The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

OF LIVING was the subject of a piece in Sunday's This magazine, which is a part of the Dallas News. It was written by I. A. R. Wylie, and somebody clipped it out and sent it to us, suggesting that we ought to see it. The following:

These words sound simple — but they are not. They have been used so often with a shrug that at best a careless tolerance. But when the great Gertrude Schiller wrote them, she had the clarion ring of a fanatic affirmation. Weigh them carefully today and you will find them still heavy with significance. Give those four words their worth and they will tell you the whole duty of man to himself and to his fellow men.

Human beings are very strange. But we are not wise. We have invented and discovered many amazing things, some of which are destructive. But we have not found out how to live at the same time. We have not learned to live with ourselves or with others. We haven't even learned the economic conditions which one country starves and another lives in plenty. We are so clever and so folly that we wipe out the work of centuries and massacre our fellow man with a ferocity and inhumanity that would fill our present forebears with envy. In other words, we haven't learned the ABC of living. It is time we learned. For time is running out. We have found new means to destroy ourselves completely. And our unhappily fingers itch on the trigger.

Schiller's sense "living" is much more than survival. It is life lived to the utmost to the full height of man's ability for good. It follows as a matter of course that living for oneself involves the good for all our fellows. We cannot be free in deed or word among the unfree and unbalanced. We cannot safely be plenty in the midst of poverty. We must share our life. If we do not, sooner or later we shall have to fight and be destroyed for it. We must live.

It was WARM weather and fishing was good down at the port in South Texas last weekend. We have the word of Mrs. Olin Odum and her youngest son, Clark. They had 90 degree temperatures, and the fish were biting. They caught more than 20 pounds of so. Fry, maybe.

AREN'T YOU PROUD of the drive? It was over-subscribed by $260 and there's still more money expected to come in.

HERE'S A BIG and attractive set of pretty flowers on our porch. They were sent by Phil Florist in observance of the Florist Week. Under local florists sent flowers to many public places this week and to local churches last week. They're very beautiful.

Methodists Register From Revivals

The North and Central Texas Methodist churches under the leadership of Rev. Martin have had over 100 additions since a district revival campaign began last week. The Rev. Leslie Seymour, district superintendent, reported today.

Over 100 district churches had 500 additions during the first days, Rev. Seymour said. Cisco district pastors and evangelists meet at noon daily to plan and work on revival. The meeting will continue through Friday night.

Choir Practice

Director Robert Clinton of the Community Choir, announced today that rehearsals for the week had been called off due to conflicting programs. The next rehearsal has been scheduled for Friday night, November 8, at the First Baptist Church.

ON EXHIBIT—A bronze bust of the late James Forrestal, first Secretary of Defense, was put on display at the Lotos Club in New York as part of an art show arranged by professional artists among the club membership. Viewing the bust is William H. Haskell, retired professor of art, and his wife, who attended the exhibition.

Midgets To Play Rising Star On Thursday Night

The Cisco Junior High School Midgets will travel to Rising Star Thursday night where they will play the undefeated Rising Star Junior High School team the first of a two game series. The Midgets will come to Cisco on November 20 for the final game of the year for the local team. Due to a conflict in activities in Rising Star the game was set for Thursday night. It will be the only game that the time has been set at 7 p. m. rather than 7:30 p. m. as has been the custom. On Tuesday, November 6, the Midgets go to Comanche and on Tuesday November 13, they play the final conference game of the season against the Ranger Puppies in Ranger. The Ranger eleven is the only team boasting a win over the Midgets for the current season and the Midgets will be playing for blood when the two teams meet in Ranger. Coach Sledge will probably start Price and Bernie at ends, Page and Collier at tackles, Farrow, Tucker or Qualls at guards, Walton at center and Smith, Reynolds, Whitehead and Carlisle at backs. Joe Herring has advanced rapidly in the past week and may be used in a defensive end post. Sledge plans to use as many boys as possible during the final games to give them playing experience. He has been working the Midgets hard this week on deceptive plays and on line assignments in an attempt to win the remaining games on the schedule.

W. W. (Repeat) Rumley, local cleaner, suffered a broken left arm last week when his horse fell with him. He was dismissed after treatment. T. H. Hitchcock, local grocer, was in the hospital for treatment. Miss Rhelda Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reed, was continuing to show improvement after an emergency appendectomy Monday night. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ratcliffe at the hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Arnold Pruitt of Eastland was a patient. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Morrison of Cisco at the hospital Monday. Miss Barbara Ann Jobe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jobe of Gorman, was in the hospital today for a tonsillectomy.

