Progress of Soil Conservation Agency Reviewed at County Committee Meet

The Eastland County Committee administering the County Agricultural Conservation Program met in special session today to review progress made in assisting farmers and ranchers to carry out soil and water conservation practices since the program was inaugurated in 1936.

The committee, with the assistance of representatives of the State P&MA Committee, local technicians and conservationists, also enumerated the continuing need for conservation measures, such as terraces, erosion control structures, livestock water facilities, eradication of competitive pasture plants, legumes and minerals, contour cultivation, and crop residue management.

The conference heard the following combined report on permanent type conservation practices that have been completed in Eastland County under ACP during the years 1936 through 1947:

1. Cropland terraced 30,000 acres.
2. 200 miles of diversions constructed.
3. 2,750 livestock water dams built.
4. 25 livestock water wells installed on rangeland.
5. 33,000 acres of pear eradicated from rangeland.
6. 6,000 acres of mesquite eradicated from rangeland.
7. 1,000 acres of cedar eradicated from rangeland.
8. 13,000 acres of brush eradicated from rangeland.
9. E. E. Blackwell, chairman of the County ACA Committee, stated that increased financial assistance is needed so that the program can be used more and more to stop wind and water erosion that have taken a heavy toll in Eastland County. Mr. Blackwell said that only 25 per cent of the cropland in the county has been terraced that needs terracing. He also emphasized the large reduction in pasture forage caused by mesquite and cedar infestation and the depletion of organic matter in cropland after many years of continuous cropping with cotton, sorghums, corn, and peanuts.

County Expected To Spend $750,000 For Remodeling

An estimated $750,000 will be spent in repairing and modernizing County during 1948, according to a report just released by the Title Council of America.

That sum will be expended largely on painting, carpentry work, roofing repairs and plumbing, the report disclosed. "Greater availability of building materials will make possible a record amount of home improvement throughout the nation this year," declared Malcolm Schweiker, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

About 30 of every 100 homes in Texas will be painted, either inside or out, during 1948 and 17 will have roofs repaired or replaced, according to the report. Seven will have plumbing overhauled, bathrooms tiled or showers installed and six will have carpentry work done, the report revealed.

"To meet demands for materials for both new homes and home repairs, production has been stepped up in practically every type of material," said Mr. Schweiker. The output of ceramic tile for bathrooms and kitchens, for instance, is now at the highest rate in history, government reports show.

Throughout the nation between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 will be spent this year on home repair, according to the Title Council report. This is believed the largest amount ever expended for such work.

COUNTRY EDITORS sometimes retire rich. As proof, we offer a story sent us by Mrs. Lucile Huffmeyer, secretary of the Merchants Credit Association. The story follows:

"A country editor retire with a fortune. Asked the secret of his success, he replied: 'I attribute my ability to retire with $100,000 savings, after 30 years in newspaper work, to diligent application to work, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the death of my uncle who left me $100,000.'"

ANOTHER STORY concerns a lady and a new fur coat. She was riding along with her husband and fondled her new wrap joyfully. And then she looked sad for a moment.

"What's the matter?" inquired her husband. "Aren't you satisfied with it?"

"Yes, but I feel so sorry for the poor thing that was skinned."

"Thanks," he said.

EXPERIENCE IS what you have left after everything else is gone.

THE ADVERTISING department at The Daily Press office has something new for prospective space buyers, thanks to Mr. Jess Proctor. He brought down a card that says: "Doing business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark — you know what you are doing but nobody else does!"

WE HEARD ABOUT an advertising man who was proposing marriage. "Remember, he said 'this is the last day for this astounding offer.'"

THE OPEN HOUSE out at Cisco Junior College last evening was both enjoyable and informative. A large crowd turned out to applaud the fine work they're doing. The school was celebrating, too, the enrollment of its 200th veteran for night studies. Mr. Stanley Webb turned out to be the Student No. 200. The entire program was outstanding in every respect.

AND MR. WEBB helped along the program by appearing in a solo. A baritone, he did a splendid job. Another man who appeared on the program and did a good job was Mr. E. A. Butler, the C. of C. secretary. He spoke, and a few of us hadn't known that he was a good speaker, indeed.

THE COLLEGE IS very definitely an asset to our community. All of us would miss the school if it were suddenly taken away. Besides the educational features it offers, the school is responsible for turning loose considerable money here each month.

