March Bldg. Permits Total $57,000

With one half of the month of March gone, building permits issued by the City of Brownfield since March 1, total $57,000, according to Jake Geron, city secretary.

Rat Poison Available To Those Who Need It

County Judge Leonard Lang stated this week that rat poison is available to the citizens of Terry county, free for the asking. Poison may be obtained by contacting either Judge Lang, or at the Health Unit.

Not having seen a rat in a year or two, we just supposed they were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. But we have been informed that at late afternoon, many can be seen scampering about the rear of groceries and eating places.

Wheatley Boys and Girls Cage Teams Place Top 3 in Invitational Meet Here

Fresh from a close defeat of one point in the district playoffs, the Wheatley Tigers, and Tigerettes, who did not enter the district meet, came back and walked away with three first place honors in their own invitational tourney held here at Junior High school gym last Saturday.

It was the girls division that stole the show from the start by their first victory in the first game of the tourney over the Crosbyton girls by a score of 13 to 26 in the C division. Their defeat over the Levelland Wolverines came by default. Slaton, who offered B competition, challenged the Tigerettes for first place B honors, Slaton offering the only B team in the tourney for the girls, and with one of the greatest upsets of the meet the Tigerettes jammed the Slatonettes 17 to 13 in a nip and tuck race all the way.

In the B team of all divisions, the Slaton boys defeated the B team of Wheatley by a score of 38 to 27, while the B team of Crosbyton went down at the hands of the Clovis Wildcats by a score of 15 to 36. The B team from Clovis

Humble Soon to Pass A Billion Dollar Expansion

By mid-1952, Humble Oil & Refining Company will pass the billion-dollar mark for expenditures on new facilities since the end of World War II.

The huge postwar total became known when Hines H. Baker, Humble President, announced that the company plans to spend this year $245 million for drilling wells and other facilities, including the cost of dry holes. Since the company has already spent $872 million for similar purposes during the past six years, the plans for 1952 will raise total expenditures to more than a billion dollars about the middle of the year. The program projected for 1952 is substantially larger than in 1951.

Last year the company spent $188 million on new facilities, including $29 million in dry holes. These expenditures exceeded those of the previous record year, 1948.

'Great Honor to Represent New District,' Says Gillham: Speaking Dates Scheduled

In conversation with President J. O. Gillham in his office at the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., the past week, he advanced a thought that was new to us. He remarked that it was a great honor and privilege to represent a people such as we have here on the South Plains, even though the district was as old as some on the Atlantic seaboard.

"I shall consider it a distinct honor to be the first person to represent the baby 98th Representative district."

While making no claims, Mr. Gillham stated that he had received mighty good encouragement from friends all over the district, and from some he scarcely knew. Elaborating, he stated that letter on he aimed to make a thorough canvass of the district, both on handshaking tours, as well as addresses in the communities of Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum counties. He stated that his ideas of things to help the district would be thoroughly discussed.

He announced that he had quite a few speaking dates in the near future, of a non-political nature, such as schools, churches and civic organizations, but he considered it a bit premature to enter into the regular political campaign.

Advance announcement of his speaking dates will be made known through the press at a later date.

The local Chamber of Commerce will cooperate with groups from Odessa, Andrews, Seminole, Seagraves and Lubbock.

Other business discussed and approved by the men includes the participation and continuance of the weekly radio series, broadcast each Sunday morning; the endorsement of the West Texas Field Day and Fire Prevention inspection, set for April 17; and to underwrite market prices for livestock sold at the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Livestock Show scheduled for April 19.

Merritt Grocery in New, Larger Building

When you start the week off Monday, the Merritt Grocery will be in a new and much larger location, at 912 Tahoka Road, instead of opposite the Randal school building. For a number of years the Claude Merritts farmed in the Tokio area, then bought the Johnson store, which they ran for 2 years.

Coming to Brownfield four years ago, they purchased the store at 520 Tahoka Road. It has been closed for some six months, and the stock all run down. So they had to start from scratch. Presently, they have a lot of well satisfied customers, and they found themselves overcrowded. So, the new and larger quarters was the answer. The Merritts have twins, a girl and a boy, Alta and Alton, 16, and sophomores in high school.

The Merritts, who have been in Terry County for the past 22 years, will receive the hearty congratulations of their many friends. They asked the Herald to express their heartfelt thanks to customers for their loyal support and business.

They have set their formal opening date for Saturday, March 29. Watch for their formal announcement.

Senator Corbin A Visitor Last Week

State Senator Kilmer Corbin, of Lubbock, was a visitor in our city last week, and while here called at the Herald office as usual for a tongue fest. We have always found Sen. Corbin an interesting talker, and for the most part at least, we agree with his work so far at Austin.

Of course he is seeking re-election. This was to have been the off year for State Senatorial election, but the fact that the State was, after 22 years of stalling, re-districted, all state senators as well as representatives, had to make a canvas for re-election. Some 13 counties were cut off the 30th district to form the new and more compact 28th.

On his card, is the statement, "One good term deserves a second term," and "my first term record is made—I am glad to be judged by it. On the back of the card he enumerates some 15 accomplishments for the betterment of the state which he supported, and were passed into law.

