Official Memorandum
BY
ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas
AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETING

Freedom of Information is the inspiring theme for National Newspaper Week this year. Americans are being reminded that "an informed press means an informed people" and that newspapers are important to every community and every individual.

The President of the United States has declared that the journalists of our country "are custodians of a majestic trust, a solemn responsibility: to help arm our people with the knowledge and understanding without which free choice, free government, free men could not be."

A free press always has been a part of the tradition of Texas as well as of the rest of the United States. Our State Constitution provides that: "Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write or publish his opinions on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that privilege; and no law shall ever be passed curtailing the liberty of speech or of the press."

This basic freedom has been lost in so much of the world that it must not be taken for granted here. Once compromised, it would not be easily regained.

WHEREFORE I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby designate the period October 1 - 8, 1953, as and urge that all citizens give thoughtful attention to the importance of newspapers in the lives of our people, our communities, our State, and our nation.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 1st day of October, 1953.

Allan Shivers
Governor of Texas

AMONG BROWNFIELD'S OIL COMPANY EXECUTIVES is Charles Porter, district superintendent for Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. Mr. Porter supervises work in Plains, Tokio, Seagraves, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Post, Welch, and Seminole. The Halliburton Company covers the entire globe and has a camp at every major oil field, including those on ocean and bay. In 1929, Mr. Porter worked for the Turner Valley field in Canada, where he met his wife, who also is his secretary at the local office. They moved to the United States in 1930, and moved to Brownfield from Norwalk, Calif., three years ago when the new camp was established here. Oil well cementing, well logging, dump bailer service, testing, and acid service are only a few of the services rendered by the company and the local camp is equipped with a 2-way radio system in each of the "cementers and toolmen's" cars, and feature 24-hour service. Mr. Porter has been superintendent for the past ten years, and has been with the company the past 27 years. He and his wife enjoy fishing and hunting, attending college football games, as well as home games. He is pictured above in his office, located in the southwestern part of Brownfield. (Staff Photo).

Committee To Secure 4-Lane Right-Of-Way

At a special session of the Commissioners' Court Monday of this week, Mack H. Brown and Jake Fulford were appointed as a committee to obtain the extra right-of-way in Terry County for the four-lane highway to Lubbock. They will have to obtain deeds to property, and negotiate for the moving back of property from the highway.

In view of the fact that all the right-of-way for the four-lane road on "62" will have to be taken from the east side of the highway, many houses and other farm buildings will have to be moved back and put on new foundations. The railroad is on the west side of the highway, is the reason all the land will have to come from the east side.

The work of obtaining the extra land and moving houses back will be accomplished with all speed possible, as it is believed the Highway Department will want to begin construction soon after the first of the year.

As we understand the matter, the money has already been appropriated for this four-lane highway, from two miles south of Brownfield, to Lubbock.

Terry Not Too Far Behind 1952 Ginnings

After all is said and done, Terry County is not as far behind last year's ginnings as one would suppose. Up to September 27th last year, 971 bales had been ginned, compared with 693 for the same period this year, according to County Agent Jim Hoy. That is just a matter of 273 bales, and we have seen that much difference in years that production ran normal.

Clyde Bond, one of our local farmers of the Pleasant Valley section, was in one day this week, and stated that he had out 20 bales. His cotton is irrigated, and he still has good picking. He was using local people to pick his cotton, but Monday they moved on to what they considered greener pastures. So, Clyde is looking for some more hands.

The total ginnings last year was 51,034 bales, and up to October 21, 11,000 bales had been ginned. We have two estimates on this year's crop, to date, one by Dick Chambers, superintendent of the Texas Compress and Warehouse Co. The other is by Foy.

Chambers says, 18,000.
Foy's total is 15,000

We are going to get right in between the two and put our estimate at 16,500 bales—maybe more—we hope.

Local IOOF Members Attend West Texas Two-Day Conference

An educational program for the West Texas Conference of IOOF Lodge began a two-day schedule at Lubbock, Saturday, with a 1 p.m. session in Hotel Lubbock.

Speakers included Dave Fezell, Fort Worth, of the State Public Relations office, who discussed traffic safety; Clyde Hicks, Wichita Falls, chairman of the State Youth Committee, who described the youth program; Guy H. McNeely, Wichita Falls, member of the board of trustees, who discussed the board; and Clarence Wood, Lubbock, past State Grand Master, who discussed the by-laws and code of the State of Texas organization.

A social was held Saturday night at the Lubbock IOOF Hall, during which a film was shown and refreshments served.

Sunday's session was held at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. in Hotel Lubbock.

Over 150 persons from 20 West Texas towns attended the two-day conference. Approximately 40 attended Saturday's session.

Attending from the local lodge were E. V. Riley, Clyde Keith, Johnny Benson, and Sam White.

Towns represented were Floydada, Matador, Plainview, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Needmore, Morton, Levelland, Sundown, Brownfield, Denver City, Dimmitt, Seminole, Seagraves, Tahoka, Hereford, Andrews, Midland, Odessa, and Earth.

Applications For Meadow PO Extended

The Civil Service Commission has extended the deadline to Oct. 6, 1953, for accepting applications in the examination for postmaster at Meadow, Texas. The time limit was extended because the number of applications received so far has not been sufficient for adequate competition, the Commission announced today.

Applicants must have resided for one year in the community that is served by the post office. They must be able to handle simple records of accounts and be able to deal agreeably with the public. They will be required to pass a written test.

Further information and application forms are available at the post office. The forms must be received by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before the deadline date.

Cong. Mahon Joins In Praise for Newspapers

We are glad to reproduce below the expressions of our Congressman, George H. Mahon, on National Newspaper Week, and of course freedom of the press. Thanks, George, for your kind expression:

"I wish to join with others in saluting the free press of our great country on the occasion of the celebration of National Newspaper Week. If publication of the newspapers of the nation should be suddenly suspended, the resulting shock would awaken the American people to the absolute indispensability to democracy of the free enterprise system of the nation's press. I think it is a good thing to pause a moment and take stock and resolve to make the newspapers of our country an even greater instrument for good in promoting the American way of life. Congratulations upon the good job which the press is now doing—Rep. George Mahon.

Bible Chair Director Speaks Here Sunday

Bro. Mont Whitson, director of Tech Church of Christ Bible Chair, will preach next Sunday morning and evening at Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Bro. Whitson is brother-in-law of Bro. Cline Paden, former minister of Brownfield Church of Christ, and is a graduate of Abilene Christian College.

Now that the fighting in Korea has ended, it might be a good idea to try to end the killing on the highways.

which is financed by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. Currently he serves as chairman of rural services for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. Carroll has held positions of comparable responsibility in both Connecticut and California, including state presidencies of professional education organizations and the editorship of a series of curriculum development monographs. Dr. Carroll has served in a consultant capacity for educational films producers, including Walt Disney Productions, Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, United Films, for textbook publishers; for school systems in Texas, Connecticut, Michigan, Oregon, Nevada, and California, these last including evaluation and survey responsibilities, and for several educational foundations.

More About Using Mexican Nationals

Dayton Carrell, local office manager for the Texas Employment Commission here today said that Terry County has been designated as a crop wage area.

Crop wage areas, he said, are designated as such only when Mexican Nationals are expected to be employed in the area to help farmers harvest their crops.

A survey will be undertaken in this county shortly to determine the range of wages being paid domestic workers. The survey is made necessary by a law passed in Congress—public law 78—which provides, in part, that before Mexican Nationals can be admitted to this country for farm employment, it must first be determined whether or not the wages and working conditions of domestic farm workers will be adversely affected. Mexican contract workers, according to the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, requires that the latter be paid at a rate not less than the prevailing wages which domestic workers are receiving at the same time for similar work in the same area of employment.

A special local consultant committee will be set up to assist the Texas Employment Commission in making the "range of wage" survey. Wage information received from individual farmers is strictly confidential, but if results of a survey indicate error, committee members will review all information obtained.

Carrell said that in areas containing more than one county there will be at least three persons from each county on the committee. This provides an area committee and a sub-committee for each separate county.

The wage crop committee will work closely with TEC in making the survey, inspect the finding and represent the community in the survey program, Carrell continued.

No Reserve Tickets For Monahans Game;

No advance reserve tickets will be on sale for the football game at Monahans, Oct. 2, because there will be ample tickets available at the gate.

Reserve tickets for the Jefferson High (El Paso) game to be played here October 9, will go on sale Monday through Friday of next week at the School Tax Collector's office in the courthouse, according to O. R. Douglas, superintendent of Brownfield Schools.

151 MERCHANTS CONTRIBUTE $6,500 CASH AND MERCHANDISE FOR FESTIVAL

Have you noticed the Harvest Festival prize lists that have been posted in all local stores? The lists total approximately $2,000 more than last year's, making a grand total of more than $6,500 in cash and merchandise to be given away Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Harvest festivities here in Brownfield.

One hundred and fifty-one local merchants have contributed money and merchandise toward the drawing, and the tickets that enable you to vote for the queen candidate of your choice, also give you a chance at the valuable prizes. Tickets may be secured from any Rotary Club member, sponsor of the seventh annual Harvest Festival, or from members of the local high school classes.

General chairman of festival committees is J. O. Gillham, and other chairmen of their respective

DONOVAN IS NOW SELLING PIANOS

Mr. C. M. Donovan, long time resident of our city, is starting a series of ads this week on the sale of the American Heirloom line of pianos. Mr. Donovan believes this is one of the best lines manufactured, and he wants to talk the matter over with those who contemplate buying an instrument. The Herald owners have known Mr. Donovan now about 17 years, and we believe him to be in every way reliable and dependable. And committees are: George Weiss, advertising; C. G. Griffith, queen and float; Charles Kersh, prizes; James Harley Dallas, program; Newell Reed, ticket sales; L. L. Bachtel, parade; C. L. Aven, stage; Marion Bowers, grounds; and Harmon Howze, public address system.

SCD Sub. Division 5 To Elect Supervisor

An election of a Terry County Soil Conservation District supervisor for Sub-Division 5, will be held at 8:30 a.m., Oct. 6, at the Pool School building.

Sub-division 5 includes the area north of the Brownfield, Tokio highway to the county line, and the area west from the Levelland highway to the county line.

Present supervisor is Herman Wheatley, whose 5-year term of office will be completed Oct. 6.

Any land owner in the above district is eligible to vote.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Mason are in Denver, Colo., this week, where they are guests at an insurance convention.

that piano buyers may depend on what he tells them. Note his starting this week.

$25,000 IN GAS METER REFUND CHECKS was mailed to area residents recently, from the local West Texas Gas Company, Mrs. E. D. Ballard, city, was number one on the list, having paid her deposit on June 28, 1929, a few weeks after the company was established in Brownfield. $23,000 in refunds was sent to Brownfield residents, $1,500 to Meadow, and $1,500 to Ropesville. The company formerly paid 6% yearly interest to the holder on each meter deposit which was abolished with the new practice of not requiring a deposit when a new line is created. At present the local company services approximately 2100 houses and businesses in Brownfield, and the entire group of West Texas Gas Companies held more than $1 million dollars in meter deposits—some 85,000 different deposits. Shown above looking over the piles of checks before they were mailed, is B. F. Hutson, local manager, who advises all recipients to enclose the checks exactly as they are made out, even if company names or individual names have changed. All checks are made payable to the persons or companies who made the meter deposit. (Staff Photo).

The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable established upon these principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

—Terry County Herald.

Well, we received one of those notorious cards, printed locally, about the convention of cattlemen for a "crow barbecue." Perhaps they meant Old Crow, as most of those who display the cards are not noted as being abstainers. Nor are they noted as cattlemen. Like the writer, perhaps, in times past they had a cow or two and their calves. But also like us, for the past many years they have had their dairy herd off some distance, buy their milk by the bottle or carton, and their butter is manufactured somewhere or other miles away from Brownfield. Maybe though, butter is so high, that like us they use margarine, and it's not exactly given away—nor is the milk. Now back to the card. We had already seen one, a friend showed us over at the postoffice several days ago, but the last one came via first class mail. And this leads us to remark right here that the mailies better check with the postoffice officials whether or not the material is really mailable. The least that may be said about the matter is that it approaches the vulgar, or what we used to term "blackbarding," when a boy. At least it is so suggestive that one never sees such language used even in Esquire, or such journals. But passing from this "cattlemen's convention," to real down to earth reasoning, one does not have to be a seer to understand that not only low prices, but an unprecedented drought has hurt the cattlemen—real cattlemen—who really raise cattle, and not just a stink. But a lot of these "give me boys," are using this as an "argument" as they are still disappointed that some of their handouts were taken away from them last fall. They are still mad at everybody, and some are spying out over the land for some crude rudiments of logic to show how much better we would be under what they call liberalism, better known to most people as Socialism. Liberal with other people's money, that is. If you ask us, most of the choice cuts of beef are still too high for a poor person like us to buy. We have such cuts on very rare occasions, and this goes for most of the common herd. Also those who know their right from their left foot, know that cattle began to sink way back in the Spring of 1952, before anyone knew who was going to be the nominee for President, much less who would be elected. Why? There were just too many cattle for the amount of people to eat beef, as high as it was. So, that old regulator of trade that has been with us since the world began, stepped in, better known as "Supply & Demand." But a lot of people don't let that bother them when they seek a point of argument. As we have stated on several occasions, a lot of good people with no experience in the cattle business, began raising cattle when the prices boomed. And like our egg, butter, potatoes and many other things that have been bought and stored by the government, there was just too much of the stuff to keep the prices sky high. As a consequence, every time farm and ranch products get in line with the wages of labor, labor would ask for a raise, and then the farms would ask for more parity to meet that, etc., etc. Then the manufacturers of steel would raise their prices; the manufacturers of farm implements would then have to raise their prices, and the whole thing developed into a merry-go-round. In the meantime, Congress and the powers that be at Washington, trying to care for all the belly-aches, have drifted us more and more down the road to Socialism. The kind they have over in Europe, where they depend on the taxpayers of what is usually termed a free enterprise country, the U. S. A., for a lot of handouts. Yes, sir, the downward trend in cattle really started before anyone ever thought that Ike Eisenhower would be the next President. And they sneer about people eating rabbits under the Hoover administration. Actually, we were more able to eat better than now. We had little money then, but as much as we have now, when its buying power is considered, and what we had to buy was not sky high. We believe that there are some folks in this community that blame Eisenhower for the drought, when reasonable people know that it has been gradually coming on for the past three years. But do they blame Harry for the destructive floods of the Missouri river, the quakes in California, or the storms off Florida? Not on your tinfoy. We could as logically state that Truman kept a war going in Korea to stimulate business, by giving work to many more workers, and it would be nearer the truth than to accuse anyone of droughts, floods, quakes or tropical storms. But the gnats in their eyes causes them to see the camel out in front. Let's not be either ridiculous or vulgar in carrying out the platform we stand on. Last, but not least, all the polls that have been taken here show that President Eisenhower is more popular than at any other time previous.

