AWARDS FOR SCHOOLS

In addition to its General Awards Program, first inaugurated last year and open to all Americans who "speak up for freedom," Freedoms Foundation has announced at its Valley Forge, Penna., headquarters that in 1950 a separate Awards Program will be undertaken for American school systems. A total of $50,000 already has been set aside to provide the awards for this program which will be open to all of the public, private, and parochial school systems in the nation, according to the Trustees of Freedoms Foundation.

In keeping with the single objective of Freedoms Foundation, which is to encourage — through awards — all Americans to preserve and extend the American way of life by act and deed each in his or her own way, the School Systems Awards Program will advocate no "special brand of Freedom."

Any program — oral, written, or visual — undertaken in the classrooms of an American school system and aimed at teaching the participating students the fundamental freedoms of the American way of life will be eligible. All grades may participate from kindergarten through high school.

A local school system is defined as being a county, town, or city to school systems will be operated as follows:

The local county, town, and city school systems will be divided into five groups based on gross population according to the latest estimate submitted by local school authorities: Population Groups — 200,000 or over; 100,000 to 200,000; 30,000 to 100,000; 5,000 to 30,000; under 5,000.

The awards to school systems will consist of 75 "Freedom Libraries" of books, films, pamphlets, and other documents pertaining to the American way of life.

These Freedom Libraries will be selected by the superintendents of the 10 top winning school systems who will be invited to Valley Forge, at Foundation expense, as the Freedom Library Committee.

In addition, the 75 top winning school systems may select one classroom teacher and one student each, who in their own way have contributed to an understanding of the American way of life. These 75 teachers plus 75 students will journey to Valley Forge at the Foundation's expense. Here they will inspect General Washington's headquarters, as a symbol of American freedom, and tour the Valley Forge national shrine. They will also visit Freedoms Foundation headquarters, where they will receive the Freedom Libraries in behalf of their winning school systems.

Waterflood Wells Making 100 Barrels depth of 287 feet to the top of the formation. The sand is from five to 18 feet in thickness.

The waterflood project is the first Texas designed to flow, was started in 1946, when 26 wells were on production. The lease was about ready for abandonment, because it was unprofitable to operate. All the wells were reworked and 2 inch tubing was cemented with "Poor Boy" rag packer casing and sold for salvage. No casing is needed since all wells flow.

At The Churches . . . RELIGIOUS CENSUS OF COUNTY PLANNED BY CHURCHES SUNDAY

A religious census of Eastland county will be conducted Sunday afternoon with scores of workers from the various churches participating. Charles W. Jones, educational director of the First Baptist Church, will direct some 100 workers of the Baptist churches of Cisco in the census of his community.

The purpose of the census will be to determine the religious affiliation of every citizen of Cisco and Eastland County. Those who are not affiliated with a church in their community will be asked to give their church preference.

It was announced that students from Hardin-Simmons University and Howard Payne College would help in taking the census in rural areas of the county.

Mr. Jones has announced the organization of two new choirs at the First Baptist Church here. That was described as the youngest choral group in Cisco in the heretofore, made up of children, ages 4 to 8 years. This group meets for practice at the church at 4 o'clock each Tuesday afternoon.

The Carrol Choir of children 9 to 12 years old practices at 4 p. m. on Thursdays.

Rev. Cecil Stowe, pastor of the Church of Nazarene, will deliver special message for young people Sunday morning. His church has been observing Youth Week this week. His sermon topic will be "Launch Out Into the Deep." The public has been invited to attend.

Bowlin Durway, a student in the Austin Presbyterian Seminary, will speak at both the morning and evening services at the First Presbyterian Church here Sunday. It will be his first appearance in Cisco, and the public has been invited.

Officials of the East Cisco Baptist Church today expressed their appreciation for a building fund contribution of $84.07 from the First Baptist Church of Moran. Rev. W. H. Bell is pastor of the Moran church, and Glen Cottle is church treasurer.

Members of the East Cisco congregation will continue to meet at the City Hall until the completion of their new building. They hope to be able to move in the new structure by April 1, according to Rev. Paul Stephens, pastor.

The Faith Tabernacle has moved its meeting place from the old Abilene highway to the building formerly occupied by the Fabric Mart on West 6th Street. W. C. Kelley is minister of the Faith Tabernacle congregation.

According to information here, Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Brownfield, has been named vice-president of Howard Payne College, Brownwood. He will begin his new duties on March 1.

Two years ago, Rev. Brian went by air to Fairbanks, Alaska, where he held a revival meeting almost under the Arctic Circle.

This revival greatly stimulated work in Alaska.

The congregation of the Church of Christ of Cisco heard a young pastor from Walters, Oklahoma, at their mid-week service Wednesday night.

The Circuit Rider

We who live in the comfortable days of the Twentieth Century may do well to cherish and honor the memory of the vigorous servants of another day without whom we could not enjoy the blessings of our time. Among those noblemen of another day we must count the Circuit Rider of the churches.

They were "Prophets of the Long Trail," on horseback and by boat and by buggy, making their way along the bridge paths and the fresh trails of the frontier settlements, or down the streams along whose shores men had built their homes and their hamlets. Of one of them we have read that he journeyed some 270,000 miles through a long itinerant ministry.

These men were first and last God's men, committed to the work which they believed to be the will of God for them to do. They were "very sure of God" and counted themselves His messengers to the careless and the sinful and the needy. They carried Good News of divine grace and hope for lost men and women, and they spoke it wherever they could get a hearing; in private homes, in empty buildings of every sort, in the open fields, in the busy streets of the city. They asked only for people who would listen.

They were also lovers of their fellows, concerned for the present and for the eternal welfare of men. Many of them were well-educated men who brought into the distance places the news of the world and a careful interpretation of its meaning. They were all imbued with such love for human souls that they counted no sacrifice too great, if they might kindle in a man's heart a love for the Father God. They believed that inner riches were more to be desired than much fine gold. They carried books and Bibles and tracts for the hungry minds, they brought comfort and cheer to lonely spirits, but mainly they brought the Touch of God for the healing of souls.

Thank God then for these good servants of another day; may their memory stir each of us to self-forgetful service of men and of God.

EMETINE
The middle of the 19th Century marked a search for active principles in drugs. The year 1867 brought the discovery of Emetine by Pierre Pelletier, a French chemist. But not until 20 years later did Dr. Walsh determine the action of Emetine on the Amoebae that caused Amoebic Dysentery. In 1911 the value of the drug was established as a cure for the disease, 44 years after its discovery.
