PEOPLE and THINGS

By J. W. S.

WE'VE JUST LEARNED that Cisco's splendid swimming pool 720 feet long—the largest mande swimming pool in the United States. Isn't that something, indeed? Some time back, California city built a pool some 600 feet long. And they put out a dope that it was the nation's largest.

WENT OUT FOR a swim yesterday. And we practically had to break the ice to get in. The water has just been changed, and was very refreshing indeed.

THE POOL and city lake are so assets we should all seek to develop. The pool is big enough for everybody in this whole section to enjoy. The water is charged every Sunday night and Monday morning, we understand.

DURING THE WAR we were attracted in California for a few months, and we never quite got used to the wonders the people here thought they had. A piece of ground no larger than a few acres is a ranch. A neighbor of mine kept promising to take us out for a look at his ranch. And the time finally came. We looked around a few fruit trees and grape vines. And he was insulted when we asked to see the ranch.

WHILE ON THE west coast, we saw a lot of advertising concerning a geyser. And came a day of leisure and we decided to have a look at the geyser. Traveling some 50 miles to the site, we drove up to the place. A man came out to collect 50 cents per person and told us we'd have to wait until he went into the house to turn it on. We thanked him and saved our 50 cents.

THE PLACE WHERE we lived in California) was pretty cool in the summer. But they had something worse. During one 30-day period our house and the countryside were rocked by 28 earthquakes. That's worse than hot weather, if you've never tried it.

WHEN CALIFORNIANS took exception to our fine Texas background, we always told them that we Texans were very glad that California was a part of the U. S.—about the longest distance you could get from Texas.

Three Dump Diggers Wanted By Noted Archaeologist

AUSTIN, Texas, June 8.—Wanted: three archaeologists to wield shovels on the Texas coast, June 13 to July 1.

The University of Texas Memorial Museum is sponsoring an expedition to an important Indian site in the Aransas Wildlife Refuge area and will pay three archaeologists' expenses.

Prof. T. N. Campbell of the University anthropology department says it is a good opportunity for an archaeology student to gain practical knowledge working under supervision of experienced archaeologists.

The dig site is believed to be that of the Karankawa Indians and dates between 1500 and 1800. It was the Indian "dumping ground."

The Indians didn't bother to dispose of their garbage carefully; they threw on the ground fish bones, shells, pottery, anything unwanted. The site is an accumulation of all those things and may contain some interesting finds, Campbell says.

Interested archaeologists should contact Professor Campbell as soon as possible.

Westex Utilities Erect Score Board At ABC Field

The hats of all ABC CLUB members are off to the West Texas Utilities Co. for supplying the fine electrically-operated, illuminated soft-ball score-board at the ABC field. This most-welcome and much-needed addition to the field keeps fans informed of every game, play-by-play.

This latest contribution to better soft-ball culminates a chain of events in which West Texas Utilities first supplied the technical research and guidance necessary to select the type of lighting most applicable to ABC field. Next this firm provided valuable assistance in procuring, transporting, supervision, and erecting the lighting poles and equipment.

While ABC officials sincerely regretted the necessity of declining much-appreciated offers of both the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and White's Auto Stores to supply scoreboards, it was decided to accept the prior offer of West Texas Utilities Co. The "green-light" on the score-board erection was also influenced by this concern's previous co-operation in getting the field lighted, plus the fact that the company would supervise the board's operation, along with their already providing the lighting supervision for all ABC soft-ball games.

Prior to the present erection of the board, it had previously been placed on the field to both "iron-out any possible bugs" that might develop and to ascertain how the color combination would appear to the fans under actual playing conditions under the lights. Following a few wiring changes and repainting the board black and white, it was erected permanently. It is now expected to meet with the approval of all soft-ball fans.

From the moment it was decided that the West Texas Utilities Co. was the concern that would supply the score-board, E. L. Jackson, the district manager, gave invaluable assistance in getting the board started and finally placed on the field. The board represents many an hour of planning, construction and testing by H. O. Anderson and Bill Kendall.

The board was erected by distribution foreman J. T. Waddell and Buford Hageman, Charlie Huntington and Bill Kendall. These men and other West Texas Utilities personnel mentioned above did their work on the board after regular working hours, on a voluntary basis.

Water Commissioner Explains About Use of Water During Summer Months

This letter to the Cisco Daily Press from S. H. Nance, water commissioner regarding water rationing during the dry summer months, is self explanatory. The editor Cisco Daily Press.

