CUCHARA, Colo., Aug. 31.—The little community of Cuchara, which is a place we never heard of before, lies high in the Rocky Mountains in the heart of a national forest. We arrived here this morning after spending the night in Raton New Mexico.

The drive up was pretty slow, as we're vacationing with friends who are providing transportation—a brand-new Kaiser. According to the book, it had to be driven under 45 the first 500 miles and under 50 the second 500.

Cuchara is strictly a vacation spot. It consists of a general store and post office, served twice weekly, and some 25 or 30 cabins for guests. They cost you $6 per day. Colorado charges you $3 for a license to fish three days or $10 for over three days.

This afternoon, we got out Mr. E. G. Dameron's fly rod and got it tangled in a small pine tree. It was the first time we'd ever tried one. A game warden came along and showed us how to use it for an hour or so. The mountain streams are pretty swift and you've got to cast upstream.

This community is 7,500 feet high. Six miles up the road and mountain, is a little lake made by beavers that's full of trout. It is 10,500 feet high. At that altitude, we puffed like a steam engine after climbing up and down some 100 feet to the lake. The water is crystal clear and fish jump everywhere.

The trout steams here are stocked ever two weeks. That gives you an idea of how people flock to Colorado to fish. At $3 or $10 a head, we'll bet the state's take from fishing is pretty good. They also have a two per cent sales tax on everything you buy.

Colorado is kind of pretty, with it's mountains and pines. It's pretty far between towns and farm houses. Driving through the country you see worlds of crumbled ruins of old adobe houses. Don't you know those old ruins could tell some tall stories, if they could talk.

WE ASKED one Colorado fellow where the Colorado people spend their vacations. He grinned and said they didn't have time to take them so many people from everywhere were coming.

MOMUMENT LAKE, Colo., Sept. 1.—We drove up here today, for they have boats for trolling and everything that a summer fishing resort is supposed to have. Coming up we drove over a 12 500 foot mountain pass—the highlight of the trip.

HAVEN'T STARTED fishing yet, but this is supposed to be the place in this part of the country. They take fish from here to stock the other streams and lakes. Game wardens are thick. And they want to see your license.

IF THE TROUT are reluctant here, we plan to drive tonight to Eagle's Nest, New Mexico, where Doc Cabiness had such good luck. You are supposed to have to hide behind a tree to bait your hook.

TOURIST TRADE is the number one industry in Colorado, as far as we can see. The state is

Wranglers to Face Stiff Competition In Opening Game

Reports coming from Abilene indicate that the Hardin-Simmons freshman football team will field a good group of boys in their opening game with the Wranglers from Cisco Junior College on September 16.

The team will be studded with stars from Texas schools as well as stand outs from other states. The following is a release from the school:

A freshman team which coaches describe as "respectable" started to work at Hardin-Simmons this week under the direction of its new coach Al Milch. It is the first time since 1942 that Hardin-Simmons, like other Border Conference schools has had a freshman eleven.

All-state men from three states on the roster, which on the opening day, Wednesday, included 39. Competition is expected to cause some of its personnel to quit during the first week, but those who remain will have talent to make it interesting even for the varsity. The freshmen will open their season against Cisco Junior College Thursday, September 16, at Cisco.

Among the familiar names in the high school circle last year now on the plebe roster are: Bob Hart, quarterback of Levelland; Chick Tiger, halfback from Altus, Okla. (an all-state man); Harold Taylor, all-state halfback from Lordsburg, N. M.; Charles Williams, all-southern quarterback from Refugio; Bill Cagle, halfback from Childress; Beau Champagne, San Antonio; Eugene Offield, Breckenridge; and Bobby Blair from Eastland.

The first year stars are being trained by two former Hardin-Simmons stars, Al Milch and Red Cleveland. Cleveland, who has taken a job with a local automobile agency, will assist during the early season training. Milch expects to put the new candidates through an early scrimmage in order to test them.

Following is a list of the freshman squad: Ends: Kenneth Watson, Port Neches; Clifton Swain, Munday; Burl Troutman, Abilene; Lloyd Haynie, Munday; Gus Langwell, San Antonio.

