WHOOOPS! WE GOT 3 NEW OIL WELLS!

Terry County got three new oil wells last week, along with two new locations. Yoakum County got two new wells and two new locations. All of our new wells were in the Prentice field in northwest Terry. One of the new locations was in the Prentice field and one in the Stalex field in south Terry. The new wells were as follows:

Honolulu, No. 10-B Alexander, section 18, block K, carried to a total depth of 5,885. The well pumped 192 barrels daily on test of 29 gravity oil. No water.

Joseph I. O'Neill, No. 4 Ella Covington, section 21, block D-14; total depth 5,978 feet. The well pumped 167 barrels of 31 gravity oil on test, with 2 per cent water.

Great Western Drilling Co., No. 4, Brit Clare, section 22, block D-14. Total depth 5,944 feet. The well pumped 165 barrels of oil daily of 30 gravity, no water.

The new location in the Prentice field is the O'Neill No. 5, Ella Covington. Location section 21, block D-14, to be carried to 6,000 feet at once. In the Stalex-Cisco, five miles south of town, Union of California spotted No. 1-B, A. A. Sawyer, section 121, block T. To be carried to 10,500 feet at once.

One of the finished wells in Yoakum County was in the Henard field; finished at 5,291 feet, and pumped 48 barrels of 34 gravity oil daily. The one in the Prentice field of Yoakum-Terry counties, pumped 148 barrels of 28 gravity oil, some water daily. Total depth 6,008 feet.

One of the new locations in Yoakum was a wildcat 15 miles northwest of Plains, to be carried to 12,300 feet, on the A. Fields property. The other location was in the Prentice field on the Johnnie Wright property, to be carried to 7,000 feet.

While on the subject of oil, and the much talk of the oil rich tidelands of Texas, worth multi-millions of dollars, truth of the matter is there are just five producing wells presently, but geologists believe there is oil down there, but oil companies were reluctant to go to the great expense to make tests while the federal government had the lands tied up by decree. Maybe it will be different since President Eisenhower OK'd a bill to return the tidelands to the several states.

Now as to Louisiana, that is a different question. They have a lot of oil wells in the tidelands section, and the swamps created by the tideland waters of the Gulf.

West Texas Gas Co. To Change Name To Pioneer Natural Gas

C. I. Wall, president of West Texas Gas Company, has announced that an application has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission by Southwestern Development Company, a registered holding company with offices in New York, to simplify its corporate structure by transforming its holding company system into a single operating natural gas utility company, incorporated in the State of Texas, and a natural gas producing company, also incorporated in the State of Texas. The application further provides for the dissolution of Southwestern.

The present Southwestern system consists of Amarillo Gas Company, Amarillo Oil Company, Clayton Gas Company, Dalhart Gas Company, Red River Gas Company and West Texas Gas Company.

The new operating company will be Pioneer Natural Gas Company, with general office in Amarillo and a large division office in Lubbock. Operations of the present gas production, transmission and distribution properties will be carried on generally in the same manner and with the same personnel as heretofore.

COLLINS OBSERVES 30TH ANNIVERSARY IN BROWNFIELD

Brownfield had recovered from the bad drought of 1917-18, and World War I was past and gone Nov. 17, 1923, when the Collins Dry Goods Co. opened their doors for business here that year, along about where the Farm and Home Appliance was recently located. It was a spread from their two stores at Durant and Boswell, Okla.

Ned Self was then just a young man, but had been with the stores in Oklahoma, since 1917, and decided to try a new country. He was a single man, but of course like all young men, had a hankering for family ties, and a year after moving here, he and Miss Lillie Jones, daughter of the late S. W. and Mrs. Jones, decided two could live as cheaply as one, and were married.

The second man to join the firm was "Slick" Collins, a son of W. B. Collins, of Lamesa, who had opened a store at Lamesa a few years after the one here was opened. As at that time he was needed more here than there, he moved to Brownfield. He came here 2 1/2 years ago, decided it was a good place to hang his hat permanently, married Miss Lou Ellen Brown, and "Slick" also became a fixture. Self and Collins are both stockholders.

Along about April 12, 1924, the present commodious, 50x100 building was completed on the west side of the square, and Collins moved into it. One of the first lady employees presently with the firm is Mrs. Harvey Gage, who has been with the firm for 14 years, and is in charge of and buyer for the ladies department.

Other employees are Mrs. Sid Machen, Mrs. Martin Line, Miss Gladys Swain, Mrs. Jack Browder, Mrs. Gay Price, Mrs. Glyndon Stockton, Mrs. Luther Harrell, Barney Doss, Edgar Self, James Evans, Frank Gray.

The 30th anniversary was celebrated with a banquet Tuesday night at Nick's Cafe, which included the wife of the original owner and manager, the late W. H. Collins, as well as the Lamesa store personnel.

MOVING FOR RIGHT-OF-WAY—The M. R. Watkins' home, located two miles south of Meadow, was the first of nine houses to be moved off the Lubbock highway to make way for the new four-lane highway, to be constructed soon. Committeemen, appointed by the commissioner's court to secure the right-of-way, were on hand Tuesday of last week to oversee the project completed. All farmers and companies that have been contacted in regard to obtaining the necessary footage, have been agreeable to the requests, except for West Texas Cotton Oil Co., who has refused to oblige. Pictured in front of the Watkins' home, as it was being let down on the foundation, are Howard Guffin; Mack Thomason, committeeman; Gib Tatum; Cecil Chauncey; V. W. Johnson; and Jake Fulford, committeeman. (Staff Photo.)

Oilmen-Businessmen Barbecue Big Success 40 Firms Represented

The Oilmen-Businessmen barbecue, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and local businessmen, was well attended, Tuesday night, with over 200 persons present at the Veterans Hall.

Employees from 40 petroleum and allied-industry firms of Terry County and 100 businessmen heard Dr. D. M. Wiggins, principal speaker and vice president of the Citizens National Bank in Lubbock, discuss "Specialization." He told the group that in the present age, oilmen, businessmen, and professional men must become technical specialists to do the precise job required.

The program, interspersed with short musical entertainment, ranged from the humorous to the serious.

County Judge Herb Chesshir, in a welcome address, pointed out importance of oil in the county and quoted evaluation figures such as: before oil was discovered, in the county, evaluation figure was 5 1/2 million, and today stands at 2 1/2 million, mainly because of the oil industry.

Champion tall-tale teller of West Texas, Cullen Akins, of Odessa, gave a humorous talk and other entertainers on the program were the G. C. Crowder family of Hobbs, and their 4 year old son, "Cowboy Joe."

Burton Hackney served as master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by Hobart Lewis. Banquet chairman was Buddy Gillham and J. O. Gillham registered guests as they entered the hall. On the barbecue preparation committee were Toss Fulfer, Al Muldrow, Buddy Gillham, Jake Gore, and Claude Gore. The fifteen Chamber of Commerce directors and managers, Grady Elder made the other necessary arrangements and necessary preparations for the evening entertainment.

HUB KING ELECTED TO FILL TILSON'S DIST. 2 DIRECTORSHIP TERM

H. L. (Hub) King, Brownfield, was elected to fill the rest of W. R. (Bill) Tilson's one-year term as state director of Farm Bureau for District 2, it was announced last week at the State Farm Bureau meeting at Mineral Wells.

Tilson, who lives at Meadow, resigned his position because of ill health, but attended the state convention last week. A hasty meeting of the Lubbock County voting delegates attending the convention was called by A. B. Allen, Lubbock, and a successor was elected.

Morgan Copeland, was elected president; Curtis Sterling, vice president, and Mrs. Gertrude Lowe, secretary-treasurer.

Two of the requirements for memberships are that the person consider himself a Democrat, and be under 40 years of age.

FARM BUREAU ADOPTS PROGRAM AT CONVENTION

The Texas Farm Bureau has adopted a national farm program which is designed to alleviate the surplus problem and insure price stability in the agricultural industry. The plan will be recommended for adoption at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention, Dec. 14-17, in Chicago.

The 504 voting delegates at the state Farm Bureau's 20th annual convention, Nov. 9-11, at Mineral Wells also recommended the "continuance and expansion of the beef purchase program to a point of accomplishing stability at 100 percent of parity."

Under the farm plan adopted at the convention, the percentage of tillable acres that are responsible for surpluses would be taken completely out of production. However, producers of basic commodities will still retain the right to exert control over their commodities, as they do now under the present law. A system of flexible supports, ranging from 75 to 90 percent of parity, would be provided for the non-basic crops if producers favored marketing agreements for those crops.

Statistics show that the overall national over-production averages from 5 to 15 per cent. If, for example, the overall surplus amounted to 10 per cent, then each farmer would retire 10 per cent of his tillable acres. To be eligible for supports, the producer would have to comply with a soil conserving plan for his retired acreage. Shifting of production from over-produced crops to those in short supply would be encouraged by the price support system. Thus, the plan would bring supplies in line with demand and also enforce good

Lions Club Sees River Project Film; Plans Talent Show

C. C. Primm, Brownfield's representative to the Canadian River Water project, was the principal speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Lion's Club at noon, Wednesday, at Nick's Cafe.

Primm urged all club members and other citizens to vote at the Nov. 24th election, which will determine whether this city will participate in the project or not. On the above date, 12 area cities interested, will hold general elections, to designate the legal authority and organization of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority District. Later elections will be held to authorize the method of financing the project, Primm said.

A 29-minute colored movie was shown at the Wednesday meeting, concerning the water problem on the Texas High Plains. Testimonials from area farmers dotted the movie.

The film will be shown at the Rotary Club today, and at the Jaycees on Monday.

Primm is also scheduled to appear on an hour TV program over KCBF-TV at 2 p.m., Sunday, and over KDUB-TV at 6 p.m., Monday, along with City of Lubbock officials interested in the project. And representatives from Levelland and Lubbock.