Study Club, according to an announcement today.

Proceeds from the sale will be used by the club to buy equipment for the grammar school. Club members will receive 40 per cent of funds from tickets sold before 6 p.m. on July 21, and a smaller per cent of sales after that. Admission prices are 50c for adults and 25c for children.

A committee composed of Mrs. Stanley Webb, chairman, Mrs. Wallace Smith and Mrs. Jay Garrett is in charge of arrangements for the event. Mrs. Dorothy Donovan is president of the club.

RAILROAD COMMISSION DESIGNATES CISCO OIL POOL AS KLEINER FIELD

VA Policy For Training Work Undergo Changes

The Veterans Administration has prohibited the expenditure of any government funds for veterans' training courses of a recreational or avocational character after July 1, 1948.

The new VA policy is in compliance with the Independent Offices Appropriation Act for 1949 in which Congress directed that VA provide no further payments for courses of this type.

These include dancing, photography, gliding, personality development courses, sports and athletics, bartending, certain music courses and others.

Training veterans to fly or related aviation courses will be paid for by VA only where the veteran establishes that the training is in connection with his present or contemplated business or occupation and can pass required medical examinations.

The new policy does not mean that all of these courses are completely eliminated from the veteran training program, but after July 1 prior to enrolling or re-enrolling for such a course, veterans must submit complete justification to VA that such training is in connection with their present or contemplated business or occupation. VA must determine that the training is not avocational or recreational before authorizing enrollment in the courses.

Other courses listed in VA's instruction as avocational or recreational included all single subject courses which are not a part of a general education or training program leading to a educational or employment objective, and all other courses which are well known to managers of VA regional offices as being frequently pursued in their areas for avocational or recreational purposes.

Sunset Moving Families Here

Cisco has been designated as a crew terminal point and several families are being moved here by Sunset Motor Lines, according to an announcement today by W. F. Dean, local manager. The firm will eventually have ten or more drivers stationed here, he added.

From the Cisco office, drivers will make runs to Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Odessa and San Angelo. Eight families were moving to Cisco this week, and at least two others are expected soon.

"We've got housing problems," Mr. Dean said. "The new families are mostly couples and they are looking for houses and apartments."

LANKY MISSISSIPPIAN GLAD TO ATTEND DEMOCRATIC MEETING --- BEST CROWD SINCE DAYS OF FREE FLOUR

By PETER EDSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, July 13. — First man to speak at the Southern rebel Democratic caucus was the Hon. Jimmy Arrington, a lean Mississippian who began by saying he was glad to be here, he certainly was, because he hadn't seen so many people since the Red Cross gave away flour in 1931. He gabbed on something like this:

"The Democratic party has done left us, it certainly has. Reminds me of a married couple I know, it certainly does. The wife was a good woman, she certainly was, except when her husband got intoxicated, as he certainly did. She didn't treat him very good then, she certainly did not, and it didn't do him any good. Then a friend of hers told her:

"You got to use kindness, you certainly do, you don't use the right technique, you certainly do not." So next time her husband came home intoxicated, this woman was at the gate to meet him, she certainly was, she took him in-

Veteran Trainees Hold Open House For Visitors at Junior College

More than 500 persons attended the open house arranged by the veteran trainees at Cisco Junior College Monday night. Many visitors from surrounding towns and Ciscoans turned out to help the students celebrate the signing up of veteran trainee No. 200.

Visitors were entertained with a program arranged by veterans assisted by A. R. Collier, veteran counselor. The program was made up from college students and local talent. O. L. Stamey welcomed guests and introduced Arlin Birt who gave a short talk on vocational training and its value to veterans.

After the program visitors were taken on a tour of the college and viewed the machinery and equipment used in the training program. They were taken through the shop building that houses machines and tools valued in excess of $200,000 and through the electronics laboratory where they were shown equipment valued at $231,000.

Much of the credit for securing the government surplus buildings and equipment was given to R. N. Cluck, former superintendent of Cisco Public Schools and president of Cisco Junior College, in a talk by B. A. Butler, manager of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce.

New Completions Are Expected in Field This Week

The Texas Railroad Commission today had designated Cisco's new Mississippi Lime oil pool as the Kleiner Field of the north Central Texas region. At the same time, the field's one well and other potential producers received an allowable production schedule of 100 barrels per day.

