Dewey's Drive For Republican Party Nomination Has Machine Technique

By PETER EDSON.

New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey's campaign to get the Republican presidential nomination reveals the finished technique of professional machine politics at its most ruthless efficiency.

His lieutenants have been the same in all campaigns. Herb Brownell as manager. Ed Jaekle, Russ Sprague as chief operators.

They learned all the tricks. They became masters of timing. They went after delegates. Their performance here in Philadelphia has been streamlined efficiency.

The only question is whether they did their job too well. After the 1944 convention, Dewey came out with a united Republican party behind him.

The possibility of being the vice-presidential candidate with Dewey was held out to at least three men — Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois; Gov. Alfred Driscoll of New Jersey and Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana.

Other claims and rumors of delegate switch-overs, started by the ager beavers on the Dewey physiological warfare team didn't set well with the anti-Dewey forces.

At the time it came, Pennsylvania Senator Ed Martin's abandonment of his own Keystone state delegation in what has now become known as the Dewey-Grundy deal, looked like just the break that the New York candidate needed.

NOT A CHANCE. Orders on hand from years back. You can't expect to buy a car from him in my case. The same is true with the Chevrolet dealer, the Chrysler products dealers, and the others. You know what we mean, no doubt.

SO HERE'S WHAT we'd like for you to do. Send through a car to the dealer here in excess of his regular quota, which is contracted for by the people he has served over the years, and put our name on it. And we'll buy it at the regular price, with the cooperation of our banker, of course.

WE'RE NOT expecting any special treatment. We don't feel that anybody owes us anything. But if you can help the situation along, we will appreciate it very much indeed.

PONSLER IN HOSPITAL. R. L. Ponsler, local oil man, was in an Abilene hospital today for medical treatment. His condition was not regarded as serious.

VISITS IN CISCO. John Q. Clark, former Cisco printer, is visiting here this week. He is employed by a printing company in Breckenridge, and has been in the printing business for 54 years.

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

MR. HENRY FORD, III, Detroit, Michigan. Dear Sir: This is to advise you that we would like very much to buy a new Ford. You've probably heard of people elsewhere of late who, too, would like to buy a new Ford. But you haven't heard our story yet.

WE'VE NEVER met you, but we've seen you from a distance at a press conference you once attended in Dallas. We made the trip with a Ford dealer who couldn't sell us a new Ford.

BRIEFLY, HERE is our story. The first car we ever drove was a model "T" Ford. When we got old enough to own a car, you had come out with the first of the V-8's. And we bought a second-hand one. Just as soon as we got it paid for, we traded it in on a newer model V-8 — 1939 model.

THEN CAME THE war. Late in 1940, we bought a new Ford Six. Shortly thereafter, we joined the U. S. Navy as a pilot of airplanes (we once flew a three-motored Ford). We drove the Ford Six all over the U. S. as we were transferred from Texas to California to Kansas to Georgia and around. Several times, we virtually moved our household, wife and two children in it. It now has 175,000 miles on it.

IN SEPTEMBER of 1946, we were released to inactive duty by the Navy and purchased a weekly newspaper in a north Texas city. Checking in with the Ford dealer, he told us that he had orders from several years back. And every time we talked with him, he suggested maybe we could get one in 18 months or so.

EARLY THIS YEAR the opportunity came for us to buy the little daily newspaper here in Cisco. We checked in with Mr. S. H. Nance, your dealer here.

NOT A CHANCE. Orders on hand from years back. You can't expect to buy a car from him in my case. The same is true with the Chevrolet dealer, the Chrysler products dealers, and the others. You know what we mean, no doubt.

SO HERE'S WHAT we'd like for you to do. Send through a car to the dealer here in excess of his regular quota, which is contracted for by the people he has served over the years, and put our name on it. And we'll buy it at the regular price, with the cooperation of our banker, of course.

WE'RE NOT expecting any special treatment. We don't feel that anybody owes us anything. But if you can help the situation along, we will appreciate it very much indeed.

RIPPY ON VACATION. B. R. Rippy, manager of the A&P Grocery here, and family left Monday for East Texas to visit friends and relatives while on their vacation. During his absence, M. P. Herring, Jr., of Eastland will manage the store. Mr. Herring is a former resident of Vernon and expects to be transferred to Brownwood soon.