It seems that more than just the states bordering deep water, which of course includes California, Louisiana, Texas, and likely others on the gulf coast, are becoming interested in the tideland controversy. And many of the interior states, all 48 of which have mineral resources of one nature and another, are becoming suspicious of the ever increasing encroachment of the Federal Bureau-cracy. For that reason, many of the representatives of the interior states are becoming converts to the idea of deeding all public lands now within the states to them, and stop federal encroachment. For two decades now, the states have seen great chunks of their tax-paying property drained off to become the holdings of the federal government. Let us take Tennessee as an example. There are perhaps a dozen dams on the Tennessee river from the vicinity of Knoxville as it flows southwest down through north Alabama and a small slice of Mississippi back north through the state again into Kentucky and the Ohio river. We remember that when these series of dams being built, the people were rejoicing that this great plan to industrialize their state was materializing. But in a few years, when the state began to lose the taxes that private power companies had been paying, and which had been taken over by TVA, there was an uproar at Nashville about the loss of taxes, as well as in many of the counties and cities throughout the state. So, in order to silence this protest, the government made a token tax payment, much less than the utility companies had been paying, but a sop. Of course the TVA explained that they were selling electricity to the people much cheaper than they had ever been able to buy it before. Sure, they could. They were building and operating with taxes on themselves. And even if they lost money in the operation, there was plenty more money where that came from. So, the Hon. John Q. was just asked to dig a bit deeper. A private utility concern would have had to operate both economically and efficiently. The stockholders were supposed to receive a dividend, and old billie would have been to pay if they did not receive a little bit on their investments. Back to the tidelands issue, the federal government has a swarm of hirelings to propagandize the press and public in favor of socialistic government ownership of everything. And this includes at least one columnist, the queer Drew Pearson.

Sometimes we think that President Truman and his cohorts sojourn down at Key West in order to have more time to think of more and more ways to spend money and tax the people. That man seldom opens his mouth that he does not ask for more money for this, that and the other. Seemingly HST doesn't know, or has never heard of the word economy. Most of us folks down here in the grass roots country have to know about economy and practice it or lose our credit rating and get tossed out on our ears. One of the finest guardians of the economy of the nation is to our notion, Senator Byrd of Virginia. He believes that at least 8.6 billions can be safely lopped off the total asked by President Truman, and Senator Connally of Texas seemed to be agreed, although he fails to state how much. Candidly, Connally has gone along pretty well with the spending idea of the administration, up to this year, when he suddenly finds that he has a rough road back to re-election. Suddenly, the Senior Senator's mind and action has taken on some thoughts of the taxpayer at home. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has found that basing Texas' portion of the saving of 8.6 billion dollars per year, would be in the neighborhood of $373,000,000. And that is not chicken feed, if you ask us. It is high time that the people get wise to the wide road that is leading us to destruction, and make radical change at Washington. And if we put in another bunch, let's not lease the White House to them for life. Let's reserve the right to make a change every four or eight years. In that period, the powers that be do not have time to stack the cards against us.

According to J. Walter Hammond's column, "Blowing Off the Foam" in the last issue of Texas Agriculture, Secretary Brannan of the US Department of Agriculture sorter got onto the Texas Farm Bureau, of which Hammond is President. Hammond shouldn't let what Brannan says worry him a little bit here in Texas. Texas people know the Farm Bureau and what it stands for, but what Brannan and his bunch of "loyal" Democrats stand for is a bit off balance to what the man from the wide open spaces stands for. In Brannan's statement, he accuses the FB of the responsibility of the scandals in the CCC grain storage business in Texas and other states. And, Hammond frankly states that the bill as it originally appeared before the last session of the legislature was not just what he and his organization thought it should be, and suggested an amendment, which was made. He then quoted the portion that was later deleted, with the full consent of the author of the bill. According to the information the Herald has received, this bill nor any other had influence one way or another on a crooked warehouseman. What really happened was that when these crooked warehousemen thought grain had reached its peak last year, they sold the grain, and intended to replace with cheaper grain later on when delivery had to be made. But instead, grain went higher than it was when they sold, and the crooks were caught short. So, the Texas Farm Bureau had no more to do with the scandals in CCC than a wild goose in Patagonia. But Brannan being what he is, and with whom connected, had to have an alibi, and the FB was selected as the scapegoat. But Brannan did not get away with it.

Being all alone in the little log cabin we call our own last Tuesday night when the news broadcast showed that Ike led Taft and Kefauver led Truman, we gave a little rebel yell, especially on the latter. Not that we are hot for the Tennessee Senator, for we are not. We sincerely believe that Kefauver is following the same old rut that FDR and HST have made. In fact, in a statement to the press it seemed to us that the Senator kinder apologized for having beaten the President by some 6,000 votes, and got every Democratic delegate in New Hampshire. And again, he let it be known that the Vice-Presidency might be OK by him. In view of that fact, and other matters that have come to light, Sen. Kefauver is just a facsimile of the Tru-Deal brand of Socialist-Democracy, and for our part, we want none of it. If, on the other hand, he had come squarely out on a platform of his own, and let the people of the country know how he stands for on this and that measure; assured the people that he was no one's stray doggie, and making the race on his own merits, win, tie or lose, we could have had some confidence in the man in the cookskin cap. He has made his own way. Truman has added nothing to his laurels. Four years ago, the man was little known outside his section, east Tennessee, but he whipped the Crump gang at Memphis and became a state winner. He added to his stature when he headed the investigation committee on gambling and other crookedness last year, and became nationally known. He owes not a farthing to the administration for this. If he had kept quiet about feeling sorter sorry that he licked Truman in the New Hampshire primary, we could have had a lot more respect for Kefauver. And while about the matter, who knows what Ike Eisenhower stands for? We are still for Russell.

