There Ought To Be Some Easier Way To Nominate

By PETER EDSON

PHILADELPHIA, June 26. NEA.— Convention postscripts— There ought to be some easier way to name presidential candidates.

Best speech, Herbert Hoover's— Worst speech, most all the others. They were so bad that even the radio audiences were pouring in complaints. Biggest flop, the MacArthur boom...

Best press conference, Gov. Earl Warren of California. He made a hit as the square shooter at the convention and a man whose word could be depended on...

Biggest demonstration, Harold Stassen's three a.m. show... All the others "spontaneous demonstrations," staged mostly by ringers and not by delegates, were put on by grim-faced old timers and extras for the mob scene.

Biggest let-down, also Harold Stassen's. Day before the balloting began, Stassen declared that the "Grundy-Dewey deal" had injured the Republican party.

Last man to give up on trying to make General Eisenhower the G.O.P. nominee was C. D. Hicks, Missouri manufacturer. In spite of all the pre-convention hullabaloo about Ike, he didn't even get one vote.

Last line in Speaker Joe Martin's speech after his election as permanent Chairman was, "We have come of age. In our maturity with the help of God, let us greet the future." Martin turned around and there, facing him, was Herbert Hoover.

Man who did the most to spoil Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's candidacy was Senator Vandenberg himself. When he issued a perfectly meaningless 13-line statement after his arrival in Philadelphia, it was shown to one of his most ardent backers. This politician read the statement grimly, paced the floor of his hotel room a couple of times and then remarked, "Did you ever hear about the country girl?"

Dirtiest crack heard at the convention, "Well, we're going to get rid of the haberdasher, all right by turning the store over to a model out of the window."

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

A YOUNG LADY came in to see us the other day. She was working on a book and she wanted us to look over her first draft and give her a criticism. We explained patiently that any criticism we could make would be worth just about as much as having us listen to an ailing engine and determine its trouble.

GUESS THERE'S a feeling in all of us at one time or another that we ought to write a book. We went through that stage two or three times. We'd sit down at a typewriter and all we could think of was the poem (Tennyson, if our memory is correct):

"Break, break, break, on thy cold grey stones, O sea! "Would that I could express the thoughts that arise in me."

WE HOPE NOBODY discourages the young lady. There are hundreds of cases where a few months of diligent writing started a successful career.

THE WRITING BUG first hit us in college. We had to write a short story in English class. And for some reason or other, the teacher singled out our story and read it in the class. She asked our permission to read it to her other classes. We still have it. In the upper left-hand corner is marked, faintly, the notation "A Plus."

WE IMMEDIATELY became a short story writer. For two years, we collected rejection slips from some of the very best magazines in the entire nation. And we hope the young lady has more initiative than we had — that she keeps on trying.

SINCE HEARING the telephone talks about the progress of the industry during the past 72 years, we've been worrying about the projected dial system whereby you can pick up your phone in Cisco and dial a number in California. How in the world do you suppose the company can keep up with the charges? You won't even bother an operator in making the call.

WE KNOW A fellow who put a nickel in a telephone one day and when he hung up, it showered coins like a slot machine. When he got through counting, he had $3.75.

ALL OF WHICH goes to show that you never can tell.

Franklin Shows Scheduled Here

The Don Franklin Shows, advertised as the "cleanest in Texas," will open a midway at Lake Cisco Park on Tuesday, June 29, and remain there through July 5. Manager Bill Berry of the amusement company announced Saturday.

WILL FILL PULPIT. Rev. Clarence Williams of Hardin-Simmons University will fill the pulpit at the East Cisco Baptist Church Sunday morning and night. It was announced Saturday. The public has been invited to attend both services.

VANDBERG WITH MICHIGAN DELEGATES

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who has announced that he will allow his name to be placed for nomination at the convention, makes his first appearance with the Michigan delegates at the Republican Convention. Here, leaving the Ben Franklin Hotel are Vandenberg and Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan, who will make the nomination. (NEA Telephoto).

