

Ground Breaking Ceremony Is Staged Building On New Methodist Church Begins

Formal ground breaking services for the new First Methodist Church were held Sunday at 2 p. m. and actual work on the building begins this week.

Rev. V. N. Henderson, district superintendent, opened the ceremony with a scripture reading, followed by a prayer led by Raymond Sims. "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung by the audience, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Herod, pianist.

Dr. Bernard Thompson, professor at McMurry College in Abilene, led in prayer preceding a statement of the purpose and use of the new building, given by Rev. Dallas D. Denison, church pastor.

After a responsive reading, Mrs. Denison gave a poem, "This Is The Church Of My Dreams".

Participating in the formal ground breaking ceremony were Rev. Denison, Burton Hackney, chairman of the building committee; Rev. Henderson; W. T. McKinney, J. W. Johnson, J. O. Gillham, Mrs. G. S. Webber and Mrs. J. Fred Bucy, all members of the building committee; Jack Kin architectural firm representative; R. J. Purcell, chairman of the Board of Stewards and Church School Superintendent; John T. Glover, contractor;

Mesdames Eva McDaniel Bryan, Betty Criswell, George Tiernan, and B. L. Thompson, charter members of the church; Rev. J. N. Hester, retired minister; Dr. Gordon E. Richardson, chairman of the finance committee; Mrs. E. F. Latham, chairman of the Woman's Society of Christian Service; Mrs. J. H. Carpenter, past president of the society; Mrs. T. P. Brown, chairman of the Wesleyan Service Guild; J. C. Powell, Jr., president of Methodist Men; and Charles Bartley and Billy Mack Herod, representatives of the young people.

After the singing of the Doxology by the congregation, B. G. Jones closed the service with a benediction.

JACK MOSER HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moser on the C. C. Roberson farm, Route 2, was completely destroyed by fire last Thursday at about 6:45 a. m. The family escaped from the dwelling with only the night clothes they were wearing, and all other possessions were burned.

The cause was thought to be leakage of gas from a hose going to a heater in the kitchen.

Moser, his wife, Betty, and their 3-year-old daughter, Carol, had lived in the house four days. They had moved there from the Douglas Jones farm, where they spent the past year, and were former residents of Denison. Moser had rented the Roberson farm for the year 1953.

Funeral Services Are Held Thursday For Tom Kizer, 76

Funeral services for Tom Kizer, 76, of 205 North Fifth, were held last Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Crescent Hill Church of Christ with T. J. Finley, minister of the church, officiating. Kizer died the previous Wednesday at 1:20 a. m., following a long illness.

Burial was in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, four sons, M. C. Kizer, Roswell N. M., Tom and W. L. Kizer, both of Spur; and H. D. of Carlsbad, N. M.; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Nell Diffey of Brownfield.

Kizer was a retired farmer, coming to Terry County in 1938 from Hockley County. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

COUNCIL MEMBERS ENDORSE CITIZEN'S TRAFFIC COMMISSION

When members of the City Council met Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the City Hall in regular session, representatives of the Citizen's Traffic Commission were present to explain motives and purposes of the commission.

Earl Jones, G. F. Hutson and Morgan Copeland spoke in behalf of the commission. Council members passed a resolution endorsing and sanctioning motives and purposes of the commission and pledged their support in every way possible.

Council members present were Mayor Homer Nelson, Herman Chesshir, V. L. Patterson, Sam Murphy, City Secretary Jake Geron, City Attorney Ted Odom and City Superintendent E. D. Jones.

BUILDING PERMITS FALL SHORT OF MILLION DOLLAR MARK

A total of 936,320 in building permits was issued for the year 1952, according to Jake Geron, City Secretary.

Had the $300,000 permit for the new Methodist Church building been issued before the first of the year, the year's total would have been over one million dollars.

Ag. Workers Council Has Tus. Breakfast

Thirty-one County Agents, Vocational Agriculture instructors government agricultural agency representatives, farmers, ranchers and guests met Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock in the Jessie G. Randal Cafeteria for the regular Tuesday Workers Council. Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month and rotated among the representative communities of the tri-county area of Gaines, Terry and Yoakum.

After breakfast, sponsored by Goodpasture Grain Company and prepared by school cafeteria personnel, R. J. Purcell, local business man and farmer, was introduced by Dennis Q. Lilly of the First National Bank.

In his talk, Purcell stressed the need for more harmonious relationships among the several agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, urged compilation of water depth data, which could be secured from Seismograph Companies working the area, and suggested close study of moisture penetration of land broken at various depths.

Purcell also presided at a question-and-answer period, and answered many questions regarding his experiences with and methods of raising irrigated alfalfa in this section.

Places represented at the gathering were Loop, Seminole, Plains, Meadow and Brownfield. The next two meetings of the organization are also scheduled to be held here.

W. N. (DOC) LEWIS BACK TO PORTWOODS AS CAR SALESMAN

W. N. (Doc) Lewis has returned to Portwood Motor Company as a car salesman, after two-and-a-half years' association with South Plains Ready - Mix. Lewis moved to Brownfield from Lubbock when John Portwood established the Portwood Ford house here, and worked as a car salesman for the company until assuming management of South Plains Ready - Mix.

Lewis served as business manager of the Ready-Mix plant until the organization incorporated, at which time he was made president.

He has expressed his appreciation for past cooperation from his friends, and invites them to visit him at the motor company.

Banquet And Installation For Chamber Of Commerce Officials To Be February 17

The date for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet has been set for February 17th. The banquet will be in the Jessie G. Randal School Cafeteria this year to give seating space of 300. Boyce House of Ft. Worth, noted Texas writer and widely known speaker in this area, will be the principal speaker at the banquet. New Board of Directors members will be officially installed at the banquet. Tickets will go on sale soon at the Chamber of Commerce office and members are encouraged to buy them early. They will sell for $1.50 per ticket.

The ballots for the election of new directors are being printed this week and will be sent out Friday. The directors who have served their time in office are: Second Vice-President Ernest Latham, Murphy May, Bruce Zorns, Virgil Travis, John J.

Kendrick, Harmon Howze, and Joe Shelton. The directors who will remain on the board and who will serve with the newly elected directors are: Herbert Chesshir, President; James H. Dallas, First Vice-President; Harry Cornelius, Kenneth Purcell, W. R. McDuffie, Curtis Sterling, Vernon Townes and Wayland Parker. A new President to succeed Herbert Chesshir will be elected before the banquet date.

The nominating committee of the Chamber has nominated sixteen names to the ballot but members will elect only eight. Instructions are on the ballot and each member is urged to vote and return his ballot within the required time.

With the additional space in the cafeteria, President Herbert Chesshir expects a much larger crowd than in previous banquets.

Odessa Fighters To Compete Here In Pre-Gloves Meet

Approximately 18 bouts are scheduled for the Brownfield-Odessa Golden Gloves warmup competition set for Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. At press time it was not known whether the fights would be held at the new High School gymnasium, or at the old High School gym.

Tickets are selling at $1 each for adults, and 50 cents for children, and persons wishing to obtain fight ducats should contact Junior Bond, Herb Chesshir, or any member of the Lions Club.

Boys who are making a good showing in Gloves competition this year are Johnny Cloud, Lyle Shelton, Arlen Odom, Roscoe Treadaway, Leo Hall, Danny Parks, Kenneth Cary, Charles Bartley and Junior Brown, according to Junior Bond.

Bond added that James Ford, who is currently in service, will be in the ring Thursday night if he receives his discharge in time. Ford was the only Brownfield fighter at Fort Worth last year for participation in Golden Gloves bouts. Bond said that Ford is an unusually good fighter and will bear watching this season.

First Offset Of New Pool Brought In

While not completed at this writing, the Fullerton Oil Co., No. 1, C. L. Taylor, in the newly discovered field, six miles south of town, was thought to be a very good well when finished and prorated. The well after swabbing, kicked off, producing some 50 to 50 barrels of oil per hour, mostly oil of high gravity.

Then down in the southeast part of the county, in the Fusselman formation, the Cities Service Co., Starnes, seems to have a fair well, when finally finished. It is still in the swabbing stage, and after the last 24 hours of swabbing at 11,757-82, 86 barrels of oil was recovered along with 197 barrels of sediment and water.

There are several other wells in the county nearing the depth at which oil is found.

CHARGES ARE SET FOR MAINTAINERS

Commissioners' Court met recently and voted to set a charge of $6 per hour for work with county-owned maintainers in the various precincts for levelling, terracing and digging irrigation ditches, and a charge of $10 for making irrigation slush pits.

These charges are effective now, according to County Judge Leonard Lang.

First National Bank Names New Officers

The First National Bank of Brownfield announces that Mr. Robert Lewis, of Anton, Texas, has purchased an interest in the First National Bank, and has been elected president to succeed Mr. C. K. Kendrick. Mr. Lewis will assume his duties on January 15th, and will move his family to Brownfield shortly.

Mr. Lewis has been the executive officer in the Citizens State Bank in Anton since its organization in 1947. Prior to that time, he was vice-president of the Spur Security Bank in Spur, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have two daughters, Marie, who is educational director of the First Methodist Church of Children; Rosalyn, 12 years old, who will be at home; and one son, Charles, who is in the Naval Air Corps, now stationed at Alameda, California.

Mr. C. K. Kendrick has been elected chairman of the board of directors and will continue to be semi-active in the bank.

Announcement was also made that Mr. Marvin W. Abernathy of Slaton has been elected a director of the bank at the annual stockholders meeting held January 13. Mr. Abernathy has extensive farming interests throughout the Plains area and operates a laundry in Slaton. Two new assistant cashiers were appointed in the personages of Miss Lillian Cameron and Mr. Frank Gorton, both of whom are longtime residents of Brownfield.

Miss Cameron is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cameron of 415 West Ripley, Brownfield, and has been associated with the First National Bank since December of 1947, when she was employed as a bookkeeper.

Mr. Gorton is the son of Mr. U. D. Gorton of Levelland Road, Brownfield. He became associated with the First National Bank in March of 1948 as a file clerk. Mr. Gorton is an Elder of the First Presbyterian Church in Brownfield.

Both of these new junior officers have shown the traits desired in leadership and have been promoted as a result of their unswerving loyalty and ability in their chosen field.

Tokio Tech Student Dies In Accident Rites Are Monday

Allen Clyde Clanahan, 18-year-old Texas Tech freshman from Tokio, and the son of Mrs. Noel Clanahan, was killed in a highway accident nine miles north of Lamesa Saturday night. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Brownfield First Baptist Church with Rev. C. E. Wainwright of Tokio officiating for the rites. Assisting was Rev. Jones W. Weathers.

Burial was in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Survivors are his mother, a brother, Noel Jr., two sisters, Mrs. Ray Bearden and Juanell Clanahan, all of Tokio; a grandmother, Mrs. A. C. Clanahan of Olney; and a grandfather, H. C. Perkins, of Tokio.

The youth was killed about 7:30 p. m. Saturday when his car collided with a semi-trailer truck as he was enroute to Lamesa for a date with a girl friend. Clanahan was a freshman agricultural student at Texas Tech. He was the second person to die in South Plains area traffic accidents this year.

His father, Noel Clanahan, died in a traffic accident Dec. 20, 1950, eight miles west of Brownfield.

TUESDAY IMPORTANT IN BROWNFIELD'S FUTURE

When next Tuesday rolls around, let none of us say, "let George do it." The Charter election that day is going to be too important to let anyone do it for you. So, let every qualified voter within the city limits go out and vote for the new charter, or against it, and for or against the men who are named as a commission to get the charter in action.

