PEOPLE and THINGS

By J. W. S.

GOVERNOR Beauford Jester has sent out an emergency appeal to our state's 254 counties urging clean-up campaigns as a means of combating polio. This action was taken after 135 cases were reported in various parts of Texas.

AND THAT'S MORE than usual for this time of year and almost twice as many cases as any other state has had this year. So far as we can determine, this crippling disease has not touched our City or County this year.

SUMMER IS THE chief danger period. Call the doctor immediately if any of these symptoms appear: headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness, unexplained fever. Keep children away from crowds when possible. Don't let them get over-tired. Wash hands before eating. Keep flies and other insects away from food. Don't leave garbage uncovered.

ALTHOUGH MEDICAL science still is baffled by the mysteries which surround origin and transmission of the disease, the public can benefit from certain safeguards. It has been found that persons (especially children) are most likely to be attacked by the disease after periods of strenuous activity and fatigue during the summer months. Cleanliness is the best preventative known.

OUR CITY MUST have a good reputation as a spot where you're not so likely to find the disease, for we heard recently about a lady who came here for the summer to get away from a polio scare in another part of the state.

THERE'S GOING to be an important party tonight. We know for five young ladies came to have us print them some invitations. It's for the eighth grade, and the hostesses are Misses Mary Hill, Mary McCrear, Jane Flint, Barbara Schaefer and Elizabeth Kleiner.

WERE HAPPY indeed to report that our town has three more citizens as of today. They're our wife, our five-year-old daughter and three-year-old son. We finally solved the housing problem and moved in.

PERHAPS ANNE B—MET A POLECAT

READING, Pa. (UP)—Genealogists delving into the history of Reading and Berks County, Pa., for their bicentennial anniversary this year, have been puzzling over a curious epitaph recorded here. The inscription reads: "Here lies the clothing of the living Anne B—" and has the researchers bewildered to explain why anybody would want to bury the clothes of a living person.

With an eye to current styles in women's fashions, one genealogist hazarded the unscientific opinion that Anne B's husband may have taken the drastic step to express his displeasure with 18th century female dress.

Robt. G. Lee Named To Head Southern Baptist Body

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21.—Although no name was mentioned, a constitutional amendment adopted was aimed at Dr. Frank Norris, fundamentalist pastor of Fort Worth Baptist church, in the convention that named Rev. Robt. G. Lee, Memphis pastor, as the president of the Southern Baptist Convention which ended its session here yesterday.

He defeated the Rev. John H. Buchanan of Birmingham, Ala., a close friend of retiring President Louie Newton of Atlanta, Ga. The breakdown of the 5,700 ballots cast was not announced by convention officials.

Dr. Lee's election came shortly after the convention amended its constitution to ban representatives of churches not "sympathetic with its purposes and work" from taking part in proceedings.

Dr. Lee, 61, is pastor of Bellevue Baptist church, which convention officials say is the largest white Baptist church east of the Mississippi River. It has more than 7,700 members.

Other officers elected are: The Rev. Porter Bailes, Tyler, Texas, first vice president; Maxey W. Harman, Nashville, Tenn., second vice-president; Porter Routh and the Rev. Duke McCall, re-elected treasurer.

The amendment was proposed by the Rev. L. E. Barton of Montgomery, Ala., convention parliamentarian.

"I don't mind this convention being criticized from within by its friends," Barton said, "but I don't like to have it criticized from within by enemies." The statement brought applause from the crowded convention hall.

President Louie Newton called for a standing vote, and reported no dissenting votes cast.

Later, Barton said the amendment would permit the withholding of credentials from "anyone who isn't in sympathy with our work." He told reporters "Everybody will know" at whom the amendment was aimed.

Freak Air Weather Gets Aliens In Jam With Red Tape

NEW YORK, May 21. (UP)—Immigration authorities at United States international airports are stuck with a problem: what to do with aliens who land in the United States, through no fault of their own, but without visas or passports.

Within two weeks, at least 29 aliens, including Greeks, Poles, British, Norwegians and Czechoslovakians, arrived at La Guardia Airport without papers because planes on which they were flying to Canada by way of Newfoundland by-passed Gander, the regular Newfoundland stop for overseas flights. All but three of the aliens were sent to Ellis Island.

Take the case of the short, middle-aged Czechoslovakian business man who planned to go to Toronto from Gander for a two-months' business trip. He was the only one of 28 passengers on a Pan American Clipper from Shannon who wanted to get off at Gander.