Native Gorman Man Is Responsible For Bringing In Prolific Oil Pool

EASTLAND, June 26. — He's a big fellow, standing over six feet tall and weighing around 200 pounds, and he has a quiet voice and a friendly manner and he usually has four or five cigars stuffed in his shirt pocket.

His name is Frank Kirk and he is the man responsible for producing one of the newest oil rushes in Texas, a rush all the more remarkable for the fact that it is taking place in a section which the "wise ones" figured had long ago run its course.

The rich oil area recently uncovered along the boundary of Eastland and Comanche counties has been named the Kirk field — and, fittingly too, for the field is a monument to the faith of Frank Kirk, lifelong resident of Gorman.

The field which he opened up goes to within five miles of Desdemona, Desdemona, or old Hogtown! What memories that name stirs up in the minds of old-timers. The village on the bank of Hog Creek had perhaps 50 inhabitants and then, back in 1918, the Duke gusher came in and, in the twinkling of an eye, became an enormous torch which attracted national renown and set off one of the biggest booms that oil has ever known.

Desdemona was transformed into a city where 16,000 men received their mail — whenever someone would haul it over from Gorman, for Desdemona was not on a railroad at first. Then the flood of oil swiftly subsided and Desdemona descended into obscurity almost as suddenly as it had risen to fame.

Isn't it odd indeed that a new field should be found so close to the old and that 28 long years should have intervened before the new one was discovered?

Frank Kirk was born 67 years ago in Comanche County, four miles south of Gorman — only there was no Gorman then; Sipe Springs was the nearest town to the farm where Frank's father had settled in 1873. Frank grew up on the farm. He raised lots of cattle and horses, and he made many shipments to the Fort Worth market.

In those days he never gave a thought to oil. But about the time that oil was discovered in Eastland County (the McCleskey well at Ranger), Kirk became active in the Desdemona district. Kirk & Brewer (J. E. Brewer, now living in Abilene) acquired quite a few leases and owned three strings of tools which they kept busy.

reils a day. This well was close to the present Kirk field. Then in 1938 he drilled on the Gilmore and this well is still producing a few barrels a day. It too was close to the Kirk field. He was hitting the target on the edges but he was destined to strike the very center of the bullseye.

Kirk decided that there were probabilities on the Mears estate land.

Away back in 1919, the Skelly Oil Company had brought in a well on the Mears but it was only 250 barrels or so a day, which was regarded as a small producer when wells up in the thousands of barrels were being brought in so this did not arouse any interest to speak of at the time and was virtually lost sight of afterward.

However, it is still making around 10 barrels a day. The oil was found not in the Desdemona pay, by the way, but in the Marble Falls.

Also on the Mears long ago, a dry hole had been drilled — at least that was the way it showed on the maps. But Kirk knew that the well had been drilled by promoters who mainly wanted to put down a hole in the ground to justify their sale of stock and they didn't want to be bothered with an oil well unless it was a great gusher.

Kirk, (let it be repeated for the sake of emphasis), knew about the Skelly well and he knew about the promoters' well. You see, the advantage of living in one place a long time is that you have plenty of opportunity to study it. You get to know the hills, the ridges, the rocks and the creeks as well as you know the palm of your own hand — that is if you have the patience and the studious nature that Frank Kirk has. Also you know the whole story of this well and that, just as you know the life-stories of your fellow townsman, if you live in a small town.

He knew too that experience had shown that shooting the Marble Falls had, in many instances, proved injurious rather than beneficial. Furthermore, the acid treatment was unknown in those early days. So, taking his own time because he knew that if the oil was there, it wasn't going to get away, and summing up the evidence, he decided that the Mears farm was a good bet. So Frank Kirk and Arnold Kirk, his son, an experienced oil man himself; Bob McKisick of Abilene and Harley Sadler of Sweetwater got busy. The result, in January, was a well good for 360 barrels a day, in the Marble Falls.

