Country Club Low Ball Tournament Played in Rain

The team captained by C. M. Townsley won the low-ball golf tournament held at the Cisco Country Club, Monday. The team composed of Townsley, G. C. McGowan, A. W. Triplett and Ben Wende battled the rain and soggy greens to turn in a score of 76. Eight teams entered the tournament and, despite the showers, competition was keen. The teams were captained by O. L. Stamey, E. P. Crawford, Chas. Graham, V. M. Howsley, W. C. McDaniel, Dr. Paul Woods, C. M. Townsley and T. C. Williams. Dr. Paul Woods and G. C. McGowan tied for low-hole and Roy Fonville and F. B. Altman tied for "bogey." A. W. Triplett, who played with the winning foursome, won the prize offered on the bogey hole. V. M. Howsley and C. M. Townsley tied for medal and in the play-off Howsley took the trophy.

State Revenues Show Increase Over Past Year

AUSTIN, June 6.—Revenue receipts for the State of Texas are up 38 per cent while expenditures are up only 31 per cent over last year, said Comptroller Geo. H. Sheppard. This reverses the national trend. Tax Administrators news said "State Expenditures rise faster than revenues." Sheppard released his monthly financial report today which disclosed that Crude Oil Tax was the big factor in Texas prosperity. It hit an all time high during June of 8 million 3 hundred thousand dollars.

The Motor Fuel Tax is far ahead of last year and almost all the increase of 7 million dollars received from this source accrues to the Treasury as refunds are only slightly above last year. This means the increased consumption of Motor Fuel was for highway travel.

Only one major item of revenue, Store Tax showed a decrease from last year. This apparent reversal of trend was caused by heavy collection of delinquent taxes during the prior year. Most of these delinquencies have now been liquidated and future years collections will not be inflated thereby. Collection of current store taxes this year is ahead of last year.

The General Fund balance at the end of June before allocations of June receipts were made was sixty-six million dollars. This will probably rise to seventy-five million by the end of the fiscal year. It is obvious that an Ad Valorem levy for the General Fund will not be made for the coming year with revenue exceeding spending and this whopping big surplus on hand.

Sheppard added a new section to his report this month, which gives registrations in the bond department. This shows bonds of Political subdivisions registered during June, of over forty million dollars, highest in history. Bonds registered year to date of 194 million is almost twice that of last year. The indication is higher activity in the rebuilding of schools, streets and public buildings and the great expansion of public facilities made necessary by our rapid industrial growth.

The Gay Philosopher

(Copyright New York Graphic Society) By J. W. S.

WE'RE HEARING a lot of fine applause on the new street markers about town. The city is busy installing them all around. They're easy to read and are permanent-looking. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is due a lot of credit for raising the funds to finance the purchase of the markers. The city paid for the iron poles and is financing the installation.

AS A MAN OF the old school, we sometimes are depressed over the prospect that some of our finer arts will be lost. For example, watermelon thumping. You seldom see anybody thumping watermelons any more. They plug them.

A TRUE FELLOW of the old school can thump a watermelon and tell you with a great degree of reliability as to its ripeness. These people never plug watermelons. It would insult them to suggest it. The other day we were buying a melon from a farmer. And we asked him if they were ripe. "I'll have you understand that I thumped them all," he asserted.

MAYBE THE country needs a society of some sort to keep alive this ancient and useful art.

WE DONT PARTICULARLY like to ride merry-go-rounds any more. But we can still stand for an hour and admire the pretty horses and the music. Did you ever in your life see a real horse with such graceful lines as the merry-go-round horses have? The music, too, is always good. Usually they have an old player piano that turns out marching tunes.

A LOT OF US are glad that a couple of small children gives us an excuse for riding everything at carnivals.

PASSED THROUGH Thurber, Texas, the other day and 200 or more people — old residents — were having a picnic. Thurber, you know, is a ghost town. Once a thriving coal mining center, all that is left are a handful of buildings and houses, sites of former buildings, the ruins of a brick plant, and memories.

CITY BUYS FIRE TRUCK FOR USE AS PUMPER; CONVENTION PLANNED

The City Commission has purchased a new truck for the fire department and firemen are planning on converting it into a combination booster and pumper, it was announced today. With the addition of this truck, the Cisco Fire Department will have the most modern equipment available, according to a report by Chief Anderson. This will give the department two new pieces of equipment and the hook and ladder truck. Several months ago the department purchased a truck from the War Assets Administration.