Because of weather, he landed in New York and immigration officials at the airport ordered him detained at Ellis Island. The law provides that an alien must have a valid visa, a passport or a limited entry certificate, or in lieu of them, a special waiver from the State Department.

Like any traveler in a foreign country, the Czech was a little confused. First, he was worried about what his government would think of his coming to the United States instead of going to Canada. He had even asked the captain of the plane to give him a note to the effect that he had landed in New York against his will. But that is not against a pilot's chores.

Secondly, he thought that since he was in New York and had friends here, he should be permitted to spend a couple of days in the United States before going to Toronto. He did not understand that his destination meant going to Ellis Island.

So he wandered out into customs and wound up paying $121 duty on the costume jewelry he decided to give to New York friends instead of to Canadian friends.

Meanwhile, the airline was trying to stay his detention and get him to Gander. The State Department said its hands were tied unless the alien or immigration officers requested the waiver.

Asked to comment on his plight, the Czech said, "You know, times are difficult in my country. We, especially business men with friends and connections among the western people, are under constant suspicion. If my government sees this story, they will believe that I was trying to escape to the United States, not that I couldn't help landing here."

This reporter agreed not to use his name when he added, "I am afraid I will land in a concentration camp when I get back or be refused visas to travel for business."

Under the circumstances, customs officials refunded his $121 and bonded his luggage until he left the country some 36 hours late. A special board of inquiry had sent him on his way.

Eisenhower Says Starving Children Biggest Problem

NEW YORK, May 21.—General Dwight D. Eisenhower today called starvation among the children of Europe and Asia "one of the world's most pressing problems" and urged Americans to help solve it by supporting the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

General Eisenhower, who this week became honorary national chairman of the AOA-UNAC $60,000,000 campaign, will be joined in the appeal Tuesday night by Secretary of State Geo. C. Marshall, who will make an address from a campaign rally at Madison Square Garden here. The Secretary's words will be broadcast nationally by CBS at 11:15 p. m. (EDST).

In accepting leadership of the Crusade for Children, which seeks funds to relieve distress among 230,000,000 hungry children and other victims in war-impoverished lands abroad, General Eisenhower said:

"The children of the world, by the millions, are the innocent victims of war. They are now denied a fighting chance for normal, healthy lives because they live in the shadow of starvation. Great numbers of them in Europe and Asia cannot be reached quick enough by governmental action, but we, as private citizens, can buy bread for growing bodies, clothing and shelter against the elements, and medicine for the sick through our contributions to this campaign."

The speech of Secretary Marshall Tuesday night will highlight a "Command Performance" show in which leading stars of program at Madison Square Garden and screen and radio will join in pressing the appeal.

Rotarians Have Pleasing Ladies Night Program

Rotarians, their wives and guests enjoyed a good meal and a very entertaining program at the First Christian church last night when about 90 persons heard the program based on the Gay Nineties theme and a quartet of men from the T. & P. railroad as a courtesy to Cisco.

Mrs. James Moore, assisted by four young people from the high school, put on a pantomime with Mrs. Moore reading that was heartily enjoyed. The next number — also a reading — by Mrs. Sutton Crofts, was another winner that rung the bell for entertainment. It was a tragic theme. The T. & P. quartet from Dallas gave several numbers which were greatly appreciated by the group.

President Charlie Graham announced that this quartet was furnished through the courtesy of the railroad without charge to the Cisco club. High school students assisting in the pantomime were Bobbie Deen, Jerre Westfall, Jim Ewell and Jimmie Cummins.

Special guests for this occasion which was the annual Ladies Night feature were President and Mrs. Ralph Glenn of the Lions club, and President and Mrs. Wallace Smith from the Junior chamber of commerce.

Coast Guard Station in Galveston.

O'Daniel Won't Run For Senate; Quits Politics

FORT WORTH, May 21.—U.S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel announced Thursday night that he would not seek re-election.

O'Daniel's decision was revealed in a 30-minute state-wide radio broadcast. He kept his listeners in suspense for two thirds of the broadcast before telling his intentions.

He "chose to not seek re-election." But he also served notice he had "not lost interest in public affairs, 55 and that 'I'm burning no bridges behind me or in front of me.'"

His friends have mentioned him as a possible candidate for Vice-President. The Senator said a few weeks ago that he would accept the vice-presidential nomination as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's running mate.