While many of us may at times disagree with Gov. Allan Shivers over this and that matter, none can accuse him of being a two-timer. This was demonstrated of late when he as well as many other big wigs of Texas failed to attend the big Democratic rally at $100 per plate in Chicago. So far as we know, Sam Rayburn was the only Texas Congressman to attend, and neither of the Senators. Of course it was a well known fact that Price Daniel was opposed to Stevenson last fall, because he took the same stand on many things that Truman had stood for. Two of the most abhorrent ideas to a Texan and Southerner being the "pledge" idea of the foreign born and Negro wing of the party in the East, and the tidelands issue. Such radical ideas caused the defection of some four or five of the normally Democratic states of the South. Southern Democrats of the old school have gotten very tired of that little brass collar that the party controlled by sometimes doubtful states in the North and East, dictate that the party in the South shall wear. Until such tactics as this developed, there was little need of campaigning in the South, and their best speakers were sent to the North and East to help out in the doubtful states. But when Mr. Truman, Stevenson and Jimmie Roosevelt and such, began to tell Southerners what they could or could not do, that was a calf of another color. So, with the advice of Sam Rayburn and other Southerners who attended the rally, the soft pedal was applied, and the tidelands and pledge were forgotten. The "liberal" bunch came to the knowledge that Southerners would not walk up to the licklog and the defection of any number of Southern states from the party, of Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson, spelt ruin and defeat. After all is said and done, perhaps the Democrats are just about as harmonious as the Republican party. The GOPers have a few liberals, several middle of the roaders, as well as still a smattering of the old stand-pat, isolationists bunch. But Eisenhower has tried to follow a middle of the road course, and as Senator Lyndon Johnson has explained in numerous speeches over Texas that the Texas delegation had gotten along well with the new President, and had gone along with most of his legislation they thought would be good for the nation and state. Senator Johnson is up for re-election next year, and while a supporter of Stevenson last year, he realizes many people in Texas have abandoned the brass collar, but he wants their votes, too.

The old saying of Mark Twain that everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it, still holds good. We note that ever now and then the papers report that someone has come out with the prediction it'll never rain again. That is about as illogical as for another to affirm that it will rain in the next fifteen minutes, when there is not a cloud in sight. Those of us who lived here in 1917-18 can vouch for the fact that it was everything but encouraging. However, there were not as many people here then as now, as most of the country was in ranch, and if not overgrazed, kept the livestock in pretty good condition. That was before the day that people knew anything about the government helping. So, it was root hog or die, but few died, except for natural causes, and they were under no obligation to anyone except local banks, or perhaps some of the Fort Worth and Kansas City banks that handled stock loans for cattlemen then. But when the rains came in the fall of 1918, followed by the biggest snow ever seen by white people, the week before Christmas, some 20 inches on a dead level, we were back in gear, and ready for that bumper crop of 1919. While we have received almost as much rain here in town as in 1952, there is a great difference in the results in the way of crops. With much less irrigation last year, the county was on its way of producing 53,000 bales of cotton. With perhaps twice the acreage irrigated this year, if we get 25,000 bales, we'll do well. Most have placed the yield 20,000 or even less. The main reason for the lower expectations with almost the same rainfall, is that for the past three years we have had little winter as we used to know winter, with its snows, sleets and freezing rain. The winters have been warm and devoid of moisture of most any kind. And the young feed is suffering, some of it being fearfully burned on the harder natured land. We have been noting this for the past three weeks, but farmers tell us that the deterioration has been even greater the past week. But a change will come about one of these days and we'll all be saying, Terry is a "this year country," not a "next year country." It's a long lane that never turns, even in this level country. We have seen several discouraging years in the 44 we have spent here.

A headache problem pops up now and then that must be courageously met, even if it means a sacrifice to a lot of the rest of us. One of them just now, that confronts us very vividly is the teacher pay here in Texas. There are very few if any that we know that maintain teachers are overpaid, and most will admit that their pay is far shy of what they are worth in the school rooms of the state. Admittedly, all of us dread more taxes, but there might be an outside chance that some other expenses might be cut, and with some additional taxes from all of us, the pay of our teachers might be hiked to where they would not quit the school rooms to go into employment by private concerns. Presently, Texas is far short of a full quota of teachers to handle the vast and fast increase in scholastics. And we might add that the taxpayers are fast learning in most sections that it is a job for all of us to keep ahead of the fast birth rate, with sufficient school buildings to meet the needs. But we must provide school rooms and we must provide school instructors to handle them, or we may as well forget about public schools and revert to the pioneering age of one-room school houses and three months of school during the heat of the summer months. A lot of us have a hard time paying our school and other taxes, to say the least, yet all of us recognize the fact that we must progress or decay. There is no middle or neutral ground to stand on. It is either forward or backward. Most of us realize the fact that next to our churches, our schools come second. That is how civilization has spread from the older European countries, to our Atlantic seaboard, and finally into the wilderness of our nation, now known as the middle-west and southwest. We do hope that the committee appointed by Gov. Shivers will find some way to pay the teachers more money for the great work they are doing. The only trouble we foresee is that there are just too many on the committee. Generally speaking, the smaller the committee, the faster they work, reach an agreement, and report results. As we understand it, there are some 25 on this committee, and there has already arose some disagreements. In the legislature and congress, committees to review proposed legislation are always rather small. We hope, however, that even though the committee is rather bungle-some, it will reach some kind of accord that will mean more pay for deserving state employees.

To say the least, some legislation is coming up in the next congress that may get some place, or it may be left just as is. This is the very controversial Taft-Hartley labor laws. There was once a time in our nation when the employers had the laboring man by the back and a downhill pull. But as the saying of the old darkey goes, "I went up one row thinking and thinking, and came back down the other row thinking and thinking." So, the laboring man got to thinking and thinking, and out of this came the unions, and the more satisfactory arrangement where he had regular hours, days and pay. As a consequence, the laboring man or woman is in a much better status today than in former years, when in some instances, they were perhaps nearer slaves than employees. But the rub comes when we know that labor leaders are not going to be satisfied with amendments to the T-H laws, but rather are going to demand outright repeal. On the other hand, industry does not want too many amendments, and in some instances a tightening up of some of the law. Outright repeal, never. This puts the lawmaking body of the several states in congress on the hot spot. In many districts in the North and East, the lawmaker will have to appease both labor and industry, if possible. In the more or less agricultural regions, the people as a whole are not too much interested either way. Many of rural areas believe that many of the laboring men are paid so much that it puts them on the spot when they go to buy anything made in factories. It appears that some members of Congress are for some amendments. Even Sen. Taft, before his death admitted there should be some amendments. However, we just can't believe that President Eisenhower had much to do with Congress failing to act one way or another during the last session. Ike, like a lot of the rest of us, knows little about labor relations. He has always been an overseer, not an employer. Uncle Sam put the men under his charge, and he was just the boss of the men in the army under his charge. He has to look to others to work out this matter. He can't help what Congress will or will not do. He is just the executive; they are the legislative department.

The use of good feeds plus sound feeding practices for maintenance along with needed supplements during these critical periods will result in the greatest returns for livestock producers. Tractor equipment is reported to save farmers an estimated two billion man hours a year. Between 1940-52 farmers bought $22.2 billion worth of machinery. The most favorable conditions since 1949 exist over much of Texas for seeding fall grain and legume crops and the need has seldom been greater for crops which will produce abundant winter grazing and at the same time improve the soil.

Found The Old Virginia City Paper A Bit Odd

Found the old Territorial Enterprise and Virginia City News, loaned us last week by Arthur Sawyer, rather queer, as compared to Texas weeklies. But the ideas of the Nevadans and Texans of the present are rather varied. On the mast head of the old Enterprise was a picture of the publishers, Dan De Quille and Mark Twain. The latter's real name was Samuel Clemens, but as his many books were written under the name of Mark Twain, a lot of people perhaps never heard of his real name. The paper was established in 1858. De Quille sported a full facial display of beard and mustache, while Twain sported only a mustache. But in going over the old paper, we ran into quite some quirks, according to Texas journalism. If they have any public school, we saw no mention of them. But in an old pencil drawn map of the region, showed the location of three churches, one well back in the mountains. No ministers or pastors, or time and place of services was mentioned. There were two small ads of funeral homes, and in one place the paper stated they had some seven cemeteries, and we imagine a lot of the deceased in them were buried with their boots on. And there was an itch ad. People seem to itch everywhere. From reading the old paper, however, it seems the people in that area are possessed of an idea to have a good time today, and put off the cares of this world until tomorrow or

Water's Fine But Be Careful

Chicago.—The water's fine—but be careful!

Approximately 6,800 persons were drowned last year, according to the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, which is just off the press.

About half of these deaths occurred while the victims were swimming or playing in the water. The others were nonswimming fatalities. These included persons falling into water, home accidents involving very young or very old persons, and water transport acci-

The recent discovery that X-disease in cattle can be caused by lubricant makes it important that cattle be kept away from grease racks, machinery sheds and oil drums. Cold weather causes cattle to come closer to the farm buildings and caution against this danger is advisable. Chlorinated naphthalene compounds are known to be a causative agent of X-disease, which has made inroads on the cattle population in many of the states.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I took a physical examination for insurance purposes, and I was rated as totally and permanently disabled. Will VA accept this rating, if I apply for a pension?

A. No. Your insurance rating has no effect on your rating for a pension. You must meet the specific requirements set up for eligibility for a pension.

Q. I receive VA compensation payments for a 10 per cent service-connected disability. I expect to be recalled to active military duty. Will my disability pay go on while I'm in uniform?

A. No. Compensation which you have been receiving because of your service-connected disability may not be paid while you're in receipt of active service pay.

Q. I notice that under the Korean GI Bill veterans may not take courses in dancing. I'm planning to study physical education in college, and one of the courses I'm supposed to take is in dancing. Will I have to skip this course?

A. No. You will be permitted to take it, under the Korean GI Bill. The restriction on dancing courses does not apply when they are part of a program of physical education at the college level, leading to an educational objective.

Q. I am a widow of a World War II veteran, and I am receiving National Service Life Insurance payments. Are those payments taxable?

A. No. National Service Life Insurance payments are exempt from taxation. But you will be required to pay taxes on any property that you might buy with those payments.

CUBS UPSET LITTLEFIELD ON HOME GROUND 20-12

BETWEEN CLASSES AND 'ROUND TOWN

with Jane Griggs

We won, we won, we won, by golly, we won! All last year we sang that going home from the football games, and we've started yelling it again. Keep your fingers crossed and maybe we'll be district champs again this year. Last Friday night, we played the Littlefield Wildcats and beat 'em 20-12 (that's just in case you haven't heard the news yet). Next week we go wa-a-ay down in the Permian Basin to Monahans.

Have I told you yet about the candidates for FFA Sweethearts? They're Gloria Angus and Betty Cabbiness. Either one is just plenty liable to win here and then go on to State.

Dates after the game last Friday were: Charlotte Green and Delbert Bradley, of course, 'cause they're going steady; Linda Moore and Skeet Whitley, Sandra Collier and Ken Murphy, Wayne Eden and Karen White, Mary Ann Holmes and Kenneth Eden, Barbara Chesshir and Dale Johnson, Kay Kessinger and Ted Hardy, Patsy Teague and Robert Butler (by the way, they're going steady now), Beverly Bryant and Robert McIntyre, Betty Criswell and James Meeks, Dona Hinson and Richard Baggett, Betty Cabbiness and Bill Thomason, and Rudene Rich and Sam Kendrick.

How much a "fish" can take, was demonstrated when Eddie McKay broke his arm the other day. He was swinging on a wire out at the football field last Friday during band practice and some of the boys

MR. STELL ATTENDS BROTHER'S FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stell, of Brownfield, returned last week from Winters, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Stell's brother, J. T. Stell, 55, who was a variety store owner in Winters and a long time resident of Stamford.

Funeral services were conducted Sept. 22, in the First Baptist Church at Winters and interment was in the Stamford Memorial Cemetery, where Masonic graveside rites were conducted.

Greenland Chapter Of FFA Elects Officers

Brownfield chapter of the Future Farmers of America elected officers for the Greenland chapter at a meeting held Friday morning, with Lester Buford, advisor, presiding.