Chief Anderson said that the West Texas Firemen's Association will hold its convention in Cisco in October and about 300 visitors are expected to attend.

PIONEER IN PHILIPPINE SCHOOLS DYING OUT

MANILA, (UP) — Disease, murder and old age have killed all but a handful of 600 Americans who volunteered to build the first public school houses in the Philippines.

They were young men and women, most of them in their twenties, when they answered a U. S. Army appeal for teachers soon after the Spanish-American war. They sailed for Manila in the summer of 1901 aboard the transport Thomas, and they called themselves the Thomasites.

Carrying packs of textbooks and carpenter's tools, they fanned out into the fields and jungles of the Philippine archipelago. They built classrooms out of bamboo and thatch. Then they began the slow — and sometimes dangerous — job of recruiting pupils.

Twenty-seven died the first year. Nineteen were killed by disease, six by knives and clubs of savages, and two by accident.

Only 60 of the Thomasites still remained in the Philippines when Pearl Harbor was bombed. All 60 were interned in Japanese concentration camps where many of them died. Most of those who survived and edging 70.

Rev. Rohre Ordered to Active Duty For Month of Training at Camp Hood

Rev. Stuart McC Rohre, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, left today for Camp Hood, Texas, to report for a tour of active duty as a chaplain. His church gave him a vacation to cover the period of active duty. A Lt. Col. in the organized reserve, Rev. Rohre will be on active duty for about 30 days. He served in both World War I and II. In 1942, he served as regimental chaplain in the 9th infantry and as an assistant division chaplain until September, 1943.

Wheat Combine to Put Pair Through College

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UP) — A pair of Kansas youths are combining their way through college. In the wheat country, where a man can do all right during the harvest season, Tom Weems and Rex Clothier are working their new combine and two-ton truck. They expect to pay for the equipment this summer and have enough left to send them through another year of school at Hutchinson Junior College.

IT WAS THAT WAY ONCE BUT NOT NOWADAYS

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP) — Passersby blinked when they read a menu posted in the window of a local restaurant. Ham and eggs, a hamburger steak and a roast chicken dinner were the highest priced items — 10 cents each. Liver and bacon, roast beef, mutton, veal cutlet and chicken stew were priced at five cents each. For four cents, there were pork chops or sausages tea or coffee added one cent to the check. After a second look, the astonished passersby saw those were the prices from Delmonico's restaurant in New York City in 1834.

THEY LIKED THE CAR.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — The man and woman said they wanted to try out the used car first by driving it around the block. That was the last Charlie Weathered, the dealer, saw of them, he told police.

Going over seas in 1943, Rev. Rohre served as a Port Captain at Liverpool, England. After his dismissal from Brooks General Hospital in 1946, he attended Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. He accepted the call of the Cisco church on May 1, 1946. He planned to return by Aug. 8. For notes and drafts use your BANK'S COLLECTION SERVICE First National Bank in Cisco Member F.D.I.C.

T. Owens Hurt In Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Owens, of 711 East 13th Street, received word that their son, Tommy, was injured in a traffic accident Saturday near Sulphur Springs. Tommy, an aviation cadet in the U. S. Navy, was on his way to Cisco to spend the week-end with his parents.

From the meager reports given the family it was determined that he and four friends were traveling in the car which was completely demolished. Tommy suffered the least serious injury, receiving a broken collar bone. One of his companions suffered a broken back and another a crushed chest. The extent of injuries to the other two was not determined.

The injured were taken to a Sulphur Springs Hospital where they were given emergency treatment. They were removed from the hospital there by ambulance plane at midnight Sunday to the Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi.

Tommy entered the navy soon after graduating from high school here and received his initial training in California. He was given an aptitude test and his grades were among the highest. Upon completion of his tests, he was placed in the Naval Air Corps and sent to Nashville where he is studying radio and radar.

Confesses to Slaying of Parents

On his way to court to face charges of first degree murder, Gordon Fisher, Jr., arrogantly poses for photographers at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. The youth confessed to killing his mother so she wouldn't tell police when he murdered his father, Gordon Fisher. He said he hated his parents because he was forced to work hard on their 120-acre Neenah, Wis., farm. (NEA Telephoto).