His withdrawal as a possible Senate candidate left three main contenders in the race to succeed him. They are:

Former Gov. Coke Stevenson, whom O'Daniel endorsed for Lt. Governor ten years ago; Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, who lost to O'Daniel by 1,311 votes when the junior Senator won a 1941 special election, and George E. Peady, a conservative Houston attorney.

The onetime flour salesman who holds an unequal record for vote-getting in Texas politics, said he did not intend to aid or endorse any of the candidates to succeed him. But he attached a big if to that statement.

"I intend to stay absolutely out of it (the senatorial race)," he said, "unless some of the candidates stick their necks out by dragging my name into the race."

In such an event, he said, he would come back to Texas "and make a few pertinent remarks." His speech clearly left the gate wide open to return to politics as a candidate "at some future time."

In fact, he told his listeners they should draft a candidate for his place in the Senate if none of the candidates suited them. He did not, however, suggest that he be the one.

"If there are no candidates in the Senate race who now suit you," he suggested, "go out and find one who does suit you and put his name on the ticket."

"You have plenty of time between now and June 7 to do it." June 7 is the deadline for candidates to file for state offices.

Bennie Williams Gets Degree At Howard - Payne

BROWNWOOD, Tex., May 21.—Bennie Burns Williams of Cisco is a candidate for a B. A. degree from Howard Payne College to be awarded at the annual commencement program Friday, May 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the L. J. Mims Auditorium.

Son of Roy L. Williams, he majored in math, with a minor in physical education.

Williams, who completed his work in January of this year has been named assistant coach at Howard Payne. Before his graduation, he served as president of his junior class, treasurer of the student council, captain of the football team, president of the student council, and represented Howard Payne in the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

CAR DEVICE WOULD HALT HIT-AND-RUN DRIVING

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP.)—John F. Oberlander believes he has something to turn hit-and-run drivers into "hit-and-sit" drivers.

It's an "automatic cop" which, Oberlander says, will halt a car automatically after the first bounce in an accident.

The "cop" consists of a pane of glass with a strip of lead foil running through it. It is attached to the front bumper of a car, wired and connected to the engine.

Then, Oberlander says, when the "cop-fitted" car runs into another car or a pedestrian, the glass will crack, the lead foil break and the engine will be short-circuited.

'Old Rip' Ready to Compete in Derby in Coalinga, Calif.

EASTLAND, May 21.—A letter from the officials of the Coalinga Horn Toad Derby, an annual affair held at Coalinga, California, to the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, stated that "old Rip" the Eastland frog sent there to be entered in the annual races, had arrived in good condition and would be kept in that condition until the day of the races which is Saturday, May 22.

With the letter to the Chamber of Commerce was a photograph showing the Derby officials greeting the frog at the airport. Among the welcoming group was R. S. Railey, formerly of Eastland, who stated that he was personally looking after "Old Rip."

MERCY DEATHS HELD MORALLY RIGHT BY MANY DOCTORS

Euthanasia, the merciful killing of humans to end incurable suffering, is a crime under our present laws. "But the stark fact is," declares Selwyn James in The Reader's Digest for June, "that euthanasia is often practiced by sincere and able physicians when doomed patients, facing months of intolerable agony, plead for it. These physicians reason that the choice is not between life and death, but between two kinds of death: a slow, agonizing one or a quick, painless one. Though they are moved solely by a desire to end suffering, they make themselves liable to criminal prosecution and professional ruin."

James' article, condensed from Survey Graphic, cites evidence that most physicians of wide experience have, at some time, risked prosecution by ending the life of a hopeless sufferer if asked to do so. One doctor, speaking in behalf of a New York State bill to legalize mercy deaths, stated that to withhold euthanasia "against the expressed will of the sufferer

Church Leaders Urged to Stress Security Bonds

DALLAS, May 21.—Church leaders of Texas today were urged to support the Treasury Department's current Security Loan Campaign as a means of insuring religious freedom.

In letters to 5,000 Texas clergymen of all faiths, Nathan Adams and E. E. Shelton, state leaders in the Security Loan Campaign, asked pastors to devote a part of a sermon to the drive between now and June 30 and to encourage their congregations to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds. The Security Loan Campaign seeks to establish a strong national economy through widespread purchase of Savings Bonds by the people of America.

"Where is there real religious freedom save in this country—and what greater insurance for continued freedom is there than participation of the greatest number of people through the ownership of the Savings Bonds of our government," the letter asked. "The U. S. Treasury's Security Loan has for its very real purpose the placing of our huge national debt more into the hands of individuals, thus giving each a direct interest in national affairs, at the same time making an important contribution to our individual, local and national economy."

