

LOCAL BANKS IN SPLENDID CONDITION; OVER 13 MILLION ON DEPOSIT

The call for bank statements by the Comptroller of the Currency came a bit early this year. Generally, it is the 30th of September, but this time it was the 5th. However, the difference of 25 days would make in deposits would not amount to very much, as crops will not really begin to roll until in October.

Anyway, the resources of the two banks, Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., and the First National, are good, and the public can be proud of them, with full confidence in their ability to see and provide for the needs of the community in a financial way. You will note that the loans are rather high, much of the money being used in the production of and poisoning of insects and worms on area crops.

Below we are pleased to give you some figures on the combined resources, deposits, loans and disbursements, and cash on hand and due from other banks:

Resources	$14,302,026.96
Deposits	13,099,834.37
Loans	8,464,770.15
Cash and due	2,393,072.20

Several New Oil Well Locations

In the past few weeks several new locations for oil wells have been made in Terry and adjoining Yoakum county. Some three of them have been made in the proven Adair area in south Terry, and at least one well has been brought in. And we saw smoke rising in the Adair direction Tuesday, and supposed another had been finished.

One of the wells in the Adair two-pay field — the shallow one ground 5,000 and the other 8,000 plus — was reported as a rather weak sister for that field, around 300 barrels per day. And it was a pumper instead of a flowing well, the first to be reported. We understand that it was a pretty long stepout from the main field.

One encouraging sign is that there are now 8 rotary rigs in operation in Terry, in comparison to 3 on August 25. Yoakum county had 16 rigs on both dates.

Money-Making Plan Offered By Rotary

As plans for the approaching Harvest Festival progress, members of the Rotary club voted to give any Brownfield organization ten percent of the proceeds if the group wishes to sell festival tickets. Among the groups which will participate in the plan is the Brownfield High School Junior Class, which wishes to raise money for class activities.

Also, any group planning to enter a float in the parade is asked to notify either C. G. Griffith or Elmer Brownlee. Individuals wishing to obtain professional float materials should see Griffith.

SHERIFF'S POSSE TO PARADE IN RUIDOSO

The Brownfield Sheriff's Posse has been invited to ride in parade at Ruidoso Sunday, October 12th.

The posse will leave here on the 11th. After the parade members will ride up in the mountains where they will have a chuck wagon supper. Those going without horses will be provided a way to go to the supper. The posse plans to return Sunday night.

Farm-Market Roads Are Badly Needed

One of Texas Farm Bureau Federation's major objectives for a number of years has been "to get the farmer of Texas out of the mud." Terry county farmers should lend wholehearted support to the organization's program. Mr. Jake Fulford, president of the Terry County Farm Bureau, said, because the task grows harder and the need greater each year. The 1950 census showed that 547 of Terry county's farm families lived on dirt roads a mile or more from a paved road, it was revealed by Mr. Fulford.

Viewing the situation on a wider scope, Mr. Fulford said there are 120,000 miles of dirt roads in the State of Texas, 66,000 of which are school bus routes. A road program is one of the big jobs on which Farm Bureau will be working until a plan is adopted that will build adequate roads for school buses and for farmers to get their products to market, Mr. Fulford said.

Farm Bureau sponsored the Sewell Bill in the last session of the legislature, which proposed a tax of one cent per thousand cubic feet on natural gas, the major portion of which is piped out of the state. A token tax was levied on natural gas, but sponsors of the bill failed to get any portion of the funds earmarked for building roads. The greatest opposition the Farm Bureau has yet encountered is looming in the next session, Mr. Fulford declared.

Good Showers Visit Terry County Area

Good showers that started shortly after midnight, Sunday, we were told by those who were out at the time fell almost all day Monday, intermittently. At the time this is written Tuesday morning, conditions still look favorable for more rain, but you never can tell this good year 1952.

Up to Monday night we had 65/100 in in the local USWB gauge. But someone informed us that they heard over the radio that we had 1 1/4 inches. Some one must have left his sprinkler going near his rain gauge.

Some of the really thirsty country east and south of us are reported to have received rain up to 3 inches. Anyway, most of us had to drag out the old last winter or several winters ago coats, as in our case, to keep comfortable. Some of us also had to get out the small bathroom stoves and light them, Monday night.

Phillips Takes Brownfield 19-13

The Brownfield Cubs slowed up after a 13 to 0 first quarter lead to let Phillips slip by 19-13.

After the kickoff, the Cubs started rolling fast and in less than four minutes made the first touch-down. Carrying the last few yards and also making the conversion, was Joe Swan.

The second touch-down came in about four minutes later when Johnny Cloud went over standing up on a sneaker play and the conversion by Joe Swan failed. The entire first quarter was quarter was played in Phillips territory.

In the second quarter, Teddy Reddick ran 80 yards for the first Phillips tally and conversion. This ended action for the half.

In the third quarter the Cubs slowed up and Phillips slipped two touchdowns past the Cubs defense. Their second touch-down came when Teddy Reddick again slipped loose and returned a punt for 50 yards. Later in the same quarter, quarterback Greer threw a 30 yard pass to end Braymer for the last touch-down. The third quarter stood at 19-13.

The last quarter was closely fought with the Cubs having possession of the ball most of the time, but were still unable to bring the score up.

Playing a good game for the Cubs a center, guard and tackle was Joe Sharp, who recovered a Phillips fumble which ended in a Cub touch-down.

SCOUT BUSINESS MEETING OCT. 7

They Want Stevenson To Be Well Known

A committee composed of Georgia, Illinois and Oregon editors sent the Herald a series of six mats of dope to run gratis for Gov. Stevenson, and rightly, they stated that it was the custom of the press of America to give each and all candidates a fair shot.

But, "inasmuch as Eisenhower is already well known," they think it only right and proper that Stevenson be given publicity. The six articles would make a total of some 144 inches of space in the Herald, or almost a page.

Now what we can't understand is, that the so-called Demmys have been claiming all along that Stevenson is the great statesman, and Ike is the unknown quantity. But they admit Ike has been built up by his invasion of Europe in 1945 and more recently, his hand in welding a lot of ambitious nations of west Europe together in a defense pact. And that takes tact and planning, if you ask us.

Anyone that could successfully do that job, could do most any other that comes to hand. Oh, yes, and they wanted us to send them copies of the Herald in which the articles appear—FREE, of course.

High School bands from Brownfield and Littlefield were invited to participate in half-time events at the Texas Tech-West Texas State football game Saturday night at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Because of electrical difficulties with the floodlights a blackout could not be staged, and since the Brownfield band's special performance featured a "battery light display" in a darkened stadium, their specialty number had to be cancelled. They did, however, play musical selections.

