PEOPLE and THINGS

By J. W. S.

SOME FIFTY members of the Senior Class of Cisco High School are leaving early Friday for their annual class outing. They're going to Carlsbad to tour the caverns. First stop will be noon at Odessa for lunch. Friday night, they'll be guests at the Black River Village dude ranch.

SATURDAY WILL be Cavern Tour Day. And they'll start back home Saturday night. Principal Carlos Turner and Sponsors Miss Lela Latch, Miss Doris Jo Pyle and Mr. L. B. Luckstinger were planning to make the trip, too.

DROPPED IN ON Mr. John A. Garrett at his woodworking shop out in the southeast part of town today. He was putting the finishing touches on a cedar chest and a huge drafting table. He has a very splendid shop with all kinds of power tools and his products definitely brand him as a professional.

WE GOT TO discussing the relative merits of various kinds of wood for whittling purposes. We're of the school of whittlers that believes there's nothing that whittles quite like cedar — well seasoned cedar, that is. Mr. Garrett likes cedar, but he also considers considerable merit in white pine.

THE CISCO KID is a pretty well known guy. Well enough known, in fact, that he was responsible for Mr. Charles Sandler of the lumber and supply firm getting a very desirable wholesale distributorship. He called up a company in Ohio or some state close by. The man couldn't place Cisco. "The Cisco Kid," said Mr. Sandler. "Now, I know you," the man said. Then he approved the deal for Mr. Sandler.

WE RECOMMEND Mr. Howell Sledge of the A. & P. Grocery as one of the best fishermen we know. He came back from a lake over Abilene way this morning and the smallest of seven fish he caught weighed 40 pounds. The largest weighed in at 52 pounds. Manager Ben R. Rippey and the other hands are planning a fish fry next week.

YESTERDAY we told you about a questionnaire we received on "Would You Print the Story?" We gave you the three situations and here are our answers:

One—As a general rule we don't like to print stories about teenagers in trouble with the police. And we definitely wouldn't use names unless it was a very major case.

Two—When and if we ran accounts of divorce trials, the report would merely carry the case title and the result, such as Jane Doe vs. John Doe, divorce granted. As a general rule, family troubles are private affairs and don't constitute news material.

Three—We wouldn't go out of our way to print a story about anybody getting fined for drinking too much and having a car wreck. But if somebody died as the result, we believe the story should be handled accurately.

According to the Monroe Doctrine, no European nation may interfere in the affairs of the two American continents.

Cisco School Bus Driver Has Solved Problems With Safety Organization

Boisterous children on school buses that are such a headache to many bus drivers, and dangerous to themselves, cause no worry to George Douglas, 400 West Third street, Cisco. He has solved the problem and has had no accident since organization of a solution to all such problems.

Mr. Douglas drives two buses—the Humboldt bus, with 68 children, and the Bluff Branch bus with 42 children.

When he took over the bus driving job three years ago, he said the job was one of nervous terror. Children were boisterous and made life miserable for each other, and for him.

Last fall he had an idea and acted upon it. He organized a "safety patrol" for his bus and so well has it worked that he never has to even look back in his bus. Children are all quiet and speak in moderate tones of voice. There is no quarreling nor moving about.

Two seniors from Humboldt, Frances Sures and Gene Milner, take care of that bus while the Bluff Branch run is in charge of Peggy Carey, Peggy Brown, Mary Dell Woods, Darline Parmer, Roy Carey and Winifred Carey.

Mr. Douglas first sold these safety patrol leaders on the value of an organization that would teach and look after the younger children while riding buses to and from school, telling them of the many accidents each year that killed and maimed children, usually because of carelessness and lack of discipline.

Then these patrolers tell the other children the value of being organized for safety and assist the younger ones in getting in and out at proper places and in all rudeness has been done 'proper manner.

away with and there is no running about in the bus nor arm sticking out of windows. Children have been taught the value of safety and are interested in carrying out measures and habits that lead to safety in bus travel.

The children like it and if one should become over spirited, the driver explains how necessary it is to have rules of safety to guard their lives when so many accidents over the country are maiming and taking the lives of children who ride on buses to and from school and often times have to pass over very dangerous highways.

