 141 associations. A portion of these funds were paid to the 33,000 owners of the associations as cash dividends, with a sizeable amount being retained by the local associations' reserve accounts.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has capital, surplus and reserves of about $45,000,000, while the associations have over $12,000,000 in their own reserve accounts.

The Federal Land Bank obtains its funds for lending purposes from the sale of its bonds to the general public, which are not in any manner guaranteed by the Federal Government.

Lots of Flu in Early February

According to a report from the State Department of Health, the early February incidence of flu was very heavy all over the state. At that time Terry County had 20 cases, and some west Texas counties had as high as 500 cases, any of them running better than 400 cases.

This is probably the highest incidence of any flu epidemic since the years 1918-19. While hardly as fatal or severe as then, the February flu bug was a bad one, and many have not fully recovered to date.

Daily Quiz: What's The Latest Scandal?

"What's the latest scandal?" has become almost the daily question that your friends ask you. We are asked such a question every few days, and we feel sure that all these questions are not directed to us. And it makes one feel bad when every fellow you meet has lost confidence in the rulers that be.

Reminds us of an answer a wit gave us recently when asked this question. "Well," says he, "I have not read the latest edition of the daily paper." And this reminds us that if a nation ever needed a genuine house cleaning from attic to cellar, it is the United States of America.

It seems that when your representatives stay up at Washington a few years, they develop that old habit of—"more money, folks, more money." We are just on the verge of being attacked by Austria." Even our own Texas representatives have so developed the habit of tax and spend, spend and elect, that they ask for more money every time they open their mouths.

Truman is not the only person in Washington that hollers for more money every time they speak.

Mrs. Ruth Ramsey is now associated with her brother, Chad Tarpley, at Tarpley Insurance Company.

Federal Road Funds Have Strings Attached

ABILENE.—With strings attached, the Federal government "granted" Texas this fiscal year two-thirds of the road money they paid in taxes to the U. S. treasury, according to an article that appeared recently in the Austin American-Statesman that is reproduced in the last issue of West Texas Today, the magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The Editor's Notebook" in the Austin newspaper contained the following:

"Several weeks ago the Texas Highway Department announced that the fiscal government has 'granted' Texas $26,681,000 for highway aid in the coming fiscal year.

"The state's program, including $15 million direct appropriation for lateral roads, regular state gasoline-tax supported work, and federal matching, runs a little over $100 million a year.

"But the point is that the federal government takes a great deal more than any $26 million out of Texas in road-use and motor vehicle taxes every year, and thus the state gets back a lot less than it contributes in taxes designed to support the highway program.

"Texas fared well in the general federal 'grants,' with only New York getting more refunds of the money collected from citizens of a state."

GASOLINE QUALITY UP

Today's gasoline is 67 per cent more powerful than that produced in 1925, but its bulk cost at the refinery has dropped one-tenth in that time. The price the consumer pays for gasoline today is about the same as 25 years ago—only the tax is higher.

Culberson Is Up For Re-Election

Olin Culberson stated in a letter received by the Herald, that he was up for re-election to the office of Railroad Commissioner of Texas. He craves the support of his old friends in this area.

He stated that the affairs of the Commission were in good shape, and that he believes with the additional service he has had in the office, he is more capable of rendering better public service.

Some Pink Bollworm Restrictions Lifted

Agricultural Commissioner White met last week with representatives of a number of west Texas and plains counties, and part of the restrictions concerning the pink bollworm was lifted. These forty-six counties are allowed to return the old burrs to the land in the way of fertilizer, instead of burning them, as they have to do in the valley counties.

These 46 counties include Terry and all counties from Haskell to the New Mexico line, and from the northernmost cotton counties as far south as Scurry and Dawson.

Most farmers in this area just grin when pinkies are mentioned, as most of them have never seen any but a few dead ones that are sometimes found in the gin trash in the fall and early winter. They have been reported to be here since the early 20s, but a lot of people, including farmers, have never seen one.

But the idea supplies jobs at good wages for some.

only the tax is higher.

Final Concert of Season March 31

MISS JOAN FIELD

Few violinists on the American concert stage can boast the versatility of Joan Field. Six solo appearances with the New York Philharmonic, appearances as soloist with the Detroit Symphony, three different times on the great show at the Radio City Music Hall, appearances with the St. Louis Summer Symphony, and even a six-week stretch in one of the better night clubs proves she can please any audience.