Officers elected are Dixon Latham, president; Leon Willis, vice president; Lesley Britton, secretary; Buddy Campbell, treasurer; Earnest Hyman, sentinel, and Johnnie O'Neal, reporter.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Patients in the local hospital during the past week were:

Medical: F. B. Corneise, Dedell Johnson, Mrs. D. V. Johnson, Mrs. Paul Willeford, L. R. Drewery, Milton Simmons, Mrs. Virgil A. Bynum, Mrs. Billy Blankenship, Mrs. Jack Aldrup, and Mrs. Lewis Powell.

Surgical: Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, Mrs. Thurmon King, Mrs. Lon Kerrick, Mrs. Ted Hardy, Howard Wayne Jones, Horace Fox.

Accident: Mrs. Ocie Murray, Jim Gammill, Eddie McKay, and John R. Ziammerman.

He was swinging him back and forth. I don't know just exactly how, but he fell off and fractured his arm. We lined up to practice the football show and he was walking around kind of funny. He said something to somebody in the front rank, they called Mr. Smith, director of the band, and he sat up in the bleachers. Finally his arm got to hurting so much that he went to the hospital, but that just goes to show you how very much a little bitty Freshman has. A character we're going to be missing around BHS from now on is Billy Bearden. He's moving to Snyder. He talked so much it's gonna seem 'kinda' quiet up here from now on. Bye for now.

Future Homemakers Initiated At Wellman

The Wellman Future Homemaking freshmen were formally initiated recently with Dessie Oliver, president, in charge. The ceremony was held in the Homemaking lab.

Freshmen initiated were Sabra Welcher, Freda Oliver, Dianna Graham, Barbara Smith, La Verna Dickens, and Ann Thornton.

The formal initiation followed a week of informal initiation. Red roses centered the serving table and nine lighted candles formed a semi-circle around the gavel.

Eight guides, representing eight purposes, escorted the freshmen. Acting as guides were Lea Burnett, Myrna Lindsey, Gloria Ingram, Beverly Rogers, Carletta Bullock, Gail Berry, Peggy Dean, and Bobbie Weaver.

Guests attending the initiation were Mrs. Willia Mae Oliver, Mrs. J. L. Lyon, and Mr. Ted Lanham.

After completion of the ceremony, a short business meeting was held and the girls discussed the possibility of operating the football concession stand another year. Mary Alice Moore is chairman of the concession committee.

Grape punch was served at the close of the meeting.

Last Friday night, Sept. 25, the Cubs journeyed 59 miles to engage the Littlefield Wildcats in what proved to be one of the best football tilts of the weekend. Statistics in no way show what the spectators saw.

The Cubs kicked off at 8 p.m. to the Cats, who were defending the north goal, and the ball was returned to Wildcat's 30-yard line by Myers. On the third down, Littlefield fumbled and the Cubs took over on the Cat's 38. Brownfield moved down to the 20 where they ran out of downs and again the ball changed over. It turned into a see-saw affair until 2 minutes before the first quarter ended, when Bill Thomason took the ball on a hand-off from quarterback Jerry Don Brown and went over his right tackle 65 yards to pay dirt. The try for extra point failed and at the end of the first quarter the score was 6-0 for the Cubs.

The second quarter stayed pretty quiet until Dan Howard, quarterback for Littlefield, passed 24 yards to Keith Davis, left end, who then raced 40 yards for the Cat's first tally. Attempt for the conversion proved fatal and the score stood 6-6.

Littlefield's kick-off was taken by Richard Baggett, who returned it to the Cub's 35. From there they drove to the Cat's 2-yard line. Here the Cubs lost the ball and one of their best chances for scoring of the night. Littlefield took over and 9 plays later they were on Brownfield's 9-yard line, where they received a 15-yard penalty for clipping. They moved back to the 3 where the whistle blew and the first half was over.

Littlefield kicked off to start the second half and it was taken by Jerry Brown, who was stopped on the Cub's 25. For three downs the Cubs were stopped and Jack Stricklin, end, was called upon to punt. The Cats took the ball on their 39 and moved to Brownfield's 13, when Howard hit Myers with a pass for the score. Try for the extra point was no good and for the first time of the night Littlefield was out in front, 12-6.

On the kick-off, the ball was returned to the 30 by Thomason, and two plays later they were on the 35. Brown then handed off to fullback Joe Foshee, who scampered 60 yards for the TD. He was very well assisted by Grady Ammons, left guard, Jimmy Odom, left tackle, and Jack Stricklin, left end. Brown plunged for the extra point, which was successful and Brownfield led 13-12.

In the fourth quarter the Cubs recovered a fumble by the Cats on Littlefield's 47. From there they drove to the 3, and Foshee takes the spotlight again as he drove across for the last touchdown of the night. Thomason did the honors for the extra point as he went over his right tackle into the end zone for the conversion. This was the last chance either team had for a try for scoring. Neither got inside their opponents 30-yard line and the ball died on the Cub's 22 with Brownfield in possession. The final score, 20 to 12 with the Brownfield Cubs on top.

LOCAL LIBRARY READY FOR BOOK SHIPMENT

Preparation is being made at the library located in the courthouse, for the new fall books scheduled to arrive next week.

Librarian, Miss Olga Fitzgerald, said that the library floor has been repainted and all shelves re-varnished in preparation for the current issues that will be received. She also reported that the library, sponsored by the Maids and Matrons Club, and Terry County, has received a number of book donations this week.

BROWNFIELD HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL STAFF includes Betty DeBose, editor, pictured above, at left, and Martha Chisholm, assistant editor, at right. The girls realize that last year's annual will be hard to measure up to because the book received many favorable comments from school administration cover, end sheets, decorative scheme of thomplimented last year's staff on their original and modern cover, end sheets, decorative scheme of the senior division and the picture arrangements of the class groups. Last year's red cover was very pleasing, and the annual staff hopes to have an as equally pleasing white cover this year. The two girls are shown above as they reminisced over last year's activities, cleverly recorded in the annual by means of a school calendar that consisted of hand drawings portraying activities of the school year. This season's sponsor is Mrs. Sammie Miller, and others on the annual staff include Sammy Key, senior class editor; Toni Akers, junior class editor; Kenneth Murphy, sophomore class editor; Donna Sue Christopher, freshman class editor; Richard Baggett, sports editor; Sue Salmen, Judy Land, and Mary Ann Holmes, book sales; Billy Thomason, Robert Butler, Sandra Casstevens, Patsy Teague, and Ken Muldrow, advertising sales; and Barbara Eaves and Kaye Kissinger, artists. WEST TEXAS MOTORS

AMONG TERRY'S FINER MODERN HOMES is one owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Havern, which is located one mile east of the city limits. The light colored brick house with white ground marble roof, contains six rooms, two baths and one bath in the basement. At the east side of the house is a car port which gives that side of the structure a breezy-way appearance. The couple have 70 acres of irrigated cotton, using a well and sprinkler system, the Ames line and Skinkers sprinklers. Mr. and Mrs. Havern also have 50 acres of maize in irrigation, 25 to 30 in alfalfa, and they plan to sow 15 acres in wheat when they cut their feed. The couple formerly farmed close to Weiner, Texas, before moving to Brownfield in 1949, where they had been in the dry cleaning business before moving to their present location. One of the outstanding features of their home is their heating and cooling system in every room. (Staff Photo).

TERRY GET 4 NEW LOCATIONS; 1 WELL

Terry County got one new well last week, being the Kay Kembell, 2-A S. T. Murphy. The location is given as section 22, block K. The well pumped 193 barrels of 29 gravity oil on test. Total depth 6,875 feet. In the same field, the Prentice, a well was finished in the Yoakum County section of the field as an 187 barrel well, and about the same depth.

Three of the new locations were in the Prentice field, and the other in the Wellman field. In the Prentice was the Great Western No. 4, Brit Clare, to be carried to 6,100 feet with rotary rig, at once. Location, section 22, block D-14.

Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., No. 4 Ella Covington, on section 21, block D-14, to a depth of 6,000 feet with rotary rig, at once.

Honolulu Oil Corp., 4 Ella Covington, section 21, block D-14. Carried to 6,100 feet at once.

In the Wellman field, Stanolind Oil Co., No. 3 Myrtle M. Edwards, section 21, block C-36. As this is in the reef area, the well is contracted to 10,500 feet, at once.

Yoakum County got a couple of new locations, one 4 miles northwest of Plains, to 5,500 feet, at once. The other is a wildcat on the A. M. Brownfield land, by British-

WE GOT A MESS OF COLORADO TROUT

Last Wednesday night, at about the knockoff time for an hour's rest at the Herald office, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holden, of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts, of Big Spring, came in. After a bit of persuasion, they remained until after supper, with a bit of rest and refreshments, before proceeding on to Big Spring.

By the way, Roy brought the Stricklins a mess of those good old mountain trout, right fresh out of the water, the first we had ever eaten. They were well iced down, and we put them into the freezing compartment of the refrigerator until we had time to cook them.

They were sure larrupping, Roy, and many thanks for the treat.

But as that is a new field, the drillers seem to want to examine minutely every inch of the way down to the some 12,000 feet in that area.

SCD TOUR COVERS 70 MILES; 130 MEN AND BOYS ATTEND

The 70-mile annual Terry County Soil Conservation tour, sponsored by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce and the Terry County Soil Conservation District, held last week, was highly successful with more than 130 farmers, businessmen, FFA students, and agricultural officials attending the all-day program.

The purpose of the tour was to acquaint farmers and businessmen with improved agricultural practices being used by outstanding farmers in the county.

Farms visited were ones owned by R. B. Beavers, N. R. Butcher, Noah Lemley, Addison McWhorter, F. H. Sharp, Hub King, V. H. Wheatley, C. D. Parker, R. J. Purcell, and the experiment station.

At noon, the Needmore Home Demonstration club served lunch to the group at the Hub King farm. Introduction of special guests and an informal program was held at King's farm. Highlights of the program were talks by three South Americans accompanying the tour. They were Mr. and Mrs. Vincio Valdivia of Chile, and Enrique Sanchez of Bolivia. They are in Lubbock as a part of a two-month tour of the United States observing improved agricultural practices. Leo Holmes, vice president of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., and Hobert Lewis, president of First National Bank of Brownfield, were speakers on the program.

At the last stop of the day, the Purcell farm, Grady Elder, president of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, and principal instigator of the tour, conducted a question-and-answer period for the solution of any problems which might have arisen in the minds of participants during the tour.

Participating in the tour were: Brownfield: Bob Land, Looe Miller, Frank Barret, Jo W. Christian, Carl Elliot, Mack Ross, Val Garner, Delton Tatum, Dallas Dennison, Dick Perrin, M. R. Paddock, John Hill, J. O. Farrar, Leo Holmes, H. L. King, Perry Bryant, Tom Cornett, C. F. McNeil, Kenneth Watkins, J. T. Hoy, Olen Evans, Nathan Evans, Red Newton, J. A. Cornett, G. I. Sims, W. T. Burnett, Paul Blackstock, Hobart Lewis, Dennis Lilly, Charles Kerson, J. C. Chambers, M. C. Chambers, Williamson, Foy and Elder.

Lamesa: Homer Simpson, W. E. Sorns, Lee Roy Colgan, Clemon Montgomery, Charles Lusk, and Tim Cook.

Lubbock: T. J. Watkins, Elmer Edwards and A. B. Slagle. Meadow: S. W. White, Don Day, Carlton White, Homer Causseau, D. C. Flowers, J. F. Fulford, and A. C. Stephenson.

Plains: Kenneth Blount, G. T. Blount, Wallace Randolph, Phil Chandler, Don Hinkle, and Bill Fitzgerald.

Morton: George Williams and Hadley Kern.

Wellman: C. H. Heafner. Brownfield FFA members attending were Charles Wilks, Bill Bearden, Earl Brown, John Burnett, Maurice Sexton, and chapter advisor, Lestor Buford.

Recent visitors in the G. G. Gore home were a nephew of Mr. Gore's, L. T. Gore and Mrs. Gore, of Houston; and a brother of Mrs. Gore's, W. B. Tarwater, of Amarillo; and her three sisters, Mrs. Bartha Gore, Mrs. Tom Cope and Mr. Cope, of Estellene, and Mrs. O. L. Agee, of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thurman visited their son, William Thurman, of Edmonson, Texas, over the week end.

DREAMS OF GOING ABROAD COME TRUE FOR ROY WINGERT FAMILY

By Mrs. Roy Wingert

Bulbs And Flowers Are Chief Products of Holland; Tourists See World's Flower Show In All It's Glory

The best known industry of Holland is the growing of bulbs, and our arrival in mid-April gave us a chance to see the country ablaze with millions of hyacinths, daffodils, and tulips. The fields looked like giant ribbons of color laid in bands across a green carpet. Wayside stands sold the daffodils, made up into giant leis for our cars, or our necks; for the price of one quider, or roughly, 25c in our money.

On one unforgettable day, we went out to the Flora, a flower show held only once every ten years, but drawing tourists from all over the world, and with very good reason.

In one bed, we found 20,000 hyacinths, planted in huge diamonds of color and bordered entirely with the same flowers in white; and no more heavenly scent or sight do I ever hope to see, this side of the nearby gates.

I could not even imagine so many varieties and types of tulips as were shown to us, so I just reveled in the beauty and colors, and left the business of cataloging them to the garden club members in our party, who had, at last found just what they had come to Europe to see.

Of course, we had made Amsterdam our headquarters but we drove into the country to see this show, and also the Keukenhof gardens which were landscaped beautifully, and a glory of color with the spring bulbs planted under the trees, and along the banks of the streams and lakes of the old estate. We could easily have spent an entire day here.

On our way back to the city, we stopped to see The Hague, where Holland carries on her governmental affairs, and the Peace Palace, which we, as Americans, found interesting. It was given to the world court by Andrew Carnegie, and is still used by that body; perhaps the last vestige of the late lamented League of Nations.

