The Gay Philosopher

(Copyright New York Graphic Society) By J. W. S.

WE'RE WORKING up a sweat this morning after the wonderfully cool weather during the past ten days. And a fellow handed us a list of suggestions on how to keep cool. Some of them were: 1. Keep shades drawn on the sunny side of the house to block out direct rays of the sun. 2. See that all windows and doors remain closed throughout the day to keep out hot air currents. 3. Open all windows and doors after sunset. The night air will help cool the house. 4. Direct an electric fan across a large bowl of ice before an open window. 5. Replace electric bulbs of high wattage with smaller bulbs for the summer. 6. Keep doors between kitchen and living quarters closed when cooking. 7. Wear light loose clothing. 8. Banish from sight all unused heaters, blankets and other reminders of heat.

CITY FIREMEN have an interesting way to keep cool. They play water polo. They take water hoses and two teams work on the proposition of pushing a large rubber ball across a line with a stream of water. Winner or loser, you come out soaking wet, and if you're a spectator too close to the game, you'll get wet too.

A FRIEND of ours was kind of depressed the other day and we inquired as to his trouble. He had just driven a new car home from the factory. The first 500 miles, he held the speed down to 35 miles per hour. The second 500 he observed a 45-miles-per-hour speed limit. And when he got home, he was reading the manufacturer's instructions. "Drive 40 miles per hour the first 100 miles," it said, "and then observe the speed laws."

SOMETHING NEW in garden goodness shown us today by Mrs. J. T. Carson of 302 East 7th St. They're growing okra on vines out at their house. And the vines look like cantaloupe vines. The okra looks like squash, but isn't. Mrs. Carson reports that it is wonderful eating. They got the seed from their son who lives out near Pecos. At their house, Mr. Carson is the chief gardener and his wife is chairman of the lovely flowers. They also had a sack full of very fine looking tomatoes.

REVIVAL MEETING J. Brittain Tidmore will be in charge of preaching services at a revival meeting at the Church of Christ at Okra from July 16 to 25, inclusive. Services will be held each night. The general public has been invited to attend.

Nazarene Church To Hold Rally For Visitors Friday

The Cisco Nazarene Church will act as host to visitors at a zone rally to be held here Friday. The rally is being held by the Ranger zone consisting of Churches in Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Stephenville and Mineral Wells.

The service will begin at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. S. L. Wood, pastor of the Stephenville Church, bringing the message.

The evening service will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will feature a drama of "Showers of Blessings" broadcast. The "Showers of Blessing" program is a radio program sponsored by the Nazarene Church now being broadcast on 125 stations on four continents. The strongest stations in Africa and China are carrying the program, Rev. Cecil Stowe, local pastor said.

After the dramatization of the radio program, a play entitled "The Challenge of the Cross" will be presented.

Rev. Stowe said that a basket lunch would be served at the church at 5:30 p. m. and invited every one to bring a lunch and remain for the evening rally.

PRINCE HAS TIME

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UP) — Prince is only a milk wagon horse but he felt his oats. While his driver was making a delivery, he decided to sprint. Five blocks later when he was caught he had shattered a grocery store window, grazed a dozen cars and wrapped his milk wagon around a tree.

Presbyterian Encampment Draws 100 Young People for Week's Program

The theme of the Pioneer Camp of Mid-Tex Presbyterians, attended by 85 young people from the ages of 12 through 15, is "Adventure the Christian Way." The young people and 15 instructors gathered Monday to open the camp which will close with a breakfast Saturday.

The young people who come from the Mid-Tex area which lies between Fort Worth, Brownwood and Spur have a well rounded program mixed with worship, play and work. From the time they arise at 7:00 a.m. until the lights go out at 10:15 p.m. they are engaged in a program which is planned for them. They begin the day with a song service at 7:30 which is followed by breakfast at 7:50. From 8:45 to 10:45 they receive their lessons from the teachers selected for the encampment.