Nearly everybody and every thing these days have a designated "day," or "week" as the case may be. Next week, from October 1 to 8th, has been for the past several years, designated, "National Newspaper Week." There are some papers that come to our exchange table that gets a page ad with such a date each year, but we've never had the nerve to ask our advertisers to "underwrite" a page celebrating the event. However, we'll admit here and now that freedom of the press is one thing that has made our nation great, and it will be one of the instruments that will keep our nation free as long as we have a free press. When this great nation of ours ceases to have a free press just that soon will all of the people be subjects to a dictator, and slaves to his wishes. This is not just our opinion about the matter. Let us quote from the great statesman, Thomas Jefferson: "Our liberty depends on freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost." In this connection, we also want to go way back and quote from the first amendment to our constitution, and written by some of the great patriots of that date: "Congress shall make no laws respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or of abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances." Now, you do not perhaps agree with all you see printed in papers; few of us do. But most of us can get our sayso printed in the paper, even if quite contrary to the editorial policy of the paper. Indeed, we see them almost daily in some of the larger dailies, that speak indignantly about that paper. Wasn't it Voltaire who said: "I wholly disapprove of what you say but will defend to the death your right to say it." And such is what has made this nation great. We may wholly disapprove of what the neighbor next door has to say on some subject, morally, politically or on religious matters, but we still like our neighbor, or should like him, and be a good neighbor to him and family. Isn't this a free country? Doesn't neighbor Jones and neighbor Smith have an inalienable right to disagree with us? Just because we have press freedom is no license for the press or the public to persecute or try to depress the other. Let freedom ring throughout all the world.

Lieut.-Gov. Ben Ramsey in a recent statement, said a mouthful when he stated, a little waste here and a little inefficiency there, are adding up to a big bill for Texas taxpayers." Fact of the matter is, that all the waste, extravagance and inefficiency does not come out of Washington. We should watch what we're doing closer at home. And this applies to county and city governments as well. Then Mr. Ramsey goes on to state, and we quote: "The Texas state government is a big business. It is getting bigger all the time. Annual costs of state government are now about $600,000,000 (tripled since World War II). There are strong pressured demands for another $100,000,000.00 a year for highways; some $30,000,000.00 more for teachers' pay (current costs of public education: state level, $168,500,000.00; local level, $143,000,000.00, total $311,500,000.00); some $8,000,000.00 more for state colleges; more for school buildings, etc." If we are to provide for more roads, or to be a bit more explicit, repair those already worn out, and they stretch from one side of Texas to the other, and crisscross it; if we are to provide more funds to try to meet the growth of the state in scholastics, and to provide a living wage for the teachers, all wastes and duplications must be cut, make every dollar count and bring value received. Admittedly, there is a lot of pressure brought to bear on the legislature for one thing and another, many of them being taken care of by private industry. One such request, according to the Lieutenant Governor, was for funds to try to find out what caused "shines" in men's pants. The national as well as the state governments are supposed to be conducted in a business-like manner. Suppose, for instance, that some business man found that a lot of his money was going down a rat hole, and that he was losing money? Don't you suppose he would investigate from every angle? And when he found out where he was putting out a lot of money with no returns, wouldn't he think up the rat hole? In the second place, people who need money for something or another, should quit traipsing off to Austin or Washington for the money. They should first investigate to see whether or not the project was worth anything to the community. If so, then they should see if means and money for the enterprise could not be found right at home. The lawmakers have every headache as it is, without every citizen who wants a public swimming pool, running down to Austin or Washington to try to get funds. After all, the people have to pay the bills in the long run.

Not long since, at a session of the executives of the American Federation of labor, these men posed a $64 question. We don't think these men were just talking to hear their heads rattle. But what kind of figures do they use? Here's what they said, if the report we received is true, and we have no room to doubt it: "there is no justification whatsoever for attributing the present price spiral to wage adjustments. . . . wage increases had nothing to do with rise in prices." Now this business that we have had, controlled and operated for the past 43 years is a small potato, we admit. But there has always been some costs of production, measured by both material entering into the affair, as well as the cost of labor expended in producing. For instance, along about 1940, the paper this paper is printed on, when purchased by the ton, cost us about $72, less freight, and freight was about half the present price, and no federal tax. Today, that same paper cost us $210 less freight. OK, back in 1940, the wages of the hands were from $30 to $40 a week, with no headaches about withholding and social security taxes. Today, the same man costs us from $75 to $90 per week. Now, if some smart guy can show us that it is costing us no more to produce a 10 or 12 page paper than it did back in 1940, we'll be tickled to listen. So, the matter leads one man who operates a chain of stores to ask: "If constantly increasing payrolls to do business, running into stupendous sums of money, all over the country, are not reflected in operating costs, and therefore an increase in price to the buying public, in what way can these wage and material increases be financed?" There is your $64 question, and anyone that ever progressed far enough at school to study the old Ray's Arithmetic, doesn't have to pause long to get at the bottom of the matter. The man that sells you goods has to figure the increase in cost of material, wages, taxes and all other overhead costs, and then add enough for a small profit if he is to stay in business long enough for the bread to get cold. Somebody has to put his money into these things that we eat, wear, or use, and somebody has to pay high taxes because he happens to own a business. Is there anyone so silly as to think people who make jobs for other people will just keep feeding his funds down a rat hole, just to hear the money clink? Surely, those big labor bosses don't expect anyone to believe their story.

This paper would be the last to condemn Price Daniel for his assertion that he cannot and will not vote for Gov. Adlai Stevenson for President. In fact, we cannot fathom how any loyal Texan can vote for Stevenson with a clear conscience over the tidelands, for just one reason, and that one is sufficient for us. As most people know, Price Daniel is the present Attorney General of Texas, and US Senator-elect, or at least equivalent to election, as a Democratic election means just that in Texas, presently. As our Attorney General, Daniel has had to battle the best they have up at Washington over the possession of these tidelands, the income of which goes into the public school funds of Texas. The packed Supreme Court, when the case came before it, would not allow Daniel to introduce witnesses, and then they took the tidelands that had been in possession of Texas for more than 100 years by a vote of 4 to 3, a bare majority. In fact, the tidelands had been a part of Texas for 400 years, as the Spanish grant, handed on to Mexico and then to Texas. As all who have read history know, when Texas entered the union, they were permitted to retain their public lands in lieu of a cash loan, the US was unable or did not want to make. And with the tidelands went all the lands in the interior of the state, much of which is still designated as school or railroad lands, and university grants. The state gave much of the land to railroad companies to build railroads in south and east Texas, where settlements were first made. When Mr. Truman found that these lands were valuable, had oil under them, and had a potential value of millions of dollars, perhaps billions, he started off his scheme to take them for the federal government. First, he took those of California, for which it had a better title, as California and Louisiana were never sovereign Republics, as was Texas. So, we gladly go along with Price Daniel in blacking Adlai as black as we can make him. He agrees with Truman in the theft. The name Democratic party is not as sacred to us a common honesty. In fact, the Socialists stole the name "Democratic party" lock, stock and barrel several years ago, just as they stole the tidelands from Texas. A big majority in congress has twice said that the tidelands belong to the states, but Truman vetoed the measure both times. We didn't vote for Truman four years ago and we don't expect to vote for his dupe this time.

