The Herald subscription list is a splendid blend of town and rural readers, folks who can and do pay for their papers—they do not ask or want it donated to them. Many 30 and 40 year continuous subscriptions.

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1952

NUMBER 47

BLOOD BANK TO BE IN BROWNFIELD JULY 17

At a board meeting of the Terry County Chapter of the American Red Cross held Monday night at the South Plains Health Unit it was announced that the Blood Bank will be in Brownfield all day on July 17. In order to have the Blood Bank to include Brownfield on its itinerary, it was necessary to guarantee 150 pints of blood. However, in order to reach the goal of 150 pints, it will be necessary to have 200 pints pledged as some of the blood donors will be rejected. Tentatively the American Legion and the Hand Brothers Post No. 6794 Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor this drive, assisted by Mrs. Walter Hord, chapter chairman of the Red Cross.

This blood will be used exclusively for the Korean war front.

Pledge cards will be distributed next week and can be obtained by contacting the Red Cross, Legionnaires and VFW members. Films will be shown at the Jones theatres and at civic meetings in connection with the drive.

H. B. Virgil Crawford, member of the VFW, will be chairman, and William C. Brown, member of the American Legion, will be the assistant chairman.

Twenty workers will be furnished the Blood Bank for the one day stop in Brownfield. This number will include three registered nurses, three secretaries, four men to help unload and load the equipment and the balance will help in the canteen.

Civic clubs and all individuals are urged to take part in this drive.

Hugh Porterfield Resigns Position

Announcement has been made of the resignation of Hugh Porterfield, Experimental Station Superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Porterfield has been in Brownfield since January, 1948, when the Experimental Station was first opened.

He will assume management of a business owned by his family in Amarillo. The business consists of a wholesale and a retail seed business, and three seed farms. Property has been purchased in Lubbock on the Brownfield highway and a store is to be opened on that location that will specialize in grass seeds.

Mr. Porterfield, who has been in government service for 22 years, wishes to express his appreciation for the cooperation that he has received from the people in Terry County, and regrets leaving his many friends in Brownfield.

Another Wildcat Is Staked—Or Is It?

According to the latest development in the west Terry field, the Jake H. Hamon interests of Dallas has staked the No. 1 Lela Mae Green in west central Terry, 12 miles from town. The prospect is to go 13,000 feet. The location is one-half mile north of the Coroco No. 1 Atlas, a multi-play well, now in process of completion.

Perhaps it can rightly be termed a "wildcat" as there is but the other lone well in the area, and it is not finished. Until there are several producers in a given field, they are all termed wildcats by the oil fraternity.

One of Adair's Best Finds
According to reports, the No. 3 Guttersloh in the Adair-Wolcamp by Humble Oil Co., is about the best find so far in that field. It is on section 6, block C-36, and some 12 or 13 miles south of town. This well made on test a potential 1,352 barrels of 44 gravity oil.

Also in that field, Amerada finished their No. 7 Hogan for 406 barrels of 41 gravity. This is in section 18, block D. The same company also finished No. 3 W. O. Miller, section 6, block C-37, with a potential of 395 barrels of 42 gravity oil.

Over in Yoakum County near the Bennett field, the O'Neill Co., of Lubbock, has finished for the pump, No. 1, on Abilene Christian College property. This pump was gauged at 266 barrels of 33 gravity oil. An 82 barrel well, and also a pumper was finished on the Hugh Bennett holdings in the same area.

In the same block the No. 3 J. E. Wright, by the Tennessee Production Co., pumped 246 barrels daily of 29 gravity oil. Both the last two named wells had a rather high percentage of water.

4-H Club Girls Camp Held In Lubbock

In a spirited election which highlighted the activities at the fifth annual District Two 4-H Camp held in Lubbock the past week, Miss Ruzek Patton was elected vice chairman of the district organization. She is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patton of the Pool community.

More than 180 girls attended the three-day encampment. Girls from almost every county in the South Plains were represented. Staff of the camp is composed of county home demonstration agents and their assistants and Mrs. Aubrey Russell, district home demonstration agent.

General chairman for the camp is Mrs. Mona Hildreth, acting home demonstration agent of Lubbock County.

Most of the group who attended the district girls camp attended the state roundup held Monday through Wednesday of this week.

Representatives of Terry County at the annual camp in Lubbock were Jeannie Solsberry, Neva Jo Howard and Miss Patton, all of Pool; Priscilla Cornett and Georgia Faught of Union; Mrs. Thurman Solsberry of Pool, adult leader of the group, and Miss Doris Mahaffey, home demonstration agent for Terry County.

The Terry County group assisted in teaching recreation at the camp.

TERRY CO. HEALTH UNIT SHOWS YEAR OF PROGRESS

This past year has been a busy one for the South Plains Health Unit and the Regional State Laboratory. A great deal has been accomplished in the way of protecting the health of the people within the five-county area.

The formal opening of the unit was held May 24, 1951. It was established January 6, 1940, as a District Health Unit composed of Lynn, Gaines, Yoakum, Terry and Dawson, with headquarters in Brownfield.

In 1940 Lynn withdrew and Hockley became a permanent member.

Sponsors of the Field Day are the chambers of commerce of Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, Muleshoe, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton and Tahoka. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is co-sponsor.

Hugh G. Porterfield, supervisor of the Experiment Station, and John A. Foy, Brownfield, Terry County Farm, Agent, will take part in the conference.

Invitations to the meeting have been sent to the following members of the WTCC Agriculture and Livestock committee by R. N. Fielder of Abilene; committee chairman: A. M. Muldrow, Brownfield; Artie E. Forehand, Levelland; W. H. Cunningham, Littlefield; George W. Braswell Jr., Slaton; Tom Garrard, Tahoka; Ben C. Dopson, Lamesa, and Dean W. L. Stangel of Texas Technological College.

Other asked to join the planning session are the following directors of the WTCC: Sammy Jones, Brownfield; Howard Vaughn, Levelland; B. W. Armistead, Littlefield; Ruel C. Martin, C. I. Wall and Clarence Whiteside, Lubbock; Homer Sanders Sr., Muleshoe; R. W. Pittman, Seminole; J. S. Edwards Jr., Slaton, and A. M. Bray, Tahoka.

Other WTCC leaders expected are Homer D. Grant, Lubbock, district vice-president; W. O. Fortenberry, New Deal, director-at-large, and Loyan H. Walker, its agriculture and livestock department manager, who is working with the chamber of commerce managers of the respective sponsoring organizations.

Terry County Posse Takes Top Honors

At the fifth annual Crosbyton Rodeo, which opened June 5 with a mile-long parade, the Terry County Sheriff's Posse won first place as the best riding organization. The Posse wore for the first time their colorful green shirts and green hats.

A crowd estimated between 3,500 and 4,000 persons jammed the streets of Crosbyton as the parade passed in review. Six other riding organizations rode besides Terry County.

Posse members going to Crosbyton were: Captain Crate Snider, Tess Fulfer, Charlie Price, Dr. W. A. Roberson, Bus Mason, Horace Fox, Dewitt Stafford, J. V. Boen, Ed Hardin, Clyde Wilson, Money Price, Dr. E. C. Davis, Frankie Szydloski, Morris Russell and John Hard.

Cancer Fund Drive To Be Extended

J. C. Powell Jr., Terry County chairman of the Cancer Crusade, today announced that the drive for funds would be extended for an additional two weeks, and issued an appeal for whole-hearted support in order that the county's goal of $1,250 may be reached.

Many residents of the county will be receiving circular letters asking for donations. Please mail your contributions to Cancer, in care of the Brownfield Post Office.

Everyone knows that the value of a dollar has gone down, and down and down! But a dollar contributed to the current Cancer Crusade, even at today's inflated prices, will still print 500 copies of a leaflet that can save lives. Every dollar and every coin contributed to the American Cancer Society plays an important part in the war on the disease.

Fifty cents buys one mouse bred especially for cancer research over more than 100 generations of mice. Multiply that fifty cents 7,200 times and you have $3,600, enough money for a year's clinical fellowship which will enable a young physician to attain a high degree of competence in diagnosing and treating cancer.

Forty dollars will buy an educational film print used to spread cancer facts, but it takes 1,959 of those dollars to buy an automatic device for handling radioactive substances to protect scientists and to speed their work.

Mr. Powell disclosed that some 700,000 persons will be under treatment for cancer in the United States this year, and that there is a cancer death approximately every two and a half minutes in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McSwain have been called to Ada, Okla., because of the illness of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rankin and family who live near Petersburg, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reed Sunday.

Mrs. Eldora White spent the weekend in Levelland with Mr. and Mrs. George Warren. Mrs. Warren is Mrs. White's sister.

Pictures That Are Not In 'Know Your Candidate'

Many of the candidates whose ads appear in "Know Your Candidates" and whose pictures do not show, will state some were not "mugged" until too late for this week. They will appear in all their glory next week, and from then on until the first primary election.

A representative of the Herald who attended the first political speaking at Pool Tuesday night, stated that a large crowd attended, and that all the pies and cakes disappeared right off the reel.

And the candidates all got a good reception and a good hand at the conclusion of their addresses.

Teague-Bailey Wins Primm Defeated

Teague-Bailey Chevrolet defeated Murrell Carpet Co. of Lubbock Tuesday night, 6-2. T-B is leading the South Plains Softball League with nine wins and one loss.

Murrell Carpet scored one in the second inning, but Teague-Bailey tied the game in its half of the same inning. The Chevrolet men then added three in the 4th on no hits. Three walks, an error, a sacrifice and a long fly accounted for the runs. Two more scores came in the sixth on a hit batsman, a walk and two errors.

Murrell's got four hits, but Mutt Ray kept them well scattered, no more than one an inning for the win. This was his sixth of the season.

Primm Drug lost to Murrell Furniture of Plainview in the second game Tuesday night. Two unearned runs in the seventh inning won the game for the Plainview team, 2-0.