Amsterdam is a quaint old city, often called, the Venice of the North, because of its many rivers and canals. Our hotel, The Amstel, was an old one, but very good; and it looked out on the river Amstel. This stream runs through the heart of the city, and it is filled with small bathhouses, clean and painted but very modest. I was told that these were a concession to veterans who could find no other homes after the occupation.

The housing situation, here as everywhere else in Europe, is severe. War damage, the growth of population, the dearth of building operations during hostilities; all have contributed to the shortage. Holland suffered greatly under the German occupation. On one square in the center of Amsterdam, the Dutch flag flies always at half mast; a memorial to the more than three thousand members of the Dutch underground who were shot by the Germans.

contributed his best to the cause of freedom.

What the automobile is to America, the bicycle is to the Netherlands. I will never forget the sight that met our eyes on the first morning after our arrival when we peered from our windows at the traffic. There were literally thousands of bicycles in the streets, and swarming across the river bridges. Bicyclists have the right of way in the height of traffic, or on ferries; and still we occasionally glimpsed a policeman handing out a traffic ticket to a disappointed, and meek cyclist.

All main Dutch highways have a small road about two feet in width paralleling them. This is, theoretically, the road for the bicycle riders, but in practice, they usually take over the main highway, riding three or four abreast, and contributing to the madness of motorists, and passengers alike.

Amsterdam is the world center of the diamond trade, and one of our most interesting visits was to a diamond factory where the precious stones are cut and polished. Also, we enjoyed very much our conversation with the owner, a man as polished as his own gems, who spoke English as well as we did ourselves.

Another most interesting trip made by car was that to the little island of Volendam, where the natives all wear the old costumes; the men the wooden shoes, and black, baggy britches with big buttons; and of course, the traditional pipe in mouth; the women with dark long dress and striped apron, with pointed cap which is black for everyday, but a beautiful thing of white starched lace when the Dutch hausfrau fares forth to church on Sundays. The children, of course, are miniature copies of their elders.

Roy and Marion had their pictures taken in a quaint little photography shop, and found that they looked very much like their Dutch ancestors in the quaint old costumes.

A visit to a typical Holland farm home where the making of cheeses was the principal industry, was also of great interest to us. Of course the barn where the cattle were kept, the living quarters of the family, and the dairy room where the round yellow cheeses were made; all were under one roof;

Last Rites Held Here For Retired Farmer

T. H. Franklin, 88, retired farmer, and resident of Brownfield for the past eight years, died in the local hospital about 6 a.m., Saturday. He had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. C. D. Wise, northwest of Brownfield, having moved here from Paducah.

Mr. Franklin had been a patient in the local hospital for six months. Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m., Sunday, at the Methodist Church in Brownfield, with Rev. Dallas Denison officiating. Brownfield Funeral Home directed burial in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include one son, E. M. Franklin, of Levelland; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Willis, Mrs. C. D. Wise, both of Brownfield, and Mrs. R. C. Payne, of Houston, and eight grandchildren.

and, for good measure that roof was high, and hay for the cattle was stored in the attic.

This arrangement may not sound very sanitary, but the Dutchman, with his passion for cleanliness, had contrived to make even the stables immaculate. They were whitewashed, and swept to perfection. The farmer and his helper were busily washing down the big white cattle, which were patiently standing in their individual stalls; a concrete trough of running water carried off all waste, and just to be sure that no careless cow would sully her tail; each one was carefully tied up to a wire that ran overhead.

Hawaiian Islands, Canada, California— A Few Vacation Spots Faculty Enjoy

Third and Last in the Series

As September hobbled out of the yearly cycle and October entered the '53 brigade, students and faculty members at the local schools sensed the set routine and schedule adaptation taking over that is so characteristic at the end of the first month of school.

Students find that they can no longer divert teachers' minds from the lesson topic, to trivial questions, such as, how blue was the sky at a California beach—or how many times did it rain in the ocean—or, perhaps, are the mountains in New Mexico as high as the ones in the Hawaiian Islands? If every question that was asked a teacher during one school year, were printed, this generation would most likely have to move to Mars, to make room for the volumes.

The following is the last of the inside information concerning Brownfield teacher's summer vacation trips, and details about their families.

Mrs. Cordia Mae Cates, second grade teacher, spent the summer at home with her husband, P. R., and their daughter, Carole. Mrs. Cates received a BS degree from Texas Tech in 1940, majoring in primary education and minoring in history. Her hobby is cooking.

Mrs. A. G. Greer, second grade teacher, spent the summer at home with her husband, Toby, and their sons, Chris, 11, and Nicky, 15. Mrs. Greer graduated from Tech in 1952 with a BS degree, majoring in elementary education and minoring in English. Her hobbies are cooking and keeping house.

Mrs. Stephen W. Miller, second grade teacher, and her husband, Stephen, spent the summer at home. They have two daughters, Reba, and Marilyn. Mrs. Miller received her AB degree from Howard Payne where she majored in education and minored in Bible.

Mrs. Hazel Chisholm, second grade, spent the summer in Brownfield with her husband, Joe, and children, Marjorie, 10, and Johnny, 12. The Chisholms have three other children not at home, Larry, Josie and Derwood. Mrs. Chisholm received a BS degree from Abilene Christian College, where she majored in home economics and minored in education.

Mrs. James H. Dallas, second grade teacher, and her husband, James Harley, and daughter, Carole, 16, visited in San Antonio and spent the rest of their vacation time in Brownfield. Mrs. Dallas received her BA degree from Tech where she majored in history and minored in education.

Mrs. Mozelle Fitzgerald, second grade, attended a six-day reading conference in Canyon, and spent the rest of the summer in Brownfield with her husband, Will. Mrs. Fitzgerald graduated from Texas Tech with a BS degree, majoring in food and nutrition and minoring in science and education.

Mrs. Norene Hudspeth, after teaching 16 years in the first grade, will teach second grade this year. Mrs. Hudspeth and her husband, C. A. Hudspeth, who died in 1949, moved to Brownfield from Altus, Okla., in 1945. They have one son, George A. Hudspeth, who farms in the Pleasant Valley community, and two grandchildren. Mrs. Hudspeth received a BA degree from Tech College at Weatherford, Okla., where she majored in elementary education.

Vernon Brewer, Randal school principal, spent the summer in Brownfield with his wife, Frances, and son, Vernon, Jr. Mr. Brewer has a masters in education degree from Texas Tech, where he majored in administrative education and minored in history. He and his family moved to Brownfield from Tahoka.

Mrs. Jewel Bryant, first grade teacher, and her husband, Harold, and children, Robert, 19, and Beverly, 16, visited in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Arkansas during the summer. Mrs. Bryant's hobby is music and she majored in education and minored in science while in college. She and her family moved here from Artesia, New Mexico.

Mrs. Wanda L. Barnes, first grade teacher, and her husband, Ennos, and children, Jim, 9, and Jimmy, 6, spent some of their vacation time at Mt. View Ranch at Cowles, N. M., this summer. Mrs. Barnes received a BS degree in 1937 from Southwest Teachers' College in Weatherford, Okla., majoring in elementary education and minoring in English. She and her family moved here from Vernon, Texas.

Miss Edith Creighton, first grade teacher, attended North Texas State College at Denton, having a BS degree and majoring in education and minoring in social science.

Miss Creola Moore, first grade teacher, and a "native" of Brownfield, spent the summer here. Miss Moore has a BS and ME degree from Texas Tech, with a major in elementary education and a minor in English.

Mrs. Bernice M. Peace, first grade teacher, and her husband, H. W. (Ike), and son, H. W., II, visited Araraho, Okla., during their vacation months. The Peace's moved here from Hollis, Okla., and Mrs. Peace received a BS degree in 1949 from Southwestern in Oklahoma, and a masters in education in 1952 from Oklahoma University, majoring in elementary education and minoring in history.

Mrs. Thelma Taylor, first grade teacher, and her husband, Clyde, and daughter, Sandra, 9, visited in and around Colorado Springs this summer. Mrs. Taylor received her BS degree in 1943 from Howard Payne College, majoring in elementary education and minoring in history and English. The Taylors moved to Brownfield from San Saba, Texas, and leathercraft is one of Mrs. Taylor's hobbies.

Mrs. Joyce Rambo, first grade teacher, and her husband, James, visited in Simmons, Texas, this summer. Mrs. Rambo received a BS degree in 1951 from Southwest State Teachers College at San Marcus, majoring in elementary education and minoring in English. Avenol King, first grade teacher, spent the summer in Plainview, and has as her hobby, sewing and music. Miss King is a graduate of Wayland College, receiving a BA degree in 1953 with a major in English and education.

Miss Atha Lynne Mitchell, first grade teacher, and her husband, HADACOL FOR SUPERINTENDENT — Three civic clubs, Lions, Rotary, and Kiwanis, were hosts last Thursday night to Brownfield faculty and school administration at an annual welcome banquet held at the Jesse G. Randal school cafeteria. Scheduled featured speaker of the evening, Hon. Gorge Mahon, was unable to attend, due to his wife's illness. However, the evening was spent in "high style," with James Harley Dallas as master of ceremonies. Several contests were held using members of the audience as participants, and a drawing was held in which teachers were presented "unusual" tokens. A steak supper was served and the program closed with "The Lord's Prayer," sung by John Hensard. Pictured above, left to right, are James Harley Davis, presenting the "gift" to Supt. O. R. Douglas, with J. C. Powell enviously looking on. (Staff Photo).

SOMETHING TO DEMAND

Must the national debt limit be raised? Every man, woman, and child in the nation has a very real stake in the answer to this question. The legal limit now is $275,000,000,000. It is expected to be reached early in 1954. Then the national debt will be imposing a $7,000 mortgage on the present and future income of every American family. There is a way out of the financial mess our government's in without plunging ourselves further and further in debt. It can be stated simply: cut federal spending to equal federal income.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, one of the nation's acknowledged authorities on the federal budget, puts it this way: "It may be that the administration would be forced to operate on a very prudent and conservative budget in order to avoid an increase in the debt limit, but the President has the authority, if he chooses to use it, to place every agency of the government on expenditure rations and limit the expenditures in such manner as he deems best."

Good Example

Governor Francis Cherry of Arkansas, when he took office last January, insisted that the legislature give him power to cut state expenditures below the legislative appropriations if tax income should fall below the budget allotments. Sixty days later the income from taxes did fall below the rate necessary to support the appropriations.

The Governor had a choice to make. He had a substantial treasury balance. He could take the politically "easy road" and dip into this treasury balance to make up the difference between income and outgo. But that, he knew, wouldn't be sound government practice. It would be like borrowing money for spending. He chose, instead, to cut expenditures. His instruction to his Director of Finance and Administration wasn't the loose political generality—"cut to the bone." His instructions were specific: "Cut expenditures to within the tax revenue available to every department."

Better Government

The Director of Finance and His Budget Director sat down with each department head, one by one, and cut the expenditure allotments to an overall figure equal to anticipated revenue. Each three months this will be done. And as a result Arkansas citizens get higher quality, more efficient, less costly government service, for Governor Cherry has challenged the department heads to "make up in management efficiency and ingenuity, for the reduction in dollars and cents."

What Governor Cherry is doing for state government in Arkansas can be done for federal government by the present administration. It is the sensible, sound policy to follow in any financial matters. Senator Byrd says, "We all know there are thousands of ways to reduce government spending that can be accomplished by executive order without impairing benefits as measured by real value. I regard a $275,000,000,000 debt as a menace that not only will harass those of us of this generation but many generations of Americans to follow us."

Stability At Stake

Dr. Melchior Palyi, internationally known economist, explains the "menace." He emphasizes that increasing the national debt weakens the dollar in international exchanges and weakens the strength of our nation in international affairs. He cites, also, current examples of European nations whose internal stability has been perhaps critically injured by money policies creating constant inflation. The French franc has been constantly watered down in purchasing power by loose government policies, and the stability of France as a nation has been woefully shattered.

The new administration in Washington did some substantial budget cutting, and Congress went even a little farther. Both were following the clearcut mandate of the electorate for a balanced budget, reduced expenditures and reduced taxes. But neither went far enough. They have not achieved a full step toward sound government until they bring government spending within its income. The American public must now renew its demand that this be done.

The Ches Gores and Leonard Langs have returned from a weeks vacation at Mountain Home, Ark.

THE FINE CAR

at half the fine car price

Duplicating America's costliest cars, feature after feature, Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

A FEW MINUTES on the telephone calling the dealers who sell America's finest cars will reveal there are at least eleven models among four makes with price tags over $4,000!

Now the interesting thing is that in feature after feature the Ford car duplicates each of these fine cars, and for less than half the fine car price!

Look under the hood of the most expensive cars and what do you find?

A V-8 Engine!

Well, the Ford car has a V-8, too. In fact, it has had a V-8 since 1932, and since that time Ford has built more V-8's—by millions—than all other manufacturers combined. And there's no other builder in Ford's price range that's seen fit to offer one yet!

But the engine, as fine as it is, is only one of many things that make a fine car fine.

Automatic shifting, for example. All the fine cars offer it in one form or another because it's one of the things that make a fine car fine. But if you've never driven a Ford with Fordomatic you've missed one of the finer things of life. This amazing transmission not only does away with clutching and shifting forever—it gives you exactly the amount of power you want, when you want it—automatically.

Fine car power steering, too. The big, heavy costly cars offer it for the same reason they offer power brakes. It's a man-sized job for a 120 pound woman to handle a car weighing two tons or more without it—especially when parking. Our "Master-Guide" has two distinct benefits.

First, it gives a hydraulic power assist right down at the wheels and just enough to take out the work. You don't relinquish one particle of control—rather your control is more complete and far easier.