Sonny's Feed Store Is Being Enlarged

Congratulations go out to Sonny Whitley on the great enlargement of his feed store across the railroad on Main Street. This enlargement is being accomplished by moving in a building that was formerly the Union school building. The front will be remodeled with plate glass and modernized. The new building is 30x60 feet.

When work of remodeling is completed, the Sonny Feed Store will have a frontage of 100 feet. A 24x70 warehouse will be built on in the rear, and while they will not have a hatchery, they will handle baby chicks. This department will also be enlarged, including the sales room. As you perhaps already know, they will handle a full line of Purina Chow, as well as other seeds and feeds.

Sonny informed a reporter that the main idea of the enlargement was to make it possible to better serve his customers. When remodeling is completed it will be stupendous throughout.

General Telephone Connects 3 Poka-Lambro Exchanges on Toll Basis Into Tahoka System

The West Lakes, New Home and New Lynn exchanges of the Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative were connected on a toll basis with the Tahoka Exchange of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, on Wednesday, Nov. 11, according to an announcement by J. L. "Dusty" Kemper, western division manager for the company.

Kemper pointed out that his company exceeded their own expectations in regard to the number of circuits which have been provided for West Lakes and New Home subscribers. The company originally estimated only one toll circuit could initially be made available to each exchange. However, the necessary material was expedited so two circuits were installed to both West Lakes and New Home.

This number fully satisfies the requirements for toll facilities of these two exchanges as forecasted for the next five years. "Fletcher-Carter, the fourth exchange in the cooperative near here cannot be connected on a toll basis at this time since extensive construction work as well as additional equipment is required," Kemper added.

"We have gone to considerable expense, both of money and manpower, in order to provide toll connections so far ahead of previous schedule estimates," the Western Division manager said. "The Chism Construction Company, as independent contracting firm of Dallas, furnished the labor and equipment to place poles, wire, insulators etc., which were required to connect the West Lakes and New Home exchanges."

"Use of the company's own construction crews would have resulted in a delay in providing this service since they were tied up with previously assigned work. The job assignments of four equipment employees, however, were changed so they could devote their full attention to installation of equipment required in the Tahoka telephone office on an expedited basis. They included W. C. Gaylor, equipment supervisor for the Western Division; Melvin Jennings, central office repairman of Littlefield; W. R. Stanley, equipment installer, and C. E. Harlan, central office repairman of Lamesa.

Kemper indicated the project was further expedited by diverting

Christmas Seal Sales Campaign Underway

Christmas Seal sales campaign got underway, Monday, when letters went in the mail to Terry County citizens. The drive will continue through the Christmas holidays, according to Mrs. Milton Hughes, executive secretary of the Terry County Tuberculosis Association.

Two sheets of 100 seals each were sent to each citizen and proceeds derived from the sale will be used for Chest X-rays, Patch Tests, care and transportation to TB Sanatoriums of known or found cases of TB. Eighteen cents of every dollar goes to the State and National TB organization and 82c will stay here in Terry County. The local organization in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce sponsored this year's mass chest X-ray, which was held in July.

Last year's receipts were approximately $600, which was much less than previous years.

Officers of the Terry County Association are Tommy Hicks, president; M. J. Craig, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Jake Geron, secretary; and Mrs. Hughes. Seal sale chairman this year is Leonard Lang. The Association also works in cooperation with the South Plains Health Unit.

equipment which already or was in process of being installed at other exchanges of the company, to Tahoka for use in providing service to the new toll service connections. "Another time-saver resulted," he said, "when we decided to cut the existing circuit between Post and Tahoka for use by the New Lynn exchange and re-routed the Post-Tahoka traffic by way of Lubbock."

Kemper listed the availability of two additional switchboard positions for installation in the Tahoka office and the delivery of cable and other equipment necessary for outside construction work as the factors which will determine when extended area service can be made available to the New Home, New Lynn, West Lakes and Fletcher-Carter exchanges.

AREA IN FAIR CONDITION IN SPITE OF DROUGHT

Got tired of staying home, eating out and in, and looking at the same folks, so decided to take a little trip to see how the land lay beyond the horizon. You don't realize what even a weekend 100-mile journey will do for you until you try it. Unless you are one of those persons so constituted that you worry for fear you left the fire on in the kitchen oven, or left the bath room water running. If so, your weekend is spoilt.

The tip was to be down Snyder way, Jr. loaned us his car, as he could get his going done in the old 40y around the burg—not going anywhere anyway. And we always choose to go one way and return the other. In that way, we get to see more country. There is just three miles difference in the distance, 96 via Tahoka and Post and 99 miles via Lamesa and Gail.

While there is only three miles difference in the distance, the time required to make the trip over either is not that much, as the highway via Gail and Lamesa is much straighter, and crooks and turns and hills hold you up. Presently the highway from the Scurry county line to Snyder is pretty well torn up to straighten and widen, and one has to take it easy in places.

We were no little surprised that unlike conditions here, very little of the cotton was nipped by the freeze and frost last week, and in some places beyond Tahoka, all the feed was still green. And they are going to make some pretty good feed in parts of east Lynn—and we are not talking about the old play, "East Lynn"—but east Lynn County, and fair dry land cotton in places. And this condition applies to west Garza County. But like Terry, for some reason a lot of land never received enough rain last spring and early summer to plant or at least get stuff up, and weeds were the only crop.

But we noted that all along, farmers have bedded and re-bedded this land in an endeavor to hold it against blows next Spring, when we have the year's maximum of wind, and if dry, bad erosion. The last bedding was done after the fine rains we had in October. Most of them went down pretty deep, and lots of clods were turned up to hold the land as much as possible. But of course, snows through the winter would dissolve the clods. However, there is a possibility that other factors, snows through the winter, and early spring rains—and we have heretofore had such conditions—that there would be a minimum of blowing erosion—until the crops are planted next Spring, and up to where they will take what comes. But cover crops of some kind seem to be the best bet to keep down wind erosion, according to soil conservation men.

While on the subject of soil erosion, droughts, etc., which may be the main factor in erosion, we believe that farmers in general and many cattlemen are much more sympathetic and are falling in line with Agricultural Secretary Ezra Benson. This is especially the result of the late trip of Mr. Benson to this section, where he went out in the fields, crawled through wire fences, and actually beheld first hand what the drought meant to this area. Mr. Benson is himself a farmer up in Utah, and knows first hand all the headaches of the calling. He knows soil, and he understands, as well as the next man that even the most fertile soil has to have rainfall, or water from some source, to produce the crops. In Utah, they irrigate mostly.

But Benson is just an old time American farmer that had rather have his fingers burned than to be a recipient of handouts that some other taxpayer had to put up first. He knows as well as the next man that times come when people who are hurt by the wiles of the element, must have help. Maybe the local banks have gone the limit. If so, the government must step in either with loans or cheaper feed. In one instance, he showed a youthful breeder of cattle over in New Mexico how he could cut his herd from 100 to 60 head and save himself and his herd, and have a chance to grow out when the normal rains and conditions return. Benson has no wild ideas that verge on socialism. In fact, he believes the less bossing the government does the better for both the farmer and ranchman as well as the government. He believes explicitly in private industry and enterprise, the combination that has made this nation great.

In places there is some mighty pretty wheat, some on ground that grew nothing but weeds this year, and some in the middles of sorghum grains. Both looking good, and we saw both battle and sheep running on the grain already. By the way, we have seen much poorer cattle in times past, even when there was no drought. Down below the cap, between Post and Snyder, and on 180 between Snyder and the cap, we had occasion to see a lot of cattle along the highway, and to say the least, they were in fair shape. And as to the grass, while we've seen it better, we've also seen it worse. Also, the little creeks or draws between Post and Snyder have more water standing in them than we have seen in the past several years. We are reminded of one place where we always observed people fishing during the 40ties, that has a lot of water, and more water on the west side of the highway than we have ever seen before.

Scurry County has much the best crop it has had for years, or at least since 1950. True it is not too hot in the west part of the county, for after all, that is mostly ranch. But the south and east side has good crops this year, and they tell us they are even better over in Kent, Fisher, Jones and Haskell counties. Didn't see any antelope this time, but as stated above, they have had little frost down there and the mesquite leaves are still green, and one of these animals would be hard to see 100 yards from the road. Maybe later when the leaves are gone.

We hope, however, that some wild-eyed hunters have not slipped into those ranches and killed off part of these fast diminishing animals, that may like the buffalo, be the animal of the past—extinct—except in national parks and zoos. But we didn't meet a wild-eyed truck driver and have to give him the whole road like we did the last time we were down there.

To finish this short epistle, written to kill space as we don't think anyone will read it, we found the kids, the grandkid, the pup and the birds all hunkadora. The cats were just as good and wholesome as per usual, and the beds had a lot of sleep left in them. Herman, however, has a new idea up his sleeve, and is going in for those little furry creatures, chinchillas, we believe that is the way to spell that "spinach" word. So, he was up betimes Sunday, and took off for Lamesa, where a man will trade "chins" for parakeets. He returned just after noon in time for lunch all buoyed up, and the "chin" man, wife and little daughter, were there by 3 p.m., and were still there when we left at 4 p.m.

There will be no money involved, as Herman will trade him several "keets" for a few "chins" and both will be happy in their hobby. Let us state here and now, however, that Herman with his sideline or hobby if you like, has, he informed us, made good money with his parakeets. But it takes his undivided attention. Sorter like a man and wife rearing a large family, mostly twins, triplets and quads. But to make a success of anything you have to stay on the job and work. If one of the birds gets a bit puny, Herman diagnoses the case and prescribes, same as mama would prescribe when one of the shavers gets a case of belly-ache. Had two puny when we went

Select Nation's Outstanding 4-H'ers as Honored Delegates to Club Congress

(Above) Discussion periods are a feature of the Club Congress. All delegates are divided into "huddles" of six, these units reaching an opinion on various "agree-disagree" questions. Then the groups reassemble for final deliberation. Most questions at the 1953 Club Congress likely will concern the theme—"Working Together for World Understanding."

