Andrew Weatherby, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Weatherby, 2111 Ave. D., Cisco, Texas, is completing his first year as a member of the diversified occupations class. filt it for company planes to type of work. Her present plans Andrew is receiving training as a rinter at the Cisco Daily Press, J W. Sitton, owner.

Andrew has shown a great interst and a natural aptitude for the printing trade. He is receiving very good training on an actual job rom Truman Evans. Such determination to succeed plus excelstruction in the fundamental lent trade experience on an actual teachings of the Bible three pu- job under regular working conpils of the upper grades of Grace ditions, will result in a skilled Lutheran school will publicly young printer.

Andrew has decided to follow the rade of a printer for his career; with continued related study in the D. O. class room and more experience on the job, his plan will become a reality. Andrew feels that vocational training has been very beneficial to him.

O. During the two and one half years spent in the D. O. class, S. E. was employed at Nance Motor Co., as an auto mechanic during the school year 1945-46 and as a partsman since that time. His duties include selling auto parts and accessories, checking in and stocking merchandise, and preparing outgoing shipments. The work as partsman has been under the supervision of Charles Graham, parts manager.

S. E. Carter was president of the D. O. Class during the school year 1946-47 and after being reelected to the presidency in the fall of 1947-48, served until midsemester of the 1947-48 school

Carter feels that the training he has received through work experience and the related study of the D. O. Class have made it possible for him to select and learn the trade which he plans on making his life's work-auto partsman.

He is now attending Cisco Junor college, majoring in Pre-business Administration, which he is applying along the same trainthe year spent in the diversified ing lines he has had in the past with the objective in mind of be coming a skilled auto partsman.

A survey of local grain crops shows grain in bad conditionmany fields look as though they would not last through the day without some moisture but then crops here are accustomed to needing rain so they, too, just hold on until the last moment, and then sometimes, strange to say, get a small bit of moisture and go on to make fair crops.

Some farmers report they have already ploughed up grain crops and planted to feed. Meanwhile, Ciscoans are hop-
