By J. W. S.

THE BOYS DOWN at Hamilton are planning to back their football team strong when they come up here on Friday night, Nov. 10, to meet our Lobos. Yesterday, Hamilton authorities called up here and asked that 300 adult tickets and 100 student tickets be sent them.

Hamilton plans to close up all business firms at 4 p. m. so everybody can come to Cisco. Their band will make the trip, too. Hamilton, you know, is undefeated in District B-A and won over Ranger last Friday night.

THE LOBO GAME last Friday night with Comanche drew 1,151 paid customers. This was less than some of the other games.

JUST RAN INTO Sergeant W. Burkman of Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. He came home last night on a 3-day pass to take Mrs. Burkman and their children back with him. He looked good in his new uniform and appears well satisfied with his setup.

DR. J. H. Denton, the Texas A. & M. grad, was given the business at the weekly Lions meeting this week. Some of his Baylor friends prepared him a special table. The table cover was black crepe paper and table decorations featured a large Teddy Bear. The Baylor Bears, you know, surprised us all by beating the Aggies last Saturday.

THERE'S a lot doing tonight. A good many Wrangler fans will go to Weatherford to see a conference football game. And there's a circus for those who like circuses. The country club members are having family night.

PRANKSTERS shot out 35 street lights in the south part of Cisco on Tuesday night. Last night, they shot out 15 more. That's a total of 50 lights.

Shooting or breaking street lights is nothing short of vandalism, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal believes. And we agree with him. He reports that there's a good chance that the city will find out who was behind all of the shooting. And the guilty parties will pay and pay and pay.

All of which will be good enough for them.

SEE BY THE papers where three boys who took BB pellets and shot out $5,500 worth of plate glass windows in Fort Worth recently have been committed to the Texas Youth Development Council. They were sent to Gatesville. And the Judge who sent them there, had this to say: "This in another example of parents who haven't done their job." Then he turned a blistering lecture on the parents.

"It is your fault that the boys are in the trouble they are in. This hearing showed that despite numerous reports made to you that the boys were in scholastic trouble you have done nothing and didn't exert enough control to assist them.

"Kids cannot raise themselves. I have two and I know what I'm talking about," the judge said. "These boys are delinquent and if I leave them with you parents I see little hope of their getting any better. I'm not going to risk turning them back to you, because within a year they will be 17 and subject to the jurisdiction of the criminal district court."

Moran News . . . Carnival Is Big Success As $714 Taken By PTA

The Moran Halloween Carnival last Saturday night was a big success. A large crowd came and enjoyed themselves and left a total of $714 in the hands of the P-TA.

This is better than $100 above the take last year, although the crowd seemed slightly smaller. Refreshment and entertainment booths were well patronized, and no damage by Halloween pranksters was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCollum had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Willis of Strawn, Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler of Oklahoma City.

Miss Carolyn Louder, student at Hardin-Simmons U., Abilene, spent last weekend with relatives in Moran.

Mrs. Morris Cottle and her mother, Mrs. J. A. Clements, returned recently from a visit in Dallas and Houston, where they spent two weeks. En route they visited with Miss Opal Clements in Dallas, before going to Houston to visit Mrs. Clements' daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. John Crandall, and her husband, who has built a splendid new home in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith visited in Snyder over the weekend with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, and baby.

Frank Prindle, 12, suffered a broken left leg while practicing football at the grade school, and was taken to the County Hospital in Albany Monday. Dr. Howie, his physician, said he was doing nicely.

These Moran business houses will close for Armistice Day, Nov. 11: Moran National Bank, Rockwell Bros., Foy B. Barnett Dry Goods, Jones Clothing, F. R. Raymond Gro., E. E. Collinsworth, LaFord Green, W. M. Freeman Gro. A plan is being discussed by the business men to close at 6:00 p. m. instead of 7 p. m., weekdays.

Mrs. Edd Collinsworth, Mrs. Olin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hull of Abilene were called to Georgetown last Sunday to attend the funeral of their nephew, Eugene Keese, who was killed in a truck accident at Sterling City last Friday.

