What with sickness in the family and a lot of fall work to do, it had been about two months since we had taken off for old Scurry and the city of Snyder, to visit the daughter and family. Herman and another one of the Snyder school principals left some two hours before we arrived at noon Saturday, to attend a convention of school men at Galveston, and wouldn't be home until thought we would be company to them during part of Herman's absence. Miss Mary Ann accompanied us, and Jr., wife and little son, Robert, came down Sunday for a few hours. However, the rest of us spent from Saturday noon to Monday morning. Went via Tahoka and Post, and returned via Gail, Draw, Wells and Newmore. Saw some fine crops enroute to and from Snyder, and some not so hot. Considering everything. though, we suppose people should rejoice that the Lord has been so good to them this year as he has. Read in the dailies just the other day where some farmer on the deep black waxy land of Central Texas, made a bale to the acre on some 90 acres of cotton last year, and would do well to

Some Road Bond Questions???

Your consideration in making your decision to vote for or against the issuance of city tax bonds, next Saturday, October 30th, 1954; will it benefit a majority of the taxpayers in all parts of Brownfield?

If highways make towns, are we to assume then, if the highway GOES through Meadow and Wellman, that they will become as large as Brownfield and Tahoka?

If you now own a house (or other property) valued at $10,000 to $20,000 in Brownfield, will voting this additional bond issue of $249,900.00 benefit your property from $200 to $400, which is your part in paying off the indebtedness? How can it increase the value of your property — if so many other towns are decreasing their property values by routing the modern highways around the edge of their cities, thereby missing the benefits of the tourists' business

Isn't it true that the costly Freeways being built in the large cities are to facilitate and speed the flow of traffic originating within their own city limits from their residential and industrial areas, thereby decreasing traffic congestions? They plan to build highway bypasses near the edge of towns for the tourist and traveling traffic.

If we vote to construct a modern highway through our town, wouldn't the prospect of increased heavy traffic create a safety hazard when passing through, to our school children?

Will the entire citizenship benefit the most in this instance? Consider the answers and vote your decision.

A Woman's View PENNY GILLHAM

I always thought in attending sports events it was proper and sense to dress for comfort and warmth. I sure feel sorry for the gals who go dressed as if they were attending a formal tea. They must have a time crawling in the bleachers in their spiked heels and best nylons. Usually, they wind up this side of an ice berg unless they happen to be wearing this year's mink. Mink should keep even the best of us warm, eh, girls?

The Paris designer, C. Dior, has lots of nerve asking women to wear clothes that demote the feminine figure and clothe it in styles that look like a towsack. Some are foolish enough to go for this so-called style. I don't go in for disguises, myself. Let's face it, a woman is a woman in spite

I sure hope the school bond election goes through. When this cold weather hits, I feel sorry for the children that have to bundle up and go into cold busses to get to a cafeteria and eat and then back into the cold, to return to their class rooms, not to mention the inconvenience of it all. This is just one of the many reasons the school bond should be pass-

Interesting sidelight of the Kermit game besides Kermit's large, impressive band with their blue lights, was a Kermit spectator, sitting on the Brownfield side, cheering madly for his team and issuing amusing side comments about his home team. It was interesting to note his confidence was wearing thin, as the Cubs, full of determination, fought every inch of the way. We expect the Cubs to continue their improvement in defensive plays they showed in the Homecoming game Friday night.

Thought for today: A pleasing voice and a pleasant smile are two great assets to any woman.

BROWNFIELD CUBS

VS

ANDREWS MUSTANGS

Here, Tonight!

Win 2 FREE Tickets for the Brownfield Cubs vs Littlefield Wildcats Game Here Nov.12th-8 p.m.

RULES—Listed at right are 10 football games to be played on Friday, November 5, and Sat, November 6. The object is to pick the winners and predict the scores. The contest is to be governed by the following rules:

NUMBER 1. Place your choice in the first blank space to right of game listed. Place your guess for losing score in blank marked (L), and your guess for winning score in blank marked (W).

NUMBER 2. Total of losing points will be subtracted from total of winning points and the difference will be compared to difference between winners and losers scores in actual outcome of games. The two closest guesses to actual total differences are winners. Where wrong team is picked for winner, points for that game will not be counted.

NUMBER 3. Entries must be received by Terry County Herald no later than Thursday, Nov. 4. Entries may be mailed or brought in person.

NUMBER 4. In the event of ties the first two entries most nearly correct shall be adjudged winners.

NUMBER 5. Only one entry from each individual shall be judged.

ENTRY BLANK

Fill in your name and address below and bring or mail to Terry County Herald, Box 752, Brownfield, Texas.

ENTER TODAY! You have as good a chance as any to be one of the two lucky winners. This is purely a guessing game. It's possible to pick only one winner, and still get the FREE TICKETS! Promptness does count!