Dear Sir: Elsewhere in your columns appears a notice showing the schedule of days that domestic users will be asked to observe in using water, for watering gardens, lawns, shrubs, etc.

We are shetishretcmvbtshcem We regret that we are compelled to ask our customers to ration water. However that all our customers might share equally it was necessary to make this request.

Our pumping "log," at the Lake Pumping Station, shows we are running 24 hours daily. Engineers estimate that these two pumps will deliver one million four hundred thousand gallons in a 24 hour period. With the new booster pumps and reservoir in operation and "boosting" water into the main supply lines, the capacity of these pumps will be increased, through lowering of head, to over 2 million gallons in a 24 hour period. With our steadily increasing population we will utilize this maximum and are planning on a greater expansion of our water system. However, all post war developments are expensive and some materials continue to be scarce and deliveries uncertain.

Water scarcity is not local. Almost every small city, and many large ones, are concerned with water problems. Our city is fortunate in having abundant water in storage — but lacking in adequate distribution. Our rates are among the lowest in the state, and the water the best.

Therefore, we ask our customers to be patient and understanding during this period of rationing and assure them we are endeavoring to supply them with their essential needs.

Respectfully,
S. H. NANCE,
Water Commissioner.

First Baptists Retain Championship; Independents Clip Junior College

By JIM EWELL

A willing and sporting team, high in spirits, but small in number, gave way to defeat last night at the league's ABC field.

Playing and struggling against a powerful and ever-energetic First Baptist nine, known already for their ability to respond as a team, the East Baptist teamsters forfeited the top-sidged game to the church league title holders, in the last of the third inning—after a tidal wave of scores swept across home plate for the First Baptist—21 to 1 was the count at the end of the third inning.

Team captain, Rev. C. K. Roberts of the East Baptists, issued the decision, ordering the team manager to forfeit the game as it stood. Handicapped and using only their second string lineup, and having the only member of their first team injured in the seconds of the game, the East Baptists were at a terrific strain in trying to cope with the heavier opposing team. And knowing, too, that the game was hopeless caused the East Baptists' decision for the forfeit.

Results of last night's church league game—the First Baptist still maintaining first place—the First Christian and First Methodist tied for second and the East Baptist bringing up the rear.

In the commercial league game, it was a different story entirely, with the exception of a shortage of men on the collegian's side.

The Cisco Junior College was clipped by the Cisco Independents last night, as the score stood 5-3 in favor of the latter team.

The collegians at bat in the top half of the first struck out in the first few minutes, with Wynne flying out to Denton, Independent's second baseman, also Leverage to second and King hitting to second and out on first. Mosley, third baseman for CJC, made first base on an infield error and stole second. The collegians made no runs in the first inning.

Posey, first man up for the Independents, hit to short stop, Tompkins, who threw to first, issued the first out. Delmer Chidress made first on an out field error and completed the first run of the game. Bailey, catcher, whammed a homer, bringing in Chidress. Doggett, short stop, and J. Bailey, center fielder, made the two remaining out.

The collegians made three consecutive outs in the top half of the second inning, with Morris fanning out to pitcher; Smith to short stop and Everett trying a bunt, being caught by Bailey, the catcher. Coming to bat in the second, Donovan, right fielder for the Independents, made the first out, hitting to third base, who issued the out, throwing to first.

Denton, second baseman, scored another run, making first on an infield error, hitting a three base bagger. B. Childress and Posey flew out to right field. The score remained 3-0 in the last of the second.

In the top of the third, Mosley, third baseman for the collegians, brought up the first score for CJC nine in a two base bagger; Wynne made first on another infield error; Leverage flew out into left field and Davis fanned to pitcher. In the bottom of the third, D. Childress made an additional score on a walk; Doggett flew to first base and M. Bailey hit to second who issued the out to first. Tipton, left fielder for the Independents, was on first at the end of the last of the third. The score for the Independents was boosted to 4-1, with the collegians bringing up the latter.

The collegians scored no hits in the fourth top, as Moore, replacing Alvin King, who sustained a bad sprained ankle in the first, flew out to second; Morris flying out to pitcher and Smith being called on first, issued by second.

Donovan, in the bottom of the fourth, flew to first; Denton making the second out as second issued his hit to first. The third out was made by B. Childress who flew to Davis, first baseman for CJC. Mosley, who performed nicely at his position on third, was on first when Wynne, Everett and Tompkins made the three outs in the top of the fifth.