Tackles: Robert Balch, Ranger; Cush Holder, Loving; Bill Davenport, Ysleta; Wayne Gumm, Refugio; Beau Champagne, San Antonio. Guards: Eugene Little, Corpus Christi; Gerald Ashley, Corpus Christi; Wade Musgrove, Childress; Wayne Brock, Valley Mills; Travis Kelley, Texarkana; Kenneth Johnston, Farmersville; Manuel Orfanos, McAllen; Bill Hood, Childress.

Centers: Phillip McGeahy, Albuquerque; Jack Pearce, Memphis; Joe Vernon, Brownfield; Dick Hamm, Lawn; Dan Coultas, McAllen; Charles Davis, Calvert. Quarterbacks: Charles Williams, Refugio; James Riddle, Wichita Falls; Bobby Hart, Levelland.

Halfbacks: Chick Tiger, Altus, Okla.; Harold Taylor, Lordsburg; Bobby Blair, Eastland; Eugene Offield, Breckenridge; William Phinney, Coahoma; Leslie Stampfer, Ysleta; Bill Cagle, Childress. Fullbacks: Harold Edwards, Ft. Sumner, N. M.; Clifton Swain, Munday; L. R. Weldon, Groves; Tommy Bice, Borger; B. Davis, Memphis; and Cliff Pippin, Miles.

ABC Members Urged to Attend Wrangler Party

All ABC Club members were urged to be present at the party the club is giving for the CJC Wranglers at the college auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. President Burke stated that the party was strictly a club affair, and stressed the fact that the more than 280 members should attend.

The club has been active in a play program for Cisco boys and girls throughout the summer months, and are planning a similar program for the school term. The plans call for a meeting each Monday to be turned into a discussion of the football games played over the week end, and to discuss the coming games.

REV. PAUL STEPHENS

Rev Paul Stephens To Work With East Cisco Baptists

Paul Stephens, former Hardin-Simmons University ministerial student, will assume the pastoral duties of the East Cisco Baptist church Sunday at the morning hour, church officials announced Friday. Rev. Stephens will replace Rev. C. K. Roberts, who resigned to enter private business.

Rev. Stephens, a 22-year-old ministerial student and a religious leader in youth activities, is a former resident of Abilene, Texas, where he attended the university for three years. During his study at Hardin-Simmons, Rev. Stephens conducted a religious broadcast over radio station KXOX Sweetwater and KPET Stamford. He is known throughout Central and West Texas for his work in youth affairs.

Rev. and Mrs. Stephens will reside in the church parsonage at 1100 Avenue G. They have no children.

West and White To Drill Second Well On Phippen Tract

West and White are rigging up to begin drilling on their No. 2 Clarence Phippen. The well is located in section 3170, TE&L survey, approximately one mile north of Dothan.

The new well is 650 feet north of a 700 foot dry hole which was abandoned last week. The No. 1 well had a strong showing of gas and oil and operators feel that the showing should warrant another try.

CHS LOBO BAND ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR; MARCHING ROUTINES WORKED OUT

Band director Fred Bumgardner's 1948 Cisco Hi Lobo Band began perfecting its marching formations early Tuesday morning after preliminary stages of electing new officers to the band council were completed.

Approximately 45 senior members of the band's present strength of 65 musicians went to the "polls" Monday morning to vote for band council candidates. Freshmen members of the band, it was stated, are not permitted to vote for officers until their second year.

Elected to bear the brunt of the band's seasonal campaign was Joan Scott who was named president of the council. Richard Moore won over a wide field of contestants and was elected to assist the president as vice-president. Included in the election were Virginia Weiser as secretary-treasurer; Bobby Deen as reporter; Sally Gallager as student conductor; Prudence Harris as band captain and Carole Pippin as drum major. Patricia Coats was elected over a field of four nominees for sweetheart of the Lobo Band.

Tuesday morning, director Bumgardner appeared optimistic as to the band's outlook for the approaching season. "Last year's graduation list hit us pretty hard," he said, "taking many of our experienced instrument players. We lost our talented drum major, manager and scores of crack marchers," he added.

Lutheran School to Begin Enrollment On September 7

Grace Lutheran school, on 16th and E avenue, begins its 21st year on September 7 with the enrollment of pupils, it was announced by school officials Friday.

