

Junior Auto Races Set For August 28, $500 In Prizes Is Already Pledged

Brownfield's Junior Auto races will be held Thursday, August 28, on the hill by the local rodeo grounds. The site was chosen, according to F. N. Martin, Lions Club auto races chairman, because of its proximity to a large parking area.

About $500 in prizes has already been pledged for race winners, and additional prizes are expected to be given by local merchants.

First inspection for cars to be entered in the race will be held about August 22, so that owners of the midget racers will have time to make any necessary alterations before the race.

A list of local prize winners in the recent Lubbock Soap Box Derby races is as follows:

Danny Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Powers, 417 So.

Third, sponsored by Busy Bee Cafe, won two heats of 42 seconds. He was ahead in the third heat but when he came to the underpass a gust of dust was whipped up by the wind momentarily blinding the boy and making him swerve. His prize was a pair of blue jeans and a baseball cap, courtesy of J. C. Penney Dry Goods, Lubbock.

Jack McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid McIntosh, 701 East Buckley, won two heats, time 44½ seconds. His sponsor was Martin's Radio & Electric. Jack won a three months' pass to the Red Raider Drive-In.

George Eugene Lackey won a cash certificate for $7.50, from Cobb's Department store in Lubbock. His two heats were also made in 42 seconds. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lackey of 820 North Atkins, and was sponsored by West Texas Motors.

The fastest heat clocked for a Brownfield boy was by Bobby Whitney, in 41 seconds. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitney, Tahoka Road. His prize was a one-year certificate to all concessions in Mackenzie State Park, and was sponsored by the Melody Music Mart.

James Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Herring, 900 South Fifth, was also a prize winner in the Lubbock Derby, but information concerning his prize was not available at presstime.

Band School to Start August 4

With football season and school only a month away, the championship Brownfield High School band and Jr. High band are starting to prepare now for another big year of activity. The annual August band school starts here Monday, August 4. During the months activity the band will have instrumental classes, football marching drill, and concerts.

The band school is the most important band month in the school year. Here the band will be re-organized, drum major and majorettes chosen and tryouts will be made for the places in the concert and marching organizations. Both the high school and junior high bands will be larger this year with approximately ninety members in each organization.

Many trips are being planned for the bands this year. Last spring, at the interscholastic league contest, the Brownfield band was one of the twenty bands from all over the state to receive an invitation to the state fair at Dallas. The band will perform both in concert and marching in the cotton bowl. Fred R. Smith, director of the bands, and the band members were greatly honored by this invitation and are looking forward to the trip to Dallas.

Three concerts are also planned for the month to be given in the evenings on the lawn in front of the high school. These concerts will consist mostly of marches, popular and light classical music designed to be enjoyed by every one.

A beginning class is also being planned and Mr. Smith hopes that he will have a large class starting now when the students have more time to practice before school starts.

An invitation is extended to any band members that have moved to Brownfield this summer with a hope that they will come and take part in the summer activities.

Registration for the band school is Friday, August 1, at the high school band hall.

8 a. m. to 12 m.—High School band members.

1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m.—Junior High and beginning band members.

Minor Auto Accidents Occur Over Weekend

A minor auto accident occurred about 7 p. m. Sunday four miles east of Brownfield on the Tahoka highway, when Mrs. G. F. Scoggin, 213 South Eighth, attempted to pass a car driven by her husband. She received treatment for minor injuries at the local hospital and was released.

Minor cuts and abrasions were suffered by Leon James Dagley of Lubbock who lost control of the Dodge pickup truck he was driving Friday about 7:10 p. m. on the Lubbock highway. His injuries were not serious, although the truck turned over several times.

Conditions of Accident Patients Are Reported

Accident patients in the local hospital earlier this week were reported to be in "fair condition," "satisfactory condition" and "improving gradually," after a series of recent automobile accidents in the area raised the accident toll to an unusual high.

Alton E. Anthony, 23, of La Mesa, is in "fair condition," and making "gradual improvement" after receiving a broken neck when his car overturned Tuesday, July 22, about 11 miles west of Brownfield on the Roswell highway. George F. Blanchard Jr., of Lubbock, age 21, who was driving Anthony's car at the time of the accident, is reported to be progressing "satisfactorily" after suffering a broken collar bone in the accident.