CHICAGO—Special—More than 1,200 outstanding rural youth—mostly farm boys and girls—from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, will be honored delegates to the 32nd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 29-December 3. They are the "cream of the crop" selected by the Extension Service as state, sectional and national winners in the 1953 4-H award program of projects of agriculture and homemaking.

The youthful delegates will represent more than 2 million active fellow members throughout the United States. Expenditures of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, a citizens' group, total approximately $900,000 in grants annually to assist the Cooperative Extension Service in furthering the program, membership and influence of 4-H. The major portion of the grants, which are provided by some 40 industrial organizations, foundations and prominent public-spirited men and women, are used for 4-H merit awards, including medals, savings bonds, trips, college scholarships and leader training.

Among the corporations and foundations providing grants are Allis-Chalmers, American Forest Products Industries, Carnation Co., Firestone Tire, Ford Motor Co. and Ford Tractor Division, General Motors, Hercules Powder, International Harvester, Kellogg Co., Kerr Glass, Mathieson Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Nash-Kalvinator, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Simplicity Pattern, Spool Cotton, Standard Brands, United States Rubber, and Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

Cooperation is also provided by the Illinois Central, North Western, Rock Island and Milwaukee Railroads, Proctor Electric Co., Spinnery Yarn, Toni Co., and Wm. Wrigley, Jr., Co. and Gene Autry.

Oil companies collaborating include American Oil, General Petroleum, Pan-Am Southern, Pure Oil, Standard Oil Foundation, Inc. (Chicago), Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky), The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Stanolind Oil and Gas, and Utah Oil Refining.

Individual donors include The President of the United States, Mrs. Charles E. Walgreen, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson and Conrad Hilton.

"So fundamental and significant are the accomplishments of the 4-H Clubs that their principles have been accepted and initiated in more than 30 countries around the world," said G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee. "This is a splendid record," he continued, "considering that at the same time there has been consistent growth and a stronger foundation of sturdy citizenship laid at home. In part, this accounts for the growing support of 4-H by our agricultural and industrial leaders."

The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable established upon these principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

Ways Of Whipping Cost-Price Squeeze

College Station.—Texas farms and ranches produce commodities for consumption, but due to declining prices farmers have been caught in a cost-price squeeze.

The purchasing power of farm prices for all products a year ago was 103 per cent of parity. Today, the national average is 92 per cent. With agricultural prices trending downward, C. H. Bates, farm management specialist, says it is more important today than before to avoid costly haphazard methods of production.

It is expected that production outlays including cost of machinery, fuel, feed, fertilizer and labor will gradually decline with farm prices, Bates says. But, while this adjustment is coming about, he adds, the State's agriculturists are suffering a hardship and less efficient operators feel the pinch more than others.

What steps can farmers take to broaden the gap between outlay and production?

First, says Bates, study market reports and livestock information to benefit from wise selling and more profitable marketing.

Use moderate judgment and look for places to cut expenses. Don't overlook the use of machinery to save labor costs, but buy the design of machine suited to specific needs. Wages now are four times as high as in 1941. In comparison, he points out, farm machinery has only doubled in price.

Use credit to the best advantage, but use it wisely.

Don't operate your farm with too much labor and machinery. All too often lower unit costs can be gained by handling more land or keeping the maximum number of livestock that can be handled.

Take advantage of price supports where they are available.

Keep a complete set of records. Farming is a business and deserves the best managerial practices, Bates says.

"And, don't be afraid to make changes," Bates concludes. "Don't be the last to accept new and improved agricultural practices."

50,000,000th Telephone Presented to President Eisenhower Wednesday

The number of telephones in the United States reached 50,000,000 Wednesday.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower took part in a brief ceremony at the White House commemorating this communication milestone. The symbolic 50,000,000th telephone was presented to the Chief Executive in recognition of the fact that he is head of the first nation to achieve such a number of telephones.

Walter G. Wright, president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, which operates the local exchange, pointed out that in this country there is now a telephone for one of every three persons, as compared with one for every sixty-eight persons outside the United States. "General Telephone Company of the Southwest," he said, "serves approximately 163,000 telephones within its own operating area."

The presentation was made to President Eisenhower on behalf of the telephone industry by Warren B. Clay, president of the United States Independent Telephone Association, and Cleo F. Craig, president of American Telephone and Telegraph Company (Bell System).

This telephone was especially inscribed to mark its significance and will be turned over to the Smithsonian Institute. Wednesday it was installed at the President's desk.

Mrs. Effie Keith Dies After a Few Weeks Illness Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Effie Keith, 70, a resident of Brownfield since 1928, who died about 8:15 p.m. Friday, in the local hospital, were conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday, in the Northside Baptist Church.

The Rev. A. J. Franks, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. E. L. Cave. Burial was in Brownfield Cemetery under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Mrs. Keith had been ill several weeks.

Survivors include two daughters Mrs. Edna Burns, Brownfield; and Mrs. Ima Bogart, Fence Lake, N. M.; six sons, Ralph, Clyde, Lloyd, Johnnie and J. C., all of Brownfield; and J. D., of Midland; and one brother, Bill Shook, San Angelo.

Weatherproofing The Soil For Rains

College Station.—Will expected fall and winter rains be beneficial or detrimental to the soil on your farm? If soil is unprotected, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, it needs weatherproofing by conditioning the soil to soak up rainfall or at least slow the run-off rate.

Soils can be "proofed" against erosion losses, he says, by providing a green blanket of protection. That blanket can be made of any closely woven cover of growing crops such as oats, winter peas or one of the other adapted legumes. Or if you do not prefer to plant legume, any compact growing crop like rye, barley or wheat will provide weatherproofing against damaging erosion, Thornton adds.

Few people question the value of weatherproofing the soil in the long run, but some ask if it will pay off next year.

The answer, points out Thornton, comes from records kept by extension service demonstrators in all sections of the State. Corn following fertilized legumes produced 36 bushels an acre against 18 bushels where corn did not follow fertilized legumes. This same method of farming showed the following year a per acre increase of 71 per cent for cotton, 63 per cent for grain sorghum, 56 per cent for wheat, 65 per cent for oats and 129 per cent for sweet potatoes.

Thornton suggests you see your county agricultural agent about weatherproofing the soil. He can help select the right winter cover crop and proper fertilizer for weaving a blanket of green on your farm.

Baumgardner's Have New Son, Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baumgardner, Brownfield, are the proud parents of a son, weighing nine pounds, born at 9:53 a.m., Saturday, in a Lubbock hospital. The father is a farmer.

A group of reporters first conceived the idea of the Linotype in 1866.

it takes $42,000,000 to keep her happy!

That's what we have invested in plant and equipment to bring you modern telephone service. And millions more are needed yearly for improvement and expansion.

But next month... when the bills roll in... compare the cost of your telephone with that of other day-to-day necessities: food, clothing, shelter.

We think you'll agree your telephone is one of your biggest bargains... a multi-million dollar giant that serves you, daily and faithfully, for only pennies!

Timely harvesting of the pecan crop not only prevents crabs, squirrels and natural deterioration from materially reducing the yield of nuts but permits growers to market a top quality product which will bring the best price.

The purchasing power of farm prices for all products a year ago was 103 per cent of parity. Today the national average is about 92 per cent. Thus the cost-price squeeze becomes even tighter for agricultural producers.

Six weeks test week!!! If we haven't had it, we'll just be getting it worse at mid-term. Only, this six weeks has been awfully mixed up. Tuesday morning, we had an assembly, had the club pictures made for the annual, and got out at 2:30 in the afternoon because the teachers had to go to school (believe it or not), and on Thursday, another assembly—Mr. Haboush, a former Galilean shepherd, presented a movie and "appropriate" remarks, but you have probably seen him on TV and already know about him.

In keeping with Al Capp's Sadie Hawkins' Day, Janelle Lewis, Ann Lee Jones, and Pat Kelly gave a Sadie Hawkins' party at the Esquire last Saturday night. Of course, like it is in the funny paper, the girls invited the boys, took them to the party, opened the door for the boys, and had to have really good manners for the very special occasion. The highlight of the evening was a scavenger hunt. They all piled into the cars, six at a whack, and started out hunting various deals, such as a red ant, a feather, a biscuit, etc. Ann Lee Jones and Skeet Whitley got the prize for the best costumed. The girls had to sew patches on the boys with a very, very small needle and a piece of fishing cord. It surely was hard to get that big piece of string into such a small eyed needle.

Some of the Saturday night dates were Howard Swan and Bobby Brown, both exes of BHS, Bobby Fielder and Rebecca Herndon, Mery Alice Moore, of Wellman, and Preston Drake; Linda Briscoe and Cecil Baker; Myrna Lindsey and Alvin Merrill; Don Pendergrass and Patsy Hulse, both of Meadow; Pauletta Gracey and Glenn Sargent, both of Union; and Ann Gibson and Donald Hancock, also of Union.

Vona Patton gave a dinner party, Sunday at noon for Demeris Little and Odell Brumley, Annette Barnes and Billy Nipp, and Clyde Chambliss to celebrate Annette's birthday. Demeris said that it was the first time she had ever baked a cake that turned out to be good. After eating to their content, or maybe extent, the group all went to the show.

Some of the Sunday daters were Gloria Angus and Dicky Green; Beverly Wartes and Jack Stricklin; Ruth Woods and A. C. Oliver; Kay Dremann and Tommy Winn; and Betty Hahn and Edward Ellis.