The teachers are Rev. Earl Brandon, Miss Marion Messingill, Mrs. Earl Brandon, Miss Emabel Baker, Rev. J. L. Mitchell, Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, Miss Laura Nell Wortham, Ernest Helsley, Miss Leila McGeath, Miss Betty Sumner, Miss Margaret Richey, Mrs. Ernest Helsley and Dr. Greer, who is the inspirational speaker. Mr. William H. Arnold is camp director and Winston Bryant is business manager.

When the lessons are completed committee meetings are held and from these meetings come the government of the encampment.

After lunch an hour is spent working with hobbies. In this hour special instructions are given in leatherwork, spatter and finger painting, woodwork, music, camp press, service and athletics.

The time form 1:41 until supper at 6:30 is spent in resting, games and swimming. The group is taken to the swimming pool by

Legion Auxiliary Issues Plea For Zane Grey Books

The American Legion Auxiliary today issued a plea for books written by Zane Grey to be placed in the library of the Veterans Hospital in Waco.

The plea came from Mrs. B. J. Hardman, Auxiliary Hospital representative in Waco. Mrs. Hardman said that these books are very much in demand at the library but are difficult to find. She asked every one to search their homes for books by Zane Grey and turn them in to the local chapter.

In Cisco the books may be left at the Laguna Cigar Store for delivery to the hospital or if it is not convenient to leave them there, call Mrs. J. J. Tableman, phone number 202 and a representative will pick them up.

Dairy Specialist To Address County Dairymen

G. G. Gibson, Dairy Specialist of the A&M College Extension Service will talk to members of the Eastland County Dairy Association on artificial insemination in Carbon Friday night, July 9, according to A. Z. Myrick, Cisco, president of the organization.

One of the objectives of the recently organized dairy association in the county is set up an artificial breeding program for its members, it was said. At least 1,000 to 1,200 cows will be needed to justify the expense of such an insemination program according to other breeding circles.

The dairy association now has over 100 members and are still in their membership campaign.

Carbon was selected as the next meeting place upon the invitation of L. R. Higginbottom, secretary-treasurer of the group and Jersey breeder of the Kokomo community.

All dairymen and others interested in the growth of the dairy industry are invited to attend the meeting that will start at 8 p.m. A survey will start at the meeting to sign up the required number of cows. It is planned to hire a technician to do the inseminating work.

Most corn is too mature for table variety and beans and other table variety vegetables have been harvested. The rains over much of Texas should have the ground in readiness for the planting of fall gardens.

NOT ALWAYS FUN

WORK OF CISCO VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT IS REFLECTED IN LOW INSURANCE COSTS

By JIM EWELL, JR.

Life for a fireman — particularly a volunteer fireman — isn't always a splashing good time in water polo or a spirited game of dominoes. In fact, it often becomes hard and dangerous work for the fellows who give Cisco a near-record low fire status.

For example, take the cold, sleety night of January 5, 1943. The siren atop city hall screamed a signal for all hands to man their stations. Two minutes later, two companies were prepared to fight

Three - Day Rodeo For Peach - Melon Show at De Leon

DE LEON, July 8—(Spl)—An amateur rodeo with five main events, calf roping, cutting horse contest, bull riding, wild cow milking, bareback bronc riding supplemented with a number of specialty events will be an added feature of the Peach and Melon Festival to be held this year in De Leon on July 22, 23, and 24.

Performances will get underway at 8 o'clock each evening in the well-lighted arena at Veterans' Sportsman's Park on the Dublin highway at the outskirts of the city. Plenty of good comfortable seats will be available with parking space for hundreds of cars.

Bud Morrison and J. C. Holland both of De Leon, are promoting the show and are erecting additional chutes and improving the grounds to accommodate a top-notch rodeo performance.

Arrangements have been completed with Wallace and Dugan Ratliff, experienced rodeo men of Hico, who will provide the stock and handlers for the big amateur performance.

Handsome daily prizes as well as the big grand prize that will draw top amateur rodeo performers are being offered by the promoters. A number of local men will be in the competition.

