IMPORTANCE OF JUNIOR COLLEGE EXPLAINED IN LIONS ADDRESS

The growing importance of the Cisco Junior College as an educational center for this region and as an asset to the community provided the theme of a talk Wednesday by A. R. Collier, coordinator of veterans training, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club.

Mr. Collier, who spoke as guest of Lion W. H. LaRoue, told the club that the veterans school anticipates enrollment in excess of 550 students with the beginning of the second semester late this month.

The school now has 447 students—a drop of some 70 since the beginning of the current school year. The drop was attributed by Mr. Collier to a general tightening of regulations by the Veterans Administration.

He told Lions that Cisco Junior College now ranks as one of the top schools operating in cooperation with the Veterans Administration in the southwest region. He added that the local school's rating now is good enough that inspectors seldom visit here, except to check on the progress of disabled veterans.

The night school here commenced in 1946 with 19 students and has shown marked growth with each semester, he said.

Mr. Collier pointed out that the "real good to the community will come in the years ahead—as the education pays dividends." He reminded Lions more than $50,000 per month is paid veterans in subsistence checks by the VA, in addition to large payments for tuition and fees.

Diabetes Causes Many Deaths In Texas, Cox Says

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Diabetes is among the first ten reported causes of death in Texas. There are many people receiving treatment for this disease. Probably there are hundreds of undiscovered cases in the state, says Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Early recognition of diabetes pays. In the experience of doctors, those discovered early before they had complications lived three times as long as those discovered after some blighting affliction drove them to a doctor. If you are the relative of a diabetic, or if you are approaching the fair, fat and forty era of life, go to a doctor before you get sick and find out if you have diabetes. If you do have it, control the disease in and out of season. It pays. Don't be caught napping. Find out if you have diabetes! If you do have it, make it an asset! Prove that you can live longer with it than without it. Then you will be helping not yourself alone, but also other diabetics.

What is diabetes? When a person has diabetes, his body has lost some of its ability to turn the sugar in food into heat and energy. The sugar which should be used by his body goes into the blood stream until there is so much sugar in the blood that it overflows into the urine. Because a lot of sugar is not used, various bodily organs such as heart, liver, kidneys, and eyes do not get good nourishment. The person whose diabetes is not treated may get cataracts and other eye disease, kidney trouble, hardening of the arteries, or gangrene. Be sure to consult your family physician.

County Oil Men Assure Temple Pollution To Stop

Eastland County oil operators assured citizens of Temple and members of the State Health Department that salt water pollution of Colony Creek, which empties into the Leon River would be stopped and they were given 90 days in which to fulfill their promise.

The agreement was reached in a meeting in Austin when Temple citizens charged that the operators were "dumpin'" salt water from wells into the stream and causing much discomfort to citizens of the community. Health officials declared the problem serious and contributed several cases of illness to the seepage.

M. E. Daniel of Breckenridge, one of the leading operators, stated that much of the problem was remedied last week when a salt water injection plant was installed on his leases. He was joined by Lone Star, Magnolia and Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company in agreeing to corrective measures.

Gas Refrigerator Models Will Be Shown On Jan. 20

First public showing of the new 1950 Servel gas refrigerator models—featuring drastic price reductions and advances in styling, convenience, and performance—will be held Friday, Jan. 20, on sales floors of gas refrigerator dealers and the Lone Star Gas Co. in this territory, according to gas company representatives.

The new Servel discards the long accepted practice of fitting the food into the space, the representatives point out. This refrigerator is designed to make the space fit the food—with only a minimum of changes that can be made quickly without rearranging the entire interior and playing checkers with the food items.

The new gas refrigerators were designed by Walter Dorwin Teague, nationally prominent industrial designer. Mr. Teague and his staff gave particular attention to the new long life design of the refrigerator, both inside and out. First the exterior follows classic lines that will be attractive through the years as it is today. The second feature is a quick-change interior to manage any food storage requirement.

The gas refrigerator provides silent operation in the freezing compartment and it gives homemakers a chance to take the problem out of food storage and minimize the loss of shelf area.