Over 100 Surplus Buildings Will Be Sold By WAA

War Assets Administration today announced that it will hold its first public auction sale of surplus camp buildings of the former Amarillo Army Air Field in a high bid, "cash and carry" offering of approximately 700 structures July 7 and 8.

More than a hundred of the air field's buildings have previously been awarded to schools, non-profit institutions, and governmental priority claimants for offsite use. The airport property buildings and related materials for maintenance of the field on a permanent basis are scheduled to be transferred to the city of Amarillo.

Remaining camp buildings to be sold are among the best still in WAA inventory. C. Jack Cowart, chief of the WAA's urban and rural branch of non-industrial real property, said that many are of types suitable for ready conversion to farm and ranch usage, including wheat storage, and housing.

In the offering will be warehouses, barracks, storehouses, administration, sheds, recreation, medical supply, post office and post exchange buildings. Buildings will be open for inspection of the various structures from June 28 through July 6, excepting Saturdays and Sundays.

Like previous location sales operations in the southwest at which WAA's sales crew has disposed of approximately 30,000 surplus buildings, bidding will be open to anyone, regardless of priorities. Individuals will be given full opportunity to buy single buildings for their own use, although some may be after single building buyers have been satisfied.

The WAA advises prospective purchasers to complete their own inspection before attending the sale and submitting floor bids. Cash payment and transfer of title are to be completed the same day of sale, but buyers will have 60 days from sale date in which to complete the removal of their buildings.

Work of Railroad Agency Outlined By Col. Thompson

What the Railroad Commission does in its vital function of regulating oil and gas production, transportation and gas utilities means "either prosperity or chaos in our state," Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said Wednesday night in a radio address.

He is a candidate for re-election for the full six-year term. Col. Thompson's speech was an accounting for public service rendered during his terms on the Commission.

Col. Thompson listed these among the Commission's accomplishments during his stewardship:

- 1. Restoration of order out of the chaos resulting from wasteful production of oil.
2. Elimination of the chaos of discriminatory gas rates and reduction of such rates in more than 500 cities.
3. "Great progress" in the elimination of "wanton waste of gas in oil fields" through orders to utilize it wherever economically justified.
4. Promotion of a plan of research to find means of recovering "billions of barrels of oil from old though-to-be-depleted" oil fields.
5. Furnishing of 80 per cent of the oil used in the World War II effort, "by reason of good conservation prior to Pearl Harbor."
6. Achievement of safer and more dependable transportation services through wise regulation.

TEXAS NEEDS CLAY PROCESSING PLANTS TO HELP CERAMICS INDUSTRY, U-T. FINDS

AUSTIN, June 24. — Texas doesn't have everything! The state needs some clay-processing plants, according to University of Texas Ceramic Engineering Department Chairman F. K. Pence, who says they would be good investments for enterprising business men. Summer work of the University's ceramics research laboratory has

Boyd Club Meets College Team In Softball Tonight

Tonight's fanfare, the Royce L. Boyd "Pipe liners," still eyeing their possibilities of attaining the commercial league title for themselves, will again challenge the Cisco Junior Collegians at the local ABC field, weather permitting.

Manager Everett of the collegians will need the ablest and most active players he can muster together for the tilt. He can rely on the ability of Smith, as catcher, and Davis at first base stand. With odds against their winning, the collegians are expected to present tough and stubborn resistance to their opponents.

The First Baptist nine will pounce on the Kendall "Outlaws" as the first feature of tonight's doubleheader. With both teams prepared for the engagement, it is expected to throw the spotlight on the "Outlaws," after their recent triumph over the East Baptist men—aided by seven home runs.

However, the Baptist, church league title holders, are not expected to sit around and be stomped into the sod. Valentine, Baptist first baseman and home run specialist, and Leech at catcher's position, as well as the entire team, will hamper the Outlaws before final score and win can be crowned.

The first game will begin at 7:30.

Big Supply Of Vegetables Seen

People of Texas are assured of a plentiful supply of most types of vegetables, according to a report released by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture today.

Conditions are especially favorable for active harvest of commercial vegetables in all areas but late crop are becoming badly in need of moisture. Green corn, onions, potatoes and tomatoes have developed rapidly and harvesting is at its peak. Many car-loads have been shipped from harvest areas and quality, in most cases, is good.