Anthony and Blanchard, accompanied by Pat Patterson, 23, of Lubbock, who was not injured, were returning to Lubbock after looking for jobs near Roswell. Anthony and Patterson were sleeping, and Blanchard is believed to have gone to sleep while driving. The car, a 1952 Ford coach, went on to the right shoulder, then crossed the highway and overturned.

Bob Maynard, who was in critical condition from shock and loss of blood when he entered the hospital for treatment of a crushed hip, is now reported to be in "fair" condition by hospital attendants. He was involved in a two-car collision at the Needmore Community store Wednesday, July 23, about 8 p. m. in which two passengers in the pickup truck he was driving were killed.

James Osborne, driver of the second auto involved in the collision, was released from the hospital Monday.

Evelyn Keith, who suffered a broken back in an auto accident July 11, at Brownfield, is reported to be "gradually improving."

Ysidro Garza, who is being treated for severe arm lacerations, following a Friday night auto accident in the flats, is in "satisfactory condition," and Gomez Roman's condition is described as "fair." He is being treated for a broken jaw.

NO SHANGRI-LA

When you walk into a department store these days, there is bustling activity all over the place. People are looking and buying and the cash registers are jingling. So it's quite natural to assume that the stores are doing exceedingly well indeed and that the storekeeper is living in some thing resembling an economic Shangri-La.

The truth is, however, that this Shangri-La, from the store operator's viewpoint, has flaws in it—some very serious. A short time ago a statistical summary of financial performance of 245 department and specialty stores with gross sales totaling about $724,000,000 during the first quarter of the year was made public. For the department stores involved, net profit from merchandising operations averaged only one per cent of sales—a decline of more than 28 per cent as against the same period last year. For the specialty stores, the merchandising profits averaged 1.9 per cent of sales—a drop of 24 per cent. Forty per cent of the department stores actually sustained losses from merchandising operations during the quarter.

This poor profit performance was due primarily to reduced margins and increased operating expenses. In a word, the cost of carrying on the business has outrun the price increases we consumers are always kicking about. It is common for stores to make less clear profit on an item now than when prices were far below present levels.

So, if you think the merchants are the beneficiaries of inflation and its attendant disease, think again. Like you, they are also victims.

scarcely a single activity exists for which Federal expenditures are made but has some measure of duplication to other activities in the states or private enterprise.—Representative Walt Horan.

BRITISH EXPERTS SEE FREE ENTERPRISE AT WORK

A group of British experts recently made an extensive study of the American coal mining industry. Their report has been published by the Anglo-American Council on Productivity. And it's interesting to see what most impressed our friends from across the Atlantic.

One thing was the driving spirit of the industry and the people who work in it. They pointed to the adventurous approach of American engineers, who have shown that every mining process can be mechanized to achieve increased output at lower cost.

Another thing was the constant stress on new developments and techniques. The British experts found that our soft coal industry never seems satisfied with current performance—the stress is always doing a still better job.

Still another thing was the excellence of the way personnel is trained and supervised. And they were fascinated, too, by the way coal management goes about its work, with no stalling, no indecision, no buck-passing, no red tape. The English experts, of course, came from a nation whose economic difficulties—like those of much of Europe—are in considerable part the result of inadequate coal production. An that inadequacy, to a great extent, is the result of the stultifying influence of socialism and political domination of foreign coal industries. It's no wonder they were amazed by what free, competitive enterprise can do.

THEY DON'T MIX

Some time ago, a Southern power and light company built a working model of a dam and displayed it throughout the state. The purpose was to show that flood-control and hydro-electric power production can't be mixed in the same structure, for the reason that a power dam needs a full head of water behind it, while for flood control the reservoir must be empty or nearly so.

In a recent speech the president of the United States, while dedicating a new government dam, spoke of this model in a very critical manner, and said that it hadn't fooled anybody.

The President is entitled to his opinions, as are the rest of us. But opinions and facts are often two entirely different things. It has been proven on several occasions that attempts to mix flood control and power production can be disastrous. A number of years ago, for instance, the Saturday Evening Post ran an article by Elmer T. Peterson in which part of the story dealt with a multipurpose dam in Oklahoma. Mr. Peterson wrote, "The Federal managers of this dam wanted to keep it full so that it could produce power. . . . When the flood came, it was necessary to open the gates immediately and the raging Grand River produced a flood in the lower valley and in the Arkansas River as if there had been no dam at all. The resulting flood damage amounted to $127,000,000, more than five times the original cost of the dam, and a great food-producing region was ruined. . . . Despite warnings, 19 lives were lost."

