Lloyd Turner Killed In Car - Bus Crash, Wayland Parker Is Seriously Injured

Wayland (Monk) Parker, 38, remains in serious condition in the St. Mary's Hospital at Lubbock as a result of the car-bus crash which occurred Saturday shortly before 9 p. m. on the Brownfield-Lubbock highway, about six miles southwest of Lubbock, and proved fatal to Lloyd Orville Turner, 33, driver of the death car.

Turner's 1952 Cadillac, headed toward Lubbock, crashed head-on into a Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., bus. None of the 13 bus passengers or the driver was seriously injured, although two passengers were treated for minor cuts and bruises at a Lubbock hospital.

Parker, owner of the Parker Gulf Service Station here, suffered head and chest injuries, a broken right arm and four broken ribs. Masonic funeral rites were conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in the Brownfield First Baptist Church with Rev. Jones Weathers officiating. He was assisted in the rites by Bill Austin of Brownfield.

Burial was in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery, under direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home. A partner in the Woods-Turner Used Car Lot here, Turner has been a resident of the Brownfield area since 1936, and is former owner of the Panhandle Oil Supply Company. He was an army veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Jeane Turner; his mother, Mrs. L. O. Turner; and one sister, Mrs. Janelle Evans, all of Brownfield.

Pallbearers were J. L. Newsom, Thurman Skains, Vic Harris, James H. Dallas, Homer T. Suddeth and Paul Campbell.

Cerebral Palsy Victim Learning To Climb Stairs

Six year-old James Ray is learning to climb steps.

His steps are slow and sometimes he falls down. But he keeps on trying.

Jimmie—that's what his friends call him—gets lots of kick out of the life though he can't run and play like other kids right now. Hopalong Cassidy is his favorite cowboy. Someday Jimmie is going to be able to ride a horse like Hoppy. At least he's gonna try.

Jimmie is just one of thousands of crippled children in Texas who has received help from the Texas Society for Crippled Children and its federation of a hundred county units.

When Jimmie's parents learned that he was a victim of cerebral palsy due to an injury received at birth they turned to their local Easter Seal Society for help. They didn't have much money. But they found guidance and hope and a skilled therapist who could help train Jimmie's damaged muscles so they'd work again.

J. Bradley Harvey Died At Plains

Red Cross Workers Will Be Auctioned For Two Hours' Work In Friday Event

Officers, chairmen and volunteer workers for the Terry County Chapter of the American Red Cross, will be "auctioned off" for two hours labor or service to the highest bidder in a money raising event set for Friday at 2:30 p. m. on the Courthouse lawn. All proceeds will go to the Red Cross drive.

Sam Gossett, who was formerly associated with Ringling Brothers Circus, will act as auctioneer, and Red Cross officials predict that spectators will "get their money's worth in laughs alone."

The Red Cross "slaves" will be penned up in an enclosure to be provided by Earl G. Davis, Jr., and Mackie Hord, Brownfield High School students. A parade of the high school band around the square will precede the auctioning event.

All merchants, business and private individuals desiring to do so will bid on the various Red Cross officials, and the "slave" purchased will work two hours for the highest bidder.

City officials are cooperating in the event, and City Police have promised to "round up the suspects" if the individuals to be auctioned do not put in an appearance voluntarily.

Among the persons to be "auctioned" are: D. L. Pemberton, chairman of the Red Cross fund raising campaign, Otho Reeves, Edgar Self, L. L. White, Fred Shipley, Mack Ross, Harry Goble, Earl Jones, Morgan Copeland, Charlie Price, Clyde Truly, Curtis Sterling, Jerrell Price, A. T. Stafford, Mrs. Lee Bartlett, Mrs. Leonard Chesshir, Mrs. George O'Neal, Mrs. N. L. Mason, Harmon Howze, Dewitt Stafford, Wade Yandell, Clyde Bond, Jr., Malcolm Thomas, James H. Dallas, Mrs. Walter Hord, and as many Red Cross workers from over the county as can be there that afternoon.

Red Cross tags will be given to each "slave" purchased so that the public will be able to identify the workers.

Tuesday afternoon a total of $1,559.72 had been contributed in the drive, and chapter officials are hoping that the auction project will help meet the chapter's goal for the year. Currently the drive is running about $2,000 short.

Working under Mrs. Leonard Chesshir, Mrs. Walter Hord and Mrs. George O'Neal in a house-to-house canvass of the town, have been:

Mesdames Wayne Brown, Otto Butler, Ed Mayfield, Perry Bryant, J. O. Rogers, C. L. Aven, Tommy Hicks, Bob Collier, Joe B. To Form An Old Cemetery Association

Several interested people met Tuesday at the old Brownfield Cemetery, to see what might be done about improving this burial ground. Some we believe, have about reached the conclusion that this old original burial cemetery is being somewhat neglected in favor of the new Terry County Memorial. At this meeting, those with friends or loved ones buried in the old cemetery, decided to form a separate association.

Miss Mary Ballard will lead the movement to form a new association. At the meeting it was decided to ask donations of all who have folks or friends, or just want to help in a good cause, to get behind Miss Ballard in this deserving movement. Arthur Sawyer has planted the field across the road west to grass in order to keep down blowing sand, and we understand he has stated that it will remain that way as long as he owns the land.

The fence on the east side of the cemetery will be moved, and bulldozers will remove the sand. The grounds are to be broken deep, and sodded with grass. A stronger well will be drilled and a power pump put in. It was also suggested that the sprinkler piping could be obtained from the new cemetery when not in use. Judge Lang was present, and stated that the road machinery from the four precincts could be used to do the work quickly.

This improvement will not only cover the older portion of the cemetery, but the Odd Fellow and Masonic parts as well. Will state that Miss Ballard started the movement for funds by donating $100 herself. And the new association suggests that for the present, you either give Miss Mary your money or check, or send checks to her, marked for "Old Cemetery Association," at 403 West Main, City. Receipts for all money will be issued, other than checks, which are receipts in themselves.

But the funds are needed now in order to get the grounds leveled and plowed up, and grass start-

Two Elections Set For First Of April

Two elections are set for the first week in April when two school trustees and two city aldermen are to be chosen.

Raymond Simms, County School Tax Collector, has announced that Wednesday, March 25, is the last day for filing for places on the trustee ticket, and individuals wishing to file should contact him at the courthouse. Election date is April 4.

Four candidates are filed for the three city alderman posts to be filled on April 7, before the filing deadline. Candidates for the council, according to Jake Geron, City Secretary, are: R. J. Purcell, Virgil Travis, Sam Murphy and Herman Chesshir.

J. B. Knight, current councilman, is not seeking another term of office, but Chesshir and Murphy are running for re-election.

Mrs. Jess Howell, Secretary of the local Woodman Circle, spent the early part of the week in San Antonio, where she attended the organization's state meeting.

ed before hot summer weather starts. The leveling and plowing will be for free, but there are other expenses to be met. It is estimated some $300 will be needed. In the near future you can see an engineer's drawing of the grounds with intended improvements.

AUSTIN REPORT

By

Representative J. O. Gillham

It seems that Austin is not the only place where there are many things happening. I got the greatest thrill of my life this last Monday night when I got a long distance call from Mayor Pro-tem Herman Chesshir of Brownfield, extending me greetings over the new dial system, which was cut over on last Monday. I was told that I had the honor to receive the first long distance call over the new system. I am grateful for this honor and more pleased that Brownfield has finally arrived in the "city" class and has a dial telephone system. I am told that Levelland will soon be getting the dial system also. It is a real compliment to the country we live in to have General Telephone Company realize that our section of the state rates the best in telephone service and equipment. I think we should all congratulate the General Telephone Company on the progressive steps they are taking in our section of the state to give better service. The officials of this company have told me many times that their business is constantly growing in our area which means that all our towns are growing and will continue to grow.

We had another busy week in the Legislature this week. All legislative committees were busy and several bills were finally disposed of, but most of the legislation we have considered on the Floor so far has been more of local nature, and few laws have been made which affect the state as a whole.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS
 Santa Fe carloadings for week ending March 7, 1953 were 21,727 compared with 22,945 for same week in 1952. Cars received from connections totaled 13,731 compared with 12,645 for same week in 1952. Total cars moved were 35,458 compared with 35,590 for same week in 1952. Santa Fe handled a total of 34,531 cars in preceding week of this year.

in spite of some considerable new building program in the last two years. It seems that more and more of our people are calling on the State for services of all kinds, but it seems that calls from the sick and mentally deficient have a special appeal to all of us—and that is as it should be.

Under the rules of the House, no other appropriation bills, other than emergency measures can be considered by the House until the general appropriations bill is out of the way. This bill is now before the House Committee on Appropriations, of which I am a member. We expect to bring this bill out within the next two weeks. After the general appropriations bill has been passed, then other measures calling for appropriations can be considered and passed, but they have no effect unless the Comptroller will certify that there will be funds available during the next two year period, beginning September 1, 1953, with which to pay for the appropriations called for by such bills. That is the reason that H. B. 216, calling for approximately $33,000,000 per annum additional appropriations, has not been considered by the House Committee on appropriations up to this time. As I have stated to you in previous articles, there must be a tax bill passed before H. B. 216 or any other measure calling for large appropriations can be finally passed.

I feel certain that a tax bill will be necessary, but I have no idea at this time just what kind of a tax will be voted. Many tax measures have been introduced in the House, but the Revenue and Taxation Committee are holding these bills up for the time being. The Committee will probably write some kind of a tax bill itself and discard the many they now have on file. Under the Constitution, all tax bills have to originate in the House.

