S. W. ALTMAN DIES, FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for S. W. Altman, 83, prominent West Texas merchant who had made his home in Cisco for the past 18 years, will be held in the First Methodist Church at 3 p. m. Wednesday with Dr. Claude P. Jones in charge.

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

TWO INCIDENTS were warmly applauded at Monday night's commencement exercises at the high school auditorium. The first was when President G. R. Nance of the school board called former school superintendent R. N. Cluck to the stage and asked him to present his daughter, Mona Lee Cluck, with her diploma.

As you know, Mr. Cluck was planning to leave Cisco a few years ago to take a bigger job in school superintending circles. And he was critically injured in an automobile mishap.

In presenting his daughter her diploma, he made a splendid little talk that was roundly applauded. And his daughter, you know, was the valedictorian. In giving Mr. Cluck to present the diploma was a gesture that was genuinely appreciated by one and all.

The other incident that drew such applause was when President Nance presented a diploma to his daughter, Patsy, who has been in a wheel chair for more than a year now as the result of an accident. Miss Patsy has been an excellent student despite her handicap. And it makes us all feel good that her dad could present the diploma to her.

WAS UP FORT Worth way Sunday afternoon and spent the whole afternoon watching the big name golfers at the Colonial Country Club. The big boys play golf in a manner that makes the game look easy.

You will see just about as good golf at Cisco Country Club, however, or any other small town club. The difference is a lot of publicity.

Sam Snead, the winner, is certainly a handsome fellow. We suspect that he is losing his hair, for he refused to take off his hat for photographers.

Ran into Stormy Davis, Cisco Junior College coach and a local golfer, at Fort Worth. He will probably be hard to beat here this week, for he watched Snead, Hogan and some of the others to learn some of their secrets.

STORMY planned to play the Colonial course Monday. If he did, we'll all have to lean him some balls to play here again. Colonial has about 15 water hazards, and creeks and canyons are adjacent to just about every fairway. Bet a country golfer could lose 25 balls playing around that 18-hole layout.

SOME 10,000 people were in the gallery at the course. Most of them followed a threesome composed of Snead, Hogan and Pennington. We decided, late in the afternoon, that it would be a smart idea to park by the 18th hole to see all of them come in to the green.

SAW ONE OF the Abilene youths who played in Cisco's tournament last year. He said a large group of Abilene players are expecting to enter the Cisco tournament again this year. Our city's tournament is set for June 16-17-18. Understand some of the state's top players are planning to enter.

HAVE HAD a lot of people join in hoping that Mr. Gene Watson will be able to walk home from Marlin after undergoing treatment there next week. The new Collier's has an article about how successful with the same drug. Maybe Gene will send us a report on his experiences from time to time while he's in the clinic. It would be interesting, wouldn't it?

Mr. Altman was found dead in the hall of his home at 807 West 12th by Mrs. Altman when she returned home from their store here. He apparently died at about 4 p. m. while trying to reach the telephone.

He was born in Searcy, Arkansas, on December 23, 1866 and moved to Hico with his parents when a small boy. His father was a well-known farmer of that area. He opened his first store in Hico and operated it for some 10 years.

He was married to Azalee Haynie in Whitesboro in 1897. From Hico the couple moved to Lorraine where they operated a mercantile store for a number of years. They moved from there to Arlington and later to Abilene where he opened a ladies ready-to-wear store. At the time of his death he was interested in stores in Cisco, Abilene and Eastland. He remained active in the business until the time of his death.

During the past few years a son, F. B. Altman, assumed active management of the business while Mr. Altman looked after his extensive real estate holdings.

He was an active member of the First Methodist Church and of the Woodmen of the World. A few weeks ago Mr. Altman underwent surgery in the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston for the removal of a part of his right arm. His health had been failing since that time.

Survivors include Mrs. Altman; three daughters, Edith Altman of Cisco; Mrs. Floyd Robertson of Eastland and Miss Wanda Altman of Wichita Falls; two sons, F. B. Altman of Cisco and Abilene and Mason Altman of Abilene; one brother, W. F. Altman of Arlington; one sister, Mrs. Ada Pierce of Abilene. Also surviving are three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Three children preceded Mr. Altman in death.

Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery with Thomas Funeral Home directing the services. Pallbearers will be: George Boyd, B. A. Butler, J. E. Proctor, S. H. Nance, A. R. Westfall and E. L. Hazelwood.

