

STATE AND COUNTY SUE TAX ATTORNEY

Civil Action Is Filed To Recover Over $100,000

The State of Texas and the County of Eastland sought to recover $101,229.34 from Horace Walker, delinquent tax attorney, in a civil suit filed today in 91st District Court at Eastland. The suit was styled State of Texas and County of Eastland versus Horace Walker et al.

The petition alleged that Walker collected in excess of $100,000 of tax funds that have not been turned over to the state and county. The petition, together with various exhibits, numbered about 100 pages.

The civil suit grew out of an investigation that the state comptroller's Department and the Attorney General's Department has been conducting in the county for the past two months. The state's chief auditor was busy in the courthouse today, auditing records of last year's tax sales, and tax settlements.

W. V. Geppert, chief of the tax division of the Attorney General's Department, was assisted by Assistant Attorney General L. P. Lollar and County Attorney Elzo Been in preparing of the suit. It was not learned whether Walker had been served with notification of the action.

According to the petition, the suit grew out of the handling of delinquent tax cases that were settled prior to the tax sales. Observers did not know how the suit would affect deeds of property sold at the tax auctions.

The petition alleged that "the defendant is justly indebted to the state and county and is about to dispose of his property with intent to defraud his creditors." A bonding company was also named as a defendant. Walker has been the tax attorney for the county since Jan. 1, 1949, according to the petition.

The petition indicated that Walker lives in Dallas County. Courthouse officials said they have not seen him in several weeks.

Drive For Warm Springs Support Making Progress

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation's campaign for funds is gaining in momentum this week as more Texans board the bandwagon to make the non-profit treatment center second to none. Spearheaded by Governor Allan Shivers, volunteer workers in virtually every county are giving their time and effort to make known the needs at the hospital for Texas boys and girls. Mrs. J. Howard Hedge of Midland is co-chairman of the Foundation Committee with the state governor.

Some of the strongest boosters of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation are the women and mothers of Texas. Almost 75,000 Texas clubwomen and members of Parent-Teachers groups voiced support of the Foundation, and many have visited its campus to inspect operations. Realizing that polio strikes impartially with disregard to race and creed, they are intent upon providing and maintaining the best possible facilities and equipment for Texans' care.

Founded in 1937, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children has become one of the most outstanding in the United States. For the past two years, its specialized field in the United States has been operating at a capacity of 115 beds. There is a critical need for more beds, more scientific equipment and expanded facilities. Goal of the rapidly growing institution is a million-dollar expansion program which will provide more buildings, equipment, and personnel for more patients.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Warren over the weekend were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Joe Pee of Abilene and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny McGee and two children of Fort Worth.

Christmas Street Lighting Program Approved By C of C

Directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce approved plans for the Christmas street lighting program at their regular semi-monthly business meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The program calls for added decorations and will cost a total of $650. Of this amount, the Chamber approved an appropriation of $250. This will leave some $400 to be raised for the project.

The same medallions that featured last year's decorations will be used again. The streets will be criss-crossed with streamers of colored lights, and these will be put from 3rd to 14th Streets on Ave. D and from Ave. A to the First Christian Church on 8th St.

Manager B. A. Butler explained plans at a meeting of the Merchants Credit Association at noon Tuesday.

In addition to the street decoration project, the directorate voted to undertake a program of encouraging young men and club boys to take part in the broiler raising and egg production project. Details were left to the agriculture committee.

Other routine matters were discussed.

Final Rites For Mr. Phillips Are Scheduled Today

Funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. today for Oliver Holloway Phillips, 59, at the Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Leaman Johnson, Missionary Church pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Cecil H. Stowe, Nazarene pastor.

Burial was to follow in the local cemetery with Thomas Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Phillips died early Sunday morning — two hours after he was stricken while attending church services Saturday night. Rev. Johnson said that Mr. Phillips had just finished offering a prayer and was still standing when he suffered a heart attack.