Cantaloups and watermelons in the southern part of the state are plentiful and truckers are transporting large quantities over the entire state. Other areas are needing moisture to insure a full crop.

Century Plant In Bloom Here

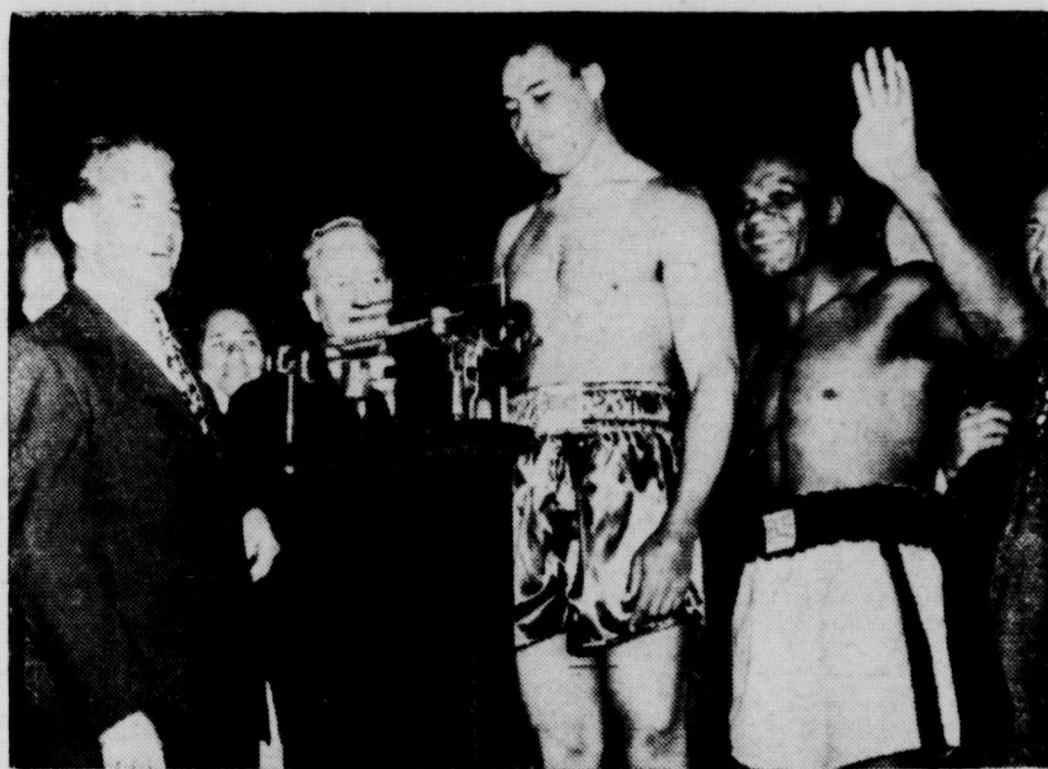

A Century Plant, a rarity in this section of the United States, is in full bloom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Osborn at 900 east 16th. About 15 years is required, in this area, for a Century Plant to reach full maturity and produce a bloom. When the plant reaches maturity the stalk which produces the bloom begins to grow at a rate of five to eight inches a day until it reaches its maximum height of from 8 to 20 feet.

When the stalk begins to form, all the substance from the roots and the leaves go into the producing of the bloom, and the plant dies as soon as the bloom is produced. The plant is re-produced from seed and from shoots which come from the roots of the original plant. These shoots appear anywhere from five inches to four feet from the roots of the blooming stalk, and may be moved as desired.

COMPLETION EFFORT INDICATES LONE STAR WELL IS GOOD OILER

LOUIS WALCOTT WEIGHED IN

Kleiner Well Has 97 Barrels of Oil In Completion Test

Lone Star Production Company's No. 1 Charles J. Kleiner, regarded as the region's most important oil tests, appeared certain today of completion as a large oil producer. The well is located a mile north of Cisco.

Unofficial reports were that the well flowed 97 barrels of high gravity oil through a three-sixteenths of an inch choke during a test of several hours Wednesday afternoon. In addition, gas pressure was strong.