As I have said in previous articles, the Constitution provides that no appropriation bills become effective until and unless the Comptroller will certify that there will be sufficient funds in the Treasury during the next biennium with which to pay for all appropriations made by the Legislature. The Governor also will not sign an appropriations bill unless the Comptroller has certified it.

So you can well see that we cannot appropriate monies we do not have nor can expect to have during the next biennium. The Comptroller tells us now, as I told you last week, that we can't expect to have any more money in the general fund during the two year period, beginning Sept. 1, 1953, than we had during the last two years, which will end August 31, 1953. You can very well see why we will have a tax bill if we are to give our teachers, both in college and public schools, the raise in salary which they are entitled to.

Then we have hundreds of state employees who are underpaid as much, and in some cases—more than our teachers. We heard the testimony of a fellow who was working for one of our State hospitals a few days ago. He told us that his net take-home pay was only $71.00 per month. So you can see the great problems we have and must solve. No one likes more taxes, but that is the only alternative. We could effect some economies of operation if governmental departments would eliminate some of our un-needed employees, which would enable them to pay better salaries for the better employees. This is hard to do, for every department insists that they have a tight budget, but we know better. It is very difficult to dismantle a big bureau. And believe me, we have plenty of them right here in Austin. I hope you will not get the idea that all of them are in Washington. If there are those who would like to have the names of some of the biggest and most wasteful of public funds, let me know, and I will give you some clues.

We are always glad to have visitors. This past week, we had Judge Stockdale, Superintendent Owens, and Carl Ray from Morton. Carl Ray is a friend of long standing since we knew him in Brownfield before he moved to Morton. It was a delight to have these gentlemen to visit, and to have the benefit of their views on various matters before the Legislature. I was glad to reiterate to them my position on a raise in salary for our teachers, which is that they are entitled to urgent consideration, although it will cost more tax dollars. We simply can't afford to allow our finest young college graduates to continue to shy away from the teaching profession on account of our low salaries. I think if we are willing to entrust to our teachers the educations of our children, that we should pay enough so that we will be in the position to demand the best from our schools. We may not be getting what we think we should from our schools, but I think we must admit that the low salaries paid our teachers, both in public schools and colleges, do not put our schools in a position to compete with industry for the fine young men and women coming out of our colleges and universities. We are told by college presidents from our Teacher's Colleges, that most students come to college expecting to teach when they have finished, but in many instances, they are offered much more by industry. The result is that we are losing our young men and women forever to the teaching profession. Our present salary scales keep the people we need in teaching out of teaching, and is forcing our schools to employ sub-standard teachers in some cases. If we force our school officials to continue using sub-standard teachers, we can expect sub-standard products to be turned out of our schools. We must awaken to our responsibilities as citizens to the children of today and tomorrow.

We also had visiting us this week. Stuffy Moorhead from Denver City. Stuffy took a little time off to bring the Denver City basketball team down for Inter-Scholastic league games, and they did mighty well, too. We are proud of this fine group of boys. They show that they have had fine coaching

HOUSTON WINS IN CLEANEST TOWN CONTEST
 Houston, Texas—An official announcement received here today named Houston the winner of the National Cleanest Town Contest. Dr. Frank Monaghan, director of the National Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Bureau made the announcement from Washington, D. C.

Houston received the national award for its population group of 500,000 to 1,000,000 in 1951, and this year went on to sweep all population groups.

at school and a fine home influence. You cannot compete successfully in athletic events unless you have a clean mind and strong body. These boys won, and deserved to win.

We were also glad to have Roy and Elizabeth Herod and their fine son Mack, who came down to see the basketball games. Mack did not come down to play ball, but he is one of the finest musicians we have anywhere in Texas. He is another example of some of the fine products of our schools, so don't sell our schools short.

Perhaps the most appreciated of our visitors this week (and I know you will think it quite natural) is our daughter, Eleanor and her young redheaded son, Stephen. They came down to spend a week with us, and will come home with us the later part of the coming week. We hope to see many of you then.

As long as we have local option liquor laws in Texas, we might as well face the music and be prepared to enforce them, or write them off the books. To our notion, and we could be wrong, it is going to take something more than money fines, or short jail sentences to stop the racket. According to news items we get from the Liquor Control Board, at Austin, as well as the area dailies, a million dollar bootleg racket is right in our midst, centered at Lubbock. The liquor is run in from some New Mexico points, but according to this informant, mostly from Odessa, Big Spring and Amarillo. The LCB is requesting that the legislature furnish them 20 additional men, equipped with State owned cars, to chase down these liquor runners. They are not only having to chase whiskey peddlers up in this section, and the dry areas of east and central Texas, but it is taking a lot of time and men to guard the international ports of entry, where liquor of all sorts as well as other contraband, come across the hundred of miles of border between Texas and Old Mexico. In addition the numerous other bridges connecting the two nations, another is soon to be opened up at Rio Grande City. It was revealed that during the year, more than $700,000 was collected at the ports of entry between Texas and Mexico. But back to the dry areas of our state, the grand juries of both Lubbock and Amarillo recently reported that the liquor running

This NEWSPAPER Is Like A House And... ...Every Page A Room

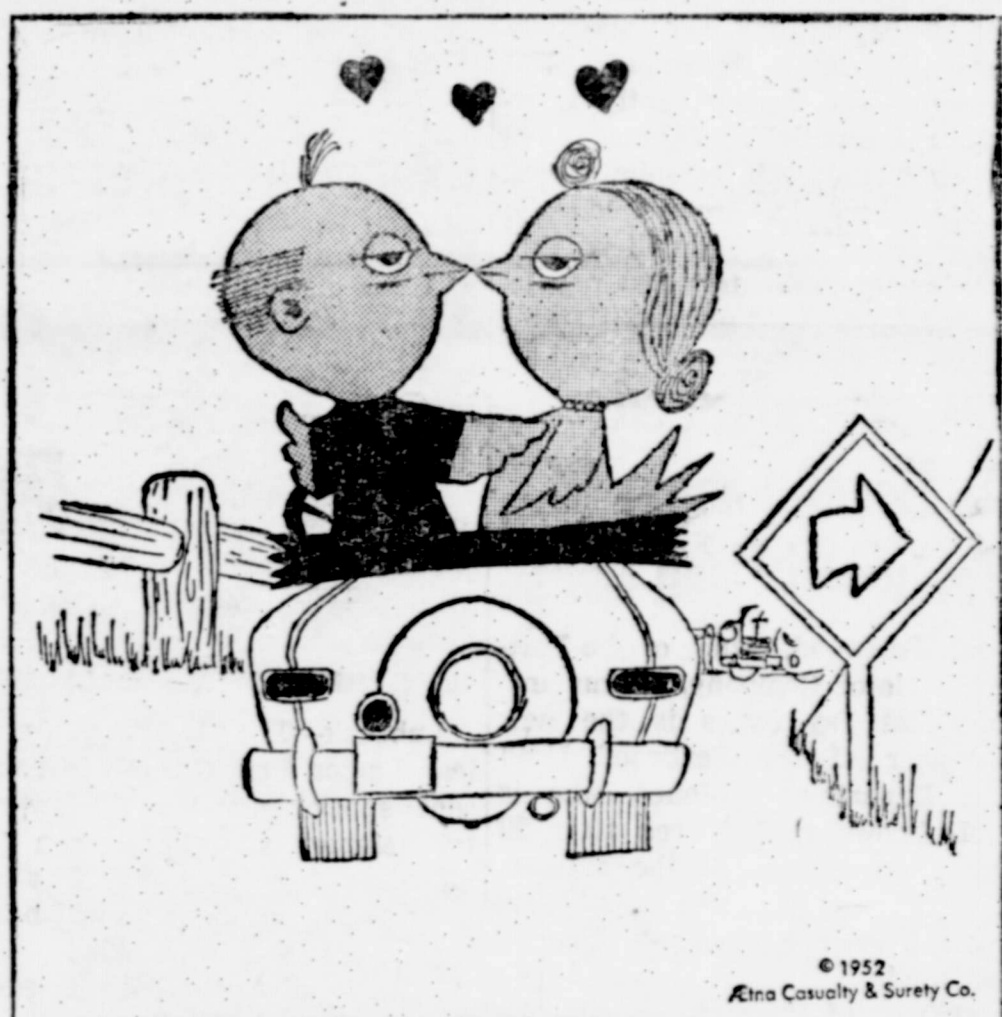

We try to have every page well furnished, well lighted . . . the kind of room you like to stay in and look around.

The first page is the front porch, or the front room. In short, it is the introduction to the rest of the house. Through it you move to the living room, the dining room, the kitchen . . . where people spend most of the time.

Sometimes some friend will say, "My item didn't make the front page." What of it? Most likely it was on one of the "living room pages" with the folks. That's a good place to be too.

Seeing The Sights Of Central West-Tex.

We are giving our readers a deserved rest this week on our long-winded editorials. Instead, we are going to tell about traipsing off down to the lower strata, generally known as Central West Texas. We did write one before we left, while riled about something, but mostly we rested, slept and ate while away, and was not mad at anybody, much. Anyway, it had been more than a month since we had drank different water, ate different food, and breathed a different atmosphere. No sir, we're not even going to take sides this week on whether or not to admit the facts to A. & M.