Ann Dupre, from Levelland, was Ginger Gunn's guest over the week end, and while she was here, Ginger gave a Tripoli party. Tripoli is a game on the order of Monopoly—with poker chips on a board. Her guests were Billy Mack Herod, Jimmy Collins, Billy Mack's friend from Andrews, who spent the week end with him; Lolly Bryant, Charles Gunn, Carole Jacobs, John Hill and Ann.

Some more of the "out-of-towners" now home over the week end were Glenn Sargent, Orville Miller, Landra Milner, Don Tankersley, and Kay Brown.

Last night, the high school Sunday School class of the Church of Christ had a party in the vacant parsonage. The mothers provided

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

The Old He was both puzzled and amused at an article that appeared on the front page of the Lubbock daily, Monday. A lady, said to be a descendant of Gov. Lubbock, for whom Lubbock city and county were named, and presently Mrs. Mary Lasswell, an author of a book or books, was interviewed by an Avalanche staff writer, Pat Edwards. The writer stated she lived at Brownfield way back when, but it took so long to go to Lubbock, she never made the trip, from Brownfield to Lubbock.

What first made us suspicious was that the lady stated that there was so much Spanish spoken in her town at the time, that she too, spoke that language, mostly. Well, we have been here to within 4 1/2 years since Brownfield became a town, and know others here that remember when where the city now stands, was a ranch, and in all that time the people here mostly spoke "Tex" not "Mex." So, we decided that the lady or the interviewer got Brownsville, 600 miles south, mixed up with Brownfield.

But speaking of taking a long time to make the trip between Lubbock and Brownfield, it almost took us as long to get back home from Lubbock as it would take ordinarily to go from Lubbock to Brownsville. We got caught up there in that big snow of December, 1918, and the main means the food and they entertained themselves with silly games.

Betty Faye Dawson, Linda White, Sammy Kendrick, Johnny Montgomery, and "Moe" Aven went to Amarillo last Sunday to see Herbie and Sammy's mother. Herbie was there from SMU but returned soon after they left.

P. S. Don't forget to get your tickets for the Old Plantation banquet next Tuesday night at the First Baptist Church.—Jane.

of transportation at that time was Uncle John Santa Fe's mixed train. We were to come home Monday, but the snow was so deep on the track that the train did not run.

After cleaning off the track Monday, it was announced the train would run Tuesday, and that was Christmas Eve, and we were supposed to be in to play Santa to Jr., then 5 years old. At that time the train "slept" at Seagraves instead of Lubbock, and the round trip took all day at best. The snow was some 22 inches on a dead level, but Tuesday night, way after dark, when the train arrived in Brownfield, the engine stopped somewhere about the Main Street crossing, and the passenger car was down about the watering place. We got off, as at that time our home was less than a half block away, and of course we stepped into a drift in the "cut" that came up to our shoulders. But we got in and played Santa Claus.

Well, they "didn't cut down the old pine tree," but that fellow, Grady Goodpasture, is having one of the old landmarks of the town torn down. It is the old home of Uncle Tom and Aunt Lou DeShazo, and so far as we know the only concrete block home ever built here. Evidently Grady thinks the space it took near his elevators, would be worth more for other buildings.

Anyway, along about 1912, those fine old people decided to move from Gomez to Brownfield. Arthur Sawyer came by and told us that the old home was being dismantled, and we just drifted in to talking. It was our memory that some of the blocks were made with "blow sand," while part of them were built by sinking a shaft some 15 or 20 feet to the sands that in pre-historic days, was the Lost Draw river bed. And it was a river, as there were various shells, such as mussels, etc., in the sands. They moved in the large 2-story residence, which at that time looked quite imposing in our city. But when Goodpasture built his huge elevators a few years ago, it so dwarfed the old house that one would hardly notice it.

But in those days, Aunt Lou kept quite a number of the eligible bachelors as boarders and roomers, such as Dock Powell, Henry French, and two others who have been gone many years. Aunt Lou considered these boys as her own, and she reserved the right to boss or pet them as the occasion demanded. So, one night as the quartet started home down what is now Broadway, they decided that Henry should pull a drunk on Aunt Lou. The others guided the "drunk" to the home. She chided the "inebriated one" a bit, as they led him up the steps, and one called down that a glass of rich sweet milk might help. This was provided.

But finally Aunt Lou heard them laughing and jesting, and slipped up the steps to find there was no drunk, and that they had taken her for a rich glass of almost pure cream. So, she brought the old broom into full play and scattered the bachelors—some not returning for supper, and until Aunt Lou went to bed. She seemed OK next morning. No more tricks. But the old landmark is making way for progress.

You may talk about your car wrecks and blowouts and turn-overs that kill and maim, but there is still something that causes people to go berserk and flee for a hideout faster than any car can accomplish. According to a newspaper dispatch from Bonham, a team of horses became frightened in that city recently and tore off down a street, and scattered people right and left.

This recalls the early days here of our cowboy hero, Luke Huckabee. Just let a team run away, and Luke would either outrun them, and stop them by grabbing a rein of one of the nags, or climb in the back of the wagon if the lines were still tied to the front end, or even mount one of the horses.

But we have seen him stop a few runaways and heard of others. And AMONG BROWNFIELD OIL SERVICE COMPANIES EXECUTIVES is Keith Snedeker, area service manager for Kobe, Inc. His district extends from the Kansas line to the Rio Grande River and branches from the New Mexico-Arizona border to the east edge of Stonewall County, Texas. He became manager in 1951 here in Brownfield and has been with the company 10 years, having moved here in 1944 from Oklahoma City, and has been in the oil business since 1926, starting at an oil field in Iran, Texas. The company installs and services hydraulically operated oil well pumps, servicing 1,250 in this area and there are more of these type pumps operated in Terry County than any other type. Mr. Snedeker supervises 13 employees and the company has other stores at Hobbs, Snyder, and Odessa. At the local business, they train field service men and send them out to the various locations. The company as a whole has equipment operating in every oil production section in the United States. Mr. Snedeker and his wife and children that are at home, Sharon, 12, Keith, 11, 9, and Mary Jo, 7, live at 507 East Buckley. The couple also have two other children, Mrs. Ann Thomas, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mrs. Catherine Allmon, of Greenville, S. C. Mr. Snedeker, pictured above in his office at 214 S. 5th, is a national member and past officer of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Inc., which holds meetings in Lubbock. the other, "The Red Menace." This will be part of a "Great Issues" series of lectures by well known national speakers.

Much has been written and said about previous leanings of the Bishop toward leftwingers, and some have said that he actually endorsed and was a member of some pink hued organizations in the past. However, we hope the Bishop has learned his lesson, and strives in the future to avoid that very appearance of evil.