In the official ballot, there are two propositions, the first is, are you for or against the New Charter? There is a "YES" and a "NO," and you are to cross out one or the other. Then there are fifteen (15) men named to constitute the Charter Commission. Opposite each man's name is a blank line, and if you don't think the person named in that line is the man for the place, black out his name, and write in the man you want.

The fifteen men named are Murphy Mey, R. E. Self, Cecil Smith, James H. Dallas, John J. Kendrick, Jack Hamilton, Fred C. Smith, Virgil Travis, Virgil Crawford, Dr. Geo. W. Sibley, Lloyd Moore, C. C. Primm, Jack DuBose, M. J. Craig, Sr., and T. A. Hicks, Jr.

The City Charter is nothing new in Texas. It has been in vogue several years. At the present time, there are 115 cities with this new and more progressive form of government, and only 43 without it. A city or town has to have 5,000 or more inhabitants to be eligible for this form of government.

Presently in our more immediate area of Texas, we might mention those that have the new Charter government, being Lamesa, Levelland, Big Spring, Borger, Colorado City, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and San Angelo.

So far as we have ever heard, no city that has adopted the new Charter form of government has ever repealed it, and gone back to the old city council form of government. The election judges will help you if you need help.

Tuesday is never a rush day here. So don't let anything keep you away from the polls that day. VOTE!

The Passing Of A Great And Good Man

At an early hour last Wednesday morning, the 7th, Uncle Jimmie O'Connor, that grand little Irish pal of all mankind breathed his last. Had he lived until the 6th day of February, he would have been 97 years of age, or within three years of being a centenarian. Until his last illness, which was brief, Uncle Jimmie as well as his host of friends had hoped that he would live to celebrate his 100th birthday.

Mr. O'Connor first saw the light of day in the peaceful little town of Sparta, Tennessee, Feb. 6, 1856, seven years before the Civil War. He grew to manhood in that locality, to finally find his life companion, who passed to the Great Beyond several years ago. After coming west, the O'Connor family lived for several years in New Mexico, but finally decided to make Brownfield their permanent home some 25 years ago.

If not ill, you could always see Uncle Jimmie and wife at Church, Sunday or any other time when there were services. And Mrs. O'Connor was always with him as long as she lived and was well. He always had that engaging smile and handshake for everyone. You was a stranger to him but once. If he disliked anyone, you never knew it, as he always had a good word about his neighbors and friends. In other words, Uncle Jimmie figured that one could not despise his neighbors and at the same time love the Lord.

Funeral services were conducted for him at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ last Thursday at 10 a. m., with the minister, T. J. Finley in charge, and assisted by Joe Chisholm. Burial was by the side of his wife in the old Brownfield Cemetery. Active pall bearers were Henry Chisholm, Ned Self, Ross Black, Chester Gore, Eldon Cornelius and Leonard Lang.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Nannie Hamilton, with whom they shared the home since the death of his wife and her husband; Mrs. Edna Cook, Norwell and Eastace O'Connor of Bakersfield, California; Mrs. Lillian Rogers of Amarillo; and Lester O'Connor of St. Louis, Mo., sons and daughters, 10 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

"Blessed are they who die in the Lord, for they shall rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

LEWIS IN DALLAS

According to information reaching here recently, R. L. Lewis, who is taking a course in Dallas on the retailing of building materials, has completed the phase of the course given on the S. M. U. campus and is now touring various plants in the Dallas area, which manufacture brick, paints, gypsum board and other items used in the building trade. Mrs. Lewis and son, Randy, are in Dallas with Mr. Lewis, who is taking the course under the auspices of Cicero Smith Lumber Company.

According to information from Fort Worth, that city will have the old plush carpet out with the welcome sign on it, come January 30th, and on through February 8th. This will be the annual dates of the Southwestern Exhibition and Livestock Show. And Old Cowtown is expecting 'em there from the forks of the branches of east Texas to the rocky hills of the Big Bend section, from the rolling waves of the Gulf coast to the waving wheat fields of the Panhandle. Also, from all the adjoining states, especially New Mexico and Oklahoma, both of which are old time cattle countries, when cows were wild and horses shy. And there will be something to see. It will be bigger and better, we are assured. For instance, the amount of the prizes will be hiked to $172,272, and the number of participants in the opening parade is astounding. They are expecting 600 riders alone in the grand entry, there at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. There is going to be fun and amusement for all. On Monday, Feb. 2, there will be newspaper, radio and TV day, and what a day to expect a country newspaper man or woman, when they are very busy at that time planning and laying out the weekly "Glean." But if the editors can make it, they will have the honor of seeing the grand champion steer selected and ribboned, and during the afternoon they will be the guests of the Fat Stock Show to watch the world's best and biggest indoor rodeo. Not only that, but they will see the cream of the crop of the aristocrats of the horse family, including the dazzling palominos, on down to the smallest of the Shetland family. Then there will be the pigs and poultry sections and various and sundry other things on exhibition to catch the eye, and interest the visitor. You have often heard that old saying that competition is the life of trade, and competition among the exhibitors at such shows as this one makes for careful breeding, careful handling of all kinds of livestock and poultry. That is just the reason that today you do not see the old longhorns on Texas ranches, that took five years to make a top steer. That is the reason you do not see a spotted, a brindled or an old red cow — just a cow with no known breed. It was competition that made the transition.

The State Junior Bar Association is still after the loan sharks, and according to information we have at hand, that bunch of hustling young Texas lawyers are going to see that there is something done when the legislature meets, to eliminate these grafters. But these young barristers have found the public in general a bit complacent about the matter. Here is a sample of some of the remarks they hear from some of the people: "Granted that the loan shark situation in Texas is very bad, why should I concern myself about people who are so foolish as to let themselves become involved." Carrying out such a lack of reasoning, we should have no laws to protect the innocent and sometimes the ignorant who are swindled out of their life savings by unscrupulous promoters. Let us take the man who needs a small sum of money, say under $100. Suppose he has no credit or collateral at the bank that that would make it possible to obtain a loan from that source. It is a well known fact that if a person is really up against it, and needs the money bad enough, he will sign anything to get the money. It matters not with him that the interest rate is 100 or 150 percent. In an article we recently read, one attorney stated that when he was connected with the district attorney's office in a large city, he had seen such small borrowers that were pitiable, who had obtained money from a loan shark, and trying to repay the amount out of small wages. They were unable to sleep, to do their work satisfactorily, and their families lacked adequate food and clothing. Thirty other states have made conditions like this their business, and it is high time that Texas was waking up and doing something to help its low income workers who are trying to raise a family. This bunch of young lawyers are going to try to do something about this matter when the Texas legislature meets this month. And they are going to insist that a law be passed that really has teeth in it, one that will either force these grafters to lower their sights or hunt a state that has no limit of the amount they can choke out of people who are up against it. It is our understanding that some of these grafters are considered by many to be the leading men in their communities, and some even occupy the "amen corner" at the church. To our notion, they are hell bent.

If you are a person that takes a chance in driving, according to the law of average, sooner or later, you are destined to wind up in the hospital or morgue. The law of averages will finally get you — killed or maimed in a wreck. Or, perhaps you will kill some innocent person, maybe one of your best friends or his children. Maybe your own wife or children. A severe stroke on any conscience, we'll have to admit, and one that will have to remain with you until your death, unless you go insane. Just what happens to a driver that while walking on the streets or in his office, or home, that transforms him from a milquetoast to a bulldozer when he gets under the wheel, has never been fathomed by any state highway patrolman, or others that have a sayso over traffic violations. As one means of trying to help matters, he State Highway Department has asked Gov. Shivers to designate January as "Hand Signal Month." Many times one car will be following another in close proximity, and is in danger of jamming into the other, unless the front car driver is onto hand signals. Indeed, we have seen near accidents on such conditions. The front car would either suddenly slow up to make a right turn, or go bulging across the road or street into another street, or perhaps a country road. All this without a single movement of the hand and arm to warn the car behind. It appears that such drivers just don't give a hang, or else they expect the driver behind them to watch his step. Traffic men say hand signals are a sign of life, that they neither want their car damaged nor yours, or perhaps some in each car injured or killed. Then there are some hairbrained drivers that have no more mercy on the pedestrian, even if he is in the right, than they do for a tumblebug crawling along the street. Maybe the person is old, decrepit, perhaps partially blind. But these jerks will try to see if they cannot take the clothes off the pedestrian without killing him. This writer believes that there ought to be laws passed that really have teeth in them. A guy with plenty money, if a careless driver or a DWI, does not care for a money fine. He has plenty of that stuff. But if you add a stiff jail sentence, and make the law stick, he will think twice before taking a chance. And if the tearful jury does not want to do its duty, take the matter out of their hands, and let the judge decide.

Taking the matter of what an American wrote about Russia 100 years ago, we find little change in the bolsies. The following words came not from some prejudiced newspaper correspondent, but from the American envoy, and were addressed to Daniel Webster, then Secretary of State. In substance, we have about the following: "This is a hard climate, and an American finds many things to try his patience. Some of the most disagreeable are the secrecy. You never get the straight of any matter until after it happens. And you are constantly watched by unseen observers. The Russian mind seems to be distrustful, and this is especially so with officials. The policy of Moscow in the past years is becoming more stringent. They do not want any foreign influence on the popular mind. I have had a great deal to try my patience the past winter, as the Russian seems to have an exquisite degree of art in worrying foreign representatives. A strange superstition prevails among them that they are destined to rule the world. This condition may have sprung from the endurance of the Russian soldier in the midst of the greatest privation." So, we see that the attitude of the Kremlin has not changed materially since 1853, one hundred years ago. They are still suspicious of every one; they are even suspicious now of one another. The heads of the family will not repeat anything about the government in the presence of their own children, for fear of reprisals. And neighbors just don't get out in the back yards to talk politics over their back fences. That is entirely out. And as far as talking to a casual acquaintance, that is beyond the wildest dream. They are not only suspicious of any stranger, but are suspicious of one another. They will not render aid to anyone, for fear it might be someone under secret police suspicion. There can be no close friendships, or mutual aid such as we know it in the USA. Then just why any jackass in the USA would want to do away with our ideals of freedom to institute a government by suspicion, we are entirely unable to grasp. It would seem to us that such people have a mind that should be examined by a psychiatrist. Bound to be subnormal. And it goes to show what the training of hundreds of years can do to the character of people. They trust no one. No one can trust them.

Today there is just about as much need of an anti-lynch law in the USA, as there is of an anti-wire cutting pliers law in Texas. Thirty, forty or fifty years ago, there would have been a little more sense in passing such a law. When the vogue of keeping account of lynchings in the USA was launched, it was by the Tuskegee Institute for Negroes in Alabama, the school made famous by the late Booker T. Washington, negro educator. At the time the idea was started of keeping the record, lynchings, particularly in the South, was a disgrace, and was more than all the rest of the nation combined. And the great majority of the victims were negroes. While still too high, the records for the past ten years reveals only 21 lynchings in the USA, with a third of them in the South, including Texas, with approximately a third of the nation's population. And not all the victims were negroes; some of them in the South were whites. The beatings that were administered to North Carolinians last year by the Ku Klux Klan, who were spirited over into South Carolina, were all white people. Was this change by reason of a threat of a force law to stop lynchings? The Herald firmly believes that it was the disgust and the repugnance of the better class of the whole nation that reduced the number of lynchings to a very low point in the past 50 years. Now, instead of taking the law into their own hands, the people believe in letting the law take its own course, and this causes little if any animosity against any section. Very few people, north or south, in or out of congress, want an anti-lynch law now. They believe the people themselves will handle this disgraceful method of revenge. Only a few self exalting minor organizations now want a law passed. The same might be said of the anti-filibuster laws now proposed. Just a few Republicans and practically all the Democratic senators of the north and east are for such a law, while the majority of Republican senators, together with all the Southern Democratic members of the US Senate, want unlimited debate, just as always. The last vote taken, just recently, was 70 to 21 to leave the law on debate as is. Just the radical, new-fair deal Democrats want a change. And this seems to apply equally to the idea of making a force law against lynchings. In fact, the Southern Democrats are now more like Republicans than they are like the Socialistic Idealists of the so-called Democratic party.

