

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

WAS OUT to the football field Friday afternoon to watch while the high school and college football teams went through their paces. Coach Jack Everett, who had been laid up with a bad boil on his right leg, was out. Mr. M. D. Conger, the new high school principal, was suited out and assisting with the coaching chores. Understand he's an ex-football coach. One fellow told us Mr. Conger is a reformed coach. Anyhow, he has been a big help while Jack was out.

THE COLLEGE certainly has a good looking squad of huskies. There was a big crowd. We tried to help B. A. Butler and Edward (Red) Lee count them. But a few of them would move before you could count around. Coach Scat Russell was sending the Wranglers through some light scrimmage Friday — the first day.

RAN INTO Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, the new band leader. He tells us that the band will have between 45 and 50 members. They have been rehearsing for the past two or three weeks, and lately they've been spending an hour or so at the football field, working on drills.

AND THEN WE ran into Mr. Clyde Karkalits, the school board secretary, and he's going to be our next door neighbor out on Avenue N. The Karkalitses have bought the O. W. Hampton home at 1302 Avenue N and they'll move in before long. They've sold the home in Eastland. The Hamptons, we understand, are looking for a smaller house. Glad to have the Karkalitses move to Cisco.

DID YOU HEAR the fire siren late Friday and wonder where the fire was? There wasn't any fire at all. It was just a part of a new plan of operation over at the Cisco Volunteer Fire Dept. The siren is sounded one long blast to inform volunteer firemen that it is a fire practice night. This should not be confused with the official warning and alerting siren sounding, which is raised to its peak and then allowed to slow down. This is repeated several times during the act of sounding an alarm for a fire. Remember: one blast means it's practice night for firemen.

SEE MR. JACK Anderson with a new walking stick and ask what is up. He reports pulling a muscle or something in his leg. And it's going to disrupt a lot of hunting plans. Jack went out Friday for a bit of dove hunting, but it wasn't worthwhile with the game leg. Hope all is well, for there are deer hunting season and quail season coming up.

MEMBERS OF the VFW met Friday night and tuned in President Truman's radio speech. Their boss, Commander Robert Donovan, has a new Collie dog which he says is nearly smart enough to read. She's in junior high school now, he reports.

THANKS TO the P-TA, they are going to have a gadget out at the West Ward School this fall that all small boys will dearly love. It's strictly big league. It's an automatic hand washer. You just walk up, put your hands in, and that's all. They're washed and dried. It will be stationed near the lunch room.

MAYBE IT LIKES THE FOOD—This bluejay strayed into a district police station in Chicago, Ill., and made friends with Sgt. Harry Yondor. The bird picks up a pencil when the phone rings and is completely unafraid of human beings. Yondor believes it is someone's lost pet.

MRS. D. BALL AND DAUGHTER REPORT ON EUROPEAN VACATION

Mrs. D. Ball and daughter, Mary Ball, have returned from a visit in the home of their son and brother, Norman Ball, in Europe where he is stationed with the U. S. Occupation Forces. They left Cisco at 1 a. m. July 14, and arrived at Frankfurt, Germany, 30 hours later.

They wrote the following notes on their trip.

"We were met at Rhine Main by Norman and Genete Ball. We found the family well and enjoying life. We were gone from home approximately seven weeks and while there we visited points of interest in Germany around Frankfurt. Our first trip was to see various deer and wild boar hunting grounds within a hundred mile radius of Frankfurt. Norman has hunted several times and succeeded to bag several wild boar and three small bucks.

"Every Tuesday night, we went to bingo games at which over six hundred Americans attended and played for various and sundry prizes. Mary Martha won fifty dollars in American script as consolation prize for the jack-pot, which was two hundred and fifty dollars in script. Mrs. Norman Ball won a twelve gauge double barrel shotgun at one of the games.

"Every Saturday night is the biggest social event which consists of a floor show. This is made up of various acrobatic stunts, ballet dancing, and singing by Barber shop choirs.