While the original well — the Lone Star Producing Co. No. 1 C. J. Kleiner — flowed its 100-barrel allowable, the Lone Star company reported that it flowed 214 barrels of high gravity oil through a three-sixteenths of an inch choke in a 24-hour test. Gas pressure was strong.

Lone Star was making preparations at noon today to run the first drill stem test on their No. 4 Kincaid, a direct offset to the discovery well. They were drilling at 3,665 feet at 11 a. m. and expected to top the Mississippi at about 3,700 feet.

In order to study the formation and to gather data for geologists, Lone Star announced that the No. 4 Kincaid well would undergo extensive core tests. A $3,000 diamond core barrel was to go into the hole after the initial drill stem test this afternoon.

More than 300 feet of Mississippi lime was found in the discovery well. The well is producing from the bottom 15 feet. Heavy gas saturation plus oil was found in drilling tests high in the lime.

According to reports, the Kincaid well had oil shows in the Lake and Bond formations.

Nearby, Hickok Oil Company's No. 3 Kleiner, a Mississippi offset to the Kleiner No. 1, was drilling at about 3,250 late Monday in hard Caddo lime.

Lone Star's No. 7 J. W. Elliott, located in the Caddo pool ten miles northeast of town, was awaiting repairs to a leaky string of pipe before being completed in the Caddo.

According to reports, the Warren Sorrels No. 1 R. W. Kindel, three miles northeast of town, was acidized late Monday in a completion attempt in the Duffer. Results were not available.

The Sam Killingsworth No. 1 George P. Fee, two miles northeast of Cisco, was drilling below 2,300 late Monday. Nearby, the W. G. Skelley No. 1 Thomas was below 2,400 feet.

Lone Star Producing Co. stake location Monday to drill their No. 6-7 Mitcham some seven miles north of Cisco in Eastland County.

being used as an excuse to get back to states' rights extreme conservatism. Governors Land Thurmond and Fielding Wright Mississippi and their followers the Southern revolt insist it's a latter.

In support of this content consider the second resolution passed by the Southern caucus, calls for retention of under-ware mineral rights — oil — by states. This is the old tidels issue.

What this resolution indicates simply that the big oil companies along with the railroads and power companies and other business interests that have for long been supposed to dominate the Republican party, now have strangle hold on the Southern servatives.

And if that's the situation, these Southern rebels ought walk out on the Democratic right issue is being used as an excuse to kill off civil rights legislation, or whether opposition to Truman's civil rights program is tainly is.

The Silver Lining.

In spite of political turmoil and continuing war and revolution in different parts of the world, people everywhere still have to live and carry on the daily affairs of life.

Ernest E. Norris, president of the Southern Railway System says that anyone who takes the trouble to look can find plenty of silver linings in the clouds today.

"Leaders in government, labor, business and agriculture," said Mr. Norris, "must toss self-interest out of the window. It's got to be 'one for all and all for one' in the spirit of the old time 'barn raising.'"

"Above all, we've got to do what our grandpappies did who created this country — go to work, all of us. We must work and produce as never before to maintain our standard of living and to defeat the disastrous inflation that is already banging at our doors. And as we work and produce I am sure we'll discover that valuable by-product — good-will among all of our people — without which all is lost.

"If I am any judge of trends, the American people as a whole are already rolling up their sleeves, tightening their belts, and getting ready to make democracy work in the old-fashioned American way. And that's the brightest of all the silver linings I see in today's dark clouds."

An Item in the News.

A short time ago an item appeared in the news which, while it didn't make banner heads, is an example of the kind of arduous progress that serves us all.

Last year, the item said, the death rate from tuberculosis dropped to a new low throughout the nation. For the first time in our history, the number of fatalities from this cause was under 50,000.

That wasn't the result of chance. It was, instead, the result of decades of hard and often unrewarding work by doctors and other scientists. A long list of factors had a part in the achievement — better preventive medicine, infinitely improved methods of treatment for the afflicted, a generally higher standard of living, and so on.

Every major advance in medicine, save for rare instances where some revolutionary drug is discovered, is made much in this way. And the United States, with its system of medicine, unhampered by bureaucratic domination, has been a leader in conquering disease—a fact which has been proven in survey after survey. By contrast, medicine has generally been backward in the nations here it is controlled by the state — the standards of treatment have gone down while the cost, as in the case of all governmental activity, has gone up.