The Oakhurst Housing Company announced Saturday the first sales of homes after receiving approval of the Federal Housing Administration to begin selling the property. The Oakhurst company is building some 40 new homes in West Cisco.

The first sale was a four-and-a-half room house — 1300 West 13th Street — sold to L. A. Hooker, local jeweler. Mr. Hooker bought the home as a residence for Ollie A. Burton, Jr., watchmaker at the store. Mr. and Mrs. Burton were

The 125 employees of Boss Manufacturing Co. began a vacation that will last until Tuesday, July 6, when the glove plant closed its week's work at noon Saturday. For 70 of the workers, who have been on the job a mini-num of a year, it will be a vacation with pay.

Manager Anton White announced that the plant would be closed next week for the annual vacation period. To qualify for a paid vacation, workers must have been on the job for a full year.

Mr. White also announced that when the plant reopens on July 6, all employees will be given an eight per cent increase in wages.

SUPPLY NO HEADACHE

ONLY WATER PROBLEM CISCO HAS WILL END WITH RESERVOIR WORK

By ELSWORTH MAYER The papers are full of water shortages these days. And, while your hydrant gives with only a trickle at times, the basic supply isn't a headache in Cisco.

In 1926 the flood gates were closed on the largest concrete hollow type dam in the world and the formation of Lake Cisco was begun. The closing of the gates of the dam marked the conclusion of a long range plan by city officials to make Cisco secure from future water shortages. The lake when full will hold 16,000,000 gallons of water and at present there over 9,000,000 gallons impounded within the confines of the lake for the use of Ciscoans.

At the present rate of consumption the nine billion gallons is sufficient to serve the city for five years. This takes into consideration evaporation and contemplated growth. Pumps at the water plant are now on a 24 hour schedule and are pumping 1,400,000 gallons into the mains per day. By decreasing the pressure on the lines this can be stepped up to 1,650,000 gallons without noticeably decreasing the pressure at the taps in any part of town.

The city's five biggest water customers are the two railroads, the two ice manufacturing companies and the steam laundry. These five customers pay approximately $10,000 to the city treasury each year.

Cisco has always followed the "good neighbor policy" when neighboring communities are faced with a shortage of water. Hundreds of car loads of water are shipped to these towns each year at a very low cost, assuring them of adequate drinking water.

Close cooperation between all departments of the city has resulted in the beginning of an improvement program which will, when completed, give Cisco one of the most modern plants in the state. The new 1,000,000 gallon reservoir now under construction on college hill will assure Cisco of sufficient storage to take care of above normal consumption and any emergency which might arise. Pressure will be maintained automatically through cooperation with the telephone company. In the event pressure drops below a certain level, the pumps will begin operation automatically. This is made possible by electric impulses which leave the plant and travel to the switchboard at the telephone office and are relayed to an automatic switch.

Modern engineering ingenuity incorporated into the construction of the new reservoir will give Cisco clear water at all times. It will be impossible for any sediments to enter the mains under the new system and Cisco's pure water will be even purer.

When the new system is completed officials plan to encourage city beautification by granting "summer rates" that will enable citizens to water lawns, shrubs and flowers at a minimum cost. They have been unable to grant lower summer rates because normal consumption taxes present facilities to the limit.

Men's Regional Group Will Hold Meeting At Lake

Over 250 men of the Cisco Association Baptist Brotherhood are expected at each session of their annual encampment to be held at the Presbyterian camp at Lake Cisco June 28 and 29. The men and their families will come from Shackelford, Stephens and Eastland counties which comprise the Cisco Association.

The encampment will begin Monday with a barbecue at 7 o'clock. The barbecue will be followed by a song service led by Coy Sims of Ranger who will conduct the singing throughout the meeting. W. P. Guinn, president of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce will welcome the visitors, and Rev. Otis Strickland, Baptist pastor, will give the response in a short talk. At 8:50, L. H. Tapscott will address the audience. His subject is, "Serving Jesus Through the Brotherhood." Mr. Tapscott is State Brotherhood Secretary.