We note that down in old Johnson, the Cleburne daily has finished or at least has started a poll of voters of Price Daniell vs. Tom Connally for the latter's seat in the US Senate. The report we have shows Daniell running a good 9 to 1 majority against the present Senator. About all the polls we have seen have run from a bare majority to as high as 9 to 1 in favor of the present Attorney General.

According to reports this paper is receiving, the big labor unions have all but won their point that unless a person chooses to join the union and pay dues, he has no part or share in certain industries. Let us suppose the boys that have faced bullets and everything else the Reds put over in Korea, come home. They are discharged, and then they seek a job in the open market for labor. They soon run up against the fact that unless they are a full fledged dues-paying member of some union they have no more chance of a job than a jackrabbit. The best that can be said of the matter is that it smells like Hitler methods. Few people these days object to unions as such. In fact, most of the big industry had rather have union labor, as the unions are supposed to keep a good supply of labor on hand at prevailing prices, weed out the unworthy and those whose loyalty is questioned. But, usually there is a small per cent, maybe five, that don't want to join a union. They are good citizens whose loyalty is not questioned, and are skilled workmen. But some of the big unions say no union, no work. And it seems that the Wage Stabilization Board is going along with these union bosses. Just how long can our nation retain its freedom when we have such overlords in the labor field? Or maybe the people as a whole, and they still constitute the vast majority, will arise in their might and voting privilege, and set down on these union bosses so hard that they will not possess the freedom they now enjoy, or the protection of the laws of the land. Such things have happened before, and can happen again. When any minority group becomes so strong that they control the destinies of a nation, then that nation is getting ready for a downfall. Nearly all tightly organized groups will finally go to the extreme. They reach the point that they are not satisfied with the many benefits to their organization. They become ambitious to control everything and everybody. That is when danger lurks.

MRS. BERTHA PRUITT SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Bertha Pruitt is seriously ill at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Anderson, 507 East Tate. Visitors in the Anderson home last week were Mrs. Pruitt's and Mrs. Anderson's brothers and sisters and their families. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Chapman of Sulphur Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Choate of Mineola. Mr. and Mrs. Choate also visited their son in Lubbock who is a student at Texas Tech.

Had a letter and check for her Herald another year, from one of our long time subscribers up at Columbus, Ohio, Ann Kochensparger. She states that they are having plenty snow and flu up there, and hopes it is better down here in Texas. We could take a good bit of your snow, or moisture off your hands, friend. But we are pretty well stocked up on flu, and have been since January. This good lady owns land in Terry county.

We note that down in old Johnson, the Cleburne daily has finished or at least has started a poll of voters of Price Daniell vs. Tom Connally for the latter's seat in the US Senate. The report we have shows Daniell running a good 9 to 1 majority against the present Senator. About all the polls we have seen have run from a bare majority to as high as 9 to 1 in favor of the present Attorney General.

matter, who knows what Ike Eisenhower stands for? We are still for Russell.

According to reports this paper is receiving, the big labor unions have all but won their point that unless a person chooses to join the union and pay dues, he has no part or share in certain industries. Let us suppose the boys that have faced bullets and everything else the Reds put over in Korea, come home. They are discharged, and then they seek a job in the open market for labor. They soon run up against the fact that unless they are a full fledged dues-paying member of some union they have no more chance of a job than a jackrabbit. The best that can be said of the matter is that it smells like Hitler methods. Few people these days object to unions as such. In fact, most of the big industry had rather have union labor, as the unions are supposed to keep a good supply of labor on hand at prevailing prices, weed out the unworthy and those whose loyalty is questioned. But, usually there is a small per cent, maybe five, that don't want to join a union. They are good citizens whose loyalty is not questioned, and are skilled workmen. But some of the big unions say no union, no work. And it seems that the Wage Stabilization Board is going along with these union bosses. Just how long can our nation retain its freedom when we have such overlords in the labor field? Or maybe the people as a whole, and they still constitute the vast majority, will arise in their might and voting privilege, and set down on these union bosses so hard that they will not possess the freedom they now enjoy, or the protection of the laws of the land. Such things have happened before, and can happen again. When any minority group becomes so strong that they control the destinies of a nation, then that nation is getting ready for a downfall. Nearly all tightly organized groups will finally go to the extreme. They reach the point that they are not satisfied with the many benefits to their organization. They become ambitious to control everything and everybody. That is when danger lurks.

Men Leave For Induction Center

Fourteen men left Brownfield for Amarillo Monday, where they were inducted into the armed forces, and 26 others from this area left for their physical examinations and will be inducted into the service in the near future, Mrs. Joyce Glick, clerk of local board 116 of the Texas Selective Service announced.