ROLE OF LAYMEN EMPHASIZED IN METHODIST REVIVAL TOPIC

Since the days of John Wesley, Methodist laymen have played an important part in the life of their church. This week Methodist laymen have undertaken a key activity in their revival program.

Each evening at 6 p. m. a dozen or more laymen, members of the visitation committee, meet in the basement of the First Methodist Church with the visiting minister and their pastor. After dinner is served by the ladies of the church, these laymen receive instructions in visitation evangelism.

The laymen are given prospect cards. From the hours of 7-9 p. m. they practice visitation evangelism in teams of two. They attempt to contact people who are members of no church and Methodists who live in Cisco but whose membership is elsewhere.

While these men are visiting, regular revival services begin at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. E. C. Bar-

Hospital Notes

Two Cisco business men were in Graham Hospital today after undergoing surgery and an oil man was receiving treatment. Gene Abbott, local insurance man underwent surgery Tuesday morning and his condition was described as good today.

Bob Elliott of The Man's Store underwent an emergency appendectomy Tuesday afternoon. His condition was described as satisfactory today.

C. E. Cooper of the Cooper and Hemphill firm of oil operators was admitted to the hospital Tuesday for treatment. His condition was not regarded as serious.

Rickey Isenhower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Isenhower of Putnam, suffered a broken arm Monday while playing on the school grounds. He was dismissed after treatment.

W. W. (Repeat) Rumley, local cleaner, suffered a broken left arm last week when his horse fell with him. He was dismissed after treatment.

T. H. Hitchcock, local grocer, was in the hospital for treatment. Miss Rhelda Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reed, was continuing to show improvement after an emergency appendectomy Monday night.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ratcliffe at the hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Arnold Pruitt of Eastland was a patient. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Morrison of Cisco at the hospital Monday.

Miss Barbara Ann Jobe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jobe of Gorman, was in the hospital today for a tonsillectomy.

Plans Readied For Rat Control Work

Rats and mice do not become shy and suspicious of Warfarin, new type of poison bait for rodents, to be used in the county wide rural rat control campaign by the Eastland County Farm Bureau, sponsoring organization, which is expected to get underway sometime next week.

Demonstrations are to be held on a number of different farms in various communities over the county by a representative of the Rodent Control Service, Fort Worth, Farm Bureau officials said.

According to authorities rats may have six to ten litters of young per year with an average of eight per litter. The young rats are capable of breeding and raising young at four months of age. They destroy more property than they eat. The rat population in some areas of the United States is said to be equal to the human population.

The general public will be invited to attend these rat control demonstrations and learn about the new material and place their orders for the material. The material is to be sold at its cost to the Farm Bureau of 30 cents per pound. This bait material is made up at the Rodent Control mixing station at San Antonio.

The bait material called Warfarin after the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation is now made synthetically.

It does not cause pain or violent reaction in a rat or mouse after being eaten. For this reason the rodent does not become shy and suspicious of the bait and continues to eat it until death. The Warfarin is an anticoagulant and causes hemorrhage to start internally which when started does not stop. To be effective, however, the rats have to eat it several times in a period of a week.

CLUB WILL MEET

The Word Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Clements, 1103 W. 7th St. Thursday, November 1, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Clements will give the lesson on preparing and serving Swedish Tea Rings.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dunaway of Odessa at the hospital here last Thursday. Mrs. Mary Smith of Moran was dismissed today after undergoing treatment for a week. Danny Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Dunn, was dismissed after being in the hospital overnight. Mrs. M. H. Dryden went home Tuesday after treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lomax spent the weekend in Abilene on business.

Winter Legumes And Crops Helped By Weekend Rains

Wheat, oats, winter legumes, and vegetable crop prospects were materially improved by light to heavy rain over the State, except in western counties during the past week. Generally, these rains fell slowly and practically all was absorbed by the dry soil. Additional moisture was still needed, however, over much of the State.

In the northwest, moisture is now adequate to germinate wheat that had been seeded in the dust and crops that were already up to a stand were responding to the improved moisture condition. More rain will be needed soon, however, to keep crops coming along. In the eastern half of the State and in southern counties, farmers will push completion of planting oats, clovers, and cover crops as soon as soils dry, although some acreage of these crops may not be seeded until the Army worm menace disappears.

