The Gay Philosopher

DR. CLAUDE P. JONES, the new Methodist minister, is very good as a speaker. He has mastered the art of telling a story or relating an incident in such a manner that a very good point is driven home as you laugh.

HIS TALK at the Lions Club the other Wednesday was very impressive indeed. His subject seemed to be the personal pronoun "I". His observation that the word "I" is a mighty important word with everyone is very true, indeed. You just watch and listen to yourself in conversation. See how many times "I" is used.

MOST IMPRESSIVE was Dr. Jones' idea of what it takes to succeed. Say this over to yourself: "I have faith in myself; I have faith in my ability; I have faith in my trustworthiness; I have faith in the company for which I work; I have faith in that company's products." Don't you agree that Dr. Jones knows what he's talking about?

MR. JAY GARRETT, salesman over at West Texas Utilities Co., couldn't sleep very well last night. He had just read our comment on how to keep cool. And we didn't mention the Paramount coolers they sell. And all we could think of to say to him was: "Keep cool, now young fellow, and we'll talk it over."

WE HEARD ABOUT a fellow the other day who wanted to be different in advertising his shoe store. So he called it the "Bank of Bacchus." Appearing under his sign in small letters were these words: "A bank for the purpose of dealing in the exchange of shoes for gold, silver and bank notes."

SIGN IN A Cafe: "Everything Comes to Him Who Orders Hash."

WE WERE AT a big football banquet one time. And the speaker was a famous football coach who had attended the University of Texas. The man who introduced him was a Texas A&M College grad.

"How come," the man doing the introducing asked, "a smart man like you ever decided to go to Texas instead of A&M?"

"It was this way," the famous coach replied, "when I was about to finish high school, A&M offered me a job in the dairy and Texas offered me a job in the library. I had milked cows all my life and had never read a book. So I went to Texas."

Counterfeit Bill Turns Up in City

A counterfeit $5 bill similar to those discovered recently in the Dallas area was passed at a local grocery store this week, President Charles Spears of the First National Bank reported today. The bill was sent to the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas.

Mr. Spears cautioned local persons to inspect carefully any $5 bills offered them by strangers. The back side of the bill, he said, is a poor copy and easy to detect. A warning was sounded here recently by the Merchants Credit Association.

Clean-Up Campaigns in Texas Cities Urged by Dr. Cox to Combat Polio

AUSTIN, July 9. — Reported cases of polio in sixty-five Texas counties reached the alarming total of 580 during the first six months of the year, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. For the same period in 1946, the total number of cases reported in sixty-six counties of the state was only 292.

"This staggering increase in polio in a brief two year period evidences a need for drastic measures in all communities to combat the disease," Dr. Cox asserted. "It is the responsibility of the people of the State to report themselves to their doctors whenever they recognize symptoms of polio. It is also their duty to give wholehearted co-operation to clean-up drives in their communities." Dr. Cox urged immediate medical attention, especially at this time of year, for such things as headaches, fever, stiff neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. These the health officer stated, are symptoms of polio.

"It is well to guard against panic in polio cases," he said, "for complete recovery is not impossible. Even in the more severe cases, when the germ has penetrated the nervous system causing paralysis of one or more groups of muscles, some remarkable recoveries have been made."

Dr. Cox indicated his belief that the first line of defense against polio is a carefully conceived and thoroughly executed clean-up campaign in all communities. "Local police power should make such clean-ups mandatory," he said.

Rotarians Hear Musical Program By CJC Students

Rotarians heard a radio broadcast rehearsal at their regular luncheon Thursday at the college cafeteria. The musical program was furnished by students of Cisco Junior College with A. R. Collier acting as announcer. The program was in charge of Lonnie Shockley.

Mr. Collier presented the members of the student body who gave a musical program. Bill Hunt and Ivory Hunt played guitars and Chester Hogan played the mandolin. The vocal harmonizing was done by Willie Mae and Nettie Fae Hunt. At the conclusion of the program Mr. Collier announced that the boys attending veterans classes will have open house and a general meeting at the college Monday at 6:45 p. m.

President Jess Proctor announced the district meeting to be held in Graham July 9 and said that committees for the year will be appointed after he returns from the meeting.

Dr. Claude P. Jones, minister of the First Methodist Church, was welcomed into the club. Dr. Jones came to the Cisco Rotary Club as a transfer from Ranger where he had been a member for a number of years. Jim Ewell of Cisco was the only visitor.

Firemen Will Go To State Meet

Two Cisco firemen, Pete Clements and C. R. Hightower, are expected to leave Cisco Monday to attend the nineteenth annual Firemen's Training School to be held from July 11 to 16 on the campus at Texas A&M College.