Miss Field, who will be heard here at new High School auditorium at 8 p. m., Monday, March 31, under the auspices of Brownfield MCA, will present a program unlike that of any other violinist. From the standard repertoire she will play the Tchaikovsky Concerto and the Saint-Saens Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso and others.

But following this will be "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" from the Broadway show, "On Your Toes." In this number and in two of the following numbers, "Begin the Beguine" and "Body and Soul" by Cole Porter, Miss Field demonstrates that popular music, well arranged and played by someone with a sympathetic approach, can be a tremendous addition to a concert program.

Musicians find that these popular tunes are truly virtuoso pieces to be played only by the most skilled performers and "pop" lovers enjoy music they know played the way they like to hear it.

Church of Christ
Engages Evangelist

Leonard Mullens, widely known Evangelist from Dallas, is expected to arrive in Brownfield sometime Saturday, March 8, to conduct a Gospel meeting at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ. As a leading advocate of a return to New Testament Christianity, he is expected to deliver sermons that would lead men back to God and the Bible. This meeting begins with the morning services Sunday, March 9th and will close Sunday, March 16th. New Version of
The 23rd Psalms

A good friend handed us the new square deal version of the 23rd Psalms the last week, as follows:

"The State is my shepherd, I shall not work. It maketh me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me by the still factories.

It deadens my soul; it leadeth me in the paths of idleness for politic's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of slothfulness and economic disaster, I will fear no evil, for it will be with me; its dole and paternalism they comfort me.

It prepareth my head with fool expectations; my mounting inefficiencies runneth over.

Surely, goodness and mery shall follow me all the days of my life—I shall live on the bounty of the State forever."

Turning Back the Time

By A. J. S.

Beginning somewhere in the neighborhood of where we left off last week, where the four of us had left Big Spring, and were climbing the "bawldies" to the land then in question. Would the plains ever be anything except ranch country? Or would it develop into a farming country? Forty-three years ago, there was little farming, and most of that was in the nature of feed, mostly bundle stuff for the dumb brutes. There was one gin each at Lubbock, Tahoka and Lamesa, as we remember, and they were small gasoline propelled affairs.

Anyway, the two-cylinder Maxwell humped along at some 20 mph, slower in sandy places, maybe a bit over on the harder sections. No wagons were allowed on the auto roads that cut through ranches, using cattle guards to pass over, as the few autos as well as freight wagons were in the habit of leaving gates open, and of course the ranchmen would soon find out that they had strays and some of their stuff would be missing. But the spring roundups usually straightened out matters pretty well. There would however, always be some dogies, whose mothers had died in the meantime.

Texas fever, as it was called, was a rough one to deal with in those days. It didn't seem to bother the old longhorns too much. Perhaps they were immune to it. But it was real rough on the bred up cattle, such as Herefords, Angus, etc. A perfectly fat, healthy looking steer would take the fever, and in a few days would be stiff and cold in death. This was happening on the ranches down in the Jones county area while we lived there as well as here. Finally the chemists found a shot for the ailment, and all young cattle were given a shot in the spring at branding time. We hear little of Texas fever today.

Anyway, being around ten a. m., when we left Big Spring, it was around one p. m. when Lamesa was reached, with four hungry men in the old Maxwell. We rolled out on the north side of the square at Lamesa, and went into a little restaurant, as they were then called, in a little wooden shack of a building some 15x25 feet, but we got a good meal. It had not been but a few years before that period when Lamesa and old Chicago had battled it out for the county seat, just as four years previously, Brownfield and Gomez had gone to the polls in a rough and tumble fight for the county site of Terry.

Anyway, our only mishap in Lamesa was that we got stuck in a sand bank out just north of the square, and had to back out and make a run two or three times to get over it. While this was going on, we noticed a shed just off the street that sand came up near the eaves on the rear side. But this was nothing new to us. We had seen such sights in the shinnery south of Anson many times.

We arrived safely in Brownfield when the sun was about an hour high. Oh, we had to patch a few tires. That could always be expected back then on a 100 mile trip. Of course we unloaded at the old Hill Hotel, where the Cobb store now stands. But our brother had cautioned us to see W. G. Har-

Jacob Sandage Says It is Ar-kan-saw

To the Herald: We see that the Old He has said something about our country having become a nation in 1776. We suggest that someone define the word, "nation," and then tell us if our country became a nation in 1776, or at the beginning of the Washington administration in 1776.