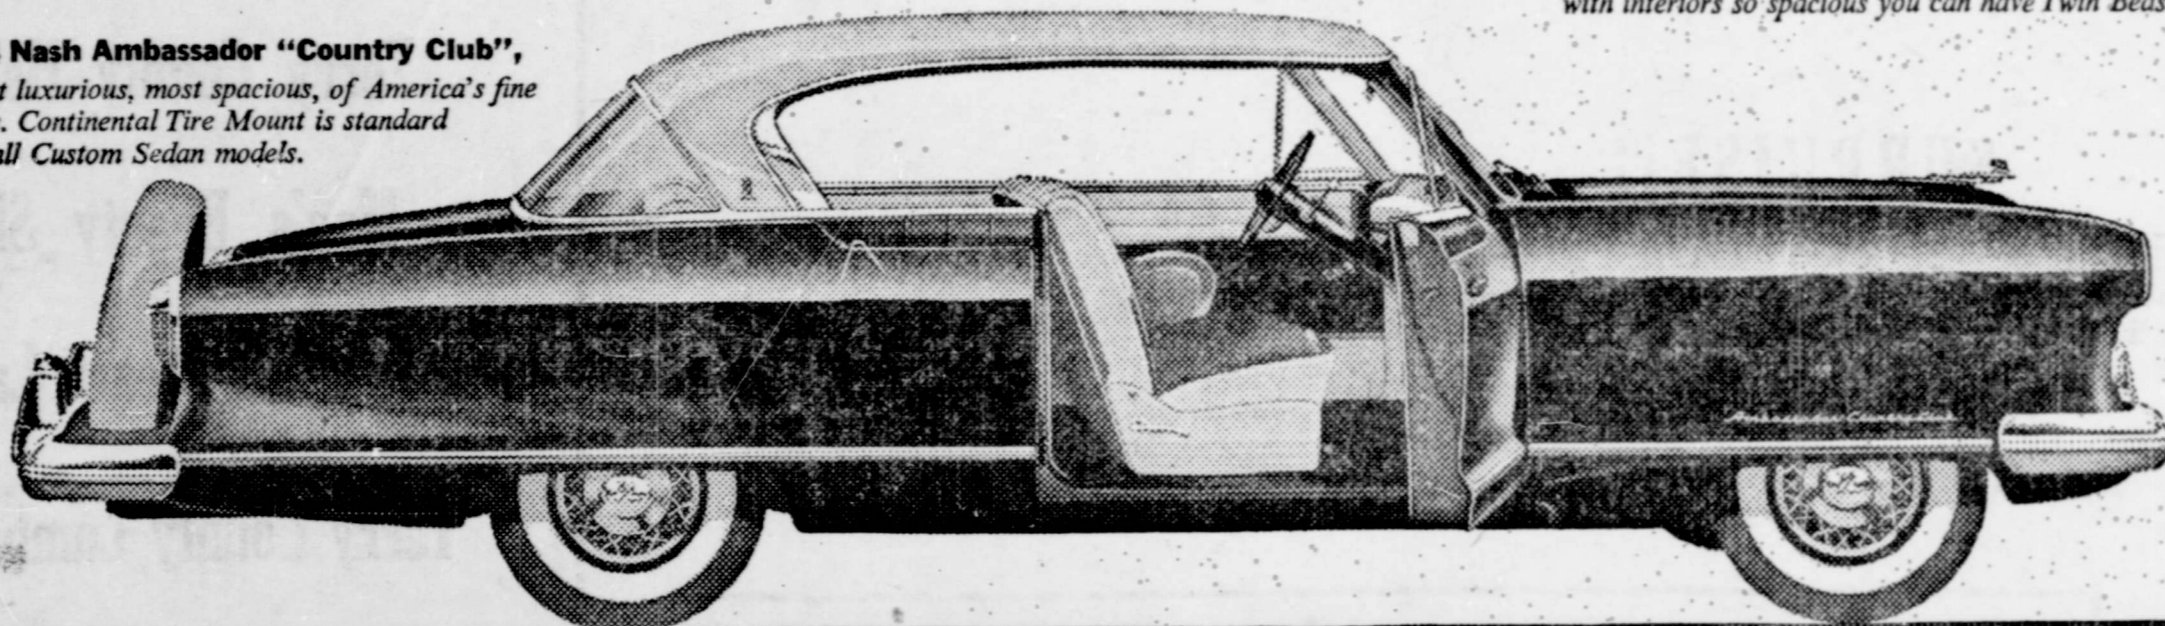

The taxpayers of Texas have spent a lot of money for higher education of our young people, and we hope they are taught good citizenship the American way and not the Stalin way. As a man thinketh, so is he. In the USA, most of us believe that God and Christ teach righteousness, but Stalinism thinks the Bible is a myth, but the true American believes the old book was inspired.

We sometimes wonder if all of us really believe in "freedom," especially freedom to choose. We were satisfied until a few years ago that this was a fact, but are we drifting? Now the big Unions demand that a person must belong to the union if he works, and they have already put it over so far as railroads are concerned.

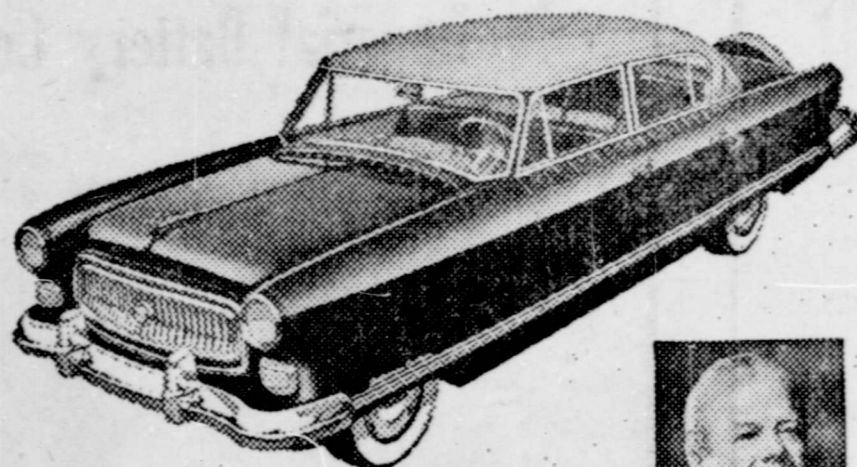

Lots of people don't believe in unions, and don't want to belong. But what can they do? If you ask us, this is just a form of tyranny, any way you view it. We believe that unions should exist; further, we believe they have been a great aid to working folks. But when it comes to belonging to them or you don't work, we part company.

Radar May Be Used To Measure Rainfall

Austin.—Radar measurements of rainfall soon will give farmers and ranchers a better idea of how much rainfall they can depend on, scientists at a national conference at the University of Texas said.

The electronic device, developed during World War II to detect enemy aircraft and ships, can be modified to measure rain with much greater accuracy than standard rain gauges, Glenn E. Stout of the Illinois State Water Survey told the conference.

The greater accuracy and speed of rain measurements by radar will help engineers build more efficient dams and will reveal flash floods quicker so reservoir levels may be lowered in time to catch flood waters, Stout said.

He pointed out that a major factor in improving Texas' water situation could be the storage and use of the 85 per cent of Texas rainfall which many engineers estimate runs into the Gulf of Mexico. A single rain-measuring radar set can cover an area with a radius of from 30 to 100 miles, Stout declared.

equipment is expected to delay for several years the establishment of a national network. However, scientists expressed the hope that other uses of such equipment would make such a network feasible.

In other conference reports, scientists told how radar and other electronic devices may be used to detect tornadoes, hurricanes and other major weather disturbances more efficiently. The conference combined the American Meteorological Society's national meeting with gatherings of four other organizations.

Some Texas Farm Crops Decline As Much As 20 Percent

Austin.—Texas farm income continued to decline in September, falling 20 per cent below the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Livestock and livestock products, recently leaders in the downward trend, were 18 per cent lower than a year ago. Slight gains for dairy products (2 per cent) and poultry and eggs (1/2 per cent) offset losses for meat animals (1 per cent) and wool (2 per cent).

In the first nine months of this year, total farm income in Texas was 18 per cent below the same 1952 period. January-September, 1953, income was $1,133,527,000 or $249,712,000 less than in 1952.

However, showing increases during the first nine months of 1953 were oats, up 47 per cent (from $6,357,000 to $9,343,000), and rice, up 44 per cent. Flaxseed rose 24 per cent, an increase of $756,000.

A Child's Food Needs Important

Austin.—In speaking about the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. C. Cox, State Health Officer, emphasized the importance of a well rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well nourished child enjoys life because he is physically fit.

Stressing the importance to health of an adequate and well balanced diet, Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination regular and sleep is sound and untroubled.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums firm and pink," Dr. Cox said.

That finicky appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indi-icates a possible malnutrition and the child should see the family physician. Poor appetite can also mean the beginning of an illness and possibly that the child does not require as much food as he is being urged to eat.

Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox included milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish or cheese, cereal and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations are important in winter and early spring but should be prescribed by the family physician.

GI LOANS FOR KOREAN VETS

Many veterans who served after June 27, 1950, may qualify for VA guaranteed or insured loans to purchase homes, farms and businesses under practically the same conditions that applied to the GI loan program for World War II veterans.

To be eligible for a GI loan, the veteran must have a discharge or separation papers under conditions other than dishonorable. He may have served in military service any place in the world at a time on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to the end of the present emergency (a date to be established later). He must have served at least 90 days unless discharged sooner by reason of disability. The purpose for the GI loan program is to encourage lenders to make loans to eligible veterans with minimum down payments and at reasonable interest rate, due to the fact that the government guarantees or insures a part of the loan. Generally speaking, the GI loan is set up to purchase, construct or improve homes, to buy a farm, farm land, stock feed and seed, farm machinery and other farm supplies or equipment, or to buy a business or otherwise enable the veteran to undertake or expand in a business venture. However, it has been our experience that the majority of the lenders will not make business loans or will not make loans to veterans to buy farms, stock, feed, farm machinery, etc.

DIRECT LOANS

There are many areas throughout Texas where lenders are not available to veterans and therefore a direct loan program has been set up by the VA. The VA can under certain circumstances make a limited number of direct government loans in areas where veterans are unable to secure loans through private mortgage financing at 4 1/2 per cent. The direct loan from the VA, however, may only be used to build or improve a farm house. The direct loan may not be made for business loan purposes under any circumstances.

Thrill Maker from start to stop (That's T.T. Dynaflo!)

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response — with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration — where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop — the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed — the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflo?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised — and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

Thanksgiving Luncheon Enjoyed By 43 Members And Guests of Maids-Matrons

Madrigal Singers Have Good Program To Present Nov. 24

The Cen-Tex Music Club of Brownfield has completed plans for a concert to be given by the Texas Tech Music department, Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, at the Brownfield auditorium at 8 p.m.

The program will be of interest to all age groups and tastes as it is to be presented in the form of a variety show of good music. Featured in the concert will be the Madrigal singers from Tech, who have become very popular in this area and in the various tours they have taken. The group is composed of four young women and four young men, and they appear in beautiful costumes of the Elizabethan period. The Madrigal songs themselves are a selection of love songs that were written in the years 1400-1600, and are sung a cappella. This group is directed by Robert A. Elson, who recently took over the group on the departure of Ira Schantz from Tech. Besides the Madrigal songs, a group of contemporary music will also be given by the group in modern evening dress.

Another feature of the program will be the performance of Mr. Elson, who has a very fine baritone voice, and Herbert Colvin, doing three piano numbers. Mr. Colvin is an instructor of piano at Tech, and has done numerous appearances in concerts in this area. In concluding the program, two young groups from the Madrigal singers have formed themselves into barbershop quartettes, and have some very amusing numbers.

Admission for the concert will be $1.00 for adults, 50c for students over twelve. Proceeds will be used toward a Texas Tech scholarship for some Brownfield student. Tickets are on sale by all Music Club members, and may be purchased at the door.

Lowell Stephens left Friday for Hot Springs to bring his wife back home. Mrs. Stephens has been receiving treatment there for the past 10 days.

Turn a sandwich snack into party fare by serving triple deckers of ham and cheese from a revolving lazy susan tray in the company of cool, sparkling beer.

No one wants to spend hours in the kitchen during the warm-weather months. Even for guests, you don't have to if you entertain casually and informally.

For a luncheon or light supper snack that can be served anywhere it's convenient—be it indoors or out, from card table or coffee table—serve these Lazy Susan Sandwiches. The eye-catching garnish resembling brown-eyed susans is made easily from carrot strips and whole black olives.

