

TWO 4-H CLUB BOYS TO ATTEND STATE ROUNDUP FROM COUNTY

The Gay Philosopher

WORKMEN ARE busy these days at the West Ward School where the grounds are receiving considerable overhauling.

WE'RE TOLD that if the labor was available free, the football stadium could have a new fence.

ONE OF OUR friends asked if we weren't going to comment on the supreme court ruling that permits negroes to enroll in the University of Texas law school.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. Buster Reed, the Dallas golfer who won the Ranger tournament last week-end and who won the Cisco tourney last year, hopes he can enter one on June 16 to 18.

COLLECTING box tops and bottle tops is an American institution. We ran into a little guy the other day who was lining up a can to save Banner milk bottle tops for him.

OUR OLD CAKE cooking friend, Roy Huffman, tells us about a cake that sounds very interesting. You cook a very thin layer of plain cake, six inches wide and 12 inches long.

CISCO WAS represented up in the Clouderoff, New Mexico, country last week by vacationers. The Ramseys of the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop enjoyed a week there.

Mr. J. C. Pelfrey, market manager at McCracken's Clover Farm Store, had the kind of vacation last week that appeals to us. He stayed home and rested.

VISITORS IN our office this morning were Manager Walker of the West Texas Utilities Company at Moran and his son, Prosper.

Pleasant Hill Boy Bitten By Snake

Bennie Dale Hagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. (Jess) Hagan of Pleasant Hill, was bitten by a rattlesnake about 3:30 p. m. Wednesday while moving posts back of the house.

Today he was reported to be on his way to recovery at Graham hospital.

Joe Ben Koonce, Desdemona, and Lawrence Ingram, Scranton, received the high award of being delegates to the State 4-H Club Roundup, June 12 to 15, according to Ed Steele, assistant county agent.

They will represent the 12 4-H Clubs of Eastland County, as only two boys from each county are eligible to go to the Roundup.

Koonce, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Koonce, has fed shorthorn steers for the past five years. He has won many county championships with them, and last fall had the reserve champion shorthorn at the Dallas Fair.

Joe Ben received the county meat animal award last year.

Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Ingram, has completed 7 years of 4-H club work. His demonstrations in club include dairy animals, Duroc hogs, garden, corn, peanuts, and he plans to dry lot a beef steer this year.

Guar Proves To Be Soil Builder For County Land

Guar, a new summer legume, introduced by the Upper Leon and Brown-Mills Soil Conservation Districts last year, is proving to be the best soil builder tried in this area, since the advent of vetch, according to reports from district cooperators.

James Smith, of the Lakeview Conservation Group, was one of the farmers who tried guar, last year. He planted it after he had harvested vetch and rye. He combined 500 pounds of seed per acre, and then drilled the land to vetch and rye, again.

From one end of the field to the other the old guar rows can be picked out, as the grain is much taller where it crosses the row, than in the middle.

Buck Maples stripped his peanuts with guar on a 2 and 8 basis, and then drilled the whole area to vetch and rye last fall. At the present time, the strips are easily identified by the dark green, vigorous strips of rye, following the contour rows of guar, while the rye following the peanuts is much paler in color, and has much less foliage on it.

L. K. Gregory, District Conservationist at Kenedy, Texas, reports that corn, flax, and other crops have almost doubled their yields, following one year of guar.

Fred Brizendine reports that guar made excellent growth, reaching almost shoulder height.

George Goss planted two small plots of guar, which produced 700 pounds of seed per acre. This compares favorably with any grain sorghum grown here.

The seed from this crop can be ground and fed to livestock, as a high protein meal, or it can be used for the protein content averages about 2 percent higher than alfalfa.

The plant was introduced from India, where the people have ground it into flour for bread, coked the green pods much as we do string beans, and fed the forage to livestock for centuries. The seed do not shatter, and are easily combined.

The seed are available at as little as fifteen cents per pound, and in 3-foot rows, only ten lbs. per acre are needed, for planting. It can be planted at any time suitable for peanut planting.

Bernal Hickman plans to try drilling guar this year, on a recently purchased sandy hill which is too poor to grow anything else. He will close half of the spouts, in order to get a 14-inch spacing of the rows.

Many other district cooperators are expected to try this new legume.

FRUITFUL COLLISION—This fruit truck and passenger car sit side-by-side in New York after a collision which sent the six occupants of the car to a hospital. Fruit and produce were strewn all over the road, but the driver of the truck was uninjured.

Merchants Credit To Hold Regular Meet

Members of the Merchants Credit Association will hold their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce directors room.