A native of Cisco, Mr. Phillips was born here on January 3, 1891. Except for 12 years at Kilgore, he had been a resident of this area all of his life. He was married to Miss Vera Ann Parmer in Cisco on May 29, 1913.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Woodrow Phillips of Port Arthur, and Leo Phillips of Barcelona, Venezuela; two daughters, Miss Zelle Phillips of Cisco and Mrs. Virgil C. Stillwell of Frankfurt, Germany, and one brother, John Phillips of Sweetwater.

Midgets Down Moran Tuesday

In a day game played at Chesley Field Tuesday the Cisco Junior High Midgets downed the Moran grade school team 19-0. The game was played at 2:30 p. m.

Starring in the Midget backfield was Marcos Gallegos who is playing his first year of football. Gallegos accounted for two of the local touchdowns and set the third one up by a 30-yard jaunt to the one foot line. James Brogdon took it over from there on a quarterback sneak.

Outstanding on defense were James Thorman, Bill Smith, Jerry Weiser, Fred Anderson, Tommy Collier and David Gray in the line. In the secondary Gallegos and Callerman covered their positions well.

The Midgets play Ranger in Ranger next Tuesday night and the following week go to Albany.

AN UNEVEN EXCHANGE—Some of the French hostages, who have been held by the rebel Viet Minh forces under Communist leader Ho Chi-minh since 1946, arrive in Hanoi, French Indo-China, after being freed. Fifty-two of the 1500 hostages held were liberated in exchange for 59 rebels set free by the French.

Farm Week Will Be Observed In Texas Oct. 10-17

Governor Allan Shivers has proclaimed October 10-17 as Farm Bureau Week in Texas, and will officially launch Farm Bureau Week on the federation's state-wide broadcast to be heard on Tuesday morning October 10, over the Lone Star Chain Network. J. Walter Hammond, of Tye, Texas, TFBF president, will appear on the program with the Governor. Layne Beaty, WBAP farm editor, will be master of ceremonies and the program will originate from the studios of WBAP in Fort Worth.

Some 8,000 workers in 200 Texas counties will be assembled at breakfast meetings to hear the broadcast before going into their respective counties to ask friends and neighbors to become members of the organization with them. Counties have accepted quotas which will net the state more than 60,000 members in their annual membership enrollment program which will be conducted during Farm Bureau Week. Present state membership is 47,000.

Appearing on the statewide broadcast with President Hammond and the Governor will be Mrs. George Clark of Rosenthal, treasurer of the McLennan County Farm Bureau, and E. H. Hornback of Decatur, president of Wise County Farm Bureau.

ROME - "The Eternal City"

BY MINNIE L. HILL
Part II

The Pantheon, originally a temple of various gods, is still in excellent condition. It is a great circular building with a domed roof of stone some 140 feet wide and the same height, a marvel of construction.

Its dome is the biggest unsupported dome in Italy and Michelangelo is said to have gotten the idea for the dome of St. Peter's church from it, though St. Peter's dome is two feet narrower. The dome was lined with pure gold, but all of it was taken out to gild the high altar at St. Peter's.

The interior of the Pantheon is lighted by a single aperture in the center of the dome. Its doors are 1800 years old. Agrippa built the first Pantheon in 27 A. D., but it was destroyed and Hadrian built the present one in the second century.

The Pantheon has ever been a place of refuge to which Romans could flee in time of trouble or pursuit. It was first a temple to the gods of Rome; then in the sixth century it became a church; in the 16th century it was used as a cemetery for painters and sculptors (Raphael is buried there); and now it is a mausoleum for the kings of Italy.

The four major churches of Rome, each with a long and colorful history, are St. Peter's, the largest church in the world, St. John in Lateran, Mary Major, and St. Paul's Outside the Wall. All are rich in marble columns, statues, tombs, paintings, mosaics, etc., and each is the shrine of some saint. We saw the Pope in St. Peter's on July 8, when he came to welcome the pilgrims from all over the world — some 47,000 people gathered in the church at one time.