1/2 teaspoon prepared horseradish

8 slices whole wheat bread
4 slices white bread
4 slices ham or tongue
4 slices Swiss or American cheese

He Practices What He Preaches Daily

In the Texas Baptist News Letter we receive weekly from Dallas, the last one relates that a manufacturer, employing some 125 people in his plant at Greenville, Texas, really practices in his factory what he preaches Sunday. The man is a deacon in the First Baptist Church, that city.

At a given time, a buzzer sounds, the employees turn around in their seats, and they sing a few hymns, followed by prayer. Then the owner steps forward smiling and asks how each is feeling, makes a few announcements, and asks for suggestions.

Well, what is the objection to that plan? In this way both the employer and employees are singing praises to and asking the blessings of the Giver of all good things. Employees get paid for time used in the services.

SEVEN CIRCLES OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH STUDY SUFFERING IN KOREA

"Advance Through Suffering in Korea" was the topic of the general meeting of the seven circles of the First Baptist Church at 4 p.m., Monday, in the auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Bill Neal was chairman of the program, which began with the group singing "Faith of Our Fathers," and devotional readings by Mrs. L. G. Moore, from Hebrews 11:32-40, and I Corinthians 3:13-15.

The various topics discussed were "Baptist Beginning in Korea—1893" by Mrs. Bob Thurston; "Early Korean Baptist Outreach—1908," Mrs. Mack Ross; "Persecution of Christians, 1910-1953," Mrs. Neal; "Korean Baptist Martyrs—1950," Mrs. Bill Cope; and "Baptist Work Today," Mrs. E. E. Preston. The program ended with the group singing "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," and a dismissal prayer. Fifty-nine ladies attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gunn and Charles and Ginger visited last week with Bro. and Mrs. T. J. Finley in Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Packard and son, of Gregston, Texas, are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith. Mrs. Packard is the former Elizabeth Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black have returned from a short visit in the mountains of New Mexico, where they went deer hunting.

Ten local men left here Saturday for a week of deer hunting in the mountains just out of Junction, Texas. Included in the group are Jack Bailey, J. B. Knight, Kyle Graves, E. C. (Doc) Davis, M. G. Tarpley, Arlie Lowmire, Ches Gore, P. R. Cates, Frank Szydlowski, and Tobe Howze.

LOOKING AHEAD

GEORGE S. BENSON
GIVING CAPITALISM
YOUTH APPEAL

The cloak and dagger aspects of Communism and the glittering but false promises of Socialism make fascinating subjects for high school and college discussions. On the other hand, the bare facts of capitalism or the American economic system usually are not as interestingly presented. Imagination and experimentation are needed in our schools if we are to bring to life for youngsters the truly exciting facts about our American economic system.

At the Harding College Freedom Forum last week a high school social science teacher and a personnel relations director of a lumber company in Warren, Ark., told how they had worked together to make the facts about American capitalism a fascinating high school subject. They were Marion Higginbottom, of the Warren High School faculty, and William Craven, personnel director for Southern Lumber Company. Higginbottom is a Hardin College graduate. Craven attended a Harding Freedom Forum 18 months ago. Last year they got together in some community Americanism work and in time got to discussing Higginbottom's "Problems in Democracy" course for high school seniors.

Appeal Missing

"One of the weakest parts of the course," Higginbottom told our Freedom Forum conferees from 25 states, "was the presentation of Capitalism, Socialism and Communism fascinated the youngsters, although I was exposing the evil nature of the intrigue and the miserable economic results of either Communism or Socialism. But when we got to capitalism something was missing. We had the cold hard facts but the fascination for youth wasn't there."

Bill Craven came up with an idea. Why not use his company as a laboratory of capitalism, take the high school seniors to it and let them study it in action, its system of doing business, its problems, its benefits to the employees and owners, and its social worth to the community. Higginbottom went to the local school heads and Craven to his company's management for permission to conduct the experiment. Permission was granted.

At The Plant

For two weeks the high school "Problems in Democracy" class spent two periods per day at Southern Lumber Company. They saw a graphic presentation of the history of the lumber industry; how in days gone by it was a cut-and-get-out operation; but how, in recent years, the lumber people had discovered how to grow trees as a crop and make lumbering stable and permanent. They visited the sawmill and planer mills, the sales offices and by-products operations. They went into the pine woods and saw scientific forestry being practiced.

Then Higginbottom and Craven took them into the plant's personnel training rooms and "sold" the company to the students for $2,500,000, issuing 25,000 shares of stock. A "president," "vice president" and two other "directors" were appointed. Bill Craven acted as their company manager. He placed $250,000 in simulated currency on the director's table and told the "owners" this was their profit for one year. Everybody wanted to declare a dividend at once!

Good Results

But Craven described a debarking machine which the company needed. He told the "owners" it would cost $150,000 to purchase it and operate it for one year, but that it would permit sale of bark chips which currently were being burned as waste. It was a genuine business problem. The high school seniors were brought directly to grips with the pros and cons of the investment, the natural inclination toward declaring dividends, the factors of business taxes, prices and wages, sales competition, depreciation, inflation and all the other problems confronting American business. They had fun learning.

"For a time," Bill Craven told our Forum audience, "these youngsters became a part of the American business system, an element in capitalism—they became capitalists." Tests then were given. Results showed the class scored 50 per cent above the national average for high school seniors in "understanding Capitalism."

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH, located at the corner of North Fifth and West Ripley, started meeting in Brownfield in the spring of 1932, in a tabernacle located where the West Texas Motors is now situated. In the fall of '32, the congregation moved to the building where Primm Drug is located, and from there they moved to their present location. In 1940, the old building was torn down to make way for the red brick building, which is now in use. The Church's first preacher was Bro. McGinn, and the present pastor is Bro. Elmer Corouth. In March, a ready-built house was moved to 417 West Ripley, where the Tylers live. They have seven children, who are Verna, 19, Rayburn 17, E. L. Jr., 15, Marce 13, Juanita 8, Ronnie 2, and Martha, 2 months. Sunday School attendance at the Church is approximately 100, and Church attendance is about the same. The first Sunday of each month, the Sunday School money is sent to their missionary, Quinton Shortes, formerly from this district, in Guatemala, South America. (Staff Photo).

WATER IS THE QUESTION MARK

NEXT TUESDAY, THE 24TH OF NOVEMBER

The Qualified Voters of Brownfield will be called upon to approve or reject Brownfield's entrance into the Canadian River Authority Water District. It will not be a question of how the $85,000,000 cost is to be paid, where we will get the money, or the kind of construction. The vote presently will be—Shall we become a part of the CRA district?

SOME THINGS TO REMEMBER

Way back in the 20ties, Lubbock got Tech College, promising an abundance of water, which they had at that time, before irrigation started. Now no water to speak of can be had on the campus. Further, the Lubbock city wells, way out near Shallowater, are pumping only 50 percent of what they did when drilled. Irrigation has lowered the water level many feet. Early in the 1940ties, when we were raising so much grain here, we thought we had located a huge alcohol plant to process the large grain crops. They liked the town and the location, but asked about water. "It is underground," they were told. The manufacturers decided that something could happen to the water supply. They didn't put in the plant here.

for domestic water are dry, or have had to be drilled deeper, and with the increase in irrigation, many of them will fail. And the wells in our town will fail or become weak.

NO WATER IN THE CANADIAN RIVER?

This has been sprung many times, and the water does get low in the river of dry years. But we saw a photo in the Lubbock Avalanche lately that showed the wide stream to be bank full, at or near the proposed dam site. US Army engineers say the project is feasible. Water is a question that is bothering all Texas. Some estimate that 85 percent of the rainfall in Texas, goes into the Gulf, and is lost forever. Just in the past few years, many sites on the Rio Grande, Colorado, Brazos, and Trinity, as well as other rivers have been dammed. Texans are determined to keep their water; not let it run into the Gulf.

VOTE YOUR SENTIMENT—BUT VOTE!

We, the undersigned business and professional men of Brownfield, believe that our city should be a participant in the proposed water district. And we ask you to study the matter. Ask your neighbor, who has kept posted on the formation of the district.

New Sign For Church

A new highway sign has been erected by the Wellman Baptist Brotherhood, for the church. This sign will be read by people passing through our little town and will be an invitation for those traveling to come by and worship as well as a constant reminder to our own people to come to church. The sign is located just north of the Parsonage, facing the north on the first curve coming from the north.

Remodelling of the Intermediate and Junior departments of the Baptist Sunday School has been completed, making more rooms. Every improvement is for the betterment of the community spiritually. A cordial welcome is extended to every one in Wellman territory, who are not going to the church of their choice, the pastor stated.

FRESHMEN SET A NEW RECORD FOR PENALTIES; 7TH LOSES CLOSE GAME

FRESHMEN CLAIM NEW RECORD FOR PENALTIES, DRAWING 350 YARDS

The Brownfield Freshmen wish to claim a record established in their game with Andrews. They drew 350 yards of penalties, scored 5 times, having 3 touchdowns called back, gaining better than 700 yards on the ground, and ending up with a total score of 16 to 0. The penalties were for outrageous fouls, such as the centers shaking his head, the wingbacks lining up too close to the line of scrimmage (it's legal for him to be on the line if he wishes), and illegal receiver down the field. One penalty was for 10 yards (I'm sorry we can't tell you the foul for this penalty as there is no 10-yard penalty in the rule book).

The important thing is that Brownfield won their final victory of the season. The play began with Jenkins' kick to the 20-yard line, which was brought back to the 40. The second play, an Andrews fumble, was recovered by Chambliss. After the next four downs, the down box read, first down and 50 yards to go. Brownfield having received three 15-yard penalties. Amazingly enough, they made a first down. Then Jackie Meeks plunged over from his own 9 for the TD. Odom carried for the extra point.