Progress Is Slow Due To Rain In Most Farm Areas

Field work progressed slowly in between showers and rains over most of the eastern half of the State during the past week.

Buck Maples stripped his peanuts with guar on a 2 and 8 basis, and then drilled the whole area to vetch and rye last fall.

Corn continued to make good growth in central Texas and moisture supplies are now adequate to carry the crop to maturity in the southcentral counties.

Cotton was fruiting heavily in the Lower Valley where the first bale of the season was ginned on May 31.

Ranges and pastures were supplying adequate to abundant feed supplies in all areas excepting some western Trans-Pecos counties.

All classes of livestock were in good condition. Yearling and spring lambs continue to be marketed in heavy volume.

Many other district cooperators are expected to try this new legume.

'Frontier Women' To Be Theme Of 8th Fort Griffin Fandangle Show

The Fort Griffin Fandangle Parade is promised to be the best ever presented, according to J. H. Nail Jr., Bill Henry Green, John H. Sedwick and Gaines Stoves, Albany ranchers, who were named as the committee by the Fort Griffin Fandangle Assn., Inc.

Robert Nail, Director and producer of the show, has developed models and plans for floats depicting scenes of Frontier Fort Griffin, with Nancy Moore, Frank Booker and John Walter Wood of the Fandangle staff working out the details for the parade that will appear on Albany's Main Street at 5 p. m. on Friday, June 23, preceding the second evening of the Fandangle.

Large floats carrying the historic scenes will be only motor vehicles allowed, as the event is typed from Fort Griffin days of the latter 60's, when only horse, buggies and wagons were seen in that important pioneer settlement, being then the one important center between Fort Griffin and Santa Fe, N. M., on the West and between San Angelo and Dodge City, Kansas, on the North.

The Fandangle memorializes the History of old Fort Griffin, as a frontier settlement, an Army outpost and hodge podge of the frontier. Horace Greeley and the late Dr. Robert T. Hill surveyed the West Union Telegraph line into Fort Griffin and New York and Pittsburgh firms were there in the name of E. Frankel and F. B. York & Co.

Frontier Women is the theme of the 1950 Fandangle, the eighth presentation of the Robert Nail show, which is a community affair, non-profit.

Local teachers enrolled in the class include Mrs. Joe Clements, Miss Pearl Donaway, Mrs. H. R. Garrett, Mrs. R. E. Grantham, Mrs. A. E. McCannles, Mrs. C. W. McAfee, Mrs. M. Turner and Mrs. H. M. Williams.

President O. L. Stamey reported that the summer session has a total enrollment of 430 students.

Plans To Hold Old Settler's Reunion Next Year Talked

Directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce studied plans of the highway committee for a hard-surfaced highway to be built between the Cisco Hydrocarbon Company's plant some ten miles northeast of the city at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Under arrangements worked out by the committee, Eastland and Stephens counties will cooperate in seeking a Texas Highway Department project to build a link between State Highway 283, that runs between Cisco and Moran.

The link would run passed the hydrocarbon plant, giving it hard-surfaced road outlets to Cisco, to Eastland and to Breckenridge. The plant manufacturers butane and other products that are moved by truck.

Manager B. A. Butler reported that the highway committee had conferred with civic leaders in Breckenridge and had been assured of their cooperation.

This week, the committee appeared before the Eastland County Commissioners' Court and obtained assurance of that body's help.

A committee from the two counties plan conferences soon with the highway department on the project.

Butler pointed out that lack of a hard-surfaced road long has been desired by the Cisco Hydrocarbon Company. Road conditions in the area has been particularly bad in rainy weather.

The directorate discussed the possibilities of holding an old settler's reunion next year at Lake Cisco and authorized the creation of a committee to work on the project.

The same committee will study plans for sponsoring other activities at the lake next year. It was reported that final approval for building of safety signals for the city street railroad crossing is expected soon.

FARMER OF THE WEEK...

Pleasant Hill Man Makes Good Record For Yield On Peanuts

T. L. (Smokey) Hale of Pleasant Hill is reported to have raised more peanuts than any other farmer in this area during the last few years.

Hale's average of almost 30 bushels of peanuts to the acre has been cited as one of the highest averages in the county.

Last year alone, he produced 2,600 bushels on 90 acres, plus 1,500 bales of peanut hay.

A number of factors enter into such success as a peanut farmer. With their two Farmall tractors, Hale and his 13-year-old son, Arzell, are able to get to their work in fields when work is needed.