The Plainview team got six hits but could never score until the seventh. Denham didn't walk a man. An error, a single and a double by Monty George drove in the two runs.

'Gift Subscriptions' Prove A Headache

Some of the papers in the area, in order to increase their circulation, got some of the business firms to sponsor quite a number of "gift subscription," back earlier this year. Finally, the post-office department up at Washington got around to ruling that these papers should take a decidedly steeper postage rate than the old second class privileges.

In fact, with the new postage rate, an eight page paper takes a rate of 2c each, and 12 pages 3c, 16 pages 4c, etc. So, he who runs can figure, that if the publisher sold one hundred or more to one firm to be sent to their best customers, they naturally expected and received a cheaper rate than the regular $2.00 in cash of a weekly, and more if semi-weekly. With that in mind, one can easily see that the publisher lost money in the deal.

For many years the magazines have put on a gift rate just before Christmas holidays, and we'll bet times to doughnuts these are paying no such rate as that demanded of the little weekly paper. If so, the mags are losing money on the deal, and those big magazine companies just do not figure where they will lose money. The small newspaper that put on several hundred of these "gift" subscriptions, are finding that they will have to eliminate them, and make some kind of an adjustment with those getting the "gift" papers. These subscribers are getting notices through the mails to that effect.

Luckily, the Herald put on less than 200 of these GIFT subscriptions, as the postal authorities call them, and for the present at least we are going to try to do the best we can to fill out this bitter contract. But the idea certainly has learned us as well as others a great lesson: First investigate, then go ahead.

Just to make it stand out with the readers, these 180 papers the Herald is sending out in the area

This week we received The Southern Weekly, and was saddened at the announcement, that after 52 years of publication, under one name and another, the weekly magazine was to be no more. Just was not paying expenses, and had not been doing so for some time, and the publisher stated that he was getting to long in years to make a useless uphill fight. The editor, Peter Molyneux, is one of the most versatile writers in the south and southwest, and one never had to guess where he stands. And, he believes, The Southern Weekly has accomplished the aims of its owners, in making southern voters aware of the fact that just drifting along, aimlessly voting one party name ticket, regardless of the men on it or what they stand for, is just simple mindedness. Lots of times, especially in the past several years, the men who are on a party ticket are just that in name only. Their ideals may be as far from the concepts of the party originators as daylight from midnight. Mr. Molyneux says he has other plans in view for the immediate future, but did not disclose them at this time. The Southern Weekly began in 1907 as the Southwestern Banker. During the 40ties it was known as The Texas Weekly, before becoming The Southern Weekly a few years ago. The Herald is putting this last issue of Southern Weekly in our vault among other "first" and "last" souvenirs. Not because the last issue used one of our editorials, as it have used many of them, three in one issue a year or so ago. But we have a number of "firsts," such as the first issue of Life Magazine and many others. And now we have two last. The Southern Weekly, and the old Semi-Weekly Farm News, put out by the Dallas Morning News, and which suspended publication back in the thirties. Many a farm home in Texas and Oklahoma back in the early part of the century took the old Semi-Weekly Farm News, as the nearest thing to a "daily" they could afford. Later, many farmers began to take dailies, and like a lot of other good things, the need for this paper disappeared, and "it went the way of all flesh." But somehow, it is just like parting from an old friend to bid these staid old publications farewell.

This more or less busy old editor had quite some propaganda submitted to us by a couple down at Odessa, evidently man and wife. The burden of their communication, four pages of single spaced text letter, concerned the plan of giving battle to the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, via another organization, yet unnamed. The communication made no bones that the above, NCC is leftist, and were quietly, acting through the youths of the land, teaching socialism and modernism. We have heard that accusation before. One of the editors of the Dallas Morning News came out on that pretty strong in his column not too long ago. And, further, according to the writer of the material we received, the Council of NCC deny or at least teach that the Bible is not the word of God; denies the virgin birth of Christ, either or both of which are calculated to undermine Christianity. Our informant also gave us a long list of the numbers of members the NCC claims from the leading denominations, which total some 30 million. Running a secular paper, we usually have very little to do with, or investigations to make about the belief, origin or concepts of the several denominational churches, even these represented here in our city. Fact is, the church with which the writer affiliates, is not much on the "jining" order. And the membership are so old fashioned that they still believe that the Lord adds them to the church when they are saved. But the Odessa couple, as explained above, want still another organization to combat the "bad effects" of the NCC in our nation. The proposed meeting of this group — Protestants only — are called to meet at Memphis, Tennessee, August 19-21. The main theme of the accusation of the couple against NCC is that they are trying to run the Protestant churches into politics, and to eliminate all spirituality. While as explained above, we are not a "jiner," and will not join this new move, perhaps, we have little respect for any organization that tries to use the churches of this nation to further their concept of politics.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, along with other civic organizations of the South and Southwest are doing their full share in helping to prevent imposition on this section by highly organized minorities in the east, and particularly New England. For some time now, the CIO unions have been trying to get business now being completed in the South and Southwest, moved to New England, on the plea of a surplus of unemployed. For one thing, for instance, the item of "fatigue" garments for the armed forces. It is said that presently 65 per cent of them are made up in the southern part of the USA, upon competitive bids. The CIO doesn't want the government to pay any mind to the bids, but give work to the New England people at whatever price they are minded to charge. This shows at what length a lot of the minority groups will go to carry out their designs, and up the price, which of course is finally paid by the old taxpayer, John Q. Public, in person. While the CIO boys have a lot of influence along the reaches of the Potomac, this is one time the OPS turned a cold shoulder to their proposition. The Defense production Act, according to the WTCC, says that such contracts must be let to the lowest bidder. Several garment manufacturers of Texas, one at Abilene, joined with those of other portions of the south and southwest in protest to the move. We always have an idea that if there is no work for the laborer in one area of the country, there is no law against them moving. It is a well known fact that one big mill after another have moved their manufacturing business, lock, stock and barrel, especially to the south, and have carried a lot of their main working force with them. Reason, winters are shorter — much shorter — and living conditions therefore cheaper. The workers can live on less money, have just as good care and housing, and can therefore lay by more money in the short, mild winters of the south. And, this being the case, the manufacturers of textiles, especially, have figured that they can live better and make more clear money. For a long time the argument of the New Englanders was that living conditions were unbearable in the mill regions of the south. But last year, a large Boston daily sent one of its crack reporters to investigate matters, particularly in the Carolinas and Georgia. After a thorough investigation he came up with the conclusion that living conditions were not only equal to that of the New England states, but taking everything into consideration, even better. Further, he found that natives of New England, who had followed their mills to the South, had no idea of ever spending another bleak winter up north.

Rather a bad time of year to let one's blood pressure run its course, considering the heat and humidity. But occasionally we run across an article that makes our blood take the boiling point even in summer. To begin with, the Herald thinks we have petted and pampered the western nations of Europe too long and at too much expense to the taxpayers of the USA. In other words, we might, in charge of matters, withdraw all armed forces from that silly region, and tell them to defend themselves against the minions of the iron curtain or else. Sunday's Avalanche-Journal had such an article that makes our blood blow its top. It was a letter from a former Lubbock girl, who married a lieutenant of the US armed forces. The girl's relatives still live in Lubbock, and the A-J says they will vouch for the authenticity of the article in a long editorial they wrote along side the article by the lady. The letter is really long, or we might copy. But the burden of her letter is the disclosure of the insults and indignities the wives of our service men have to endure from the nasty Reds in France. And how little the French authorities pay to complaints from Americans. Seemed to be amused that they are bothered by the dirty Bolsheviks. Twice in the past two generations, the USA has saved the French nation from aggressors, and have loaned or rather given them billions of dollars. We have paid for supposed damage that our troops did in that country in defending these Frog eaters in both world wars. Presently our manpower over there is probably keeping Red skunks from Russia from over-running them. Meantime, the State Department and Administration are secretly dealing with these so-called friends, and the general public knows little about what our service men have to endure in this "friendly" nation. Frankly folks, after reading that letter, we are more determined than ever to help sweep the present bosses at Washington out of their positions. We hope the next administration has the guts to tell the Frogs where to head in. On every hand our folks over there are invited by painted signs to "go home, America," and only the intervention of the authorities, may be because of pressure from Washington, saved Gen. Ridgeway some indignities, when he took the place of Gen. Eisenhower last week. Americans are easily spotted by these skunks and snakes, as they generally dress far better than the run of the mine of the French. They smash American's cars and puncture their tires under cover of darkness. These minions of Satan are allowed to operate pretty freely by the Frog police.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wayne Smith recently visited in the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bual Powell. The Smiths live in New York where he is stationed with the Air Force. Mrs. Smith works for the Greater New York Savings Bank. She is the former Geraldine Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holmes and family are vacationing in Corpus Christi. Miss Betty Holmes, who graduated from Southern Methodist University in Dallas last week, accompanied her family to Corpus. They expect to be gone 10 days.

Wails of An Editor, Bible Style

Consider the editor! A child born to the wife of a merchant in the town. The physician getteth 10 plunks. The editor writteth a stick and half and telleth the multitude that the child tippteth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a cigar.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from a far with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a twelve months subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathereth unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out, "Gone to her last roasting place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their aids and cancelleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.—Anonymous.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Sampson and daughter, Mrs. W. R. Terry of Graham and their grandson, Douglas Sampson of Ft. Worth, have returned from a vacation in Charlottesville and Cismont, Virginia. They also visited a daughter, Mrs. Jay Edwards of Dallas, and relatives in Little Rock, Ark.

