The Gay Philosopher

(Copyright New York Graphic Society) By J. W. S.

IT WAS BAD enough for both Cisco teams to lose their games last week-end. It was very bad for Texas U. our alma mater, to lose to Oklahoma. The payoff was the fact that the fellows who run the Cotton Bowl gave us complimentary tickets right in the middle of the Oklahoma University student section.

ASIDE FROM the fact that no Texas Ex-Student wants Texas to get beat, it was pretty good that the Oklahoma boys won. The game was clean in every respect. The officials were on their toes.

IT WAS OKLAHOMA'S first win over Texas in some eight years. Maybe the treatment they received at Dallas Saturday will make them want to keep playing Texas every year at the Dallas Fair.

IF YOU HAD gone to Dallas without a ticket, you could have bought one. Scalpers were downtown before the game offering choice seats for $10 and up (they cost $3.60 at the gate). By game time, choice seats were going for $5.

THERE CERTAINLY were a lot of upsets Saturday. The Southwest Conference lost some tough games.

THE DALLAS FAIR is bigger and better. The price of hamburgers is higher and higher. The exhibits, particularly the livestock, are outstanding.

THE TRAFFIC situation was just like we were afraid it would be. Spent 45 minutes on one occasion trying to move two blocks. And we took the same solemn oath that we take every time we go to Dallas or Fort Worth: "Never again!"

Texas Agriculture Leaders to Meet to Discuss Saving

Agricultural leaders of Texas will meet in Dallas on Wednesday, October 13, to discuss how farmers and ranchers can utilize the U. S. Savings Bonds program for the sound management of their financial affairs.

The conference was called by Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury Department's advisory committee for Texas. It will be held at the Baker Hotel from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Mr. Adams said that representatives of nearly every farm agency and organization in the state had signified their intention of attending the meeting.

Tom Leadley of Lincoln, Nebraska, widely-known editor of The Nebraska Farmer, will address the conference. C. N. Sheperdson, dean of the School of Agriculture at Texas A & M College, will preside.

Mr. Sheperdson also will conduct a forum discussion on means for educating farmers and ranchers to the value of regular investments in U. S. Savings Bonds as a factor in sound agricultural management.

Mr. Adams said that the conference would consider problems involved in the Treasury Department's fiscal policies and management of the nation's $252 billion public debt as they affect the farming and ranching industries of Texas.

Participation of the American people, including farmers and ranchers, in management of the debt through their investments in Savings Bonds tends to create healthy economic conditions in which continued prosperity has a better chance to prevail, Mr. Adams said.

"At the same time people who are regularly investing a part of their income in these securities are establishing a strong financial reserve for themselves," he said. "This reserve can frequently mean the difference between success and failure in farming and ranching, particularly in time of emergency or economic recession."

Mr. Adams said that a special effort is being made to impress upon farmers and ranchers the necessity for building cash reserves during these times of high income, as a hedge against future developments. The effort is being made during the fall months, he said, because this is the time of year most farmers and ranchers are marketing their crops and planning their investments.

Mary Philpott in Hospital

Mary Philpott, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Barton Philpott, was in a local hospital, suffering from a severe throat ailment, it was learned today. She was admitted to the hospital on orders from a physician Saturday.

Hospital attendants said she would be released sometime Wednesday.

Wanta Be a Policeman?

Police Officers Lead Varied Life In Daily Pursuit of Their Duties

By JIM EWELL, JR.

Want to be a troubleshooter for law and justice? Want to keep a check on the emotional pulse of your city? To hold a ring side seat in the City's passing parade? Then be a policeman.

The Police Department "blotter" record of activities and acts of duties for the past week-end shows you'd like that. City officers were kept on a 24-hour run, doing a wide variety of "Good Samaritan" deeds—of protection, kindness and of caution. It's all in the line of duty.

Such a "blotter" of recorded events of an average week-end would read something in this order: Bill Jackson, 509 West 20th, told police Saturday that someone had stolen his bicycle while it was parked in front of a local store. Police soon investigated the complaint, and, some time later, found the bicycle and returned it to its original owner.