Also, sometimes it seems that the Old He in referring to our native state, does not know whether to say Arkansas or Arkansas. We wish to state that when Arkansas became a state back in 1836, one US Senator from that state, said he was from Ar-kan-saw, and the other said that he was from Arkansas, and we wish to suggest that Arkansas has always had two senators, the same that Texas has had—some of the time.

Well as we were saying, the congress did then and there, "resolve," "whereas," "spout off," and with malice aforethought, declared the correct pronunciation to be Ar-kan-saw. So, when the Old He says Arkansas, he is in contempt of congress, and is liable to be visited by a congressional investigating committee, and that would be worse than being accused of being a Republican.

We ain't sayin' huthin' about polytix this time, except that in years gone by, we have heard a said that a Democrat is a person who is always ready to bury the hatchet—in the head of another Democrat. With all the fussin' and feudin' the Republicans are now doing, we have decided that they are not much smarter than we Giv-me-crats.

Why not get on the gravy train and vote for another Triumph administration?

Jake on Route 5.

OK, Jake, we'll accept the fact that the USA was just a loose federation of states until the constitution was ratified by the several states, but we always figured the nation began with the ringing of the liberty bell, supposedly on the 4th of July, 1776.

We also stand corrected on the spelling and pronunciation of Arkansas. But don't send any investigating committee. Might make us nervous.

The Old He.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warren of Levelland, were over this week and dropped in to renew. They have been on our reader list many years, or since they came to Brownfield many years ago. They come over about every week to see how Mrs. Clarence Lewis is getting along. Mrs. Lewis has been a patient several weeks at the local hospital. She is the wife of Mrs. Warren's brother.

Meet the Staff

In case some of you students don't know our Cub's Den staff, we are going to take one each week in introduce them to you until you know them all.

First, I'd better introduce the editor, Chris Burda. He is a very prominent member of the Senior class, as he is it's president. Chris moved here at mid-term, when he was a sophomore, from Bremond, Texas. He has made nearly straight A's in every subject since he's been here and he has served on the Student Council.

Chris is 6 feet 1 inch tall, has brown eyes, brown hair, and is 17 years old. Singing, as he does in Journalism class, seems to be a favorite pastime. He enjoys popular music as "Third Man Theme" is his favorite song. When asked who his favorite teacher is, Chris replied, "I like 'em all!" Wynelle Webb ranks as his ideal girl while chemistry is his favorite subject and green is the prettiest.

Chris has a full schedule this year with American History, Government, Journalism and Physics. After graduation this year in May, Chris plans to attend Texas U.

Senior News

There are 58 students in the Senior class this year. This class has done exceptionally good work, regardless of its size.

They have $1,826.54 to date. Class dues made up part of this. The rest was raised by selling novelties, mums, and harvest tickets; and by having bake sales and rummage sales. The amount on hand is still not enough for the class trip, therefore, they have made plans for future financial improvement. They are sponsoring a magician show on March 10 and "Western Day" some time in April. The senior play, "Demon in the Dark," is scheduled for April 4. Play practices will begin next week.

The seniors plan to go to Salt Lake City on the trip this year. They are scheduled to leave May 1. En route to Salt Lake they will go by way of Roswell, Socorro, Winslow, Flagstaff, Kanab and Salt Lake City. The return trip will take them through Denver, Colorado Springs and Santa Fe.

Among the highlights of the trip are Cibola National Forest, Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, Cliff Dwellings, Grand Canyon, Great Salt Lake, Mormon Temple, Pike's Peak Region, and the Lava Beds. These are only a few of the sights which the trip includes.

Information concerning room reservations has been arriving steadily. Reservations have been made at the best hotels in Denver, Salt Lake City and Colorado Springs. The Denver Chamber of Commerce has invited the class to visit the Denver Mint and famous Denver Post. The trip is certain to be a success.

Approximately 50 seniors will make this trip, however, all seniors must have their $40 made by April 7, to be eligible.

Miss Mattie Morgan and Delwin Webb are doing a wonderful job this year as our senior sponsors. Order for caps and gowns went off this week.

Invitations have been ordered.

IT TAKES TWO TO MAKE A MAN!

By Mickie Absher

In the early stages a mother tries to dress her son for school, make him scrub his ears, comb his hair, shine his shoes, but seldom succeeds.

From the time he has been in the first grade, she has tried to keep him clean, but barely succeeded in making him decent for church.