Increase Noted In Applicants For Army Duty

AUSTIN, July 8.— The office of the Senior Instructor of the Organized Reserves in Austin announced today that applications of Reserve Officers desiring 3 years extended active duty with the Army have increased rapidly during the last week. Fifty-four applications were processed by that office during the last week.

Even with this rapid increase of applications, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, the Senior Instructor, said that the Army is still in direct need of officers to initiate the expansion program of the various posts, camps and stations throughout the United States. He stated that especially anti-aircraft officers are needed at Fort Bliss.

Col. Abbott also announced that all regular army non-commissioned officers who hold a reserve commission have been advised that the Army desires that they state whether or not they choose to return to their former officer status and go on extended duty as such or remain in their present non-commissioned officer status. Without doubt, many of the present regular army non-commissioned officers that are stationed in Texas will take advantage of this new regulation.

HIS HARD-EARNED BICYCLE VANISHES WITH THIEF

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP) — Young Wilbur Kuske worked hard and saved his money to get the motor bicycle he wanted.

He took jobs in stores after school and on Saturday. He did a slate of evening chores and ran errands by the dozens. At last he had saved up enough.

But today Wilbur's back doing the same daily stint trying to earn reward money. While he was in school his new, hard-won bicycle was stolen.

Twirling School Planned By Cisco Junior College

A school of twirling for band students of this region will be held at Cisco Junior College from July 11 through July 16 under the direction of F. R. (Woody) Woodard, according to an announcement today.

Classes will be conducted for beginners, intermediates and advanced twirlers. A feature of the school will be multi-baton work, plus instruction in fire and light-baton twirling.

A specialty not usually presented with such courses will be the teaching of tumbling fundamentals. Jack Everett, head coach at the college, will instruct all students in these important fundamentals that go into the making of a twirling show.

Woodard is drum major of the Texas Christian University Horned Frog band and was national twirling champion in 1939, 1940, and 1941. He was formerly an instructor at the Vandercock School of Music in Chicago.

Cisco High School is expected to be well represented for the reason that all of the majorette positions for the Lobo band are open due to graduation. These positions will be filled by competition and election by band members.

Tuition for the course is $8.50 or $18.50 for those who stay at the college dormitory. Details of the school are being arranged by Fred Baumgardner, high school band director. The college plans to make the course an annual event.

Thirsty Students Ignore Spirit of Confederacy

LEXINGTON, Va. (UP) — The highly cosmopolitan student body of Washington and Lee University descended upon a state liquor store on Jefferson Davis' birthday. To their annoyance, the store was closed.

On the door was a tiny Confederate flag and a sign: "We've got the spirit."

Not to be outdone, the students drove to West Virginia. When they returned, they altered the sign to read: "We've got the spirits."

SHOWER ON WHEELS

NEW YORK (UP) — Miss Marian Zarembo of Glen Cove, N. Y., was given a bridal shower by friends at the last car of a Long Island railroad commuter train on the way to work. Refreshments were served.

Inquest Verdict Describes Mishap Due to Accident

An Eastland County man lost his life early today when he was struck by a freight train engine near a railroad crossing, midway between Olden and Eastland.

Dead was N. B. Steddon, 38, section laborer for the Texas and Pacific Railroad. Justice of the Peace E. E. Wood of Eastland-rendered an inquest verdict of severe concussion about the head and several broken bones in his body.

A co-worker told investigators from Sheriff J. B. Williams' office that Steddon was operating a tie-driving machine near the track. Although no one saw the engine hit Steddon, fellow workers believed he either did not see the train approaching or was standing too close to the track. He died immediately.

Steddon had resided in Olden for several years. The body was being held by an Eastland Funeral Home pending completion of burial arrangements.

Changes In Wage Laws Postponed

DALLAS, July 8. — Enforcement of a new interpretation under the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal wage and hour law) regarding certain types of premium payment, necessitated by the recent Supreme Court decision in the longshore cases, will not go into effect until September 15, 1948.