But as it has been about a month or a bit better since we were down there, just for a Sunday from noon to night, along with the Juniors, we decided to see the lay of the land down that way. Went via Tahoka and Post, without mishap, and found most all the land, except that with wheat on it, all ready when the day comes to plant. But you would be surprised, if you have not been down there, the acreage that is green with wheat. Not so surprising, either, after one reflects that below the cap, little feed was made, and with shy grass, those nesters naturally turned to planting wheat. It is pretty, and most a good stand, and if rains continue, we suppose it will be allowed to stand and harvested when ripe.

It will be remembered that Terry County harvested its banner wheat crop in 1947, planted in the fall of 1946, a very dry year until fall. The crop was estimated at 600,000 bushels. Nothing like it since. Found the children and grandchild looking for us Friday P. M., when we arrived. In fact, they said Miss Sara B. had been looking for us all day. They seemed real glad to see us, as did the two dogs, Rover and Stinky, and even the "birds" chirped a bit when we went out. Herman was busy building an additional bird house. The little lady birds are putting out the eggs, and pretty soon they will have a lot of little baby parakeets. They have around 120 adult birds, presently.

Maybe you didn't hear this one published in a recent issue of Colliers? Anyway, a man stopped at a grove of trees along the street to admire the beautiful notes of a songster. Finally the bird flew down and lit on the man's shoulder and gently pecked his chin, says he: "Mack, I live on Compton St.," and he finally gave the number. The fireman carried the bird on to the firehouse and phoned the address given. The lady who answered said she'd bet that was their "Chucky," and came after him. Anyway, you can never teach a bird to talk as long as he is around other birds. He must be a lone ranger. Dealers in the birds sell off one or a pair, and their owners teach them to talk.

As Herman had too many old he's, the whole shebang of us carried several of them to Abilene Saturday, to try to trade them for she's, and succeeded. In the meantime, we got to see quite a bit of country we have not seen in some time, such as Roby, Anson and Hawley. Like all the rest of the area every thing is shipshape for planting when the time and rains come. By the way, they have had more rain down in that area this year than we have received on the Plains, and the grass and weeds show it. Some of the early vegetation is blooming, those pretty little yellow blooms.

After quite some bargaining between Herman and the bird man, who has the parakeets along with his tourist court, out on 80, in west Abilene, we left for home, via Tye, Merkel, Trent, Sweetwater, Roscoe, Hermleigh, and in home before good dark. Quite a lot of that section is developing oil production. Anson has a number of wells just at the southwest side of town. So has Merkel and Trent. In fact, going from here to the places mentioned, one is hardly out of sight of an oil well or several of them, when just a few years ago, there were many skips of no wells at all.

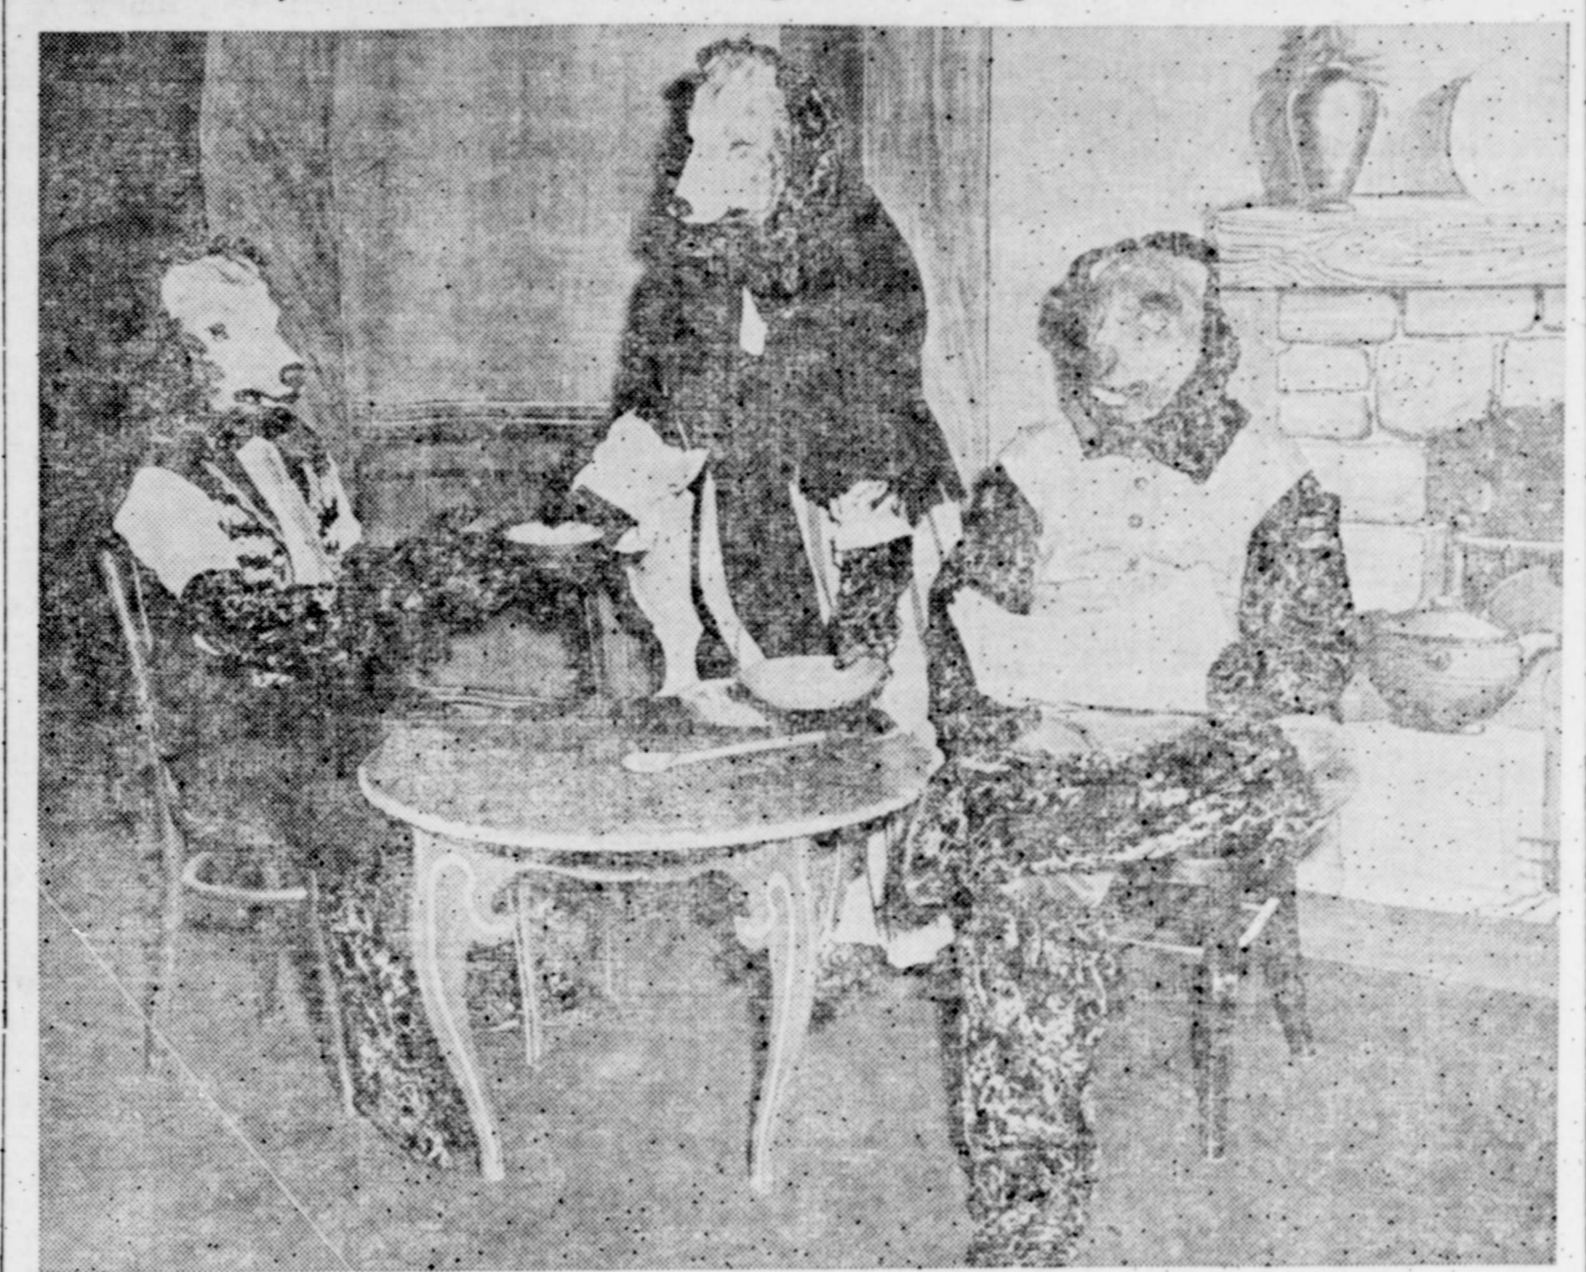

Some of the prettiest farm land in west Texas, is the Roscoe Divide to this side of Hermleigh. It is a highly developed farm section, a lot of the people being German stock, with nice homes and big barns. It is a level black land and highly productive when it rains. They have been hit very hard the last few years, but may be they are on their way out of the severe drouth at last. We hope this year is the beginning of the end of the drouth, and we have a lot of good normal years from this on.