Those to be inducted into the armed forces are: Lloyd Hollis, Abilene; James William Forbes, Brownfield; Dave Elder Gressett, Abilene; L. J. Jackson, Levelland; John Henry Crisp, Levelland; James Lee Mitchell, Levelland; Clarence Schultz, Sundown; Joe Gilby Hamilton, Brownfield; Burl Leroy Blacke, Brownfield; Alton Garner, Plains; Albert Leon Smith, Whiteface; Howard Max Rogillio, Dallas; Rhodus Chandler, Anton; and Silas Clarence Livesay.

Men who went for physical examinations were Charles Ray Norman, Billy C. Harding, Billy Weldon Gras, Doyle Adrian Blevins, Robert Earl Stout, Albert L. Moore, Raymond Dale Bookout, Lloyd Milton Daughtrity, Jerry Wendell New, Doyle Garland Kennedy, Billy Ray Griffice, Wilson Ray Roberts, Clieve Loyd Gray, John Lewis Taylor, Jack Graham McMillan, Glen Edgar Stovall, Thomas Wallace

Alexander, Ralph Peeler, Margarito Rodriguez, Bennie Gene Fray, Milton Elijah Burroughs, and Willie Edgar Carr.

Transferred from another board, who left with the men from this area were Lawney Mark Malbrough, Willie Franklin Johnson, and Olen Potts.

The March call totaled 1,858 men, while for April there will be a few less in the state, Mrs. Glick said. April quota for this board had not been received this week, but the state call totals 1,184, which compares with 2,075 in April, 1951.

Texas has been asked to furnish three dentists for the armed forces, under the doctors' draft law, according to information from selective service headquarters. The local board is not affected by this call.

Also, an announcement from state headquarters reports that men called in April will have no pre-induction physicals, as those called will be inducted directly into the armed forces, immediately following their physicals.

M. Simpson and M. Allen were both in this week after their name plates for their rural mail box. These good old friendly farmers always give us a lift when they drop in.

Turning Back the Time

By A. J. S.

We believe we left off at the Brownfield Hardware, last week in, trying to place locations as of today. In the former State bank building location, we had a 14x30 boxed and stripped building on the corner, the rented home of the Herald. A lean-to on its south, some 10x15 feet, was the law office of the late Judge W. R. Spencer and his partner and nephew, the late Percy Spencer. The judge became the first district judge of the new 72nd judicial district about 1912, being appointed by the then Gov. O. B. Colquitt. He served until his death, being re-elected several times.

Both later moved to Lubbock, Percy following his marriage to Miss Gaster Randal, daughter of the late J. L. and Mrs. Jessie Randal. Percy had a good law business in Lubbock, and at one time served as mayor of Lubbock. The new judicial district was composed by cutting off the south half of the old 36th, and was composed of Lubbock and two attached unorganized counties of Hockley and Cochran, also Crosby, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines and Dawson. Of course, since that time judicial districts have been formed out of the 72nd.

Crossing the street where the Hotel Brownfield now stands, was the Randal Drug store and the postoffice. Mr. Randal and Ed Ellis were the druggists and Mrs. Randal was the postmistress, or at least the assistant. The late J. W. Ellis was the local physician, making his way about in a little white Buick roadster. Up where the Higginbotham-Bartlett lumber yard is now located, was Uncle Jack Coble's livery barn and wagon yard combined. There's where the "Badger Fights," to be discussed later, were held. Across the street west of where Tudor Sales Co. is now located, was the Mallard and Smith blacksmith shop.

Where Cobb's store now stands was the site of the small, two story Hill hotel, the gathering place of the ranchmen, few farmers, land agents and, believe it or not, famous for its foods. Next door was the real estate office of Biggers & Hill and a bit later that year, the Winston & Hill office. Right around those two buildings might make one think of Judge Roy Bean's place west of the Pecos. Not that there was any shooting, but all kinds of tricks were played on all and sundry, and a fellow that couldn't stand the gaff had as well leave.

The next place on east, where the Griffith Variety now stands, was the little sheet-iron building of the Brooks & Cordill grocery. It became a standing joke that they had a bigger stock of axel grease than anything else. Then along about where Alexander Drug is now located, was the telephone office, upstairs in a little dinky boxed stripped building, with the inevitable land office downstairs. There were more real estate dealers here then than there were any other business line. In fact, about half those in other lines tried to sell land on the side.

Nothing where the Palace Drug of First National Bank is today, or beyond for several blocks, where you found the little wooden Methodist church, the only church building then in town, and a few scattering residences. On the east side of the square it was a blank. Looking across that way from the north side of the square, the first buildings you saws was the little lumber yard where we roosted at night, location on present site of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., and the modest Residence of Judge Geo. W. Neff, where Bowman Motor is now located.

On the south side of the square, there was one small empty building some 14x20 that was the original bank building, then used to store corn in the car. But where the Bargain Center is now located was about the largest building in town, a two story, the lower floor used for the bank and the top for an Odd Fellows and Woodmen hall. The old building is now known as the Commerce Hotel, and stands on the edge of the draw on south 7th.

We believe the above and the bit we gave last week, will give our readers a fair idea of how Brownfield looked to a stranger in January, 1909, 43 years ago.