Robert L. Raymond, U. S. Marine Corps Warrant Officer, visited his father and brothers, E. E. and F. R. Raymond Wednesday. They went to Abilene to visit Bill Raymond prior to Bob's leaving next Monday for the west coast to report to commanding general Fleet Marine Force Pacific.

R. D. Griffin of Centralia, Ill., spent three weeks visiting relatives and friends in Moran and West Texas and Arizona. He left for his home on Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Forrester left Sunday for Nebraska for the annual pheasant hunt. Mrs. Forrester always bags the limit.

It's Circus Day in Cisco

Trumpeting bands, tooting calliopes, cumbrous elephants and humping camels took possession of the Rodeo Grounds Thursday morning as the King Bros. Circus spread its magic city of tents.

The big show rolled into Cisco at dawn from Coleman where it exhibited yesterday. Small boys were there in vast numbers. They looked at the towering giraffe with awe and amazement and with big eyes at the midget cattle from the Lost Canyon.

Towering center poles nosed their way into the air. The huge arena tent, with seating capacity for thousands, was all ready before noon. Huge elephants shunted cages and dens, marked "danger, wild animals, do not touch," into the menagerie tent. Early throngs viewed with awe the long line of side show banners. Pictured by word and brush were the wonders on the inside. Small boys eyed the paintings with awe and wonder. A calliopo played "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," a sultry musician in an Arab garb played a flageolet.

This is the 31st year of the King Bros. Circus. The big show has grown and prospered from a beginning when it was transported on two small railroads until today it is one of the major circuses. Floyd King, one of the famous brothers, was in Cisco today. He stated that business this season is easily on a par with that of last year, which was one of the show's best. There are in the neighborhood of 600 employees with the circus. Performers number nearly 150 and have been recruited from half a dozen foreign countries. Among the great stars is the Cristiani family of amazing equestrians with Lucio the world's famous riding comedian; the Ortans troupe of teeter board acrobats, champions of Europe; Truzzi, the international juggler, direct from a tour of England; La Louisa, the petite and charming queen of the flying trapeze; Davisio, famous horseman; Billy Powell, amazing dancer on a lofty wire; and for the kiddies Prof. Albert's troupe of trained dogs. A congress of clowns will be headed by Frank Cain, Jimmy De Cobb, Cecil Eddington, Bogondi and George Cook promises to uncork the latest in the way of pranks and buffoonery. In addition to the afternoon exhibition, another performance will open at 7 p. m.

125 WOMEN TEACHERS ATTEND SORORITY MEETING IN CISCO

"Buy yourself that fur coat. Doll up and enjoy life. If you go where your pupils think you are going, you'll have no need for a fur coat anyway," advised Eula Lee Carter of Fort Worth, who is the state executive secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Miss Carter, a TCU Spanish teacher with a Will Rogers brand of humor, spoke thus to 125 women teachers at their luncheon on the Victor Hotel roof garden Oct. 23 when members of the national honor society for teachers gathered from 18 counties in Cisco for a regional meeting.

Robert L. Clinton, head of music for Cisco public schools and Cisco Junior College, gave vocal and piano solos during the luncheon. The college choir, directed by Mr. Clinton, sang as a curtain lifter for the morning session, which was held at the First Baptist Church.

After registration, coffee, welcome speeches, introductions and a roll call by chapters, the members tackled their theme of the year — Progress Through Understanding — with panel forums, discussions, and addresses on "Our Objectives," "Our Needs," and "Our Opportunities."

Prior to the luncheon three candidates for membership were initiated with the outgoing and incoming state executive secretaries, Eula Lee Carter and Phyllis Ellis, giving the oath of membership and all chapter presidents assisting with other initiatory rites.

Roy Phippen attended the convention last weekend of the 36th Division of World Wars I and II which met in Fort Worth. Red roses, official flower of the

Making Poppies Gives Jobs To Disabled Vets

Making memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, is providing employment for thousands of disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the country, according to Mrs. Zed Kilborn, poppy chairman of the Cisco Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The work not only enables the veterans to earn much-needed money, but also is valuable as occupational therapy, Mrs. Kilborn said.