Harvest of sorghums continued during the week in northwest areas, but progressed slowly in the southern High Plains and Low Rolling Plains due to labor demands of cotton. Work progressed more rapidly in northern High Plains counties where sorghum harvest ranges from 70-90 percent complete. Harvest of corn was about complete in all areas. Harvest of peanuts in the northern commercial areas continued with some interruptions due to rains. Yields were reported very light and considerable acreage, particularly in the eastern Plateau counties, was being utilized for hay only. Sweet potato harvest continued. Yields, although light, were better than expected earlier. Rice harvest was near completion in some counties. Cotton harvest in the High Plains was reported near the quarter mark, with many farmers waiting for frost to defoliate the plants. Pulling and picking in the Low Rolling Plains, where possibly a third of the crop has been gathered, progressed slowly due to the continued shortage of labor. Rains delayed completion of harvest in the Cross Timbers, northern Blacklands and northeast Texas.

Fall and winter small grain and clover pasture feed prospects were materially improved by general week-end rains over most of the State. Western Plateau and Trans-Pecos counties, however, continued dry, and cured range feed was very short in those areas. In the northwest, some early wheat will soon be ready to graze. In central and northern counties, where additional rain came early in the week, oat pastures were making good development.

Army worms continued to damage small grain pastures in central, southern, and eastern counties. Supplemental feeding continued. Movement of sheep and goats out of the Plateau continued very heavy. Marketing of cattle and calves also continued active.

Lobo 'B' Football Team Will Play Comanche Eleven

The Comanche Indian "B" team will visit Chesley Field Thursday night for a grid game with the Cisco Lobo "B" team. The game has been called for 7:30 p. m.

Coach Carrol Tatum plans to strengthen his starting line up with boys that have been kept out of past games because of possible use with the "A" team later in the week. Comanche holds a win over the locals and the junior Lobos will be trying to even the count.

Local school officials attempted to have the game scheduled for Friday in order not to conflict with the Midget game in Rising Star but the Comanche "A" team has a game Friday night on their home field and were unable to play here Friday.

Coach Tatum will probably start Gerald Birt and Monte Ingram at ends, Mack McCauley and Billie Joe Edwards at tackles, H. L. Coats and Carl Ingram at guards, Bobby Qualls at center, Boy Gallagher, Albert McCurdy, Peanut Poyner and Marcus Gallegos at backs.

All regular members of the "B" squad will probably see some action, Tatum said.

Considerable Interest Shown In New Mississippi Reef Oil

THEIR HEADS ARE BENDING LOW—A mother giraffe is giving a lesson in graceful grazing to her baby at a zoo in Whipsnade, England. These animals are built for high-altitude dining, such as snagging leaves or fruit from trees, but they can manage to get their nourishment from earth level, too.

Abilene Company Begins New Well

Considerable interest was being shown in the Cisco area today in the new Mississippi lime oil strike over the weekend in the Haynes B. Ownby Drilling Company, Dallas, No. 1 Mrs. Effie Brown, located about five miles southwest of Cisco.

The test flowed approximately 5 barrels of oil per hour in a completion test Tuesday. Flow was through a 14-64ths choke through perforations at about 3,750 feet. Flowing pressure was 600 pounds. The operators perforated 20 feet of a 73-foot Mississippi reef section that showed up on electric logs.

It was understood that A. Boyd, Ownby's West Texas superintendent, came here from Coleman to supervise the completion work. Ownby is reported to have about 3,000 acres under lease in the area and contemplates additional tests.

Location of the Brown well is in the North 80 acres of the Northwest quarter of Section 110, Block 3, H&TC survey.

A. E. Frazier et al of Abilene spudded in Tuesday for a Mississippi lime test on the Carl Strobel farm in Section 117, Block 3, H&TC Survey. Frazier drilled 600 feet with cable tools and set surface pipe. The well is a mile and a half southwest of the Ownby producer — six miles southwest of Cisco.

Grover Hart of Cisco has spent the past year in blocking some 12,000 acres of leases south and west of Cisco. He turned the block to Ownby and another to Frazier. He said that plans call for at least two other deep tests in the area soon.

The Brown well is a half-mile west of the Barnsdall No. 1 Brown drilled in 1919. Records show that it had several good shows but never was completed.

Southwest of the Barnsdall test, the Kerly Oil Company and Phillips Petroleum Company drilled six years ago on the H. H. Harrelson farm. They completed a well that had a potential of 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from the Marble Falls formation. A 15-barrel oil show was indicated in the Ellenberger, but it was not completed here. The well ran pipe and completed in the gas sector and still stands today, but is not being produced because there is no outlet for gas there.