Patrolling officers helped ambulance drivers in getting Bob Burkett to Graham Hospital early one morning, when Burkett sustained painful cuts and bruises in a car accident. His riding companion, Herman Terry, 38-year-old sign painter, was killed, instantly. His condition is improving, but is still regarded as serious.

Boys throwing rocks at street lights, damaging personal and public property, and two girls fighting each other were weekend matters claiming Police attention.

Also somebody was reported having "knife trouble."

A man and his wife were having family trouble Sunday morning. Police were asked to investigate the flare-up. A personal talk with the husband, soiled the couple's problem. One case in police history where members of the force played the roll of "umpire."

A passing traveler, James Wilford of Arkansas, told officers that a suit case and other personal valuables were stolen from his car while it was parked in front of a local restaurant early one morning. Total value of the looted goods was not disclosed.

The city jail received a larger number of drunks during the weekend than usual.

Saturday night a man was reported to be beating a woman. About the time police started to intervene, in fact one minute after the call, another informant called to say that a man was window peaking at a neighbor's house. Police rushed to both scenes.

Somebody took a "For Rent" sign off the front porch of a woman's residence, and she didn't appreciate it. Police found it tacked on a tree in front of a deserted shack in the west part of town.

Town pranksters and speedsters take up a good deal of police time, also.

Two Persons Hurt In Accidents Here Saturday Night

Minor injuries were sustained by two persons in a traffic accident here over the week-end, a police department spokesman reported today.

Miss Lucy Lee Whaley, 17, of Cisco was rushed to a local hospital in a Thomas ambulance when the car in which she was riding went out of control and crashed into a road embankment about 11:30 Saturday night on the old Eastland Highway. She received painful blows and cuts about the head. She is still being confined in the hospital.

Treatment for shock and minor cuts and bruises was given to her riding companion, Leon Hamrick, 24, also of Cisco. He was released early Sunday morning from hospital care.

Football Fans To See Two Games Thursday Night

Local football fans will be treated to a double-header at Chesley Field next Thursday night when Coaches Hansard and Overall send their "B" team in against the second stringers from Mineral Wells, and H. R. (Pop) Garrett's Midgets from Grammar School take on a similar team from DeLeon.

It will be the second game for the "B" boys and the first for Garrett's Mighty Mites. The Lobo Pups dropped their first encounter to a strong Olden team by a score of 33-0. The interscholastic rules will not permit a high school player to play in two games in any one week and the high school coaches were unable to use many of the "B" team boys in the Olden game because they had a class AA game the next day.

Neither Mineral Wells nor Cisco has a game this week, and the coaches can use first string subs in Thursday's game. Coach Hansard said that he planned to use Hub Harwell, Donald Watts, Dean McDaniel, Jim Porter and others that did not see action in the Olden game. He promised action for every man on the squad except some 12 of the starting Lobos.

Including the game with Mineral Wells, the "Pups" will play at least six more games this season. They will play two games with Mineral Wells, two with Albany and two with the Breckenridge subs.

Coach Garrett has a small team but he promises lots of action in Thursday's encounter.

Eastland County Livestock Show to be March 25-26

Dates for the Annual Eastland County Livestock Show has been set for March 25 and 26 according to M. E. Fry, Cisco, President of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association.

Directors of the Association at a recent meeting voted to set the show date later than usual. The show has been held in February.

Fry, prominent Polled Hereford Breeder of the Cisco area, explained that the show would again feature exhibits of 4-H Club and F. F. A. boys as well as adult livestock breeders.

The directors of the group will meet again on October 19 at the Courthouse in Eastland to discuss plans for the annual barbecue and to hear from the nominating committee for officers and directors for the coming year. Besides Fry other officers are A. V. Clark, Cisco, Vice President; Fred Brown, Eastland, Treasurer; and J. M. Cooper, Eastland, Secretary.

The stallion won second place in his division in the Abilene show which was held in conjunction with the West Texas Fair and took first place in his division at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. He was also the reserve champion stallion of the Amarillo show.