The government of the United States might get a good lesson from Mexico on handling communists and other subversive elements, according to a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post. That Republic has really clamped down on the boys that would make a good setup for the entrance of Joseph Stalin. And according to the article, these subversives are stopped from entering the back door of our own nation. Further, the piece revealed the fact that a lot of these birds came direct from Hollywood and other points in the United States, instead of from some European or Asiatic country. And the writer of the article says that Mr. Stalin and his cohorts made a huge mistake when they claimed to be the "people's champion" and began to get mixed up in Mexican politics. While Mexico permits all political parties, just as does the USA, the Secretary of the Interior, who has charge of the Mexican FBI, keeps their eyes peeled for all kinds of leftists people, native or foreign. And the Mexican people do not give a rap, says the above official for this "all in common stuff." They want their own land, their own cow and other property. People like that don't make good Communists. They watch these birds, as they are quickly spotted by the FBI men, and while they are not prosecuted if they stay within the bounds of the law, they catch old billy if they get off on the wrong foot. If the USA State Department would get a bit tougher with the boys who want to play around with the Kremlin, and tell the FBI boys to go to it, we'd soon have less of the gentry in this man's country. The Post article could be read with profit by both the officials of this nation, as well as the citizenship.

A very little boy came home dejected from his first day at school.

"I ain't goin' tomorrow," he said.

"Why not, dear?"

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. As the widow of a World War II veteran, I am drawing both VA death compensation and payments under the GI insurance carried by my late husband. I am planning to remarry. Will VA cut off both payments?

A. Your compensation payments will be discontinued upon your remarriage because, under the law, death compensation is payable only to an unremarried widow. But your remarriage will not affect the payment of your insurance. You will continue to receive the insurance checks.

Q. My husband, who was a World War II veteran, died recently because of a service-connected disability. He did not use his GI loan benefit. I'd like to buy a house with the insurance he left me. Is there any way I can get a GI loan to help me do so? I have not remarried.

A. Yes. Under the law, unremarried widows of such World War II veterans may be eligible for GI loans, on the same basis as the veterans themselves.

Q. I am getting a VA pension for a total and permanent non-service-connected disability. In figuring out my yearly income to determine whether I am eligible, do I count the money my wife brings in as a seamstress?

No. Your wife's income is hers and therefore is not used in computing your total yearly income for pension purposes.

Q. While on active duty during peacetime in 1949, I was disabled in a training accident and was paralyzed from the waist down. Would I be entitled to a VA grant for a "wheelchair home," or must the disability have occurred in time of war?

A. If you meet all the other requirements of the law, you may be eligible for a "wheelchair home," even though your disability was incurred during peacetime. There's no restriction, under the law, as to when a veteran suffered his disability in service.

A woman's face is her fortune only when it draws a lot of interest.

Tooth Trouble Caused By Dental Decay

AUSTIN — One-half of all children between three and nine never have been to a dentist, according to surveys, and the State Department of Health tags that as one reason why there are some 284 million cavities in the teeth of American kids between those ages.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, recommends these four rules as a method of getting children into sound dental health habits:

1. A well-balanced diet with consumption of sweets kept to a minimum. Sugar in excessive quantities produces the destructive mouth acids that cause dental decay.

2. Proper tooth brushing, beginning at an early age. This means brushing the teeth within ten minutes after eating.

3. Early detection and care of dental defects. This will prevent larger troubles later. Neglect may produce serious dental problems which will continue throughout life.

4. Either access to drinking water from a community system containing the proper amount of fluorides for tooth decay prevention, or application of sodium fluoride to the teeth at periodic intervals. Children who drink fluoridated water from birth have from one-half to two-thirds less tooth decay than those who drink fluoride-free water.

Americans as a whole are highly susceptible to tooth decay by virtue of their diet, the state health officer points out. As a matter of fact, dental authorities say, this country has often been called "a nation of dental cripples."

They urge all parents to realize that so-called "baby teeth" are vital to good dental health in adulthood.

Grass Roots Editors Favor Eisenhower

Publishers Auxiliary, put out weekly by the Western Newspaper Union sent questionnaires to 8,570 weeklies and 1406 dailies, on how they stood in the presidential election. The dailies were small city papers, none with circulation over 25,000. Their replies were about as follows:

To the question, "I think people of my community favor?" 64.3 per cent of the weeklies named Eisenhower and 65.3 percent of the dailies, also named Ike. 25.9 percent of the weeklies and 23.2 of the dailies named Stevenson.

To the question, "My personal choice is?" 66.5 of the weeklies and 70.4 of the dailies name Ike, and 25.2 of the weeklies and 22.5 percent of the dailies favored Adlai.

To the question, "My paper will support editorially?" 47.5 of the weeklies and 56.1 of the dailies will support Ike, and 14.2 percent of the weeklies and 12.9 of the dailies will support Adlai. Many indicated they would back neither candidate and about 10 percent undecided.

This was also true to the first two questions, except there were just a few that were not certain about how their communities would go, or whom they personally favored.

The American Press also took a poll of the country editors about the same time with almost the same result. Seventy-five percent favored Eisenhower in this poll and 20 percent Stevenson, with 5 percent undecided.

Committeemen Begin 1953 ACP Sign-Up

The Terry County PMA county and community committeemen, together with representatives of all other agricultural agencies in the county met Monday, September 15, in the auditorium of the South Plains Health Unit for a school of instruction on program procedure for the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program. They also selected the practices to be used in this county in 1953 and they will be announced as soon as they are approved by the State Committee.

PMA community committeemen will begin making farm-by-farm visits next week to sign up farmers in the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program, says Mr. Riley D. Jones, Chairman of the Terry County PMA Committee.

This year, for the first time, Chairman Jones explains, PMA community committeemen will visit each farmer in the county and work out with the farmer the most serious conservation problems on each farm.

On these visits the PMA community committeeman will check each field to determine its conservation needs. Consideration is being given to the crops which have been grown on the field in the past, the condition of the soil, the slope of the land, and how the production on the field fits into the farmer's production program.

Since the committeeman is also a farmer in the community, both the farmer and the committeeman are familiar with the main conservation and production problems

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending September 13, 1952, were 25,596 compared with 24,776 for the same week in 1951.

Car received from connections totaled 12,323 compared with 12,225 for same week in 1951. Total cars moved were 37,919 compared with 37,001 for the same week in 1951.

Santa Fe handled a total of 33,686 cars in preceding week of this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt returned Thursday from McAllen, Texas, where they visited their daughter Mrs. Clifford L. Horn and Mr. Horn and family.

and are in a position to determine how the program can best be used to assure continued production.