We visited the Mamertine prison in the heart of Rome and stood where Paul and Peter stood in chains and preached the Good to their jailors, and to other prisoners. We saw the aqueducts that brought water to Rome during the reign of Claudius; St. Angel's Castle, the tomb of Hadrian and the former residence of the Popes; the Monument of King Victor Emmanuel II which contains the tomb of Italy's Unknown Soldier; Venezia Square, where the chariot races were once held and where Mussolini called the populace to hear his balcony speeches; the field where the rape of the Sabines took place; the old Roman Baths of Caracalla, the ruins of which now house the Roman summer opera, and where we saw the opera Madame Butterfly; and finally the Roman Forum.

The Roman Forum is possibly the most important monument in the world. In this little valley, from humble origin, Rome grew to be the most powerful kingdom on earth, and the Forum was the scene of the greatest events of history. Here also, the slow decline, the gradual downfall, and final ruin of a great and influential people took place.

In an almost complete state of ruin, the Roman Forum still has enough of its columns, statues, and buildings to show its ancient architectural splendor and perfection — splendor never surpassed by any other civilization. Here one sees the remnants of the great churches, colosseums, circuses, public markets, the Temples of Vespasian, Saturn, Vesta, Castor and Pollux, Septimius Severus, and the Temple of Caesar built on the spot where Caesar's body was cremated and Antony delivered his funeral oration.

The Senate House still stands, in part, and one wandering along the streets of the Forum can picture the historical events that took place along the streets and in the Senate House — events that shaped the destinies of peoples of the world. In the monuments built to commemorate the deeds of valiant Romans — towers, forums, and triumphal arches — can be traced the history of Rome — its kings, the Republic, the Empire of the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, and on down to the present time.

WE NOMINATE Mr. Bert McEireath, 909 West 12th Street, as Cisco's No. 1 sweet potato grower. Mrs. McEireath dropped by The Press office today to show us one of his better products. It was a sweet potato that weighed six pounds and two ounces and measured 17 inches around.

If anybody grows them bigger than that, we'd like to have a look.

OUR FARM EDITOR was nosing around up at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown the other day. He discovered a rarity for this part of the country — a banana tree. And the little bananas are putting out. If you'll look else where in today's Press you'll see a report on the Browns.

WE'RE ADVISED that members of the Cisco Country Club will have a family night buffet supper at 7 p. m. Thursday. There's to be a god time awaiting one and all members. So bring your baskets of food.

MR. KENNETH St. Clair, the band director, can take heart. We ran into a little girl, 7, the other day. She was practicing with a twirling gadget. And we asked if she planned to join the Lobo band. Yes, she said. What is more, she's planning to play a piano in the band. That should be very interesting.

WE WERE WATCHING the parents of one of the Lobo football players at a game the other night. And we got to wondering if it wouldn't be a splendid idea if the Lobos picked out some home game each season and dedicated it to their parents. A special section of seats could be reserved for them. The announcer could introduce them at half time, and the band could play a pretty tune for them. What do you think of such an idea?

BUSINESS IS on the move over at Mr. Jess Proctor's ice company. The Russell Glean Distributing Company, of which he is manager, bought and dressed 250 broilers one day this week. And the eggs are coming in, in growing numbers.

UNDERSTAND the FFA boys are going to the State Fair of Texas this Saturday. Mrs. C. L. Webb calls to say there's some stray goats at her place on the New Abilene highway. And she wishes the owner would come after same.

MRS. A. R. WESTFALL and some others of the good Methodist ladies came by to say that one and all are invited to a big rummage sale they're having this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the building next door to the Chamber of Commerce. If you have some rummage at your house, they'd like to have it to sell. Let's all help them.

THEY'VE STARTED construction work on an enlarging program up at the First National Bank. The old Nick Miller building will become a part of the bigger bank. This is a sign of progress for our town.

Nazarene Revival Meeting Put Off

A revival meeting scheduled to begin tonight at the Church of the Nazarene has been postponed until October 19 due to illness in the family of Rev. Herschel Murphy, evangelist, according to an announcement by Rev. Cecil Stowe, local pastor.

Rev. Murphy, who lives at Boise, Idaho, will be here on October 19 for the revival, Mr. Stowe said.