County-Wide Beer Election Called For November 2

The County Commissioner's Court in its regular monthly meeting on October 11, acted on petitions approved by the County Clerk's office calling for a county-wide beer election; and ordered an election for the purpose of voting on the question of legalizing the sale of beer that does not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent by weight. The election was called for November 2.

The County Clerk, who is charged with the responsibility of checking the names on the petitions, reported that there were more than enough names of qualified voters on them to submit them to the commissioners, for their action.

Local Bowlers Win From Abilene and Ranger Teams

In all probability the two matches bowled over the past week end between the local five-man-team at Abilene Saturday night and with the Ranger quintet on Sunday afternoon will go down in the record books as the closest matched contests ever bowled in Cisco.

In the two hour match at Abilene Saturday night neither of the two teams could at any time claim a margin of victory. This condition existed right down to the last frame before the Cisco lads pulled away by the short margin of 23 pins.

At Ranger on Sunday afternoon it was practically a repetition of the same dosage except that Cisco bowlers had to come from behind in the 3rd and last game of the match to win by a score of 2565 to 2578. Only 13 pins is too close for comfort in anybody's ten pin event.

BEAUTY AND THE BURDEN

Port, 101-pound Pat Varner and pretty, 110-pound Elaine Higgins, both of Chicago, demonstrate the ease with which a 53,600-pound freight car equipped with frictionless roller bearings can be moved. The car, part of The Timken Roller Bearing Company's exhibit at the Chicago Railroad Fair, can be started with only 120 pounds of pressure, a reduction of 88 per cent in starting power, as compared to freight cars equipped with old style friction-type bearings.

Already standard on many railway locomotives and passenger cars, Timken roller bearings can now be used to replace friction bearings on most existing freight cars.

Retains Truck Driving Championship

Chester W. Smith of Santa Anna, Calif., receives congratulations from Mrs. Smith and son Duane, for winning his second National Truck Driving Championship in the Truck and Full Trailer Class.

DENVER, COLO.—Chester W. Smith, 36-year-old truck driver from Santa Anna, Calif., has retained his title as the world's best driver of the biggest trucks on the road.

Smith, driving for the Reliable Transportation Co. of Los Angeles, Calif., defeated 8 state title-holders here in the truck and full trailer trials of the National Truck Roadshow sponsored by the American Trucking Associations, Inc. He won the championship first in Los Angeles last October.

Driving a Reo truck with a Fruehauf van body and trailer, Smith scored 318.28 points out of a possible 350. Score is determined from results of a written examination and a grueling driving test over a Roadshow course that simulated many of the most difficult situations confronted daily by the men at the wheels of these giant highway haulers.

Smith just beat out in a very close competition Edgar W. Karis of Phoenix, Ariz., driving for Hopper Truck Lines who scored 317.476. Third was Roy Haenke of Grand Rapids, Mich., representing Michigan Express, Inc., with a score of 295.9. Haenke also drove a Reo truck.

Smith has been driving trucks for 20 years, and has a record of 5 years without a chargeable accident. He is married and has one son.

National finals in the straight truck and tractor-trailer events will be held in Washington, D. C., Oct. 11-12, as features of the annual convention of the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

"The Texas Story"
To be used as School Textbook

A native Texan writes about his native Texas—in such a manner as to have his books become high school and elementary textbooks.

Dr. Ralph Steen of the History Department, Texas A&M College, has just offered the State Board of Education his latest book, "The Texas Story." The A&M professor has collaborated with Miss Frances Donecker of the San Antonio public schools, in turning out another book, "Our Texas."

The affable, blue-eyed professor who has been at A&M for 13 years, has also turned out several articles, "A Political History of Texas, 55 1900-1930, published in Adams, "History of Texas Democracy," 1937.

"History of Texas," another of his books, has been used in the public schools for nine years and "Texas, A Story of Progress," has been used by public schools for six years.

"The Texas Story," centers around the Spanish era and the twentieth century. It covers in detail the better known years in between these periods. It is attractively illustrated.