The collegians scoring subsided in the sixth, but was revived in the top of the seventh when Smith and Everett crossed the plate, adding to collegians count. Mosley was called out as he attempted home. In the bottom half of the sixth, J. Bailey flew to right fieldman, Moore, and Donovan and Denton were called on first.

There was no scoring in the bottom half of the sixth for the Independents. Final count: Cisco Independents, 5, scoring in the first, second, third and fifth—Cisco Junior College, 3, scoring in the third and seventh.

TIDY OR NOT, SAME RESULT.

Mr. Grist is now living in Dallas and has been living there since he moved from Cisco two years ago. He has been visiting his son, Fred Grist and family during the past three days, and plans to visit relatives in Sweetwater before returning to Dallas.

ALVIN KING INJURED IN LAST NIGHT GAME.

Friends of Alvin "Mo" King will be glad to know that the injury sustained in last night's game between the Cisco Independents and Junior College, is not as bad as first expected.

A telephone message from Mrs. King, the former Miss Ruth Cook, stated that Alvin had chipped a piece of the right ankle bone and would not be able to walk on his feet for some time.

The patient is now convalescing at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Cook, 1302 Bliss. He was reported to be resting somewhat easier this afternoon than last night.

Who Wrote on the Terrapin's Back?

Down near Waco they have unearthed the skeleton of a dinosaur, supposed to have lived in Texas a few million years ago when this part of the earth was covered by water and immense tropical forests. Quite a lot of interest among scientists and others has been aroused.

But Cisco usually manages to do something to offset this publicity that goes to other cities and thus while Cisco can't go back quite that far it does come up with a story today about a terrapin discovered by Mrs. J. B. Mashburn of 602 E. avenue on whose back is the date 1934, as well as it could be deciphered, with about four names also inscribed on the back of the shallow water creature.

Mrs. Mashburn was disturbed by the barking of her dog several days ago and upon investigation, she discovered it was a terrapin. Looking further she and others have decided one of the names was Stubblefield and another was made out to be Blake. The other names were too dim to read.

Mrs. Mashburn is wondering if anyone in Cisco remembers capturing this animal and inscribing their names for posterity.

The animal measures 10½ inches from head to tail and 9 inches from side to side. She will be glad to show visitors the animal if they call.

Surplus Items To Be Given To Institutions

Surplus goods which originally cost the government $137,669.95 have been donated to southwestern cities, schools and veterans hospitals during the past two months by War Assets Administration, according to survey of WAA's Grand Prairie region completed today.

The period, ending May 31, marked the start of a new donation program of war surplus under which qualified agencies and institutions become eligible for war surplus before it is offered for sale as scrap. Much of the donated material was obsolete or commercially of small value in its original form. Disposal was administered by the office's priority claimants division.

Goods included such items as 52 South American flags which were consigned to the city of New Orleans, outdated battery type switchboards, outmoded aircraft and radio parts and various types of books turned down at WAA fair value prices by buyers.

In all, more than 13,000 text books, encyclopedias, fiction and non-fiction volumes were awarded various institutions. Nearly 2,000 of the texts went to the Dallas Jesuit High School, and many of the fiction and non-fiction books were turned over to public institutions in Oklahoma. Other text-books are being distributed to various schools and colleges by state educational agencies for surplus property in Texas and Oklahoma.

Aviation schools at El Reno and Stillwater, Oklahoma, were beneficiaries of some of the war surplus aircraft components and communications equipment. The Oklahoma State Highway Patrol applied for and was awarded three police type cruisers in surplus inventory. To colleges and several other Oklahoma and Arkansas institutions went several manually operated telephone switchboards.

Be Alive on the Fifth.

(An Editorial From the National Safety Council).

Many happy returns of the day!

Every American joins in extending birthday greetings to his country as it celebrates its 172nd anniversary on the Fourth of July. And wishing many happy returns of the day is one way to express that sentiment.

We would like to extend the same greeting to the Fourth of July celebrants themselves, and wish that all of them have a happy—and safe—return from their holiday celebration.

Unfortunately, they will not.

As the fresh page of July turns up on the calendar, the National Safety Council can predict with grim certainty that 8,000 persons will be killed by accidents during the month. Thousands more will be injured, some of them disabled for life. Many of these deaths and maimings will occur during that annual jamboree of carelessness—the glorious Fourth.