RAIN DAMPENS SPIRIT OF HOLIDAY WEEK-END

1.5 Inches Helps Fall Crop Outlook In This Section

While rain showers considerably dampened the spirit of the weekend Independence Day celebration, the moisture contributed much to the prospects for fall crops in the Cisco area, agricultural leaders reported here. Rain gauges showed that 1.5 inches fell here over the week-end.

Cisco area residents celebrated their holiday with picnics, fishing, swimming, golfing and varied forms of entertainment between the showers.

A survey of police and hospital records showed that the area went through the holiday without accident or mishap. Elsewhere, 33 persons lost their lives in violent deaths in Texas during the 3-day period. And more than 400 died in the nation — 237 in traffic accidents, 122 by drowning and 48 in miscellaneous mishaps.

North Texas had considerably more rain than in this section. At Snyder, a 5-inch downpour flooded the creeks and streams and slowed highway travel. The south part of the town was under water and the loss included considerable cattle.

Southern-Pacific trains were passing through Cisco again today for the second time in a week due to damaging floods in the Del Rio - Eagle Pass area. Bridges were washed out again.

FLORIDA YOUTH AID GERMAN CHILDREN

GAINESVILLE, FLA. (UP) — Florida's farm youth free of the prejudices of their fathers, are raising money to buy playground equipment for the children of Germany.

The 254 boy members of the Florida 4-H Club are chipping in the money themselves. Their minimum goal is $200.

The group expressed plainly its views toward America's traditional enemy.

"What happened in Germany wasn't the fault of the boys and girls over there. We want those kids to have some of the things we have," said the farm-boy philanthropists.

"Maybe," they added, "we can help in our own little way to make democracy work in Germany."

NEW HISTORY OF TEXAS IS BEING COMPILED BY STATE HISTORIANS

AUSTIN, Texas, July 6. — The people of Texas are writing their own history!

Working by assignment, historians all over the state are assisting in compilation of a four-volume "Handbook of Texas" in preparation at the University of Texas.

The Handbook, which Professor Walter P. Webb says is the largest project in the history field of social sciences undertaken in Texas, will contain 13,000 listings of famous Texans, towns, creeks, battles and just about anything else connected with Texas.

Initiated in 1939, the project is bringing together material from all over the state and combining it into one publication which Dr.

DOUBLE MURDER AT SEA MYSTIFIES PHILIPPINES

MANILA, (UP) A strange shooting at sea heads the list of current cases in the Philippine constabulary's "unsolved" file. A fishing captain sighted a small, neat sailboat bobbing aimlessly off the coast. Overtaking it, he found the corpses of a man and a boy.

The bodies were riddled with carbine bullets. Seven empty shells were scattered about the boat but the carbine itself was missing.

There were no signs of a struggle. Robbery was dismissed as a motive when $25 was found in one of the dead men's pockets.

Their boat, which bore the words, "You are always in my heart" in brightly painted letters, appeared on no official registry lists.

Officials said the small craft might have drifted several hundred miles before it was discovered.

A Healthy Condition.

The financial condition of the State of Texas is in such a strong condition that Comptroller George H. Sheppard does not believe it will be necessary for the state to collect an ad valorem tax for general fund purposes next year. He based his opinion on data prepared for the Automatic Tax Board to use in calculating the rate.

There are 177 million dollars in state funds at present of which 72 millions are in the general fund. The general fund surplus, added to any imaginable estimate of next year's revenue from other than ad valorem tax sources, will make such a tax needless. This situation has happened once before — in 1946-47.

The automatic tax law was intended as relief for the property owner to the extent that other revenue sources could be found. At one time the ad valorem tax was the largest part of the state's revenue. Today, this levy accounts for only about 8 per cent of the state's income.

If the revenue is not needed, the tax board should make every effort to avoid building up huge surpluses. Experiences have proved that state legislatures are inclined to vote more expenditures if there is plenty of money. And the recent growth of Texas has been due in a very large measure to the fact that our state's tax laws are more favorable to industry than those of neighboring states.