Mr. Adams, a Dallas banker, is chairman of the Treasury Department's advisory committee for Texas, and Mr. Shelton, who is a denial of the physician's solemn obligation to relieve suffering."

The proposed New York law is based on the belief that mercy deaths should be brought into the open and safeguarded against abuse rather than, as at present, practiced illegally. It provides that a sufferer from incurable pain, if he is sane and over 21, may apply to a court for euthanasia.

"It is the responsibility of those

KILLS EMPLOYER AND BURNS BODY

Hansen, left, 24-year-old Los Angeles radio repairman has admitted to Los Angeles police that he killed his employer, Ralph Dirksen, and then dissected the bodies of Mr. Dirksen and his wife, Olga, burning their heads in an East Los Angeles incinerator. heads a Dallas Savings and loan company, is co-chairman for the Security Loan Campaign.

In announcing that the letters had been mailed to pastors, Mr. Adams said that religious freedom depends upon continuation of our democratic way of life which, in turn, depends to a very large degree upon the economic welfare of the American people.

"The peoples welfare is bound up in our national economy, because the national economy is only the total of the financial condition of all our citizens," he said. "If a large majority of the people spend wisely now and invest a part of their incomes in Savings Bonds, they will be providing for the economic welfare of themselves as individuals and as a nation."

"There will be no more screechy blackboards in the new public schools."

Joseph Beckman, head of the school building program, told the board of education that the new blackboards made of rough plate glass will not permit chalk or fingernails to slide over, causing the nerve-shattering screech.

The blackboards are in a deep green color that is glareproof and easy on the pupils' eyes.

MRS. T. E. HOUSE WAS HOSTESS TO CIRCLE.

Circle Three of First Baptist Women's Missionary Union met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. T. E. House hostess in her suburban home south of the city.

Mrs. W. D. Hazel presided in the absence of Mrs. C. E. Moorman who was called away, and opened the meeting with prayer by Mrs. Eula Grantz. A short business session was then held and minutes of previous meeting were read and approved; an assignment — to provide a cash donation for the Sunbeams — was also approved by the Circle. Mrs. Louis Schlaepfer was devotional leader of the afternoon and Mrs. J. E. Burnam, Bible teacher, brought an interesting lesson, following which the meeting was adjourned by all repeating the Lord's prayer.

Those present were Mrs. J. E. Burnam, Mrs. Eula Grantz, Mrs. M. P. Farnsworth, Mrs. W. D. Hazel, Mrs. Louis Schlaepfer, Mrs. E. C. McClelland and her guest, Mrs. Burl Daniel and the hostess, Mrs. House.

PARTY AND DINNER HONORED CARL BAILEY.

Mrs. W. B. Starr and Mrs. T. D. Black honored Mrs. Black's son, Carl Bailey, with a birthday party Saturday night in the W. B. Starr home. Games and pleasant conversation were enjoyed for a time then the packages were opened by the honoree and a nice array of gifts were passed for inspection. The cake baked by his mother, was next cut by Carl.

The hostess passed refreshment plates of home made ice cream and cake to Misses Jeanne Sprawls, Jamie Wallace, Roxie and Dottie Pillans, Betty Jane Starr, Roma Reese and Messrs. Bill and Dale

RECEPTION-SHOWER HONORED BRIDE-ELECT.

Mrs. Karl Armstrong, Mrs. Ed Huestis, Mrs. Paul Huestis, Mrs. R. V. Rendall, Mrs. Sam King, Mrs. T. G. Caudle, Mrs. John Shertzer and Mrs. E. E. Morehart were hostesses for a reception-shower Wednesday evening in the Shertzer home on College Hill, honoring Miss Mayonne Lomax, bride-elect of Mac Harrelson whose wedding will be held Saturday evening at First Methodist church of Cisco.

At the door to receive the guests were Mrs. Shertzer, Miss Mayonne Lomax, her mother, Mrs. O. C. Lomax and Mrs. F. J. Harrelson, mother of the bridegroom-to-be. As the guests entered music was furnished by Misses Jane Huestis, Patsy King, Barbara Grist, Renabel Bible and Betty Lou Brogdon. After guests were welcomed they were shown to the dining room for refreshments. The table covered with a lovely Maderia cloth held a beautiful floral centerpiece in which pink and white, chosen colors of the bride-elect, predominated. The arrangement was flanked by lighted pink candles in crystal holders. Other table appointments were of silver and crystal. Miss Betty Sue Armstrong poured punch and others assisting Patsy King, Elova Moad, Wanda Joyner and Margaret Hails; refreshment plates of cake, nuts and mints were served.