When he is ten, twelve, or even fifteen years of age:

BUT—OH! WATCH OUT!
 The magical treatment has begun.

All of a sudden he plasters his hair with goo, shines his shoes till they reflect his face, and last but not least, a clean tee shirt.

What is this sudden change, wondered his mother as he ran stammering out of the house. Then his mother knows he's in Love!

What she has been working at for so many years has come true because of a girl!

PRINTED PAPERBY TRACTOR

Power from petroleum-fueled tractors has long served the farmer in hundreds of useful ways, from corn-pickers to sprayers for fruit trees. During the Kansas floods last summer, a new use was found for tractors. When ordinary sources failed, the Iowa (Kans.) Register went to press with a farm tractor supplying the power.

These students arrived at Hotel Cortez about 10:30 Thursday night. Friday morning at 9, buses took students on a tour of Juarez. There were 10 of these buses with a guide on each bus. At one o'clock there was a luncheon in Juarez with a floor show. After this some went shopping in the Mexican stores. At seven o'clock there was a banquet. From ten o'clock to one o'clock there was a dance with Lew Barton's band. Rita Gilbert was crowned Queen.

Speeches were given by the state and national presidents Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon officers were elected.

Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

Can You Imagine?

Joe Don Auburg being 4' tall? Patsy Kay being seen with someone besides Doyle Bradley?

The boys in BHS asking the girls for dates?

Mrs. Platt being a stick-in-the-mud?

Norma and LaMoine being the best of friends?

No one ever skipping school? Brownfield without a drug store?

Mr. Clup reviewing his classes for tests?

An assembly every week? Gloria Little weighing 200 lbs.?

Jimmie Walker being quiet?

The Junior and Senior classes not competing with one another?

This week's paper not having a mistake in it?

Miss Morgan and Mr. Clup doing the Charleston?

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown visited February 23 and 24 with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wayne Brown, in Carlsbad, N. M.

For a lunchtime salad when the weather is warm mix creamed cottage cheese with finely chopped radishes and cucumber and season with salt, freshly ground pepper, and a little onion juice. Use the mixture to fill hollow-out drained tomatoes and serve with mayonnaise or sour cream.

WELLMAN NEWS

Second Grade

Peggy Hartman and Charlene Jackson celebrated their 8th birthdays with a party given by their parents, Mrs. R. T. Hartman and Mrs. Charles Jackson. Ice cream and cake were served. Peggy and Charlene received several pretty gifts, and a good time was had by all. There were 36 attending the party. Jerry Hartman also celebrated his birthday on George Washington's Day. We want to invite our parents to come to see us during Education Week.

"A" honor roll: Berns Womack, Eveveta Thornton, Linda Edwards, Sharlene Heron, Sherry Hulse.

Sixth Grade

Lynda Watts, Patricia Thomas, Freda Oliver, Dessie Oliver, appeared on the Amateur Contest program that was sponsored by the Lions Club of Brownfield. All seemed to have a good time and enjoyed themselves.

Patty Winn asked several of the girls to appear on her program, on Saturday afternoon. The girls sang "The Whiffenpoof Song," Dessie and Freda Oliver sang "Waiting For the Sunrise." We wish to thank Patty Thomas and her mother, Mrs. Dugan Thomas for good numbers from Patty. Those who sang in the ensemble were Patty Thomas, Glenda Christopher, Molly Earp, LaRue Rex, Janelle Cottrell, Beverly Rogers, Mary Moore, Sabra Welcher, Myrna Lindsey, Laura Burnett, Freda Oliver, Rudene Rich and Dessie Oliver.

The choral club was invited to give several numbers, in the dedication service of the Wellman Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. We wish to express our thanks for having a part in the very beautiful and impressive service. The choral club made of the sixth and seventh grades. All girls were present, numbering about 30. All girls were dressed in their choral club dresses of white.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade class has seen three picture shows in the past week. Names of them were "Yosemite Park," "Yellowstone National Park" and "The Air Age." We have just finished studying prisms, cylinders, spheres, circles, pyramids, triangles, rectangles and parallelograms in math. We have been studying Canada, Alaska and the South American countries in history. The choral club sang over the air at KSEL Saturday, the first day of March. They also sang at the Methodist Church Sunday.