Crosby Allows 1 Hit As Wrangler Team Wins, 5-0

Behind the one-hit pitching of Lonnie Crosby, the Cisco Junior College Wranglers won a 5-to-0 triumph over Gorman in an Inter-City League softball game at ABC Field here Monday night. Crosby was the big show of the game. He retired 14 Gorman batters via the strikeout route.

The lone Gorman hit was a two-base blow by Pitcher Reed in the seventh inning. He died on third, where he advanced on an infield play. Two other Gorman men got on base — one on an error and the other on a free pass. The Wranglers bunched four of their six hits in the third inning to score four runs. The other run — unearned — came in the sixth as the result of two errors.

Miss Blair was graduated from the Sanatorium School of Nursing with the class of 1937 and has been employed in the capacity of assistant superintendent of nurses at the McKnight Sanatorium for a number of years.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR HORSE RACING ON SATURDAY

A record crowd is predicted for the horse races to be staged at the Livestock Arena on the Nolan Highway next Saturday at 2 p. m. Originally scheduled for last Saturday, the 3-inch rain Thursday forced postponement.

General Chairman Pete Tyndall reports considerable interest among West Central Texas horsemen, with some entries coming from Oklahoma. The Eastland horseman added that the three Arizona horses entered in last Saturday's racing may re-enter the races this week. While chief interest is expected to center on the big $2,000 matched race, other matched and purse events, to pay out approximately another thousand dollars, will keep the audience on their toes, he said.

Sponsored by and for the Cisco Livestock Show Association, profits from the show will be "plowed back" into building new stalls, new barns, and so on," said President A. Z. Myrick. "With the idea in mind of building for the future, as well as helping bring horse-racing to Cisco by paying $20 prize money for every purse race Saturday, we have kept the admission price as low as possible. Prices will be 75c for adults and 25c for children."

The total prize money for each purse race will be $100, including the $20 from the show association, plus a similar amount from each of the four entrants. This sum will be paid to the first and second horse, on a 75-25 basis.

As evidence of the need for more stall space, Tyndall and Myrick call attention to the fact that two horsemen have already taken space at the arena. One is from Oklahoma with three horses. Other horsemen are interested in.

Summer Classes Being Organized In City Schools

Enrollments were still coming in today at Cisco Junior College for the summer classes which will be conducted under the direction of H. R. Garrett, and plans were being made to begin summer school at the high school Monday.

Mr. Garrett reported that a number of Cisco students had come in and that many students from surrounding towns had sent in registrations and were expected to be on hand when classes begin.

Courses in chemistry, English, American history, educational psychology, government and sociology are being offered at the college and a complete course is planned for the high school group.

In addition to Mr. Garrett, the college instructors will be J. L. Matthews, Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood and Miss Olga Ford. High School instructors have not been named.

Preliminary Count Gives City 5,216; Figure Not Official

The City of Cisco has a population of 5,216, a gain of 448 during the past ten years, according to figures released Monday by Donald F. Pulver, supervisor of the Census Bureau for the 17th Congressional District.

Pulver's figures reflected losses in population for both Eastland and Ranger for the ten-year period. He said Eastland has 3,696 residents — a loss of 243 — and Ranger has 3,945 — a drop of 608.

Gorman had a slight gain with the 1950 figure placed at 1,313, and Carbon lost 18 citizens to 441. Rising Star figures were not available. Pulver believed that the county's population as a whole would be down from the 30,345 listed in 1940.

Cisco civic leaders believed the 5,216 figures were low. The new city directory published in April counted 6,432 names and these did not include hotel registrations for a typical day or students attending Cisco Junior College.

The same directory gave both Eastland and Ranger about 4,500 citizens. It was pointed out that the Cisco city limits does not take in all persons served by city utilities, including water and sewer. The new figures will be studied at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, it was indicated.

The winning editorial, written by Bruce W. Roche, follows: Every day, Texas newspapers run stories telling of death and destruction on highways throughout the state and nation. About 32,000 people were killed on the nation's highways in 1949, and the average yearly total clings to close that figure. Imagine the Cotton Bowl stadium packed to capacity with spectators to see the yearly football game. Kill half that crowd, and the dead in number would equal the number executed yearly on the nation's streets and highways. In April of 1947, the nation shocked by the Texas City disaster which killed 500 people. Yet, a disaster of similar proportions occurs on the nation's highways with the passage of every five days. Of special significance in the figures presented above is the number of deaths caused by drivers from 15 to 24 years of age. Persons in this age group are more accident prone than those of other ages, says the Department of Public Safety. Young drivers are thoughtless, careless, irresponsible and inexperienced. Teen-kill about 7,500 people — including many of themselves — every year. This represents 25 per cent of the nation's yearly auto deaths and exceeds the death toll of the Johnstown flood, the San Francisco fire, and the sinking of the Titanic combined.