Among the noted guest lecturers who will address the firemen are T. Alfred Fleming of New York, director of conservation for the national board of Fire Underwriters; Olin Cuberson, Austin Texas Railroad Commissioner; Joe S. Fletcher, Austin assistant director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and Horatio Bond, Boston, Mass., secretary to the president's conference on fire prevention and chief engineer of the National Fire Prevention Association.

The firemen's school is held annually at Texas A&M under the auspices of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshall's Association of Texas. It is conducted by the Industrial Extension Service of the College, in cooperation with the State Board for Vocational Education.

Report Details Work Advertising Council in Year

NEW YORK, July 9. — The Advertising Council today issued its Sixth Annual Report, "What Helps People Helps Business," outlined the vast contributions of advertising time, space, skills and money which American business made to information campaigns in the public interest during the twelve-month period from March 1947 to March 1948.

Describing the past year as "a year of strains and tensions," the report pointed out that "all of these tensions — economic, ideological and emotional — were reflected in the campaigns which found their way through the Council screening processes and onto the docket for 1947-1948."

According to the report, The Advertising Council, a non-profit organization representing all phases of the advertising industry, was asked to enlist volunteer advertising support for 103 public interest projects during the past twelve months. Of this number, 15 were selected as top-priority for the year by the Councils Board of Directors and Public Policy Committee and were given the great bulk of the advertising space, time and talent contributed to the Council by advertisers, advertising agencies and media. Fifty of the requests were turned down, while the remainder of the projects received some degree of assistance from the advertising industry.

Fines Paid County in 1947 Raised $16,517 For Road and Bridge Work

Fines paid in all Eastland County courts during 1947 made a total of $16,517.30 available for the road and bridge funds of the various precincts, according to a report prepared by County Auditor Dan Parker.

During the first six months of 1948, fines amounted to $5,060. These figures, the auditor's report said, did not include court costs. The fines were levied in county and precinct courts on persons arrested on varied charges.

Money raised through fines are made available to the road and bridge precincts for work on county roads.

Jack Osborn Is Home For Visit

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Osborn have returned from Fort Worth, where they met their son, Jack Osborn of the U. S. Navy, who is on a three weeks' leave of absence from the naval base at Bremerton, Washington. His ship, the USS Hammer, a destroyer, is in dry dock being repaired for shipping orders.

He is expected to remain in Cisco for an extended visit with his parents. He is to meet his ship at San Diego. The Hammer is scheduled to leave the States September 23, destined for maneuvers on the coastal waters of China. Jack is twenty-one years old and has served with the Navy four years since his completion at Allen Military Academy in 1944. He has signed up for another two years, his father said.

Co-Vets Take 6-4 Game From West Texas Utilities

The West Texas Kilowatts, one time commercial league title holders, fell to their second defeat in two weeks to a Co-Vet nine, 6 to 4, here at the ABC softball diamond Thursday night.

Holding their own in the first five innings and leading the opposing Co-Vets 2-0, an infield error caused the Kilowatts to backslip in the top of the sixth, allowing the veterans to slip three across home plate to take over the lead. With two men away and Heyser and Anderson on bases, a strikeout by Thackerson, Co-Vet fieldman, ended the scoring.

The Kilowatts retaliated in the bottom of the sixth, pushing two extra points home. Two men away and two on bases, a long hit to right field by Ellison, Westex fielder, was snagged by Pruitt, who threw to third in time to tag Burrows coming from second. The fast play retired the sides, and the Kilowatts scoring attack was turned back.

Tonight's games will present the Cisco Independents, contenders for the league title, in conflict with the CJC Wranglers. And the East Baptist will return to meet the Methodists in the Church league. The Baptists defeated the Methodist last week for their first win since their re-organization.

Boyd Softballers Lose in Tourney

More than 1500 softball fans witnessed Royce L. Boyd's first defeat since early in the season by a Comanche club at Comanche Thursday night. The score was 3 to 2.

Fighting to a 2-2 draw into the eighth and ninth innings, the Comanche club took the advantage of an outfield error in the bottom of the ninth to push across the winning run. Heathington, Boyd pitcher, fanned 18 and Parks, Comanche hurler, struck out 19.

The Cisco team has invited Comanche here for an exhibition tilt, when ever an open date is obtainable, Mr. Boyd said Friday.

Oil Well Service Company Locates Offices in Cisco

Another oil well servicing company announced today the location of headquarters in Cisco to work with the growing industry in this region. It was the Lane-Wells Company, a national oil well servicing concern.

The company has leased the Carroll Motor Co. building at 411 Avenue D for occupancy until a larger and permanent structure is erected. The Carroll building is undergoing remodeling for the Lane-Wells Company.

The company has been operating in the Cisco area for about three months and had been unable to obtain quarters. The service rendered by the company is oil well pipe gun perforation and formation testing. J. T. Henderson is local manager for the firm and has four men employed here now.