Speaking of the "Roscoe Divide," we began to hear that when we came to West Texas, but never figured it out. Why the name, "divide"? It is the dividing point of water between the Brazos and Colorado rivers. All the water that falls at a certain point on that divide, goes into the Brazos, and the water in the western area of that divide, goes into the Colorado river. The terrain of that area in general is as level as this part of the plains, and as we stated above, very fertile.

We of course had a nice time, plenty food, drink (soft or coffee, that is) and lots of rest and sleep. But we did hear some bad news. Myrtle (Brown) Hill, who grew to womanhood and married here in Brownfield, had lost her husband around last Wed. Hill was once a cotton buyer here and that was his avocation at Corpus Christi. They had two children, a girl and boy, the former married and the latter grown. We got this information through Mrs. Jack (Ola Belle Brown) Green of Snyder, who attended the funeral. Ola Belle is Myrtle's sister.

Came home via Gail, Lamesa and Welch, arriving before old Sol set on Sunday night, having left here Friday afternoon.

"Goldilocks, 3 Bears" To Be Staged At Regal Theatre Friday P.M. Cotton Price Supports Have Been Announced

Penthouse Productions of New York City will present "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," a musical stage show at the Regal Theatre on Friday at 4 p. m. only.

This stage show is especially produced for all children and their parents. You will delight in the carefree antics of Goldilocks. Her friendliness and sincere kindness towards animals brings a host of new friends to sing and dance with her. Take, for instance, "Squeaky," the toy mouse. When he meets Goldilocks in the deep forest, he joins her in some fast chatter until Squeaky sees an old enemy, "Smudge," the tomcat.

Another cat, not so large as Smudge, named "Klinky," also appears in the song and dance scene with Goldilocks and Smudge. The above action takes place in the deep forest scene in the first act.

The second act brings in the Three Bears, Mama Bear, Papa Bear and the Little Wee Bear. The Little Wee Bear's name is "Chubby." Chubby is into everything. He climbs trees, falls into the flour barrel and gets into lots of trouble. Since he is small and cute, Goldilocks likes him best. She likes his little dish filled with porridge, his chair and his bed.

After trying all of Chubby's things and eating his food, Goldilocks is too tired to move. She goes to Chubby's bed and falls fast asleep. When the bears return and discover Goldilocks in Chubby's bed, they awaken her. The bears and Goldilocks join in a grand finale. They sing, dance and play games until Goldilocks' father and mother find little Goldilocks and take her back to their own home. Goldilocks never would leave home alone again after that but she always remembered the kind bears and especially Chubby.

Texas Family Life Needs Planning

College Station—Families are becoming more conscious of the need for planning together. Learning to understand each family member, and to solve every-day problems together, was the trend for farm and rural families during 1952 according to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

As evidenced by the reports from county Extension agents, many families participated in the Extension program and activities which involved the family. These activities involved family counseling, recreation, work on the family history, including young married women in clubs, providing for children during meetings, and considering the needs of older family and community members.

Mrs. Johnson says county home demonstration agents assisted more than 10,000 farm and ranch families to analyze and solve certain problems through individual counselling. Group discussions and counselling enabled more than 40,000 farm families to solve some of their family relationship problems. Many more were given family life information through leaders trained by the specialist or agents.

During 1952 farm and ranch families showed an increasing interest in neighborhood and community study and improvements. The agents and leaders assisted with more than 5,000 family life discussions at agricultural, home demonstration, civic and church meetings. Family life conferences were held in community and county groups to create an awareness of the problems which community analysis and cooperation could solve.

In rural health, attention was centered on ways of finding and meeting personal and community health needs and to the study and improvement of available services for health care. More than 5,000 families were assisted in making health inventories. There were 250 communities which made health surveys and more than 400 reported study of cooperative health facilities and services. Fifteen hundred communities were assisted in organizing and arranging cooperation for health examinations and clinics.

After listening to all the campaign speeches it's too bad we can't salvage the wire from everything that's haywire these days.

We grumble about things we want to do but can't—instead of doing things we could but won't.

Rheumatic Fever Is Dangerous, Says State Health Officer

Austin, Texas—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, commenting on the seriousness of rheumatic fever, today declared that this disease is recognized as one of the greatest killers among young people. Between the ages of 10 and 15, rheumatic fever causes more deaths than any other disease, the State Health Officer said, and in persons between the ages of 15 and 24, it is outranked only by tuberculosis.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that deaths in childhood from rheumatic fever have not decreased in a satisfactory manner during the past decade, and warned the parents of children to pay particular attention to the care and treatment of such predisposing diseases as tonsillitis and other upper respiratory infections.

"The diagnosis in this disease is not always easy," Dr. Cox stated. "Any child with suspicious symptoms should be under the prolonged supervision of a physician since along with general involvement of the body, the heart is practically always involved. The symptoms consist only of pallor, loss of weight, easy fatigue, unusual sweating, loss of appetite, and sometime fleeting muscular pain, and a little joint stiffness and a rapid beating of the heart. The more severe cases may show repeated nose bleeds, extreme nervousness, stiffness and pain in the joints, swelling of the joints, fever and pain over the heart."

According to Dr. Cox the majority of children who experience rheumatic fever suffer more than one attack and each may last months or even at times one to three years. The final result depends on the amount of heart damage incurred. Closely supervised bed rest throughout the entire period of infection is essential in order to minimize this danger.

Research and field experiments dealing with the yellowing problem in grain sorghums and other crops are being continued.

Cotton Price Supports Have Been Announced

The national average price support for 1953 crop upland cotton will be at least 30.80 cents per pound, the Department of Agriculture has announced. This represents 90 per cent of the current parity price, and is the minimum level of support announced in advance of the season, as required by legislation. If parity is higher as of next August 1, the beginning of the marketing year, the level of price support will be increased accordingly.

At the same time the support was announced, farmers were again cautioned against over-production of cotton this year. Primarily because exports are falling off and because the last two cotton crops have permitted rebuilding reserve stocks, it is considered neither necessary nor desirable for farmers to produce as much cotton this year. Production of 12 to 12.5 million bales now appears desirable in 1953, which would require reduction of about 118 per cent nationally below 1952 plantings.

Based on present estimates, farmers are urged to plant less than 5 acres of cotton this year for each 6 planted last year, if they are to avoid excess supplies, a depressing effect on prices, and possible proclamation of marketing quotas for the 1954 cotton crop. For good land use, some farmers may require even greater reductions in the amount of cotton planted.

Other minimum price supports set for 1953 crop cotton are: 73.92 cents per pound for extra long staple; 74.52 cents per pound for American Egyptian; and 56.22 cents per pound for Sealand and Sea Island cotton.

Meanwhile, a cottonseed advisory committee, meeting recently in Washington to study operations of the cottonseed price support program and to suggest possible revisions, has recommended development of a program for the 1953 cottonseed crop to be carried out through loans to and purchases from producers at 90 per cent of the parity price.

DAY'S WAGES PLAN SET UP BY COMMITTEE

Members of the Ways and Means Committee of the First Methodist Church have formulated a plan whereby individuals will pledge wages for one day each month to the church building fund, in addition to their regular pledges.

According to committee spokesmen, these pledges will be used for meeting labor costs of the new church, which is now under construction in the 1100 block on East Broadway.

For example, approximately $15 would pay a carpenter's salary for a day and the church member contributing his day's wages, would bring the completion of the church one day nearer. Colored leaflets explaining the project to the church membership are being distributed with Sunday bulletins at regular worship services.

Response to the plan has been encouraging, church officials said, predicting that when organizational work on the project is completed it will play a big part in speeding payment for the $300,000 structure.

Silence may be the only argument that can't be answered, but most people would rather talk than win an argument.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

New York — The uncertainty among political commentators on the death of Stalin is adding up to certainty in the business and financial communities. How? Simply because, when no one knows what changes in world conditions may be coming up, the part of wisdom is to assume there won't be any.

Stock markets and commodity markets alike fluttered a little at the first news of Stalin's fatal illness, but by the end of last week it was hard to see any changes in these sensitive barometers.

Most important to the businessman is the fact that defense preparations surely will be slowed down, and may even be stepped up, on the theory that a man who we knew believed in playing it safe is now out of the picture. The talks between U. S. and British officials, just ending in Washington, may bring a grudging forward step in the matter of reducing shipments to Red China, which would be a net gain.

The consumer's hard-headed attitude on the switch of Russia's masters matches that of the speculators. There has been not even a ripple of the buying of coffee, sugar and automobile tires which has come to reflect the housewife's war anxiety.

Upgrading Market—Small contractors, appliance and local lumber yards will benefit during 1953 from a near-billion-dollar market for home modernization and repair. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association believes the $675-million expenditures on repairing the nation's 42 million homes in 1952 will be repeated this year.

Growing families force home owners to convert attic space, porches and unfinished rooms into living space. Once this was costly because it meant enlarging the central heating system. Now, with natural gas supplies increasing all over the country, easy-to-install gas room heaters solve the problem.

Gas-operated steam radiators, console models, simulated logs, slim upright heaters, two-way wall heaters, recessed wall types and many others offer a wide selection. Thousands were installed last year, many in the 18,222,000 U. S. homes over 30 years old, which need general overhaul.

Things To Come—Do you have a small child at the age of gnawing the enamel off the playpen? Then a new line of enamels is for you; no lead pigments or other toxic materials. . . . A plastic accordion, nearly as big as some real ones, made its bow at last week's Toy Fair. It will reach stores soon. . . . The homeowner can install a new lawn sprinkler system, of eight heads and 100 feet of plastic tubing to be buried in the ground. . . . A new die is used in punch presses to stitch sheets of metal together without rivets. . . . Walnuts are cracked by charges of electricity in a new Oregon plant. . . . The Mitey Miter corner-brace, just in time for spring repairs to screens, fits into a saw-cut in frames as stiffening.