That is a fact—not an opinion. You certainly don't need to be an engineer to see that you've got to have a lot of water on hand if you want to produce power—while you've got to have an empty reservoir if you want to contain a flood. So flood control and power production mix no better than oil and water.

THE GOP OPPOSES SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

Every American who is interested in bringing the nation's health standards to the highest possible level—as well as in the perpetuation of freedom—will approve of one plank adopted by the Republican Party at Chicago. It reads: "We recognize that the health of our people as well as their proper medical care cannot be maintained if subject to Federal bureaucratic dictation. There should be a just division of responsibility between government, the physician, the voluntary hospital, and voluntary health insurance. We are opposed to Federal compulsory health insurance with its crushing cost, wasteful inefficiency, bureaucratic dead weight, and debased standards of medical care. We shall support those health activities by government which will stimulate the development of adequate hospital services without Federal interference in local administration. We favor support of scientific research. We pledge our continuous encouragement of improved methods of assuring health protection."

It is reported that this plank, when read, drew more applause from both delegates and the galleries than any other part of the platform. On a number of occasions General Eisenhower has expressed his unequivocal disapproval of socialized or politically-dominated medicine, so it is certain that the plank is in accord with his views.

All partisan considerations to one side, the Republican Party's statement points to the only way in which the standards of medical care can be steadily and markedly improved. This fact is sharply underlined by the tragic experience of England and other countries, where socialized medicine has ominously reduced those standards, even as it has placed a tremendous burden on the taxpayers. In any profession, the hand of the bureaucrat deadens and destroys, and medicine is no exception.

Christine Gorman Weds Lynn Wright In Informal Vows at Baptist Church

Miss Christine Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Gorman, 512 South Seventh, became the bride of Lynn J. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wright of Sudan, in an informal ceremony read Sunday at 2 p. m., in the Brownfield First Baptist Church.

Vows were read by Rev. Jones W. Weathers, pastor of the church, before an altar decorated with arrangements of yellow mums against a background of palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length wedding dress of chantilly lace and tulle over white slipper satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with an off-shoulder effect scalloped yoke filled in with illusion and was buttoned down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The long fitted sleeves fastened at the wrists with tiny matching buttons.

Her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion cascaded from a tiara of illusion detailed with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of red roses carried atop a white Bible. For something old, the bride wore pear earstuds, and something new was her wedding ensemble. The white Bible which she carried was something borrowed, and a garter was something blue. A penny was placed in her shoe for luck by her father.

Mrs. H. D. Bevers of Kingsville attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Virginia Martin of Brownfield served as bridesmaid. The bride's attendants were identically designed ballerina length dresses of embroidered organdy fashioned with fitted bodices and full gathered skirts. Mrs. Bevers' frock was in orchid, and Miss Martin was dressed in yellow, and they carried bouquets of carnations in tones matching their dresses. The picture hats and frocks worn by the attendants were made by the bride's mother.

John McAnally of Littlefield served the bridegroom as best man, and Clell E. Wright of Lucedale, Miss., brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Ushers were Charles R. Gorman of Austin, and Leodell Gorman of Brownfield, both brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Pat Rameur, organist, played a medley of traditional bridal selections as a musical prelude to the ceremony, and also accompanied Mrs. Bill Cope, soloist, who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone."

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception honoring the couple was held in the church parlor by the bride's parents. Mrs. Billy D. Speck, aunt of the bride, registered guests. Members of the house party were Mrs. Bill Mitchell of Seymour, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Charles Gorman of Austin, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Florence Crowder of Brownfield, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Laverne Jackson of Brownfield.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Speck of San Francisco, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman of Austin, Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Anton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Scott of Anton, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Andrews of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Barnes of Amherst, Mrs. H. D. Bevers and daughter Sandra of Kingsville, and Mrs. Ed Womack of Littlefield.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride chose for traveling a two-piece suit of metallic printed aqua nylon, with brown and white accessories. The couple will be at home after August 7, at 603 South First.