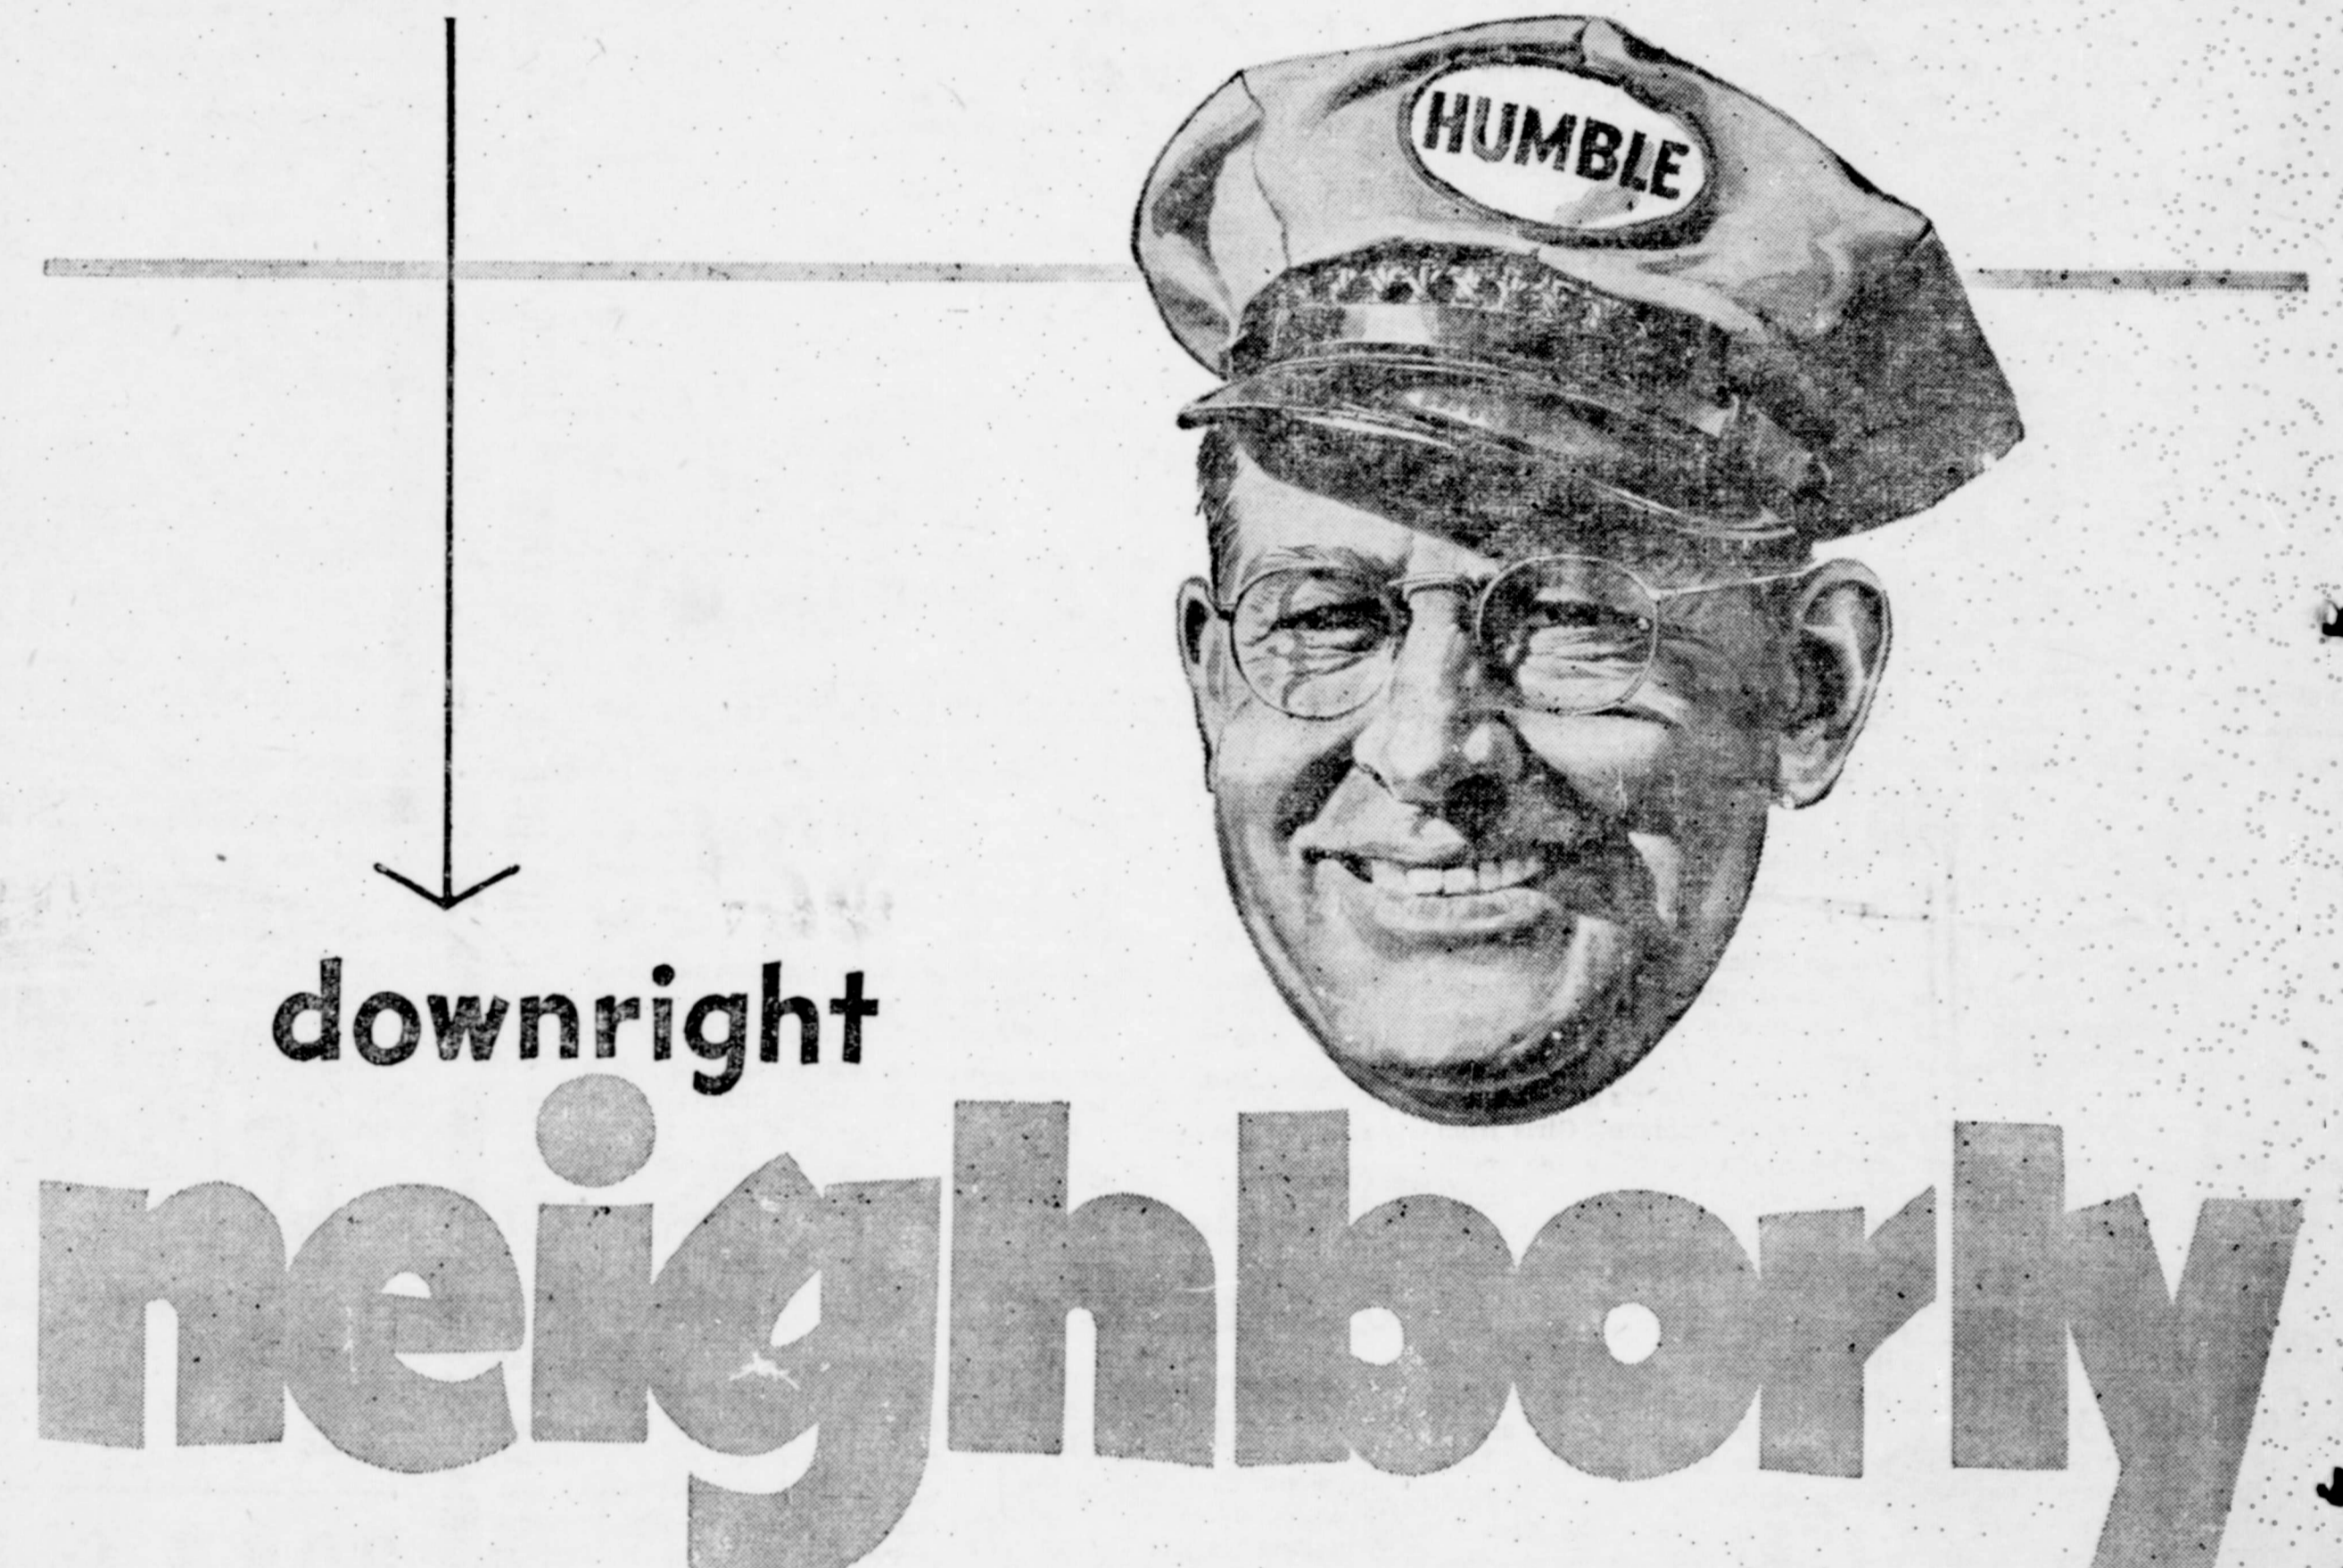

FARM QUESTION BOX

ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

- Q. Before gladiola bulbs are planted, should they be treated in a solution?
- A. Just soak the bulbs thirty minutes in mercuric chloride solution, 1 to 1000—1 tablet to one quart of water.
- Q. How can we drive a family of skunks from under our barn?
- A. If you trap, shoot or poison—or rile them up—the condition will be worse than if you leave them alone. If you can reach that area, apply some Paradiethobresine (P.D.B. crystals, moth balls, or "dogs off" in an attempt to create an odor they dislike enough to warrant moving over to live with some neighbor. Always keep in mind that a dead skunk under the barn is worse than a live one.
- Q. We have an electric disposal—or "Iron Pig," and it empties into our regular septic tank. Do we need to add yeast or take any other measures to handle this extra load?
- A. Probably not—only time can tell. However, it does put an extra load on the tank, so it is a good idea to use chlorox and other chemicals that kill bacteria or clean drains as sparingly as is practical, and add some yeast (or preferably a culture of not bacterial) every month or two to keep up the bacterial activity.
- Q. What can be done about clay soil? This clay is a bothersome nuisance, keeping the water on the surface in huge puddles, making gardening almost impossible. We heard that we should plow sand into the soil at least six inches deep. Would that solve our problems? How much sand would we use, and how many times would we have to do this to profit by it?
- A. I suspect you have two problems: First to open the surface soil so you can work it; second to drain the subsoil. Better dig ditches 4 feet apart and 2 to 2½ feet deep and lay drain tile to carry off the water. Then add sand, coarse gravel or cinders, sawdust and manure till the surface is workable, four to six inches deep. A cheaper alternative that may work is to plow back furrows for ridges and dead furrows for ditches and so get better surface drainage.
- Q. Is there any spray that will control corn borer in a small garden?
- A. Dust with a five per cent DDT dust when corn is ten inches tall—and every five days till four applications have been made. In addition—to protect from "ear worm" as distinguished from European corn borer, dust the silk end of the ear with DDT once a week.
- Q. When should I spray my growing glads for thrip?
- A. I think the latest recommendation is to use parathion every ten days, starting when the first buds begin to appear.

GOOD HEALTH

1. IS RELAXATION IMPORTANT?
The ability to relax is very important and gives promise of a longer, healthier life. Most recreation is as strenuous as our work and should be sensibly regulated. A person's mental attitude greatly affects his ability to get the most out of his periods of relaxation. At these times he should cast his worries aside. Otherwise, sleep will be disturbed and recreation fruitless.

2. WHAT IS BRAILLE?
It is a system of printing for the blind which uses combinations of tangible points or impressions representing letters and numbers

3. SHOULD SNEEZES BE SUPPRESSED?
The best thing to do with an oncoming sneeze is to sneeze—into your handkerchief of course. It is better to sneeze normally through the mouth which is better equipped than the sinuses and ears to take the blast. Suppression of sneezes may lead to considerable damage to the ears.

Futures in Green String Beans