Second, being hydraulic, "Master-Guide" power steering absorbs those fatiguing steering wheel tremors caused by ruts and roads in bad repair. And you don't pay a fine car price for "Master-Guide."

But there is another fine car feature—the Ford ride. Books have been written on the subject of riding quality in an automobile, but the payoff comes on the pavement—or lack of it! Many people associate a comfortable ride with excess weight, but it's not weight alone that makes for comfort. If it were, those big five-ton trucks which you see every day would be the most comfortable vehicles on the road.

Without being technical we can tell you that what's been done with the suspension and springing system gives the Ford a softer ride, a smoother ride than many cars which tip the scales at better than an added half ton.

What about room? Here's an interesting point. If you've felt that only a costly car offered enough room, you just ought to sit down in a Ford even if you're out-size and six feet four! The so-called big car is bigger on the outside, but unless you buy a limousine with those little jump seats, it's not one passenger bigger inside.

Visibility is another fine car Ford feature. We say Ford cars offer "full-circle" visibility because they all have huge, curved one-piece windshields and a huge rear window to match . . . plus side windows that mean every passenger gets room with a view!

How beautiful is a Ford? A great English poet, John Keats, once wrote "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty"—well, he could have been writing about our car for its beauty comes from honest, clean lines in every dimension. In fact, we think most people agree—even our competitors —that the appearance of a Ford Car leaves very little to be desired. It is "at home" wherever it goes and it goes everywhere.

But what about Ford quality? Does it too match the fine car? Is the sheet metal of the body panels as thick? Is the finish as good? How about the trim and things like that? Well, as far as we can determine, the sheet metal is identical in thickness in practically all instances. As to finish—we believe Ford's baked-on enamel has no equal in any car. Ford upholstery fabrics and trim are less costly, but they're less delicate, too, and if anything, more durable.

How then is it possible to give you this fine car at half the fine car price?

Part of the answer lies in Ford manufacturing skills and knowledge as evidenced by the V-8 engine. Part of it comes from the ever increasing numbers of cars Ford produces and the economies they make possible. And, part of it comes from Ford's willingness to give greater values than might be expected in cars selling in Ford's price range. And that's the Ford idea.

Worth more when you sell it!

Delayed Report On Baptist Association

The Brownfield Association of the Texas Baptist Convention met with the First Baptist Church of Brownfield on Thursday, Sept. 17, for their annual meeting. Messengers from the churches in the association met to hear the reports of the work of the association for the past year and to elect officers for the new year. The following officers were elected:

Moderator, Jones W. Weathers, First Baptist, Brownfield; vice moderator, T. L. Nipp, Rt. 4, Brownfield; clerk, T. V. George, Calvary, Brownfield; program chairman, Harvey Scott, Meadow, Rt. 1, Meadow; brotherhood, Dub Fulford; Sunday School superintendent, Lee Ramsour, First Baptist, Tahoka; Training Union director, Otis Holliday, O'Donnell, music, Ed Rogers, First Baptist, Brownfield; W. M. U., Mrs. Gladys Moor-

Bill, visited in San Antonio and Austin, and went to Red River, N. M., during the summer. The Mitchells moved to Brownfield from Lubbock and Mrs. Mitchell received a BS degree from Texas Tech in 1951 with a major in elementary education and a minor in English.

Miss Bernice G. Sneed, primary teacher, attended Prairie View A&M College during the summer. Miss Sneed lists her hobbies as sports, reading and writing. She moved here from Cuney, Texas, and graduated from Prairie View A&M College in 1951 with a BS degree, majoring in home economics and minoring in education.

One Way To Help— Eat More Beef!

Abilene—Texans, who take great pride in pride in boasting of their state as the world's biggest cattle range, are being asked to eat more beef this fall.

With an already low-price picture to start at, cattlemen have been told by their own industry representatives and by government authorities to expect a heavier than normal marketing of grass-fed cattle during the period Sept. 15-Oct. 31.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association called on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to "do something," and a statewide campaign is now underway to encourage greater per-Texan consumption of beef during this period.

The program was planned in July by the WTCC's agriculture and livestock committee with the assistance of restaurant, hotel, grocery and bankers associations as well as railroads and meat packers, state press and advertising associations, and from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the National Livestock Board and the American Meat Institute.

"It's a cooperative venture of Texas business to help a Texas industry to help itself," says R. M. Fielder, of Abilene, chairman of the regional chamber's agriculture and livestock committee.

Emphasis is being placed on appealing to the Texas housewife to use more of the lower-cost cuts of beef in preparing her meals.

Parker-Short Wedding Vows Solemnized In Double Ring Service Read Saturday

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY JAY PARKER

A background of palms and candelabra provided the setting for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Lee Short and Jimmy Jay Parker, read at 9:30 a. m., Sept. 26, in First Baptist Church of Brownfield, with the Rev. Cecil L. Springer, of Abilene, officiating at a double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Short, of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parker, of Anton, are parents of the couple.

Mrs. Springer played an organ medley and accompanied Mrs. Bill Cope, of Brownfield, who sang, "O Promise Me," and "Because."

Miss Jo Ann Short, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Tom G. Scott, of Lubbock, served as matron of honor. They wore floor-length strapless turquoise taffeta dresses, designed with sweetheart necklines and shirred bodices and joined to circular skirts. They wore brief boleros of taffeta made with short sleeves, wore matching headdresses and carried feathered pink carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of blush satin, made floor length with white lace bodice featuring a scalloped neckline with illusion yoke and long pointed sleeves. The fingertip veil of blush illusion fell from a crown of crushed illusion entwined with pearls. The bride carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and steponatis, showered with white streamers. She wore pearl earrings for something new, wore a pearl choker for something old, and her father placed a penny in her shoe for luck.

Vernon Stone, of Anton, was best man. Lynn J. Wright, of Brownfield, was groomsmen, and ushers and candlelighters were Wayne Parker, of Anton, brother of the bridegroom, and Bud Stone, of Anton.

Relatives and friends attended from Tahoka, Santa Anna, Lubbock, Abilene, and Anton.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a turquoise pure silk dress, white hat and gloves and her other accessories were black suede. A graduate of Brownfield High School, she is stenographer for Magnolia Petroleum Company in Brownfield. The bridegroom, a graduate of Anton High School, spent two years in the armed services. He is employed by Laughlin-Porter Drilling Company.

MUSICAL RUSH PARTY HELD BY ESA SORORITY—SONG TITLE COSTUMES

A musical rush party was held by Beta Theta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, an organization for business and professional women, in the Buddy Gillham home, 801 East Lake, recently. Members of the group and their guests wore costumes depicting various song titles, and decorations and refreshments carried out the musical theme.

Mrs. Gillham was hostess for the entertainment and pledges attending were Miss Ann Lilly, representing "My Heart Cries For You," and Miss Eleanor Miller, dressed to depict "Alice Blue Gown."

Mrs. Dale George won the costume prize wearing an ensemble representing "The Lady from Twenty-Nine Palms." Other members attending and their costume types were: Mrs. A. A. Cooper, "Snuggled Tooth Sam;" Mary Nell Colvin, "Buttons and Bows;" Mrs. Ray Bailey, "Domino;" Nina Scud-day, "Goodnight Irene;" Pat Steen, "Mountain Gal;" Dorothy Nell Brownlee, "Sleepy Time Gal;" and Mrs. J. C. Jennings, "Knock-Kneed Suzy."

A pantomime was put on by Ruby Nell Hairston, dressed as "Wild Bill Hiccup;" Lillian Cameron, representing "Calamity Jane;" Mrs. Buddy Gillham, "Indian Chief," and Miss Margaret Goza, "The Villain."

Sheet music was arranged in a pattern on the fireplace, and tiny black musical notes were used to ornament draperies and lamp shades in the living and dining rooms. A color theme of yellow, lime and black was carried out. Centering the dining table were miniature dolls holding sheet music and grouped around a circle of candles as though singing. Brownies topped with yellow musical notes were served with iced drinks. Napkins and tapers were in yellow, and the table was laid with a lime cloth.

Each person attending pantomimed the record of the song she represented, and various musical games were played, including "Musical Hat," and "Stop the Music." After a sing-song, refreshments were served.

Six pledges were absent.

Methodist Pastor Attends Eight State Evangelism Meet

Rev. Dallas Denison, pastor of the Methodist Church, returned last Wednesday from Dallas, where he attended a one-day Jurisdictional Board of Evangelism meeting.

The group, consisting of representatives from Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, and Nebraska, formulated plans for the evangelistic program for the rest of this year and next year, for the eight states mentioned.

Toastmaster Club Elects Officers

The Toastmaster Club, an international organization, whose primary purpose is for members' self improvement in public speaking, met for regular meeting Monday night at 6:30 at Nick's Cafe, for election of officers.

Officers elected were Arlie Lowrimore, president; I. B. Stitt, vice president, and Wade Yandell, secretary-treasurer.

Outgoing officers were Herb Chesshir, president; Grady Elder, secretary-treasurer.

The weekly toastmaster serves also as publicity chairman. Officers will assume duties Oct. 1.

SIX LOCAL WOMEN'S CLUB MEMBERS ATTEND 7TH DIST. WORKSHOP

Members of the local women's clubs attended an official call meeting from Mrs. O. M. McGinty, president of the Seventh District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. H. B. Mundy, president-elect, of Shamrock, at a workshop held Sept. 24, in Lubbock.

The morning session, beginning at 9:30, was held in the Citizen's National Bank building in the assembly room. Luncheon and afternoon session was held in the banquet room of Lubbock Hotel, until 4:30 p. m. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss business and plans for the new club year. Prior to the meeting, invitations were issued to all clubs.

Mental health study was discussed and registration of Independence Hall, one of the Seventh District's projects for this year, was also reviewed.

Attending from Brownfield from the Delphian Club were Mrs. Wayne Brown, president; and last year's president, Mrs. J. O. Burnett. From Alpha Omega Study Club, Mrs. M. J. Craig, Jr., president; Mrs. Bill McKinney, a former board member of the Seventh District; and Mrs. Grady Goodpasture, a past and present Seventh District board member. Mrs. E. D. Jones attended, representing Maids' and Matrons' Club.

MRS. BROWN ELECTED WSCS DISTRICT LEADER

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall, Sept. 28, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Ernest Latham presided and Mrs. Glen Harris led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Hobart Lewis was leader of the study, "That The World May Know." Those taking part on the program were: Mesdames O. A. Lemley, B. L. Thompson, Ida Bell Walker, J. H. Carpenter, Fred Miller, Joe Johnson, Vernon Henderson, R. L. Cornelius, and Jim Griffith.

Mrs. Griffith brought the devotional, "Spreading The Flame." Scripture reading, St. Matthew 10:5-23. The group sang "Lead On, O King Eternal."

A short business session was held after the program.

Mrs. Latham reported the sub-district meeting at Denver City was very inspiring and that nine of the women attended the meeting. New officers were elected: Mrs. G. N. Brown was elected as the new district leader.

Those present were: Mesdames Fred Miller, R. J. Purcell, Ernest Latham, D. D. Denison, G. S. Weber, F. L. Maupin, Jim Griffith, Vernon Henderson, B. J. Hill, R. L. Cornelius, A. J. Lloyd, J. H. Carpenter, Glen Harris, O. A. Lemley, B. L. Thompson, Ida Bell Walker, Hobart Lewis, Leo Holmes, Joe Johnson, and Lula Singletary.

MR. AND MRS. LUKE R. RAMPY, JR., were married in a double ring ceremony read recently in the Presbyterian Church at Hobbs, N. M. Miss Carolyn Griffith, of Brownfield, was maid of honor, and Brian Brady, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man. The bride is the former Carlton Dell Brady, daughter of Mrs. B. C. Brady, of Brownfield, and the bridegroom is in the Navy, and is stationed at San Diego. The bride is making her home with her mother here until January, when the bridegroom is scheduled to receive his discharge from the service, at which time the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

COFFEE TIME

with Mary Winston

If events following an automobile accident can be said to have been "funny," such was the case last Saturday afternoon when the automobile that Mrs. Homer Winston was driving in Roswell, crashed into a New Mexico citizen's car.

As the parties involved emerged from their damaged autos, the "other woman," half dazed, could only explain that she was driving in a safety zone, and she said that meant she could drive as she pleased and as fast as she desired. Rather a strange definition for a safety zone, don't you think?

Mrs. Winston and her father, mother, and sister, were taken to a Roswell hospital and following x-Rays, periscopes, and microscopes, the four went to the desk to pay fees—but when Mrs. Des-

ANSWER TO THE POSTMAN'S PRAYER are the new combination-collection and storage boxes that have been set up around town. In 1942, the local Post Office started out with only four such boxes, and Sept. 1 of this year, 12 more were set up, bringing the total to 32. A few of the boxes are only for the convenience of the public, but the greater majority are for service to the six carriers, in order that they may pick up a new load of mail at the end of a series of streets. Pictured above is Cecil Davis, one of the local carriers, as he refilled his mailbag at the corner of South 3rd and Main. Terry Co. H-D Agent Begins Work Today

Terry County's Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mildred Cox, began her duties today in the adjoining office of the county agent, Jim Foy, in the courthouse.

Miss Cox is a graduate of North Texas State College at Denton, has worked a year as a home economics teacher and three years in religious education work. This will be her first year as agent.

Her parents live in Lubbock, but farm in Lynn County. Among the duties she will perform will be attending Home Demonstration club meetings at Gomez, Harmony, Johnson, Meadow, Challis, Needmore, Pool, Union, and Willow Wells, and supervising 4-H Club work.

Mrs. Pate Collier Honors Daughter With Party

Mrs. Pate Collier, 801 East Oak, honored her daughter, Claudette, on her third birthday, Tuesday at 4 p. m. Favours of little dolls, balloons and gum were presented guests, and birthday cake and fruit punch were served.