Mr. Douglas is delighted with the way it works on his buses and is anxious to have others know about it so that accidents may be averted.

Biology Classes Visit Apiary; Write Reactions

By LELA LATCH.

Biology students swarmed almost as thick as bees at 1500 Park Drive as fifty-five class members and their instructor, Miss Lela Latch, watched Mr. and Mrs. John Kleiner demonstrate the science of handling the little insects. The trip was culminating activity of a unit on insects. Excerpts from some of the trip write-ups reveal these high lights.

Scrippy Cluck wrote: "On April 29 we hiked to Park Drive where Mr. John Kleiner showed us Sterling Drumwright's bees. He explained that there are no native American bees but that they are all imported mainly from Italy and Spain. Good blooded bees are just as realistic as good blooded cattle and Mr. Kleiner paid $10.00 for a registered Italian queen bee. He has an apiary of some seventy colonies of Italian bees now."

Smoking the bees fascinated E. L. Hazelwood who recorded:

"When smoke is puffed on the bees, it has a sickening effect on them. When they find out they can't drive the enemy off, they start eating the honey to keep the enemy from getting it. After Mr. Kleiner had smoked the bees, he removed a frame from the hive and showed us some brood and queen cells. One of the frames was almost full of honey and Mr. Kleiner showed us how to prepare the super and pack the honey into pound cartons for the market."

Ruby Hill summarized with: "We were told that the first bees to thrive in America were imported in 1859. They are the best friends of the fruit and grain-growing farmers. A&M College found that where bees cross-pollinated the clover and vetch, the increase was from 140 to 500 pounds of seed on the same plot of ground."

In departing we were presented with a pound of honey. On Friday we enjoyed refreshments of honey on ritz crackers served by Gretha Kay and June Alexander.

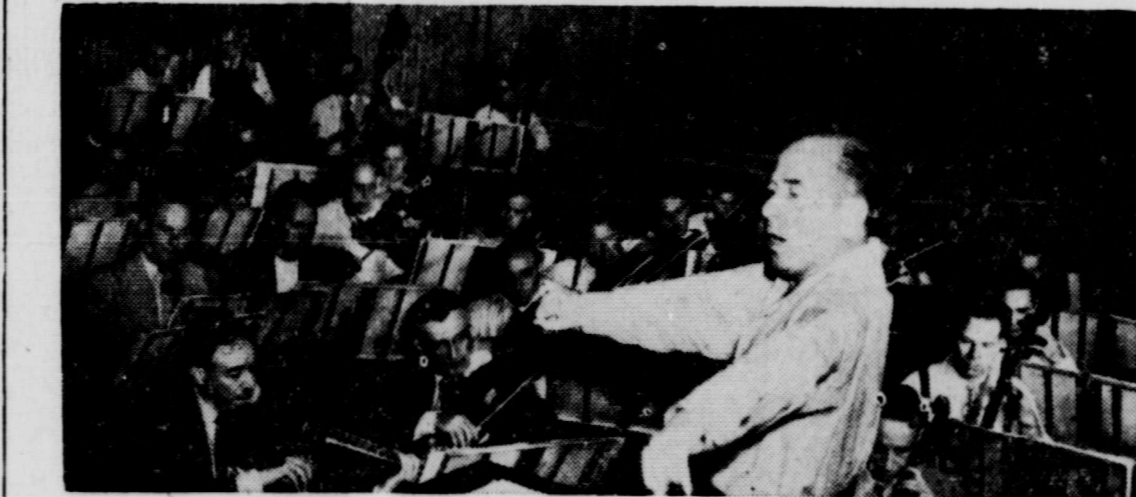

From the sixth period group come these reports: "The queen bee may lay as many as 30,000 eggs per day. The drones, which are without stingers, fertilize the eggs and they are killed by the worker bees. Bees that are shipped from one state to another must have a health certificate," wrote Don Mears.

Deloris Johnson said: "Before visiting these bees, I was afraid of them but now I find them fascinating and want to make this my hobby. Mr. Kleiner says that in good years it's a very profitable one, since he sold $2,500 worth of honey from 24 colonies in 1946."