After the committeeman and the farmer have gone over the farm and reviewed farm plans which may have been developed for the farm with the help of the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, or other agency, they are in a position to determine the most needed conservation on the farm. The 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program provides that assistance is to be applied to this most needed conservation.

This direct use of ACP assistance, Chairman Jones believes will result in an increase in the more permanent type of conservation practices such as terraces, leveling for irrigation, reorganization of permanent farm irrigation, reorganization of permanent farm irrigation systems by installation of concrete pipe, permanent pastures, etc.

As in the past, ACP assistance will cover on a part of the cost of the conservation practices approved by such assistance. In addition, the farmer will be encouraged to carry out additional practices on his own. According to the Chairman, the assistance provided by the program serves as a spark to start the conservation work on the farm.

Need 2 1/2 Billion For Texas Highways

AUSTIN — Texas needs $1,570,000,000 to bring its highways up to adequate standard of safety and utility, according to recent studies of the State Highway Department.

This program would permit the completion of the present farm-to-market road system of 35,000 miles with all gaps and fillers, at a cost of $228,862,000 according to the Texas Good Roads Association, which is sponsoring a modernization of the entire state's system.

This almost equals the $289,896,000 needed for the primary system. Arterial highways would amount to more than $1 billion.

It would take more than $2 billion to replace the present highway system of Texas, which totals approximately 44,000 miles. Present highway income is slightly in excess of $100 million annually from gasoline tax and automobile registration fees. Maintenance work requires almost half of that amount, leaving insufficient funds for complete modernization of roads.

Texas has always used a pay-as-you-go system, which means there is no debt against its highway system.

Loryce Dale McBee Weds Kearby Sexton In Double Ring Vows At Baptist Church

Miss Loryce Dale McBee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McBee of 304 East Broadway, became the bride of Kearby Wallace Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Sexton of Route 1 in a double ring ceremony read recently at 2:30 p. m. in the Brownfield First Baptist church.

Rev. Jones W. Weathers performed the vows before an archway entwined with fern and flanked by candelabra and baskets of white gladioli. Two large bells hung from the center of the archway.

Mrs. Pat Ramsour, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Peggy Black, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white velveteen suit with a navy blue collar which extended to points over the shoulders. The fitted jacket fastened down the front with white velveteen buttons. Her navy blue hat was detailed with rows of seed pearls around the front and sides and was designed with a small over-the-face veil. She carried a white orchid top white satin covered prayer book.

For something old the bride chose an Indian head penny made in 1900, which was placed in her shoe for luck by her father. Something new was her wedding ensemble, and a rhinestone bracelet was a gift of the bridegroom. Setting Up A Budget A Family Affair

College Station — Setting up a budget and making it work is a family affair. Eula Newman, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out that in successful families all members help make the budget and agree on how the money is to be spent.

A budget is simply a spending and saving plan which gives a family control over disposal of its income.

Mrs. Newman suggests a trial budget for a month or two. Allow space for income, which may be the same or different each month, depending on salary or self employment. The next three columns should be headed fixed obligations, living expenses and emergencies.

Under fixed obligations list rent, if any, payments on mortgages, contributions, installments and life insurance. The entire family may decide on the amounts to be set aside for living expenses and contributions. If all members of the family are allowed opinions, they will more readily realize the need for systematic management of the income.

If at all possible, each child should have an allowance, no matter how small. This will teach each to appreciate the limitations of money.

When each member of the family gets the consideration due him, a closer feeling of fellowship results and this is invaluable according to the specialist.

 CAN UNDULANT FEVER BE PREVENTED?

Answer to Question No. 1:
 In recent years, county medical societies throughout the country have taken steps to insure the public of obtaining the services of a doctor at any time of day or night if the family physician cannot be reached, regardless of the patient's ability to pay. The local medical society publishes a telephone number to be called and provides a central switchboard to handle such calls. At the end of 1951, there were 264 emergency medical call systems in operation throughout the nation and the number is steadily increasing.

Answer to Question No. 2:
 Yes, many old people who were once bedridden by certain chronic illnesses (such as heart disease, arthritis, etc.) have had their muscles "re-educated," thereby enabling them to dress and feed themselves and frequently to do simple, useful chores. The combined efforts of doctors, nurse and physical therapist will accomplish much toward rehabilitating these old people.

Answer to Question No. 3:
 There is no specific drug to cure undulant fever (brucellosis). Some of the newer antibiotics help. Humans probably contract the disease by drinking unpasteurized (raw) milk or by eating meat from infected cattle. Local laws requiring pasteurization of milk and inspection of food animals by health authorities are the best hope for preventing the disease.

Could Be Worse Before It's Better

College Station — Texas crop and livestock producers are taking a terrific beating from the elements. Economic losses are mounting steadily and should the drought end suddenly, months and perhaps years will be required in some cases for the most severely hit areas to make a full recovery.

But, according to W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, unless care is exercised, the situation may become even worse. The high temperatures and the lack of moisture have created a situation that is tailor-made for fires. Carelessness on the part of motorists or any citizen could lead to damages even more serious than those caused by the drought.

A fire for example could destroy what forage is left in pastures, or fields, stored crops, barns and other outbuildings, farming equipment, the home and might even take the life of a member of the family. Conditions are such that Ulich recommends neighborhood and countywide action to hold fire losses to a minimum.

A common awareness of fire hazards will do much to prevent the accidental starting of fires. Fire lazes and careful back-firing are practical aids for keeping fires out of woods and pasture lands. Weeds and tall grass around buildings or feed stacks should be removed and warns the specialist, don't burn trash unless you control the fire.

Remember, he says, rural fires are caused chiefly by smokers, incendiaries, and careless burning by rural residents themselves. He adds we can't keep Texas green this year but every effort should be made to keep what we have. The fire season is on. Be careful.

Teeming with tension, the sky-high spectacle staged by the reckless, death-defying Strato-stars will thrill thousands daily at the 35th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock, Sept. 29 through Oct. 4. Four of the nation's finest aerial acts will be performed daily, free of charge, at the fair.

Sphaghetti Eaters On Football Ticket Rampage Again

Over in the land where the Inquisition started back several hundred years ago, the Italians and the predominant church there, are making it as hard as possible, especially on the Church of Christ portion of the Protestant population. It was stated in an AP dispatch that other Protestant churches were not being bothered — evidently dormant — just trying to hold their own.

But knowing Cline Paden as we do, he never rests on his oars. A lot of people over there are not interested in any religion. Many are Commies and some are sick and tired of the present set-up. But if we had a few guesses, we'd use all of them to say that the C. of C. bunch has been converting too many priests, as well as other leaders.

And the AP article goes on to say that Cline Paden of Brownfield, Texas, is the "head" of the church over there. This is another thing we seriously doubt. In all the sermons we ever heard him preach, he always stated positively that Christ was the head of the church.