Beautifully wrapped gifts brought by guests filled the small sitting room and Miss Armstrong drew the curtains for Mayonne to see them. The group then gathered around as the honored one assisted by her mother and Mrs. F. J. Harrelson, mother of the bridegroom-to-be, and Mrs. Alton Lomax opened the packages and displayed the gifts.

Those signing the guest book were: Miss Mayonne Lomax, Mrs. O. C. Lomax, Mrs. F. J. Harrelson of Cisco; Mrs. George Blackwell, Mrs. Edward Blackwell, Mrs. Margella Brogdon of Gorman; Mrs. Joe Wilson, Mrs. Philip Pettit, Mrs. Fred Hayes, Mrs. R. W. Merket, Mrs. H. H. Texas Garment Factory List Grows to 500

FORT WORTH, May 21.—The Southwest's booming garment industry will be symbolized in the exhibits of at least a dozen representative clothing manufacturers at the First Annual Southwestern Industrial Exposition in Ft. Worth from May 30 through June 6.

One of the most virile of the many industries which have moved to the Southwest during the current shift of industrial operations, garment manufacturing has spread over the Southwest in towns large and small. In 1947 the manufacturing census listed but 41 garment factories of all types in Texas. Today the industry estimates there are 500 factories in Texas alone.

Texas, too leads the nation in the manufacture of men's work pants and stands high on the list of work shirt production.

At the exposition on the Will Rogers Memorial grounds can be seen a vast range of garments—khaki work clothing, plastic raincoats and aprons, sportswear, western togs, and men's dress clothing.

In the show will be Famous-Sternberg of New Orleans, who made the seersucker suit famous for summer wear, National Garment Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Hot Springs, Arkansas, West Texas Woolen Mills, Eldorado, Texas; Williamson-Dickie, Allee Inc., Dickson-Jenkins Manufacturing Company, Harris Tailoring Company, Herzfeld Sportswear Manufacturing Company, Hatters Incorporated, (manufactures of custom-made hats), Maybelle Sportswear Manufacturing Company, Santi-Kraft Corp., and Western Wear, all of Fort Worth.

IT'S A NEW ERA. LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—This city of 18,000 is convinced motor cars are here to stay. Street Superintendent H. F. Hoelocker announced that the last municipally-owned horse that hauled trash for the street cleaning department has been sold.

PROBE HIGH VOLTAGE X-RAY CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Super-voltage X-rays will be studied at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in an effort to aid cancer research. The American Cancer Society has granted the school $70,000 to carry on experiments

Gifts were also received from 65 guests who could not be present.

Western Europe Uneasy About Air Defenses

LONDON, May 21. (AP)—Experts of the Western Union powers are studying the air defenses of western Europe, it was revealed here coincident with disclosure that Britain cannot at present provide enough planes of the transport type.

British experts estimated that Britain had less than 300 transport aircraft available for military emergencies and could not raise beyond 500 even by taking over the obsolescent fleets of the charter companies.

The Western Union powers naturally are leaning heavily in their plans on Britain's crack R. A. F. and British experts are urging the government to take up decisions on new types of planes "with all possible speed."

It was pointed out that against

Britain's 300 planes the United States keeps a total of 1,000 available and would seek to expand it to 5,000 in event of war. That expansion, it was stressed, might make the United States unable to supply Britain as in the last war.

Rising Star To Build $25,000 Funeral Home

RISING STAR, May 21. — Higginbotham Bros. & Co. has begun work on a $25,000 funeral home for Rising Star. Workmen Monday began excavation for the foundation for a new and modern funeral home and residence for the mortician on the property about one block south of the high school building purchased by the firm estimated that it would take about 60 days to complete the construction.

According to Mr. Koonce, local manager, the overall size of the building will be 56x106 feet with the residence for the mortician on the south side of the lot. Included in the building will be a modernly equipped chapel seating 150 people, a business office, which will be in charge of Mrs. Clyde Howard, who is a licensed mortician, a display room, slumber room and other conveniences for the public. The grounds will be appropriately landscaped with a 40 foot lawn in front of the building. Koonce expressed pleasure over the prospects of the new home and said that his firm expected to be able to give funeral service second to none in this section of the state.