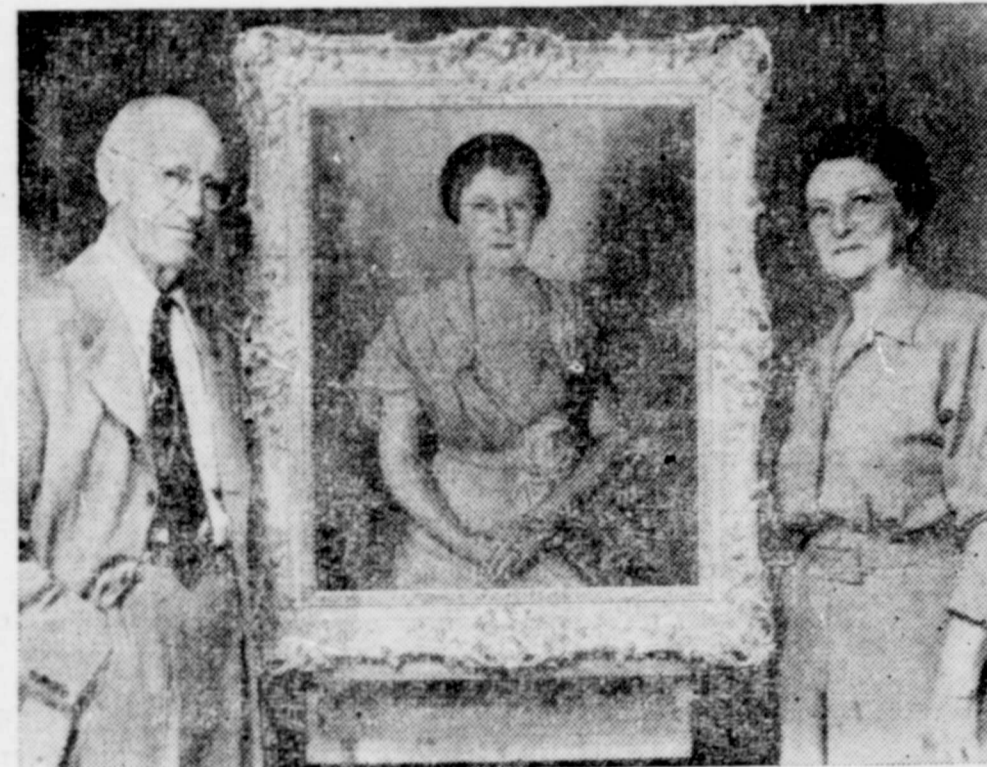

COLLEGE STATION. — Fresh string beans may be enjoyed the year-round if a supply is stored in the freezer locker or home freezer while gardens are still in production.

Maeona Cox, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says choose fresh, young, tender, barely mature beans of a recommended variety such as Tendergreen, Blue Lake, Logan or Kentucky Wonder for preserving.

To prepare beans for freezing wash in running cold water. Cut and snap off tips and sort for size. If desired, small whole beans may be frozen but larger beans should be broken or cut into suitable lengths.

The specialist points out that it is necessary to scald beans in boiling water before freezing. This prevents loss of quality, preserves the vitamin content and

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Meredith of Mineola, Texas, pose with the portrait of Mrs. Meredith painted by Dmitri Vail of Dallas, Texas. The life-like painting will hang in the main hall of the "Daisy Meredith" cottage for girls on the Methodist Home campus in Waco, Texas.

Pioneer Banker, Civic Leader Builds Home for Orphan Girls

"Uncle Harry" as Mr. Meredith is affectionately known to his boys and girls in Waco, is a pioneer in Texas banking history, having opened his Mineola State Bank in 1906. In 1933 he retired from active banking business and became Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank which position he continues to hold. Besides their active interest in civic and church affairs, the Merediths are enthusiastic and active members of the well known Little Sandy Fishing and Hunting Club.

Three years ago they donated $95,000 for construction of the Meredith Home for Boys on the Methodist Home Campus in Waco, and commissioned Dmitri Vail to paint the portrait of Mr. Meredith which now hangs in the living room. Cost of the newly completed "Daisy Meredith" cottage is running close to $120,000.

Mr. Meredith wanted a Texas artist to paint the two portraits and selected the nationally known portrait painter Dmitri Vail, of Dallas, Texas. He says he had the portraits painted to hang in the cottage so that in twenty-five or fifty years from now the children might say: Those are the folks who gave us our home.

Biggs Services Held Sunday

Funeral services for Alfred Biggs, retired farmer who resided at 709 East Oak, were held Sunday at 2:30 at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, with T. J. Finley, minister of the church, officiating. He was assisted by Joe Chisholm.

Mr. Biggs passed away in the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital June 6, following a short illness. He had lived in Terry County for about eight years, moving here from Dickens County.

Survivors are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Addie McDonald, of Ropesville, Mrs. Allie Joplin of Spur and Mrs. Dolly Henson of Brownfield; and three grandchildren.

Burial was in the Lubbock Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Tommy Hicks, Ross Black, Henry Chisholm, Leonard Lang, Tress Key and Carl Cabe.

brightens the color of the vegetables. Scalding also stops the action of enzymes and further cleans the product.

For scalding the beans, select a large enamelware, aluminum or stainless steel kettle. Put a gallon water in the kettle and bring to a rolling boil. Place about one pound of prepared beans in a wire basket or large loose cheese cloth bag and dip in the vigorously boiling water. Keep the kettle covered and the water boiling.