This change from the previously announced enforcement date of July 1 was announced here today by William J. Rogers, regional director for the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, in the five Southwestern states.

In revealing the postponement, Director Rogers pointed out that information from both labor and management sources indicated that more time is required to make appropriate adjustments, or where necessary, to make revisions in collective bargaining agreements, due to varying requirements of union agreements as to reopening of contracts.

He also pointed out that Administrators Wm. R. McComb expects soon to issue a statement outlining the principles the Divisions will follow in enforcement outlined on June 11. At that time, of the position the administrator explained that the major problem for management and labor growing out of the decision is that of bringing union agreements and employer practices into accord with the court's findings.

Early in June the Supreme Court held that an employee who receives a higher wage rate because of undesirable hours or disagreeable work is entitled to be paid for work beyond 40 hours a week at one and one-half times his actual hourly rate of pay.

West Texas Fair Plans Are Made

ABILENE, July 8. — Plans are being formulated to make the twenty-fourth annual West Texas Fair, to be held here September 27-October 2, the biggest Fair yet staged in Abilene, according to D. H. Jefferies, President of the West Texas Fair Association. In 1947, over 75,000 people attended the six day show, and this year officials are scheduling entertainment features which it is believed will draw a record attendance of over 100,000 persons.

Among the many features of the Fair will be included swine, Jersey and Hereford shows and several community exhibits from a wide area in West Texas. Fair officials are now negotiating for a nationally known radio show and broadcast to originate from the Fair grounds on two consecutive days.

EITHER WAY, IT HURTS

PEARL RIVER, N. Y. (UP) — The Bee Keepers Association devoted a meeting to experimentation. The members let bees sting them to determine whether a bee left its stinger in the person, stung or kept the stinger. After an afternoon of stinging, it was decided that the bee left its stinger.

Constant Progress.

Periodically, the railroads are harshly criticized by someone with an ax to grind, for alleged failures to meet the expanding needs of the country for transportation. A short time ago a Congressional Committee held hearings to determine whether or not the lines are capable of dealing with another national emergency if it comes.

In the light of this, a new study prepared by P. Harvey Middleton, president of the Railway Business Association is especially timely and important. Mr. Middleton's paper is entitled "Railway Preparedness" and it is a summary of what the lines are doing to meet the needs of today and tomorrow. To assemble his evidence, he obtained factual reports from the presidents of 33 railroads which operate 76 per cent of all the rail mileage of the country.

The result is extremely impressive. The postwar betterment expenditures of these 33 roads total close to $2,176,500,000, and if complete figures for the entire industry were available the sum would be in excess of $3,000,000,000. At the present moment, the industry has on order well over a billion dollars worth of new equipment of the latest types. In addition, it is spending hundreds of millions for the improvement of roadbeds, bridges and other structures, new signals, safety devices, etc.

As Mr. Middleton puts it, "... the railway carriers are making very real progress in providing freight and passenger service far better than prewar standards." That finding is in complete accord with a long list of objective studies of what the railroads are doing. New locomotives, freight cars, passenger cars and the rest are being put to use as rapidly as the manufacturers can deliver them. Older cars are being rebuilt, and obsolete equipment is being retired in favor of the new. Constant progress has always been the underlying theme of railroad policy. That policy has not changed.

Another Cotton Product.

Cottonseed hulls may have an industrial value as insulating material in refrigeration, judging by the results of experiments at Texas A&M College.

The Cottonseed Products Research Laboratory on the campus, (only one of its kind in the world) is constantly seeking new uses for cottonseed products. One of the research projects carried out this year indicated that cottonseed hulls are effective when used as loose fill for medium low temperature refrigeration.

Another project which received much attention within the industry this year centered about the removal of the chemical "gossypol" from cottonseed meal by a new method of extraction of oil. Cottonseed meal so prepared was fed to hogs, who flourished on the diet. Ordinary cottonseed meal is dangerous to hogs, though good for certain other stock animals.

The Cottonseed Laboratory is a division of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, and operates in cooperation with the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association and the Cotton Research Committee of Texas.

