The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE COLD weather must have discouraged the spooks and goblins, for the town was relatively quiet Monday night. But there were plenty of colorfully dressed goblins out at West Ward School last Friday night for the big Halloween Carnival.

OUR THANKS to the Cisco florist. A very handsome bouquet of fall flowers was delivered to The Press in observance of National Flower Week.

HAVING A birthday this week? If you call one of the local florists and you'll get a handsome bouquet, too.

WERE ALSO grateful to Mrs. W. W. Fowell for a sack full of persimmons. There's nothing better than persimmons.

Now that the pecans are ripening, we've been hoping that Mr. Roy Davis would invite us out squirrel hunting.

A LOT OF argument is going on around town about the football situation. Baylor over Texas, for example. We're predicting that Baylor will lose to Texas, Rice and SMU.

Be sure to set your calander straight. Cisco Junior College plays here Saturday night this week - not Thursday as they usually do.

LISTENING to Mr. Kern Tips broadcast football games for Humble Oil & Refining Company every Saturday is just about as interesting as seeing the game.

Some of the things you notice when Tips is giving you the game is the fact that he knows the players - all of them - and gives you background facts on each as he comes in to play.

Armistice Day Parade Plans Completed By Round-up Club

Plans for the Armistice Day parade on November 11 under the sponsorship of the Roundup Club were complete today, according to an announcement by Carl Lamb and Carlton Holden parade marshals.

The parade will be led by the Cisco High School Band dressed in their parade uniforms. They will be followed by the local National Guard unit under the command of Capt. O. O. Odum.

Members of the Roundup Club on horse back will wind up the parade. They will be dressed in their riding clothes and will add the color.

The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band was invited to be a part of the parade and reported that they would be here if no school was to be held that day.

Saturday Designated As Poppy Day; Legion Auxiliary To Handle Sale

Poppies which the people of Texas will wear in honor of the war dead on Memorial or Armistice Day are being shipped from the Legion Hospital in Kerrville and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Waco where the little red flowers are being made by disabled veterans of both world wars.

"Much of the money is sent home by the veterans to help support their wives and children, who often have a difficult time when the veterans require hospitalization and are unable to work for long periods.

"Making these flowers has provided interesting employment for veterans at the hospitals during the winter and spring months," explained Mrs. Frank Sheffield, Poppy Chairman of the Department. "It has helped to keep their hands and minds occupied, relieving them of long hours of tedium and contributing its occupational therapy value toward their recovery.

Mrs. L. O. Thurman of Bel Flower, Calif., and Mrs. Alex Hale of Carbon were dinner guests Thursday in the home of their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prickett.

Veterans Over Payments To Be Taken From National Service Life Dividends

Water Problem To Be Studied At C of C Meet

ABILENE, Nov. 1 — Formation of a West Texas domestic water association composed of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be the leading item on the agenda for the 32nd annual WTCC directors meeting to be held in Ft. Worth Nov. 22.

Purpose of the proposed association would be fostering local districts or authorities to bring about construction of multi-city dams to serve the needs of drought stricken West Texas towns, according to Manager D. A. Bandeen.

After the business meeting the annual banquet, to be held at the Texas Hotel, will be addressed by secretary J. A. Krug of the Department of Interior, Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth Star-Telegram publisher, will be master of ceremonies.

Theme of the Fort Worth meeting will be water, with a slogan of Dam West Texas or West Texas is Damned.

A Campaign to build attendance to the banquet now is underway under direction of Max Bentley, organization director. Local directors and chamber managers have been enlisted to build attendance from each West Texas city.

Charles Beene was home for a weekend visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Beene. The young man is a student at McMurray Methodist College, Abilene.

Mrs. L. O. Thurman of Bel Flower, Calif., and Mrs. Alex Hale of Carbon were dinner guests Thursday in the home of their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prickett.

Lobo Queens Take Two Fast Games From Olden

The Cisco High School Lobo Queens put on the steam at the Community Gym Tuesday night and took two games from the girls basketball team from Olden High School.

The games were highlighted by the accurate shooting of Dorothy Harlow who hit the basket for seven field goals and six free throws to amass a total of 20 points and walk away with high point honors.

In the first game the local "B" team defeated a similar group from Olden by a 15-9 score. Canet from Olden won high point honors with six but she was closely followed by Wylene Birt and Barbara Schaefer of the Queens with five each. Dolores Johnson scored four points for the Queens and Patsy Denton made one.

In the final game the local "A" team ran up a total of eight field goals and sank 12 free throws to send the Olden girls home with a stinging 28-19 defeat.

Only the fine floor work of the local guards kept Hall from sinking many more shots. She was by far the most outstanding player on the visitor's team.

Outstanding at guard posts were Monte Lisenbee, who was charged with the responsibility of keeping tab on Bonnie Hall, and Jessie Warren. Both the girls played the entire game.

Important matters will be discussed and all members were urged to attend. A questionnaire regarding the holidays for 1950 was recently sent out to members and President George Boyd urged that they be returned in time for the meeting in order that the question can be settled at that time.

WEST TEXAS WOMEN GOLFERS MEET HERE TUESDAY FOR MONTHLY PLAY

Local women golfers were hostesses Tuesday to the West Texas Round Robin Association at the Cisco Country Club where the monthly matches were played.

Mrs. Doug Jones of Abilene won low score prize with a 45 and was also the low net winner among the Abilene representatives.

The association is using a point system in their play and at the end of the year the town with the highest number of points is to be awarded a loving cup.