This recommended by the specialist for scalding is two minutes for small beans, three minutes for medium beans and four minutes for large beans. Chill in ice water and drain. Package and freeze immediately at zero degrees F. or below.

Wrappings or containers for frozen foods should be moisture-vapor proof. The use of such containers will help retain the product's flavor color, food value and texture. Miss Cox suggests contacting the local county home demonstration agent for further information on freezing foods. Ask for B-175, Frozen Foods, How to Freeze, How to Cook.

Immigration Laws To Work Hardship

Rep. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., of McAllen, says that warnings he voiced regarding an immigration bill are coming true.

During debate on recent legislation tightening immigration laws, Bentsen declared that provisions authorizing arrest and search of individuals and property along the border would be abused.

As proof of this, he is citing a letter from C. B. Ray of Mercedes which has been printed in the Congressional Record. It reads, in part as follows:

"On Saturday of last week a resident of the valley and his wife started into town to do their week's shopping. He is a citizen, approximately 50 years of age, and of Latin extraction.

"On the way to town he picked up a hitchhiker and was subsequently flagged to the side of the road by a border patrolman. The patrolman demanded proof of the man's citizenship. This he did not have on his person, but indicated that he had such proof at his home.

"If developed, however, that the hitchhiker was an alien, at which time the border patrolman demanded of the driver, 'Did you know we could fine you or put you in jail for transporting an alien?'"

"The reply was in the negative. The border patrolman then said that he was not going to run him in this time, but that he was going to take his car license and his name and that if he was subsequently caught with an alien in his car he would be fined or put in the penitentiary, or both."

Ray's letter continued, "Since when does a man—a citizen of this country—have to be prepared at all time to prove his citizenship, on short notice?"

It has been well said that the men who wrote our Constitution would be thunderstruck at today's version of the government they created.

But in spite of all our discussion of the swollen powers of the nation's chief executive we have overlooking the astonishingly simple manner in which those powers have been permitted to expand.

Our predicament today exists chiefly because Congress has surrendered so many of its legislative powers. Moreover, Congress surrendered its powers because we, the voters, elected too many Senators and Representatives who have only a dim idea of how our economy works.

Because individual members of Congress don't have adequate knowledge, they have let the executive branch take over. The result is that the heads of executive bureaus make more law than Congress does, and our Congressmen seem to have nothing left except to launch one investigation after another.

It is time we gave consideration to the type of men we place in Congress, lest even worse evils come about.

For this reason, we must not allow the emphasis on foreign affairs to obscure important domestic issues. Moreover, we must not let the excitement and glamor of the Presidential race divert us from the other offices which must be filled.

Much consideration should be given to the men we vote into Congress. They are the men we will depend upon to reflect our views directly. And they cannot reflect our views unless we tell them what we want and unless they are able, conscientious, intelligent men.

We must elect men who are aware of their duty as legislators, lest we end up with a one-headed government.

We must elect men who have the intelligence and the will to study details rather than willy-nilly turn over their powers to some bureau or agency.

We must elect men who have a sound working knowledge of finance and our economic system or they will forfeit our future through ignorance.

And above all, we must elect men who are proud of America, who have faith in her future and who place her sound, secure destiny above all else.

For if America is mortally wounded by high taxes, inflation and wild spending, it won't matter how well-informed a Congressman is on Indonesia nor how good an investigator he may be.

This is the year for all Americans to protect our national future, economically and constitutionally. This can be achieved when Americans get together to preserve our basic form of government which encourages freedom of enterprise and progress.

A sound Congress is the prime necessity of the hour.

King Ranch Branch Located in Australia

KINGSVILLE. (AP)—Five Texas A&I College agriculture students are on their way to Australia as nursemaids for 300 head of cattle. They are unusual boys—and the cattle are unusual cattle.

The five picked students have the responsibility of looking after three hundred head of Santa Gertrudis cattle from the King Ranch. The cattle are being shipped to two Australian companies recently formed by the Texas ranch.

The venture is designed to establish a foundation herd of the ranch's Santa Gertrudis breed in Australia, especially in Queensland and the Northern Territory.

The A&I boys, who finished up their spring-semester work early to make the trip, are Gaston Hix and Preston Hix of Raymondville, Thomas (Rod) Summers and Jack Resch of San Antonio, and Mit Shearer of Pearsall.

The are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jim McBride of the Encino Division of the King Ranch.

Ontario and Quebec are Canada's leading fur-producing provinces.

Deadly Traffic Hours Six to Seven P. M.

If you drive your car to and from your job, you should be actively interested in some surprising facts revealed by the Travelers Insurance Companies in their annual survey of auto accidents.

More persons lost their lives in 1951 traffic during the hour from 6 to 7 p. m. than in any other, they report. Travel is heaviest at two distinct times during an average day: from 7 to 10 a. m., when America goes to work, and from 4 to 7 p. m., when we return home.

Without the facts, you would assume that each period would produce about the same number of accidents. The figures show instead that more than twice as many accidents occur during the afternoon and evening hours as in the morning.

At the end of the day, you're tired. Unless you make up for duller reflexes with extra caution, you're in danger. At the end of the day, your attitude is against you. Unless you deliberately curb your impatience and your belligerence, you're in danger. At the end of the day, visibility is poor, especially during the winter months. Unless you slow up and stay well behind the car ahead, you're in danger.

MONSTER TANK CARRIER TRIES TEST ROAD—This 200,000-pound Army tank retriever was one of the heavy vehicles used on the Maryland Test Road by highway engineers in an experiment which proved that pavement built on gravel will carry weights far greater than the heaviest commercial trucks permitted anywhere.

Motorists today drive smoothly at 50 mph over the site of the road test, despite earlier unofficial reports the road was "ruined" by the specially heavy test trucks which were shuttled back and forth 24 hours a day for six months.

The Highway Research Board's official findings, just released in Washington, D. C., describe how the engineers withheld normal road maintenance so that washouts of clay beneath the pavement would permit cracking they could measure against various weights.

The report shows that the 28 concrete slabs on good soil didn't crack, and the tank retriever was run over this part of the highway to confirm that a properly-built road can support heavy loads.

The inadequate Choptank clay under 85 percent of the test road, it was said, exists nowhere except in a few parts of Maryland and Delaware, but the engineers' findings indicate that pavements built anywhere on poor soils, without adding gravel, require faithful maintenance if rain and weathering are not to weaken them so they cannot bear even ordinary traffic.

The Maryland Test Road was reopened to public use after the state highway department spent $9,918 on it, mostly to fix shoulders and drainage found faulty before the test.

Highway designers and builders are hopeful that the Maryland test and others in prospect will point the way to better highway construction and care. They have learned that a good foundation is a good start, for any road.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

KITCHEN PLAN MAY INCLUDE SPACE FOR ALL-PURPOSE ACTIVITY ROOM

by the General Electric Consumer Institute

Do you know why children like to play in the kitchen?

Of course, one reason is because Mother is often there. But another good reason is because of the kitchen floor, which is probably the one floor in the house on which youngsters can spill things without being scolded for their carelessness.

That makes the kitchen area an ideal playroom—except that having children under foot in the actual "working kitchen" is dangerous for the homemaker and for the small fry, too.

But a child's preference for kitchen floor coverings plus Mother's natural desire to keep children, especially of pre-school age, under some sort of surveillance is a good argument for the extension of the kitchen area to include an all-purpose activity room adjoining the "working kitchen" space.

Room Serves Many Purposes

The easily-cleaned floor which makes such an area good as a playroom also makes it valuable as a laundry room, a breakfast room, a utility room, a flower-cutting room, a room for the preparation of foods for home freezing and canning, a storage room for sports equipment and a hobby room for amateur photographers or teen-age chemistry enthusiasts.

Actually, including all these activities in one all-purpose room as part of your kitchen plan is an economical measure. It eliminates the need for separate laundry room, playroom, utility room, sewing room, etc.—all of which would demand extra walls and doors, would cut down on the remaining living space in your home and would be smaller and less satisfactory.