200 Farmers Go To Field Day At Kokomo Thursday

Over 200 Eastland County farmers attended the annual soil conservation tour and field day for Zone 5 of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District at Kokomo last Thursday, August 31, according to L. R. Higginbottom, district supervisor of the area.

Higginbottom was chairman of the annual meeting and tour for the day. R. F. Reeves, Soil Conservation Service, Rising Star, was leader of the morning tour, where soil conservation and saving measures were inspected on the farms of Albert Hendricks, J. C. Caraway, J. C. Donaldson, and Cecil Self.

"This same day we also visited a German radar station which was severely bombed during the war and is now under reconstruction.

"We went to Heidelberg to see the famous old castle in that area and the University of Heidelberg. The buildings are scattered in various portions of the town.

"We went to Weisbaden to see Capt. Hal Moore who is a nephew of Mrs. John Kleiner. He is the only Cisco person we saw on our trip.

"We next went to France where we visited Paris and Reims. Reims is Mrs. Norman Ball's home town. It has more points of interest than any other large town in France. Between Lunch was served to the group at noon through the courtesy of the Gorman Business Men's Club and the Chambers of Commerce of Eastland, Ranger and Cisco. Kilgore's Creamery, Eastland, and the Coca-Cola Co. also cooperated in the lunch.

The afternoon tour under the direction of John Simpson, De Leon, SCS, checked soil saving devices on the farms of J. J. Brown, J. W. Brown, Odie Rodgers and Ed Harrison.

Soil conservation practices inspected by the group included semi-channel type terraces, contour and strip crops, a new summer legume soil building crop named guar, results of vetch seed inoculation, crutalaria and vetch strips, little bluestem pastures and a large 23,000 brush cutter following a bulldozer which was knocking and pushing down the brush.

During the first weeks of the Korean war Americans were stunned by the tragic inadequacy of our forces and equipment. Many felt a personal responsibility for the needless loss of life. It was a healthy and well-founded reaction which will lead to correction of mistakes and weeding out of inept officials.

Intelligence reports received in Washington indicate that the evident military ability of this country to cope with the communists in Korea has impressed the countries of Southern Asia. Applications for communist party membership are dwindling and pictures of the communist leader Mao Tse-tung are disappearing from shop windows.

'Treasure Island' Due Here

encouraging is the opinion of authorities on the mystery of why Russia has not moved into other areas while the United States has its hands full in Korea. They point out that we have in readiness, prepared to strike with hair-trigger swiftness, a fleet of more than 2,000 Air Force bombers able to carry atom bombs within a matter of hours to every major city in Russia.

Another element of strength that is not fully appreciated is the growing efficiency and productive capacity of American agriculture. Food is a might weapon and our farms are producing it in record quantities.

"Significantly, the great upsurge in farm production during and since World War II came about with only a minor increase in acreage harvested. Furthermore, the gains were made in a period when farmers had fewer workers than prewar."

Reims and Paris are several enormous war cemeteries both of world war I and II. All of which are uniformly laid out and perfectly kept. These were the most beautifully kept cemeteries we have been privileged to see.

"We last visited Kromberg Castle which was made famous by one of our soldiers' stealing the famous Kromberg Jewels. This castle is now leased for our service men and American civilians as a dinner club. It is an enormous building built of rock with huge arched windows, tilt floors, and marble stairways.

Miss Yvonne Hazlewood Becomes Bride Of M. E. Knippa in Rites Wednesday

A candlelight ceremony at the Grace Lutheran Church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening, Aug. 30, united in marriage Miss Beatrice Yvonne Hazlewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hazlewood, and Mr. Martin Erich Knippa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Knippa, of Loebau, Texas.

The wedding vows were solemnized as the couple stood before the altar with a background of white candles in seven-branched andelabra, baskets of white gladioli, and sprays of huckleberry in white. Aisle pews for the families and house party were marked with clusters of white gladioli and bows of white satin ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father at the double ring ceremony read by Rev. Harold G. Lohrmann.