This section is predominantly Protestant just as Italy and Spain

Football Ticket Sales Good

Raymond Simms reports that the sale of football tickets were great, and that the stadium was pretty well filled Friday night at the Pecos Eagle-Cub game.

The crowd was estimated to be as large or larger than the Seminole-Cub game there last year, which was a record breaker or equal to any the past several years.

A former Brownfield Football Coach came by the ticket sales manager's office and bought four season tickets to be given to some worthy person who had in times past, been helpful to the coaches or helped the Cubs in any way. He asked that his name not be divulged.

To pray only when one is sick or in trouble is like writing a letter only when one wants to borrow money.

are predominantly Catholic, but we never heard of anyone in Texas or the USA trying to molest the Catholic people in their worship. Our forefathers set up the idea that all may worship as they please.

POLIO VIRUS IN RAW MILK

SAN ANTONIO, Sept 20 (AP) — Polio virus in raw milk caused six children in the Paul Pehl family to be stricken with the disease, State Health Officer George W. Cox said yesterday.

Dr. Cox and other health officials made a day-long inspection of the Pehl farm near here to find out why this great number of persons had been infected with polio.

"The polio infection was undoubtedly carried in raw milk," Dr. Cox said. "The polio virus entered the milk during the milking process."

Six of the Pehl children are in San Antonio Hospital with the disease. The only child not afflicted is a 13-year-old daughter.

Evidently the Pehl boy passed the virus to others in his family when, in milking the cows, he contaminated the raw milk.

Had the milk been pasteurized, Dr. Cox said, the family probably would not have been stricken.

The health officer said the Pehl inspection does not throw and added light on how polio is transmitted.

Due to the fact that we have had many requests to extend the old rate on the Herald to October 1. Please try to meet this deadline, as we will have to get more money for the Herald, beginning October 1, 1952.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has shown grave concern over the recent closing of the Churches in Italy. Favorable action is expected in the near future. J. R. Chisholm, Elder of the Church, spoke in Tipton, Oklahoma Sunday afternoon in the interest of the Italian work.

Buick's New 'Skylark' Sports Car

This sleek new sports convertible by Buick is built on a 1952 Roadmaster chassis with many innovations in styling, such as chrome plated wire racing wheels, down-swept doors in tune with fender lines, and raper-styled sweep-spear molding, keynoting simplicity of design. Labeled the "Skylark," it was designed and made to pre-test public acceptance for an American-built sports car. The interior, with lowered seats, is finished in brilliant Helsinki red leather in striking contrast to the Olympic white exterior. The "Skylark" is powered by Buick's famed 170 horsepower Fireball eight overhead valve engine.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Today I go in for Questions and Answers. I am trying to locate some guy or dame who does anything — or could do anything — about the many predictions as are dishd out, breathless like, by our synthetic economists there in Swivel-Chair Town. The great man there will say, "the number of eggs set under the nation's hens in April 1951." So I say to you, man to man, what do you do about it or do you know anybody who does anything about it—that is my question today.

It is costing us plenty to be told this egg story — there are Govt. statistic collectors galore throughout the land, almost one behind every tree — and Wash., D. C. and a 100 other cities have typewriters clattering and adding machines working overtime compiling the data. And from eggs you can go to the cranberry crop predictions, the blueberry output survey, the probable out put of straw hats this year versus last year. And what happens. Well, a hot spell comes along — hotter than last year — and the prediction of the wise boys on straw hats is a complete fizzle — and likewise with eggs and cranberries and blueberries — and there you are.

Folks, instead of listening — and with equanimity — to such useless blather as these great men peddle, and at your expense — start something. Start on you senator. My word, says Henry, "Equanimity" — what's that? Quiet, I says.

Yours with the low down

Better Days Ahead For The Poultryman

College Station — Poultrymen who have raised a normal number of pullets this year should soon begin to receive a profit on their investment. This encouraging word comes from Professor E. D. Parnell of Texas A. & M. College's poultry department.

The outlook for egg prices wasn't good last spring, says Parnell and producers reduced their flocks and also their pullet replacements by 7 per cent. Now the picture has changed. Storage stocks are being reduced and prices have strengthened. The future looks good. It is true, says the professor, feed prices remain high but feed-egg ratios have become favorable for the first time in several months. Therefore, egg producers should be operating on the profit side for the remainder of the year.

It is now too late to do anything about raising pullets for egg production this year but Parnell points to the present situation as a reminder that profits are seldom made by those who are in the business one year and out the next. Trying to outguess the market, he adds, is usually a good way to get out of the poultry business.

For those who have the egg producers, Parnell says, feed them well; give them plenty of room; practice sanitation and keep them in good health. It is his belief that poultrymen who raise only the number of pullets they can care or well, and do it year after year, are the producers who are the most successful.

Don't Fail To Save The Shade Trees

College Station — Shade trees in Texas are in poor condition now as a result of two extremely cold winters out of the last four and two years of unprecedented drouth, says G. M. Watkins, pathologist for the Texas A. & M. College System.

To improve the condition of trees, they should be watered and fertilized. To accomplish this, build a circular dike of soil around the tree sufficient to hold water 4 inches deep in the basin thus enclosed. The diameter of the basin should equal that of the shade canopy of the tree. For very small trees or shrubs a diameter of 6 feet is suggested.

Spread a commercial fertilizer over the soil within the dike. The formula and rate of application will depend on the inherent fertility of the soil. As a starter 1 pound of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 per 100 square feet of soil surface is suggested.

Fill the basin with water to a depth of 4 inches and allow to soak in. During the hot, dry part of the year the watering can well be repeated every week or 10 days, but discontinued during wet seasons.

Repeat the fertilizer as the tree starts to go into dormancy. Always well every time fertilizer is added.

Mr. and Mrs. Mon Telford and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pearman in Lubbock, Sunday. Mrs. Pearman is the former Ella Mae Butler, who used to own a beauty parlor here.

HOW MUCH FUN do you get from a GALLON OF GAS?

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster. Optional at extra cost.

"MILES PER GALLON" is something everyone talks about—and Buick owners take pride in telling us that they're doing OK on this score.

But the kind of miles is important too. The real pay-off you get when you own a Buick is in what happens while you're turning gas into power.

Every drop of gas sets off a tiny tornado of compacted energy in Buick's Fireball 8 Engine.

You swoop from a standing start to any speed the law or good sense permits with effortless smoothness, thanks to Dynaflo Drive.*

You soar over the road with magnificent levelness—buoyed by big soft coil springs on every wheel—coddled by a dozen other features which make up Buick's million dollar ride.

The car holds direction like an airliner on the beam. You snug into turns with sure-footed poise—ease your grip on the steering wheel and feel the car seek a straight course again like a compass points to the pole.