Children present were Shirley Beaver, Linda and Karen Ellis, Charlotte and Ramona McKenzie, Linda Murphy, Rhetta Kay Moorhead, and Claudette.

ton told the nurse that her father was leaving the hospital, she was quickly informed that "that man can't leave this hospital—he's been here for a week and is likely to pass away any moment."

Stunned and bewildered, the group soon learned the reason for all the mixup, another J. C. Whisenant had been registered at the hospital for quite a while.

After finally proving to hospital authorities that they would not die any moment and that the only serious injury suffered was Mrs. Winston's mother's fractured collar bone—the shaken up group began worrying about how they would get back to Brownfield. The damaged auto had been towed to a Roswell repair shop and owners of the shop had locked up and gone home for the weekend, making it impossible for the group to get their money and clothing, which was locked up in the car.

However, after a phone call was made to Brownfield, the problem was solved when two of Mrs. Winston's friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones, Sr., came for them and brought them home about 2 a. m. Sunday morning.

If you notice a banged-up auto wandering around town, it didn't grow that way.

The injured woman, Mrs. J. C. Whisenant, is staying with Mrs. Winston, in Brownfield, and is recovering nicely.

Special prizes consisted of an ivory container, crystal set of ash trays, and aluminum coasters, and approximately 50 other prizes were given to Bingo winners.

Local Girl Attends Tea Given By President Of Stevens College, Sept. 27

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 25.—One hundred thirty Stephens College students whose mothers or sisters are graduates of the college were honored at a tea Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27, at the home of President and Mrs. Thomas Arthur Spragen, on the Stephens campus here. The tea is one of the outstanding events of the college's fall social season.

Among those who attended was Miss Patsy Ruth Stice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Stice, 808 East Tate, Brownfield, whose sister is a graduate of the college.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Starnes have recently returned from San Francisco, where they left their daughter, Mrs. Mazie Ross and her two children, who were scheduled to leave for the Philippines to be with their husband and father, 1-Lt. Guy Ross. The Rosses plan to be overseas for the next two years. The Starnes also visited with relatives in Santa-Anna.

WELLMAN NEWS

by REV. ALVIN F. HAMM
Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Heafner, of Wellman, went to Whiteface last Friday night to attend the Wellman Wildcats and the Whiteface Ante-lope football game.
Mrs. Bobby Little, of El Paso, is visiting in Wellman in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Little, and also visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Martin, of Brownfield. Mrs. Little's husband, Bobby, is in the Navy, stationed in San Diego.
Those attending the football game at Whiteface from Wellman last Friday night, were: Mr. and Mrs. T. W. George, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Adair and family, Mrs. Dolie Adair and S. C. Adair, Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, Rev. and Mrs. Alvin F. Hamm and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bryant and Leslie, Mrs. Leo Hawkins, Jr., and several others we were not able to remember.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. George, of Wellman, visited with the parents of Mrs. George, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Butler, of Whiteface, last Friday and both families attended the football game.
Mr. and Mrs. Garland Parker and son, Beryl, went to El Paso last Thursday to have final fitting of Beryl's artificial leg. It will be about two more weeks until the leg will be ready for Beryl to start wearing. Two years ago while playing football, Beryl received a knee injury which developed in such a way that it required the amputation of the right leg at the hip. Beryl is attending school at Wellman and is a Junior this year. He is also president of the Junior Class and a favorite among the students.
Mr. and Mrs. Rip Sewell and Karen visited Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sewell, of Levelland, over the weekend. "Rip" is assistant coach in the Wellman schools. The Sewells of Levelland are the parents of Coach Sewell.

Miss Mary Warren, of Wellman, visited over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Pentocost and Edna, who live east of Wellman several miles.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Switzer took their son, Pat, to the doctor in Brownfield, Saturday, for a check-up. Returning to Wellman, Saturday afternoon, the Switzers left for Carlsbad, N. M., to spend the night and Sunday with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shaw, of Carlsbad. The Switzers returned to Wellman Sunday night.
Mrs. L. B. Johnson, Sr., of Plains, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Warren, Sr., of Wellman, last Friday. Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of Mr. Warren.

OES INITIATION HELD; "42" PARTIES SOON

Four "forty-two" parties will be sponsored by the local Eastern Star, and will be held Oct. 8, Nov. 19, Jan. 21, and Feb. 18, at the Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse. Season tickets, at $2 each, may be obtained from any Eastern Star member.
Regular meeting of Brownfield Chapter No. 785 of OES was held Sept. 22, at 8 p.m., in Masonic Hall, with Mrs. Dora Lee McCracken, worthy matron, presiding.
Visitors attending were Mrs. Jean Faulkenberry, and Mrs. Velma Trull, who have recently moved here from Monahan; Mrs. Norma Layman, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Nora Richardson, of Post; Dr. and Mrs. David Cowgill, who have recently moved here from Abilene. From Meadow, visitors were Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Drennon, Mrs. Anna Green, and Mrs. Helen Rucker.
Initiation services were held during the meeting.
Mrs. Caroline Ellington and Leonard Ellington, host and hostess, served sandwiches, cookies, and lemonade to the 17 officers, 10 visitors, and 25 members present at the meeting.

ren, of Wellman, last Saturday. Lieut. Warren did not know that his father had returned from the hospital in Mineral Wells until he read the news from Wellman in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

There were 75 in Sunday School last Sunday at Wellman Baptist Church. So many of the young people were in San Angelo at the School Annual Work Shop over the weekend that it hurt the attendance. Visitors present Sunday were Mrs. L. D. Hamm, Jr., and baby daughter, of Brownfield. There were 57 in Training Union Sunday night.
Tom Warren returned to Wellman last Thursday night from Mineral Wells hospital, where he has been confined for several weeks. He is feeling much better and made the trip home fine. He will get to stay here about 30 days before going back to the hospital. Why do you not take time and go by and say hello to Mr. Warren?
Mrs. W. H. Jackson, of Wellman, and Mrs. Dalton Warren, of Seagraves, accompanied Mrs. Tom Warren to Mineral Wells last Wednesday.

Services Held For Isaacs Infant Son

Randy Mark Isaacs, 4-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Isaacs, of Brownfield, died Sept. 24, in a Lubbock hospital where he had been for treatment since birth.
Funeral services were conducted at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, at Brownfield Funeral Home, with Father O'Riley officiating, and interment was in Terry County Memorial Cemetery.
Survivors include the parents; one brother, Leonard Terry; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Isaacs, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Fonoglio, both of Wichita Falls.

had in her home, her brother, Mr. Shelby Cole, of Midland, who visited here a few days. Shelby was laid off a few days from his job and he took advantage of the lay-off to visit his sister and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clevis Chambers and family and Larry Brazale visited in Whiteface, Friday, and attended the football game.
Cotton is popping open like pop corn, that is, what cotton there is around Wellman. The Howton Gin ginned eight bales last week. The returns from the cotton that has been graded were: 2 bales strict middling, 2 bales middling, with light spot, and the staple was 29-32. The Howton Gin had to lower their water well pump setting from 140 to 160 feet. If it gets much dryer, we may all have to move to the coast to see any water.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howton went to Gainesville over the weekend to visit with Mrs. Howton's mother, Mrs. L. L. McKinney, who is 74 years of age, and is in very bad health. Mrs. Howton reported her mother doing as well as could be expected. The Howton's reported that the crops down around Gainesville are better than they have been in years, with the dry land cotton expected to make a bale per acre. The Howtons returned to Wellman late Sunday night.
Mrs. Charlie Rex, of Wellman, visited with her sister, Mrs. C. L. Wilson, in Whiteface, last Friday afternoon, and spent the night, returning Saturday.
Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Trotter and the Glenn Bakers, of Wellman, over the weekend, were Mrs. Hattie Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Lawson and daughter, Murlene, of Throckmorton; Miss Robbie Freeman, of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lawson, of Odessa.

WELLMAN PTA ELECTS OFFICERS—APPOINTS COMMITTEES AT MEET

Wellman PTA met Thursday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m. in the Wellman Gym, with the following officers being elected: Mrs. Alton Loe, president; L. C. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bob Burnett, secretary; and Mrs. W. H. Carmichael, treasurer. A nominating committee was also appointed, and consisted of Mrs. Robert Hamm, Mrs. G. I. Sims, Mrs. J. T. Bryant, Mrs. Dot Oliver, and Miss Willie Mae Hines.
The following committees were appointed to serve the PTA another year: Budget and Finance, L. G. Smith, chairman; Horace Fox, L. B. Baldwin, Mrs. Lee Lyon, Miss Willie Mae Hines; Program Committee, Mrs. Alvin Hamm, Mrs. R. J. Rowden, J. T. Bryant, Mrs. A. L. Tittle, chairman, and G. I. Sims.
Publicity and Year Book: Rev. Alvin F. Hamm, chairman, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. Ike Goza, Mrs. Robert Hamm, Mrs. George Ingram, Membership Committee: Homer Jones, chairman, Mrs. Carl Cabe, Mrs. W. H. Jackson, Mrs. D. B. Oliver, and Mrs. Glen Brown. Hospitality Committee: Mrs. Leo Hawkins, Mrs. Sam Oliver, Mrs. Pete Golden, Mrs. Eustace Conwoop, Thomas George, chairman, Mrs. Bud Slaughter, and Mrs. Joe Crowder.

Ted Lanham, music director of the Wellman schools, presented two chorals featuring the Junior High choral group. It was amazing in what this group had accomplished in so short a time. Caron Hamm and Yvonne Oliver each played a piano solo, which was something wonderful. The choral group ended the musical part of the program with the wonderful hymn, "Near to the Heart of God."
The Pep Squad then performed an Indian war dance in honor of Head Coach Eustace Conwoop. The coach happens to be a full blood Comanche Indian, and a nicer man I have never met. The Pep Squad also led the group in several school cheers; and I might add, they have a wonderful and very high spirited pep squad at Wellman High. The cheer leaders are: Norma Fore, Sue Burnett and Nila Rich. All the yells, of course, were in preparation for the Wildcats' game with Whiteface the following night. The football team, as well as the pep squad, has that old school spirit, deluxe. Darrell Baldwin and Roger Bryant are the football captains.
There was a crowd present estimated at 250, and a swell time was had by all.
After the meeting closed, the crowd retired to the school cafeteria, where everyone was served refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cookies.—Reported by L. G. Smith.

Guests of the George Burks over the weekend were Mrs. Burk's sister, Mrs. W. J. Lee and family, of Portales, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Booth, from just across the line in New Mexico.
Mr. and Mrs. Hank Goehry have as their guest this week, Mr. Goehry's aunt, from Chicago.
Mrs. Herb Field, of Yeso, N. M., visited her brother, Sherm Tingle and family, this week.

Terry Co. Unit ACS Is Presented Award

Big Spring, Sept. 30 (Special)—The Terry County Unit of the American Cancer Society was presented an award Wednesday, for having the best 1952 publicity program in its division.
Mrs. Wayland Parker, of Brownfield, ACS county lay woman, who was in charge of the publicity program, received the award on behalf of the unit at the fourth annual meeting of the Society's District Two.
The award, a bronze open book crossed by the American Cancer Society sword and inscribed "Terry County Unit, Texas Division Publicity Award, 1952" was for the best cancer publicity program in a non-metropolitan Texas county.
It was presented to Mrs. Parker by Clark Sudduth, Director of Public Relations for the Society's Texas Division.
In giving the award, he noted that it was evidence of a sound cancer educational campaign in Terry County. He also commended the unit on its successful Cancer Crusade last April.
The publicity contest was judged at the Texas Division's annual meeting in Austin last January by Mrs. Buck Hood and Mrs. Roger Busfield, Austin newspaper women.
The Texas County Unit won the award in the metropolitan division.
The presentation came during the meeting of leaders of the Society's program in 21 West Texas counties, held in the Settles Hotel here.
Delegates discussed ways to improve the cancer control program in the area.
James Dallas, Terry County Crusade Chairman, was to participate in a panel discussion on the annual Cancer Crusade, and report on Terry County's program.
Dr. T. L. Treadway, Medical Advisor to the Terry County Unit, also was scheduled to attend the meeting.
WANTS ANOTHER YEAR OF THE "HEADACHE"
Had a letter this week from our old sickie, W. F. Christy, who lives way down at Irving in old "Dallas County." W. F. enclosed $4 for another year of the old faithful "Headache," that he has been taking for 10 these many years.
Said he was in Brownfield Labor Day weekend, but this office was closed tight as a mackerel. Just out to go through the motion of a lunch, we guess. Thanks, Bro. Christy.

GENERAL TELEPHONE MOVES TO SAN ANGELO

This is "moving week" for the general office of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.
Normal operations will be suspended after 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 24, in the present location in Dallas, and then will be resumed Monday, Sept. 28, in San Angelo.
The company will occupy temporary space in the Amacker Building at 342 S. Chadbourne street pending the construction of a new, single-story building on a 10-acre site in southwest San Angelo. The move into permanent quarters is expected to take place within the next 18 months.

took advantage and went visiting or stayed at home. "Remember now thy Creator." Every member of the Methodist Church are urged to attend this Sunday.

Wellman Junior Class News
by Gloria Ingram
The representatives from the Wellman Junior Class, Dessie Oliver and Jo Frances Earp, returned Sunday night from San Angelo where they spent the weekend. The purpose of the trip was an annual meeting. They said they really had a good time. Bobbie Weaver spent the weekend visiting her mother and brothers in Pecos. Beryl Parker was absent from school last Thursday and Friday. Daulton Smith went to Brownwood, Sunday, and did not return until Monday night. Gerald Jordan had to run two extra laps in football practice Monday because he was loafing. He should play some good ball this coming Friday night. As hard as the boys played at Whiteface—the other night we could not win, but football season is not over yet, and we are still hoping to win a few games.
The Wellman Wildcats played hard last Friday night against the Whiteface team and the game was much better than the score indicated—42 to 6 for the Whiteface team. The Wildcats of Wellman, will play Bovina here this week and we are expecting a much different story, because we believe we will win.