Kiss And Make Up—Television and motion pictures are learning to live with each other, after all.

For the last three or four years laymen and experts alike have seen a grim reaper stalking Hollywood, as TV carried entertainment right to the nation's fire-sides. A land of boarded-up theaters was prophesied. Evidence in creases, however, of adjustment to a way of life compatible and mutually strengthening. It's more and more apparent that production of TV material on film by contemporary Hollywood personalities is a workable business.

One sign of the new cooperation is news that on this coming Thursday the NBC-TV network will broadcast film's proudest

New Publications Are Released By Extension Service

College Station — Agricultural producers of the state will find much useful information in four publications recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Livestock producers will find many suggestions in a leaflet titled "Short on Grass". Several emergency roughages are mentioned along with other feeding tips and management hints.

Cotton producers will find in the "1953 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects" the latest information on the rates of application and timing of insecticides recommended for use in Texas along with practices and suggestions that have proved useful in controlling cotton insects.

Most folks like to fish and the new bulletin on "Farm Fish Ponds" answers a lot of the questions that pond owners have been asking about stocking, fertilizing, weed control and pond management.

The fourth publication carries the title "Landowner-Operator Teamwork in Soil Building" and deals with problems related to the use of soil building practices on tenant operated farms. Included is a suggested agreement for use by landowners and tenant operators.

Copies of each publication may be obtained without cost from local county agricultural agents.

ceremony, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Science annual presentation of the "Oscars."

It is good to see these competitors working together and it is good to see a television manufacturer, RCA Victor, sponsor this great event. Television and the movies are both too valuable as sources of entertainment to expend their energies in a battle of extinction.

Customer-Salesmen—The galloping do-it-yourself trend is apparently closely paralleled by the sell-yourself trend being promoted by vending machine companies. According to one estimate it is now a $1 1/4-billion industry and some 2,750,000 vending machines made 19 billion sales last year. America is well past the Model T stage of gum and peanut vendors and now has a wide variety of unusual selling machines under consideration or in use. Among these are revolving store windows which will turn into vending machines at night; coin-operated automatic newstands, and truly automatic cafeterias.

Bits O'Business—Lead fell to 13 cents a pound last week, 6 cents under the old OPS ceiling. Heavy construction awards so far this year are ahead of 1952 by 39 percent, in the face of government cutbacks. . . . Oil companies recinded a half-cent price rise in gasoline after a week's trial in the East. . . . A Southern soft drink company will give the buyer of a carton of bottles 200 flower seeds—zinnias, cornflowers, marigolds or asters.

Chapter 11, King Of The Congo

NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on our State Hospital System, prepared under the supervision of Dr. George W. Jackson, Medical Director of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, and sponsored by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, University of Texas.

Dr. R. picked up the folder of materials on Jonathon C. and weighed it carefully on the palm of his hand. Such a thin folder to contain five years of a man's life. Five years! And the years measured with a tiny thread of ink—"Disturbed. Restless. Patient ill of pneumonia. Patient put out on work farm." Five years lopped off a man's life as one would slash the head off a chicken.

He laid the folder down before him and opened it. Jonathon C. was number 62 in the patients he had medically and psychologically re-examined; 62 out of more than 3,000. Eight doctors working as fast as they could. But every day was crowded with new patients, worried families, treatments to give.

Dr. R. held his head in his hands. He felt as if his life, too, were being spun thin, like a thread of syrup on the end of a spoon. Then he sat up, lit a fresh cigarette. Every minute was valuable to some poor soul. He must get back to work.

A wind blew through the window of the ward room, scattered papers, and Dr. R. picked them up rapidly, stuffing them into the folder. A white slip, reporting a fight between Jonathon and another patient. A typed sheet from the social worker, incisively laying bare the bones of Jonathon's life, laying open as a surgeon would open up an infected leg. "Patient was a factory worker in Dallas. Quiet man. Didn't drink. Stayed at home nights with his parents. No other record of mental illness. Patient went berserk one night, threatening his mother with a butcher knife."

Dr. R. laid down the piece of paper imagining for one moment what must have gone on inside of Jonathon's troubled mind, what hidden fears had shot like needles through his mind while his big hands did their work in the factory, what imagined terrors had stalked his mind in the quiet of his home.

The doctor sighed and read further, then stopped and shuffled through the papers again. These reports were old, more than three years old. For three years there had been no notation on the record. It was as if Jonathon had been dropped into an abyss for three dark years, alive and yet buried like the dead.

When Dr. R. investigated, he found Jonathon was working on the hospital hog farm a few miles from town, had been working there for three years. The swine-man who ran the farm was cooperative, though his hands twitched a little as he talked with Dr. R. "Shore, he's a good worker. Does fine. Gotta keep an eye on him though." The swine-man looked up through sun-squinted eyes, then looked quickly away again. "In what way do you have to keep an eye on him?" Dr. R. asked.

"Wall, you know—," the swine-man said, motioning vaguely. "He-wall, he might get wild someday." Dr. R. bit his lower lip. With good and strong help, the swine-man might well want to keep Jonathon working on the farm. Just those six words, "gotta keep an eye on him," could hold the man away from freedom.

When Jonathon's case was re-surveyed, when he went through the testing and the staff meeting, he was released from the hospital. A man well enough to take his place in the world had spent three years on a hog farm because no one had had the time to resurvey his record! Incredible? Yes—incredible, but true.

Suit For Damages Filed By McIlroy

A damage suit for $41,000 has been filed against General Telephone Company of the Southwest by Dr. Howard Wayne McIlroy, 608 Tahoka Road, local chiropractor. J. B. Cotton of Seagraves and the Abilene firm of Scarborough, Yates, Scarborough and Black have been retained as the plaintiff's attorneys.

In his petition, McIlroy alleges that at 7:30 p. m., June 20, 1952, his wife picked up a telephone installed by the defendant and was injured when lightning struck and followed the telephone wire up through the instrument which she was holding.

patient has been seen and observed by competent medical authority and that proper follow-up studies are being made on every acute and chronic patient. Since July 1951 an effort has been made to re-examine every patient; standard procedures have been established; directives have been issued establishing policies for regular professional hospital ward rounds.

And as surveys have shown that numerous patients could return to their homes and communities, all hospitals are making an all out effort to effect proper placement for such individuals.

Future plans call for bringing the number of professional personnel up to a standard that will allow daily diagnosis and therapeutic ward rounds, the installation of improved social service divisions in all hospitals so that recovered patients can be placed in their families or communities and in closer cooperation with the State Welfare Department.

Important? Yes, indeed! Ask Jonathon C. He knows!

Drought Hits Texas' Herd Of Antelope

Austin— The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said negative reports are being received from far west Texas about the antelope herd.

He said the status of the fleet, two-toned animals has become so uncertain that the weather during the next six weeks may determine whether there will be an open season next fall.

The Big Bend country was restocked several years ago and the herds thrived to the extent that three successive open seasons were held, the last being in 1951.

Then the following dry weather weakened the herd and cut the reproduction rate. The Game Commission, at its July 1952 meeting, decided that while a limited harvest was possible, it would be wiser to close the season altogether for 1952.

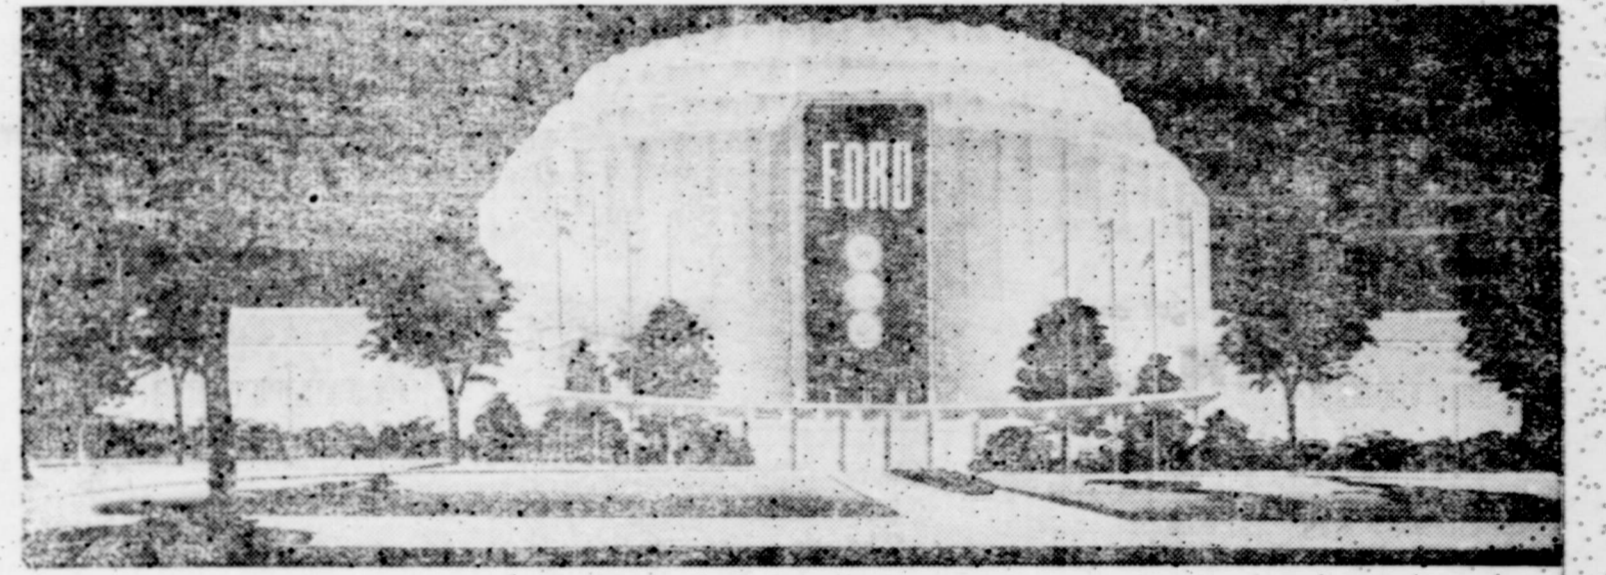

Lately, unfavorable reports have again been received because of the drought, according to the Executive Secretary as running short of nourishment since the ranges have been blighted by a winter-long dry spell.