Poppies which will be worn here are being made by patients at the Veterans Hospital at Legation, Texas, under the direction of the Texas Department of the Auxiliary. They will be distributed on the streets here on Armistice Day by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and cooperating organizations. Contributions received for the little red memorial flowers will go entirely to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the Legion and Auxiliary.

The flowers are made of crepe paper with wire stems and are accurate replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium, which grew in such profusion on the battlefields of both world wars.

The veterans work on the flowers in their hospital beds, wheel chairs, or in the hospital hobby shops. They develop great skill and speed in shaping the poppies and are able to earn substantial amounts without taxing their strength. For them the poppy fills empty hospital hours with interesting, profitable employment.

Navy To Select 1,600 For 1951 College Program

Annual competitive tests to select 1,600 applicants for the naval reserve officers' training corps college program will be held Dec. 9, Eighth Naval District headquarters has announced.

Application blanks are available at Navy recruiting offices and at NROTC units at Rice Institute, the University of Oklahoma, Tulane university and the University of New Mexico.

Male high school seniors and graduates between 17 and 21 may apply. Successful candidates will get a four year education with tuition, books, normal fees and $50 a month pay at one of the 52 major colleges and universities with NROTC units.

To qualify, applicants must meet physical and mental standards and pass an aptitude test. State boards will select outstanding candidates to meet quotas assigned each state and territory, the Navy said. They will enroll in the fall, 1951, term and will be deferred from draft until completion of their academic studies.

NROTC students participate in drills and summer cruises and must agree to serve two years on active duty after graduation and commissioning as ensigns in the navy reserve. At the end of the two-year period they may apply for retention as commissioned officers in the regular Navy.

Nimrod Man Elected Vice President For Agency; Board Named

A. Z. Myrick of Cisco, prominent in livestock agency activities and civic work for many years, had a new job today — president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau. He was elected to the post at a bureau meeting Tuesday night in Eastland.

Howard Ingram of Nimrod was elected vice president of the bureau. Other new officers include Joe Bob Browning of Gorman, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. J. F. Moseley of Olden, reporter.

The board of directors is composed of the following: W. B. Starr, Cisco; E. E. Blackwell, of Ranger, retiring president; Lloyd Freeman, Pioneer; Roy L. Palmer, Gorman; John Love, Ranger; George Bennett, Eastland; J. F. Moseley, Olden; Herman Schaefer, Nimrod; and Lee Starr, Cisco.

The meeting, held in the form of a county convention, elected the officers as recommended by a nominations committee composed of Mrs. B. B. Freeman, Ed Steele, Jr., and Roy L. Palmer.

W. B. Starr and John Love were elected as state convention delegates, with Howard Ingram and Roy L. Palmer as alternates. Geo. Bennett of Staff was designated as a non-voting delegate to the national convention to be held in Dallas. Their expenses will be paid, the meeting voted.

A resolution urging that peanut farmers, if they desire, may get their peanuts graded a second time without charge was voted to be sent to the state convention. Dissatisfaction on the part of some farmers with their first grading and the requirement of $1 per ton for a second grading resulted in passing the resolution.

Another resolution would require bonded and licensed weighers to weigh all livestock sold at small public auction barns held over the county.

The meeting voted to invite Congressman Omar Burleson to address a large agricultural rally, and arrangements will be worked out by a committee composed of Mrs. Roy L. Palmer, Mrs. B. B. Freeman, Ed Steele, and Mrs. John Love.

The board of directors scheduled a meeting for Nov. 14 in Eastland. The bureau now has more than 127 members.

FFA Boys Join In Rat Eradication Project in City

The Cisco Chapter of the Future Farmers of America today had joined a campaign to rid the area of rodents, and Supervisor Gail Jones announced that the FFA has available considerable poison for use in the work.

"Warfarin," a new, safe rat poison, is available at the Chamber of Commerce for 10c per one-half pound sack. The FFA is cooperating with the U. S. Rodent Control Service in the campaign and has asked all Cisco to join them in the rat eradication project.

"Rats are carriers of bubonic plague, typhus fever and other deadly diseases," Jones said. "Some 200 million bushels of grain — about four per cent of the total crop — is destroyed annually by rats."

Jones pointed out that it was possible for one pair of rats to produce 250 million in three years, in emphasizing the importance of a continuing extermination program.