The Season For "Flu" Is Here

AUSTIN — This is the season of the year when influenza or "flu" is most prevalent, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Colds, grippe, influenza, whatever we call them, are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such diseases, here are some things to be remembered:

Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contract it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing, or sniffing or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and always wash your hands before eating and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief.

Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, by eating simple nourishing food, by some exercise out of doors every day, by dressing according to the weather, by having plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, and by keeping the bowels regulated.

Don't neglect your "cold." If you have the slightest suspicion of fever go home, go to bed immediately and call your physician. Stay in bed until he tells you that you can get up, and follow his advice explicitly.

Disastrous results may ensue if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections. If you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually.

New Bulletin On Growing Grain Sorghums Available

College Station — Grain sorghums now rank as the state's most important grain producing crop and second only to cotton in total acres planted. An average of 6,835,000 acres were planted annually during the period from 1940 - 1949. Nearly 4,000,000 acres were planted for grain and the remainder for forage, including silage. The average annual production for the past five years has been about 90 million bushels.

As an aid to grain sorghum producers and others interested in the crop, the agronomists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have recently prepared and released a bulletin on "Growing Grain Sorghums." Copies are now available at county Extension offices.

Included in the bulletin are discussions on varieties, seed, chemical seed treatment, land preparation, planting, use of fertilizers, cultivation, irrigation, harvesting, diseases and storage. The bulletin in reality is a handbook on grain sorghum production.

The specialists have used the research findings of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in preparing the bulletin and especially acknowledge the assistance given by R. E. Karper and N. W. Kramer, agronomists at the Lubbock Substation.

Those interested in securing a copy of the publication should ask their county agent for B-210, Growing Grain Sorghums.

The by-products from an acre of sugar beets prepared as livestock feed will produce at least 300 pounds of meat.

Our basic fuels, coal and petroleum, were originally sugar created in the leaves of plants millions of years ago.

First One Thing, Then Another

Had a letter this week from friend Congressman George Mahon, asking our pardon for being a month late with a check for the Herald. If we remember rightly, he was over in Europe in December, when his Herald expired, trying to find out just how much the contractors had put the screws on our Uncle Sam, building airways and other public buildings. The way he talked when he returned to Washington, what those contractors overcharged for was plenty.

And to make matters even worse, some of the work they did just won't stand the gaff of heavy planes. If George and the others will be instrumental in sending those grafters to the pen, we'd gladly wait a year or more for pay for the Herald. Anyway, George says the home papers from his district are very helpful to him in keeping track of what is going on at home.

While speaking of Washington, there must be a lot of music in the air up there — people singing their Swan Song. Among them will be the little man from Moo. But he just could not leave Washington without first telling Congress just how much money they had to put out, although another man will be in charge just a few days after his order came.

Got to looking over the bank statements of Hardeman county, (Tenn.) banks when we received our Bolivar Bulletin this week. They have, or did have, some 26,000 population, or practically double that of Terry county, according to the 1950 census.

Their six banks had only $7,154,127.21 on deposit, and the two banks here had a bit the rise of $16,000,000 on deposit or more than twice that of the Tennessee banks. Yet, the banks back there are in good shape according to the loans and the amount of their deposits, as well as their cash.

Newspaper folks all over the South, as well as Texas, were saddened at the death announcement Friday of Peter Mollyneaux, of Dallas. Mr. Mollyneaux was editor of the now discontinued Southern Weekly, which was formerly the Texas Weekly. And his articles and editorials were probably the most quoted publication in the South, if not in the nation. You never had to guess where Mr. Mollyneaux stood on anything. He was no radical about anything. He was a conservative.

Being born in New Orleans, he was at heart a Democrat of the Jefferson-Jackson type. He was no Dealer in any sense of the word. If there was any dealism in his blood at all, it was for a square deal for all, from the lowest to the highest. But like a lot of newspaper folks, he was not a good business man. He paid more attention to production than to income, and he continued his paper when he was going into the hole every issue. Inflation got this man's magazine.

High cost of material and labor finally closed out Southern Weekly, much to the regret of many readers. Mr. Mollyneaux did not, however, die of a broken heart. It was another deadly disease, cancer. But it was said that he refused easing dope to the very last,

Natural Gas To Help Build Texas

AUSTIN — Natural gas will continue to play a dominant role in building Texas as an industrial state, a new University of Texas publication predicts.

The University's Bureau of Business Research has just issued a 316-page monograph on the "Economics of Natural Gas in Texas." It represents more than two years of study by the Bureau on a grant from the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Authors of the publication are Dr. John R. Stockton, Bureau director; Richard C. Henshaw, Jr., and Richard W. Graves.

Texas consumes nearly 50 percent of the gas produced within the state, and an overwhelming percentage of that amount is used by industry, the monograph reports. On a comparative basis, it says, Texas' industrial use of natural gas is the highest of any state in the nation.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I know of a woman who is drawing indemnity payments because of the death of her husband in service in Korea. She's the only living person eligible to receive the money; he had no children, living parents, brothers or sisters. What happens if his widow dies before receiving all the indemnity installments?

A—If she dies, and there is no other living person eligible to receive the installments, no payment of the unpaid installments may be made under the law.

Q—I'm getting a VA pension, and I'm now figuring out my income for the year to see whether it falls below the ceiling. I have a part-time job. Do I figure the actual amount of take-home pay that I get, or am I also supposed to include deductions for a retirement plan and for income tax?

A—In computing your yearly income, you must include the deductions as well as the take-home pay.

Q—How much may I borrow on my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy? Also, what's the interest rate charged on such loans?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the reserve value of your insurance. Interest is charged at the rate of four percent per year. The VA office to which you pay premiums will be glad to tell you what the reserve value of your policy is.

Q—I'm planning to enroll in a trade school under the Korean GI Bill and study carpentry. Most of my course will be shop practice. What is considered full-time in such a course?

A—Full-time in your course would be at least 30 hours a week for at least five days a week, with no more than 2½ hours of rest periods of rest periods each week.

As he was afraid his friends would call, and he would not recognize them.

Peace to his ashes.

Selecting the Site First Step Toward Home Ownership

from SMALL HOMES GUIDE

Selecting a home site is the first step to home ownership, according to Small Homes Guide. If you choose your lot carefully, you will have a good start toward achieving your dream home. Some of the problems to be considered are discussed below.

If you choose a home site in a city or older suburb, you'll have the advantages of good telephone service, electric power, sewers, streets and sidewalks. Such a location also offers the benefits of fire and police protection, trash collection and good transportation facilities.

There are, of course, disadvantages to city or older suburb locations. Strict building codes set up to insure safety in crowded living areas may not permit certain construction features you want. Construction and lot costs are high. Municipal services are more expensive. Choice lots may be hard to find, living conditions are crowded.

Suburban Advantages

Should you decide to build your new home in a new suburb or in the country, you'll find lots are larger, cheaper and more plentiful than in the city. You can probably have greater flexibility of house design. Property taxes will be lower. Living conditions will be cleaner.

However, don't fail to consider the disadvantages. In many cases both water and sewer systems must be provided by the property owner. Although lots cost less, assessments are made for local improvements. Distance to schools and offices is often great and there is generally a lack of good public transportation. Fire protection services may be lacking, too.

After you decide on the location, you will be ready to look for a piece of property. First, size and shape must be considered. A narrow lot will accommodate a two-story house; a wide, fairly shallow lot is suitable for a ranch home; a hilly lot generally calls for a split-level dwelling. Terrain is another important land feature to consider.

Soil condition, which can be determined by having test holes dug, is a land feature that has direct bearing on house construction. Heavy dirt or clay soil is excellent because it is easily excavated with power equipment and holds its shape well while foundation forms are being built and concrete poured.

Often it's difficult to decide just what you can afford to pay for a lot. Generally, the cost should range from 10 to 25 percent of the total building budget.

If you are planning to get a mortgage loan, be sure to get approval of the lot from the lending institution before signing an offer to purchase.

Your property investment is protected by zoning, land sale restrictions and building codes. Zoning laws establish the relationship of houses to building and property lines.

Land sale restrictions attend the sale of lots in most new subdivisions and, in general, are as follows: (1) The lot owner must construct a house of certain cost within a definite time; (2) The building can only be used for dwelling purposes and must be set back a certain distance from the street.

Building codes are set up to eliminate fire hazards and insure sound construction and good value. City and town codes set certain minimum sizes for yards, rooms and windows, and certain construction standards. FHA-financed homes must conform to state and national regulations governing construction.

What to Watch

Have boundaries described in the deed checked by a surveyor before you buy, to make sure they are correct. Make sure also that the location is the one you understand it to be so you won't build on the wrong lot.

Don't buy a lot if you are legally certain that the title to the land will be clear in your name. It is the legal duty of the seller to furnish you with proof of a clear title.

The validity of a clear title should be insured by a guaranty policy which is the only safeguard that the land is yours. After the policy has been issued, the guaranty company defends any suits brought against the property owner and if there is any loss to him, the company pays for it.

Should you buy a country lot at a tax sale, get a quit claim deed from the owner. Some states permit the owner to redeem the property if you do not obtain this document from him.

UNION NEWS

Union boys brought home a second place consolation trophy from the Meadow tournament last week-end.

They lost to Ropes, 51-36, in their first game but defeated the Bledsoe quintet, 60-42. In the final Post slid past Union 40-33, to win first place consolation.

High scorer was Glenn Sargent with 13 points during the Ropes game and 18 during the Bledsoe game. Jimmie Benton led the scoring in the Post game with 12 points.

Union girls lost both games played in the tourney. They dropped games to Meadow, 53-20, and to Plains, 30-19.

The Wildcats dropped their first conference game to Meadow, 65-38, Monday night in the Union gym.

Half-time score was 31-25 with Meadow leading, but the Meadowites pulled far ahead during the second half to give Union a good stomping. Glenn Sargent and Robert Earl Faught shared scoring honors for Union with 12 points each.

Meadow girls, leading all through the game, outplayed Union, 58-20.

Numerous guests were entertained in the R. W. Horton home last week. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gunn, Brownfield, visited Tuesday night. Friday night dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McCallister, Meadow. Company Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Riddle, Slaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Rice, Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Herring and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Herring attended the funeral of L. P. Herring in Hillsboro Sunday. They remained in Hillsboro three days. Mrs. Gus Pollard accompanied the group as far as Waco where she stayed to visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Carmichael.

Mr. M. G. Gary left last Wednesday morning to attend a meeting of the School Administration Advisory Conference on Education in Austin. He returned home Sunday night.

Members of the Union High School classes elected class favorites New Year's Day. Freshmen chose Carol Ann Garner and Preston Drake; sophomores, Don Lewis and Ardeth Herring; juniors, Pauleta Gracey and Nolan Cornett; and the seniors, Betty Jo Cornett and Glenn Sargent.

Students at Union are taking semester tests today and tomorrow.

The W. W. Cheatham family attended the funeral of Mrs. Cheatham's father who died at Sundown last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Kerr entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. McWhirter and Janis of Lubbock with a barbecue dinner at Gore's Barbecue Pit Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Gunter died in the Treadaway - Daniel Hospital Friday afternoon after being extremely ill for six months suffering the effects of a cancer. Her funeral was held in the Brownfield Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bishop and daughters of Snyder, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barrier.