The Executive Secretary said that should the drought be broken shortly the natural food for the antelope probably would be restored in time to help the herd through the vital fawning season.

Meanwhile, he added, the small antelope herd in the Panhandle was reported thriving although there is some question as to whether it has attained sufficient size to warrant an open season.

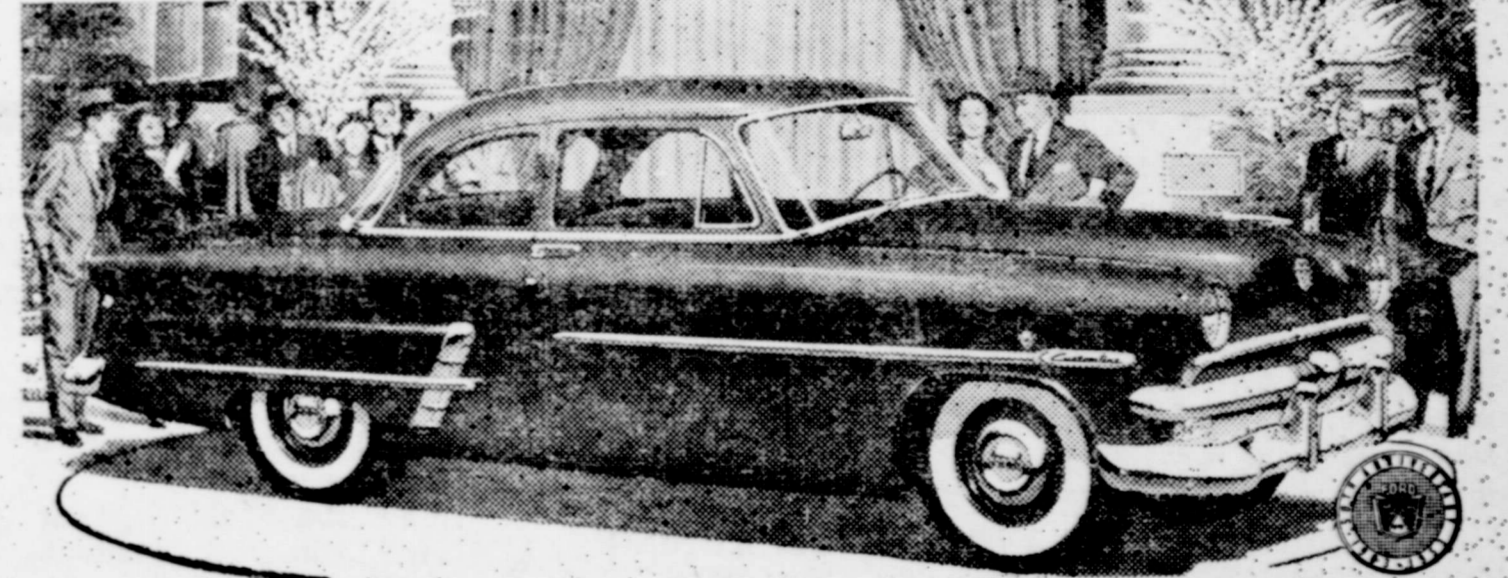

Worse than a quitter is a fellow who finishes things he never should have started.

Human beings, like chickens, thrive best when they have to do a lot of scratching for what they get.

Miss Peggy Nelson Becomes Bride Of John Lockhart In Double Ring Service

Miss Peggy Jacqueline Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson of Brownfield, and John Lloyd Lockhart of Los Alamos, N. M., were married in a double ring ceremony read recently in the Brownfield First Presbyterian Church by Rev. Jones W. Weather's, minister of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. O. H. Miller of Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., is the mother of the bridegroom.

The service was performed before an altar, decorated with greenery and flanked by baskets of white gladioli. White cathedral tapers burned in double candleabra.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Pat Ramsey, organist, who also accompanied Miss Doris Crudgington, who sang "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning." Miss Crudgington is soloist for the Hardin Simons University Cowboy Band.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original street length flock of white lace over taffeta, fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bride's bouquet, a white orchid showered with white split carnations and ribbon streamers, was carried atop an order of the Eastern Star Bible, belonging to the bride's mother.

A diamond bar pin which belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother was worn by the bride as something old and presented as a gift to her by the Lockhart family. A handkerchief which she carried was something blue, and her bridal ensemble was something new. For luck the bride had a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Donna Sue Nelson attended her sister as bridesmaid and wore a frock of sky blue fashioned like the matron of honor's dress. She also wore a tiny white nose veil, and her bouquet was a nosegay of white carnations.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Marilyn Trainer of Farmington, N. M., a graduate of Hardin Simons University. She chose a navy blue dress and wore a white nose veil. Her bouquet was a nosegay arrangement of white carnations. Miss Norma Newman of Brownfield and Wynona Jonte of Dallas, both former students at Hardin Simons, were candlelighters. Their dresses were of aqua shantung.

O. H. Miller of Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., served his stepson as best man. Ushers were Jack Inman and Gerald Walton of Snyder, uncles of the bride, and David Shaffer of Los Alamos, N. M., was groomsmen.

Mother of the bride chose a frock of navy blue crepe with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue printed silk dress with a blue wool jacket. Her accessories were also white, and both women wore gardenia corsages.

After the ceremony, a reception honoring the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents. Assisting them in receiving were their parents, Mrs. W. R. Inman, grandmother of the bride, and the wedding attendants.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the receiving rooms, and an arrangement of white carnations flanked by crystal candleabra and bouquets of the bridal attendants ornamented the table. The two-tiered wedding cake was iced in blue and white confection. College friends of the bride served cake and punch.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Albuquerque, N. M. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A 1948 graduate of Brownfield High School, the bride received her bachelor of arts degree in home economics from Hardin Simons University in Abilene. While a student there she was a member of the Colts Club, Home Economic Club and Spanish Club, and was also a nominee for Queen of the University.

The bridegroom graduated from Pomona College in Claremont, Calif., receiving a B. A. degree. He is chief engineer and announcer for radio station KRSN in Los Alamos, where the couple will make their home.

Out-of-town guests present for the wedding and reception were from Twenty-nine Palms, and Pasadena, Calif.; New Home, Slaton, Abilene, Tahoka, Muleshoe, Odessa, Snyder, Dallas, Los Alamos, N. M., and Clovis, N. M.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Ruth White.

A buffet meal was served preceding the wedding rehearsal Saturday in the home of the Nelsons. Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Miller, Twenty-nine Palms, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Miller, South Pasadena, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lockhart, Cornville, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Patchen, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. David Shaffer, Los Alamos, N. M.; Miss Marilyn Trainer, Lubbock; Miss Wynona Jonte, Dallas; Miss Norma Newman and Doyle Johnson, Brownfield; the wedding couple, Miss Donna Sue Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson.

NEW HUB BEAUTY

LOS ANGELES — News for car owners comes from the Calnear company here in the form of wire wheel hub caps that accurately simulate $700-per-set wire wheels featured on Detroit European models. The stainless steel beauties being examined by Actress Elena Verdugo — a beauty herself — cost about $100. They have a dual purpose in that they admit air to cool the brake drums. It was the Calnear company which created the chromium ripple wheel disk of more than a decade ago that led to virtually every auto manufacturer copying the style.

Schedule For '53 Is Rugged For Cubs

By Jack Lucas

The Cubs will have their hands full next fall when they open the football season for '53. Composed of Seminole, Kermit, Levelland and Andrews, the Cubs will be in the toughest district they have been in since 1950.

The teams to beat in the district race will be Levelland and Kermit, who lost very few players off the '52 squad. The rather weaker teams in the district will be Seminole, who lost 16 seniors, Andrews, who lost 15, and Brownfield, who has only 3 returning lettermen. They are Juniors Jerry Brown and Sophomore Nicky Greer.

Other hard games on the schedule include Pecos, who gave the Cubs their worst beating the past year; Phillips, who is always a strong football power, and then Ye Old Rival, Littlefield, who will also be weaker than usual this year.

The starting boys for the Cubs have not yet been named but the backfield will consist of Jerry Brown at quarterback, Billy Thomson and E. V. Murphy at the half-back positions and the fall-back slot will be well taken care of by Joe Foshe and Larry White. The Cubs will have a whopper of a backfield with the lightest boy, Bill Thomas, weighing in at 171 pounds. The starting linemen have not yet been determined by Coach Toby Greer.