This is travel as you've always hoped to find it—relaxed, carefree, luxurious, happy—while you leave the miles behind.

Yes indeed—life's different in a Buick. How different you should find out firsthand.

How about letting us give you a sample—any day you say?

Much Wheat Sown In Abilene Section

The writer and wife made a visit to the Snyder and Abilene section the past weekend, to visit the Triggs at Snyder and the Dittus down at Abilene. Spent Friday night with the son-in-law, daughter, and little grandbaby, Sara Beth, at Snyder. All except Hermann made the trip on to Abilene Saturday, he having decided to spend his house, and was to get part of the printer on that day, as he was changing the color from white to salmon.

But, when we returned, he had decided to turn the paint job over to an experienced painter, as he had all the painting he wanted. Went to Abilene via Hermleigh, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Trent, and Merkel, as we had not been over that route in several years. Just about the same distance from Snyder to Abilene that way as by Anson and Roby, and since most of this route from Sweetwater to Abilene is a four lane affair, one makes much better time over this crowded highway than when a two lane.

Not too much change in the roads on the lower route in the past few years. Did not see some substantial building in Sweetwater, but not too many new residences that we saw. Had a date at the ACC Grill with Miss Vona Lee. Heard old time Terryite, who is now assistant to Dean of Women, with offices in McKenzie Hall, the manager of the dorms. In fact, she had promised to and really did feed our faces at the noon meal.

The food was well prepared and cooked, and we got a plate for 60 or 65 cents that sells for 95c to $1.25 at private cafes. We enjoyed the meal very much, but more the short visit with this very fine lady.

Didn't get to see Miss (or now Mrs. Somebody) Beverly Ann, niece of Vona Lee, as she was away from home, maybe on purpose. But we are egotistic enough to think she would like to have seen us nearly as well as we, she. We were informed that she, B. A., and husband are expecting an heir in December. Her mother, Mrs. Irene Duke, and grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Ditto, are now living in Brownsville, Texas, where Irene is holding down a government job. They like there fine.

While in Abilene, also called on some of our kin, a nephew, Homer Ellison, and spent an hour or so with his daughter and husband. His daughter runs a beauty shop on Pine street, which is part of the Anson highway. Her husband is supervisor of the Onyx Refinery out on the Anson highway near Hawley. Have never met Homer's wife, or any of the other children. Also have another nephew, Jim Ellison, who with his family, live in Abilene, but did not have time to look them up on that trip.

Rushing told us a rather funny story about the plant, with which he has worked almost since it was built. We mentioned passing there a few years ago a few days following an explosion in the refinery, that turned a car that happened to be passing, out into the bar ditch on the highway. He stated they had about six explosions since he worked there, but says he, "I am pretty fast on foot, and when I see one coming off, I'm always at a safe distance by the time it explodes." He also stated that no one has ever been killed at the refinery.

So, back to Snyder for our nightly dish of Post-Toasties, a bit of reading and to bed and happy dreams. A nice little norther had blown up, and the sleeping was A-plus that night. At 4 P. M. Sunday, pulled out for home. As we have stated on other occasions, no crops down below the crack, but they are now getting rain, and a big wheat or other grain acreage is being planted. The farms were fairly clear of weeds, as they did not have enough rain in places to sprout weed seed.

About the best crops in that area, if there are any best, are in the Hermleigh and Roby areas. And they lack a lot of being on par with last year.

Mr. A. W. Fore is at home and feeling better at this time. He has been on our sick list for several weeks. We are sorry to report that the Wiley baby, who has been in the Lubbock hospital, this past week is still in a critical condition.

A pink and blue shower was given in the Barnes home honoring Mrs. Wartes, Tuesday afternoon. A good crowd attended and numerous gifts were received.

So You Want To Sew A Plaid Dress

College Station — Fall cottons have blossomed out in plaids of beautiful colors and designs. Nena Roberson, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out that before plaids are bought they should be considered in relation to the pattern if the finished garment is to have that smart look.

For Plaids, choose a pattern of simple design in relation to the slant of edges to be matched.

Miss Roberson says the larger the plaids the more material must be allowed for matching and that fewer pieces and joinings mean less waste of fabric. Remember that in an unbalanced plaid, with up and down and/or right and left designs, all pieces must be laid in the same direction and yardage must be allowed accordingly.

There is a choice between fabrics of printed plaid and woven plaids. The specialist advises that printed plaids are off grain and that it is impossible to match the grain and the plaid. A professional look cannot be achieved in the finished garment unless the plaids match, so think twice before buying a printed fabric.

Plaids emphasize the lines of the figure. Miss Roberson suggests that women and girls with full busts or irregular figures avoid plaids and be satisfied with very small checks and plaid fabrics.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Griffin and children of Midland, were visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Griffin, over the week end. Mrs. Griffin and children remained for a few days longer stay.

PEPPERS STRETCH THE FOOD BUDGET

Stuffed green peppers, tasty main dish, easy to prepare and a "natural" for whitening down an out of line food budget.

Balancing a food budget can floor many of us and sometimes it seems impossible to make it come out even and please the family, too. But it can be done. It goes without saying that the smart homemaker watches for the best buys. She spends a little time carefully reading the ads in her paper before going a-marketing and trundles her cartage slowly through the market noting the stocks and their prices. Buying tips to keep in mind include the following:

Meats: The price per pound isn't all that counts. What percentage of waste—bone, fat, etc. is there? A pound of one meat may cost less than another, but if there's a lot of bone and fat to discard it may not be the bargain it sounds.

Butter: All grades have the same food value and any slight difference in flavor may not even be noticed unless you've a butter expert. Buying a pound at a time instead of a 1/4 pound stick as needed trims off a few pennies too.

Eggs: Check the price of different sizes and shell colors. The color of the shell has no relation at all to its food value. Too small an egg may not be economical, too large a one may be extravagantly costly.

Vegetables: Think in terms of cost per serving. Whether you buy frozen, fresh or canned try to buy those which come out even in terms of the number you serve. One left over portion can cancel that few pennies saving you thought you made.

This recipe for Stuffed Green Peppers is a perfect example of a well planned well seasoned main dish to help get an out of line food budget under control.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

- 6 large green peppers
- 3 cups chopped cooked meat (ham, chicken, canned luncheon meat)
- 1 medium onion, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 cups soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted margarine or butter

Cut thin slice from stem end of green pepper. Remove seeds. Cook peppers in boiling salted water about 8 minutes or until barely tender. Drain on paper towels. Place in baking dish. Mix together in large mixing bowl meat, onion, pepper, bread crumbs. Toss lightly with melted margarine or butter. Fill peppers with mixture being careful not to pack tightly. Pour 1/2 cup of water in bottom of baking dish and bake 30 minutes at 350° F. (moderate oven). Makes 6 servings.