Mr. Robert Hintz, the principal of the school, will be in charge of the enrollment which begins at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Judging from the advance registrations the school will be filled to capacity this year, officials said. All eight grades will be taught the required secular subjects in addition to a daily instruction in Bible knowledge.

The school will follow the schedule of public schools. Children who are six before the end of this year may enroll for the first grade. The school does not conduct a kindergarden as yet.

Pat Fee Attending Youth Conference In Grand Rapids

Pat Fee, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fee of Cisco, is attending the Christian Youth Conference being held this week in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He reports that he is having an enjoyable time and plans to spend two days in Chicago before returning to Cisco.

He sent the following report of the activities of the Michigan meeting:

Registered here Tuesday with 3,000 Protestant youth from all over the United States and Canada for the Christian Youth Conference of North America. This interdenominational meeting will continue through Sunday, September 5.

The convale opened Tuesday night with a nation-wide broadcast of "America's Town Meeting of the Air." Among the speakers on this famous forum was Gil Dobbs, star athlete and young minister.

Governor Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota spoke Wednesday night on the topic "The Church and the Layman."

Other prominent speakers were Dr. Howard Thurman, minister of the Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples, San Francisco; Dr. Walter Muelder, Boston theologian; Dr. Isaac K. Beckes, executive secretary of the United Christian Youth Movement, Chicago; and Dr. Cleo Blackburn, inter-racial leader of Indianapolis.

National meetings for the youth of many denominations will be held Thursday night. Foreign students from 14 overseas nations and territories held special sessions.

from home" uniforms include the gold coat, with black and gold striped pants. The head-dress which are black trimmed in gold, will be the same with the "at home" and the "away from home" uniforms.

More than 40 band "lettermen" were on hand Tuesday to report to Bumgardner and his staff, headed by Joan Scott and Richard Moore. From grapevine reports, the Lobo Band members, both new and old, are primed and "in shape" for the season's undertaking.

Bumgardner is expecting added talent to adorn his group this year. Some 15 to 25 freshmen members who have been in the B-band will be inaugurated into the regular Lobo set, he stated.

With preliminaries to the sideline now, the band is drilling on the gridiron twice daily until the school session begins. At the time, the musical aspirants are ironing out flaws in the opening season routines. And with the first game next Friday, it'll be double time workouts from here on out.

Organized Reserve Start Last Week of Summer Training

The last Organized Reserve Corps summer training at Camp Hood, Texas, started this week with 106 Reservists from Oklahoma and Texas attending, 18 of the Reserve-Lieutenants were earmarked by the 2nd Armored Division, Camp Hood, Regular Army Unit, to assist in the training of the volunteer 18 year oldsters that are formed into three training battalions at Hood. Six of the Engineer-Reservists are assisting the Camp Hood Post Engineer on high priority jobs.

The remaining Reservists entered an exacting training program which includes demonstrations by the armored elements of the 2nd "Hell on Wheels" Armored Division, firing small arms on the range, practical exercises on various military subjects, and a refresher course in basic map and aerial photography.

Colonel John W. Russey, regular Army instructor in charge of the Reserve camp said that the hours of training are from 7 a.m. in the morning until 4 p.m. in the afternoon but that many of the Reservists work on with their problems until late in the evening. Interest of the Reservists has been very high at these summer camps conducted at Camp Hood with comments and observations constructive and favorable.

Grace Lutheran Observe Mission Festival Sunday

Everyone was invited to participate in the mission festival at Grace Lutheran Church at 18th and D Avenue Sunday.

Season Football Tickets Selling At Rapid Rate

Ronald Rhodes, president of the Cisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported today that sale of season tickets for football games to be played here during the coming season was progressing well and pointed out that fans who wish good seats for the year should arrange for them now.

Rhodes said that there were still a few choice seats left but the list was shortening daily. He stressed the fact that the books would be taken up by the school officials by September 10 and there would be no season tickets sold after that date.

Books may be secured at Le-more Pharmacy, Glenn's Furniture Co., Powell Cleaners or Mott's No. 5.

Anton White talks to Rotarians at luncheon Thursday. Fifty million is a big figure in anybody's language but that is approximately the number of pieces of cotton flannel that were sewed into gloves at the Cisco plant of the Boss Manufacturing Company during the last twelve months, according to Anton White, manager.