The schedule for the 1953 seasons is as follows:

4-H Food Programs Approved By State

The 4-H Club members in this State who have the highest rating record of achievement in either of three national programs relating to food production, utilization and conservation, will receive a gold-filled 17-jewel watch, signifying that they are 1953 state winners, the National 4-H Committee has announced. The programs and awards donors are Dairy Foods Demonstrations, Carnation; Frozen Foods, International Harvester and Meat Animal, Thos. E. Wilson.

In the 4-H Frozen Foods and Meat Animal programs, eight sectional winners will be given an all-expense trip to the 1953 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November. In the Dairy Foods Demonstration program, which has no sectional awards, eight national winners will receive a trip to the Chicago Club Congress. Gold-filled medals will be awarded to county winners in each of the programs.

Some idea of 4-H Club members' achievements in the three programs may be gained from 1952 figures of participants. In the 4-H Meat Animal program, members raised more than 800,000 beef cattle, sheep and swine; 6,500 individual and team members demonstrated how to prepare dairy products for nutritious dishes before 85,000 people, and 115,000 4-H boys and girls froze 1 1/2 million quarts and 2 million pounds of food.

Full information regarding these programs may be obtained from the County Extension Agent. All three programs are conducted under the supervision of the Co-operative Extension Service.

Sen. Corbin Makes Report To People

To the people of the 28th Senatorial District:

The response and interest shown to prior reports on the progress of the session of the Texas Legislature leads me to make this further account on recent developments in the State Capitol.

The session has run almost sixty days and the large $162 million biennial budget appropriation is almost ready for consideration by the two houses. By joint rule of the Texas Legislature, these appropriations cannot be considered for the first sixty days of the session. This accounts for the delay in the bringing up for consideration of the $33 million per year pay raise for teachers, as well as the general cost-of-living pay increase for 40,000 State workers. It is estimated that the pay raise for State employees will run some $10 million per year in its present form. Proponents of this legislation say that the effect of the raise would bring State workers pay in line with federal business and industrial employees.

The increased salaries for teachers, along with increased salaries for State employees, as presently proposed, would add $43 million per year to the State budget, and would require an additional tax. In my opinion, there are two major schools of thought concerning the tax situation. Either of these two taxes would provide the needed additional revenue. These proposed taxes are the Natural Gas tax, and Governor Shivers' recommendation of a 1c increase in the gasoline sales tax.

As you can see, the entire session revolves around whether these salary increases are granted and then the resulting picture from the standpoint of the proposed taxes.

To the present date, 565 proposed bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives, and some 219 measures in the Senate I will discuss something about the nature of these bills at a later date.

One has been introduced to increase the pay of our elected State officials.

Another amendment would permit women to serve on juries.

A third would increase State Old Age Assistance and extend similar benefits to the mentally and physically disabled.

Another amendment has been introduced to allow pay raise to members of the Legislature.

Another important amendment

Birthday of First Farm Demonstration Held Near Terrell

College Station—More than 1,000 persons from Washington, D. C. and a third of the states visited the Walter Porter farm near Terrell on February 26. They heard speakers tell how the first farm demonstration and other related activities later merged into the Agricultural Extension Service (county agent system) and became a part of the Land-Grant Colleges of the nation.

This first demonstration, established on February 26, 1903, started a new teaching method—learning to do by doing. Walter C. Porter was the first demonstrator and Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, representing the USDA, the supervisor. This method of teaching later led also to the three-way cooperative arrangement which makes the Extension Service unique among educational agencies. The counties, states and federal governments share the appropriations for the work but with supervision and personnel training a responsibility of the state organization. State headquarters for each of the state organizations is located at the state Land-Grant Colleges.

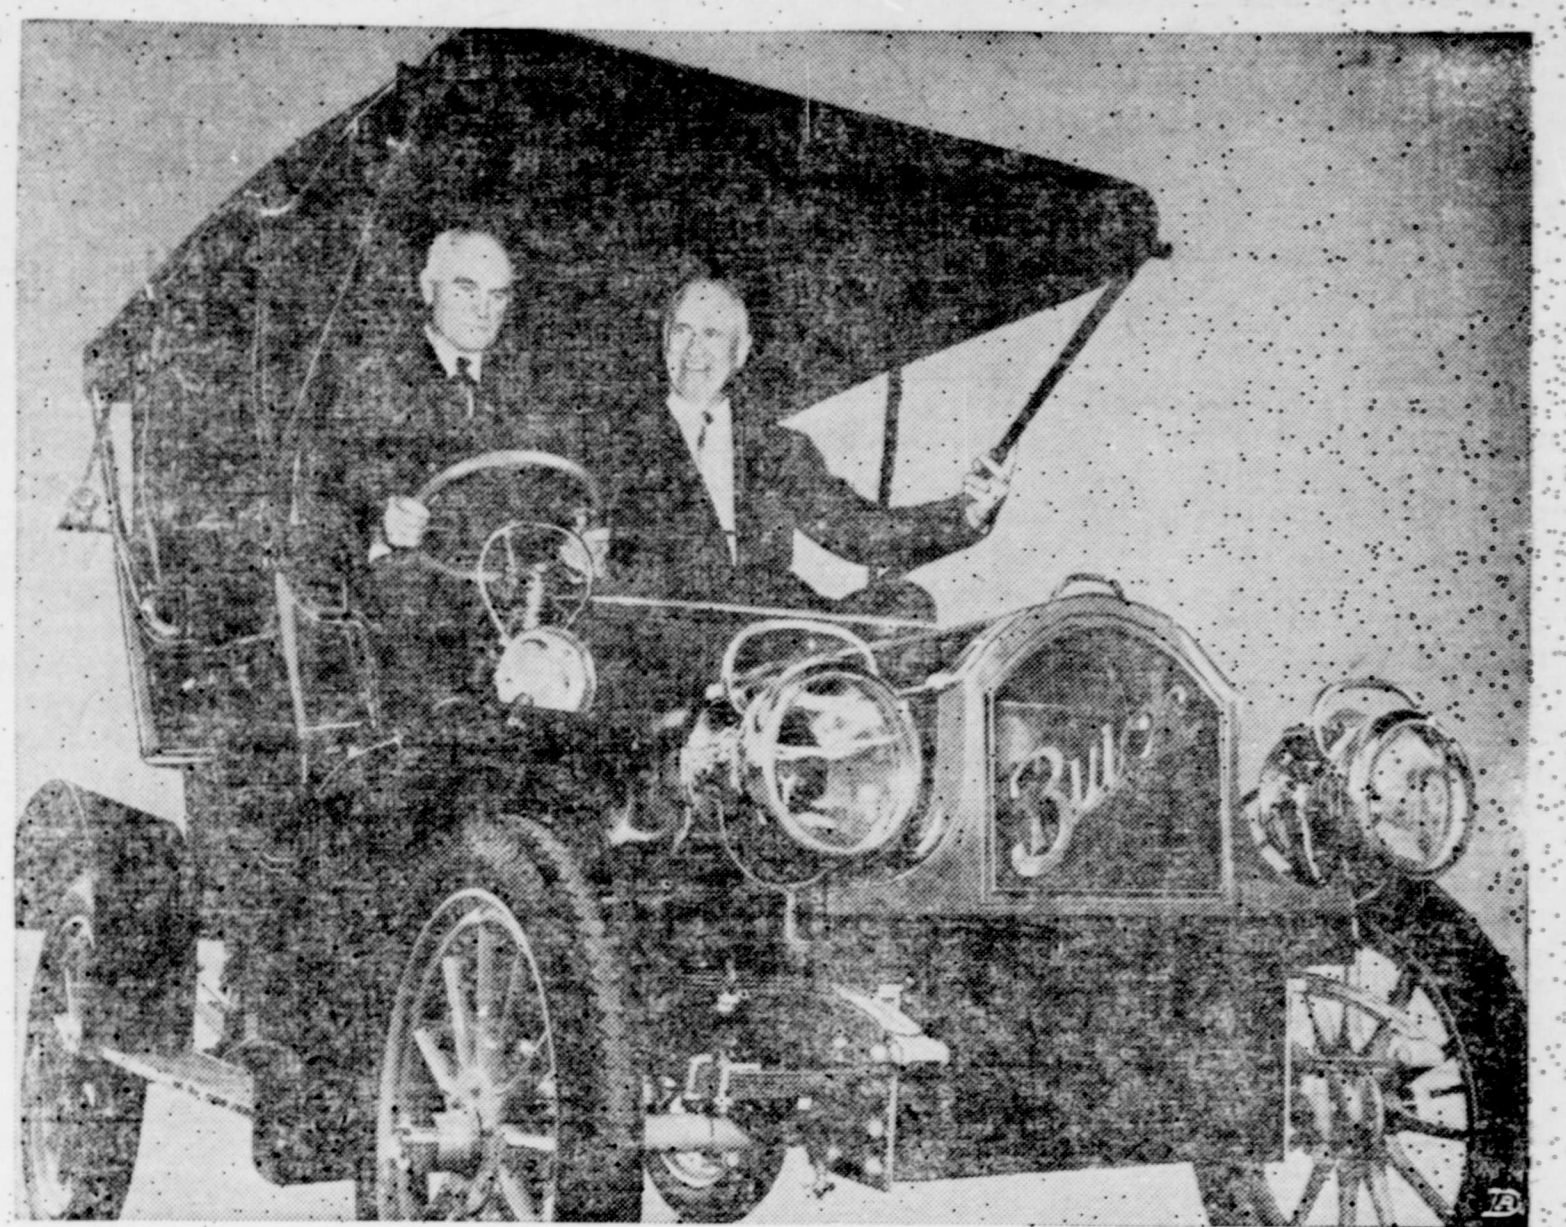

Highlight of the day's program was the dedication of a historical marker on the farm, carrying on the bronze tablet atop a base of Texas granite this inscription: "Here the first Farm Demonstration was established jointly by Seaman A. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Porter, the people of Terrell, February 26, 1903. This demonstration of scientific agriculture on the land was the beginning of the agricultural extension service now known around the world." And this quotation from Dr. Knapp, "What a man hears he may doubt. What he sees he may possibly doubt. What he does himself he cannot doubt."