First Baptist Church Revival Services To Continue Thru Sun.

Revival services will continue at the First Baptist Church through Sunday night, Oct. 4. Dr. M. F. Ewton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Enid, Okla., is the evangelist. Dr. Ewton is a native of Tennessee. He attended Carson Newman College, Vanderbilt University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has served in various capacities in denominational work. The Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred on him by Oklahoma Baptist University.

Dr. Ewton is in demand as a speaker and evangelist throughout the Southern Baptist Convention. He has spoken before colleges, universities, churches and various other organizations. Not only is Dr. Ewton an evangelistic pastor, but he is a writer as well. He is the author of several books. Among them are the following: "Joys of Jesus," "Cardinal Truths," and "Morning Stars." One of the books has been translated into Portuguese for the use of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Ewton presented Jones W. Weathers, pastor of the local church, an autographed copy of the Portuguese translation. The nurseries of the church are open for the services twice daily at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., for nursery age children. The people of Brownfield are cordially invited to attend any of the services. Ed Rogers, minister of music and education for the local church, is directing the music.

Bounds Here To Get Cotton Trailer

Lester (Blacky) Bounds and his brother-in-law, Don Samford, of the Lorenzo section of Crosby County, were over in search of a cotton trailer to haul their cotton to a gin this fall. These boys married two of the Bowers girls, nieces of the late Bob Bowers. In fact they were here last week as they thought they might lease one, as a lot of our dry land farmers have no cotton this year.

This week, they found one for sale by a local bank, which they bought, and hitched onto it and were off. Blacky worked as linotype operator for the Herald for some three years until he married, and his dad-in-law persuaded him that he could make a living easier on the Bowers farm. And there are a lot of things easier than working in a printing office and a lot more pay.

Anyway, we asked Samford, in a sort of aside whisper, if he were not a better farmer than Blacky. "Sure," says Samford. Blacky was talking over the telephone, but when he finished, announced that he heard what we were saying about him.

We hope the boys have a good yield of cotton, which is irrigated, and that they have good luck in gathering it.

South Plains Dentists To Meet Oct. 9-10

We have notice that the dentists of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, will meet at the Caprock Hotel in Lubbock, Oct. 9, for a two day session. Many interesting speakers will be on hand, among them Dr. Bertram Downs, of Colorado Springs, Colo. His subject should be of real interest, as he is known as a skilled technician.

A luncheon for wives of the dentists will be held Friday, as well as a banquet for all those in attendance, Friday evening, honoring them and the main speaker.

We understand several from Brownfield will attend.

FORMER BROWNFIELD WOMAN DIES IN CALIF.

Mrs. Lenora Prestridge, of Ontario, Calif., and a former resident of Brownfield, died in the Los Angeles County general hospital Friday, Sept. 18, after a long illness. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Todd Memorial Chapel.

Survivors include seven sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Prestridge was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Church Sunday
where we are all one with the Lord

THE CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH was begun as a mission of the First Baptist Church in 1947 under the leadership of Dr. A. A. Brian, then pastor of the First Baptist Church. The mission was organized into a self-supporting church in 1949, and has become an affiliated member of the Brownfield Baptist Association and the Southern Baptist Convention. Rev. Jack Pearce, first pastor of the church, continued his work here until the summer of 1952, when he accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Lorenzo, Texas. Total membership of the Calvary church is now 363, of which 328 are resident members. The Sunday School has an enrollment of 278 and the Training Union, 152. Value of the church's property is $33,500.00. Rev. Bill Austin is now pastor, having been with the church since last November when he and his wife moved here from Haskell, Texas. Mrs. Austin was reared in Levelland and the Reverend in Abilene. The Austins have one child, Randall Vance, eight months old. Other officers of the church are: C. N. McIntyre, Sunday School Superintendent; J. B. Curtis, Training Union Director; Virgil Travis, Chairman Board of Deacons; Wade Pearce, Treasurer; Hershell Davis, Clerk; Mrs. Wade Pearce, WMU President; and Leon Lassiter, Brotherhood President. During the past year the church has received 155 new members, 44 of them by baptism. Expenditures of the church this past year totaled $11,168.06. Of this amount, $2,518.92 was given to missions. Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Figure it anyway you like, come 1960 we're going to be mighty short on teachers. Let us take Texas as an example. In 1950, we had a total of 7,712,000 people, according to the official census. But during and following the war, there was a tremendous birth rate, and estimates of Texas population today runs up to 8,000,000, and by 1960, over 10 million.

Texas now has 1,950,000 children in the school age bracket, and by 1960, the scholastic population will run well over two million. This means that many more teachers and school rooms must be provided. Against this, more than 4,000 left the profession during the 1952-53 school year. They joined the ranks of others in better paying positions.

The way the teachers look at the matter is that after spending four years in college at a cost of some $2500 a year, they don't think it quite fair that the day laborer gets as much pay as they.

We're advising all and sundry to attend the Panhandle, South Plains Fair at Lubbock this week. Even though Terry County has no competitive exhibit, the visitor will find much to interest and amuse them, as fairs of such magnitude are really educational as well as amusing. And the cost of an afternoon and evening is not prohibitive, as the entrance is 50c for adults and 25c for children.

Most of the groupings will want to see the exhibits of every nature, such as livestock, farm products and store exhibits. The youngsters will be more at home with the rides, glides and funny shows, and at night the huge fireworks display.

The P.S.P. fair is by far the biggest regional fair in Texas, and most any point of view, such as exhibits, amusement and premium list. We use to attend regularly.

but of late years with age and rheumatism, our old pins will just not let us stand on them half a day or even an hour or two.

Following close on the Lubbock regional fair, will come the great State Fair at Dallas, the world's greatest State Fair—and this is not just another Texas brag. Measured any way you like, cost of grounds and buildings, amount of premium money, variety of exhibits and amusement, the State Fair measures well up to many so-called centennials and world fairs.

Lately we have been getting a copy of the Texas Defense Digest. This magazine, a small monthly, tells what is being done in the way of preparing vital spots in Texas for possible atomic or other attacks by Russian or other aggressors. Also how to move into and take charge of matters at a moment's notice of disasters from natural causes, like the tornadoes that visited Waco and San Angelo earlier this year.

The text also includes pestilence following a flood, such as they had in South Texas, and distress fires in cities or farms and ranches. It was revealed lately that at least some 10 cities in Texas were marked for attack in case of war. These mostly were cities in which army installations or airfields are nearby, or possibly munition and chemical plants. Possibly some of our oil fields and refineries would come in for possible attack.

While this talk is going on, the man who recently jumped the guns as UN official from Poland, and is seeking haven in the USA, says Russia will not attack before 1960, as she will not be ready before that time. And too, that depended on whether or not they had an uprising or revolution at home.

On the humorous side, an article we saw in a mag recently, states that it does not always pay to play the Good Samaritan too much. The article related that a man found a policeman with his station wagon busted up, and volunteered to haul the cop to his station. When they arrived, the cop handed his benefactor a ticket, for speeding, and running a red light. And a veterinarian was called to the country to see a valuable cow that was in a bad way. He was also fined for running a stop light—and you guessed it—the owner of the cow was J. P.

Over in Little Rock a man came upon a wreck, and parked his car to help load the wounded into an ambulance. He was given a ticket by the cops for illegal parking. A kind hearted lady saw a hungry stray dog on the streets, carried the animal to her home, then went out to buy food for the pup. When she returned the mutt refused to let her come into her own home. She had to call the cops.

And as to those good old days when we read and believed everything, seem to be gone forever, even Capt. Kidd with his pirates and pieces of eight. The modern writers are tearing up most of our old playhouses. Now they say such did not exist, and that our favorite book, Treasure Island was all in the imagination of Stevenson. They doubt there was a dark looking flag known as the Jolly Roger, and that the pirates did not have enough pieces of eight to buy a hot dog, much less chests of it to bury.

And as for the Boston Tea Party of our histories, the disguised "Indians" were just black market merchants, who had been buying bootleg tea from Holland and selling at a high price. Several ships with an overproduction of India tea arrived on English vessels to be sold duty free. So, the Boston merchants raided them, throwing the tea overboard.

And even G. Wash. crossing the Delaware was faked, says the modern investigators. The scene was painted in Germany by a German; the river is the Rhine and not the Potomac; the men in the boats are German actors. And lastly, the Stars and Stripes on the boat Washington was in, was not in existence officially until six months after the supposed crossing of the Delaware.

One of these days some smart-alecky writer will tell us that Washington did not cut down the cherry tree, nor did he tell his Pop that he could not tell a lie.

P.S. We note by Monday's dailies that around 150 years ago, for some reason or other, Congress forgot to OK the promotion of Washington from Lt.-General to General. And around 100 years ago, Congress forgot to officially admit Ohio to the Union. Maybe the boys were too busy fishing.

Speaking of opinions, all of us have them, and generally your opinion is no better or worse than the other fellow's. Still, we hear of men being sworn in for jury duty with, "I, Bill Digger, upon oath swear that I will tell the truth, the whole truth, so help me God." So, the whole truth, even with the help of Jehovah, may in the final analysis be just our own opinion about the matter concerned in court. So, one conscientious witness put it this way:

"No, I am not going to swear that the evidence I give is the whole truth. I will just give my honest opinion, and I believe it is the truth." And that is just about all any of us can do.

We note with some interest that the Lubbock Knife and Fork Club "sont" all the way up to Minnesota to get a speaker. The man was a Congressman, a Mr. Judd, and a GOP'er at that. But Editor Watson of the Denver City Press went the knives and forks one better. Watson "sont" clear off to Massachusetts after a printer, plus his wife and five little Browns.

We see by the Big Spring News that Sister Rosetta Roberts staged a big birthday celebration down at Big Spring recently, and got her likeness in a two-column cut. All the sons and daughters, plus the in-laws and a raft of grand and great grand-children were present, save one. Congratulations and many happy returns of the day.

Whooping Cranes To Arrive Soon

Austin—The pending fall parade of the majestic Whooping Crane prompted the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission to ask for "maximum protection" by Texas.

The Whoopers shortly will begin their annual fall migration from the Hudson Bay country in the far north to their wintering grounds on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge along the Gulf Coast.

The extraordinary appeal for protection was made because only 21 of these giant birds remain. Their number was reduced by two last fall when two were killed by hunters.

The whooping crane is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. Gunners, therefore, are urged to refrain from shooting at any large white bird and to report the sighting of birds that might be whooping cranes to the local game warden.

Guests in the Ross Black home last week were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Jennings. Mr. Jennings returned to his station last week end, and Mrs. Jennings remained with her parents.

Miss Ann George is on a 20-day vacation in the Eastern States, where she will visit such cities as New York and Chicago.

Kenneth Godwin and Tres Key have returned from a fishing trip near Waco.

Associates Honor Rite Crew Veteran

DALLAS, TEX.—Named Wilfred, they call him Bill. He'll be 82 Jan. 2, and he's still mighty active.

He was the first director of the stage crew that functions during Scottish Rite Masonic reunions, twice yearly. He now is director emeritus.

Wilfred Max Fecheimer, 4618 Gilbert, is referred to. His old-time associates of the stage crew had him sit for a portrait by Dmitri Vail, 4245 Armstrong Parkway, Dallas. Finished, it now hangs in the Rite Cathedral's San Hedron room, headquarters of the crew and its activities.

Figures on the cornerstone of the Rite Temple reveal it was "levelled" in March, 1907. Two years later the building was occupied, and Mr. Fecheimer's tenure as stage director began. It continued until 1931, making him dean of the group.

He was succeeded by Dr. A. L. Frew, 1931-33, and he by the late Colby E. Smith, 1933-35. Royal A. Ferris, Jr., served 1935-1941, and the late Andrew John Balcom, 1941-1949.

L. B. Haggood, succeeding Mr. Balcom, retired last spring, having served 1949-1953. His total service on the crew was for 27 years. Frank Cronk, also a long time member, succeeded Mr. Haggood.

"Dean" Fecheimer, born in Hot Springs, Ark., has been a Dallas resident since 1889 and with Linz Bros. for 40 years.

He is the oldest 33rd-degree member of Dallas Scottish Rite bodies and the second oldest past potentate of Hella Shrine Temple. His portrait complements life-sized photographs of his successors in the stage crew's quarters.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED SATURDAY FOR FORMER RESIDENTS, SHOOTING VICTIMS

Funeral services for Leonard Jones, 47, and his wife, Flora, also 47, who died in a double shooting here last Wednesday, were conducted at 1:30 p.m., Sept. 24, in the First Baptist Church at Brownfield.

The Rev. Jones Weathers, pastor, officiated. Burial was in the Brownfield Cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Jones moved here recently from Carlsbad, N. M. His wife operated a snack bar in the New Mexico city for several years. Terry County Judge Herbert Chesshir and County Atty. Vernon Townes, acting in the absence of Justice of the Peace J. W. Hogue, rendered a verdict of murder and suicide in the double death.

The body of Mrs. Jones was found sitting erect in a sedan. She had been shot two or three times in the head. Jones' body was slumped from the driver's seat into her lap. He had been shot through the right temple above the ear. A .38 calibre pistol lay beneath his hand.

The couple lived here until about 10 years ago. They leave three daughters, Mrs. Patsy Hall, a department store employee in Carlsbad, who collapsed and was put under a doctor's care when notified of the death; Mrs. Nedra Hale, Eureka, Calif., and Lt. Juanell Jones, Air Force nurse stationed at Montgomery, Ala. They also have three grandchildren.