The Pool Community was saddened by the death of Mrs. J. J. Gunter. She had lived in this community and was loved by all who knew her.

Pool HD Clu News

The Pool Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Otis Aldridge, January 7, with seven members present. Attending were Mesdames Jewel Howard, Levera Forbes, Major Howard, Freddie Howard, Thurman Salsberry and Jim Trussell. The program was Introduction to the Living Room.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Roy Barrier.

Reckless Killer Car Drivers Go Free

Last summer sometime, a man reported as being chased toward Lubbock by officers, and had his car up to 85 miles per hour in the northwest outskirts of Lubbock, ran into another car. Result, the death of a 17 year old girl in the other car, and others hurt, including the man driving the get-away car.

When the trial came up later, the fugitive from the officers was given a pen sentence for murder. Presumably, the officers thought as he was coming from the west, he had liquor in his car, and at that time, they said he was DWI.

Now it seems that the jury has backed up; the medical examiner has kinder reneged, and apparently, the reckless one goes scot free. Meantime, the girl that couldn't get out of his way fast enough is still dead. And if he was not drunk, he at least was greatly exceeding the speed limit. He tore up another car. Just what happened to so change the jury and medical man is a deep, dark secret.

Now, we are wondering what a Lubbock jury will do with Hap and Hazard from over about Ralls, who ran into a man, penning him between the front of their car and the dead man's own car, Saturday night? At least two men were out in the road trying to stop the Ralls men by waving

GOV. SHIVERS' BAD BET WITH TENN. GOV.

Governor Shivers made a bet with Gov. Browning of Tennessee that Texas U. would win the New Year's Cotton Bowl Game at Dallas. The bet was, if we won, we got Silliman Evans, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean; if we lost, Tennessee was to take Maury Maverick of San Antonio off our hands.

We lost in one way and gained in another. We would like to have sent Tennessee Maverick to go with their Kefauver. A good matching team of "liberals." But Silliman is something else yet. He was born down at old Joshua in Johnson county.

He was brought up in the newspaper business on the Star Telegram and the Dallas News. We wouldn't mind having Silliman back in Texas.

Their arms and shouting. They were either drunk or engaged in a heavy conversation, not to see two stalled cars that had already had a collision.

Sometimes we wonder if it would not be a pretty good idea in such cases to eliminate the jury. And as for the physician, there is such a thing these days as testing blood to see if it contains alcohol.

To say the least, officials and jurors are going to have to get tough with reckless and drunken drivers, or it will be unsafe to get near a highway, much less drive on one.

Meadow News

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bedzek moved to Hobbs, N. M., Monday, to make their home. Bedzek was employed at the gin here during the ginning season.

Mrs. C. C. Brooks had her mother, of Roaring Springs, visiting in her home the past week.

Rev. Fred Blake of Brownwood preached here at both the morning and night services at the First Baptist Church, Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Arnett died at 2 p. m., Wednesday, in a Lubbock hospital. She had been in poor health for the past three years. Funeral services were conducted at the Lubbock First Baptist Church with Dr. Grant officiating. Mrs. Arnett had been a member of the Baptist Church for the past 59 years. Mrs. Arnett is survived by one daughter, one son, four sisters and one brother. Mrs. W. T. Arnett of Meadow was one of the sisters. Mrs. Arnett visited often here with her sister as long as her health permitted her to. The sympathy of the community goes to the family in their sorrow.

Mrs. Beulah Harmon of Tatum, N. M., spent Sunday with her dad and Mrs. Edd Peck.

The WMS met at the Baptist Church at 3 p. m., Monday, for a Royal Service program with the leader in charge.

Built-In Kitchen Ranges

from SMALL HOMES GUIDE

Today an oven can be tucked into a wall of the kitchen and located at the height that is most convenient. Burner units can be as close to or as far away from the oven as the housewife desires. Built-in ranges, in either gas or electric models make this possible. They offer more flexible kitchen planning, allow the creation of the type of cooking center best suited to the individual's work habits.

The picture at left shows two electric ovens and a warming drawer located on one side of the kitchen. Opposite is the four burner and griddle surface unit. An important safety device is the controls on top of the unit and out of the youngsters' reach. Griddle top swings down when griddle is not in use.

Crosbyton Review Celebrates Birthday

We note that over at Crosbyton, Bro. Curry of the Review is announcing a happy birthday to that newspaper, and that it is now into its 45th year of publication. This made the writer hark back some years. In fact to about 1809, when a man by the name of Frank White ran a paper called Anson Town Talk in that city. Being a former newspaperman or rather boy, we frequently dropped around where the White plant was located for a chat. In fact, we were asked to go back to our boyhood job of typesetting the "hand-spike" fashion. But we were farming then.

But there was not room for two papers in Anson in those days and the CB Livestock company were starting a brand new town in east central Crosby County named Crosbyton. They were to finally build a railroad from Lubbock to Crosbyton, and miss Emma, the county seat, and finally make Crosbyton the county seat. Well, they missed Emma, ok about 6 miles to the north. And that was when the fireworks opened. The Crosbyton, South Plains Ry. refused to put in a switch where Ralls now stands, but had one between there and Crosbyton, and another at or near Lorenzo. The old Emma folks wanted to move to Ralls instead of Crosbyton and start a competitive town, but the C-B had 'em sowed up.

That old county seat fight is now past history, and was much more bitter than the Brownfield-Gomez fight, for the reason that Gomez never had the county seat, while Emma did for many years. The matter of Crosbyton being within the five mile limit of the center of the county, when it got the county seat away from Emma, was contested, and the

TRACTOR! NO DINNER! NO WORKEE!

Keith Gore has a Mexican National out on his farm, running a tractor, breaking land, while Keith was working on another tractor. Keith says the man is a good worker, but just does not savvy English. He ran out of butane, and the tractor of course went dead.

He contacted Keith, and did his very best to tell him what had happened. So, with a bit of stammering, he said, "tractor—no dinner—no workee." Which reminds us of the old chestnut about the Chinaman fresh from the old country, who saw his first cable electric street car in San Francisco.

After watching the fast movement with no seeable power for a few minutes, he exclaimed: "No pushee, no pullee, run like hellee!"

From 100 tons of dry sugar cane, 2980 gallons of gasoline, 3430 gallons of medium oil, 1210 gallons of lubricating oil, and 8.45 tons of raw sugar can be made.

The average 2 lb. sugar beet contains 14 teaspoonsful of sugar.

warring factions grew more bitter, as one court after another handed down the opinion that "Crosbyton was within five miles of the corner of the middle section of the county", we suspect some of the older ones, if living, are still miffed.

Anyway, we never saw Editor White again until 1910, when we had to come through there via rail to Spur, and "automobile" line from there to Lubbock, but not in one day. The driver lived in Crosbyton, and we got to Lubbock next day. And White was at work on the Review, and we had a nice visit with him. Like most of us, those days he was using a big job press to print the Review on.

Lt. Nichols Returning From Far East

With The 1st Cavalry Div. in Japan—Army First Lt. Edward N. Nichols, whose wife, Thresa, lives at 515 S. Jackson st., Enid, Okla., is returning to the United States under the Army's rotation program after 11 months in the Far East.

He served in the 1st Cavalry Division, which spent 17 months in the front lines of Korea before being assigned to security duty in Japan late in 1951.

World War II veterans will remember this same division landed at Lingayen Gulf on Luzon, Philippine Islands in early 1945 and raced south to help liberate Manila. American prisoners of war held at Santo Tomas University were freed by an advance column of the 1st cavalry. Lieutenant Nichols, son of Mrs. J. S. Smith, 401 E. Main st., Brownfield, Texas, served as a dentist in Headquarters Company of the Division's 15th Medical Battalion.

A graduate of Baylor University, he entered the Army in February 1951.

Miss Sarah Higdon Becomes Bride Of Gene Willingham

Miss Sarah Elizabeth Higdon became the bride of Brice Eugene Willingham in a double ring ceremony read recently in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Higdon. Mrs. Oma Moore, also of Brownfield, is the mother of the bridegroom.

Joe Chisholm, minister of the Church of Christ, performed the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a dress of Chantilly lace over champagne net and taffeta. She carried brown orchids tied with brown ribbon atop a white Bible.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Miss Wanda Jones, who wore a brown taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with brown ribbon streamers.

Robert Bryant of Lubbock served the bridegroom as best man.

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Ora Willingham, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to points in New Mexico. For traveling, the bride chose a gold shantung suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of brown orchids.

The couple is at home at 419 East Gardwell.

Delphian Club Has Study On Ailments Of Women's Groups

Members of the Delphian Club met for a business and social hour recently at 4 p. m. in the Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse.

Coffee and cookies were served as members arrived, with Mrs. C. L. Aven acting as hostess in the absence of Mrs. Otto Butler, who was ill. Arrangements of calomtoned gladioli decorated the mantle and refreshment table, which was laid with a blue handmade cloth.

After a brief business session, Mrs. J. O. Burnett, program chairman, introduced Mrs. K. D. Sattler, club critic, who spoke on "Common Ailments of Women's Clubs."

At the close of the program, Mrs. Burnett called the roll by having each member reply with a New Year's resolution concerning the club.

Eighteen members were present, including: Mesdames Aven, Robert Baumgardner, H. H. Beard, William C. Brown, W. E. Brown, Claude L. Buchanan, Fred Buty, J. O. Burnett, W. C. Burrow, Tracy Carey, W. N. Lewis, J. W. Moore, W. T. Pickett, Sadleir, Jerry Stoltz, Johnnie Venable, Fred Yandel and Nathan Chesher.

Annie Belle Roberts, Alta Mae Steen, Lois Taylor and Laura Riner are other supporting officers. Bessie Stone and Imo Riley filled the chairs as Altar Bearers. Mrs. C. L. Aven was appointed installing captain. Installing officers were past Noble Grands. Installing Marshall was Lena Bryant; Installing Warden, Mary Ellen Brown; Installing Secretary, Ruth Acker; Installing Treasurer, Ida Bruton; Installing Chaplain, Jessie G. Randall; Installing Musician, Louise Lewis; Installing Inside Guardian, Ella Garrison; Installing Outside Guardian, Charlie Moore.

Over the Noble Grand's stand was an archway of greenery with silver letters at the top, spelling "Geneva," and on either side of the name were silver bows. On each side of the arch were silver candelabras with pink candles. In the center of this was a basket of pink gladioli. Throughout the hall, pink candles in silver holders were used as decorations.

Love Circle Has 'Modern Samaritan' As Study Subject

First Methodist Love Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. L. Newsome, 918 East Tate for a study on "Modern Samaritan," conducted by Mrs. Burton Hackney.

Mrs. Wayland Parker opened the meeting with a prayer, and Mrs. Ernest F. Latham gave a devotional, "In deed and in truth," Mrs. Latham then explained the meaning of "Pledges."

Announcement was made that a check had been sent to Miss Ann Casner, a missionary to Brazil.

Pineapple cake and coffee were served to Mesdames Parker, James Warren, Hackney, Gordon Richardson, Latham, J. Dahl, Leo Holmes, A. W. Butler, R. J. Purcell, Johnnie Criswell, Roy Herod, Kenneth Purcell and Newson.

RANDAL P-TA HAS FATHERS NIGHT

The Randal PTA held their annual Fathers Night program Thursday evening January 8, at the school cafeteria. Mrs. James Fitzgerald, president, gave a welcome to the fathers and introduced Vernon Brewer to the group.

Group singing of several numbers were led by Harold Mulkey. He introduced John Hansard, who sang a melody of spirituals. Crawford Taylor was program chairman, and presented a quiz program. Assisting him in round table discussion were J. B. Curtis, Vernon Brewer, Harry Goble, Bill McGowan, Dick Chambers and Harold Mulkey.