O. C. Lomax who has been employed at Amarillo received a foot injury and returned home this weekend. He is having the injured foot treated by his local doctor.

CISCOANS WILL SAVE ABOUT 7 PER CENT ON FIRE INSURANCE

Cisco property owners will save between $2,500 and $3,000 on their fire insurance bills for the coming year under rate changes announced this week by the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas, according to Adrian Allen, local insurance agent and real estate man.

Allen estimated that Ciscoans pay about $40,000 annually in fire insurance premiums, and he believed the new rates would effect a savings of about seven per cent. The new rate schedule went into effect on October 1.

Texas as a whole will save about two million dollars annually.

Allen said that mercantile buildings and their contents will receive the greatest premium reductions. The charge which has been made for flues and tenant occupancy has been removed. Excepting brick protected and frame unprotected dwellings, owners of city and suburban residential property, apartment houses, commercial garages and contents, hospitals, lumber yards, and farm property will pay less for fire insurance.

Rates on mobile farm equipment when written on a stated amount of insurance were also reduced, Allen said.

Increased rates were made effective on a few classes of buildings, including fireproof buildings, grain elevators, brick churches and brick schools within an area afforded fire protection.

PUT YOUR HOUSE IN ORDER

Between October 8 and 14, Fire Prevention Week will be observed. So it's time to consider just what that week can mean to you.

You can, of course, take a cursory glance at fire prevention posters and news items and promptly forget them. You can doze when a brief fire prevention film is shown at the movies. You can turn the radio to another station when a fire prevention speaker comes on. Do that, and you'll run a good chance of having a destructive fire—with the ever-present possibility of death and injury—some time in the future.

On the other hand you can take the week seriously—and give your full attention to the suggestions and advice offered you. Then you can apply the expert knowledge thus gained to your home and other property. As a rule, fire prevention is both easy and inexpensive. It consists largely of such common-sense practices as periodically inspecting heating and lighting equipment, ridding buildings of accumulations of junk, providing proper storage for paint, cleaners and other flammables, and giving due care to matches and smoking materials. The basic purpose of the week is to refresh your mind on such matters, and to encourage you to get the job done as soon as possible.

Do this, and the chance of your having a fire will diminish. Fire Prevention Week was designed to help put your house in order. How about it?

Farmer of the Week ...

Busy Sanatorium Founder Is Also Busy Farmer, Stockman

Dr. N. A. Brown, founder and manager of the nationally-known Brown's Sanatorium in Cisco, is also a farmer and rancher. Reared on a farm in the open range county, near Leesville, La., the doctor took a liking to ranch life and has carried it on with his other duties almost ever since.

On one of his farms, located one mile west of Dothan, Dr. Brown has nine head of registered Brown Swiss cattle, which are not common to this area. He describes these as dual purpose cattle. The cows are good milkers and are also profitable to sell for beef purposes. When full grown, the cows weigh an average of 1400 pounds and the bulls average from 1,800 to 2,300 pounds each. These cattle vary in color from a light brown to a dark brown.

In addition to the Swiss cattle, Brown has 320 acres stocked with 72 head of mixed range cattle, plus some hogs. He also keeps over 200 white Leghorns on hand at all times to lay the eggs which are used in the dining room of the sanatorium.

Dr. Brown first came to Texas in 1909 and moved to Cisco in 1921 and established the Brown Sanatorium. With the growth of his practice, it became necessary to build the present structure which now houses the sanatorium. The doctor and his staff moved into this building in 1927. During the years, he has received patients from all over the United States. At present, patients are in the sanatorium from as far away as Florida. Dr. Brown and four other Doctors are now kept busy the year around.

The Doctor's wife is Mrs. Mary Emma Brown. They are grateful for their farms, the sanatorium, and their home at 706 W. 6th. The front yard of the home is one of the most beautiful in Cisco. It is dotted with shrubbery and flowers which makes a wonderful surrounding for their stately rock home. The back yard is planted in strawberries, grape vines, banana trees, and flowers.

Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown have two children. The son, Dr. Hugh Chief Brown, is an associate with his father in the sanatorium, and his daughter, Mrs. Ova M. Withee is the wife of Dr. Alan A. Withee, another doctor there.

The doctor and his wife attend the First Presbyterian Church. She is a former secretary of the local chapter of the Eastern Star

The long picture at the top is a view of the Brown Sanatorium in Cisco. Some 85 patients from many states go through the sanatorium every day of the year. Pictured also is Dr. N. A. Brown, founder of the Sanatorium and long a prominent citizen of Cisco.

It used to be that pastures were something for farmers, ranchmen and technical experts to think about.

But the forage crop has put on a white collar now and got itself into society.

First of all, not long ago a group of women, mostly wives of livestock men but not altogether, asked a pasture and grass man to work up a pasture tour for them. That was in Bosque County.

As far as we know, it was the first pasture tour ever held strictly for women.

And they loved it.

It does make sense, all right. Actually, more than half the knowledge that channels into the farm and ranch home comes via the lady of the house, who does more reading, more radio listening etc. than her husband. A great deal of it comes in by the youngsters, too, what with their schooling, their 4-H Club work, and their Future Farmer and Future Homemaker club activities. And look at the women who inherit farms and have to run them.

Now, last week, fabulous millionaire Glenn McCarthy fell, hook, line and sinker, for the idea of having a Pangola grass cutting distribution on the front lawn of his fabulous Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

It was the brain child of some of the main springs of the 2,000-member Houston Farm and Ranch Club.

In Houston, as everyone knows, things are done in a grandiose manner.

What could have brought more publicity to Pangola grass than to have the Shamrock as the backdrop for the distribution of enough sprigs of the grass to take care of 800 acres in some 85 Texas counties, all the way from the Rio Grande to the Red River, and even taking in one or two counties in the Panhandle.

It was the Houston Farm and Ranch Club which first got so many people in Texas interested in reseeded crimson clover as a legume crop a couple of years ago, after it conducted some tours of the crimson clover of Alabama.

Last spring the Club took two plane-loads of Texans to Florida to look at the Pangola grass. Result, orders from Texas farmers for it.

Order blanks went out to county agents and others in east Texas. Over 600 farmers ordered enough of the sprigs to take care of one acre each.

Given plenty of water, that is supposed to be enough to take care of as much pasture land as desired.

About half of this grass was trucked from the Norris Cattle Co. at Ocala, Florida, where Lewis Gilbreath, a transplanted Texan, is assistant manager. The other half came from the Huggins Brahman ranch near Hungerford, in Wharton County, Texas.

It runs like St. Augustine grass putting out roots at every joint. Gilbreath says they run a cow to the acre on it the year around in Florida.

Meanwhile, some folks have pointed out that the Pangola grass which came here from the Pangola River in Africa, is kin to crabgrass which may account for its ability to "take over." The knowledge that it is related to crabgrass may cool off some of the enthusiasm for it, but Texas can use some more good grasses to replace some of our inferior ones, so a little experimentation will be healthful.

Presbyterian Circle Meets At Church Tuesday Afternoon

Circle Two of the Women of First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday afternoon at the church for the regular meeting with Mrs. D. E. Waters presiding in absence of Mrs. Alex Spears; and Mrs. Rudolph Kamon secretary. A visitor, Mrs. James was welcomed.

The session was called to order for prayer by Mrs. W. W. Wallace. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Sixteen calls were reported as having been made to shut-ins. Mrs. F. E. Harrell moved that the Circle re-subscribe to the Saturday evening Post for the children at Tex-Mex' School for Mexican boys, which the members agreed to do. Mrs. C. H. Fee mentioned that a collection should be taken soon to send Bibles to Japan.

Mrs. Harrell gave the lesson from the Book of Nehemiah telling of the Prayers of Nehemiah. Mrs. W. W. Wallace brought an interesting article from the Presbyterian Survey; after which the meeting closed with prayer.

Those present were the visitor, Mrs. James, wife of the new pastor; and Mrs. C. H. Fee, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. D. E. Waters, Mrs. J. J. Tableman, Mrs. J. A. Jensen, Mrs. John Garrett, Mrs. Rudolph Kamon and Mrs. F. E. Harrell.