After a short business session, the audience will hear an address by Clifton W. Brannon, secretary and general counsel for R. G. LeTourneau, Inc. and vice-president and director of the Texas Casualty Insurance Co. He is an able speaker and will have as his subject, "It Pays to Serve Jesus in Business and Professional Life." Mr. Brannon was elected vice-president of the State Association at the Amarillo convention last fall and has been actively engaged in brotherhood work since that time.

Tuesday morning will be devoted to recreation. The time will be spent in fishing, boating, swimming and golfing under the direction of Rev. Strickland.

Tuesday afternoon the audience will hear addresses by Lyman H. Wren, layman, of Snyder, and P. E. Ponder, District President of Sweetwater. Mr. Wren will speak on "It Pays To Serve Jesus as a Personal Soul," and Mr. Ponder will have as his subject "It Pays To Serve Jesus in The Home."

The Tuesday evening program will include a men's quartet contest and all churches in the association have been invited to bring along their quartets.

The encampment will close Tuesday evening with an address by P. D. Dick, O'Brien, minister of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring. Mr. O'Brien is regarded as one of the most able and popular speakers in Texas. His subject is "Pastor's Pay in the Service of Jesus: Souls Saved." The theme of the encampment is "Service to Jesus" and every one was given an invitation to attend the meetings.

Ciscoans on Talking Splurge As 246 Phones Installed

Cisco people have definitely gone on a talking splurge.

If you don't believe it, consult with C. A. Deuschle, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here.

He announced Friday the installation of 24 new telephones in Cisco since March 1. To make this expansion program possible, the telephone company had to install considerable new switchboards and other equipment.

Things are still pretty bad Deuschle added. The waiting list for telephone service still runs over the 200 mark.

Cisco had 1,551 telephone subscribers as of May 1.

Davis Entertains Area Horsemen

Horsemen from throughout this section gathered at Rancho de Sur west of Cisco Saturday for a Field Day and barbecue dinner. The palomino and quarter horse ranch is operated by Roy C. Davis, local publisher.

A feature of the event was the showing of fine palomino and quarter horses that have won top honors in various shows throughout the southwest.

Many sidewalks in Rio de Janeiro are covered with black and white mosaic tiles.

Good Farming.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has published a very interesting booklet entitled "Good Farming in Hopkins County." It makes good reading for this section in view of the efforts in progress to encourage and develop the dairy industry.

Since 1917, the bank has loaned over $1,700,000 to 1,100 farmers in Hopkins County, which is regarded by bankers as one of the most interesting in the state. Here is a county that has, during the past fifteen years, changed its general type of agriculture.

Hopkins County took large areas of soil that had been exhausted of its fertility or had been ruined by erosion. And the county has come back. The people took action and developed a more successful type of farming. They turned their row crops to milk cows. They had a good dairy section — well drained, slightly rolling sandy soil with plenty of water.

In 1930, Hopkins County stood 35th among Texas counties in total value of dairy products sold, with a total valuation of $227,683. Today, it has stepped up to 8th place in the total value with a valuation of nearly $1,500,000. It has reached 3th place in the total number of gallons of milk produced.

The county is made up largely of small farms. The farmers bought good cows and seeded pastures. Modern methods have been put to work in every sense of the word. The program had the backing of business and civic leaders throughout the county.

The people there say that the surface has only been scratched. They say there can be no limit to the possibilities in better breeding, no limit to what needs to be done in pasture improvement and no limit to the possibilities of improved management practices.

The success of Hopkins County might very easily serve as an inspiration and example for other sections of the state.

... the increased lease activity in Eastland County has been a real break for several types of business. Abstracters as a general rule struggle along for years on bare existence with heavy overhead expense until something on the present order comes along, if it does, then everybody else is busy, too, sufficient help is not available and away goes our reputation for prompt service. So for the time being please file your orders a little ahead of anticipated needs.