The bride's family has lived in Brownfield for the past 30 years, and she has been a local resident all her life. She is a graduate of both Brownfield High school and a business college in Lubbock. At present she is employed as a clerk by the Magnolia Petroleum company. The bridegroom attended school at Anton.

Rev. D. D. Denison expressed his appreciation to persons who served meals for the preachers during last week's revival.

Mrs. Latham announced that the apron which has been the society's current project for raising money for the new church parlor fund, will have the patches removed at Monday's meeting, and funds collected will be totaled.

Announcement was made that a Layman's Retreat will be held at Ceta Canyon Friday through Sunday of this week.

Reports were made by representatives of Faith, Hope and Love circles.

Visitors present were Mrs. Tommy Eastham, Mrs. Ted Davis and Rev. Denison.

Members attending were Mesdames R. J. Purcell, Latham, J. B. Worsham, Vernon N. Henderson, Fannie Maupin, B. L. Thompson, J. W. Hogue, Anna Hare, C. E. Bartley, Wayland Parker, Johnny Criswell Singletary, W. B. Downing, A. W. Early, Ida Belle Walker, Collier, Tim Faulkenberry, Coke Tooliver, Sherman Mitchell, A. H. Reed, M. J. Craig, C. E. Fitzgerald, James Warren, J. B. Ricketts, Perla Cardwell, B. J. Hill, Glen Davis, J. H. Carpenter, Harris and Jacobs, and Miss Maude Bailey.

Members enjoying the dinner and bridge were Mesdames Geo. Germany, Chris Haefel, Bill Anderson, Slim Schillinger, Johnnie Kendrick, Howard Hurd and Tommy Zorn.

In the games, Mrs. Germany scored high and Mrs. Bill Anderson low, while Mrs. Johnny Kendrick won bingo and the traveling prize.

Best Fly Control, Prevent Breeding

The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city, community, and individual in the state, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The most effective measure for fly control is to prevent their breeding. Flies breed in filth and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one fly lays from 600 to 1,000 eggs.

To eliminate flies, the breeding places must be destroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture, and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. Flies should be kept from contact with food or drink or utensils in which such food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privy vaults where they pick up infections, which they later spread to humans by contact with the food and drink, and by unwashed hands and utensils.

See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. See that your grocer keeps meat, vegetables and fruit screened from flies.

The use of DDT and other sprays for the control of all varieties of adult flies and fly larvae have come into wide usage. However, their use should be, after all trash and breeding places have been eliminated. Otherwise, spraying will give only temporary relief and a false sense of security.

Be A Good Manager Of the Home

COLLEGE STATION—A homemaker can help herself to be a good manager. In actual practice, good management means doing a job easier, according to Minnie Bell, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It simply means work simplification.

Miss Bell points out that a good home manager is a planner, a decision maker, a director, a teacher, an evaluator, coordinator and consumer buyer all at the same time. Home management furnishes the "how" and is the overall direction of the activities in the home which lead toward achieving individual and family satisfaction.

One of the most important, yet often said to be the most troublesome, parts of home management is planning long-time goals. The family may know what they want today, tomorrow or next year, but often fail to recognize needs ten or more years away. Since planning is so important, Miss Bell says the whole home management program is affected when it is omitted.

Families need to recognize they live in cycles and should plan accordingly. The specialist states that demands on family incomes are light during early marriage. They become increasingly heavier through grade and high school and perhaps even heavier during the college cycle.

Then the recovery or "rediscovery period" after the children have left home, the financial demands become lighter again. Miss Bell explains that the retirement years are usually the lightest of all.

Some Worth While Silage Savings Hints

COLLEGE STATION—There is a good and bad side right now to the silage crop picture in Texas. The good side, says R. E. Burleson, dairy husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is that more acres of silage crops were planted this year than for any one year since the early 1940's. The bad side of the picture has largely been caused by a lack of rainfall during the past weeks.

Burleson points out that corn so far has been the main silage crop hurt by the dry weather but adds, unless rains come very soon sorghums will also suffer. When crops suffer from dry weather so do pastures, and the specialist emphasizes the need for a feeding program that will ease the situation when help is needed most. That program, he says, is a silage program.