Mrs. J. H. Dallas' room won the $3 room prize by having the most parents present. Program closed with a fellowship and social hour. Pie and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Tidwell of Crosbyton have been visiting this week in the A. W. Butler home. Mrs. Tidwell is the Brownfield couple's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lennox were in Big Spring the first of the week on account of the death of Mrs. Lennox's father, whose funeral was held in Oklahoma Tuesday.

Ice Cream Switcheroo— Makes New Refrigerator Cake

Put pudding mix, ice cream and cookies—that's the brand new, three-prong basis for this luscious dessert, Ice Box Cookie Cake. The secret lies in the sleight of hand addition of the ice cream to the pudding mixture.

You'll find Ice Box Cookie Cake not only delicious-tasting, but easy to fix and "special looking" too. It will take to company like a warm smile. So, why not try it on the "girls" next time they come for a game of bridge.

MINCEMEAT ICE BOX COOKIE CAKE

- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatin
- 1 1/2 cups cold water
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- 1/2 cup moist mincemeat
- 20 shortbread cookies (1 box)

Combine pudding mix, gelatin, and cold water in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Then add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring after each addition until ice cream is melted. Chill 10 to 15 minutes, or until mixture is slightly thickened. Fold in mincemeat.

Place 4 cookies in the bottom of a lightly greased 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Spoon one-third of the pudding over the cookies. Arrange 8 cookies on top of pudding. Continue to layer pudding with cookies, finishing with pudding. Chill until firm (at least 1 hour). To unmold, draw a knife or spatula around sides of pan; turn cake onto serving plate. Garnish the base with a frosting of sweetened whipped cream. A heaping half of pecans in the cream and dazzle 8 persons.

1953 BUICK—NEW POWER, PERFORMANCE, STYLING

Buick introduces for 1953 a Golden Anniversary line of cars with outstanding engineering developments which include the world's newest V-8 engine and an advanced Dynaflo transmission. Pictured above is the two-door, six-passenger Riviera in the Super Series, most popular hard-top in the Buick line. Its new engine, leader of all V-8s, turns up 170 horsepower with a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo gives it vastly improved performance and greater economy with no sacrifice of Buick's completely smooth acceleration. It has a re-styled front end incorporating a sturdier grille, two-piece bumper, and a futuristic headlight arrangement. A new alligator-type hood, long-flowing body lines, new moldings and ventiports, and horizontal rear fenders with bullet-shaped tail lights, give the car an ultra-modern, sleek appearance. The interior features fresh new colors and tasteful trim. Its wheelbase is 121 1/2 inches and offered as optional equipment are wire wheel covers and power steering.

WOMENS AUXILIARY OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The Womens Auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Good Shepard, met Monday morning in the home of Mrs. J. T. Anderson for a business meeting and program discussion.

Cripple Generous To Other Polio Victims

Fifteen-year-old Elizabeth Phillips of Dallas, who asked friends to bring money for her piggy bank rather than party gifts, broke open the bank recently for the benefit of the Texas Society for Crippled Children. Elizabeth asked that the money, $34.13 be used as a down payment for a wheel chair for some crippled teen-ager. Kathleen Hawkins and Wayman Hammer, both of Dallas, helped her count the money. Generosity runs in the Phillips family. Louie, Elizabeth's brother, plans to have a similar piggy bank party on his next birthday. Last year Elizabeth's widowed mother opened her home to a family of three who have been crippled by polio. Elizabeth and her family have also asked to help on the annual Easter Seal Campaign of the Texas Society for Crippled Children, which will begin March 5.

Callers To Renew Or Just 'Jawfest'

Jim Parks was in from the Tokio section of old Yoakum county. He was in to attend the Clannahan funeral. Jim, like himself, is suffering quite a bit from rheumatism (arthritis) if you like that better. But to most of us old timers, it is still just rheumaticks. Then there was Sewell Dean of Wellman in on a hurry call. Not much time to talk. Herbert Bell and lady are up from Marshall, visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Bell here, and his son and family, Milton, over at Lovington, N. M. And Mrs. Bell had come down with flu, he stated, and was in the local hospital. Herbert says Milton has a good grocery business at Lovington, and the town is building at a terrific rate.

Paul Gracey was in from the Union community to renew and get his favorite daily. Asked why he was run out of the Needmore community, where he was raised, "Just didn't want me up there any longer," he stated. One of the kin out in New Mexico sent in the 4 bucks to have the Herald go to Mrs. W. R. Slaughter, now up at Hereford. Among the other new readers were, R. C. Richey, Rt. 1; Alton Loe, Rt. 2, city; E. C. Harvey, down at Seagraves, Star Rt. 3; and a man at Abilene.

Then there was that fellow, Emory Lamp, down at Seagraves Rt. 1, in to get 'er up a notch or so, and to have a little gumfest with the Old He. We both agreed that it was getting dry.

Other renewals were G. O. Richey, Meadow; L. L. White, City; F. V. Adams, Rt. 1, Seagraves; J. M. Trussell, Meadow; Mrs. S. W. Welcher, city; Mrs. A. W. Fore, Meadow; M. W. Luna, Plains—rah! for Murphy; Mrs. O. L. Jones, city; and S. B. McCutcheon, who claimed he owed us for the past year, paid another year, and had us order his favorite daily.

HOME NURSING STUDY BEGINS THIS MORNING

A home nursing course for members of the Parent-Teachers Association will begin this morning at 9 o'clock at the south Plains Health Unit with Mrs. Lewis Simmonds, County Health Nurse, as instructor. Enrollment for the class is already filled.

Mrs. Simmonds emphasized that the class will begin promptly at 9 o'clock and close at 11 a. m. Anyone interested in enrolling in a similar course being planned for the general public in the near future should telephone Mrs. R. N. Lowe, Red Cross home nursing chairman at 278-M.

Large Audience Hears Colored Evangelist At Southside C. Of C.

A large audience gave rapt attention to Andrew Hairston, colored evangelist for the church of Christ now in attendance at Southwestern Christian College at Terrell, Texas. Mr. Hairston delivered a masterful lesson from the 12th chapter of Romans after spending some time in a discussion of the efforts, aims and accomplishments of the recently established college for negroes.

The school is in its third year of operation and represents the only college for negroes among the churches of Christ. There is a high school, supported and taught by members of the church of Christ, in Nashville, Tennessee. Brother Marshal Keeple, noted colored evangelist is head of that school.

Mr. Hairston said there were between 60 or 70 students enrolled this year and the number is due to take a decided increase by next year. There are 20 young men preparing to preach the gospel. The school was established with the purpose of better preparing young evangelists for the work of the ministry. The faculty is made up of both white and colored races. Brother E. W. McMillan, former minister of several of the largest congregations among the white churches of Christ, is the president of the school. He once served on the faculty of Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas.

A remarkable feature of the student body is that every student has an active part in a mixed chorus of singers which has had many honored opportunities to sing. The chorus made an appearance at the Southside church of Christ in Lubbock, last Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. On Monday morning the chorus sang in a chapel program at Dunbar High School in Lubbock before leaving for Terrell where the student body would take up their regular class work on Tuesday morning.

Six young evangelists spoke at sundry places up and down once requested in the county, the FMA Committee is approving a minimum and a maximum amount of conservation work for each farm.

The producer who goes ahead and carries out the maximum amount of conservation practices approved by the County Committee for his farm will earn a Pro Rata amount, along with all other producers, for additional units carried out, if additional funds are available. This additional assistance will not be in excess to the maximum amount approved for each practice on the farm.

The system used in 1953, of requiring producers to request assistance on the conservation practices that they expect to carry out in 1953, before the 1953 money is distributed, in order that all farmers may have a share of the money allotted to the county, resulted in an increase of almost 100% over the 1952 request for assistance.

About 1200 farmers in Terry County have requested assistance for 1953 as compared with the 541 requests in 1952.

Research Backed by Polio Fund

Recent successes in the search for an effective, safe and permanent preventive of paralytic polio, have intensified the need for March of Dimes funds to explore and exploit the findings, according to Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Certainly the discoveries concerning gamma globulin did not mean the end to polio problems," Mr. O'Connor said. "While they solved some problems, they also created many new ones."

The two main findings, Mr. O'Connor said, were that (1) gamma globulin provides marked protection of a temporary nature against paralytic polio and (2) it may modify the severity of polio during the late stages of the incubation period of the disease, even though it may not prevent the disease completely if given after the infection has taken place.

Limitations Cited
Mr. O'Connor cited three important limitations to the use of gamma globulin.

1—It gives only temporary protection. Thus the search for a permanent vaccine must continue.

2—GG is in very short supply. Techniques for increasing the supply for reasonable use must be developed.

3—Gamma globulin research is incomplete. It must still be determined, for example, if GG will permit the mild, inapparent form of polio infection that tends to an active long-lasting immunity.

Large sums of March of Dimes money must be invested before solutions to the above problems are found, Mr. O'Connor pointed out.

May 'Smother' Epidemics

"Our scientists insist that all we can reasonably hope for at this point," he said, "is that gamma globulin may be used in attempting to 'smother' polio epidemics in hard-hit areas. The final answer will still have to be a safe and effective vaccine that will provide relatively long-lasting immunity. Efforts to produce such a vaccine for widespread human use are being hopefully pursued."

Scientific research programs sponsored by the National Foundation are financed chiefly by the March of Dimes. This annual appeal is now on and will be continued until Jan. 31.

There are more than 1,800 island in the Thousand Island group. Leonardo da Vinci, the famous painter, did much of his stroking left handed.

These West Texas Plains last Sunday ranging from an area just east of Clovis, New Mexico into Lubbock and on down to Eunice, New Mexico Sunday night. Each of the students speaking at two different places during the day.

An opportunity was extended to those in attendance at Southside Church of Christ to make a contribution to the support of the school, and a sizeable free-will offering was taken.

"We shall be delighted to have any of the dignified Christian boys to come our way again at their earliest convenience," said Ernest West, local evangelist.

GOOD HEALTH

1. WHAT IS "CATASTROPHIC" ILLNESS?

3. HOW IMPORTANT IS URINE ANALYSIS?

2. WHEN IS A MEDICINE CHEST NOT A MEDICINE CHEST?

Answer to Question No. 1: Catastrophic illness is the term commonly used to describe sickness or accidents which impose a severe or disastrous financial burden on an individual or family. Voluntary insurance plans are developing programs to lessen such hardships by absorbing major portions of costs.

Answer to Question No. 2: When it is cluttered and disorganized with old medicines, a "medicine-cabinet-mistake" can be serious. Many medicines lose their effectiveness with age—or even become harmful. Left-over medicines from last year's illness should be discarded. Poisons must be clearly labeled and well out of children's reach. The wise family keeps nothing but currently used prescriptions and fresh first aid supplies. Never use a prescription that is not specifically ordered by your physician for the present illness.

Answer to Question No. 3: Urine examination helps in the diagnosis of many diseases and is the basis of every examination. Though it is not expected to tell the entire story, it does show the presence of infections of the kidneys and bladder, and malfunctioning of other organs.

CASWELL REPORTS 16 IRRIGATION WELLS

C. D. Caswell, who lives about two miles east of Meadow was in recently to renew for the Herald going to his son, Herbert, of Hollis, Okla. Says Herbert sends him the Hollis paper in exchange. Got to talking about irrigation wells, and C. D. stated there were 16 in his immediate area, east of the Santa Fe tracks.

He stated that he had two himself, not strong ones, but wells that will wet a lot of land. East of Meadow some 6 miles a man, named Obar, brought in the first irrigation well in Terry county, way back in the early 40ties.

Sugar is the largest dry cargo in international trade.

Sugar is the most produced and cheapest organic chemical in the world.