Pioneer Editor Caller At Herald Office

While we like to not have known him, we had a guy in this office this week that we have known personally since the fall of 1917, Harry Stone. Harry began publishing the Seminole Sentinel about that year. At that time there was a Methodist preacher here by the name of J. M. Fryar, who like the Old He had learned the printer's trade back in Tennessee as a boy. Fryar often helped out in a tight in the Herald office, and we became great friends.

Anyway, that fall, after conference was over, Fryar had some business with the Methodist pastor at Seminole, so asked us to go with him Friday, promising to help us next week. The railroad had not reached Seagraves at that time, and it was just a bunch of shacks, except one large building, designated as a wholesale grocery, and now used by the Hearnes. Fryar and the writer had lunch in a tent cafe, and got a good meal.

Of course both of us having been sorter brought up on the smell of printer's ink, we naturally drifted into the Sentinel office, and met Harry Stone. He was handspiking type that day. They used to tell it that Harry would sit around on the street till Tuesday night, whittling and whistling, and then jump in and get a pretty nice paper by doing a whale of a lot of overtime.

Presently Harry has a fine job as office manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co. About all he has to do, is send out power and light bills and collect for them. The lucky scamp.

Anyway, we sure was glad to meet Harry again, and go over some of the old times. He was on hand of course when the Seminole bank was robbed back in the 'teens. Also when Tom Ross and Milt Good killed the two cattle inspectors in a hotel lobby one night in the twenties.

By the way, Seminole had a railroad at that time, the Midland & Northwestern, later abandoned.

Willie Mays, New York Giants' rookie outfielder, blasted his first 15 major league homeruns off 15 different pitchers.

Stanolind Announces Another Sulphur Plant

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has announced plans for construction of a sulfur recovery unit at a second West Texas gasoline plant.

that a similar unit was to be constructed by the Fluor Corporation of Los Angeles, Calif., at Slaughter gasoline plant near Sundown, Texas. Both North Cowden and Slaughter are operated by Stanolind for groups of owners.

A visitor recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore, 501 North C, was Mrs. Laura E. Krebs of Austin, who is state district deputy of the Woodmen Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Shipman and children visited in Abilene last week.

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower V-8 engine, and America's first passenger-car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering" . . . but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmed-over" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences.

Chrysler uses hydraulic power, always in effect, to do two things. First, it does 4/5 the steering work as you turn the wheel. Second, we've cut the amount of wheel turn needed by over 1/3.

Parking or cruising, you get more and easier control than ever before. In sand, snow, or ruts, the hydraulic power is always there to keep the front wheels from "steering back" at you. You get the same amount and feel of control all the time . . . full-time ease and full-time safety.

Actually, the differences, both in engine performance and in steering safety and ease are impossible to put in words . . . but just as impossible not to feel the moment you get into a Chrysler and drive it! Why not see your Chrysler dealer and do that, soon?

—By Margaret Coward—

There are 386 additional books in the school libraries, recently presented by the Ted Hardy family as the Jim Neill Memorial Library.

The giving of these books, which Mrs. Hardy has collected through the years, is indeed a very nice gesture, as well as a great asset to school children. Mrs. Hardy, who presented them at the regular meeting of the West Ward-Junior High Parent-Teachers Association last Thursday, is a past president of the organization. Jim Neill was her brother. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Neill, 607 East Broadway, and was 36 years old when he died three years ago from a brain tumor. Perhaps Jim Neill helped "put the Brownfield schools on the map" in the world of sports, as he was an outstanding athlete, was graduated from the local high school, where he won many honors in football, and track. He made a record that has not been easily surpassed in Austin in high school track, in broad jumps and high hurdles. After graduating from Texas Tech Neill played professional football with the New York Giants, among the first Brownfield men to play in a National League.

Jim Neill lived an interesting and active life during his 36 years. He was athletic coach at Pecos one year, then two years at Lamesa. He served four years as a lieutenant in the Army Air Forces during World War II, and saw many parts of the world.

His wife, Mrs. Van Neill, operates a drug store in Lamesa. Among the books given to the local schools, all of which have stickers stating, "This book given to the Jim Neill Memorial Library by the Ted Hardy family," are two books personally autographed by the authors. One of these books is "Texas Alamo" by Myers. The complete work of Zane Grey, and other noted authors are included in the library.

Perhaps it is late to mention the World Day of Prayer that was held in 108 countries throughout the world on February 29. Maybe you, too, would like to know about the service in Brownfield, as there has been no report through the papers. Rev. Homer Haislip of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Smith and daughters, Juaneva and Renay, will soon be moving to their new "country" home, that sounds ideal in every way. Four miles southeast of Brownfield, a new three-bedroom house constructed of tile is about completed.

The Smiths have planned this home for comfort and convenience, and are looking forward to entertaining many intermediate groups of the First Baptist Church there this summer! They are placing huge flood lights in the backyard for parties, as their main hobby is working with the young people of the church.

There are 240 acres of land on this farm, but 200 acres are rented to a farmer. (L. G. plans to get some registered Angus cattle for the 40 acres of grassland—but he is really a white-collar farmer—works in one of the banks as cashier!)

Their house has been built "California style"—back in a hill that will make it cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter. Panel ray heaters are used in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Jones purchased their home here in town, 1009 East Buckley.