He points out here that something can be done to save not only the crops originally planted for silage but those on which yields will be materially reduced if left for later harvest. To prevent a total loss, Burleson suggests harvesting the crop for silage at an earlier stage. The silage will not have the total feeding value of crops left until they have reached the proper growth stage but will be much better than crops left in the field and salvaged as dry roughage later.

When the dried up crops are used for silage, the addition of water becomes almost a necessity says Burleson. If the silage is so dry that it is spongy upon packing, water must be added. On the other hand, if the crop packs well when the silo is filled, the addition of water is not necessary.

Silos, regardless of the type used, should be in first class condition before they are filled. The walls of the trench silo should be smooth and adequate drainage at the mouth of the trench are must if spoilage and waste are to be held to a minimum. Check the walls and braces of the box silo to make sure they'll stand up under pressure of the silage as it settles. Lining the walls of a box silo with silage paper will help eliminate losses from spoilage.

Weather conditions in some sections of the state will permit normal harvesting of the silage crop. Burleson says to get the most feed nutrients per acre from the silage crop, corn should be harvested when it is just past the roasting ear stage; sorghums in the soft dough stage; sudan and other grasses just before they bloom and legumes in the early bloom stage.

Regardless of the condition of the crop at harvest time, Burleson says pack, pack and then pack some more when the silo is being filled. The greatest single cause of spoilage or waste, he says, is

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending July 12, 1952, were 35,462 compared with 28,318 for the same week in 1951. Cars received from connections totaled 8,985 compared with 9,478 for the same week in 1951.

Total cars moved were 44,447 compared with 37,796 for same week in 1951. Santa Fe handled a total of 40,261 cars in preceding week of this year.

UP A TREE!

Two old coon hunters were swapping tall stories about their dogs.

"Why," said one of them, "I had a yaller hound once and every time just before I went hunting I'd whittle out a board in the shape of a coon hide stretcher, just to show him the size of the one I wanted—then I'd set it aside where he could see it. Well, sir, one day my wife set the ironin' board outside and that critter ain't come back yet!"—Santa Fe Magazine.

not enough packing at filling time. As a final recommendation on preventing waste, the specialist suggests that a box-type trough, on runners, and with a V-slot through which the cows feed be used for feeding silage and hay. Information on this type trough may be obtained from the local county agricultural agent, says Burleson.

Boy's Ranch to Be Host to Famous Bit and Spur Club of KC Over Labor Day Weekend

America's First Boys' Ranch, located 40 miles northwest of Amarillo, Texas, will be host over the Labor Day weekend to the renowned Clay County Bit and Spur Club of Kansas City. The world-famous riding club has made appearances all over the nation and will make the trip to the Texas Panhandle and Boys' Ranch to assist in the festivities and performances of the Eighth Annual Boys' Ranch Rodeo. A special train with two Palace horse cars will carry the seventy club members and 48 horses to Amarillo from Kansas City. Also featured in the Boys' Ranch Rodeo will be movie star Chill Wills who is famous for his voice characterization of Francis the mule, Minnie Pearl of Grand Ole Opry fame, Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight boxing champ, and the Whippoorwill and Georgia Brown, who are featured with Roy Rogers in all his movies.

Last year almost 109,000 Texas cotton producers participated in the Smith-Doxey Cotton Classing program. It's time now to get in the group application for the service this fall.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Today I take my pen in hand for a heart to heart talk-fest with the ladies of this land. You don't find too many essayists who are brave enough—or dumb enough—to go to the mat with our women folks and tell 'em where and how they are off the beam. I hasten to say, though, that it is not too often that our fair sex—bless 'em—don't keep their feet pretty well on terra firma. They may imagine that the beauty shoppe can work miracles, or than an open-toe shoe lends chic, but that is no more comical or foolish than rubbing hair tonic on papa's bald pate.

My critical word to the ladies today is in reference to their failure to take the old so-called head of the household by the nape of the neck—the scruff—and bounce him back onto his job. The time is at hand for the sweet little woman to tell her hero that he has acted pixedated long enough—time to get back to work. Time to say to the labor boss man, Oh! yeh, when he orders her man onto the picket line where he looks like a timid mouse versus her hero.