The study of the 1,000 boys - 500 normal ones with good records at home and school, and 500 who had been in trouble with the police - was conducted by Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminology, and his wife, Dr. Eleanor Glueck, research associate of the Harvard Law School. Significant in the survey was the careful matching of "good" boys with "bad," pair by pair, on the basis of similarity of age, background and intelligence. The troublemaker from a low-rent, poor-neighborhood family was compared with a normal boy of the same age, economic group and social environment.

The Glueck's findings are reported in their book, "Unraveling the Threads of Juvenile Delinquency," recently published by the Commonwealth Fund, New York. In a preview of the book, in the November Reader's Digest, Fulton Oursler says: "The old dream of psychologists and churchmen - to spot potential lawbreakers before they have ever thrown stones at trains, set fire to houses, slugged, stolen or murdered - comes much nearer to reality of the Glueck's studies."

A striking difference between good and bad boys was found in their temperamental attitudes toward life. The investigators learned that from earliest childhood the delinquent finds it hard to "think and act in the ways of the community." To his nature, all submissiveness is odious and he refuses to respect any rule. He is the most self-reliant of boys, with no sense of anxiety or insecurity. Yet he is forever making blunders, for he acts on impulse, with little self-control. His yearning for adventure amounts to a compulsion.

The survey shatters the illusion that the delinquent is led into crime by bad companions. From childhood he shows a preference for other boys as unmanageable as himself. The typical delinquent lacks a trusting relationship with his father, and in his need for an "ideal image" he may turn to the toughest boy in the neighborhood.

One of every 100 American boys becomes a police problem, Oursler says. Each year, some 280,000 boys are brought into court. If their delinquency traits could be spotted in advance, the saving in lives, careers, heartaches and dollars would be incalculable.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

AND NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Mrs. Ora Straussel in Abilene with Aged Relative

Cisco lady, Mrs. Ora Straussel, who makes her home at 601 9th Street, visited a most interesting relative, her aunt, M. C. Keith, in Abilene the Sunday. The aged lady was ill, but is convalescing in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Harper, who whom she resides.

Mrs. Keith was born at Shreveport, La., in 1855, and came with her parents to Texas when five years of age. Her father was J. E. Arthur, a captain of the Texas Rangers. He was a slave owner until the close of the Civil War. He owned a large farm where the town of Desdemona is now situated. He also possessed a large drove of hogs and the town was known for many years as "Hog Town." He established the first drug store, and built his own two-story store building, and as lumber was very hard to obtain in West Texas, the people came from miles around to see Capt. Arthur's new drugstore.

Mrs. Keith says that a household article regarded as a drudge by women nowadays — a rubboard — was welcomed during her young days as a luxury. The woman of pioneer days did the family washing with the aid of a "battling block."

She was married in 1870 to Mr. "Bud" Keith. To this union were born four sons and two daughters. After their marriage they went to Dublin to make their home. Mrs. Keith lived there for more than 75 years. Her husband died rather young leaving her with the children to rear and look after. She taught the boys to farm and she wove cloth and carpets in her efforts to make her family a living. She did her own writing for her correspondence until a few years ago. Mrs. Keith has been a member of the First Baptist Church at Dublin since the organization of the church there.

Mrs. J. C. Fletcher Is Group Hostess Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. J. C. Fletcher was hostess Tuesday afternoon when Group Four of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the local First Christian Church met in her home for the regular meeting. Mrs. Winona Burzenski presided and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Bonnie Berry gave the devotional and the lesson was presented by Mrs. Charlotte Overall from the "History of the Christian Churches" discussing the "Disciples of Christ." After the program was concluded a short business session was conducted by Mrs. Burzenski. Minutes of the last meeting, read by Mrs. Berry, were approved and the treasurer's report was made by Mrs. J. C. Fletcher. Routine business was transacted and illness was reported in the homes of some members; after which the meeting was adjourned by all joining in the missionary benediction.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were passed during the social hour to the following: Mrs. Winona Burzenski, Mrs. Bonnie Berry, Mrs. Charlotte Overall, Mrs. Dureen McCracken, and Mrs. J. C. Fletcher.