Battery Water Most Neglected

AUSTIN — Adding water to storage batteries is the most neglected of all car-service operations, according to a report received by the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association from the National Automotive Service of the Three-A.

A car battery, already damaged by lack of water, is most apt to fail after hard and prolonged driving. Vacation trips often bring out the worst in a battery; every form of neglect is aggravated by high speed and high temperatures. If, in addition, the battery is being overcharged due to a faulty voltage regulator, the vacation-bound motorist is almost certain to have trouble before the trip is over.

Failure to maintain the proper water level in a battery drastically reduces its useful life expectancy from a normal two year period to one year or even a few months. In hot weather the water should be checked at least once a week.

Battery failure accounted for the second highest number of service calls answered by Three-A emergency service crews last year, according to a summary of reports compiled from 20,000 garages under contract to furnish emergency road service to members of Three-A Motor Clubs throughout the nation. The only type of trouble that topped battery failure was tire trouble, says the Three-A Service Experts.

Looking ahead is a good way to keep from falling behind.

We envy other people their luck, but congratulate ourselves on our smartness.

However, in an address in Philadelphia this week, made before the American Hospital Association, HST stated, "you can't make modern medicine available to everyone unless there is some way to pay for it." (unquote).

We had about decided that "never had it so good" had reached every fork of the creek. But the big boss called all who are not in favor of socialized medicine "Pullocks." But that's what HST called those who work hard all their lives, and do not agree to be heavily taxed to care for the drones and lazy louts who never hit a lick of work on purpose in their lives.

And in the name of high heaven, what was the AHA doing having a man like Truman addressing them? They know how he stood on such matters. Anyway, statistics show that the little fellow born today is under a $1800 debt load when he first hits this world, plus the high taxes all his life. Truman would make this burden still heavier to bear. Hospitalization insurance is so cheap now that anyone worth a cuss can take it out and not miss the money. One cold drink less a day, or a snort of licker a week will almost pay the premium.

We are glad that many of our former employees, even though now living in other towns, occasionally call on us when convenient, even though working for other people.

Recently a guy called on us on business matters, and mentioned a former employee, which he designated as a s.o.b. And we understand that not a few others have had equally bad names for him. It is sometimes better to keep one real friend than to make many potential enemies.

This is National Dog Week, Sept. 21-27, to which many will pay tribute to man's best friend. Joining in tribute to the good old purps, Bob Hope believes there would be less juvenile delinquency if every boy had a dog to run and romp with by day. And to coil up by his little master's bed at night with a purpose of love and protection.

Then there is Capt. Will Judy, publisher of Dog World Magazine, who says the dog has six of the most desired attributes: the most unselfish, the most patient, the most grateful, most friendly, most forgiving and the most loyal.

Of the latter, the Captain says that whether the master comes home from Congress or the jail, in rags or riches, Rover will meet you with a friendly grin on his face, and a welcome wag of his tail.

Then there is that famous for all time address of Senator Vest. This address was made before a jury in which a client was suing a neighbor for $200 damages, for killing his fox hound. That address has been printed and reprinted many times and is considered a classic. After this famous address, the jury went the plaintiff one better. It awarded him not $200, but $500 damages.

Most of them, whether cur or blue bloods, are friendly, if well trained in manners. But some are encouraged to be mean, and are sometimes a headache to mail carriers. But most dogs seem to be friendly with everything else but another dog or a cat. Byron and other poets have paid tribute to the faithful canine family.

We have heard the word "mess" of late until it begins to sound really messy. To get a change from the regular reading diet in the current newspapers and mags, we picked up a book we have, that was sent us free of charge, and which we aim to keep handy when the going gets tough. The little paper board book is titled, "Are You An American?"

To mention a few of the addresses in the book, there is Patrick Henry's Give Me Liberty;

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I just received a dividend credit notice from VA notifying me that my NSLI 1952 dividend is being placed on deposit to my credit. What will happen to that money?

A. The law requires that such dividends be used to pay premiums which are due and not otherwise paid. Should the dividends not be required for this purpose, you may instruct VA to pay the money to you in cash or use it to prepay future premiums. Or it may be left with VA where it will draw interest.

Q. I have just been discharged from the Army after a year in Korea. A leg wound I received while on patrol is beginning to give me trouble. Will the VA give me out-patient treatment?

A. Yes, post-Korea veterans who need out-patient treatment for service-connected disabilities may receive needed treatment from VA. In many instances, a prima-facie finding of service-connection is granted post-Korean veterans for the purposes of out-patient treatment pending determination as to whether the disabilities are service-connected. Apply for out-patient treatment at your nearest VA office.

Q. I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and I am receiving GI insurance payments at a certain rate each month over a period of 10 years. My husband chose this method of payment because it seemed best at the time. I find now, however, that I need a good-sized sum of money immediately. May I be paid the rest of the insurance in one lump sum?

A. No. GI insurance may be paid in a lump sum only when the insured veteran himself has made that selection.

Q. I'm a World War II veteran suffering from a nonservice-connected disability. I went to VA and was told that I might be hospitalized—if I waited for a bed to become available and was unable to afford private treatment—but that I could not get out-patient treatment. Why is that?

A. The VA is not permitted by law to give out-patient treatment for nonservice-connected disabilities. On the other hand, a veteran may be hospitalized for such a disability if a bed is available and if he can't afford treatment elsewhere.

Q. I have been attending college, on my own, ever since my discharge in May, 1952. Now that the Korean GI Bill has been passed, may I put in a claim to collect money for at least part of my expenses since last May?

A. No. Under the new law, payments may not be made for any training taken prior to August 20, 1952.

Q. I am a World War II veteran taking a corresponding course under the GI Bill. May I switch to a classroom course in the same field this coming fall, even though the GI cut-off date has passed?

A. No. Under post-cut-off-date regulations, veteran may not switch from correspondence to classroom training, even if it's in the same field.

DONALDSON SAYS POSTAL RATES MAY BE RAISED

WASHINGTON — Postal rates may be raised again, Jess H. Donaldson, postmaster general, told a news conference here last week.

He said the step might have been taken this year, except that no congressman wanted to vote an increase during an election year.

Mr. Donaldson declared that congress must decide whether the post office is a social service or a business enterprise. He noted that this year's deficit will be about 669,000,000 due "to a huge increase in operating costs and free or low-priced services."

JUDGE LANG HAS NEW IRRIGATION WELL

Out on Judge Lang's farm northwest of Meadow they have recently brought in a strong irrigation well, which has been finished with 8-inch pipe.

This well is on land that had previously been declared without water. We were informed a well had been drilled and abandoned as dry, but the Judge ordered the drillers to go back in the same hole and a good well was brought in at 171 feet.

the inaugural address of Washington and Jefferson, the Gettysburg address of Abraham Lincoln; The New South by Henry W. Grady, and many others. These famous people gives one a real rest after hearing the wise cracks about the stuff that goes on in high places of this nation.