Two miles north of the Brown well, Jones-Stanley Oil Company of Abilene drilled ten years ago. A small Caddo lime well has produced for 10 years on the McElreath farm in the southwest quarter of Section 104.

Several months ago, an offset to this well was the Wilcox Investment Co. No. 1 McElreath, completed as a Strawn producer. A year ago, Lone Star completed their No. 1 Dennison as a small Caddo producer in the same area.

In the same general area, the Senate Oil Company of Dallas took a farm-out of Lone Star leases and drilled a dry hole on the Speegle estate land in Section 121.

The Effie Brown well was originally drilled by Ownby last winter. It went to the Ellenberger and was plugged as a dry hole. When cuttings and logs were examined by Phillips geologists, they decided a Mississippi well could be completed. Ownby then came back and re-opened the hole this month.

Plans call for the Brown well to run potential tests late this week. Tanks were being built there today.

COMMANDS SUBMARINE

Commander E. P. Huey, USN, of Cisco has been given command of the Submarine Tang, according to information here. He took charge of the new submarine in ceremonies at Portsmouth, N. H., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bailey and children of Midwest, Oklahoma, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hyatt, over the weekend.

OMAR BURLESON WILL ADDRESS LEGION CONVENTION IN CISCO

Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson will be a featured speaker here Sunday morning at a 17th District Convention of the American Legion, District Commander E. L. Jackson announced today.

The congressman will discuss national affairs. The Sunday program will begin with a breakfast at the Victor Hotel for post commanders, vice commanders and adjutants of the 17th district posts. Mr. Jackson will preside.

The convention will convene at the Cisco Country Club at 9:45 a. m. for a joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary.

The Rev. Paul Stephens, pastor of the East Cisco Baptist Church, will be in charge of a memorial service at 10:30 a. m. He is chaplain of the Cisco post. The congressman's talk will follow the memorial service.

Local Legionnaires will be hosts at a buffet luncheon at noon. The convention business session will be held in the afternoon. Legionnaires will hold their session at the Country Club, and the Auxiliary will meet at the Legion Hall.

Mr. Jackson expects between 200 and 300 Legion and Auxiliary members to register for the convention.

SEYMOUR PRAISES COMMUNITY CHEST FUND DRIVE RESULTS

The Rev. Leslie Seymour, president of the Cisco Community Chest, today expressed that organization's appreciation for the successful budget drive now being completed. Treasurer James S. Duff's figures showed that a total of $4,460.19 — $260.19 over the quota — has been turned in.

"The success of the drive was due in no small part to the fine leadership of Mr. W. P. Guinn, Mr. Charles Graham and Mrs. Barton Philpott," Rev. Seymour said. Mr. Guinn was general chairman for the campaign, with Mr. Graham as co-chairman and Mrs. Philpott in charge of the women's teams.

"Our Community Chest has adequate funds for a full year of work because of the fine response to the good work of these leaders," Mr. Seymour said. "The fact that you have over-subscribed the budget is an expression of confidence in our public supported organizations and their work."

Benefiting from the Chest drive were the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the ABC Club, the Teen-Age Hobby Club and the Cisco Welfare Association.

Rev. Seymour said the Community Chest's board of directors, which is composed of representatives of local civic clubs, will meet next week to discuss business matters pertaining to the drive and the distribution of funds.

Mr. Duff indicated that additional contributions expected likely will amount to another $100 or more.

RULE BY MASS MURDER

Those who are interested in how communism operates once it comes to power should read a vivid and horrifying article by Peggy Durdin in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, called "They're Ruling China by Mass Murder." Miss Durdin obtained her information from refugees from Red China who had fled to Hong Kong.

Miss Durdin begins her account with this paragraph: "The Chinese communists are writing a new chapter in the long history of brutality and oppression in China. Since last fall they have arrested, executed or condemned to hard labor more than 1,000,000 people. They are making a ruthless, systematic effort to exterminate every potential enemy of their regime and terrify the balance of the population into passively accepting communist rule."

In order to accomplish these ends, trials and executions are public spectacles. Every technique of arousing mass hysteria against the accused is employed. The proceedings are broadcast in lurid detail. In some cases, as in trials in the small villages, attendance by local residents is compulsory. On occasion the spectators are furnished typed sheets of slogans. They are led by cheerleaders in thundering "Shoot the beasts! Kill, kill, kill!"