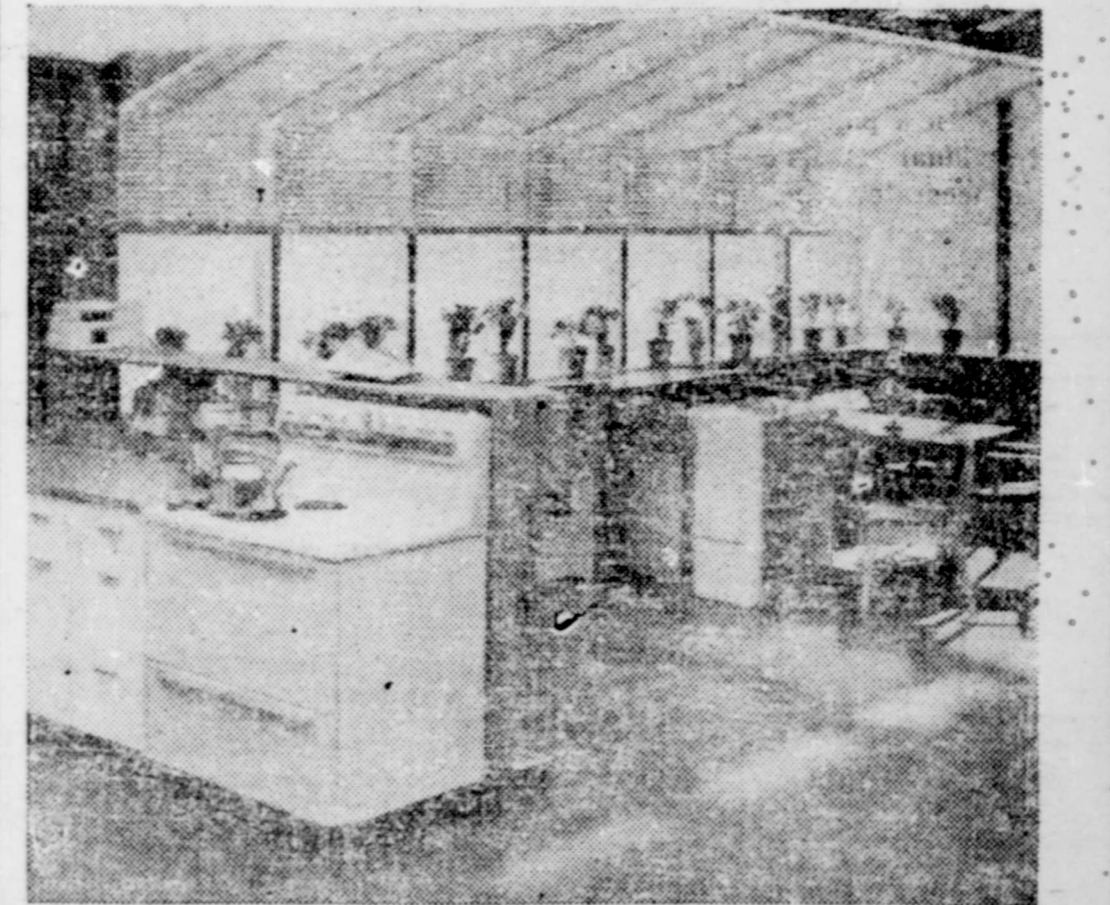

ily lighted—than your one large activity room will be.

Conceal Laundry Appliances
Laundry equipment can be concealed behind cabinets when not in use. Because you will include a sink as part of your laundry equipment (as separate from the kitchen sink), the activity room will lend itself well to home freezing, flower-cutting and such hobbies as photography, all of which make use of water.

Table Is Necessary
One of the most important features of the room should be a large table—one that can be used as a breakfast table, a cutting table for home sewing, a play table for the youngsters, and a game table for teenagers and adults (it might even include a checkboard as part of the design). Obviously, the material with which the table is surfaced must be extremely tough.

Control Cabinet Space
Properly controlled storage space is also a main feature of this all-purpose room of yours. Cabinets should be planned to do definite storage jobs—to keep children's toys out of the way, to take care of the family's collection of tennis racquets, baseball bats and skis, and to harbor jars for canning and containers for freezing as well as sewing and hobby equipment.

It sounds like a big order—but if you plan such a room properly, you'll find it becoming the center of much of the family's leisure-time activity. It's a safe bet that it will turn out to be the most-used room in the house—and the most satisfactory one.

Include an all-purpose activity room in your kitchen plan, with plenty of storage space and an easily-cleaned floor covering, and you can use it as a children's playroom, a laundry room, a sewing room and a game room; it will, in fact, turn out to be the most useful area in the house.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley
Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON. (P)—Texas' Senator Tom Connally is his old colorful self again these days.

He's been a changed man since the day he announced he would not seek reelection.

The veteran Texas Senator time and again for the past year snapped back at colleagues with sharp tongue. Statements he issued sometimes appeared designed for the effect they would have on constituents.

He's able to be independent now," said one Texas House member. "He can act like a statesman and not worry about what the voters think."

Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont, another retiring member of the Texas delegation, also feels the easing of tension these days.

I'm reminded of the ale they still tell around here of Judge Patton Summers," Combs recalled.

They say that the first thing Judge Summers did upon announcing his retirement, after more than 50 years at Dallas' congressional post, was to tell his secretary to get a certain letter out of the files and mail it.

It was one he had written telling off a selfish, demanding constituent for what he really was.

The retiring Texas legislators, however, are not letting up on their activities.

Tech Short Course On Aberdeen Angus
LUBBOCK. The animal husbandry department at Texas Tech introduces a herdsman's short course to go with the 1952 West Texas Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association Field Day.

The third annual field day, scheduled for July 11, will be preceded by a two-day short course for persons interested in fitting and showing beef cattle and the problems associated with the purebred herd management from the herdsman's standpoint.

Ray Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, welcomes others who are interested in good beef cattle and the problems of the herdsman to attend the course.

Some 400 persons are expected to attend the field day, sponsored by the West Texas Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association.

The Versatile Power Saw

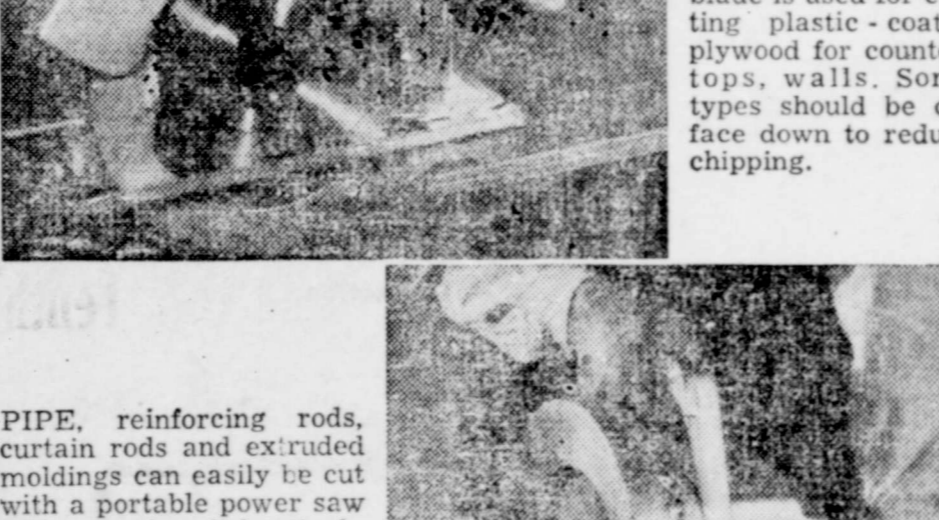

BECAUSE a portable power saw is so versatile, it is a handy tool to own if you are building or remodeling. Standard uses include cutting framing timbers, sheathing, plaster-board, ceiling tile.

CUTTING a groove in concrete for installation of oil lines, left, takes only a few minutes with a power saw. An abrasive disk is used for this. Goggles should be worn.

WHEN a pocket cut is made in plywood or in a wood floor that is being repaired, a combination blade is used. It is standard equipment on most saws.

A FINE-TOOTH blade is used for cutting plastic-coated plywood for counter-tops, walls. Some types should be cut face down to reduce chipping.

PIPE, reinforcing rods, curtain rods and extruded moldings can easily be cut with a portable power saw with abrasive disk attachment. Metal chips will fly, so goggles should be worn.

GOOD NEWS FOR YOUR PENNY BANK

"Watch the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves," is truer today than ever. If the food budget is your bugaboo, it's a good idea to sit down with a pad of paper and pencil in hand and really scan the food advertisements to make sure you are taking advantage of every penny's saving they offer. For instance:

In these days of higher-than-ever prices, the thrifty homemaker has to shop more carefully than ever. Here are some shopping tips for you to keep in mind that will help you balance that food budget.

Milk: Don't skimp your family on this most important food, but do take advantage of nonfat dry milk. Three tablespoons of this dry milk when dissolved in water equals one cup of fluid milk, excepting for butter fat. It has just as much calcium and protein, but costs much less.

Eggs: The color of the shell makes no difference in nutrients, but brown-shelled eggs sometimes cost less, so don't ask for just eggs. Buy the eggs that save you pennies.

Meat: It isn't always the price that makes meat a bargain. If the cut you buy has a high percentage of fat or bone, it may not prove to be the bargain that it sounds. It's best to consider the portion cost of the actual meat your family will have to eat after discarding bone and fat.

Margarine or butter: Margarine has the nutrients found in butter and is far less expensive, so take advantage of this smart buy. If you are buying butter, it's more economical to buy a pound at a time than to get a 1/4 pound stick as you need it.

Pantry Shelf Items: When it comes to foods that keep indefinitely, buy enough to last awhile when the advertisements offer a particularly good buy. Right now, there's a perfect example of such a bargain at your grocers. Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast is now being offered three packages for the price of two. Since this Active Dry Yeast will keep for months on your pantry shelf — even longer in the refrigerator — it's a good idea to stock up while this offer lasts. Active Dry Yeast is better three ways — easier to use, quicker dissolving and faster rising. Each envelope, when dissolved equals one compressed yeast cake. To use the Active Dry Yeast, sprinkle it into warm, not hot, water; stir until dissolved, then combine as usual.

A vastly increased demand for cobalt has resulted from its use in jet engines. Nine-tenths of the asbestos used by U. S. industry comes from Quebec.

Hatching Eggs To Restore Korea's Poultry

Just about wiped out by the embattled armies which swept through southern Korea, was the agriculture of that unfortunate country. Farm stock went to feed invaders and defenders, alike. Whenever a disaster of this kind occurs there always seems to be a group in America which rises to the occasion. This time, it was the Church of the Brethren, which started a movement joined by several other religious organizations and the Heifer farm organization to restore Korea's farm production.

Shown here is a shipment of hatching eggs which, in order to preserve their fertility, had to be shipped quickly. This quick transportation allowed the eggs to reach Pusan, Korea in ideal condition.

Increase in Undulant Fever Is Expected

AUSTIN.—This is the season when an increase of undulant fever may be expected, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

An undulant fever patient suffers from chilly sensations, or severe shaking chills, sweats, and high fever. The patient loses weight and becomes weak. If the illness is of mild type, the patient may find it hard to remain in bed, but if he tries to keep on with his work he finds he has not sufficient energy.

Symptoms often continue for a number of weeks before recovery occurs. Fortunately undulant fever has a low death rate. Body temperature may reach a higher mark each day than the day before some time, and then gradually return to normal over a period of several days. Fever may be absent for some days and come back again in the same way as before, registering higher each day and then gradually going lower. The patient's temperature chart will resemble smooth waves or undulations. The appearance of the temperature curve in typical cases has given this disease the name undulant fever.