Many could read with profit the masterful address of Booker T. Washington, the Negro educator, who at that time was president of Tuskegee Institute at Tuskegee, Ala. The occasion was opening of the Georgia Centennial celebration in 1895, and the Negro section of the exhibition was really outstanding.

But Booker T. Washington way back at that time, 30 years after the Civil War, was not asking or expecting social equality. But the main theme of his address was that the two races must live together, and that each had the lesson of tolerance to learn, and how to respect and be neighbors with the other race.

An Atlanta paper telegraphed a New York paper that it was the greatest address ever heard in the South.

Anyway, at least one Texas Senator, some of the Congressmen, not to mention Ag. Com. White, are all on the leash; sewed up for Stevenson. Yep, they are all the self designated yellow dog Demmys, who will walk up to the lieklog and vote 'er straight.

And with no logic whatever, Senator Johnson and several other congressmen, including our own, will raise the rafters at Washington next session fighting many of the things they are asking for now, and claim they are loyal Texans—something putrid in Denmark.

As for Bro. White, about all we can say is where is old man McDonald, and is he available two years hence? White says he don't like the Republican agricultural platform. Maybe he likes the Brannan plan? No one else does, not even a Democratic congress. And we know the Farm Bureau doesn't like it. So, guess it is now Lone Wolf White.

Know Your Soils. Testing A Big Aid

COLLEGE STATION—There is no point in swapping even dollars. But, when you can swap one for eight, that is good business. Mr. Ed Detrixhe, a Hemphill county wheat farmer made that kind of swap this year on his wheat crop.

Hemphill county agent Walter Grist says it all started as a result of a soil test. Mr. Detrixhe submitted a soil sample to the Texas A. & M. College System's Extension Service Soils Laboratory and then carried out the recommendations on his farm. M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist in charge of the lab, makes recommendations on fertilizer usage and cropping practices as a part of the soil testing service.

Here is the story as reported by Grist. Mrs. Detrixhe applied 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre to 80 acres of wheat and when he had finished combining, he found that this field had produced an average of 35 bushels per acre against a 11 to 14 bushel average for the unfertilized acreage. That increase of better than 20 bushels per acre paid him $8 in return for each $1 spent for fertilizer, and Grist believes the 35 bushels is some kind of a record for dry-land wheat.

Considering that the average Texas farmer last year made an average net return of $4 for every $1 spent for fertilizer, Ed Detrixhe did exceptionally well when he doubled this figure, says Grist. It goes without saying, adds Grist, and Mr. Detrixhe is sold on soil testing.

Local county agents can supply information on how to take and submit soil samples to the laboratory for testing.

HORNER, HAS A FINE FARM FOR SALE

The reader has perhaps noted the ad of N. H. Horner in current and recent issues of the Herald. His farm is in the Willow Wells community, some seven miles west of Weldon and about six north of Seagraves. There are some fine farms in that community.

When Mr. Horner was in to put his ad in the paper, he stated that he had a good cotton crop on the land this year. Many have told him that he had the best dry land cotton they have seen in Terry county this year. If you need a good farm, see Mr. Horner.

Mrs. N. A. Lindsay and daughter, LaMoine, and Mrs. Trucene George and daughter, Shaun, will leave for Dallas Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Walt Davis.

Combat Claim Pay Check Delay Seen

Service men now serving in Korea will get their July payments as part of their August checks — at least that was the way planned to work out, but it will take quite a long while to classify and decide on claims as it will involve a tremendous amount of red tape and will definitely increase the period of time when a veteran will be paid his combat pay.

This new "Combat Pay" of $45 a month will be paid to Korean vets under fire since June, 1950 — the application forms should be available at any Post Office after September 15 on an official form. No claim is necessary for combat pay after July 1st, this year.

Veterans have the right to appeal. If their claims are rejected, they will be notified and the procedure of appeal will be fully explained.

Again, it may be months before this combat pay is made to veterans now making application — because of red tape in confirming service location.

For men killed in action the combat pay is figured in the death benefit payments.

Mustering-Out Pay; Delayed Receipt Of Discharge

If the veteran making application for mustering-out pay has not been given his DD Form 214 and has been notified and assured by the separation center that it will reach him in the very near future, we suggest that the application for mustering-out pay be made out and sent in and state in an attached letter that he was separated at (name of separation center and unit) on a certain date (exact date of discharge) and that his DD Form 214 and discharge have not been delivered to him. This suggestion also applies to survivor's cases. This might build up additional pressure on the separation centers to issue discharge papers at time of separation or very soon thereafter.

Leaders and Council members met Monday, Sept. 15 at La Mecca Cafe to discuss plans for the registering and starting of our Girl Scout Troops in Brownfield. Mrs. J. D. Akers presided at the meeting. She reported that the first Monday night in each month had been designated as Council meeting night. All leaders are urged to attend the Council meetings because all business concerning the troops goes before the Council and has to be voted on.

Also decided upon was the organization of the New Leaders' Club. This will be held the second Tuesday of each month. The first meeting will be held October 1, at LaMecca Cafe at 5:40 p. m. At that time there will be an election of officers and outlines of the purpose of the club. It will be beneficial to all who will attend.

The troops were organized as follows: Troop 1 — Monday at 4:00, with Edyth Davis, leader; Troop 20 — Tuesday at 4:00, with Mrs. Farris Nowell, leader and Mesdames Martin, Eastham, and Ratliff, assistants; Second Grade Beginners — Wednesday at 2:45, with Mrs. Lal Copeland, leader, and Mrs. Taylor, assistant; Troops 11 and 12 — Wednesday at 4:00, with Mrs. Pete Crump, leader, and Mrs. Eastham, assistant; Troop 8 — Thursday at 4:00, with Mrs. Wilburn and Miss Moorhead, assistants; Troop 16 — Monday at 2:45, with Miss Adams, assistant.

There are two second grade beginner troops which do not have leaders. Anyone interested in working with the Girl Scouts is asked to call Mrs. J. D. Akers at 310-R or 131.

Speaking straight from the shoulder is okay—but be sure it originates a little higher up.

Gen. Telephone Co. Elects Operating V-P

Mr. Walter G. Wright has been elected Operating Vice President and a member of the Board of Directors of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, according to an announcement made in Dallas by Mr. Roy Autry, President of the company. Mr. Wright assumed his duties September 15.

The newly-elected Vice President has been in the telephone industry since he graduated from Rutgers University in 1924 as an electrical engineer. His first business experience was with the New York Telephone Company, later the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, followed by an engineering assignment with the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. Most recently he has been Chief Engineer within the General Telephone System for General Telephone Company of Michigan.

The rapid expansion of the General Telephone System has created a need for emphasis on operating problems. Since 1946 General Telephone Company of the Southwest has increased its assets from $10,900,000 to $36,600,000. The General Corporation is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone system in the nation.