Jones' survivors include his father, John S. Jones, of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Barbara Jones, of Brownfield; a brother, Luther B. Jones, Brownfield, and Mrs. Maude Gryder, of Comanche.

Members of his family said that Mrs. Jones is survived by several brothers and sisters, Walter and Arthur Townsend of Snyder, and Ernest Townsend of Fort Worth, among them.

SO YOU DON'T LIKE HOT WEATHER

If the hot weather has been getting you down here's a picture to cool you off. The thermometer registered 103 degrees above zero—on the outside—and 70 degrees below zero—on the inside—while this frosty picture was made of an ice-covered experimental automobile in the "cold room" in the Studebaker engineering laboratories in South Bend, Ind. The vehicle is merely undergoing one of the many grueling tests to which Studebaker engineers subject cars to meet the stringent demands of driving conditions anywhere.

We Congratulate—

HUNTSVILLE TEXAS

Whoa! darn you — I'm goin' to practice till I can win a prize this year or my name ain't 122000.

STILL GOING STRONG

The people of the area seem to appreciate our cutting the price of the Herald on account of the drought to—

$1.50 per year

Until further notice we shall continue the rate in our TRADE AREA ONLY. You'll have to hurry. We appreciate those who have responded with their renewals as well as the many new readers we have obtained.

As soon as conditions change, we aim to go back to the old rate of $3.00 per year in the trade area, as we really lose money at $1.50 per year.

TRIBUTE DUE JOURNALISTS WHO SHAPED A FREE PRESS FOR ALL AMERICANS

By Dr. DeWitt Reddick

U. of T. School of Journalism
A philosopher is quoted as saying, "The greatest sin of man is his habit of taking things for granted."

Certainly it is true in the United States today that most of our people take freedom of the press for granted, forgetting that it is a right of the people rather than a privilege granted to editors.

The crucial period in the development of this doctrine of press freedom came not in the Revolutionary War but in the forty years thereafter in which the framework of our democratic government was shaped through the heated and bitter discussions of citizens of the new Republic.

True, the newly ratified Constitution contained an amendment which read, "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom . . . of the press . . ." But no one knew exactly what this phrase meant, how much freedom it guaranteed. The extent of the freedom had to be fought out in the courts and in newspaper columns in the decades that followed.

As Newspaper Week comes again this year, Americans may well pause to pay tribute to a few almost forgotten journalists who set up and defended the principles of press freedom that have gained general acceptance today.

One of these was Samuel Harrison Smith. When Smith established the National Intelligencer in Washington in 1801, the custom was for legislative bodies to meet in sessions closed to the press. Smith requested permission to report proceedings of Congress. The House voted down his request. Smith was back at the next session of Congress; and this time the House approved his request. Smith became the first reporter to sit in meetings of the House and Senate. He set the precedent for what has become an important tradition in America: the people's right to know what their legislatures are doing by having reporters at hand to keep the people informed.

Nathaniel Rounsavel, in 1812, forged another precedent against secret legislative proceedings. Rounsavel, editor of the Alexandria (Va.) Herald, resented the fact that some official proceedings of House groups were declared secret. He printed reports on what was done at these secret meetings. He was brought before the House and threatened with arrest, but he steadfastly refused to divulge the source of his information. His stand helped to establish the principle of a reporter's duty to protect his news sources.

To Alexander Hamilton and Harry Crosswell, editor of an upstate New York newspaper, go credit for the first law in the United States declaring that truth when fairly established, may be presented as a defense against libel. Crosswell vigorously criticized President Thomas Jefferson, and was indicted in 1804 for libel. The court refused to admit testimony intending to prove the truth of the criticisms. Though Crosswell was convicted by the lower court, the stirring speech of his defense lawyer, Alexander Hamilton, caused the New York legislature to enact a statute making it possible to introduce truth as a defense in a criminal libel suit. This tradition has likewise become an important part in the principle of press freedom.

J. T. Buckingham, editor of Boston's New England Galaxy, criticized an actor so severely that a Boston audience ran the actor from the stage. The actor sued Buckingham, but the editor won. The case helped to establish the principle that criticism is permissible when it is applied to a person's public performance or a work of art or literature which he presents to the public. In another suit Buckingham established the right of a newspaper to criticize a public official in connection with how he performs his public duties, even though unjust criticism is not privileged when directed against the official's moral character.

Press freedom has been established and must be maintained by journalists like Smith, Rounsavel, Crosswell, and Buckingham, who are vigilant to speak for the people rather than for the private interests of the editor. Fortunately each generation has produced its share of such editors.

AN OLD CLEBURNITE PAYS US SOCIAL CALL

Ben Williamson, sporting goods salesman called this week, not that he expected to sell us any sporting goods, but as a mutual friend. In Cleburne for years, Williamson was manager of the hardware department of the Dickson Co., and our nephew was and still is the manager of the furniture department.

So, his was just a social call. And after a pretty nice conversation, we checked up pretty well on Alton Stricklin and family. Williamson still makes his home in Cleburne, but works for the sporting goods firm, Holt's, at Lubbock.

Mrs. Eva Bryan was a business visitor in town, Tuesday, from her ranch in the south part of the county.

KIWANIS PREXY WELCOMES NEWSPAPER WEEK

Kiwanis International again welcomes the opportunity to participate in the observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8, and to pay tribute to the press of our two great nations, Canada and the United States.

Throughout the many years, Kiwanis has championed the cause of the free press and subscribes to this year's slogan "An Informed Press Means an Informed People." Again, we salute the newspaper profession for its vigorous and vigilant leadership in alerting the public to extravagance, waste, dishonesty, subversion and other insidious elements tending to undermine our way of life.

"Freedom of Information" has long been stressed by Kiwanis International through resolutions adopted by delegates at our annual convention and through educational programs activated by most of our 3,600 Kiwanis clubs. We are deeply grateful that our newspapers present a united and determined front against all efforts directed toward intimidation and repression of the press.

We staunchly support the Fourth Estate in its forthright stand to print all the news for public information, and we assure the news agencies of the continued cooperation and support of more than 212,000 Kiwanians who are vitally interested in this important phase of preserving our freedoms.

Donald T. Forsythe, president, Kiwanis International.

Mrs. Wayne Lewis, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis, until Nov. 1, left this week for Erie, Pa., where she will visit for a few days. Mr. Lewis is with the Baytown Sulphur Company of New Orleans, who are putting up some buildings on the Delta that extends out into the Gulf. He wrote his wife that during the hurricane threat they were brought to New Orleans.

Future Farmers of State Will Entertain Pres. Eisenhower

Texas winners in the State Talent Contest at the FFA convention in Fort Worth will render a 30 minute program before President Dwight D. Eisenhower speaks at the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Oct. 15, announced Vannoy Stewart, State FFA adviser.

Members of the string band, who were invited to play by A. W. Tenney, national executive secretary of the FFA, are: Sonny Curtis, of Meadow, who won top honors in the state contest; and "The Barnbusters," of Jacksonville, who placed second; Mervin Dawson, David Kirby, and Boyd Moore, all of Jacksonville.

The President will speak over an international hookup to the 10,000 Future Farmers from all over the nation, who will be assembled at the Municipal Auditorium in their Silver Anniversary celebration. He is expected to give further explanation of the Administration's farm program to the young farmers.

Among the Texas delegation, which will number approximately 500, will be 36 boys who will receive the highest FFA award, that of Successful American Farmer. The convention dates for this year are October 12-15.

OCT. 19-29 SLATED CO. FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP WEEK

"Texas Farm Bureau Membership Week" has been officially proclaimed by Gov. Allan Shivers, and is scheduled to begin Oct. 5, continuing through the 10th. In Terry County, however, the drive will start Oct. 19, continuing through the 29th, at which time the annual barbecue will be held. Leonard Lang is chairman of the local drive, and it is hoped that some 200 families will become county members.

During the Texas membership week more than 10,000 volunteer workers in some 180 organized counties will spread out over the countryside contacting individual farmers and ranchers to invite them to join the Farm Bureau. The membership goal in Texas this year is 75,000 farm families. At the present, there are more than 53,000 Texas farm families with membership in Farm Bureau, an independent farm organization of, by and for farmers.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the state farm organization, has stressed the need for a stronger state Farm Bureau in a letter sent to all county Farm Bureau officials in the State.

"The people engaged in farming and ranching have a great responsibility facing them this year," he declared. "This is a year of decision. Farmers must decide what policies we want incorporated into the national farm program, and they must decide who shall speak for farmers. Next year will be a year of action on a national basis, and the voice of Texas farmers and ranchers will be determined by the membership in the Texas Farm Bureau Federation."

The Texas Farm Bureau is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, which has a membership of 1,492,282 in 47 states and Puerto Rico. Illinois, the largest state in membership standing, has nearly 200,000 members, while several other mid-western states have more than 100,000 members. Texas has the largest potential, with 350,000 farm families in the state. Many of the larger Farm Bureau states have already reached their maximum membership potential.

The Texas Farm Bureau has long advocated a program that in the opinion of many people will eliminate the surpluses in all commodities. The present farm program puts the basis of control on the commodity. The Texas Farm Bureau's program would be set up on the basis of total farm acreage control; that is, the number of retired acres would be determined by the total over-production of all farm commodities.

Clyde Bond Sells Out Watermelons

Clyde Bond was in this week to pay for a little classified ad he has been running about his melons. Frankly, we think Clyde just planted a bit more of a melon patch than necessary, as they turned out so well in his irrigation field northeast of town. Anyway, he had too many melons, and advertised them, and now they are all gone except scattering ones he'll give his friends if they come after them. And that includes us.

Clyde stated that he decided at first that instead of contracting for wetbacks, he would just get local people to pull his cotton. And everything was running according to Hoyle until Monday, when his hands asked for their money, as they were moving to another county. Clyde says his cotton is good picking in places yet, but he had not fully decided what he would do.

We have not talked with other farmers who have irrigated cotton, and that's about all we have this year. But we have been reading the opinion of some farmers under the caprock, who have made their first crop in some three years. They had pretty good rains in June and July this year that put them over.

One farmer expressed his opinion in the Jayton Chronicle. He and other Kent County farmers had been off somewhere to try contracting a bunch of so-called wetbacks. Upon his return, he stated that a fellow would be silly to sign such a contract as the Mexican and American departments of labor wanted signed.

About the next best step we can think of, is to wait 'till the crop is gathered in south and central Texas, and get Texas Mexicans, or 'till the east Texas crop is harvested and get a bunch of east Texas negroes. As one farmer here expressed it, at least you can understand what the east Texas negroes are saying, and they understand what you say. But this is the business of farmers, not ours.

COUSIN CALLED ON US TUESDAY FROM CALIF.

If we were to be shot, we could not tell you the given name of the Luttrell cousin that called on us Tuesday, who happened to be hunting for Phillip Rogers, a cousin of his and ours, out in the Harmony community. He was raised up with Phillip, and knows him much better than us.

And Cousin Phelan and Lillie (Smalley) Luttrell had so many boys, all born since we left Tennessee and became a Texan, that we just do not know all their names. Anyway, this Luttrell has lived in California for many years, married there, and he and wife had been back there on a visit.

In fact, this Luttrell has been in California so long that he no longer talks like a Tennessean. Said he don't notice the change until he gets back to Tennessee.

Explosion Injures Small Boy's Hand

Little Tommy Pettigrew, Jr., age 6, narrowly escaped fatal injury last week when he lit a match and put it inside a can that had held gasoline. The can exploded, burning his hand severely, but not injuring his face or arm.

Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pettigrew, of Brownfield, and the couple have one other baby boy.

PTA TO SPONSOR CARNIVAL

Jesse G. Randal-West Ward PTA made tentative plans at a recent meeting to sponsor as their yearly project the annual Hallowe'en Carnival, to be held Oct. 30, according to Mrs. J. H. Bounds, publicity chairman.

Many youngsters, back in school, are certain they are experiencing the worst feature of modern civilization.

Meadow, Charles Bartley, Brownfield, will attend. Charles is numbered among the Successful American Farmers.

Local Band Marches In South Plains Fair Parade On Monday

Brownfield High School Band was among eighteen area school bands that entered in the first band contest of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair, opening at Lubbock, Monday.

The band contest was an innovation of this year's fair event. Bands played and marched in the opening day of the parade at 2 p.m.

A total of eight trophies were awarded to winning bands, first and second place winners in each of four classes.

Bands were judged according to the official Interscholastic League classifications, which includes classes B, A, AA, and AAA.

The Texas Tech Band, Reese Air Force Band, Lubbock High School Band, four Lubbock junior high bands, and the Dunbar High Band served as host units. The Lubbock bands were not entered in the competition.

A total of 26 bands were in the line of march for fair day parade.

Judge of the contest was Captain George Attridge, superintendent of bands, Air Training Command, Scott Field, Ill. Co-chairmen of the band contest committee were D. O. Wiley, director of band music at Texas Tech, and Paul Branom, director of band music of Lubbock High.

First place trophy in Class 'AA' went to Andrews High School Band, 100 piece. Littlefield High School Band placed second in the division, with 90 pieces.

Class AA units were composed of: Brownfield High School Band, 85, Fred Smith, director; Littlefield High School Band, 90, Beryl Harris, director; Andrews High School Band, 100, Everett Maxwell, director; Post High School Band, 50, Bobby Robbins, director; Slaton High School Band, 63, Billy Townsend, director.

Buses were waiting on Avenue F for the area bands. The buses were given police escort to the fair grounds and trophies were awarded there. Winning bands drew for radio and television assignments. Band members all received free fair tickets.