Sugar production the world over is potentially much greater than human consumption at present levels of population that scientists are constantly seeking non-food outlets for it.

The sugar created in the leaves of plants is the starting material for the starch in potatoes, the cellulose and lignin of wood, the protein of wheat—even the aroma of flowers and the opium of a poppy.

FIRST AIR CONDITIONED CHRYSLER DELIVERED

The first Chrysler equipped with Chrysler Corporation's newly developed automobile air conditioning unit has been delivered to a Houston, Texas, buyer. The new unit—the highest capacity air conditioning system yet developed for use in passenger automobiles and the first in the industry to be quantity produced—is a result of 13 years of research. Drawing 25 percent of its air supply from outside the car, this fresh air system gives the fastest cool-down time of any unit yet developed. The picture shows J. H. Horn, sales manager of Judd-Munroe Motors of Houston, Texas, explaining the unit's operation to Mrs. Arden B. Judd, the first buyer of a car so equipped.

BEHIND THE WALLS OF TEXAS STATE HOSPITALS

NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on our State Hospital System, prepared under the supervision of Dr. George W. Jackson, Medical Director of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, and sponsored by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, University of Texas.

Upstairs—the noisy hospital day has started. From the kitchens come the sound of dishes clattering against one another. In the vegetable preparation room machinery whirrs, while the laundry room “whooshes” with the sound of steam and water. In the wards there are noises of murmuring voices, shuffling feet, the squeak of bedsprings.

But downstairs in the laboratory, all is very still. Dr. C., in his white coat, works silently in the spotless laboratory, dissecting a brain. His eyes are fastened intently upon the specimen; his square fingers work nimbly.

In another section of the hospital a team of experts studies the charts of patients in geriatric ward. One by one they talk with the old men, classifying their backgrounds, their previous work, their treatments in the hospital.

The two layers of work continue simultaneously like two express trains speeding along an overpass and an underpass at the same station. Along the upper layer of the work cure goes relentlessly on. Here in the hospital, surgery is being performed in the lighted operating room. In one ward, patient after patient waits for his treatment of electrocoma. In the hydro-therapy room disturbed patients are quieted. And in the occupational therapy department patients sew and paint and build pieces of furniture.

Like a time rocket, conquering space, research probes the “whys.” Young men, rained and vigorous, work steadily to discover the key which can unlock the mysterious door. Why did this old man, silently working sums on his hands, research at the various State hospitals break down? What brought the blank forgetfulness to the old woman in the checked dress? These workers collect pages of figures, hundreds of case histories. Check their findings against those of Dr. C., probing the sore of mental disease as a surgeon would probe for a hidden bullet.

Other teams work with the attendants, studying what factors make a good hospital attendant, what kind of people can aid mental patients to get well.

Like a vein of coal running underground, research continues in every phase of the hospital operation.

In mental disease, as in polio, cancer, tuberculosis, research is the foundation of future cures.

Knowing this, the Texas State Hospital System has set up an objective of finding new methods of diagnosis, care and treatment in tuberculosis, mental illness and allied medical fields.

Already all hospitals have been encouraged to start research projects; a committee to review all proposed research has been established in the Central Office of the Board; methods have been developed to coordinate and control joint research projects involving State hospitals and university departments.

In the future all hospitals will be encouraged to increase their research activities, with special laboratories made available for special teaching centers.

But three research projects of national importance in the mental health field and two in the field of tuberculosis are being held up for lack of adequate funds and trained physicians.

The money is badly needed. Research is a desperate “must” to help mental patients get well and to keep other people from breaking down.

Research is the key which may unlock the dungeon door of mental illness. Ask Dr. C.

HOW TO BECOME A COWBOY OF 1953

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. — Seven steps on how to become a cowboy, 1953 style, were listed Saturday by the Thermopolis Independent-Record, a weekly newspaper:

1. Get a guitar, learn two chords.
2. Get a horse and get on the horse with the guitar.
3. Catch a cold in the head to sing through.
4. Work yourself into a lonesome mood.
5. Learn to bend and break your voice in the middle.
6. Hit one of your guitar chords.
7. Sing.

An acre of sugar cane will yield about 2½ tons of refined sugar.

Don't Get Careless With Common Colds

AUSTIN — Carelessness in the treatment of a respiratory disease is not only foolish but very hazardous, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who warned Texans today to be on guard against such illnesses as lead to pneumonia.

Dr. Cox pointed out that pneumonia can and does strike with little or no warning, and in many instances its forerunner is a simple cold, an attack of pneumonia, or some other respiratory infection.

“A cold or any other infection of the breathing passage which makes one constitutionally weak, especially if accompanied by fever, demands the immediate attention of the family physician,” Dr. Cox said. “To self-treat and fight on one's feet a condition of this kind is to endanger life unnecessarily. It is advisable to take all possible steps to avoid respiratory illnesses since they so frequently lead to that most dangerous complication — pneumonia.”

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is important to build up normal physical resistance by sufficient indoor ventilation, adequate, nourishing food, outdoor exercise, and sufficient sleep, but added that the family physician should be called immediately if, in spite of such care, a respiratory illness develops.

“Guard against pneumonia which is a communicable disease,” Dr. Cox urged. “It may be acquired by direct contact with a pneumonia patient. Reduced bodily resistance resulting from habitual disregard for normal physical requirements makes pneumonia doubly hazardous,” he added, “and I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of consulting a physician upon the appearance of a respiratory ailment.”

PVT. JIMMIE YOCUM SERVING IN GERMANY

With The 2nd Armored Div. in Germany — Pvt. Jimmie M. Yocum, son of Mr. J. H. Yocum of Loop, Texas, is serving in Germany.

Part of western Europe's NATO Army, this division is undergoing constant field training in Germany.

World War II veterans will remember this same division raced across France in the summer of 1944, drove through Belgium and crossed the German border at Schimmert on the 18th of September. They encountered fierce fighting in deep snow that winter in the Ardennes forest while helping to reduce the German “Bulge.”

Private Yocum entered the Army last May and was stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., before his arrival in Europe in November.

Things We Saw On Weekend Trip

While our creditors had their backs turned last Friday P.M., we took off in the 40ty for the lower escarpment of the caprock. And while that was the 10th day of the month, and representing October in the old saying about the first 12 days representing the first 12 months of the year, it was hot enough to represent July or August. So was Saturday. As we went down through the broad expanse of prairie to Lamesa Friday afternoon, the Old He sat on the sunward side of the car, and was it hot? From Lamesa to Snyder, we had the rear of the car to old Sol — some better.

The object was a nice weekend visit with Herman, Sallie and the little granddaughter, Miss Sara Beth, and a round with old Rover. This purp hadn't had a fight since we saw him last, and was not chewed up and limping as usual. Had a nice visit with the offspring, but Herman was as busy as a whole hive of bees preparing a 6x10 house in his rear yard. He's going into the parakeet business — believe that's the way to spell those birds. Sort of a sideline to his teaching profession. But Herman has to have some kind of Hobby, or he'd go silly with the heat. Back in the early 40ties, it was motor boats, when he lived at Brownwood, then it was “hot-rods.”

But he makes it pretty well. He has good ideas as a mechanic, and does most of his own work. Even installed his own heating furnace, with a bit of advice from a friendly plumber. Left him at his labors Saturday afternoon, when the daughter, grand-daughter, the wife and myself ran over to Coahoma, some 45 miles, to visit briefly with our sister-in-law, Mrs. Rosetta Roberts and daughter, Miss Letha Nell. Found Rosetta suffering with a bad case of influenza, and Letha N. perhaps just taking it. So spent the time on the front gallery, where there would be less likelihood of taking a case ourselves. Rosetta was able to be up, but had a bad throat, cough and the sniffles.

Couldn't say about the weather up here, but during the time we were there, we saw several wasps flying around, and looked like they were mad enough to pop you one, if you interfered with their maneuvers. Then there were several varieties of small bugs flying around the small cedars, and we even saw one grasshopper light on the sidewalk, just like spring. To carry the matter a little further, there are some varieties of weeds down there that have never been killed this winter — still green.

Now as to other things we saw on this trip. We will venture the assertion, that where the F-M road leaves the Snyder-Big Spring highway, there are, according to our calculation, 117,511 empty beer cans from that point, some 30 miles on to Snyder, and perhaps half that number from the junction on into Big Spring, some 12 miles. Had a little more time, would have stepped off some ten feet on one side of the highway and counted them — cans, that is, and got a better estimate. But if you are reading this, perhaps you want care for the vital statistics on empty beer cans. Didn't see any that had not been opened and consumed.

But we wondered if this condition did not have something to do with the high frequency of wrecks on that road. We saw where several had taken place just lately, some of the cars burned. Hate to have to go over that road toward midnight Saturday nights, especially. Seems as if the boys and gals, perhaps, over Snyder way, watch the oil flow all week, count their money Saturday afternoon, and hike out over to B. S. to wet their whistles. But that is not all we saw.

Saw A Herd Of Antelope

Going down, we saw the first badger in a coon's age. It was dead, however. Some fast driver didn't give the poor dumb animal time to get out of the road. Some people seem to delight in running over animals, both wild and domestic, including chickens near farm houses. We always have plenty time to slow up to permit animals and poultry to cross the road. Never had the heart to needlessly kill anything.

Then out east of the little county seat hamlet of Gail, down in old Borden, we saw a sizeable herd of antelope. Forty years ago, these little animals of the deer family were plentiful all over the Plains, but along came the man who loves to shoot and destroy just for the fun of it, and they went the way of the buffalo. Indians seem to have a bit more sense than white folks. They used the buffalo for meat, robes and shelter, and if they had charge of matters, there would still be plenty buffalo today.

But of late years, the State Game Department has been trying to restock sections of Texas and New Mexico with deer and antelope. And as these little animals are in a man's ranch, you Brownfield poachers better not try any shooting down there, or there might be a Winchester 30-30 bullet aimed in your direction. Last summer we saw some deer grazing not 75 yards from the highway, and they paid no attention whatever to us. This time of year, with the mesquite denuded of leaves, one can see out further from the highways.

Most of the ranchmen have their lands posted down there, evidence that they are co-operating to again get this section of Texas stocked with wild game.

Outside of the sickness noted, we had a great weekend. Hope you did.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Rogers and family went to Arlington last Friday to take his mother, Mrs. Will Rogers, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Orrel Smithwick. She will also visit another daughter in Paris before returning to her home in Middleton, Tenn.

Good Chance For Amateur Designers

ST. LOUIS — Texas high school seniors with a flair for fashion design were invited this week to enter a national competition for the Forest City Fashion Scholastic Awards which will send two winning students to college next fall to study dress and textile design. Entries must be submitted before March 1.

Rules and entry blanks for student use have been sent to principals of accredited high schools, the sponsor of the Awards, Forest City Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis announced today. The company is one of the country's largest fashion manufacturers.

The Fashion Scholastic Awards are offered to encourage more talented young people to go into fashion design as a career, according to Harry H. Spitzer, president of the company. Two will be given, one in textile design and one in dress design. Winner in dress design will attend Washington University School of Fine Arts, St. Louis, and the winner in textile design will attend the Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, R. I.

Sketches of the original fashion designs of dresses or textiles are required for entries. To be eligible for either Award, students must be able to meet entrance requirements of the designated schools. Both men and women may apply, and all graduates of accredited high schools are eligible. Students now attending college elsewhere may apply on a transfer basis.