Mrs. Molly Goodwin won low net for Breckenridge and Mrs.

With the exception of Robert McMurray, co-captain and regular starting guard, the Cisco High School Loboes were in good physical condition for their game with the Weatherford Kangaroos to be played at Chesley Field Friday night.

Coaches Everett and Overall were working their charges hard this week developing a defense they hope will stop their heavier opponents. They were paying particular attention to a defense against an expected passing attack.

McMurray will probably start the game and will be kept in largely on offense for at least a part of the time.

The lineup will probably see some changes for the Friday game with Emmett Graham in at an end position. He will replace Buz Sawyers.

Robert Jackson is expected to be in at his regular blocking back post after a weeks rest. Farley will probably start at the wingback slot and Hub Harwell will be at fullback. Doug Johnson is due to call signals.

Weatherford has shown steady improvement since the beginning of the season and are expected to be in there when the district winner is decided. They are coached by W. W. Emmoys and W. C. Whitehead.

The Kangaroos will enter the game with a weight average of about 165 pounds while the Loboes will average slightly under 150.

Other probable starters for the Loboes include James McGowan at end, Porter and Boggs at tackles, Suggs at guard and Watts at center.

The Big Fisherman Reviewed Thursday By Mrs. L. Hagaman

The Cisco Country Club was the scene of an enjoyable occasion last Thursday evening when the Stellar Class of First Methodist church presented Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, head of the English department of Ranger high school, in a review of "The Big Fisherman" by Lloyd C. Douglas.

The inviting atmosphere of the club house gave a cozy setting for this occasion. The one hundred seats were filled to capacity with men and women who were alike attracted by the inspiration afforded by Lloyd Douglas' uplifting books.

Mrs. Paul Woods, vice president of the class, welcomed the audience and stated that this month marked the one year birthday of the class, enumerating some of the things the class has accomplished since its organization. Following these preliminary remarks, she introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Leslie Hagaman.

Mrs. Hagaman spoke with such ease and facility that her flow of language and rich quality of voice charmed and delighted her hearers - giving more animation to this magnificent novel. Courteous individual attention throughout the review gave proof of their delight in the

Fall Planted Onions Bear Earliest Crop in Spring

Like onions? You can harvest them from your home garden during the time the ground thaws out in the spring, until it freezes in the fall, if you start the cycle by planting top sets of Egyptian winter onions this fall.

All onions like cool weather, but this is the only one that can be depended upon to live through zero temperatures, and start growing in the earliest spring thaws. The "top sets" are produced by the onion plant, as a cluster of miniature onions at the top of a seed stalk. Planted just like the onion sets we buy in the spring, they will produce green onions in time to enjoy before you can even spade the garden for other crops.

A clump of Egyptian onions will grow as large as a foot in diameter; and if part of it is harvested each spring, it will produce top sets, and provide spring onions for the table, for many years. These "top sets" gave early gardeners the idea for "bottom sets," which are grown from seed, dwarfed by crowding and planted the following spring for a quicker harvest than can be grown from seed.

There are red and white Egyptians, the color being only in the skin, with small if any difference in flavor. Plant them so that just the tip of the set is exposed, eight inches apart if they are to be permanent residents of your garden.

In some sections, where winters are milder, potato or multiplier onions will live through the winter. Here the set is much larger than the Egyptian, and consists of several sections, attached only at the bottom. Each section will produce an edible stalk, mild in flavor. Where winter temperatures fall much below zero, a protective mulch should be spread over the planting.

Rhubarb and asparagus roots are other perennials for the vegetable garden which can be planted to advantage in the fall.

The main requisite for an asparagus bed is deep rich soil and ample root room for each hill, giving the plants 3 feet of space each way. A dozen rhubarb plants will be sufficient to provide an ample supply for the average family, and they will last a lifetime with little care. New varieties of rhubarb which are splendid which Mrs. Hagaman unfolded the plot of this stupendous book.

The speaker was attired in a formal dress of brown crepe, lace and scintillating sequins, wearing a beautiful corsage of soft pink carnations (presented to her by the class).

At the close of the review, Mrs. Paul Woods thanked Mrs. Hagaman and presented a gift from the Stellar Class in appreciation. The guests were then invited to the Tea Table where coffee, cake and sandwiches were served. In the center of the Maderia table was a sprawling, graceful arrangement of characterized by pronounced red coloring in the stalk, are now popular. They show improvement in tenderness and flavor over the older types.

Two of the early spring vegetables can be conveniently planted in the fall. These are lettuce and spinach. Wait until the last minute when the ground can be worked and then cover the rows with a mulch until frost is out of the ground in the spring.

Seed should be sown late, but before the ground freezes. It is not intended that the seed shall germinate this fall, but that it shall lie in the ground through the winter and sprout in the first favorable weather of spring.

Crawford, teacher of the class. Assisting in serving were Madames Paul Wood, Claude P. Jones, F. M. Wright, Homer Ferguson, H. E. McGowen and Jack Anderson.

Guests attending Mrs. Hagaman from Ranger were Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Mrs. J. J. Kelly, and Mrs. Tom Pruitt. The Stellar class wishes to thank their guests for patronage and words of appreciation.

At the close of the fun games the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Walker, served a refreshment plate of sandwiches, wafers and home-made cookies with hot chocolate to Barbara Jenkins, Linda Curry, Laina Carol Richardson, Mary Wayne Huston, Judy Sitton, Joyce Ann Redwine, Jeanette Reeves and Judy Kay Slaughter.