As Miss Durdin observes, life has always been cheap in China. But, in the whole long history of that country, there has never been anything to compare to this. The killings are not the result of a simple, savage bloodlust. They are coldly planned, by Mao and his leaders, to make sure that no iota of opposition to communism shall exist. The noncommunists are terrified into cooperating with the regime and following every order faithfully. The accused, whether guilty of anything or not, are rarely defended — and on the occasions when they are, the defenders are certain to be arrested.

The Chinese communists, borrowing a leaf from Stalin's book, encourage children to inform on their parents for alleged anti-communist activity — or, for that matter, anticommunist thinking. The parents are executed, and the child is called a hero of the people. Says Miss Durdin, "It is a foolhardy noncommunist parent who speaks frankly and freely before his daughters and sons."

All this is done, of course, with the trappings of legality. Last February, an amazing law for the Punishment of Counterrevolutionaries was promulgated. It authorizes imprisonment and death not only for espionage or sabotage, but for "spreading rumors" and "alienating and splitting the solidarity between the government and the people." As if this wasn't enough, an article in the code states that any counterrevolutionary activity not specified can be similarly punished. Then, to cap the climax, still another article makes the law retroactive.

Miss Durdin also points out that everything is done to arouse hatred for the United States, as a prospective conqueror and oppressor of the Chinese people. On many occasions the people are told that the accused persons — and the accused are always found guilty — were agents of the horrible American imperialists.

That, in brief, is how communism organizes a nation. In Miss Durdin's phrase, "The communists have substituted control by fear and force for rule by consent and persuasion."

Tulips Glorify Spring in Front Yard Flower Gardens

The front yard flower gardens which attractively frame and decorate so many new ranch-type houses throughout our country can display flowers in bloom during seven to eight months every year. Annual flowers alone will provide color from early summer until the winter freeze-up; but for flowers before the annual bloom it will be necessary to plant fall bulbs. For almost six spring weeks tulips will provide a variety of coloring which not even June can surpass, provided all the available kinds of tulips are used.

Early tulips have clear bright colors, with blossoms held firmly on strong stems 7 to 9 inches tall. All flowers of a variety are the same height and bloom at the same time. They are intended to be planted in masses, 4 to 6 inches apart, and when they bloom there is no doubt of their effect in the garden display.

Before the early tulips flower, species tulips bloom. They are wild flowers native to eastern Europe. Red Emperor, one of the largest of all tulips, is the most popular variety. Following the early tulips and overlapping with their season come a class known as Triumph tulips, hybrids produced by crossing Darwin and Early varieties. Before they fade the Darwin tulips begin, and usually their flowers last until June. Early tulips include both single and double varieties, both bred for would have you remember that your mother and daddy are your best friends on earth.

I want you both all the happiness and adventure there is. I want you to travel and meet people of other lands — get to know them, and know they are just like you in their hearts, only with different customs. You will meet good people, and bad people, but it is my prayer you will be true to your ideals, your country, and your God.

Once I was travelling in Latin America alone, which is not the custom there for young girls. A Dutch sea captain told me: "Remember, you are an ambassador for every American girl, people are watching you. Keep your standards high." I shall never forget and will always be grateful to him.

Try to keep your life so true, that, like an open book, it may be read at any time. Edgar Guest has said: "I have to live with myself, and so I want to be fit for myself to know."

God love you,
Your mother

A Letter From Mother —

My dear daughters,
One of the most important things as you start down this exciting journey is that you should be true — first of all, true to yourself, and as Shakespeare has said:
"To thine own self be true, and it will follow as the day the night, thou canst not be false to any man."
In school, or at play with your friends, if you are tempted to cheat, or do something just a little bit dishonorable, when you think no one will know, be sure that you know and God knows. Perhaps for awhile you will be a little ashamed, and wish you hadn't done it, but after a time that feeling goes away, and the next time you are tempted, it will be easier, until dishonesty becomes a habit, and you will begin to think it is all right! Remember, after that first time, it will be easier each time, so don't let it happen the first time!
There are those who love you and believe in you — your mother and your daddy, your friends, and they are expecting you to be true. The other day one of you came to me and said: "Mother, a little girl asked me to do something, and I said I'd ask my mother," and she said, "Oh, come on, and don't tell your mother." I was proud of you, dear, when you told me. There may be, through the years, some things you feel that you can't tell your mother, but I

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?
Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $3.24 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

Time to settle...

rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated
The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed
With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?
The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with