Jenkins' kick was returned to the 42. Andrews failed to make a first and the kick goes into the end zone. Cubs ball, first and 10, on their own 20. In 3 downs they drove to the Andrews 40. Thus ended the first quarter. Score, 7-0.

Brownfield drove to the Andrews

11. Then, the next 7 downs, Brownfield drew 7 penalties. Andrews took over on their own 20, the first down from scrimmage they are thrown for a 15-yard loss; the second down they are tackled behind their own goal line, giving Brownfield a touchback and 2 points. Andrews kicked from the 20. Their kick returned from the 25. The next series of nine downs Brownfield nets a minus 15 yards, due to 6 penalties. The half ends with Brownfield on the Andrews 35. Score 9-0.

Brownfield received on their own 15 and ran the ball back to the 35. They made a first down, then drew a 30 yard penalty in a series of 3 downs they have driven to the Andrews 18. A pass from Moore intended for Hamilton is intercepted by Andrews. Andrews again fumbles and the Cubs take over on the Andrews 42. Meeks skirts the left end for 33 yards. Jackie Meeks hits his own right end for the TD. Pass from Moore to Hamilton is good for the extra point.

Brownfield kicks but Andrews cannot make a first down. Thus ends the third quarter, 16-0.

Andrews is forced to kick. However, the kick is fumbled and Andrews recovers. A series of passes bring them down to the Brownfield 15. Brownfield draws a penalty which puts them on their own 5-yard line. They hold Andrews and take over from the 5. The remainder is a series of long gains and long penalties. Score, 16-0. The entire team played very outstanding ball and never lost their spirit in spite of the heavy penalties they were assessed.

SEVENTH GRADE LOSES CLOSE GAME WITH THE ANDREWS TEAM; 14-13

Brownfield Seventh Grade lost their game to Andrews with a score of 14-13. This brings their record to 6 wins and 2 losses.

They returned the kick to the 18 and drove to the Andrews 40 in a series of 9 downs. Andrews took over and in a series of 9 downs had made a TD, the extra point also good. The next kick is returned to the 30 and in a series of 10 downs, the Cubs have scored. Patrick carries. The attempt for extra point failed. They kicked and Andrews cannot move the ball and are forced to kick. Willis runs a 70-yard broken field touchdown. It is called back, however, backfield in motion. Thus ends the half. Score, 7-6.

The second half begins with Mitchell's kick to the 30. Andrews drives to the 40. The Cubs return the punt to their own 30. However, a fumble gives Andrews the ball on the Cubs 32. They drive it over for a touchdown. The extra point made by Patrick.

The Andrews kick is run back to the 25. The Cubs drive to Andrews' 30. They lose the ball on downs. However, they hold Andrews and take over on Andrews' 40. From there they drive over for the touchdown, Leon Hinson carrying from the 18. Extra point made by Patrick.

Patrick is removed from the game in the middle of the third quarter. The fourth quarter shows no score for either side and the game ends, 14-13, in favor of Andrews.

BRONCHOS CLINCH 4-B TITLE; BEAT LORENZO 39 TO 0

The Meadow Bronchos, running behind rugged line play, clinched the District 4-B conference title at Lorenzo, Friday night, as they downed the hapless Lorenzo Hornets, 39-0.

Following a scoreless first quarter, the Bronchos came back early in the second period to begin their touchdown parade on a 55-yard touchdown run through the line by Fullback J. W. Eubanks. End Larry Lockett booted the extra point.

Halfback Dale Fulford added a second Broncho tally on a 40-yard run through the line to paydirt. Lockett again converted. Making their half-time lead an even 20-0, Meadow scored again when Eubanks carried seven yards over center.

Not content with their convincing lead, the Bronchos returned in the second half to add two touchdowns in the third period and a final tally in the fourth. Fulford carried for seven yards and six points on the initial second-half touchdown. Lockett's conversion was good. Eubanks picked up his third tally of the night on a one-yard plunge.

Halfback Manuel Gareis ended the scoring with a 15-yard carry through center. Meadow backs Fulford and Eubanks led the backfield, which was aided by near-perfect blocking and tackling from the line.

Lorenzo threatened to score three times, but was unable to reach the end zone. Early in the first period, Linebacker Jerry Roberts recovered a Meadow fumble on the Broncho five-yard line, but the Hornets were unable to move and lost the ball on downs. In the second period, Hargrove took a Broncho kick on his own goal line and ran the ball back 90 yards. But the mighty Broncho line again held and the Hornets failed to score.

At the beginning of the second half, Tackle Harold Pierot recovered another Meadow fumble on the Broncho 22-yard line. The Hornets, still unable to move, relinquished the ball on downs after moving it to the 12-yard line.

About 500 spectators witnessed the clash between Coach Gene Tyler's Meadow eleven and Coach J. A. Williams' luckless Hornets. Meadow picked up 14 first downs and 323 yards rushing to only six downs and 218 yards rushing for Lorenzo. The Bronchos did not attempt to pass, realizing that their devastating ground play was paying off. Lorenzo completed two of seven passes for 11 yards.

The game marked Lorenzo's fourth defeat against two wins in conference play, while the Bronchos remained undefeated in the district.

Meadow meets Frenship tonight at 8 p.m., at Meadow, which will also serve as Meadow's Homecoming game.

THE E. C. THROOPS VISIT US BRIEFLY

Had a surprise call from a couple who left Brownfield 12 years ago, lived in South Texas for a few years, and the rest of the time in the mountainous and mining section of Colorado. The couple was Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Throop, and we might add that he was local manager of the telephone company all the time he spent here. To say the least, Mr. and Mrs. Throop could not get over the growth Brownfield has made in the past 12 years. Said he just couldn't get located where he was.

The Throops have had a general store and tourist court at Creed, Colo., for the past six years, and they had done well, but that the work meant seven days per week, and a lot of midnight calls. They do not have a very heavy business after the tourist season, and are out looking for a business with shorter hours. Mr. Throop explained that long hours for a man 70 years of age, was too much.

They will visit San Angelo and the Lower Valley of Texas, looking for a business that suits them. Mr. Throop added that it was just possible they might find something right here in Brownfield that suited them.

When he was sent here as manager, he had spent much time on the then new dial system, but the company thought he would make a good local manager. At that time Brownfield had just changed from the old "cranking" system to the "lift receiver" method.

Mrs. G. W. Hicks visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Caswell, of San Angelo, last week. Mrs. Caswell is Mrs. Hick's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ferguson visited with their son, Richard and wife, over the weekend. Mrs. Ferguson had recently undergone minor surgery in a Lubbock hospital. They returned to their home in Abilene, Sunday morning.

Co. Supt. Brownlee Attends Spelling Bee, Directors Meeting

E. G. Brownlee, county superintendent, was among the county directors of the 1953-54 Spelling Bees in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee region, who met and discussed plans for this year's spelling bee in a luncheon, Saturday, at Caprock Hotel in Lubbock.

County directors decided to far as possible to hold county spelling bees not later than March 20, with several bees likely to be scheduled on March 20. The deadline for county winners to be certified to the regional contest will be midnight, March 27. The second annual regional spelling bee, which will follow school and county contests in the 14-county region, will be conducted April 10 in O. L. The contest is to be open to any pupil who has not passed beyond the eighth grade at time of the bee in his or her school, except that no child who will become 16 years of age by June 1, 1954, shall be eligible. Preliminary competition may be conducted either in writing or orally, or both, or classroom champions may be designated on the basis of their daily grades. The National Spelling Bee reserves the right to conduct the national finals in Washington, D. C. orally.

The winner of the regional contest, April 10, will receive a trip to Washington, with expenses paid by the Avalanche-Journal, to attend the National Spelling Bee activities, May 17-22. The national championship contest is to be conducted May 20.

A Spelling Bee for adults, as an added feature, again was scheduled and is to be conducted immediately following the official bee. It will be open to any adults wishing to participate in the 14-county region.

Prizes in the regional bee, in addition to the trip to Washington for the first place winner, will be: a 24-volume set of Encyclopedia Britannica for the first place winner; possession of a rotating plaque which will be issued to the next regional champion in turn; second place prize of $20; third place, $15; fourth place, $10; and fifth place, $5; and a plaque for each county champion, which will become the permanent possession of the winners.

Date of deadline for determining the county winner will be announced later by Supt. Brownlee.

DREAMS OF GOING ABROAD COME TRUE FOR ROY WINGERD FAMILY

By Mrs. Roy Wingerd

Tourists Find Italian Coast and Bays Very Beautiful But Disappointed in Isle Of Capri Except for Grotto

Italy is a warm land and a sunny land; and the very evident poverty there seems somehow a little less grim that it would if it were complicated by extreme cold. I am aware that my statement about warmth might be contested by various American GIs who spent weary and frustrating months in the cold and dreary rain of the Italian mountains; but high mountains have ever been an exception as far as the temperature of the country roundabout is concerned.

Naples is a big sprawling city with an air of gaiety about it in spite of its poverty. Here, we heard singing in the streets and saw dancing in the open air. We arrived in the evening, and were driven to our hotel, where we were given a beautiful room overlooking the Bay of Naples. In the morning, I stepped out on our balcony, and there, at my feet, was one of the most beautiful scenes this earth affords. The blue waters rippled in the sun, and, across the bay, his head tucked into a cap of mist, was Vesuvius; that ancient mountain which is at once Italy's pride and her sorrow.

After we had seen some of the sights of the city, our special bus took us down to Salerno Beach head for a look at the site where our troops made that most courageous landing during the late and unlamented World War II.

Then we took off on what is surely the most spectacular drive I have ever known. It is called the Amalfi drive, and the excellent if narrow road cuts into the steep cliffs above the Mediterranean in giant whirls and loops, so that the traveler may look back and marvel at the places from which he has come, even as he anticipates the beauties to which he is going.