Drilled to the Mississippi lime at around 4,000 feet, the operators were said to have cored some 300 feet of the pay horizon. The pipe was perforated in the bottom 15 feet for the completion test, it was understood.

Oil men regarded the fact that the well had around 300 feet of Mississippi lime as highly important. Geologists have indicated that the top half of the lime contains large quantities of natural gas. A drill stem test several days ago indicated that gas was present in the amount of approximately 25,000,000 cubic feet per day.

The bottom 150 feet is said to contain much oil. An official test was expected to be run on the well in the next day or two in compliance with the Texas Railroad Commission requirements. Tanks already have been installed.

Lone Star already has made location for the Kleiner No. 2, an offset. Nearby, the City of Cisco's No. 1 well, which will probably also test for the Mississippi, was making location today.

Oil men have estimated that the new Kleiner well will be the region's largest oil producer.

Ballard Tells Rotary Club Of Gas Plant Work

A. M. Ballard of Denver, Colorado, who is associated with the Fred M. Manning Co. gave members of the Rotary Club and visitors the inside story on the development of gas re-pressuring in this area in a talk at the club's luncheon Thursday.

Mr. Ballard told Rotarians that he first became acquainted with this region in the fall of 1918. At that time it took him four days to travel from Tulsa to Breckenridge. He gave a brief summary of the oil developments from that time up to now.

Mr. Ballard explained in detail the operation of the Fred M. Manning pressure maintenance plant now in operation north of Cisco. This is the only plant in this vicinity where natural gas is taken from the wells and replaced, by pressure, into the Caddo formation.

Construction on the plant was started October 8, 1947, and it went into operation on last April 15. Mr. Ballard stated that construction of a plant to process petroleum products in the Cisco area has begun. The new refinery will manufacture gasoline, butane and propane. A company has been formed to operate the plant and will be known as the Cisco Hydrocarbon Corp.

Visitors were F. M. Wright, superintendent of Fred M. Manning plant, Cisco, W. P. Ferguson, Wichita Falls and Rotarians Vic Behrens of Abilene and L. R. Pearson of Ranger.

County Short Of Bond Sale Quota

Judge Cyrus Frost of Eastland, county chairman for the current security loan drive, reported today that the county is short by $126,000 of its June sale quota. Cisco's part of the quota is $40,000.

The sale ends June 30. The limit for individual buyers of Series E Bonds has been raised to $10,000, he said. He added that Eastland County never has failed to make its quota.

Progress of Telephone Traced For Lions in Weekly Luncheon Program

The telephone has come a long way since a fellow named Alexander Graham Bell took a telegraph principle, stepped up the tow of micro-waves and made a simple-looking little machine talk some 12 years ago.

And George Hutson of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's information department, Dallas, told members of the Lions Club all about it at their weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday. What is more, he gave them practical demonstrations of things that are coming from Bell laboratories.

Speaking on "Hy Waves of Communication," Hutson offered Lions convincing evidence that the Bell company means something besides "lousy service."

The Bell company has some 6,000 scientists at work in their far-flung laboratories, and ten per cent of their work is classified as "top secret" by the government.

Radar, the gadget that enabled the U. S. to keep out front in the war effort, was a principal Bell project during the war. Half the radar equipment used by the armed forces was made by Bell, while 150 companies made the other 50 per cent. Hutson demonstrated radar beams at work, using small portable receivers and transmitters.

He discussed the automobile telephone service that the Bell company will have in operation in this section this summer. It utilizes short wave radio and the telephone wires to enable motorists to talk anywhere in the world from their cars.

The methods and equipment used to send telephone conversations around the world were discussed and demonstrated.

Another development for the future made possible by an almost unlimited number of voice channels through use of micro-waves was outlined by Mr. Hutson. This development will make it possible for an operator to dial directly any telephone number in the United States with a maximum of 10 pulls of a dial.

Such a plan will necessitate a universal numbering system throughout the nation, Hutson explained that it is possible to dial 10 billion individual number combinations from the 10 digits on a telephone dial. The company, he added, doesn't anticipate running out of numbers.

Other developments he discussed included television, vacuum tubes, quartz crystal filters, and proximity fuse ideas for dialing. Hutson was introduced by Ed Pashon, Mineral Wells. George Brown of the company's Dallas office also was a luncheon guest.