After a farmer friend of the Hales had helped to give the above information, Smokey remarked, "Well, the truth of the matter is that I just had some good land to work."

In addition to the 71 acres of peanuts which the government will allow him to plant this year, Hale will plant the rest of his 190 acres in feed for his livestock.

After Smokey had mentioned his cows, hogs, and chickens, his son was eager to point out his rabbits and a saddle horse.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hale were born and reared in Eastland Co. She is the former Miss Virgie Irene McGaha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McGaha of Carbon.

The Hales attend the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church and their many friends in that community say that Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hale and family are wonderful neighbors.

As for the future, their plans are to keep on enjoying life on their Pleasant Hill farm.

FARM NEWS

By The Hired Hand

The most important farm news for this area seems to be the recent rains. However, we understand that the weatherman has promised us some sunshine for several days ahead.

While waiting for their land to dry up, we met the Harrelson Brothers, Herman and Oliver, along the road to Nimrod with several dogs trying to catch some foxes yesterday morning.

Herman Harrelson's many friends will be glad to know that he is "up and about" again and seemingly on the way to recovery from a heart ailment that had him on his back for several weeks.

The Harrelsons have about 50 head of cattle and 85 hogs on their Nimrod farm, in addition to a large acreage which they are planning to plant in peanuts.

W. B. Yates of Nimrod is mighty pleased about six shoats that he purchased Monday. He has a number of other hogs and several head of cattle on his farm.

Like other farmers of the Nimrod community, his annual crops consist mainly of peanuts and feed.

We also learned that the members of the Nimrod Baptist Church have purchased the old Long Branch school house for an addition to their building.

Pastor Moultrie Ervin and his people feel that this will provide plenty of room for Sunday School classes at this growing rural church.

At Seranton, we found that the Seranton Methodist Church is also doing some building. Pastor S. R. Grace is attending the annual Central Texas Methodist Conference in Fort Worth.

B. O. Spiegel of Seranton has 350 of what he calls "Production Red Chickens." He described these beautiful birds as being "highly-developed Rhode Island Reds that are supposed to lay as well as White Leghorns." After these chickens grow to "henhood" they will tell their own story.

Some good-looking white face Herefords roam the Spiegel farm. In addition to peanuts, Spiegel is looking forward to a good cotton crop this year.

P. M. Ray who lives just across the line in Callahan County, was recently awarded a plaque by the Baird Lions Club, naming his the "Outstanding Farmer of the Lower Clear Fork of the Brazos."

There are 75 hogs on the Ray farm and also a large number of cows and chickens.

As soon as his land dries up, P. M. Ray will join the other farmers of the Seranton area in planting peanuts.

Mrs. D. J. (Dal) Jobe reported that around their farm it has literally been "to wet to plow." So, they are still waiting to put in most of their 1950 crop.

At the H. H. Cozart farm, we met Cozart's nephew, Bob Harsper, who told us that there are over 1200 bearing fruit trees in his uncle's orchard.

Grass Is Mother Nature's Builder For Good Soils

Legumes have their place, but grass is mother nature's soil builder. This fact was recently proven by a soil analysis taken on a five-acre patch of Little bluestem seeded by Fred Roberts in 1945.

At the time of seeding a soil analysis showed .58 percent organic matter. At present this has increased to .82 percent.

Data Given For Best Results When You Dig And Store Your Potatoes

Home gardeners will soon be digging and storing their spring Irish potato crop. The length of time they can be stored will depend upon where you store them and the condition they are in when they are dug says J. M. Coper, Eastland County Agricultural Agent.

Let the potatoes mature before digging he says. They can be dug before the tops die, but they should be mature if they are expected to be kept in storage for any length of time.

If excessive rainfall has occurred just prior to harvest the potatoes are likely to be covered with small blisters (small, white elevated spots on the skin) Harvesting should be delayed until these blisters have dried. If the potatoes are harvested when they are "blister" heavy losses from rotting may be expected.

The skinned or damaged potatoes should be separated from the others. Potatoes should be handled almost as carefully as eggs.

A cool, well ventilated cellar makes a satisfactory storage place for the crop. It is best not to spread them on the floor or ground. They will keep better if placed on a slatted or wire floor with about four or five inches of air space beneath them.

Potatoes should be kept in the dark for light causes the potatoes to turn green in color, making them undesirable.

Very few potatoes were produced in 1949 due to blight, Cooper said. Present prospects are much better for good yields than were obtained last year. Should blight strike the patch, they should be dug immediately and used as soon as possible.