The bride's gown was of white lippert satin. The round neckline was accented by a narrow band of satin and the yoke of sheer illusion was bordered by a ruffle of white Chantilly lace. The skirt front was a tiered panel of Chantilly lace which also bordered the cathedral length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tulle of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a round bouquet of white gladioli florets which was centered with an orchid.

Miss Alyne Brice of Houston was the bridesmaid of honor and her sister, Mrs. James Stephens of El Paso, was her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were her cousin, Miss Betty Jean Dungan of Baird, and the groom's sister, Miss Lillian Knippa of Loebau.

The maid and matron of honor wore identical dresses styled of aqua satin and taffeta. The bridesmaids wore similarly styled dresses of orchid satin and taffeta. The attendants' head-dresses were fashioned of matching frills of silk net. All carried colonial type bouquets of orchid asters outlined with aqua net and bore streamers of orchid satin ribbon.

Mrs. Hazlewood, mother of the bride, wore an ash-of-rose chiffon dress, black velvet hat and shoes, white gloves and Vanda orchid corsage. Mrs. Knippa, mother of the groom, wore a navy print crepe dress with matching hat and gloves. Her corsage was of Vanda orchids. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. N. Hazlewood, of Big Spring, wore a black crepe dress, black hat and gloves and a corsage of rose pink carnations.

Mr. Arthur T. Knippa of Honda served his brother as best man. Ushers were James M. Hazlewood of Fort Worth, and E. L. Hazlewood, Jr., brothers of the bride, and Jack Chambliss of Cisco.

Pre-nuptial music was furnished by Miss Jane Huestis, who played Schubert's "Serenade," Debussy's "Claire de Lune," Chopin's "Waltz" and was playing the Chopin "Nocturne in E Flat" as James M. and E. L. Hazlewood Jr. entered and lighted the candles. Miss Huestis accompanied Miss Bilye Beall of San Angelo as she played "To a Wild Rose," a violin solo by Harelol, and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." As the bride entered on the arm of her father, Miss Huestis played "Here Comes the Bride" by Wagner and as the recessional, "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining room of the Victor Hotel. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hazlewood, father and mother of the bride, who presented them to the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Knippa. In the line following were the bride and groom, the bridesmaids, and the groom's brothers, Messrs. Arthur and Ludwig Knippa, and sister, Miss Hildegard Knippa, of Houston.

The bride's table and the large dining table were laid with hand made outwork linen cloths. The bride's table held the decorated three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. The long table held at each end a huge punch bowl filled with delicious frosted punch, and a centerpiece of white pom-pom mums surrounding a bride and groom. On each side were crystal candelabra, holding white candles. After the first slice of cake was cut by the bridal couple, cake and punch were served by the house party to the guests.

Miss Bilye Beall of San Angelo registered guests in the bride's book.

When Mr. and Mrs. Knippa left for their wedding trip to Galveston and other points, the bride was wearing a gold-colored gabardine suit with orchid corsage which had centered her bride's bouquet, white hat, white and tan spectator pumps, and white bag. They will be at home after Sept. 15 in St. Louis, where Mr. Knippa will continue his ministerial studies at Concordia University.

Mrs. Knippa holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Texas, having previously graduated from Cisco High School and Cisco Junior College. She taught English in Kerrville Junior High School for the past year and a half.

Mr. Knippa took his Bachelor of Arts degree from Concordia U. He graduated from Loebau High School and Concordia College, at Austin.

He was assistant pastor in New York City for one year and has taught for three years in the Lutheran Church schools at Loebau and Kerrville.

It Was an Error in Judgment

. . . when the rejected candidate was led to believe that he had his race in the bag because every voter he met told him so. And about as disillusioned is the person who is convinced that an abstract is a lot of extra expense. There's another error in judgment. He stands to lose more, perhaps, than the candidate who lost the election. A winner always insists on an abstract when he buys real estate, and you can't beat that for good judgment.