Declares Germans Still Feel Like Fighting Again

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) — Fritz von Unruh of New York, well-known German-born writer, fears that "the real democratic forces of the German people may be too weak to overcome nationalism."

Unruh, touring western Germany, said in an interview that he had not expected a democratized German people.

"I fear that those who endeavor to establish a real democracy in Germany will try in vain because of the dangerous rebirth of nationalist movements," he said.

Unruh said recent developments in Hesse, where the newly-founded National Democratic Party — charged to be fascist by the military government — could make substantial election gains are "disappointing and alarming."

Blames U. S. Partly. He added that the U. S. military government attitude toward the German problem in some cases fanned nationalist and militarist feelings. He mentioned the recent announcement of a America foreign legion and said, "this could become the death blow to all anti-militarist endeavors in Germany."

Unruh said that "if you ask a German whether he would be willing to become a soldier again, he undoubtedly would answer yes and not even care what he is supposed to be fighting for."

"Just give them a gun—they'll march," Unruh said. The gray-haired writer, who vainly fought nationalist Germans before Hitler came to power, had left Germany in 1932 when he recognized that the wave of nationalist - militaristic forces would sweep the country.

He said he plans a new book about his impressions in Germany. "It will be a tragic song of misdirected and vain attempts to restore democracy to Germany," he declared.

He said he was amazed at the number of former Nazis in high positions of the present German administration.

East-West Swap Their Seafood

SEATTLE (UP) — What the governor of Washington said to the governor of Maine over a seafood dinner last year started the whole thing.

"I'll swap our crabs for your lobsters," offered Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, reaching for the melted butter.

"Agreed!" replied Horace A.

Hildreth of Maine. The first shipment of fat Dungeness crabs has left here from warm Pacific beds for Maine's cool, lobster-nipped shores. A tank full of lobsters will make the return trip by train.

Lobsters in the Pacific are less frequent than sea serpents. And a Dungeness crab wouldn't be caught dead east of Puget Sound — except on ice.

For 50 years, previous administrations to Gov. Wallgren's have tried transplanting lobsters. Its never worked. The job, once again, was dumped in the laps of each state's department of fisheries. One year's research revealed the swap might work, with air transportation and modern breeding tanks.

"Lobsters should thrive here," said Washington's Milo Moore. "Our inland sea is full of microscopic tid-bids that lobsters love."

The crabs and lobsters will stay for a while in special tanks. Once rehabilitated, the displaced crustaceans will be dunked in the ocean to start producing the makings of many excellent seafood dinners.

Both Reed and Moore figure it'll be about six years before shellfish fanciers of both coasts will be eating lobster or Dungeness crabs at a reasonable price.

Way Found to Save Abscessed Teeth

NEW YORK (UP) — Abscessed teeth can be saved now through new oral surgery techniques, Dr.