Mr. White was the speaker on the program of the Cisco Rotary Club Thursday noon, presented by J. J. Calloway, chairman for the day. His interesting account of the development of the Boss company from a small concern making corn husking equipment 59 years ago into the largest manufacturer of work gloves in the world, revealed that the company obtained its idea for making cotton flannel gloves from women who brought the flannel in a dry goods store owned by one of the officials, and made mittens for their husbands at home.

Today the Boss Company no longer makes corn husking equipment. Instead it turns out enormous quantities of canvass gloves of various sizes and weights, in twenty factories over the U. S. one of which is in Cisco. As an interesting incident in his talk, Mr. White exhibited a corn husk made by the company 25 years ago, and owned by J. J. Collins of the Cisco Rotary Club. Mr. White explained the process of manufacture of gloves showing exhibits of the product in the various steps, from cutting to finishing. He had as his guest Tom Smith, the first employee of the company in Texas, who is in charge of the shipping department of the plant, and who helped him distribute a pair of gloves to each Rotarian and guest.

Nick Miller to Head Organization For Coming Year

Nick Miller was elected president and S. H. Nance was named vice-president of the Merchants Credit Association at its regular monthly meeting Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce building. The meeting was highlighted by talks by C. S. Surles and Adrien Allen, who pointed out the ever growing need for rent houses and other rental units to care for the town's increase in population.

Mr. Surles said that the need for rent houses was increasing daily, and stressed particularly the need for cheaper rental units. He pointed out that one large company was considering moving its employees to a neighboring city because of the lack of suitable homes here. He discussed the new Government Housing Program and stressed the possibility of municipalities and individuals building rent houses and apartments under government guaranteed loans.

Incoming president Miller promised an early meeting with committees to study the situation in an attempt to work out a solution of the problem.

In addition to the president and vice-president, Chas. Sandler, J. W. Sitton, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson, Troy Powell, and H. S. Drumright were elected to serve as directors for the coming year. E. J. Poe, Cathene Cunningham, F. W. McCauley and Ronald Rhodes are hold-over directors.

The past year's activities of the organization, under the leadership of A. D. Anderson, president, and E. J. Dameron, vice-president, were reviewed and the steady growth of the association was noted. A definite decline in the number of promiscuous promotion schemes, rackets and hot check artists was reported, due largely to the cooperation and vigilance of the Cisco merchants. Wise and careful control of credit being exercised by the merchants was also noted.

Mrs. Lucille Huffmyer was unanimously re-elected secretary of the body and received commendations of the members for the efficient manner in which she had conducted the business during the past year.

It was pointed out that the organization had grown from a small body to a membership of 66 in the short time it had been in operation.

Eastland County Man Enlists Under New Army Setup

The first Eastland County man to enlist in the U. S. Regular Army under the recently authorized 21-month enlistment period was sworn in at Abilene on August 31, it was announced today by S. Sgt. James Hendrick of the Eastland Recruiting Station. The enlistment period is open to men 19-25 years of age.

Eldon McMillan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McMillan, Rt. 2, Gorman, was convinced that he would be called into service very soon and as the 21-month enlistment is the same period the selection will serve he decided to volunteer and perhaps get a better choice of assignment and training. McMillan is a 1946 graduate of Gorman High School and attended Cisco Junior College.

After enlistment at Abilene, Recruit McMillan was sent to 4th Training Division at Fort Ord, California, for a period of basic training, after which he will be ordered to an Army specialist school or join an Army unit for advanced training and duty.

The Duck Situation

A 1937 treaty between the United States and Mexico intended to protect migratory birds and mammals, particularly ducks, has been sharply criticized by Mat Morse, President of the Missouri Duck Hunters' Association.

Expressing concern over the reported disappearance of many species of ducks from their usual flyways, Morse declared that a serious overkill by private and commercial hunters during the ducks' wintering season in Mexico was no doubt responsible. The indiscriminate slaughter, he said, was permitted by the loosely worded regulations contained in the treaty.

Agreements between the U. S. and Canada have resulted in rigidly enforced regulations to adequately protect the ducks during their nesting and breeding season in these countries.