Mrs. Herschel Clough Hostess To Group In Home Tuesday P. M.

At a regular meeting of Group No. Four of the Woman's Fellowship of the First Christian Church which was held in the home of Mrs. Herschel Clough on Tuesday afternoon, October 3.

The regular chairman, Mrs. Leonard Burzenski, presided, with Mrs. James Denton giving the opening prayer, and following with the devotional entitled, "Friend of Sinners," taken from Luke, chapter 5, verses 29 through 32.

The lesson, "Christian Citizenship" was given by Mrs. V. C. Overall, based on scriptures from the Book of James, chapter I, verses 1 through 10.

Roll was then called, the minutes were read and approved, and a treasurer's report was given by Mrs. J. C. Fletcher.

Mrs. V. C. Overall announced that Group No. Four would be in charge of the October Fellowship Program.

The business meeting adjourned with all members standing and repeating the missionary benediction in unison.

During the social hour, refreshments were passed to Mesdames, V. C. Overall, Leonard Burzenski, J. C. Fletcher, James Denton, Bill Berry, and the hostess, Mrs. Herschel Clough.

FRIENDLY BUT RESTLESS—The pets held by Stewardess Lynn Stauffer, in Baltimore, Md., were flown all the way from Honolulu. They even made the trip without any display of the growls and meows customarily exchanged by cats and dogs. But this eager-to-get-home trio has been friendly since their puppy-kitten days.

PEANUT HARVEST BEGINS AS SCRANTON MAN BRINGS IN LOAD

The peanut harvest is now under way in big fashion. J. R. Rhyne of Scranton brought this year's first truck load of peanuts into Cisco Tuesday morning to sell them to the Cisco Peanut Co. "Thus far," says Rhyne, "The peanuts have not reached our expectations — and they won't compare with the good crop last year. Joe Halbert, a government inspector from Gorman, was on hand to grade the first load of peanuts. Pointing out that early peanuts are not usually as good as later crops, he said that these and other peanuts he has graded in this area looked fairly good to him. Rhyne's peanuts were marked as "Grade 69," due to the amount of "foreign matter" and moisture in the early harvest.

held in Dallas beginning next week. The greatest livestock show in the history of the fair has been assured by Ray W. Wilson, Fair livestock manager. A total of $72,659 in premiums will be given away at this show, he said. Modern-day development of beef cattle will be shown Oct. 7-12 and all dairy cattle shows are scheduled for October, 13-20.

The Agriculture Show will portray Mid-Century achievements of Texas agricultural researchers and farmers through exhibits or leading crops, soil types, soil conservation, irrigation, rural youth activities, grasses and forestry.

On Saturday of this week (the opening day of the Fair), officials expect the largest gathering of rural youth in the nation to be on the fair grounds. A 1950 goal of 100,000 Future Farmers, Future Homemakers and 4-H boys and girls has been set by James W. Aston, chairman of the rural youth committee. Some 50 outstanding farm young people will be guests of Dallas businessmen at the annual Honor Dinner at the Baker Hotel there, Friday, October 6.

Trends in the latest farm implements will be displayed in an area totaling over 75,000 square feet of space. The exhibits will include field harvesters, seed cleaners, hammermills, forage feeders, seed planters, sprayers, manure spreaders, combines, tractors, power tool attachments of all types, hay balers, plows, cultivators, and other machines.

Zan Burroughs of the Cisco Peanut Company told us he plans to soon start a distributing agency here for peanut butter, peanut oil, packaged salted peanuts, and candy. "Pito's" will be the trademark for these products.

At the home of Dr. N. A. Brown on West Sixth in Cisco, a banana tree has now sprouted out a head of bananas. It's really a sight to see in this area. If any of you farmers are interested in raising bananas, you might go by and take a look.

The Mid-Century Exposition of the 1950 State Fair of Texas to be Saturday, October 7, and continuing through Sunday, October 22, will offer many features of interest to Eastland County farmers and ranchmen, according to information received here this