Well—Brownfield came in second again—in a track meet last Friday at Muleshoe. Maybe it isn't intended that we have first place in the world of sports in the district—co-champion football team—second in district basketball, now second in track. Oh well—don't forget we are living in a "next year" county! No crops last year, maybe next year! No top honors in sports this year, maybe next year! We hope!

For the first time in about 20 years, Terry county has a candidate for a state office—as all of you know, J. O. Gillham is candidate for state representative from the 98th district, comprising Terry, Yoakum, Hockley and Cochran counties.

It was either 1932 or 1934 that the late Judge Homer Winston made the race for state representative, and he was defeated by a Tahoka man by a very small margin.

It's about time Terry county is being represented in the "Great Halls" in Austin... don't you think?

Have you purchased a "Brownfield T-Shirt" from the West Ward-Junior High Parent-Teachers association? Worth the money, and proceeds will be used to purchase more books for the library.

We hope this PTA group will sponsor another "Family Night" this spring, when students are presented in various acts in a program... gives the parents a chance to see and hear their children in programs by the band... chorus... and physical education students!

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Newsom, who reside at 916 East Tate, are busy these days remodeling their house, and plan to redecorate soon. They have made a larger bedroom, and have added a half-bath and porch. They have two daughters, Dona, 13, and Barbara, 4. Mrs. Newsom went to Lubbock Saturday with Barbara, when she sang with Mrs. W. H. Dallas' Pre-School chorus at the Seventh District Federation of Junior Music Clubs.

Have lots of other things to tell you, but they will have to wait until next week. 'Nuf Said, and it's "30" now.

HOSPITAL NEWS
Medical patients in the hospital Saturday morning were Mrs. H. L. Brewer, Mrs. S. W. White, Mrs. Terry Wood, Troy Noel, Mrs. Ira Brackett, Darold Baldwin, Mrs. Joe B. Wilson, Charlotte Harvey, Mrs. G. G. Gore, Mrs. A. C. Copeland, and Mrs. C. Sears.

Surgical patients in the hospital Saturday morning were Mrs. W. W. Turner, Mrs. W. R. Schofield, and Leona Saquez.

Accident patients were John O. Anderson and Eleanor Salazar.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Griffith, 208 West Main, recently spent two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Winnie Abernathy, at Coleman. Mrs. Abernathy, who is almost 85 years young, has had the flu, and Mrs. Griffith reports that she is getting some better.

High School Seniors to Be Honored With Annual Banquet Tonight at Baptist Church

Chairmen of committee in charge of the banquet include: Program, Mrs. Jones Weathers and Mrs. W. E. Latham; invitation, Mrs. R. D. Shevmake Jr.; decoration, Mrs. Jake Geron; food, Mrs. Jerry Dumas; favors, Mrs. R. D. Lowmore; serving, Mrs. F. G. White; and table arrangements, Mrs. Doran Dumas. The menu has been planned as a "Senior Harmony Banquet" with a "symphony in eats." The menu will be "fruit, melody, ham solo, syncopated potatoes, peas pianissimo, salad quartet, tea crescendo, dessert duo, and legato rolls.

Meet the Staff

This week we interviewed another important member of the staff, Mickie Absher. Mickie is blonde headed and blue eyed, weighs 120 pounds and stands 5'4" high. She came here a year and a half ago from Rose, Texas. She now lives at 202 West Carroll and her phone number is 452-W.

Some of Mickie's favorites are: color, blue; song, Asparagus; date, Calvin Farris.

Mickie has a friendly smile and a sweet personality. She was in the pep squad and chorus this year.

Honor Study Hall

No doubt the student body has heard of the new honor system. It has been on trial for the past six weeks, and is believed to be a success. Its success was due to the students. They were put on their honor under no teacher's supervision. This proved to be a wise and helpful decision, because the students feel that they are trusted and naturally want to live up to that trust. The Honor Study Hall is by no means anything new at the moment, but if everyone puts his ideas and talents together, some day soon it will be something of which every Junior and Senior will strive to be a member, and which lower classmen will look forward to. You must have a B- average in every subject and be an upper classman to be eligible. It will not only strengthen the morale of the students but it will encourage a higher average in scholastic standings.

If truly believe that we have a useful and advantageous project which will be quite profitable for Brownfield High school. The thing we lack most is interest and enthusiasm. The student body seems to think this is a wild idea which will fall through, however, if every individual would look at the possibilities, I think there would be a completely different outlook on the matter.

We can succeed only if we want to succeed. All students are urged to give their suggestions and opinions.

Gossip and Gab

Whoa, whoa was that you were talking to in Study Hall Thursday? A certain girl has been winking at Jerry Don every time she meets him in the hall. Better watch out, Jerry.

Wonder why Richard Bucy just sits and stares at a certain girl at the first table in Study Hall? Could it be love?

Why Teague wouldn't give Jack a chance. What's the matter, Pat? Lots of girls would jump at the opportunity.

Douglas Forbes and Betty Daniels seem to be getting along fine in 5th period study hall.

What's this we hear about James Watson wanting to go with Mary Sue Travis?

Charlotte and Tommy sure do make a cute couple in 3rd period study hall.