"We realize," Morse said, "the difficulty of enforcing laws, the necessity for which are not understood by many of the people, but because of the seriousness of the situation, we feel that it ought to be investigated immediately." He pointed out that a joint resolution calling on the Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service to make such an investigation had been introduced in the Senate and House by Senator Kern and Representative Ploeser of Missouri.

All interested sportsmen were asked to write their Congressman before the next session of Congress urging them to support a resolution authorizing Fish and Wildlife Service to confer with Department of State officials before recommending amendment or discontinuance of the present treaty which expires in 1952.

This action has been largely prompted by a letter received from a qualified observer in Mexico City detailing the methods used in that area to mass-kill wintering ducks. Most destructive is an "armada's" or battery shot fired over the ground from tiers of "guns," usually big pipes filled with miscellaneous small missiles or shot. According to this letter, 50 to 500 ducks are picked up after one shot.

United States hunters are held to a 30 to 40 day shooting season and a 4 to 5 limit bag, while even private hunters in Mexico have no limit during a four month season. The excess birds are "boot-legged" in the markets of principal cities. The writer was hopeful that local efforts to educate hunters would improve the situation. Many Mexicans are aware of the problem.

My Column

Many new cars were seen on the streets of Moran this week; Mrs. R. E. Forrester driving a 8-cylinder Chrysler New Yorker, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wise a 1949 Ford, Chas. B. Chaney a Ford Convertible, E. L. Chaney a Commander Studebaker and Mrs. Floyd C. Pool a Windsor Chrysler. Moran building activity is going on. Supt. Hugh Smith will soon move into his 6-room house opposite the school, a very pretty modern home built by the school board. Edd Collingsworth is building a 6-room house on his acreage south of town. Edd has a lovely new addition, could be made the coming addition to Moran. Last but not least is the Morrison building, back of the Grand Theater, being remodeled for the Luncheon Club, will be ready for the September 8th meeting. The building is looking like a brand new dress with new window, screen doors, and painting interior.

Retail Merchants Association

Merchants paying dues to any Credit Bureau, control that bureau; however, to own a Credit Bureau, the merchants would have to own the files, which would enable them to elect a new secretary at the end of one or two year periods.

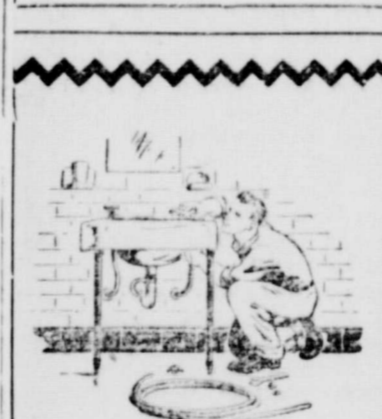

When the files of a Credit Bureau are individually owned, as we understand they are in two instances in Cisco, the secretary cannot be changed other than by buying them out, or pushing them thru the window. Under such existing setups, it merely becomes a matter of inflating one individual's bank account, and deflating the other.

In having a Board of Directors, there is nothing to direct except something relative to money matters, and in soliciting memberships, it narrows down to the above statement.

A secretary has to spend money on their files whether they have one or ten members — it is expensive to operate an office, and it takes not only money, but loyalty, and cooperation on your part.

NO CHIGGERS or mosquitoes seem to mar your trip. Haven't seen any since hitting the high altitude. Think we must have arrived too late to catch any fish. We're hopeful that this lake will turn the luck. The water is very cold.

SOME OF THE Colorado resort people are thinking of putting in ski facilities in order to attract winter travel. Their fishing season is only four or five months long in the best spots. The streams flow from melting snow most of the summer. The higher peaks now have only small patches of snow. But the winter starts early.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS We Will Be Closed For Inventory And A Few Days Vacation, September 6th Through September 12th. THANKS LATIMER & MARTIN

While the ballots are being counted in the U. S. Senatorial race in Texas, the two candidates find different ways of relaxing. At left, former Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson just sits around his Austin home and talks with friends. At right, former Governor Coke Stevenson talks with campaign workers in the districts which are still not accounted for. This had been one of the closest races in Texas' history with nearly a million votes being cast. The winner of the race will not be known, in all probability, until the Texas Democratic Party Convention on September 14 in Fort Worth. (NEA Telephoto).