The Texas problem is as serious as the nation's of 1,957 traffic deaths recorded in the Lone Star State in 1949, 529 occurred with drivers from 15 to 24 at the wheel. Thus, 27 per cent of the deaths were caused by the young-driver group.

With the cooperation of the schools, parents, and peace officers, deaths caused by young drivers could be greatly reduced. For one thing, schools could require that the student take a driver-education course. Second, state laws pertaining to the young driver could be tightened. Finally, unless the young person is taught courtesy of the road at home and unless his parents set a good example for him, any other attempt to make a better driver of him will be nullified.

1950 Worker Dad Fights Juvenile Delinquency With Boxing Gloves

Francis X. Duffy, Worker Father of the Year, gives some timely between-rounds tips to an aspiring young boxer while other pupils also absorb the advice.

Francis X. Duffy, 38, of Philadelphia, Pa., selected as the Worker Father of the Year by the National Father's Day Committee, has fought for a better community in which to live and a better home for his children the only way he knows how — with his fists.

Duffy, father of two children, and a laboratory technician at the Philadelphia Refinery of the Gulf Oil Corporation, began fighting in amateur and semi-pro bouts in and around Philadelphia when he was sixteen. The more he fought the more concerned he became about the youth of his rough South Philadelphia neighborhood. After he stopped fighting and had been appointed a boxing judge, he decided to do something about the increasing juvenile delinquency in his community.

Out of his own savings he organized and equipped a boxing club for neighborhood boys. He rented space in an attic above a garage for which he paid ten dollars a month, also out of his own funds. However, he soon exhausted his savings and was forced to close the club. But he learned of some vacant space in the basement of the local precinct police station and managed to talk the police and businessmen in the neighborhood into equipping the space and making it available to children.

This became the first police station boys' club in Philadelphia and it was the start of Philadelphia's city-wide Police Athletic League. Today the league has 33 separate clubs with a membership of 27,000 boys and 15,000 associate (dues-paying) adults.

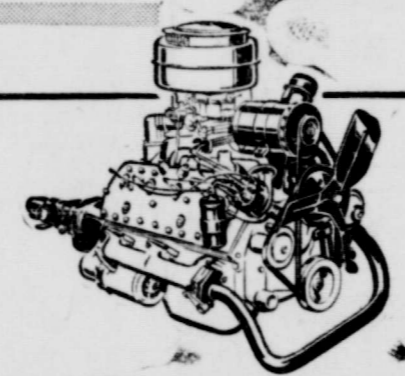

As a result of his outstanding contributions to Philadelphia children, Duffy in 1947 was appointed chairman of the Middle Atlantic A.A.U. boxing committee, a position which he still holds. In this capacity he supervises all amateur boxing in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

He is also a member of a six-man committee of the U. S. Olympic Boxing Committee and is actively engaged in planning the 1951 Pan American Games to be held in Buenos Aires and the 1952 Olympic Games which will be held in Helsinki. He recently returned from Guatemala where he spent two weeks directing and officiating at the boxing program of the Central American Republics.

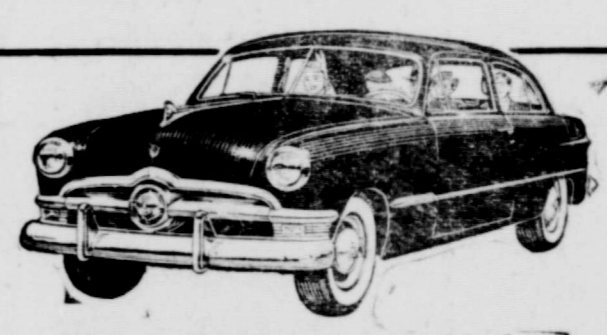

Boys to Duffy are boys anywhere you find them, and he is willing to travel all over the world to help them for, as he puts it, "if we can teach the kids of today initiative, courage, and self-confidence, we can be pretty sure they will be good leaders tomorrow."