Tableware manufacture in Texas has been limited because there are no processing plants to ready the clay, he explains.

You've Gotta Drink It If You Haul Beer, Judge Rules

The Court of Criminal Appeals ruled today that it is illegal to haul beer through dry territory unless it is for your own use.

The court up-held the Callahan County trial court conviction of W. S. Mayes for transporting 495 cases of beer through dry territory.

The beer had been intended for 495 members of an Abilene post of the veterans of Foreign Wars. Each member had contributed to the cost and Mayes was sent to Breckenridge to get the beer and bring it to the Abilene club house.

While Mayes was a passing through dry Callahan County, he was arrested and fined $500 for transporting the beer through dry territory. He appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

In affirming the conviction, Judge Lloyd W. Davidson said in the court's written opinion—

"We are unable to reach the conclusion that the governing statute authorizes the transportation of alcoholic beverages in a dry area by the agent or for the accommodation of another. The exception applies only to the individual who makes the purchase for his own consumption."

Dan Abbott, Abilene, attorney for Mayes, said that as soon as he receives a transcript of the ruling he will make application for a rehearing.

Ice Plant Puts In New Crusher

Jess Proctor manager of the West Texas Ice Company, announced Thursday the installment of the new Bendix model 50 ice crushing machine. It is now in operation.

The new machine, Mr. Proctor said, is much larger and is capable of grinding ice between 125 to 200 pounds per minute, twice the amount of the old machine. It can be adjusted to crush four different types of ice — fountain ice, te and drinking ice for restaurant coarse ice for soft drink boxes and chunk ice for camping and fishin purposes.

Mr. Proctor stated that the company is selling about 10,000 pounds of crushed ice daily, and that the new machine is expected to boost the amount even more.

As a safety precaution, employees are required to wash the ice thoroughly before it is put into the machine for crushing. And as a added service to the public, the crushed ice is being sold in paper bags in any amount up to fifty pounds.

The National Guard.

Final approval of a National Guard Unit for Cisco has come at a most opportune moment, for there still is time for local men who would be in the draft age group to enroll in the organization. The National Guard offers young men the same military training with advantages identical to those of the regular Army of the United States. Local authorities have done everything possible to expedite the organization. With quota of only 104 men, the Cisco unit will doubtless be filled with men to spare when the body holds a recruiting meeting at 7 p. m. Friday at the Chamber of Commerce.

Those who join the National Guard before President Truman signs the new draft act will be exempt from the draft. As members of the National Guard, they will be able to continue in their civilian occupations and attend guard drill meetings regularly.

Establishment of the guard unit in Cisco will mean a great deal to this section. In addition to providing the young men with an opportunity to receive their military training at home, the unit will bring a considerable payroll to town. At the present, an armory has been leased, but the state armory board has indicated that a permanent type structure costing in the neighborhood of a half million dollars will be erected. The City of Cisco has tendered an offer of some 20 acres of land to the armory board for use in its program here.

The Chamber of Commerce and the city are to be commended for their part in making possible the National Guard's coming to our section.

Jester Expands Welfare Program

AUSTIN, June 24. — Governor Beauford H. Jester Thursday added two more proposals to his expanded program of public welfare already announced. These have to do with foster care for neglected and dependent children and emergency care for migratory workers. Previously, the governor has advocated the submission of a constitutional amendment raising the 35 million dollar ceiling on expenditures for assistance to the aged, the needy blind, and dependent children; consideration of a constitutional amendment allowing the state to assist local governments in giving assistance to totally and permanently disabled persons, with no resources and no one to care for them; and authorization for the State Welfare Department to finance operations to restore the sight of persons on the public assistance rolls for the needy blind.

WHO MAKES DEAL WITH WHO

With rumors flying fast around convention hall there has been much speculation as to what Mr. Stassen and Mr. Taft have decided to do in their "stop Dewey" efforts. At left, Mr. Stassen, in a press conference, tells reporters that a Taft-Stassen ticket is impossible and that he's still in the running. At right, Mr. Taft, after hearing that Senator Ed Martin had announced for Dewey, arrives at the Philadelphia home of John D. M. Hamilton for a secret meeting with Harold E. Stassen and Governor James H. Duff of Pennsylvania for a stop-Dewey meeting. (NEA Telephone).