It seems that Ruthie Bailey and Rose Pascoe are going steady.

We hear that Tommy Nipp is wanting to go with Maxine Brumley. Give him a chance.

A cute couple seen together a few times is Betty Daniels and Bob Ferguson... keep it up.

It seems that Jackie Stockton has begun to like study hall. Could it be because Sandra Yandell is also in it?

A cute couple seen together during night was Wynelle Webb and Dean Murphy.

Couple of the Week

This week Carole Dallas and Ted Hardy have been chosen for our couple of the week.

Carole, a cute blonde-headed girl with blue eyes, is 5'2 1/2" tall. She is a freshman this year and her favorite subject is algebra. Carole's most likable color is red and she spends her spare time playing tennis.

Ted, a sophomore, is 5'7"; has brown hair and green eyes. His favorite color is blue and he likes to dance in his spare time. Ted's most enjoyable class is grammar.

Carole and Ted have been going together about three months. Steak is their favorite food and their song is "Tell Me Why." We think they make a cute couple. Don't you?

PLANNED FOR A YOUNG FAMILY

HOUSE PLAN No. 42

On a small budget you can have a comfortable, convenient home. The low cost of this Farm & Ranch house is accomplished by a combination of things. For instance, the interior walls by the bedrooms are formed by the closets, which actually serve as partitions. Where it usually takes 3,000 square feet of wallboard to build the inside walls in most homes, less than 1,000 square feet are required to cover the interior of this house. These low-cost walls can be provided by using only the type of roof framing which we specify. This roof framing is such that the exterior walls can be erected and a goodly portion of the inside finish completed before putting in the partition walls. The exterior walls carry the entire weight of the house.

The main portion of this house can be built first, then the garage and space for a washing machine may be added later. Some cost has been cut by using a box-type construction for the garage. This arrangement also gives a pleasant change in texture that often is found in modern homes.

We have further reduced the cost by suggesting the use of a double wall cement asbestos flue instead of the conventional brick chimney. This flue is very satisfactory and can be conveniently supported by the roof structure. Steel casement windows are used in order to reduce maintenance cost as much as possible.

The rooms in the house are very conveniently arranged. See how handy the bathroom is to the kitchen—and all the house! And note the large closets.

The kitchen is so arranged that there need be no traffic across the work area.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5142 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to the Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5142. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Watch For Diseases In Turkey Poults

The use of management and sanitation practices that will prevent diseases are mighty important to the turkey producer. It is always more desirable to prevent the occurrence of a disease than to try to treat an outbreak, says L. C. Grumbles, poultry pathologist of Texas A&M College.

Management practices are important from the day the poults are hatched and one of the first to cause trouble is water starvation, says Grumbles. This practically always happens when the poults are about two weeks old and results from the change from small water fountains to large ones or automatic watering systems. The poults just don't find the water and the trouble can be avoided by making the change gradually and by providing sufficient watering space.

Another condition associated with management that often causes trouble is crop and gizzard impaction. It occurs when the poults eat the floor litter and can usually be prevented by covering the litter with paper or sacks for the first week of the brooding period. Providing plenty of feeder and watering space and then making sure the poults are eating and drinking will also help, says the pathologist.

Three infectious diseases cause most of the trouble in young turkey poults. One of these is pullorum. It is transmitted through the egg and can largely be eliminated by buying poults from a hatchery that is U. S. pullorum clean.

Another is hexamitiasis. This disease is caused by a very small parasite that inhabits the small intestine and mortality among the infected poults is usually very high. It generally occurs in poults between the ages of four and 12 weeks. Grumbles says most mature turkeys are carriers of the disease and the organisms are passed out in the droppings. The parasite survives for only about 30 minutes outside of the bird's body and is spread through fresh droppings from carrier birds. Except on farms where breeding flocks are kept, all mature birds should be disposed of before poults are started. Where mature birds are kept, a different person should care for the poults.

The third disease is coccidiosis and it usually occurs in poults when they are between four and eight weeks of age. It is also caused by a small parasite that invades the walls of the intestine. These parasites are universally present and most poults are exposed to coccidia during the growing period, says Grumbles. A light infection is desirable in order to build up flock resistance to the disease. The severity will depend upon the number of the parasites picked up at one time by the birds.

Sanitation will be effective in some instances especially where small groups of poults are started early in the season. It is usually not completely effective where successive lots or poults of different ages are being brooded.

Perhaps the most effective control method is continuous medication with a coccidia killing drug in the feed. Results are usually good and the cost runs from one to two cents per bird. Several of the sulfa drugs are effective in controlling the disease but Grumbles points out that a complete and thorough diagnosis should be made before treatment is given. Since most poults diseases require the use of a microscope or laboratory facilities for an accurate diagnosis, he suggests calling in a trained veterinarian at the first sign of trouble. Action is needed once an infectious disease strikes but treatment should be based on a reliable diagnosis.

A thin coat of fresh, white shellac applied will give long life to the finish. The shellac always can be removed with denatured alcohol.

Sooty Mold Present On Gardenia Plants

COLLEGE STATION. — Do the stems and leaves of your gardenias have a sooty-like appearance? If they do, chances are that sooty mold is present on the plants.

Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the mold is caused by the white fly, a tiny moth-like insect no larger than a gnat.

The young, found on the underside of the leaves, resemble scales and can be controlled by spraying with 3 tablespoons of white oil emulsion per gallon of water.

The flies feed on the plants and excrete a liquid that provides a medium for the growth of this sooty mold.

If the flies are eradicated the mold will disappear, says Miss Hatfield. When the adults are swarming dust the plant thoroughly with a 5 per cent DDT dust.

War on Bedbugs Must Continue

COLLEGE STATION. — It's no disgrace to have bedbugs but it is a disgrace to keep them. Anytime is the time to make war on these unwelcome visitors, says Bernice Clator, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The common bedbug is reddish brown in color, about one-fifth of an inch long and when mashed has an odor all its own. An infestation may begin by bringing the insects home in handbags, luggage and other articles, or they may crawl from one apartment to another or even from a nearby house. It feeds only at night. If you see small specks of blood on the sheets in the morning commence searching for the culprit at once.

The newer chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides have taken the place of old bedbug controls. The Extension entomologists recommend spraying the mattress and the bed with a five per cent DDT household spray. The cracks and the crevices of the woodwork of the room should be treated also.

This procedure may have to be repeated several times. Don't give up. The insect reproduces rapidly under favorable conditions. The life cycle of a bedbug can be completed in six to eight weeks.

Do not use the spray near an open flame because it is inflammable.

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending March 8, 1952, were 22,945 compared with 25,175 for the same week in 1951. Cars received from connections totaled 12,645 compared with 14,335 for same week in 1951.

Total cars moved were 35,590 compared with 39,510 for same week in 1951. Santa Fe handled a total of 35,798 cars in preceding week of this year.

Plant Good Seed For Top Crop Yields

COLLEGE STATION. — Farmers will need to use "every trick in the bag" to meet the production goals which have been set for 1952. The planting season is approaching in most sections of the state and farmers are reminded by L. C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, that only top quality seed should be used for seeding the 1952 crops.

He points out that certified seed are usually the best seed of a particular variety available. These seed come from fields that have been inspected during the growing season, have been properly handled at harvest time, cleaned, tested for purity and germination, and properly stored.

Although certified seed may cost slightly more than other seed, the added expense is offset by the assurance of purity, higher percentage of germination and varieties that are adapted to Texas conditions, says Coffey. Seed of questionable germination and purity may not be cheap at any price.

Coffey urges farmers to get the seed that will be needed for this year's crops now while supplies are adequate. Last minute seed shoppers may find the stocks depleted and this will be forced to plant whatever is available. The use of poor quality planting seed may prove to be a year-long handicap in meeting production goals, warns Coffey.

If you have pretty floors, play them up. For one thing keep floor waxed to show off pretty rugs.

A new safety plug for Christmas trees has a replaceable fuse so that if one fuse blows, the other gives warning before a short circuit occurs.

Built-in Safety Will Reduce Accidents

COLLEGE STATION. — Home accidents are costing Americans over $600,000,000 annually in wage loss, medical expense and insurance overhead.

Thousands of new homes have been built in the last few years with little or no attention given to the elimination of accident hazards. This failure almost guarantees to make accident statistics out of the occupants.

Families planning to build should check house plans carefully for every possible hazard so they can be removed before they are built in.

Bernice Clator, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says watch the slant of the stairs and be sure there are hand railings on all stairs inside and out; use adequate insulation around furnaces, pipes, fireplaces and chimneys; have sufficient numbers of wall plugs; install electric wall switches at top and bottom of stairs and in bathrooms; arrange kitchen equipment for elimination of fatigue; build adequate storage and closet space for family needs, especially utility and cleaning closets; have medicine chests that can be kept locked and out of reach of children.

If remodeling is planned, Mrs. Clator says watch carefully and get expert advice so that accident causes are built out of your home. The majority of women do their own housework. If there are children, more hours are spent in the kitchen. So make the kitchen efficient as well as eye appealing.

Greater efficiency means less fatigue. The burden of fatigue often leads to an accident.

Inside stairs are seldom changed once they are built, but the condition of good lighting, carpeting and hand railings can reduce accident hazards.

There are many ideas for selecting more storage and closet space in an old house, such as building in cabinets under slanting roofs or hanging wall cabinets for storage of out-of-season items on closets; have medicine chests that can be kept locked and out of reach of children.

It Makes Your Dollars Feel Important too

THE Buick pictured here can match price tags with a lot of cars smaller in size and horsepower and win. But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is. Like costlier Buicks, it has the wide-open view of a one-piece windshield. Like costlier Buicks, it has the gleaming distinction of sweep-spear styling. Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim. Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, even-keeled steadiness of the Million Dollar Ride—a combination of 15 engineering features including a husky X-braced frame, end-sway and side-roll stabilizers, Hi-Poised engine mountings, Permi-Firm steering and soft coil springs for every wheel.

And like all other Buicks, it has a power-packed Fireball 8 Engine—a high-compression valve-in-head that gets extra wallop, extra mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

So we think that you'll feel mighty important bossing around this smart-stepping smoothie. And when you check the price we're asking against the field—we think your dollars are going to feel mighty important in buying power too. Hadn't you better look into this soon?