Melba Reed concluded with: "This was one of our most enjoyable field trips. On Friday we were served hot biscuits, butter, honey and punch. The thanks for the biscuits and punch go to Mary Ellen Sanders, for the butter to Miss Latch, and, of course, for the honey to our most hospitable guide, Mr. Kleiner."

MILLER'S WASHATERIA DESTROYED BY FIRE
A fire which occurred this morning at about 5:15, totally destroyed the building and contents of Miller's Washateria at 1305 G avenue.
Fire is thought to have originated in the boiler room. The loss, which is estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000, was said to be a total one, there being no insurance, it having lapsed about January 1, and had not been renewed.

PHILADELPHIA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

EUGENE ORMANDY — Conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra which will appear at Hardin-Simmons University May 11, was born in Budapest and began his musical career at the age of five. A graduate of the Royal Music Academy, Ormandy became co-conductor of the Philadelphia musical group in 1936. Though busy touring with the orchestra Ormandy has found time to fill concert and radio engagements elsewhere, appearing with the Hollywood Bowl orchestra and other musical organizations.

The Philadelphia Orchestra will play both a matinee and evening performance in Abilene May 11 in Hardin-Simmons' spacious Rose Field House.

Petitions to Both Parties Seek Tax Relief Action

DALLAS, Texas, May 6.—Millions of citizens are expected to sign a nation-wide, non-partisan petition asking the Resolutions committees of the Republican and Democratic National Conventions to include in their party platforms plans favoring Government economy, tax equality and tax relief.

Distribution of the petitions to thousands of Texas citizens began today, under the sponsorship of Federal Tax Equality League of Texas, trade organizations and individual firms. Similar mailings are being made in all of the states.

Bert E. Godfrey of Ft. Worth, chairman of Federal Tax Equality League of Texas, said today: "The petition is the oldest form of public expression for the redress of grievances. We have adopted it because citizens have the right to know how the national parties and candidates stand on the major issues that affect our system of free competitive enterprise."

"High taxes, Government extravagances and unfair tax privileges are driving our nation into inflation and bankruptcy. We are more than a quarter of a trillion dollars in debt, and Federal spending still continues to rise. The weight of this tax load is lowering our living standards. We are overburdened with a bureaucracy that interferes with our freedoms. If we are to pay for protection against a possible World War III we must economize on taxes."

"We are asking the two great political parties to give us platform assurance that they stand for a sufficient reduction in domestic Federal expenditures to enforce the abolition of non-essential Government activities, a substantial cut in the Federal payroll of 2,000,000 employees, the elimination of tax-free competition of Government in business, and immediate relief of business from bureaucratic interference."

"We are asking further that the party platforms recognize fully that the 15 to 20 billion dollars of business volume that now escapes Federal income taxation should be forced to bear its fair share of the costs of the protection afforded by our Government in peace and in war, and that cooperative corporations and other business tax-exempts be taxed in the same manner as the fully taxed businesses with which they compete. We know that paying taxes will not hurt them."

"Give us Government economy and tax equality and we shall easily achieve further tax reductions for business and for individuals, and at the same time encourage incentive, production, investment and employment."

"In Texas alone, we expect hundreds of thousands of citizens to sign this petition. In the nation at large there will be millions. Taxpayers are at last expressing themselves, and the politicians must listen to them."

A. N. Simpson, secretary-treasurer of the association.

The morning will be occupied with business matters and after the dinner spread, the afternoon will be given over to singing. The public is cordially invited and especially the old settlers, it was announced.

ABILENE, May 6. (Sp)—Miss Bonnie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Miss Wilson, a senior student, has been a member of the A Cappella choir for the past two years and sang as soloist last year. She also sang in the chorus of last year's production of the opera, Martha. She was also a member of "The Harmony Girls" while a student in Cisco Junior College.

Hooker's Jewelry Starts Clock in Novel Stunt

Prospective high school graduates of Cisco have been on needles and pins with expectation ever since Hooker's Jewelry announced that they would give a genuine Incalflex wrist watch, valued at $49.75 to whomsoever's name was stopped on by an eight-day clock set in the window of that firm.