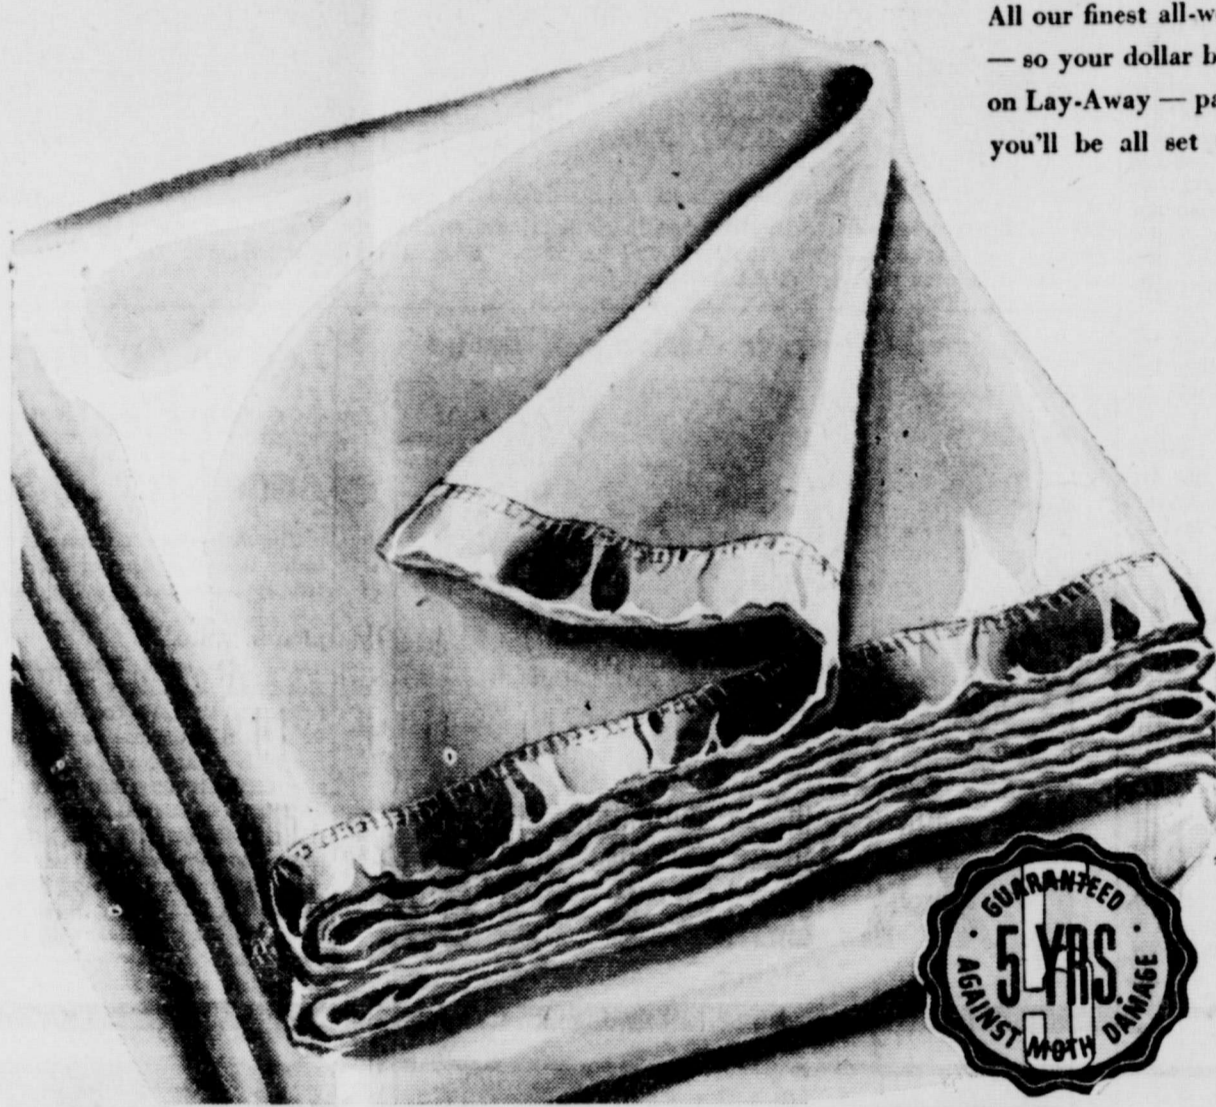

E. Alan Lieban told the American Academy of Dental Medicine. The operation is painless, he said.

Under the process, drugs are introduced into the underlying tissue by electric current, sterilizing the infected area. The root canal, which previously had been cleaned, then is filled with silver wire or gutta percha.

Thus sterilized and filled, the tooth and its root may be preserved for added years of useful service, Dr. Lieban said.

War Memorial Tree Killed by Vandals

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — Vandals have made death certain for a hard maple tree planted 30 years ago as a memorial to Olean's World War I dead.

Police Chief John C. Dempsey said mischief-makers had stripped a wide area of the tree of its bark. The maple will die next spring, Dempsey said, when the sap is unable to climb through the bark and the trunk to reach the upper portions of the tree.