FHA Notes

Louise Ballard, Rae Nell Liles, Mary Lou Bass, Donna Weldon, Nita Chrestman, Gloria Ingram and Margaret Ferguson, members of the Wellman FHA Chapter, left Friday morning at 8:30 with their sponsor, Miss Willie Mae Hines, and one mother, Mrs. George Ingram, for the Area II meeting held in El Paso March 1. The group arrived at 4:15 in El Paso, and went to the Del Norte courts where reservation had been made. That night everyone enjoyed dining in the Del-Comenio dining room. On Saturday morning the attended the area meeting held in El Paso High school building in North El Paso. One of the highlights of the program was given by Mrs. E. G. Watts. Mrs. Watts, who toured Europe for two months, gave an inspiring talk on "Where Is Youth in Europe?"

Saturday evening the group went across to Juarez, Mexico. They toured the residential section, then went to the public market. After making scenic trips around El Paso the weary group retired for the night to arise early the next morning and start for home. The Wellman Future Homemakers honored Mr. Bryant with a surprise birthday party Monday, March 3. Birthday cake and coffee were served to the faculty and the chapter members. The table was decorated with a large bouquet of red carnations, and a white cake with red candles. Pictures were made by Mr. Smith and Mr. Brackett. Guests attending were Mrs. Geneva Bryant, Mrs.

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"

... says MORRIS SAPIR
Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.

"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."

DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

SHIPLEY MOTOR CO. - - - 814 W. BDWY.

Brownfield, Texas

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?

First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.

Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load condition—with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up to toughest service.

Coroco No. 1 Atlas
Down to 12,018 Feet

Coroco Drilling Co. No. 1 Atlas, multipay discovery in west-central Terry County had drilled to 12,018 feet in Lower Pennsylvanian shale Saturday and thus completed the contracted depth and test in the Pennsylvanian line.

Operator was taking electric log and waiting on orders at last report.

Some Pennsylvanian lime was found, but the formation had no porosity or oil stains.

Operator was reported making an effort to drill the prospector 600 to 700 feet deeper. This should take the project through the Mississippian and into the Siluro-Devonian. Whether or not this deeper cut will be made, will be decided early next week.

Some oil was found above 8,400 feet in dolomite of the Lower Permian line. Shows for commercial production were indicated from 9,194-9,245 feet where free oil was recovered.

If the prospector is not deepened, operator will set casing and test the two higher zones. If it is taken to the Siluro-Devonian and shows are developed, operator will try to complete from this deeper formation.

Drill site is 1,960 feet from south and west lines of Section 93, Block D-11, C&MRR Survey, and 4 miles east of Tokio.

Virgil Crawford
In New Orleans

H. B. Virgil Crawford, local attorney, attended the "Tulane Law Science Course," sponsored by the Law School of Tulane University in New Orleans, last week. The 10-day course, which deals with the medical aspects of injury and damage cases and the claims involved, was taught by outstanding medical men and famous lawyers from over the United States. The speakers included the nationally known lawyer and now judge in New York, Samuel Leborowitz, as well as famous men from Chicago and other cities.

Crawford attended a course of instruction of this type in San Antonio last year.

He went to New Orleans by plane from Lubbock, leaving here Monday, February 25. While in New Orleans he also attended the "Institute of National Claims" Attorneys Association, of which organization he is a member.

School Census to Be Taken In March

March is census month. A child 6 years of age on or before September 1, and one who is not 18 years of age before September 1, is of scholastic age. The state pays the school $62 for each child of school age. The parents are supposed to give in their children's census and sign the family census blank, swearing the ages given as correct. Notice the family census blank says you are counted in that school district in which you reside as of April 1. For example, the Browns live in Scurry county and give in their census there on March 25, then on March 27 they move to Brownfield and on April 1 the census taker of the Brownfield schools asks Mr. Brown to render the census here. Mr. Brown is required by law to do so because he and his family are residents of the Brownfield school district as of April 1. Parents are supposed to render their children's census, white or colored, in the school district in which they live even though they are going to school in another district. Give the child's name the same each year. For example say the name is Spencer Allen Brown. If you give the name in as Spencer Brown, always turn it in that way and not as Allen Brown the next year. Should the census taker miss some one you may turn in their census at any of the school buildings or the County Superintendents' office. Let's lend a helping hand and get every child of school age and too, remember to fill in every blank space on the census slip and sign.