Solution Hoped For By January 19

The Premier Oil and Refining Co. of Longview announced Thursday that plans were being formulated whereby the present situation in the oil industry in a seven county area, centered around Eastland County, could be worked out prior to Jan. 19, the deadline set by the company on 100% purchasing of crude from connections in the area.

David D. Pickerell, head of the company's operations in the West Central Texas division, with offices in Ranger, said that prospective purchasers were being contacted and expressed hopes that the situation could be worked out.

He stated that the problem arose when the company's storage facilities were filled to capacity and said it was caused by too much production and possibly by the importation of foreign crude.

The company cut purchases to 40% of production in the area on Jan. 1 and rescinded the order Jan. 10 when members of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association appealed to the Railroad Commission for relief. At a meeting held in Austin on that date the company agreed to go back on the 100% schedule until Jan. 19.

If other methods fail, the company has hopes that the Railroad Commission can assist them at the statewide hearing to be held in Houston on Jan. 17.

The Railroad Commission became interested in the matter when a deluge of telegrams from the stricken area reached their offices explaining the serious threat to the economic welfare of the seven counties affected by the order.

Medical Officers Needed By Army

AUSTIN, Tex. Jan. 11. — An immediate need for Organized Reserve Corps Medical officers of any grade except Generals to participate as umpires in "Operation Portrex" has been announced by Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Chief of the Texas Military District.

"Operation Portrex" is a joint war game of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps during February and March. Participants can be expected to be released from duty to return to their homes between March 20 and 30.

Latest developments in under-sea warfare will undergo tests at the very outset of the war games. An "invasion" by troops aboard transports, with convoy of warships, must expect submarine as well as air attacks as it heads out from Norfolk, Virginia.

Originally umpires will be based at Camp Lee, Virginia but will make their maneuver camp on the Island of Vieques, six miles off Puerto Rico.

Colonel Abbott stated in his appeal to ORC Medical Corps officers that no restrictions on the military occupation specialty have been extended to January 23rd, but it is requested that all interested applicants expedite their applications through the nearest Organized Reserve Corps Instructor's office.

FOR SAFER DRIVERS

Texas and the other 47 states have joined in a common program designed to promote driver education in the high schools as a means of curbing teen-age recklessness on the highways and generally improving driving habits among the nation's future motorists.

Governor Allan Shivers personally authorized Texas' participation and has appointed C. E. Sanderson, safety education director of the State Department of Education, as state co-ordinator of the program. In that capacity, Mr. Sanderson will promote driver education in high schools throughout the state as an effective and permanent means of increasing public safety on the streets and highways.

tors throughout the nation, not to mention worried parents, have become alarmed and aroused by the recklessness of exuberant youths behind the wheel of an automobile," said Julien H. Harvey, widely known safety specialist and manager of the association's accident prevention department. "There is a simple and positive cure, however, for the teen-age problem on our streets and highways. It is sound education in how to drive, given at the proper time. The proper time, of course, is just before legal driving age; and that means in the high school classroom.

"Driver education is good from every point of view. The student loves it; teachers have told me that the one class the kids almost never cut is the driver training class. And anyone who reads the glowing testimonials of kids who have completed the course will know that they really take an interest. The value of these courses has been established by long experience. Statistics indisputably show that young drivers who have had such training are involved in 60% fewer fatal accidents than those who have not. So driver education is also good for the young drivers and everyone else from the standpoint of safety. Finally, the cost of teaching a complete and effective course is very low. One might almost ask, therefore, what are we waiting for." The High School Driver Education Award Program, as the plan is officially designated, was started three years ago by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies solely to recognize achievement and further stimulate interest in the raising of high school youths to become trained drivers just before they reach the legal driving age. Thirty-eight states participated the first year, 43 the second, and this school year every state is participating. It also has been designated by the President's Highway Safety Conference as the official medium for determining the activity of each state in his field.

States that meet fixed high standards in driver education are awarded a bronze plaque each year by the association. These awards, which are determined entirely by an impartial board of judges consisting of nationally prominent educators, safety specialists, and state officials, are made on the following basis: Meritorious awards: Granted to states having a full course of