My faith in the fair of the land is overwhelming. The time approacheth when they will take a hand. If I can needle 'em a bit—get 'em wrought up enough—we can leave it to them to clear the deck—and get the pay-check back in circulation.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A great deal of interest is being shown this year for soil improving crops. This is especially true where the land is under irrigation. There are several adapted legumes that can be seeded in the early fall. The CYT Soil Conservation District owns a legume seeder that is available to farmers. This particular type seeder makes it possible to seed hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas or Madrid clover in cotton and feed land without disturbing the existing crop. The legumes will grow during the fall, winter and early spring and may be plowed under before planting time the next spring. By doing this, no crop is missed, valuable organic matter and nitrogen is added to this soil, and a protective cover is maintained on the land during the blow season.

Hairy Vetch

Description: Widely adapted annual winter legume.

Uses: Soil protection; soil improvement, grazing, hay and seed.

Fertilizer Requirements: 200 to 400 pounds of 20 per cent super-phosphate per acre. Apply fertilizer in drill with seed or broadcast and disc or bed into soil.

Clinic Adaptation: Adapted to this region where land is under irrigation.

Inoculation: All seed should be inoculated prior to planting. Buy inoculant when seed are purchased and use according to directions.

Planting Time: August 15 thru October 1.

Planting Rate: Where seeded in cotton and feed land, 10-15 pounds per acre; where seed with rye, 10-15 pounds per acre. Rye is the best small grain for sandy soil and for mixture seedings.

Covering Depth: 3-4 inches in dry soil; 2-3 inches in moist soil.

Planting Method: Use special legume seeder for drilling vetch in cotton and feed land. To seed in pure stand or in mixture with rye, use grain drill.

Harvesting: For green manure, plow or disc land into approximately 30 days before latest planting date of following crop.

Acres Yield: Green manure, 2 to 4 tons; seed production, 200 to 600 pounds.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I am a school teacher and a World War II veteran. I took GI Bill training last summer, and I expected to continue this summer. But I became ill and will have to stay in bed for a couple of months. Will I be able to go ahead with my studies next summer, or will I lose out because I skipped a summer?

A. You will be permitted to continue with your GI studies next summer, since this summer's interruption has been for a reason beyond your control. Of course, you must continue to be employed as a teacher during consecutive regular school years.

Q. I am a peacetime veteran, having gone into service after World War II and having been discharged before Korea. I have a service-connected disability for which I draw compensation. May I have this disability treated by VA on an out-patient basis?

A. A veteran may be furnished outpatient treatment by VA for any compensable service-connected disability, whether incurred during wartime or peacetime service.

No. 1224
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS:

Section I. That it shall be hereafter unlawful for itinerant merchants who may remove from place to place to sell or offer for sale any bankrupt, fire or water damaged stock of merchandise, or goods, wares, or any other commodity or for a person to go from house to house or from place to place in the City of Brownfield, Texas, soliciting, selling or taking orders for goods, wares, merchandise, subscriptions to magazines, newspapers, to expose plates or films, or make negatives, to make pictures, or photographs for future delivery or any article for future delivery without first applying for and obtaining a permit or license to do so from the City Secretary of the City of Brownfield, Texas.

Section II. That any person desiring to engage in the business of itinerant merchant or that of peddling within the corporate limits of the City of Brownfield, Texas, shall first make written application for a permit or license to do so to the Chief of Police of the City of Brownfield, Texas, which application shall show the name and address of the applicant, the name and address of person, firm or corporation which such applicant represents; the name of the immediate last preceding three towns in which he operated, if any; the kind of goods, wares and merchandise, offered or to be offered for sale, and whether such applicant upon any such order so obtained will demand, accept or receive payment or deposit of money in advance of final delivery, and the period of time such applicant so wishes to solicit, sell or take orders in the City of Brownfield, Texas; such application shall also show satisfactory proof of his or her authority to represent the company or individual such applicant so states that he represents; such application to be in writing; such written application shall be accepted by the Chief of Police as aforesaid by a fee of $2.50 and no permit hereunder shall be issued until such fee has been paid by such applicant and such application has been so filed with the Chief of Police of the City of Brownfield, Texas, for a period of 48 hours.

Section III. At the time of making application for such registration card the applicant shall submit to and be finger printed by the police department of the City of Brownfield, Texas, and such finger print shall be kept as a permanent record in the office of the police department of the City of Brownfield, Texas.