Mr. Henderson said the new quarters were leased on a temporary basis and that plans were in the making for a larger building to be erected as soon as a suitable site is located.

J. H. Latson and Sons are in charge of the remodeling work, which includes new doors, ceiling and repainting.

Coffee Shop Opens In Laguna Hotel

The Laguna Hotel Coffee Shop, closed for the past several months, planned to open Saturday or Sunday under the operation of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Williams Parks. The new managers are newcomers to Cisco.

Preparatory to the re-opening, the managers have been in Cisco for the past two weeks to remodel and clean the coffee shop in its entirety. Some new equipment has been added and the old fixtures have been cleaned and repaired from front to back. The floors also were refinished.

The opening Saturday depended on the arrival of refrigeration equipment. Otherwise, the coffee shop will not open until the following day, the new managers said.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson came to Cisco from Breckenridge and Mr. and Mrs. Parks are from Houston. The two women are nieces of Mrs. George Beene of Cisco. They are making their home at the hotel until they are able to secure housing.

While the coffee shop will serve the needs of hotel guests, the new managers said that they expect to cater also to the general public. They plan to cook their own pastries and to offer a complete menu.

The Marshall Plan.

"Out of the prevailing confusion a new world is taking shape," writes Sir Harold Butler in Foreign Affairs. "The most significant change is the revival of Western Europe's will to live. The mood of apathy and despair seems to be yielding to new hope and energy. For that the Marshall Plan must be regarded as mainly responsible. It was not, however, the offer of further American aid which revived the drooping spirits of the Europeans. They had no reason to think that by themselves more billions of dollars could be more than a temporary palliative. What stirred them to action was the notion that by working together they could use this American grant to lay the foundation of a new European system."

If that point of view is correct, Western Europe may be on the verge of unity for the first time in recorded history. Under the pressure of bleak necessity, the old prejudices and hatreds, stemming back to real and alleged injustices which occurred centuries ago, may be disappearing. Should that happen, the principal barrier to a strong Europe, capable of meeting and resisting aggression from the East, will gradually disappear.

It is true that in France, Italy, and elsewhere, there is an enormous amount of downright graft, lethargy, and the desire to get as much as possible while giving as little as possible. But this should not obscure the fact that many millions of Europeans, and their governments, are committed to a policy of hard work and sacrifice in order to build for the future. Many American correspondents have been tremendously impressed by what Western Europe is doing in the way of rehabilitation in the face of great odds, and the almost total absence of many things which are regarded as virtual necessities in happier nations.

When General Marshall first laid down his plan, in general terms, in an address at Harvard, he put special stress on the idea that it was not primarily a relief scheme but, instead, a means of getting Europe going so that she may ultimately sustain herself and make an equitable contribution to the community of nations. The Marshall Plan has gone through many transitions since then. It has become, officially, ERP. But that basic concept has not been lost. Those who have done the most to foster assistance to Europe have all described it as an effort to make it possible for the benefited nations to help themselves. And this concept clearly underlies the policy of Paul Hoffman, ERP's Administrator.

Perhaps relatively few people realize the revolutionary extent of the change in American foreign policy. There is, of course, a considerable opposition to American participation in the affairs of Europe. But it is not an effective opposition — whereas, after World War I, the all-powerful isolationist bloc in the Senate was able to get its way in every detail. It is an interesting commentary on these changing times that the leader of the opposition to Woodrow Wilson's plan for world cooperation was Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Now young Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has been one of the most effective backers of ERP.

The ineffectiveness of the opposition to our present policy was dramatically demonstrated in the closing days of Congress, when the House sought to make a heavy cut in ERP funds. The best known Republican leaders — Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen, Warren — at once denounced this move. The results: 90 per cent of the House cuts were restored, and ERP survived the last assault with little change.

As time goes on, the question of how much we can appropriate for purposes such as this will become more pressing. Herbert Hoover brought that up in a speech to the Republican Convention, in which he approved the principle of ERP, but observed that it would do the world no good if we weakened ourselves by devoting too much of our resources to helping other nations. This involves many imponderables. The heavy initial appropriation for ERP could have been possible only in a time of very high national income and industrial activity, which finds its reflection in vast tax revenues. Again, more inflation here would have a direct effect on the program by reducing the amount of goods that billions would buy. Dollars themselves do Europe no good. They are only valuable in the light of the machinery, food and other needed supplies they will buy.

Oil Rigs Busy In Gorman Section

GORMAN, July 9. — Joe S. Mellard and Associates are making location to drill their No. 1 G. T. Blackwell as the southern most well in the Kirk Field of Gorman. A rig is moving in to drill in the southern part of the tract. This will be the initial drilling on a block of some 2000 acres which Mellard et al have been working on for some time.

The Foster Bros. No. 4 Ray Burns is drilling at 1500 feet.