Elmer Brownlee,
County Superintendent

Another 40-Year
Subscriber Renews

We were glad to have another "faithful old subscriber" in last week in the person of Mrs. John E. Gracey of the Needmore community. Really they have renewed only 39 times. It came about like this, which goes to show that it pays to advertise.

Way back about 1910, John and Walter Gracey farmed near the little town of Lisbon, near Dallas. Indeed we believe it is a part of the Dallas metropolitan area presently. Anyway, that year, the late Uncle Billie Howard carried Terry county's first exhibit to the Dallas fair.

The Gracey boys, John then married, but Walter a single buck that later took unto himself Jenny Lee Allmon as wife, attended the fair. They liked the big kershaws, the pumpkins, corn, 'taters, beans, etc. They asked many questions and Uncle Bill answered them satisfactorily.

He even went 'em one better. He had the Herald sent to the Gracey boys for one year. They renewed themselves just before they moved out or after moving, we have forgotten which.

This was perhaps the initial exhibit of Terry county products at the State Fair. But if it never brought another family, we consider the one that Uncle Bill carried did pay off.

Mrs. Gracey stated that John's health had not been too good of late, but under a physician's care, he is improving.

150 Terry Farmers
Attend Rain Meet

Approximately 150 Terry County farmers met in the District Court room Saturday afternoon to further discuss plans for tying Terry County into a proposed effort to increase rainfall in the South Plains area.

The meeting was held for the purpose of starting a drive to raise $8,500 which will be used to pay the Kirk Water Development Corp., Denver, for its attempts to get more rainfall in the area by the use of silver iodide.

Checks totaling $2,500 were contributed at Saturday's meeting. Future donations will be accepted at the office of the Farm Bureau, and members of the Saturday audience volunteered to act as solicitors for the raising of the money.

R. J. Purcell presided at Saturday's meeting.

According to James A. Foy, Terry County agent, part of the contract with the Kirk Corporation will include a 60-day weather report for this area; also that a frost date and a first freeze will be available to the farmers.

Saw Glen Harris Saturday and he informed us that their son, Lt. Miron Harris, took off the day before for Washington, where he will take a plane for Europe. He is with the signal corps, and he will spend some two months over there before being assigned to another location.

His company left him some two weeks ago, as Miron had to undergo an appendectomy. So, he will not join his aggregation until he reaches Europe.

Who Really Was Kind to the Other?

Had a letter this week from Mrs. Ivy Savage, daughter of the late Uncle Jimmy and Mother Green, pioneer settlers in Terry County. Mrs. Savage has been the principal of a Lubbock school for many years. She states the Herald is her one means of keeping in touch with Old Timers, and she enjoys the paper.

She closes with best wishes to the Old He and Texie, "for the many kindnesses to me and my parents." But it always seemed to us that the many deeds of kindness came from the Greens to the Stricklins instead of the other way about. In other words, the Green family family were usually the hosts, and we the guests. Many the good old substantial meal we have enjoyed in that home, as well as a good bed to sleep on.

As for Ivy, she was one of the sweetest little girls we ever knew. As a child she was a perfect little lady, and the general favorite of the grownups in and around Brownfield. Yes, we always tried to be nice to her parents, but everyone was, as no one can be otherwise to someone who always goes all out to make you feel happy.

Local Bank Rates High
With Bankers Digest

According to a late issue of Bankers Digest, two Lubbock banks and the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company ranked high in the second group of 50 banks in the 11th Federal Reserve District.

One of the Lubbock banks ranked second, the other 45th, and the Brownfield bank stood 44th.

Beginning in an early issue of the of the Herald, we are going to run a series of articles prepared by the State Bar of Texas, on "It's the Law in Texas." There are a lot of new and old laws not familiar to many people, and which may be ignorantly disobeyed.

We hope you read and like the series.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Webb visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCorkle at Buckeye, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Miller and children, Cheryl and Dan, have moved from Pampa back to Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kirschner of Lubbock spent Sunday in Brownfield visiting friends.

Is He Running For Governor of Texas?

GEORGE THERIOT

Way back in the 40ies, and we believe it was during the war, we made no notes of the date, a young fellow, who said he was about 18 years of age, walked into the Herald office one day, handed us a cut, which was his picture. He stated that he would be a candidate for Governor of Texas in 1952.

We have no more idea than a haunt what became of George, and being about as curious as a cat, we are publishing his picture. Our remembrance was that he was from the Houston section of the state.

We just wonder if you've seen or heard of George? If so, is he running—for Governor, we mean.
