MOVING TO MUSEUM-Towed on a barge, this old building was moved from Glen Cove, N.Y. to Mystic, Conn., where it was placed in the National Marine Museum. Built in 1844, the house was once used by the late J. P. Morgan when it was part of the New York Yacht Club. The two old French mortars, left center on barge, once decorated the club lawn and were sent with the house.

the 14th annual Cisco Country Club Golf Tournament at the local golf course Saturday. Semi-final and final matches in all flights were scheduled for Sunday.

Medalist honors were shared by Spud Cason and Johnnie Foster of Fort Worth and Bob Adair of Breckenridge. Each turned in scores of 71 in Friday's medal play.

Matched play, which began at 5:30 a. m. Saturday, had not progressed far enough early Saturday afternoon to forecast the players in Sunday's matches. Defending Champion Bill Dill won his first match, defeating Dick Stovall of Abilene.

Several hundred sportsmen attended the barbecue and Calcutta Pool at the club Friday night. Large galleries were expected to follow feature matches Sunday.

Complete results of the tournament will be published in the next edition of The Press.