Undulant fever is one of the infectious diseases known to be transmitted from animals to human beings. In hogs and cows, the germ produces a great economic loss because it causes contagious abortion. When this same germinvades the human body, the resulting disease is undulant fever. Prevention is dependent upon (1) eradication of the disease in farm animals (2) careful pasteurization of dairy products, and (3) avoidance, in so far as possible, of direct contact with infected animals.

Dairy Industry Facts On Texas

COLLEGE STATION.—Dairying is big business in Texas. The value of all milk produced in the state last year amounted to $200,000,000. Total milk production during the year, says R. E. Burleson, dairy husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reached the 3 billion 800 million pound mark. That, adds the specialist, is a lot of milk but was only enough to supply 65 per cent of that needed by the state's ever-increasing population.

The greatest demand is for fluid milk but great quantities are also used by manufacturers of ice cream, butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed and powdered milk. Burleson says the state ranks fourth in the nation from the standpoint of the total number of dairy cows but 45th in the production per cow. In total pounds of milk produced in the state ranks eleventh. Generally speaking the greatest production is east of a line drawn from Wichita Falls to San Antonio to Corpus Christi. The two largest milk sheds from the standpoint of counties involved and production are the Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth sheds.

AT THE CHURCHES

Crescent Hill Church of Christ
T. J. Finley, Minister

Last week was a good week in every way. The attendance for the Vacation Bible School was very consistent and it is expected to continue throughout the remainder of the school. Many visitors were reported in our services Sunday and some from as far as Athens, Ala. Brother Finley preached during both services.

All the children and many parents are looking forward to the all-school picnic Friday in the park and to the commencement program Friday night. The commencement will be in the Crescent Hill building at 8. The Southside Church of Christ and the Crescent Hill Church of Christ have combined their efforts in the school. Teachers are from both congregations.

Fourteen classes will each give a part of the program and this will set forth some of the work they have been doing during the school.

Those in attendance Friday night will be impressed with such songs as "Only a Little Boy David" and the showing of pictures about Jerusalem, the story of the Twelve Disciples and the many other things planned by the classes. The singing will be under the direction of Brother West and the songs they have chosen will be very beautifully sung. This we believe will be the very best Bible School we have ever had. The parents of these children certainly believe in developing them in their youth.

Rev. Wayne Selsor, director of the Student Foundation for Christian Churches at Texas Tech in Lubbock, will be guest preacher at the local Christian Church Sunday, June 22, in the absence of the pastor.

Rev. and Mrs. Haislip expect to return to Brownfield on June 26th.

The pastoral ministry of Rev. Burson was carried on very successfully at Lufkin, and the Central Church of the Nazarene, Dallas, where he remained for a period of 15 years and built a large and substantial congregation.

In addition to being a strong gospel preacher, Rev. Burson presents timely messages of a prophetic nature which throws the light of God's work on present world conditions. His ministry is challenging and effective.

First Baptist Church
Rev. Jones Weathers, Pastor

The First Baptist Church is beginning a new Youth Program under the direction of the new Youth

Starting Saturday night and each Saturday night thereafter the Young People and Senior Departments will have a Fellowship from 7 until 9 o'clock, according to Miss Doyle. On Tuesdays, from 7 until 9 p. m., the Junior Department will have their Fellowship.

The Fellowships will be held each week and everyone is invited to come and join in the fun on the nights that your age group meets.

The Encampment for the Young People of the First Baptist Church will start June 16. The camp will be at Plains Assembly and is for young people between the ages of 17 and 25.

A very good attendance record for the First Baptist Church's Vacation Bible School was reported. The school enrolled 278 pupils and had an average attendance of 225 each day. The love offering which the school took up each morning to help support the Mexican Bible School came to a total of $54.80. Miss Lilly Ragsdale was the principal of the Bible School.

It was reported that the new church parsonage of the Baptist Church is nearing completion and the pastor and his family might be able to move in by July 1. The new parsonage is located on East Tate.

Service Office News

By C. L. LINCOLN
Terry County Service Officer

The information herewith is a summary of major benefits that the Veterans Administration administers for veterans who have served in the U. S. armed forces anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950, the start of the Korean conflict and for their dependents and beneficiaries.

Government Life Insurance
Under the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951, which became effective April 25, 1951, persons in active service on and after June 27, 1950, are automatically covered against death in active service for $10,000 — less any National Service Life Insurance or U. S. Government Life Insurance in force at time of death.

For those called to active duty 31 days or more, this free indemnity protection continues for 120 days after separation or release from active service.

Two types of Government life insurance are available to these veterans under certain conditions.

The first type is a five-year level premium term policy that may be renewed every five years at the premium rate for the then-attained age. This insurance is not convertible to any other form of Government Life Insurance, nor does it pay dividends.

Veterans who may apply for this insurance are those who were ordered into active duty for 31 days or more and who served since June 27, 1950. They must have been released from such active service.

These veterans may apply to VA for the insurance within 120 days of their separation or release. They do not need a physical examination, but the must pay the first premium. They may take out from $1,000 to $10,000 of this term insurance, less any other Government life insurance in force at the time of application.

The second type of insurance is available to eligible disabled veterans. This coverage is a special form of Government life insurance, in either term or permanent plans, similar to those of National Service Life Insurance, except that the premiums are on a different basis, the insurance pays no dividends, and the benefits upon maturity are different because they are based on different actuarial tables.

Veterans eligible for this special insurance are those who were released or separated from active service on or after April 25, 1951, under other than dishonorable conditions and who are found by VA to be suffering from disability or disabilities for which VA compensation would be payable if 10 per cent or more in degree. They must not be suffering from nonservice-connected disability or disabilities that make them uninsurable.

These veterans must apply to VA for the special NSLI within one year from the date that VA finds their disability or disabilities to be service-connected. Each application must be accompanied by the required physical examination and the necessary premium.

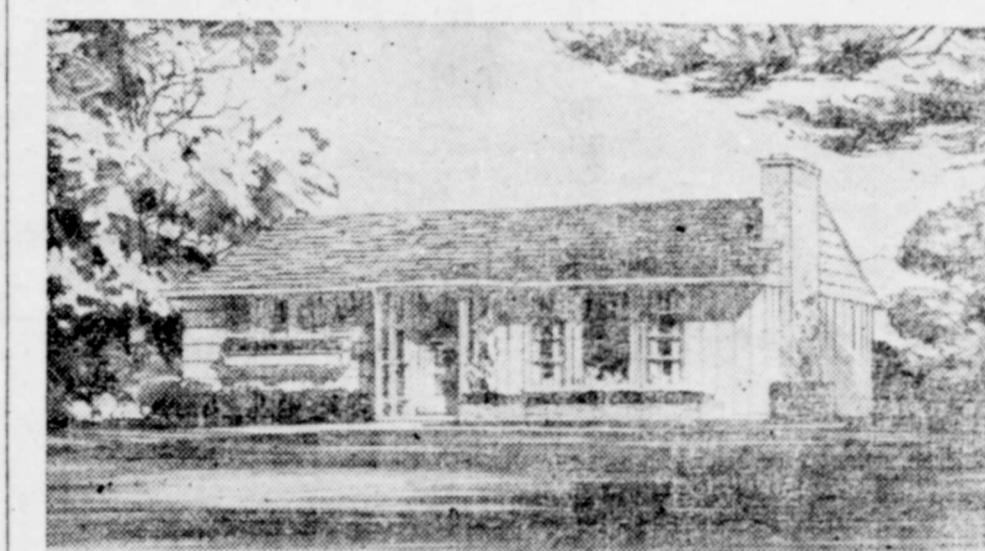

This special NSLI is issuable to eligible disabled veterans on either term or permanent plans in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, less any other Government life insurance in force at the time of application.

If such veterans are totally disabled, they may apply for any of the special plan except those issued under endowment contracts. They also may apply for waiver of premiums at the time they file applications for the insurance, but they should tender the full premium with their applications and continue to pay such premiums on time until they are notified by VA that their waiver has been granted. Premiums paid during waiver will be refunded.

A House that Grows, From Small Homes Guide

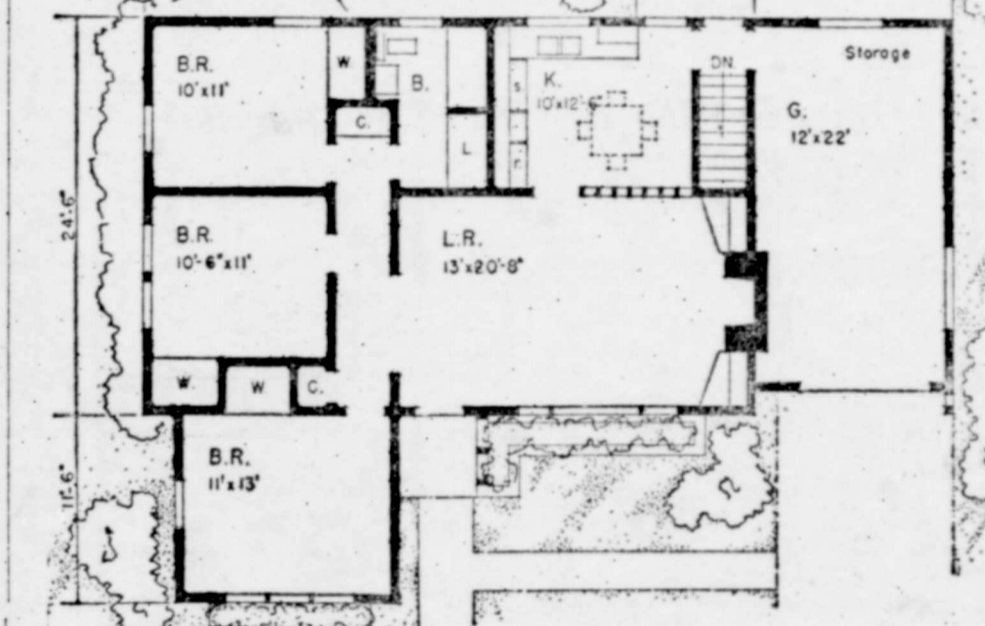

2 or 3 Bedrooms

Shown above and below are two views of the same house in different stages of development. The plan expands to meet the needs of a growing family. The top house can be built as a two-bedroom cottage, with exceptionally large living room and big, square kitchen. Later the third bedroom can be added at the front, with but minor alterations to existing walls and partitions. At the same time, or still later, the garage can be added. This is a basement-type house, but the basement can be omitted, utilities placed where the stairway is shown. Area of the basic house is 945 sq. ft., expanded house 1,104 sq. ft. not counting the garage.