Section IV. Where the application for such permit and/or license herein provided shows that the applicant will not demand, receive or accept payment and/or deposit of money in advance of final delivery of such goods, wares or merchandise or articles to be sold and/or solicited by such applicant, it shall be the duty of the City Secretary of the City of Brownfield, Texas, to issue to such applicant a permit to solicit, sell, and take orders for such goods, wares, merchandise, and/or articles set out in such applicant's application for such permit within the City of Brownfield, Texas, for a period of 12 months except that of itinerant merchant, from the date of the issuance of such permit, and upon the payment of the fees as hereinafter provided for. If the application shows that such applicant shall receive, demand or accept payment and/or deposit of money in advance of final delivery of goods, wares, merchandise, and/or articles sold, then such application shall be accompanied by a bond in the penal sum of $500.00 executed by such applicant as principal and a surety company licensed to do business as such in the State of Texas or by two financially responsible owners of property situated in the State of Texas, subject to execution, of the value in double of the amount of such bond conditioned upon making final delivery of such goods, wares, merchandise, magazines, newspapers, plates, films, and photographs and/or articles in accordance with the terms of such order and/or orders obtained and which bond shall be used for the benefit of all persons, firms, corporations who may pay in advance or make any advance deposit on the purchase of said orders and said bond shall so stipulate in its terms. Section V. The City Secretary of the City of Brownfield, shall issue license upon the payment of the following fees, to-wit:

A. For itinerant merchants offering for sale bankrupt stock, fire or water damaged stock of goods, wares, merchandise, or any other commodity for a limited time of one month or less, $50.00. For each additional month for each of the next five months or fraction thereof, $10.00. If merchant liable to above named tax remains more than six months and up to twelve month, for each additional month or fraction thereof, $5.00.

B. For traveling medicine vendors, $25.00.

C. For medical specialist, $25.00.

D. For making negatives, exposing plates or films, or making photographs or pictures, $25.00.

E. For magazine or newspaper subscriptions, $5.00.

Section VI. Provided persons offering for sale agricultural products, meats, poultry, or other articles of food, grown or produced by such persons shall not be required to pay the license fees, but license shall be issued to such persons by the City Secretary upon the satisfactory proof that they have produced or grown the products to be peddled and such license shall so state.

Section VII. All licenses issued hereunder shall be, except as herein provided specifically otherwise, for a period of twelve months from the date of issuance. Section VIII. That this license shall not be issued to any person whereby peddling shall be authorized in fire limits and any towns in which he operated, if any; the kind of goods, wares and merchandise, offered or to be offered for sale, and whether such applicant upon any such order so obtained will demand, accept or receive payment or deposit of money in advance of final delivery, and the period of time such applicant so wishes to solicit, sell or take orders in the City of Brownfield, Texas; such application shall also show satisfactory proof of his or her authority to represent the company or individual such applicant so states that he represents; such application to be in writing; such written application shall be accepted by the Chief of Police as aforesaid by a fee of $2.50 and no permit hereunder shall be issued until such fee has been paid by such applicant and such application has been so filed with the Chief of Police of the City of Brownfield, Texas, for a period of 48 hours.

Section IX. That it shall be unlawful for any peddler to take a stand, or stop or stand his vehicle on any public street within the corporate limits of the City of Brownfield, Texas, for a longer time than ten minutes. Section X. That all peddlers shall in all respects comply with all other ordinances of the City of Brownfield, Texas, applicable to such persons; and this ordinance shall not be construed to repeal any of the health, sanitary, or food ordinances of the City of Brownfield, Texas, but shall be accumulative thereof and in addition thereto.

Section XI. That any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction be fined in sum not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00; and each and every days' delay in complying with the terms of this ordinance, and each and every day any person shall peddle without a license shall be a separate offense.

Section XII. That if any section, subdivision, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or void, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance.

Section XIII. That the fact that the present ordinances of the City of Brownfield, Texas, are inadequate and the further fact that many peddlers are now plying their trade without a license, creates an emergency and a rule requiring reading of ordinances on three several days is hereby suspended; and this ordinance is declared an emergency ordinance and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

Passed this 24th day of July, A. D. 1952.

HOMER W. NELSON, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas.

ATTEST: Alva J. Geron, City Secretary, City of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas. 52-2c