Information on the competition is available from high school principals, or from Collins Dry

CRESCENT HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST

T. J. Finley, Evangelist

Last Sunday afternoon at 3:00 several from the church here attended a song service in Lubbock. An all-colored a capella chorus from Terrell, Texas, did the singing. This group of negroes come from Southwestern Christian College, located at Terrell and their fine singing is indicative of the type of training they receive in college. This school was founded some four years ago and has made remarkable progress for its brief period of existence. Marshal Keeble, negro evangelist, is one of its founders. The service was held at the South-side Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Several of the ladies met last Friday in the home of Mrs. John Hissom to do some quilting. There is always demand for good quilts by needy families and these ladies have decided to try to meet this demand. Twelve were present in all and the sewing lasted all day.

Several visitors were present last Sunday to hear a discussion of the question: "What Must I Do To Be Saved?" at the morning hour. Sunday evening, the sermon subject was "The Baptism of The Holy Spirit."

Mrs. C. C. Brooks had her mother, Mrs. A. W. Fore of Meadow were among the many shoppers here Monday. While here, Mrs. Fore called in to renew her paper.

Goods Co., who sells Forest City's Doris Dodson fashions, and from the Awards Committee, Forest City Manufacturing Company, St. Louis 3, Missouri. Entries must be sent to this committee before March 1.

WADE MAKES HIGHER GRADE IN GERMANY

MUNICH, Germany — Airman First Class Bobby R. Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wade, Route 2, Brownfield, Texas, recently graduated from the Seventh Army's Non-Commissioned Officers Academy at Munich, Germany.

During the six-week course, he was taught techniques of combat leadership, including infantry squad tactics and deployment of men and equipment in the field. Students were carefully selected by their organization commanders before attending the school.

Wade has been in Germany since December 1950 and is presently assigned as a mechanic in the 1st Radio Relay Squadron. He entered the Air Force in October 1949 and received his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Congratulations To:

Larry Joe Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melton Leon Johnson, born January 7. The father is a salesman.

Mirna Perez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Perez. The parents live at Meadow.

Delynda Kay Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Moore. The father is a salesman.

Brenda Kay Welcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wayne Welcher. The parents live at Seagraves.

Mrs. O. G. Cheek of Toyah, Texas, left for home Tuesday after spending a few days here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ballard, 802 East Broadway, and other relatives.

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS WILL LEAD TO DRESS, TEXTILE DESIGN CAREERS

Careers in fashion design—like that of Hazel Bunch, left, draping a new creation at Forest City Mfr. Co., St. Louis—are offered two high school graduates through Forest City Fashion Scholastic Awards. Winners in national competition closing March 1 will receive full tuition awards for two years' study in dress or fabric design at leading colleges. Applications will be made through High School Principals.

Small but Spacious Plan From Small Homes Guide

Four Room Design

Total living space is cut to a minimum without sacrificing room size in this design by Architect Elmer Gyleck. The front bedroom is definitely out of the minimum class, as are living room and kitchen.

The living room is made especially attractive by the floor-to-ceiling corner window near the fireplace. It furnishes an ideal spot for a conversation grouping. An excellent feature is the two wardrobes in the master bedroom. Also admirable is this bedroom's window area, and the convenient bathroom linen closet. Glass blocks help beautify the bath.

L-shaped kitchen permits traffic-free work space, while being spacious enough for a dinette set. Storage space for garden tools, screens, etc. is available in the large garage or basement, but this plan can be had in a basementless version. Total area of this house is 968 sq. ft. Information on blueprints and cost can be obtained by writing to Small Homes Guide, 82 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Ill.

New Babies and How To Raise Them

There's more to life than sleeping and eating, says baby. Having fun with father is important, too.

It's a sure bet that every young married woman who ever gave a passing thought to motherhood and the manifold problems that accompany it, has a thousand questions on every mind that she would like answered intelligently. Answers to many of these burning wonderments plus numerous other useful facts about pregnancy and baby care are lucidly presented in one of the most practical and friendly books on this subject available today, Parent's Magazine Book of Baby Care, a complete guide for mothers and expectant mothers is being introduced currently in the nation's book stores.

The authors are three women, who from every viewpoint, are ideal to compile a book of facts about babies; in that respect it is quite a contrast from other books, mostly authored by physicians or psychologists. Eleanor S. Duncan, a young author who is raising two children, one a baby, is the chief architect of the work, and she naturally writes from practical experience, offering first hand knowledge that couldn't be obtained from an objective clinical or medical man, nor a child psychologist. She relates numerous typical incidents encountered and coped with, as only a woman who is exposed to such daily problems, can do. Editing this account was the job of a woman renowned in the realm of American family life, Clara Savage Littledale, editor of Parent's Magazine. Technical guidance was supplied by Dr. Dorothy V. Whipple, a leading pediatrician. Several noteworthy factors

Drug Addiction Is A Fearful Thing

AUSTIN — Drug addiction is not in itself a crime but a disease, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is vicious and deadly in that once the victim can no longer overcome his desire for drugs, he will resort to any illegality to obtain money to purchase the satisfaction of his craving. Increase in drug addiction is paralleled by crime increases.

Because of the increase of addiction among "teen-agers," parents would do well to understand the habits of their offspring. No matter what the age, an addict takes on a sly, underhanded attempt to concealment. And it is only when the "teen-age" victim becomes embroiled in some police involvement that the shame is brought to the parent.

Boys and girls must be taught that it is not smart or sophisticated to use drugs in any of their narcotic forms, and they should understand the dangers involved. Once the habit is formed, it is difficult to overcome.

Buick Unveils New Sports Car

THIS single-seat sports convertible of futuristic design is the Buick Wildcat which will be unveiled at the General Motors' Motorama of 1953 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City this week. The experimental model has a fiberglass body and is powered by Buick's new 188-horsepower V-8 engine with the new Twin Turbine Dynaflow. The interior is trimmed in brilliant green leather. A special feature of the car is the "roto-static" front wheel discs which remain stationary while the wheels revolve about them. The Wildcat, designed by the General Motors Styling Section, was built to test the use of fiberglass in automobile bodies.

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE (Delayed)

We prevaricated a bit last week. That, folks, just simply means a little "white lie", all unintentional. We stated in this more or less readable column, that we got sox, but no tie. We got both from Cousin Minnie P---, we mean Mumford and Jimmie Smith way out there at Glendale, Arizona—with our thanks. Truth is, we got so much we overlooked some of it. For instance Jr. and wife presented the Old He and Mrs. with a copy of that controversial Authorized Standard Version of the Bible. While we have not read it as much as we should up to now, we have not found a great deal the matter with the version. In fact it reads more like we speak English today, if we leave out the modern slang. Fact is we doubt if we could comprehend the original King James version, if we had not all been brought up on the thys and thous in childhood.

Languages change, just as do the people. For instance, the modern Greek is nothing like the so-called poetical Greek, from whence we get much of the old Bible and New Testament. Even the Latin language is spoken differently in Italy, France, Spain or Portugal. And the Highland Scot speaks quite a different language from the Irish, English or even Wales, or at least a different accent, and maybe a bit difficult to the uninitiated. All are supposed to speak English however.

Speaking of the Bible reminds us of an old chestnut that you've perhaps heard. About an illiterate guy who wished to impress the librarian and those about, that he was no hillbilly. So, he rented and paid for a book each week, but of course did not read it, but returned it on the day specified.

So, finally, as the old story goes, he and the lady librarian got to be quite chummy, and one day the fellow looked up, and as he could read just a bit, he stated he believed he'd try that "Holly Bible" works up there on the shelf. Asked how he liked it when it was returned, he remarked: "Just like all the balance of 'em, they married and lived happy ever afterward."

Old Lamar county down there in deep east Texas, seems to be determined to wink out old Harrison as the leading wild-cat distilling county in Texas. For the past two months the "revenuers" have captured two distilleries in Lamar to one each month in Harrison. Those good old people who vote 'er dry and drink 'er wet seem to have some aversion to, and disagree with the fine looking gentleman in your slick magazine, that shows him sipping his hi-ball, and designated as "the gentleman of distinction."

In fact, the drinkers of deep east Texas, want their licker made of corn, brewed from the cypress knee swamp water. It has more pep than what the man of distinction drinks—and perhaps with no more hangover.

Here we go with the weatherman again. Fridays Lubbock daily came out with the glad tidings that Jan. 2, would be no repeater of the 1st. In fact, it would be calm and sunny. It was sunny, OK, until about noon, when a raging norther hit like a ton of brick.

All of which leads us old timers to say and believe, that the Hon. Weatherman knows no more about West Texas weather than we.

And while we think about the matter, more homes for rent are needed—badly needed in our burg. Not a day passes that several call to ask if we know of any places to rent. Of course we don't, as there is no need to advertise a house to rent when there are two or three renters to each vacant house.

We hope that some of our men of means, lumber companies, etc., begin right away to build some new rent houses. There are a lot of good people with good incomes, who are coming here to work out of Brownfield in the oil fields, and they need homes. Many of them are men of families, and they like our good schools.

If, on the other hand we fail to provide homes, before too long, the news will be circulated that one cannot find housing accommodations in Brownfield, and other towns and cities will get these people. This is something to think about.

Let us hark back for a past review, we'll find these rent homes to be a pretty fair investment. They do not go without a tenant very long.

Whoopie, yep, there was some more belated Christmas stuff from our Maw-in-law and her daughter, Osa, way out there at Redlands, Callimifornia. The theftist and bestist box of fresh naval oranges this side of Orangeville. As they were a bit late in arriving, will just call them our Happy New Year gift.

In a speech before a bunch of big and little business men recently, John Wanamaker, one of the largest department store owners in the USA had this to say. "Advertising does not jerk—it pulls." But he went on to warn his listeners that regular and constant advertising was the kind that pulls. A big splurge now and then may jerk, but to get a steady pull, Wanamaker recommends regular advertising.

Then there was "Toots" Roy Collins home for the holiday, with his mother, Mrs. Fred C. Smith. While our conversation was rather short with Toots as he was visiting here and there, we did learn second hand that although he had been in "S. Kalina" some three years, he is still a Texican at heart, and he is coming home.

Toots, a graduate of the Technical Engineering in Texas Technological college, has a good job with a big cotton mill in South Carolina, but he wants back in Texas. So, just about March, he has employment in the engineering section of a woolen mill down around San Angelo, and Toots will come back to Texas.

THE 1953 CHRYSLER NOW AT M. J. CRAIG MOTOR CO.

CHRYSLER — PLYMOUTH
719 W. Bdwy. Brownfield, Texas

Sen. Corbin Would Place Tax On Natural Resources

Senator Kilmer Corbin, looking toward the convening of the Texas Legislature early this month, indicated this week that in his opinion the request for approximately $100 million for highway expansion program and an additional $30 million for boosting State teachers' salaries will constitute a big problem.

"The Texas Legislature handles law making and tax levying, vitally important matters to every citizen," Corbin pointed out in opening the discussion. He didn't quibble as to the need for the highway expansion program or the teachers' salary boost. "As we drive over the highways of the state, we all see the need for more and better roads," he stated. "Heretofore, he pointed out that $30 million has been spent in a great farm-to-market road building program. The $100 million would have to be in addition to this sum, he warned.

"We can probably say, without fear of contradiction, that our main highways were not built for so much heavy traffic moving at such high rate of speed," Corbin stated. He added that safety precautions also, pointed out the need for wider, dual-lane highways.

The Senator said that three methods could be used in an attempt to raise the additional funds; but at the same time he opposed two of the methods.

"There'll be a lot of talk about raising the gasoline tax," he said. "For every cent raise in the tax per gallon of retail gas sold, about $30 million would be raised annually." But the Senator's opposition of this means was centered upon the fact that this would place an additional burden on the consumer, who is already supporting so much of the tax load.

"Another method which will be suggested," according to Corbin, "is the wheel tax which would place the burden on owners of heavy vehicles." He pointed out that this method would probably be pushed by a "selfish interest."