Co-Vets and West Texas Meet In Softball Tonight

With the ABC softball diamond idle for the past five days, due to recent showers throughout West Texas, the Cisco Co-Vets will contest the West Texas Kilowatts in city commercial league play tonight. Game time is 8:45.

The Reddy Kilowatts, coming back after their upset by the CJC Wranglers last week, 10-to-12, will throw in the manager's sponge if necessary to claim the win. The Co-Vets are thinking along the same terms, all of which should promise softball fans plenty of action. The Co-Vets displayed considerable improvement in their recent game with

In an exhibition game, starting at 7:30 p. m., the First Christians will endeavor to round up the Kendall Outlaws who have been on the rampage with triumphant wins. Both teams are expected to use well seasoned fieldmen and will be pretty much on an even keel with each other.

Friday night's feature will present the Cisco Junior College Wranglers engaging the Cisco Independents for the undisputed second place in the commercial title.

Playing on a muddy field at Comanche, drenched by heavy rains in that sector, R. L. Boyd fought out a five inning draw and emerged victorious in the seventh over a Stephenville nine, 4 to 1.

Firemen were being treated for frost bites and burns received in the "battle."

This exemplifies the tremendous task volunteer firemen are confronted with, whether it be saving a drowning person's life or bringing down Mrs. Jones' cat from the roof top — it's all in the line of duty.

First Organized in 1892.

As old fire members can remember, the Cisco fire department was first organized in 1892 and was officially chartered in 1894 by the Texas State Department. It consisted of eighteen charter members. In its first beginning, the department was without a fire chief, until eight years later. In 1902, Judge B. W. Patterson, now a resident of the office as first fire chief. Since then there have been eleven fire chiefs.

Until the present up-to-date fire station was built in 1926, an old two story building served as the boosters and a fire chief's patrol car. All of which insure the people's protection to a higher standard.

In Line of Duty.

To the splendid record of the fire department, only one man has fallen in the line of duty. The name of Fireman Buck Strickland was one of the first firemen's name to be inscribed on the bronze plaque on the memorial grounds at Austin.

His story is a coincidence. Buck had two days before resigned from the department to accept a traveling salesman's job. He missed the early train and, as he was returning to his home, the bell gave the alarm. Still very interested in the gang, he joined them in the fight against one of Cisco's biggest fires. A large wall collapsed on him and he was killed instantly. Although he was an ex-member, he was given the same burial honors as a regular member would have been given.

The Department Today.

The Cisco fire department is headed by H. O. "Andy" Anderson as fire captain and Pete Clements as assistant to the captain. C. L. Tume, who has been with the department for 35 years, is lieutenant and driver of Company 1, and E. S. Townsend is captain of Company 2. C. R. Hightower is acting fire marshal and Bill Kendall and Don Rupe are fire police. The present enrollment is 25 members.

Only three of the members are paid regularly by the city; others are paid $3.00 for every "wet" fire.

After 20 years of service with an active part in the department, the member is retired by the state fire board. He may continue with the department after his 20 year period is up as long as he desires.

The department meets every two weeks for fire drills and practice. In the average meeting, the firemen review the principal funda-mentals in fire fighting. Such a meeting consists of: first aid, ladder practice, hose practice, care of equipment, and pumping operation. Knowledge of the city's layout is also studied. The amount of fire practice the department does, makes the fire insurance rate lower in the city.

The firemen have a rather unique way of getting in touch with each other in time of trouble. When the call comes in, the address is scribbled on a big black board. Hearing the siren the firemen, who are at work or at home, make a mad dash to the station. Without any questions asked, the trucks are rolling in the general direction of the fire. In case they should be needed on a night call, the fireman at the switchboard calls the members by telephones telling them the address.

The Texas State Fire Board has complimented the Cisco department on this fine system of regulation and the work they're doing in the protection and welfare of the citizens, who lives and homes are a blue and white label, "horse meat with gravy."