"Our Texas" is the first Texas history textbook to be illustrated in color. Drawings by Hunter Warren, widely known Texas artist, were used. The book contains a formal history of Texas and is interspersed with folklore stories.

Professor Steen is looking forward to the publishing of another of his books, which will be off the press this month. It is a history of Texas for the general reader. "In other words," Steen says, "it is a history of Texas for Texas people."

The author is enthusiastic over this book. "I hope it will be a sound, readable, comprehensive, one-volume history." Those who have read a pre-publication script, say it "is just the thing Texas readers have longed for. It is factual and readable from beginning to end."

The author is a native of Clyde, Callahan County, Texas. He received his BA from McMurry, MA and Ph.D. from the University of Texas. He taught school in Reagan County, McMurry College, Hillsboro Junior College, University of Texas and taught several summers in several other schools. He is a Fellow of the Texas Historical Society.

representatives present from all clubs.

Mr. D. E. Franklin, with Humble Company at Wichita Falls, who had been asked to present pictures of Texas Industries during the program hour, was introduced and proceeded at once with the program. The first picture projected portrayed the great oil industry of Texas. Oil has been discovered in many parts of the state and this industry employs a large number of workers wherever oil is found. Refineries take the crude oil and deliver the gasoline, a much used and needed product and in great demand today. The natural gas industry also flourishes throughout the mineral oil producing regions. A number of by-products of the oil industry of Texas which furnishes ninety per cent of the sulphur used in the world today. The water power resources which are not great by nature in Texas, are much aided where locations are suitable to development, by erections of water power dams. The fine citrus fruit production in the Rio Grande Valley is made possible by the splendid irrigation used. The cotton, wheat, corn, apples and other fruits, and garden industries of Texas gave added interest to the pictures shown.

The cattle industry which is always interesting to Texans, is one of the oldest industries in the state. The projector showed a fine group of cattle on the King ranch in south Texas. Other herds were also shown giving an idea of the many fine breeds of cattle in the state.

Texas beauty spots, the natural parks, the Davis Mountains, railways, airports and runways, beautiful highways, modern bus travel were also shown, and which provide means of transporting the products of our state to the rest of the world.

The many rice fields along the Texas Gulf Coast provide another essential industry.

An interesting gulf scene where a barge, equipped with modern machinery, was dredging for oyster shells. These seemingly worthless shells are ground and specially prepared to be used as topping for roads.

The projector showed in technicolor the pretty state of West Virginia. Enough coal is under that state to supply fuel for the world, it was stated.

A foreign scene of industries and life in Turkey today was entertaining and educational, giving a thought that the world has many common interests.

Dr. and Mrs. Ben W. Bowden who were married in Cisco in an afternoon ceremony at First Baptist church on October 3. Rev. Otis Strickland officiated in the rites. They are making their home in Shrepsport, La.

Mr. Franklin said he would permit any club of group to use the projector if notified in time at his office in Wichita Falls.

Approximately 35 women were in attendance and appreciated the program.

FINE ARTS PROGRAM PRESENTED FRIDAY

Twentyth Century club met Friday afternoon at the Library club room for a Fine Arts program. The room was attractive with decorations of fall cut flowers arranged by the hostesses, Mrs. E. P. Crawford and Mrs. C. R. Baugh.

Mrs. F. E. Harrell, president, welcomed a number of visitors and presented Jane Huestis in three piano selections, "To a Wild Rose", "Uncle Remus" and "Claire de Lune". Mrs. Harrell then introduced Mrs. Horace Horton of Eastland guest speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Horton showed a ceramic exhibit brought from the Eastland pottery plant and gave an interesting talk on her work.

"Commercial Art." She stated that the limitations of Commercial Art are advantageous in most cases. Modern Art cannot help but be influenced by the modern life of today. Very loud along with muted tones—as in our homes—dark with a splash of light; or Streamline for time. Ceramics must function that which is to be useful and durable the speaker stated, exhibiting molds used as bases. Mrs. Horton uses people or objects