Child's Nearly-Severed Leg Saved By Doctor's 'Miracle' of Surgery

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The story of how a sympathetic surgeon saved the almost completely severed leg of a little girl has come to light at Our Lady of Victory Hospital in nearby Lackawanna.

The child, Eleanor Eaton, is now five years old, and she runs and plays like any other child her age. But the first time Eleanor met the late Dr. Michael A. Sullivan several years ago, it was different. Playing on her family's farm near Buffalo, Eleanor became pinned beneath her father's tractor. She was taken to the hospital with her mangled legs dangling.

One leg was severed except for a section of muscle. The other leg was badly fractured. Doctors and nurses prepared for immediate amputation as Dr. Sullivan, then the hospital's chief of staff, studied the injuries.

Doctor Hesitates.

"It's an awful thing to lose a leg," Dr. Sullivan said. "Let's let this little girl rest until tomorrow."

A special pillow was made for the severed leg and the wound was sprinkled with sulphur powder to prevent infection. After 24 hours during which nurses watched over Eleanor constantly, the operating room again was prepared for the amputation.

Dr. Sullivan still hesitated. And, although other physicians urged him to amputate, he decided to wait a while longer.

Instead of putting a cast on the leg, Dr. Sullivan ordered a loose bandage to guard against infection. Finally, as Eleanor's condition improved, he ordered a cast. But the chance of complete recovery was a long one. Even if the flesh healed without infection, the bone ends and nerves might not knit.

Months later the cast was removed. In a room filled with nurses, doctors and technicians, the plaster was taken off. Gentle hands massaged the stiff muscles. Everyone waited to learn the effects of Dr. Sullivan's efforts.

Wiggles Her Toes.

"Wiggle your toes, Honey," one of the hospital sisters said to Eleanor.

Eleanor wiggled her toes, and all five of them moved. The first stage of the program was a success. But would the child be able to walk?

After weeks of exercise and massage, Eleanor was assisted from the bed. With helping hands nearby to aid her, she was asked to stand. Then she took a few steps. Dr. Sullivan had saved her leg.

"There is no known record of any other case where a leg had been virtually amputated, including the bone, and healed together again," Sister M. Theophane, hospital superintendent, said. The case, she added, was not publicized.

during Dr. Sullivan's lifetime at his own request.

FAMOUS MAGICIAN'S GRAVE DISCOVERED

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—A shrine is planned here to mark the grave of Paul Valadon, the "father of modern magic" and one of the greatest vaudeville performers of his day.

Valadon's exit from the show world at the peak of his career 35 years ago was a mystery as puzzling as his theatrical stunts. A few days ago, his unmarked grave was discovered here by the Magicians Guild of the United States in a storybook climax.

According to Julian J. Proskauer, New York, past president of the guild, "Valadon was the Houdini of his day — a great sleight-of-hand man."

His grave was located by a study of yellowed vital statistics.

The story of his tragic end then was supplied by his son, Paul Valadon, now a Phoenix city employe.

Young Valadon said his father was a headliner on the Orpheum circuit for many years after he came to this country from England. Thurston and Keller, also great magicians of their day, were his partners at one time. But his greatest fame came from the spectacular illusions he invented and staged with the help of eight assistants.

The famed illusionist's wife died in 1908. Not long afterward he slipped away from the glare of the footlights.

Miserably ill with tuberculosis, he came to Phoenix with his son but was unable to shake off the disease. He died in 1913 at the age of 46 without fanfare in a young, bustling town already accustomed to victims of the malady.

Declaration of Independence!

He's on his own. It's a wonderful feeling. He can go places now. And he'll keep on going places all his life—as long as he keeps his sense of independence.
That's America's richest resource—not forest, field or mine, but the spirit of her people. Ambition, energy, self-reliance are the reasons why individuals—and industries—grow great from small beginnings.
Take the electric industry—this company, for example. A few practical dreamers opened up an "electric frontier" when in 1915 they strung the first transmission power lines in West Texas. People of faith and vision risked their savings. Other folks combined skill and hard work to produce better and better service—at lower and lower costs—creating more and more jobs—and carrying the benefits of electric living to more and more West Texans.

That's the American way of progress. Free enterprise, vision, and hard work. They are what built America and the American way of life, which is the highest standard of living in the world.
No nation has ever found a satisfactory substitute for that combination. No nation ever will.