This morning at 11:27, the clock was wound by Mayor Edward Lee and the clock, on whose face every name of the graduating class is inscribed, is supposed to run for approximately eight days. However, regardless of when it does stop, the hands will point to some name and that one will be the lucky boy or girl who gets the watch, fully guaranteed not to break even if dropped.

The clock may be seen in Hooker's Jewelry store window at 516 Avenue D.

High School Band Members Entertain Rotarians Today

Texas Communities Laying Heavier Taxes for Schools

AUSTIN, May 6.—Realizing the need for better education for their children, Texans are taxing themselves more and more through local assessment.

districts in the state, $49, or $7 per cent, had a tax levy of $1 or more per $100 assessed valuation during 1947-48, a survey announced Wednesday by the Texas State Teachers Association reveals.

Figures are from the records of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Eighty-two per cent of the 1,151, 999 students in the 977 independent school districts are living in the districts making the levy of $1 or more. That is a total of 947,170 children.

Fifty districts, or only nine-tenth of one per cent, having a total of 111,672 students, levied a rate of from 51 to 75 cents.

Fifteen districts, with only 3,188 scholastics, had a tax of from 1 to 50 cents. Only seven districts, or but one-half of one per cent, which are not composed of state or charitable schools, imposed no local tax.

All of the four largest cities in the state have a tax rate of $1 or more. Houston has a levy of $1.25; San Antonio, $1.08; Fort Worth $1.16; and Dallas recently voted an increase in their tax rate to $1.25.

the school districts are depending too much upon state aid to finance their institutions," Charles H. Tenneyson, public relations director for the teachers' association, said Wednesday.

"This survey disproves that, I believe.

"Not only do practically all of the independent districts have a high tax levy, but hundreds of them have greatly increased their property valuations during the past few years.

"Assessments of 75 per cent of the real value of the property is the regular practice now rather than the unusual.

"The State Teachers Association is grateful that Texans are taking such an interest in the education of their children," Tenneyson continued. "It has resulted in a climb in our schools' standing in comparison with those of other states."

A total of 559 independent districts, 65 per cent, with 368,153 scholastics, had a tax rate of $1 during the present school year. Two hundred and ninety schools had a rate in excess of $1. Those schools had more scholastics than the 559 districts levying $1. Their total was 570,017 students.

Increase in Adult Population Seen Boosting Building

More homes as well as more votes and more wedding bells should result from wartime and postwar population age trends in Texas, according to a Title Council of America report on postwar construction.

The state's adult population increased 9.8 per cent while its non-adult population gained only 3.5 per cent during the past eight years, government surveys show. The 379,170 gain in voting age residents means more marriages, more families and a corresponding demand for more dwellings, the report points out.

The growth of many World War One babies from teen ages into adult and marriageable ages during the past decade has boosted demand for modern conveniences in the home, says the report. Many postwar home buyers in that category saw such twentieth century improvements as washing machines and tiled bathrooms added to their parent's homes. They want such conveniences put into their own homes when they are built.

Most new homes will be more compact and utilitarian than prewar homes, according to the report. They will be built as machines for pleasant living for the whole family and will be run more efficiently and with less effort. Such built-in housewife's helpers as dinettes, easily cleaned tile floors and automatic heating will be contributing factors.

The state's over-21 population now totals 4,240,880 as compared with a juvenile population of 2,720,140.

Salvation Army Launches Crusade For Texas

DALLAS, May 5.—The Salvation Army units working in Texas are serving as the "bulldozers of religion," Lt. Col. Charles H. Dodd, Texas divisional commander, said today in announcing a two-fold "Fighting Faith Crusade" for the state.

"Through our Fighting Faith Crusade we are expanding our program on two fronts—in the fields of missionary work and human reclamation," Col. Dodd said. "We hope to extend our service program into areas not now being reached and to bring to the discouraged and less fortunate a renewed hope and opportunity for better things."