The design is the creation of Architect Elmer Gyllock. Information on blueprints and their cost can be obtained by writing to Small Homes Guide, 82 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Illinois.

Construction Tips for Home Builders

HOLD THE ROOF—In high-wind areas, lengths of steel strapping carried from studs over the tops of joists or rafters and nailed securely are inexpensive insurance against loss of your roof in a strong gale.

STUBBORN NAILS—If you have difficulty withdrawing a nail with a claw hammer, try putting a small block of wood almost up against the nail and under the hammer head. Even large nails will draw easily.

STAIR CLEARANCE—For most home stairways a vertical clearance of 7 feet between the edge of the stairwell opening and the front edge of the step beneath it is considered a necessary minimum.

WEEKEND BUILDING—If you are a do-it-yourself builder, working on weekends, framing with galvanized nails will minimize structure weakening caused by rusting of nails exposed to weather for long periods without protection.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

EVER buy a telephone? Ever receive a bill for telephone repair or maintenance, or the many feet of wiring that connect your telephone within the house? The answer, of course, is no. These are items of cost you never have to contend with.

Now, ask yourself the same questions about any of your other home appliances—refrigerator, kitchen range, radio, water heater. Original cost and month-to-month maintenance of such items amounts to a sizable investment.

But, you don't have to buy the telephone or its wiring—that's part of your telephone company's investment. And, monthly telephone bills take care of all operating expenses, as well as a return to investors. No matter how often you use local telephone service, you pay the same for it each month.

Considering all this, don't you agree that telephone service is the biggest value in your budget?

THE THREE C's — COMFORT, CONVENIENCE, COMPACTNESS

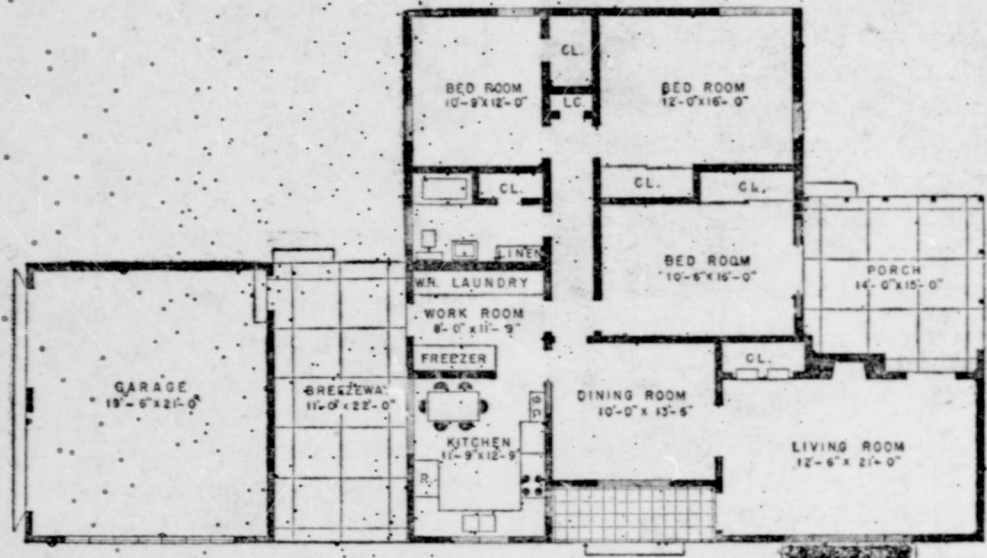

HOUSE PLAN No. 545

In drawing up Farm and Ranch House Plan No. 5245, comfort was the chief consideration; convenience and compactness, however, also fitted nicely into the scheme. The bedrooms, kitchen, and work room are grouped together so the housekeeping will require a minimum number of steps.

The large screened porch and the dining room offer spacious additions to the living area. Storage space has been provided in the living room which actually may serve as a hidden closet. The doors will serve as bookcases on one side of the fireplace and balance the double door to the porch. The bedroom which opens onto the porch was designed as a spare room or study. It will be adequately lighted and well ventilated by the double French doors which open onto the screened porch.

Each bedroom closet has at least eight feet of hanger space, and there is an abundance of linen storage in the bath and hall. The kitchen and work room also have adequate storage space. The protected front entrance gives an attractive break in the straight wall lines of the house. This break is very economical to make, and really affords a great saving in keeping foundation and roof lines simple. If you wish, you can build the house with the idea of adding the garage and breezeway later at no extra cost or inconvenience.

The garage doors open in the side, guarding against the unsightly appearance of the doors standing open as you approach the house. You can obtain blueprints for this Terry County Herald-Farm and Ranch House Plan No. 5245 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5245. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Editorial—

Many thoughtful men and women are deeply concerned as to why the general public does not support programs that will directly aid and assist the handicapped that live in every community and are many of them our neighbors.

A good many men of high standards and high ideals, who run for public office, often advocate that we build more schools, highways, and hospitals, etc. This is a fine thing. But these same men seldom advocate real rehabilitation to our needy and handicapped. All organized groups in our vicinity have a wonderful chance by joining hands on a common level and assisting in rehabilitation of our needy and distressed.

This writer's opinion will differ with several others on this subject. Listed below is just a few projects that would be a worth while community planning program. Any group could buy one or more wheel chairs, crutches, hospital beds, etc. Locate the above described equipment in the local headquarters for people who need this service. Place it at the disposal of all members and without cost to the individual. We need to do the small things that will do the most.

We offer this as a community project. We feel that if every organization will wholeheartedly cooperate our crippled and handicapped citizens would be made happier and we could feel with pride that we had accomplished something that is badly needed.—C. L. Lincoln.

Stricklin Speaking

By OLD HE

And then we wonder why there are so many wrecks with people killed or wounded, maybe maimed for life. Reminds us of the one Sunday in a nearby town that took the life of one of the occupants, as well as injuring several of his companions. A couple from this city saw the maneuvering of that car just an hour or so before the fatal accident.

The local couple had stopped at a roadside cafe and cold drink dispensary out near the city limits, when this high powered car came by 90 to nothing. After getting down the highway some 100 yards, the car came to a screeching stop, as they decided to get some refreshments. The driver threw the car in reverse and the couple declare he came back up to the cold drink emporium just as fast as most people run their cars forward.

The lady said to her husband: "That crowd seems to be out looking for a wreck." It all happened in less than two hours. Boys, girls, let a rather old guy whisper this to you: You don't have to be reckless to make your friends think a lot of you. After you have killed yourself and maybe others either killed or wounded, the survivors and other people try to forget they ever knew you just as soon as possible.

Maybe we are just dumb, but when we recently read a roster of the local National Guard company, and found that all but two of the company were either commissioned officers or non-coms, we just had to grin. Just two lone privates for some dozen or two officers to boss.

Several of the State candidates are making this neck of the woods of late. And, we note they are getting little mention from the weekly or even the daily press, even though the good candidates always make the newspaper office. Fact is, the weekly press has finally been wised up to the effect that these smiling gentlemen are just seeking a bit of free publicity.

They want the little weekly newspapers to tell their readers at what hour and over what chain of radios they may be heard. In other words, the candidates are spending their money with the radios. So, the weeklies have decided to let the radios tell when Mr. Candidate is going to speak.

A bit of old time compene sense: What is the use in people sitting down and at great length tell what they think is the trouble with the world, and the remedy for the world's troubles, when at the same time they are unable to remedy their own domestic troubles?

And speaking of your trouble and our troubles and problems, there are few if any of us that are willing to sit down with a psychiatrist and tell him our shortcomings at $10 per hour. He to get the money, of course.

The Herald family has been jumping around quite a lot this week, absent some birthdays. Monday the 9th, the Jr. Editor had one, and he's not old enough yet to try to hide his age, being only 39. Then on the 10th, his daughter, Miss Mary Ann, was all of three. This little tike was born while the writer was back in Tennessee attending the Homecoming at New Hope in 1949. A telegram told us about her arrival just a few hours after the stork brought her.

An old time friend, Doss Windham, called on us this week, the first time we had seen him in years, about 1920 to be exact. At that time his widowed mother was still living, and because of her poor health, they moved back to east Texas, where she died some three years ago.

Doss got one leg cut off between the knee and foot back before we knew him, and for some reason has never been able to use an artificial limb, and goes on crutches. Said he just traveled most of the time. Can't help but admire a man who takes care of his widowed mother as long as she lives.

The powers that be have been very careless in letting milling machinery get by them and go behind the iron curtain to help make instruments to kill our own boys. We have let far too many of them be shipped to our so-called allies, England and France, to be reshipped to the iron curtain regions.

But one such was recently caught on the docks of Hoboken, N. J., intended for Poland. It was a 114-ton machine, detected just in time to stop its shipment, despite the protest of its buyers. With very little changes, that machine, is now in the mid-west turning out aluminum forgings for F-84 Thunderjets.

It was supposed to be used in Poland to make locomotive parts. But was that really the idea of the Poland buyers?