The tragic fact is that this carnage need not happen. Accidents are not acts of God; they are acts of men and women and children who foolishly bet their lives for dubious rewards.

The driver who speeds to get to his destination before dark—what does it matter whether he arrives 10 or 20 minutes later?

The youth who attempts to swim across the lake—what is gained by trying to show off in front of a crowd?

The father who refuses to deny his children the "pleasure" of fireworks—what pleasure will the child derive from sightless eyes?

These people and the remainder of the 8,000 marked for accidental death in July are not a strange and nameless breed. They may be the people in your church, in your office, in your block—one may even be you if—

If you are an ostrich-like person who buries his mind in the bromide, "Oh, an accident won't happen to me."

It has been said that accidents are no respecter of person. But there is one person who is respected by accidents. He is the man who thinks before he acts, who never takes a chance just for the fleeting thrill of risking his neck, who conducts himself with courtesy and consideration at the wheel of a car.

He will make sure that he and his family will have a happy return by exerting a little extra caution to meet the extra hazards during the holiday. He will be under no illusions that he is immune from accidents.

He will remember that to be safe on the Fourth is to BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH!

- There are only 3 ways to pay Tax money due at death of an estate owner:
1. Borrow the money and repay the loan out of future sale of estate property, or from estate income.
 2. Maintain liquid funds sufficient at all times to provide the necessary tax money.
 3. Through Life Insurance.

How... WILL YOU SETTLE YOUR DEATH TAXES?

Yes, just how will you settle your Death Taxes? Federal Estate and State Inheritance Taxes will have to be paid some day. And payment must be made in cash, even though your heirs have to sell some of your most valuable possessions, or liquidate the estate entirely, to meet the obligation. So, just how do you propose to settle those taxes?

If you have such a future financial problem, you can solve it today, with Southwestern Life Insurance, if you want to solve it. You can arrange now to pay your Estate Taxes out of income rather than out of your estate assets after death. You can arrange it so that cash on demand will be available to your executor, and so your estate may be left intact for your family.

The Southwestern Life plan makes it possible for you, rather than your executor, to determine how your Death Taxes will be paid. Now, while you may adopt the plan, is the time to discuss it... and both you and your heirs will be glad that you did. Get an analysis of your estate needs today.

MRS. MAC HARRELSON.

Miss Doris Lee Hall was hostess in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall, on Thursday evening, June 3, for a "Kitchen Shower" honoring Mrs. Mac Harrelson, a recent bride. The rooms used were made gay with lovely bouquets of seasonal yard flowers and beautiful full-blown roses.

Guests were welcomed informally by the hostess and a number of games were played. A treasure hunt was the last number and Mrs. Harrelson was the lucky one who found the hidden treasure — a lovely array of gifts.

After the packages were opened and the gifts were shown, the hostess invited the guests into the dining room for refreshments. The table, covered with lace cloth, held a lovely floral centerpiece and the bride's cake on which the names of Mac and Mayonne were inscribed. Punch was poured by Miss Doris Lee Hall and refreshment plates of mints and cake were served. The hostess was assisted by Miss Fern Huettis who cut and served the cake.

Those present were: Mrs. Mac Harrelson, Mrs. J. R. Birdwell, Misses Patsy Morris, Wanda Terry, Wanda Joyner, Fern Huettis, Margaret Dawson, Sandra Coplin, Bettie Sue Armstrong, Martha Whitlock, Mrs. O. C. Lomax, Mrs. F. J. Harrelson, Mrs. J. D. Hall and the hostess, Miss Hall.

TO OUR WATER CUSTOMERS

Due to the increased consumption of water and our inability to deliver additional water — at peak periods — we ask your cooperation in conserving water — by observing the following schedule for watering your gardens, lawns, shrubs, and etc., homes with EVEN numbers will water on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Odd numbered homes will water on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday. Sundays will NOT be restricted. As a number of commercial users are closed on Sunday, we feel that we can allow all domestic users this surplus water. Further, we assure our patrons that these restrictions will be taken off the moment our new improvements are completed.

Speaking of Oil Booms—

... the increased lease activity in Eastland County has been a real break for several types of business. Abstracters as a general rule struggle along for years on bare existence with heavy overhead expense until something on the present order comes along, if it does, then everybody else is busy, too, sufficient help is not available and away goes our reputation for prompt service. So for the time being please file your orders a little ahead of anticipated needs.
