Superior Musicians The Cisco High School Lobo more than 200 persons at the traditional Christmastide Concert conducted here Monday night in the high school auditorium why it is rated by the Texas High School band clinics as one of the ten outstanding musical groups in the state. Monday night's program, which included "heavy' symphony by Christmas compositions proved an easy task for the 50-ptece band, since early rehearsals from mid-November enabled Director Fred Baumgardner to run through the most tedious parts in ample time

D. W. Diserens, local merchant appeared as guest conductor and killfully directed the musicans through an overture en-itled "A Merry Christmas" in the program's opening phases.

Mr. Diserens, himself a talented musician; was invited, through the courtesy of the band council, since his daughter. Mrs. Ethel Herberle was at one time director of the local high school com At the time Mrs. Herberle was

The band's student director Sally Galagher, conducted "Joy To The World" following Mr Diserens' appearance. Miss Galagher is a senior at Cisco high laving been a member of the band since 1945, playing bass trombone

Highlighting events of the program were a coronet solo by John James Haynie, guest soloist of reputed fame, and a seldom heard tympani solo by Zelda Sandler. Both afforded to the uccess of the concert. Immediately following the in termission, high school Principal Carlos J. Turner presented band jackets to seven senior members requirements. Seniors who received awards included Joan Scott, Zelda Sandler, Bette Wilcox. Prudence Harris. Elova Moad, Betty Sue Wagley and

The achievements of individual players, coupled with the organization's ability to perform as a concert band, gave every indication that the local band, which has advanced from a third class organization to top brackets in honors and standing, is capable of handling any tasks presented. For that feat Band Director Fred Baumgardner and the Band Parents can be justly proud.

Charles Beene.