The minimum charge on servicing checking accounts has been REDUCED from $1.00 to 44c. This should be especially attractive to those who carry smaller balances and do not write many checks as the cost will thereby be less while the earning credit to offset or eliminate any charge will be on the same percentage per dollar as allowed on the larger accounts.

The minimum balance system that neighboring banks adopted in 1945 is used on a visual chart to enable each depositor (who writes more checks than the account is entitled to on a free basis) to see exactly the per item expense and exactly the per dollar earning credit given. The new chart is based on figures that are 8% under actual per item cost, and it allows 20% more credit than the actual net earned per dollar deposited.

There Is NO Charge For---
Mailing monthly statements on request.
Clearing out-of-town items.
Handling any amount of cash.
Depositing any number of items.

There Is NO Charge When---
Minimum balance credit exceeds cost.
Average daily balance exceeds 5M.
Cost margin is less than 44c.
Only one local item is handled.

Full explanation accompanies each statement this month—and the visual table will always be enclosed where any charge is made so the customer can actually see the results and regulate checking to eliminate a charge if he so desires.

CISCO YOUTH IS ENGAGED TO WED ATTRACTIVE GERMAN GIRL ARTIST; WILL MAKE HOME HERE

By JIM EWELL.

In the winter of '43, the war was at its highest peak; London was being bombed almost around the clock and the headlines were telling of Allied defeats — from North Africa to the isles in the Pacific.

It was in that year, as so many more American boys had done and were doing, that Charles Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Rice, formerly of Portland, Texas, and now living in Cisco, enlisted in the service. Perhaps at that time young Charles wouldn't have thought he was to meet the girl in a foreign country across the seas that would some day become his wife.

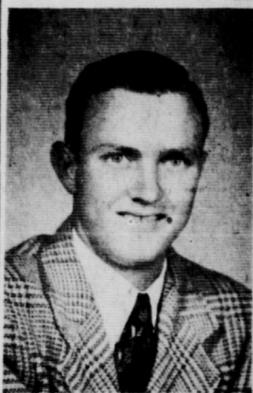

Completing his basic training in the United States, he was assigned to army's division of engineers, attached to the American First Army. While fighting in the European Theater of Operations, he survived five major field campaigns. It was in Germany that he met Elfriede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wild of Nurnberg, Germany. At the time of their first acquaintance, Elfriede was only fourteen years of age.

When peace was restored to the people of Europe and the war was drawing to a climax in the Pacific, Charles' battalion was ordered back to the States. He left Germany and Elfriede in 1945 and sailed for home.

Upon his return, he was stationed in an army separation camp in Nebraska, remaining there until he received his discharge in '45. With the idea of bringing his sweetheart to America and after a two year's correspondence with her he decided to re-enlist in the regular army. He

Mrs. J. H. Ballard and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Halett, will have as their guests today Mr. and Mrs. Jon Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hudson and son of Anson; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ballard and son of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ballard and son of Abilene; Noe Ratliff of Odessa; Mrs. Mary Boles and Wayne Boles of Cisco.

Women's Council of the First Christian Church will have an installation service Tuesday evening at the church at which officers for the new fiscal year will be inducted. Rev. R. W. Crews, church pastor, will be the installing officer. The public is invited.

Lt. and Mrs. W. H. Pickron of Shreveport, La., and Miss Margaret Darden of McCaulley are her parents, as Elfriede is presently attending a German school for fine arts and would not be able to come to the United States until she has completed her course.

Sgt. Rice is now stationed at Darmstadt Military Post near Nurnberg, but is expecting a transfer to Nureberg, it was stated. His company (army engineers) helped in the construction of the Nurnberg courts, site of the Nurnberg war criminals' trials.

At the completion of her studies as a professional artist, Charles and his bride-to-be will return to the United States, where they plan to make their home in Cisco. He is to work for his father and brother-in-law, who are operating a gasoline agency, his sister said here.