We in the United States are leading longer, healthier lives. Diseases which were almost sure killers not so many years ago now offer little danger. A system of voluntary pre-paid medical care has been built up which brings the cost of treatment and hospitalization within the easy reach of the majority of people. These are achievements of free medicine which must not be forgotten.

Texas Beauty Accorded Honors

EDING, Germany, July 13. — Mrs. Jeanette Williams 27-year-old Texas beauty, and daughter of Mrs. W. R. Sheppard, of 208 Orange St., Abilene, emerged as undisputed winner of the "Miss Erding Air Depot" title, bestowed upon her on the third anniversary of this depot, the supply center of the U. S. Air Force in Europe.

The attractive brunette, well known at the Erding Air Port for her participation in the depot athletics, was mentioned on nearly every ballot.

Jeanette Williams is the librarian and treasurer of the Womens Club of Moosburg, Germany, where she and her husband, First Lieutenant Leland V. Williams have lived since Jeanette arrived overseas in November 1946. The Erding queen is also the star member of the womens bowling league of Erding, averaging 135 points per game throughout a recent tournament.

In 1940 she graduated from the Abilene High School where she took an academic course. For two years she worked as secretary-cashier for the Peoples Finance Company, Abilene, and did further work with another finance company in Fort Worth.

On September 7, 1942, she and Lt. Williams, then a corporal with the Air Force, were married in Panoli, Florida.

Lieutenant Williams is pilot of twin-engined and four-engined aircraft of the Air Force, having flown such ships as the Boeing B-24, B-32, the Douglas C-47 and Beacheraft C-45.

Entering the Air Force in December 1941, the Lieutenant took cadet training at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center; had his basic flying instruction at Strother Field, Winfield, Kansas; and received his advanced flight training at the Altus, Oklahoma, Army Air Base, where he was commissioned during July 1943. He went overseas in June 1946 and was directly stationed at the Erding Air Depot.

The parents of Lt. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Williams, are natives of Abilene, living at 1222 S. Sixth street.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Williams expect to return to the United States in May, next year. Planning the Air Force for his career, Lt. Williams hopes to be stationed in Texas, preferably at the air base at Carswell, where he already has seen thirty months service.

Air Force Will Hire Instructors

Instructors at salaries ranging from $2,644 to $7,102 per annum are needed by the Department of the Air Force at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi, to teach the theory, operation and use of ground and airborne radar and associated equipment, according to the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Keesler Air Base.

Experience in the field of electronics; teaching experience at high school or college level in physics, electrical engineering, or mathematics; or college education with courses in physics, mathematics, or electrical engineering are all qualifying for the Trainee grade of Radar Instructor, $2,644 per annum. The higher grades of Radar Instructor require in addition teaching courses in radar or college teaching in electrical engineering or physics.

Persons appointed as Radar Instructor (Trainee) $2,644 per annum will receive intensive training in the field of radar before being assigned as instructors.

Age limits for the Trainee grade, $2,644 per annum, are 18 to 35 years. For the higher grades the maximum age limit is 62 years. These age limits are waived for veterans.

It won't work...by itself

It takes a lot more than a telephone instrument to give you telephone service.

Before a telephone will work it must be connected by a pair of wires from your home all the way to the switching equipment in the central office.

Telephone wire and cable are still scarce compared with the large amounts we need. But we are placing and splicing new cable as fast as we can get it.

In some places, there isn't room for more telephone connections on the switchboards. To get more room, we are adding new equipment — faster than ever before.

Despite shortages, we would be caught up by now if it was not for the extremely large number of new applications for service. They pour in at a rate of 50,000 a month in the Southwest, and that tremendous demand has kept us from eliminating the wait for telephone service in most places.

It is still an uphill pull, but we are gaining on it, and we are grateful for your patience and understanding.

... most abstracters were wondering where the next order would come from. Then came the gradual rise in the price of petroleum products, release of more building materials, and increased inflation which swelled the price of lands out of all reason. These factors and others contributed greatly to the demand for title work. But thru good times and bad—for more than 25 years—we have never thought it wise to sacrifice quality for quantity. And that's our business platform today!

The project would be designed so that an individual farmer or rancher could discuss with a county committee his basic conservation problems and his plans for establishing a conservation system of operating his farm. The county committee would then be in a position to proceed with available financial assistance under the Agricultural Conservation program in helping him carry out his plans more effectively.