Coast Oil Co. is waiting on rigs to start on their two new locations — the No. 1 George Bell and the No. 1 H. H. Richardson.

A. W. Gregg has moved in on their location for the No. 1 W. P. Phillips. This lease is in section 60, H&TC Survey, Comanche County, immediately south of the J. W. Baldwin lease.

National Cooperative Refining Association No. 2 Albritton has set pipe after reconitioning for the past week. National's No. 1 C. E. Watson continues to make intermittent heads which may indicate that the well will have to be re-worked further.

Commercial Production Co. has acidized the No. 2 Roy Parker, and Roy Gaines reported that flowing pressure was 1325 pounds on casing and 815 pounds on tubing with no packer. No test figures were available, but oil men believed it would make 1000 barrels.

France and Gillespie No. 1 N. J. McMullen is drilling at 1850 feet. Located in the southwest corner of section 47, H&TC survey, Comanche County, just north of the George T. Stone property, it is a new southwest outpost for the Gorman area. It is just north of the two gas and oil wells which have been producing for a number of years and is being watched with interest.

Commercial Production Co. is tearing down their rig on the No. 3 S. E. Mears. Future plans were not available.

Mellard and Clemens No. 1 Pete Mauney drilled to 3231 feet, 83 feet into the Ellenberger. Fearing water such as was encountered in the Claude Bell No. 1 Files, the Mauney well was cemented at 2,850 feet, the operators deciding not to try for an Ellenberger completion. Both the Caddo and Marble Falls sections will be tested on the Mauney. Considerable gas was found in the Caddo at 2,595 feet.

R. H. Patterson Drilling Co. drilled the Mellard and Clemens well. The rig is being transferred to the Bob Koone lease 5 miles south of Desdemone where the company has about 1500 acres under lease in Erath County.

E. K. and E. M. Burt No. 1 Bryan was drilling at 2300 feet.

Two new locations were being staked on the Wrather, Penn and Walters lease. They were the Dominey No. 3, 1195 feet from the East line and 330 feet from the south line, and the No. 4 Dominey, 1195 feet from the West line and 330 feet from the South line.

The J. W. Baldwin No. 2 J. N. Watson was drilling at about 2100 feet.

Childbirth Made Less Painful

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Childbirth pains are just an old wives' tale to 80 per cent of the mothers who have babies at the University of Michigan hospital.

The hospital's maternity ward makes extensive use of caudal anesthesia, which virtually eliminates pain while the mother remains awake all during the birth process.

Dr. Reynold L. Haas, assistant professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the university medical school, pointed out that caudal anesthesia is entirely different from spinal anesthesia, an alternate method of reducing labor pains. "In caudal anaesthesia, the drug is injected in the lower end of the spine and blocks the nerves to the organs of birth. In the spinal method the drug is put directly into the spinal fluid," Dr. Haas said.

Dr. Haas said caudal anaesthesia is not routed through the lungs and does not interfere with either the mother's or the baby's breathing process.

The use of caudal anaesthesia

MESS OF MISERY RELIEVED BY RETONGA

After Suffering Years From Gas Pains, Muscular Aches and Sleeplessness, Mississippian Finally Discovers Retonga.

"For years I was dealt a mess of misery by nervous indigestion, but that was before I discovered Retonga," declares Mr. John L. Jones, respected resident of 909 Grand Avenue, Meridian, Miss. "Food in my stomach was torture," continues Mr. Jones. "It didn't seem to digest properly and felt hard and heavy in my stomach. After-meal gas pains were so sharp that they nearly doubled me up. I was made constantly miserable by muscular aches and pains and I had to take purgatives several times a week. I hardly knew what a good night's sleep was, and I felt so jittery and fagged out most of the time that it was a real effort to keep going.

"What grand and glorious relief Retonga gave me! Mealtime is a pleasure again and I eat heartily with no worries about excess gas and pains. I sleep like a log and have lots of pep and vigor once more. My constipation has been relieved, too, and thank goodness, those miserable aches in my muscles have quit nagging me. As far as I'm concerned, there's nothing like Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at Dean Drug Company and all other good drug stores. —Adv.

... most abstracters were wondering where the next order would come from. Then came the gradual rise in the price of petroleum products, release of more building materials, and increased inflation which swelled the price of lands out of all reason. These factors and others contributed greatly to the demand for title work! But thru good times and bad — for more than 25 years — we have never thought it wise to sacrifice quality for quantity. Bells From All Over In Priest's Collection

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Collecting bells from all over the world is the hobby of the Rev. Edward A. Higney, 80 pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Father Higney began his collection some 25 years ago with the 50-cent purchase of a small hand bell in Gibraltar. He added another in Paris and after he had bought a third one in Quebec, word circulated that he was a bell collector. Since then he hasn't paid for a single chime and has received more than 300 bells as gifts from friends, relatives and strangers throughout the world.