Remember that highway safety is a life and death matter.

would permit a State water-use tax on surface water to build up a fund for water conservation development.

It is my desire to serve in the best interest of people of the district, and I welcome your recommendations and opinions on any matter pending before the Legislature.

KILMER CORBIN,
State Senator

In the days when most doctors made their daily rounds in a horse and buggy, an enterprising young physician just starting his practice in Flint, Mich., purchased a "horseless carriage." It was the first car ever sold by a new maker—Buick Motor Car Co. Buick, now the fourth largest manufacturer of automobiles in the world, is observing its Golden Anniversary this year and when the city of Flint staged a "Salute to Buick," Dr. Hills, who lives in Birmingham, Mich., was present. He is shown at the wheel of an early model Buick with Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I made out a check to VA for my National Service Life Insurance premium, and my bank returned it to VA, stating there weren't sufficient funds to cover it. Meantime, it turned out the bank made a mistake; I did have sufficient funds. Will VA give me the chance to make up the payment without jeopardizing my insurance protection?

A—Yes. VA will give you an additional period of 31 days from the date of its letter notifying you of nonpayment, to make up all back premiums through the current month.

Q—I have just been discharged from the Armed Forces. Is there any time limit I have to meet, in starting training under the Korean GI Bill?

A—You must begin your training within two years of the date of your discharge. Veterans discharged before August 20, 1952, however, must begin by August 20, 1952.

Ford Celebrating 50th Anniversary

The Ford Rotunda, Detroit's biggest tourist attraction and gateway to the famous Rouge Plant, will be reopened about June 1 as part of Ford Motor Company's 50th anniversary observance.

Thereafter, it will be open to the public seven days a week, including holidays, from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m.

With an accent on the future, artists, designers and architects have completely remodeled the 110-foot-tall gear-shaped structure which was built for the Chicago World's Fair in 1934 and later moved to its present location in Dearborn, Mich.

Animated displays, sculptures, murals and dioramas in the air conditioned building will tell the story of progress in the automotive industry—how science and manufacturing skills have been combined to produce a better way of life, and what they hold for the future.

The exhibits will portray the conversion of raw materials into finished products; the effect of industrial advancement on standards of living; the role of research and engineering in automotive production; and the potentialities of a modern industrial organization.

A renovated theater, with a seating capacity of 395 persons, will present film programs daily.

The W. B. Ford Design Corporation has developed a scale model "city of the future" to show what life will be like in years to come.

Marshall Fredericks, the sculptor, has fashioned 16 massive reliefs, to depict the contribution of basic industries to the making of the automobile.

R. Buckminster Fuller, structural theorist and designer, has developed a geodesic dome that will cover the circular inner court of the Rotunda.

On the grounds, a half-mile roadway will contain sections of different road surfaces that have evolved with highway transportation over the world.

More than five million persons visited the Rotunda in Dearborn before World War II, when its display areas were converted to office space.

Service Officer Salary Discontinued By Commissioners

The post of Terry County Service Officer will be discontinued effective April 1, according to a recent decision of the County Commissioners. However, the office will remain open under the direction of a full time clerk, County Judge Leonard Lang said.

The service officer's salary was discontinued as an economy measure after being in operation since Oct. 1, 1945. C. E. Lincoln assumed duties of the office at that time following his resignation as county judge during his third term of judgeship, and has retained that position until the current action by the commissioners. Before the office was established, Lincoln had acted as service officer in conjunction with his duties as judge.

Mrs. Bobbie Ashburn of Meadow will continue as clerk in the service office, after serving as clerk to Lincoln for the past two and a half years, Lang explained. Although Lincoln will be associated with the Atlas Life Insurance Company, he will continue to perform the duties of service officer for both the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts. Files at the office will remain intact, Lincoln said.

At the same time the commissioners took action on the service officer question, they also voted to purchase a new maintainer for Precinct 4.

Mrs. Minnie Sandage of Route 9 returned home Sunday after a four weeks' visit with relatives at Heber Springs, Ark. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Johnson, came home with her. This according to a report by Jacob, and we presume he was fed up on hatching when the wife and her mother came in.

KIWANIS LT. GOVERNOR IS GUEST SPEAKER

The Brownfield Kiwanis Club was honored at its noon meeting Thursday, March 12th by having as its guest speaker, J. P. White, Lieutenant Governor of Division 12 of Kiwanis International.

Mr. White's lecture dealt primarily with the responsibilities of the various committees within the local club. He emphasized that the club depends upon its committees in living up to the club's motto "We Build."

Mr. White (known to all as "J. P.") has lived in Lamesa for a number of years and is a personal friend of many in Brownfield.

Junior High Team In Track Meet

A group of 13 eighth and ninth grade boys from Brownfield Junior High School will participate in a practice track meet Friday at 1 p. m. in Lamesa. Eleven events are scheduled for the meet, and track teams from Denver City, Lamesa and Seminole will compete with the Brownfield group.

Making the trip, will be the ninth graders: Ollie Little, Gene Young, Larry White, Thomas Bartley, Cybert Leomore, and Bobby Beetles. Eighth grade boys on the team are Johnny Raybon, Mike Hamilton, Herschel Cook, Jackie Meeks, Tommy Goodpasture, Arlen Odum and Ellis Cox.

The practice competition will be in preparation for a district meet to be held in Lamesa on April 10. Field events in both the preliminary and district competition will be high jump, broad jump, pole vault, discus, shot put and chinning. In the dashes division will be 100 yard dash, 50 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 220 yard dash and 440 yard relay.

Coach James Burnett is directing the local track training program.

Cubs Lose Out In Snyder Relays

The Cubs ventured down to the Snyder Relays last Saturday only to come back home without a ribbon or a point. The competition was far greater than in any relays the Cubs have attended yet. Some of the leading teams present were: Amarillo, Snyder, Abilene, Stamford, Franklin, Colorado City, Dumas, Phillips, Pampa and many more.

Although the Cubs didn't even get a point, they came back with some experience that will come in handy when the district meet gets here.

Abilene won first in the meet and next in line was Colorado City, where Don Maynard made all his team's points but 2 1/2. He was high point maker for the meet with 16 1/2 points.

The Cubs are going to Odessa next week-end to try their luck in another big meet where the competition will be even greater than it was at Snyder.

RAY BROWNFIELD GETS LIMB BROKEN

Tuesday of last week, A. R. (Ray) Brownfield, of this city, while attending sales at the auction barn in Lubbock, sustained a very painful accident. He fell from a ramp about ten feet high. There was no railing, but as he fell he grabbed a fence that somehow broke his fall.

His left leg was crushed above the knee and broken just above the ankle, but the knee and hip joints were not broken.

He is located in room 348 in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital, but hopes to be brought home soon.

Harvey Gage, Truman DuBoise and James Willis were fishing last week at Red Bluff.

THOMPSON HAS A REAL NICE LUMBER YARD

While out looking around early this week we stopped by the Bob Thompson Lumber yard out on Lubbock Road. He has a pretty office and display rooms as you will see anywhere, and which are nearing completion. Also a large warehouse for builders supplies.

He has plenty room to expand, as we understand he fronts 175 feet, and runs back some 300 feet. He is stocking as fast as lumber can be received.

Called Meeting For Irrigation Farmers

Extension Agent Jim Foy and the Soil Conservation District are calling a meeting for Saturday, March 28, in the District Court Room at 2:30 p. m., for all irrigation farmers and those interested in irrigation, for the purpose of laying plans for another year.

Foy stated that better than 50 per cent of the irrigation farmers this year are new at this type of farming. While there will be no specialists to speak, there will be several experienced irrigation farmers to tell farmers of the problems of this type farming and to answer questions.

There very likely will be some controls on cotton another year, he stated, and plans should be laid now as for approximate acreage individuals will plant next year. Assuming there will be controls, some may want to plant part of irrigated land in alfalfa, but if planted in cotton it would not be harvested in time to put in alfalfa. Foy also stated there might be a possibility of getting a processing plant here to take care of truck acreage, as there is a great future in truck farming. These things will be discussed at this meeting. Remember date and be there.

REP. J. O. GILLHAM HOME FOR WEEKEND

Begone myself, we failed to contact State Representative J. O. Gillham, who was home for the weekend. We were told that he left for Austin Sunday, the day we returned home. Mr. Gillham, being president of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., he has to run up home now and then to see if the boys are carrying on OK.

Officials of the bank we talked with, stated that J. O. had no serious complaints of the way things are going on down at the Capitol, although according to all reports, it would take four adding machines to keep track of the new bills pouring from the funnel of the bill mill.

Perhaps only a smattering of them, just the ones the committees think are essential to the welfare of the State, will emerge and become law.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hamm report the arrival of a new granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hamilton, in California. The mother and her father, Mr. Edwin Hamm, are former residents of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Smith of Denver City sent the week end here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm.

Mrs. Nathan Chesshir and Mrs. B. L. Thompson and Maurice were in Austin last week attending the State Basketball Tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Threet of Hobbs, N. M., and Mrs. Calvo Boydston of Lamesa, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Browder.