Lemon orchards cover the steep hills, and these are terraced to prevent washing, and covered to keep the hot and persistent sun from drying the fruit as it ripens. The road winds some eighty miles between Salerno and the sleepy, but lovely little resort town of Sorrento; and every mile of it is a gorgeous panorama of sky and cliffs and sea.

Sorrento was having a festival when we arrived, and a flower show was in progress in the town square. The people were strolling around dressed in their best; many with bright native costumes, and even the horses pulling the ancient surries, which take the place of taxicabs, were dressed for the occasion, wearing bright calico blinders and ear muffs, and sporting a white plume on their heads.

In the evening we went shopping and Marion and I purchased one of the beautiful inlaid wooden music boxes for which the little town is famous. I insisted on the famous old folk song "Come Back to Sorrento" because it so perfectly expressed my sentiments.

We were told that a Tarantella would be held in the town hall during the evening, and were invited to attend. Here, Italian dancers in native costume, danced not only the Tarantella, but many other folk dances of the country. This was one of the most enjoyable evenings we spent, ranking well up with the evening Gondola ride in Venice, which we had so much enjoyed.

The gardens in our hotel were simply out of this world, and we enjoyed a morning spent in them; our garden clubbers going wild over some of the varieties they growing here in such profusion. Needless to say, the trees in these gardens were lemon and lime; and the wisteria grew forty feet or more in height.

Next day we made the little steamer trip across the few miles which separates Sorrento from the Isle of Capri.

With the exception of the blue grotto, I was slightly disappointed in Capri. Perhaps I had given it too big a build-up in my imagination. It is a huge cliff, the remains of a submerged island; and around it on every side is the purple sea. Two small towns, Capri, and Anacapri, nestle, one above the other, on the steep hillsides.

For the Grotto, one must take to small row boats, manned by genial Italian bandits disguised as boatmen.

They will take you into the narrow entrance beneath the cliffs, and once you have passed in; one of God's greatest miracles is unfolded before you. There is a translucent light entering the Grotto from beneath the water; so that you seem to be in the center of a huge glowing jewel. Unfortunately, so many other boats were waiting that it was impossible to stay and enjoy the spectacle as we would have wished.

Lunch was eaten at the big resort hotel on top of the cliffs, and here we were regaled by a sight of Farouk, who had spent his honeymoon at this place, and had come back to stay, now that life in Egypt had become impossible. Already, we were hearing rumors about the coming separation of Farouk and Queen Narriman.

At the time of the death of his first wife, they lived on North 9th street, but after his second marriage, they moved to his farm in the Meadow section, and from there to Oklahoma several years ago.

The only survivor here, as far as we know, is his step-son, Joe Merritt, who is presently employed at the postoffice.

Q. In computing my income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to include the gross salary that I received on my job, or only my net take-home pay? Part of my pay is withheld for income tax and retirement.

A. You must include your gross salary—your take-home pay plus what is withheld for taxes, retirement or other reasons.

Q. When I reentered military service, I surrendered my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy for cash, and thereby became covered by the free indemnity. Will the beneficiaries I named in my NSLI policy carry over for the indemnity coverage?

Mexican Laborers Are Buying Luggage

Was up at the Knight Hardware tother day, and noting a lot of Mexicans in there trading, and that most of them had a nice piece of luggage, what we usually term a suit case. Bobby Jones explained that nearly all the Mexican Nationals bought some luggage while in the States, and about the first thing of expense they did buy, in order to have a place for their new clothing purchased from time to time.

So, when they get ready to re-cross the Rio Grande, to their own nation, they not only have a lot of nice new clothing, but a place to keep and carry their conveniently. Perhaps when they get back home, they are termed "city slickers" in a language they are familiar with.

While up at the Knight Hardware, we found that J. B. himself, was off trying to get his quota of deer while the hunting season is on.

Delegates from 139 counties voted to continue supporting wheat at not less than 90 per cent of parity with acreage control and marketing quotas in effect. The convention delegates recommended increased appropriations for an expanded research program, both at the state and national levels.

The delegates favored sending food and fibre, instead of dollars, to any country receiving US aid where agricultural products are needed. The group also endorsed reciprocal trade agreements as a means of disposing of agricultural surpluses.

Speakers at the convention included Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson; Dr. Herbert E. Stotts, professor of sociology of religion, Iliff School of Theology, Denver; and J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

City Is Invited To Have "Day" At The Fort Worth Show

Brownfield has been extended an invitation by president-manager W. R. Watt to have a special day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. Dates of the Fort Worth show are Jan. 29 through Feb. 7.

The letter received by the Chamber of Commerce states: "For 57 years now, the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show has been serving the livestock industry of this great section. The show has grown steadily through the years due to the support it has received from many individuals and cities.

"We are already putting into motion plans for the 1954 show, and it is a pleasure to extend an invitation to your city to have a special day, with your Cowgirl Sweetheart being introduced to the thousands at the rodeo, your band and other entertainers giving a program on the stage and your citizens with hatbands or ribbons publicizing your city and some civic enterprise, such as your own rodeo.

"Your community's participation and help in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show will be publicized before and during your visit, and you will all have a good time while attending the show. We will be looking for your acceptance soon."

Rev. Alvin F. Hamm

Wellman Pastor New Chairman Brownfield Baptist Association

Rev. Alvin F. Hamm, pastor of the Wellman Baptist Church, was elected chairman of the Brownfield Baptist Association Ministers monthly fellowship hour, Nov. 3, at the Wells Baptist Church. Rev. Hamm recently moved to Wellman from the First Baptist Church of Quitaque, where he was pastor for two years. Previous to Quitaque, he was pastor to the Mt. Blanco Baptist Church in Crosby County, and the Fairview Baptist Church, also of Crosby County.

Rev. and Mrs. Hamm have three children, Alvin Wesley, 15, David, 11, and Melany Karen, 10. Mrs. Hamm is very active in the church, especially with the young people, and she is also teaching high school English in the Wellman school. Much of the successful ministry of the pastor is due to the faithful work of Mrs. Hamm, the pastor said. A pastor of a small church has various and sundry duties besides the pastoral work of visiting the sick, burying the dead, marrying the young (sometimes older), and urging members to come to church. Besides this Bro. Hamm is writing news of Wellman and community for five papers, including The Herald. He substitutes at the school in teaching, driving a school bus, is publicity chairman of the PTA, and in general wherever he can be of help and is needed.

The Hammes are enjoying living in Wellman and the people are certainly fine to work with. Brownfield is a great shopping center that finds the pastor and his wife shopping each week for their daily needs in groceries, dry goods, beauty and barber shop work; and many other things. The pastor is also selling subscriptions to the Terry County Herald, so if your subscription is running out, he will be glad to renew it, or write you a new subscription. The price is awfully cheap for this paper, and everyone should take advantage of this offer while it lasts.

Senterfitt Stresses Water Problem To Fed. Women's Clubs

Austin.—Water supply has become as urgent a problem in some parts of Texas as flood control once was in other areas, Reuben Senterfitt, presiding officer of the House in the Texas Legislature, told the Federation of Women's Clubs here.

The need for more water for agriculture, for industrial expansion, and for air conditioning and sanitation in urban areas, were cited as the main reasons for the rising demands for water.

He said the State is now using about two and one-half times as much water as in 1940. "Yet the amount we use each year is only about 15 percent of the huge quantity that flows down Texas streams into the Gulf."

Making more of that water available at the right times, in the right places, Mr. Senterfitt said, is one of the biggest problems now facing the State.

"We need to strengthen further our State Board of Water Engineers, because we can no longer afford waste and misuse of the water."

He urged full cooperation by all citizens with the new Water Resources Committee set up by the last Legislature to develop a long-range water policy and conservation program for the entire State. The committee was given four years to do the job, but the law requires it to report to the Legislature on progress every six months.

Mr. Senterfitt was skeptical of relying on the Federal government to tell Texans what kind of big dams to build and where. "We need to strengthen our local governments, with both the authority and the financial resources, to go farther and faster in building small structures on tributary streams," he declared.

He reported that about 75 per cent of all agricultural flood damage occurs on these tributary watersheds rather than along major rivers. "In hundreds of instances, the same detention reservoirs that are so useful for flood control would also add to the needed water resources of small towns and communities," Mr. Senterfitt said.

He was one of the final speakers at a four-day annual meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, comprised of representatives of women's clubs throughout the State.

SMITHS VISIT POLIO-STRIKEN GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith visited last Thursday with Mrs. Smith's grandson, J. C. Andrews, 5 1/2 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. John P. Andrews, who has been suffering with bulbar polio for the past week and a half in the Plainview Hospital and Clinic Foundation.

3 High School Boys View Transit of Planet Mercury, Saturday

Three high school students viewed the transit of Mercury at 9:23 a.m., Saturday, with a 3 1/2 inch telescope owned by one of the boys.

Charles Isbell, freshman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Isbell, Rt. 1, Brownfield, an astronomy enthusiast for the past eight years, invited two of his friends, Charles Kersch, freshman; and Lin Barbee, junior, to witness the transit at his home.

Isbell became interested in astronomy when he used to visit in the country with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Ridgway, and the couple would point out star formations in the sky to him.

He hopes to organize a club here in Brownfield and he is a member of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada and enjoyed visiting the McDonald Observatory at Ft. Davis, Texas, in 1951.

Isbell's father is also interested in the science and plans, upon Charles' graduation from high school, to send him to Cal-Tech at Los Angeles for a four year study and from there to the University of Chicago for four more years astronomy study.

Charles especially enjoys his science class under the direction of R. T. Wilson, and is constantly observing planetary changes with his $29 telescope that he received last year for Christmas; and he is compiling a "scrapbook" of literature from various observatories. The freshman student works full-time taking tickets at the Rustic Drive-In.