Corbin came out in favor of a proposal that would place the tax on natural resources and said he believed this would be the method adopted in the final outcome.

He said the Legislature attempted to arrive at this in their last session when they passed a tax proposal of one-half cent, per 1,000 feet of natural gas. But this plan was thrown out as unconstitutional on the grounds that it placed an unfair burden on interstate commerce. He then expressed the belief that this same bill can be re-written to place the tax on the production of gas instead of the gathering of the resource.

Senator Corbin also stated that he was opposed to adding further taxes under the Omnibus Tax Bill, which already taxes fourteen commodities. He likened this tax to a sales tax.

The Senator foresaw several other legislative needs. He felt that the raising of teachers' salaries was a definite need. He believes that a congressional redistricting, much like the legislative redistricting approved last year, will be forthcoming. He also looks for a judicial redistricting.

Increased benefits for the aged, the trucker-railroad fight, and increased personnel for the state bureaus will be among the many problems confronting the next session of the State Legislature, Corbin stated.

In summing up, the Senator noted the cost of operating the State of Texas has risen from $186 million in 1945 to over $500 million in 1950. He stated that education and public welfare are the biggest costs, with highways running a close third.

In answer to a question regarding the present tax load, the senator replied: "My experience has convinced me that we aren't going to get rid of any taxes we already have. But the people are beginning to wake up to the fact that the burden is on the small consumer. We should place more of the load on those who are equipped to pay—the big boys."

"If they are going to keep depleting our natural resources, they ought to have to pay for it," he added.

LUBBOCK SITE FOR FARM BUREAU MEET

The various committee in the Farm Bureau of District 2 are invited to attend a meeting Saturday, January 17, at 10:00 a. m., in the Lubbock Hotel, Lubbock.

The purpose of the meeting is planning work for 1953. All committees are urged to attend.

Rural Telephones For Lynn-Garza

Polka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., hopes to have its first lines in operation within the next sixty days, W. D. Harmon, manager, stated this week.

Section I-A, including most of Lynn County and a part of Garza County, is nearing completion. Actual operation awaits installation of equipment in the five unattended automatic central exchange stations and the installation of the six hundred handsets in the homes of members.

One contractor is now completing the work of building the more than 400 miles of lines on the initial project. Another has just recently completed the erection of the five exchange buildings. Most of the equipment is on hand for these exchanges, and the contractor on this expects to require about three weeks for this installation, which is expected to start soon.

Polka-Lambro is nearly ready to let contracts of Section I-B, known as the Lamesa unit, which will also have about four hundred miles of lines and exchange plants at East O'Donnell, West O'Donnell, Patricia, Hatch, Gail, and Punkin Center.

Then work will start laying plans for the west half of the area projected by rural telephone service in Terry, Gaines, Yoakum, and Hockley Counties.

At a meeting of Polka-Lambro Board of Directors, held at the cooperative general offices in Tahoka, Thursday, January 8, James T. Dunn, Lamesa, Rt. B, a farmer and seed breeder, was elected the new president. Mr. Dunn succeeds V. R. Osburn of Brownfield, Rt. 4, who has moved to the Dallas area.

T. B. Mason of Tahoka, Rt. 1, was elected a director of Polka-Lambro a few months ago to succeed the late Mr. Claud Wells.

Other officers and directors are: Loyd R. McCormick, Tahoka, Rt. 4, vice-president; V. H. Wheatley, Brownfield, Rt. 2, secretary-treasurer; Claude Thomas, Post, Rt. 3 (Grassland); George W. Teague, Lamesa, Rt. A; and Lee Bartlett, Meadow, Rt. 1.

Tom Garrard of Tahoka is the cooperative attorney, Cecil M. Hawk and Associates of Lubbock are the consulting engineers, and W. D. Harmon is the manager.

Vital Statistics Are Given For '52

A total of 550 babies were born in Terry County, and 107 deaths were reported for 1952. Within the Brownfield city limits, 82 deaths occurred, and 466 babies were born, according to Jake Geron, City Secretary. Of the births within the town, 401 were in Treadaway-Daniell hospital.

New Terry countians born outside the City Limits during the past year totaled 84, and 25 deaths were recorded in the outlying area of the county, according to J. W. Hogue justice of the peace, who estimated that 1952 was an average year, as far as population addition and subtraction were concerned.

Former Terryite Killed In Wreck

Jack Harvey of Seagraves, was in this week to tell us the misfortune of losing his father last Tuesday, the 6th. His father, A. C. Harvey, 78, died in about twenty minutes after his car struck a truck about a mile south of Causey, N. M., before an ambulance arrived.

A. C. Harvey and family came to Terry county about 1926, and he soon became the owner of the half section west of Brownfield, now known as the Terry County Farm, which he sold the county in 1945, and moved to New Mexico. Mr. Harvey was a highly respected citizen, and his old friends will regret his passing.

Funeral services were held at the Causey Church of Christ, and the body was brought to Brownfield Friday, where Masonic services were held at the graveside. The body was laid to rest in the old Brownfield cemetery.

He is survived by his wife and eleven children, eight boys and three girls. Jack informed us that the family was now badly scattered, but all were at the funeral of their father.

Charter Commission Election

ELECTION NOTICE

The State of Texas
City of Brownfield
County of Terry

An Ordinance ordering an election to determine whether a Commission shall be chosen to frame a new Home Rule Charter and providing for a Charter Commission.

On this the 4th day of December, A. D. 1952, the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas, convened in regular session at the regular meeting place thereof in the City Hall of the City of Brownfield, Texas, the following members present: Homer W. Nelson, Mayor, Herman Chesshir, Councilman, V. L. Patterson, Councilman, Henry Chisholm, Councilman, and Sam Murphy, Councilman.

Among the other business transacted, was the following: Councilman Herman Chesshir introduced the following ordinance calling for an election to determine the question: "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?", and if a majority of the qualified voters voting on said question shall have voted in the affirmative providing for the election from the City at Large of a Commission of fifteen members to be known as the Charter Commission, and after the same was read in full, on motion of Councilman Herman Chesshir and seconded by Councilman V. L. Patterson, the Ordinance was passed and adopted by a vote of five (5) for its passage, to a vote of none against its passage: Mayor Homer W. Nelson, Councilman Herman Chesshir, Councilman V. L. Patterson, Councilman Henry Chisholm, and Councilman Sam Murphy voting for its passage and none voting against its passage.

The Ordinance follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 1226
AN ORDINANCE ORDERING AN ELECTION TO DETERMINE THE QUESTION "SHALL A COMMISSION BE CHOSEN TO FRAME A NEW HOME RULE CHARTER?" AND IF A MAJORITY OF THE VOTERS VOTING AT SAID ELECTION SHALL HAVE VOTED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE, PROVIDING FOR A CHARTER COMMISSION TO PREPARE A NEW CHARTER, AND FOR A SECOND ELECTION TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE CHARTER SO DRAWN SHALL BE ADOPTED, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Brownfield, Texas, on the 4th day of December, 1952, held at the regular meeting place thereof, in the City Hall of said City, on motion of Councilman Herman Chesshir, seconded by Councilman V. L. Patterson, it was resolved by unanimous vote of the City Council, to-wit: Homer W. Nelson, Mayor, Herman Chesshir Councilman, V. L. Patterson, Councilman, Henry Chisholm, Councilman, and Sam Murphy, Councilman, that an ordinance be prepared submitting to the qualified voters of the City of Brownfield, the question, "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?" for the City of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BROWNFIELD, TEXAS:

SECTION I. That an election be held on the third Tuesday in January, and being the 20th day of January, 1953, within the said City, submitting to the qualified voters of the City of Brownfield, the question, "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?" and that should the majority of the qualified voters voting on said question have voted in the affirmative a Charter Commission of fifteen (15) members be elected from the City at large. Said election shall be held at the City Hall in the City of Brownfield, Texas, and J. D. Miller is hereby appointed manager of said election, and he shall select the necessary number of judges and clerks to assist him in holding the same, and the compensation of said manager and the judges and assistants chosen by him shall be those provided by law.

SECTION II. That said election shall be held under the provisions of the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, governing special Elections and all persons qualified to vote in said City shall be allowed to vote.

SECTION III. The manner of holding said election shall be governed by the laws of the State of Texas, governing Special Elections.

SECTION IV. That the form of ballot to be used in said election shall conform to the laws of the State of Texas, governing same and be substantially as follows:

SHALL A COMMISSION BE CHOSEN TO FRAME A NEW CHARTER?

Answer "Yes" "NO"

For the following named persons to constitute the Charter Commission, not more than fifteen in number.

1. Murphy May
 2. R. E. Self
 3. Cecil Smith
 4. James H. Dallas
- Homer W. Nelson, Mayor of City of Brownfield, Texas.
- ATTESTED:
BY: Alva J. Geron,
Secretary of the City of Brownfield, Texas.
(SEAL)

5. John J. Kendrick
6. Jack Hamilton
7. Fred C. Smith
8. Virgil Travis
9. Virgil Crawford
10. Dr. George W. Sibley
11. Loyd Moore
12. C. C. Primm
13. Jack Dubose
14. M. J. Craig, Sr.
15. T. A. Hicks, Jr.

SECTION V. Those desiring to vote for the proposition: "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?" shall strike out the word "No" and those desiring to vote against the proposition: "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?" shall strike out the word "Yes".

SECTION VI. In either event the voter will then vote for a Charter Commission of the fifteen members to serve in case a majority of the voters at this election have voted in the affirmative. The above list has been selected by the City Council as a Charter Commission and should a voter desire to vote against any and all of the above named persons, he may do so by scratching the name of such person and writing opposite such name the name of the person for whom he desires to vote, provided that a failure to so name a Charter Commission shall not invalidate the vote as to the question "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?"

SECTION VII. That should a majority of the qualified voters voting at said election vote in the affirmative as to the question "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a New Home Rule Charter?", then, after the Commission has completed its work and submitted the new Charter, that a second election will be held, at the date designated by the Charter Commission in conformity with law, to determine whether the new Charter shall be adopted.

SECTION VIII. A copy of this Ordinance, signed by the Mayor of the City of Brownfield and Attested by the Secretary of the City, shall serve as a proper notice of the election to be held as herein ordered on the 20th day of January, 1953. The Mayor is authorized and directed to cause notice of said election to be posted at the City Hall and at two other public places in the City of Brownfield, Texas, for at least thirty (30) full days prior to the date of the election. The Mayor is further authorized and directed to have said notice of the election published in the official newspaper of the City of Brownfield, Texas, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City, and which said notice shall be published each week for six (6) weeks, the date of the first publication being not less than thirty (30) full days prior to the date of the election.

SECTION IX. The fact that the present Charter of said City is inadequate and the importance of the proposed ordinance creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the rules requiring all ordinances to be read on more than one day and for the immediate taking effect of this ordinance, and such rules are hereby suspended and it is ordered that this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval.

PASSED AND APPROVED this 4th day of December, A. D. 1952.

CHRYSLER SHOWS NEWEST DEVELOPMENTS IN DESIGN

Two of the newest advances in motorcar development, the Chrysler "Special" sports coupe and the "404 Racer," are having their first public showing in the United States in the Chrysler International Salon in New York City. The "Special," only 55 inches high, made its debut last month in Paris where it was labeled the "sensation of the show" by the French press. Designed by Chrysler engineers, and built in Italy by Ghia, the "Special" keynotes the basic fundamentals of automotive design. It has the characteristic low, sweeping lines of European sport cars and embodies many unusual design features. Also displayed is the Chrysler powered "404 Racer" which recently broke all Indianapolis speed and endurance records, attaining speeds of 170 m.p.h. on the straightaways with its modified Chrysler V-8 engine.
