HEADS MOTOR GROUP

SENATOR JAMES E. TAYLOR

Austin (Spl.)—James E. Taylor of Kerens, former newspaper publisher and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, resigned this week to become executive director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association. Governor Allan Shivers in calling a special election November 8 to elect a successor described him as "a leader in the Texas Legislature and one of the state's most able and earnest public servants".

As chairman of the Gilmer-Aikin Committee on education Taylor pushed its public education reform program successfully to legislative adoption over strong opposition. He leaves the legislature to head one of the state's major industry groups. It is the largest employer group in Texas and the second largest taxpayer, he said.

The new motor transportation executive is a graduate of Baylor University. He served two terms in the House of Representatives before the war, commanded a field artillery battalion of the 36th Division in Europe during the war and was elected Senator before he returned in 1945. The Taylors will make their home in Austin. Their daughter, Shirley Ann, is a freshman at Baylor.

las, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burton and family and Mrs. Frank Bilderback and Bobbie of Breckenridge and Vernon King of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elliott returned after two weeks vacation in New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada.

Orval Dennis received his master's degree in education from the Texas A. & M. College this summer. He is employed in the Basque County Schools.

In TOUCH with GOD

Millions of miles of wire have come to the aid of Morse and Bell, to make it possible that you and I shall be able to communicate with those we love. Do you remember how you thrilled to hear the voice of your son who had been across the Pacific? Back in the homeland, his first thought was to talk with the home folks. Thus we have been privileged to keep close contact with absent members of the home, though many miles away from the fireside. Life must touch life and we are the better for the inflowing of one life upon another. Love cries out for the hand and voice of the beloved.

Out of his heart of love the Heavenly Father called us into being that we might be with Him. Made in His image, created for fellowship with each other and with God, our hearts are restless till they find rest in Him. We find ourselves as the children of divine love and care; we belong to the household of God; we are all prodigals until we come to be at home with the Father.

How may we keep in touch with God? Eyes of faith will reveal God at work by our side this very day. He is not far away, in some secluded haven; He walks our way and if we will open our eyes we shall find Him as near as was the Master with the disciples on the way to Emmaus. There is "The Christ of the Indian Road" and there is the loving Spirit of God on every road where God's children must travel.

Our speech with God we call Prayer; it is the reaching out of the human hand to be grasped by the divine; it is a sense of invisible but genuine comradeship. "He walks with me and He talks with me" and I know I live in His care.

When we gather in companies to sing praise to our Father—God—we call that activity Worship; it is a reverent sharing of the sense of divine blessing; it is the family of God gathering for a weekly home coming of the soul. Your life and mine will be radiant and strong if we keep our lines so we can keep "In touch with God."

OUT OF THIS WORLD—The elaborately wired instrument is the radar antenna above the deck of the USS Norton Sound, and shooting skyward, leaving a trail of white vapor, is the Navy's aerobee sounding rocket used in the study of cosmic ray intensity. The rockets, fired at a point approximately 700 miles off the west coast of South America, attained an altitude of more than 65 miles above the ocean. Cosmic ray data is obtained from instruments in the nose of the rockets.

By observing the powerful cosmic ray particles and studying the changes they undergo in passing through the atmosphere, scientists hope to obtain a new and clearer understanding of nuclear forces. The energy of cosmic ray particles is millions of times greater than that which can be produced by nuclear fission.

Speaking on the Subject of Quality —

... It is always an appreciative compliment when so many of our customers tell us they like our abstracts. They must for many of them have been doing business with us for more than a quarter of a century, and still are. There is no secret attached to this expression of confidence. A quality product produces confidence. And we are proud that we have both — the confidence of a host of customers and a quality product to sell them.