In Texas' 31 Salvation Army corps groups and seven work centers are taking part in the "Fighting Faith Crusade."

"We are in the midst of one of the greatest revolutions of history," Col. Dodd said. "There is a vacuum, an empty space which must be filled either by the forces of evil or by the power of God. We of the Salvation Army through our Fighting Faith Crusade of 1948, are seeking to fill this vacuum by bringing people into a right relationship with God."

The Salvation Army, though essentially a religious organization, seeks to meet both the spiritual and material needs of the downcast and the less fortunate, Col. Dodd said. The organization carries on a strong welfare program, seeking through its human reclamation and rehabilitation work to provide a spiritual hitching post for the problem people of the community.

Wealth and Title No Temptation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A noble Italian title and fortune in vineyards and cash were turned down by Wilbur F. H. Radeline, Hollywood apartment house manager, because acceptance would mean loss of citizenship.

Radeline asserted that he'd rather be a $35 a week American apartment house manager than a wealthy foreign nobleman. Italian lawyers, who located him with difficulty, were flabbergasted. All

Radeline had to do was go to Italy and inherit his wealth.

Colonial Golfer's Tournament to Draw Big Shots

FORT WORTH, May 6.—With six of the nation's top professionals already in the fold the Colonial Invitation Golf Tournament is looming as one of the biggest golfing events of the year in the Southwest.

First to announce his intentions to participate was Ben Hogan, who learned to swing a club as a caddy at Colonial and who has annexed the championship at the two previous invitation affairs. Hogan defeated Harry Todd of Dallas in 1946 by one stroke for the title and closed out the 1947 tournament as top man by the same margin, edging out Pony Penna.

Also signed to take part in the $15,000 tournament are Jimmy Demaret, the popular, flashy dresser from Houston; Vic Ghezzi, consistent money winner for a number of years; Bobby Locke, the British champ who has been burning up America's courses for more than a year now and Lloyd Mangrum, Dallas swinger who won the National Open in 1946.

"It is easy to see from our early acceptances that Colonial is going to boast one of the fastest fields to gather for a tournament during 1948," Max Highfill, tournament chairman said, "That's the purpose of the Colonial Invitation—to bring together the golfers who have made the best showings during the past twelve months."

Certain to draw his portion of the gallery is 37-year-old Demaret, always one of the most popular players on any course. Jimmy enjoyed his best year in 1947 when he led the field with prize money winnings of $27,936. And he's been playing excellent golf so far this year.

Ghezzi was runner-up in the $10,000 Jacksonville, Fla. Open last month and has already won more than $3,000 during the current campaign.

The Englishman, Bobby Locke who sports knickers as his golfing attire, has been at best of late. He won the Phoenix Open a couple of months back and just recently wound up second in the big Washington, D. C. tournament.

Jim Ferrier, the Sydney, Australia golfer will be another favorite. Jim won the PGA title last year and was ninth money winner in 1946. He was amateur champion of Australia in 1935, '36, '38, and '39.

Thirty of the nation's top pros and six of the best amateurs will vie for prize money at the Colonial tournament. Highfill announced that all of the invitations have been issued and that acceptances are being received daily.

Could you get by if you had to pay cash

How many people could enjoy the pleasure and convenience of an automobile, piano or refrigerator if they had to pay cash?

And could you lay your hands on the cash immediately to pay the physician or hospital for a sudden and unexpected illness ... to pay the dentist as you walked out of his office ... to pay the fuel dealer in one lump sum for a winter's supply of fuel?

Fortunately for most of us, we don't have to pay cash for everything we buy. We can take advantage of the liberal, flexible system of personal credit which enables us to buy and enjoy the things we want, when we want them, and to pay for them later. Whether our income is large or small, we can enjoy the privilege of buying almost anything, anywhere, if our credit record is good.

And the only way to maintain a good credit record is to buy only what you know you can pay for—and pay for it on the date it is due. Whether you buy on a monthly charge account, or on a deferred basis, extending over a longer period, develop the good habit of paying every bill promptly.

Then, when you urgently need or want something and haven't the cash to pay for it, it will be mighty convenient if you can say "Charge it, please."
