AN INTO THE story of the boys who bought BB's yesterday. It's the story of three who went into an old-time store to buy bullets for their air rifles. The first boy, who was wearing a red tie, climbed to a top shelf and got BB's. He got down and carried the ladder back to the rear. Then, he asked the second boy if he wanted. Ten cents worth of BB's, said the second boy. The procedure was followed. Being the ladder to the back of the store, the merchant said to the boy, "I suppose you want BB's worth of BB's too." No, said the boy, and the man took the ladder to the rear.

Annual March Of Dimes Drive Is Opened In Moran

The March of Dimes drive got under way in Moran last week and Maurine McCollum, assistant cashier of the Moran bank was named treasurer. Iron lung containers have been distributed in all public places and Superintendent Harold Thomas is chairman of the drive in the schools. All clubs and churches have been asked for contributions and to help in the campaign. The National organization has asked for a larger donation this year to aid in fighting polio.

The Honorable Floyd Jones, District Judge, and Mrs. Jones of Breckenridge were guests at the Luncheon Club meeting Wednesday. Lunch was served by the Deep Creek women and Judge Jones was called on for a talk. He talked on American Citizenship. He stressed five major points: Citizenship begins at home, citizenship is fostered in the schools, citizenship is developed in the church, citizenship is preserved by the press and citizenship is practical when at work. Visitors were present from Albany and Abilene.

Don Brewer, a junior student at Texas Christian University, filled the pulpit of the Moran First Christian Church Sunday in the absence of the regular minister, Rev. Harold Phillips. A large crowd attended the services. Every member was urged to attend Sunday School Sunday and to bring a friend. Rev. Phillips will be in his regular place Sunday.

SECOND ANNUAL PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK OBSERVANCE PROCLAIMED

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16. — "We in Texas are proud of the school system that has been developed in our state. Its success has been due to many factors — the interest of mothers and fathers in their children, the cooperative efforts of state and local officials, and the energy and determination of those public spirited men and women who are devoting their lives to the teaching of our children.

"The continued progress of our school system requires increased public understanding of the importance of education and the greatest possible encouragement and support of our teachers."

Governor Shivers' proclamation follows a resolution adopted last summer by the Texas State Board of Education designating the week of March 2-8 as Public Schools Week. The resolution urged that every citizen visit a public school during the period to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of the state's system of public schools.

The Texas Education Agency has requested local public school officials throughout the state to invite the citizens of their respective communities to visit classrooms, and to plan programs with the purpose of giving the pupils and the citizens a better understanding of the school program.

Public Schools Week was observed officially for the first time in Texas last March. In hundreds of communities thousands of citizens visited their public schools in groups. Many visitors had not been inside schools in years.

Statistics compiled by the Texas Citizens' Committee on Public Schools Week following the first Public Schools Week program revealed a great awakening on the part of the public to the problems of their local public schools.

West Ward PTA Hears Report On Library Books

The first selections of new books for the West Ward Library are now being completed by the teachers at the school, Principal C. B. Midkiff told members of the Parent - Teacher Association at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. The PTA plans to spend about $1,000 for library books as the year's major project.

Mrs. Don Choate, president, reported on a recent meeting of the county council. Mrs. Delmar Johnston, chairman of room mothers, announced that a meeting for this group will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at the school for important discussions.

A nominations committee is to be selected at the next meeting of the PTA, it was announced. A summer health roundup will be planned also at that time. Dr. E. E. Addy will be the program speaker next month.

Plans were worked out for organizing study groups for the mothers. Leaders were appointed as follows: 1st grade, Mrs. V. C. Overall and Mrs. Willard K. White; 2nd grade, Mrs. Chesley Tipton; 3rd grade, Mrs. J. W. Sitton; 4th grade, Mrs. Delmar Johnston; and, 5th grade, Mrs. W. S. Kendall. Room mothers will be asked to help with the project.

In the room work, Mrs. Frank Leach's room won for the lower grades, and Mrs. Grady Laws' room was first for the upper grades.

Dr. James Whittington of Eastland was the program speaker, discussing the various fields of medical science. He was introduced by Mrs. Tipton, program chairman.

New School Term Begins On Monday

Friday will be a holiday for the students of the Cisco public schools — but not for the teachers. The first semester ends this week and teachers will use Friday to complete the grading of final examinations, preparing report cards and completing other work necessary for the beginning of the new school term next Monday.

Classes will operate as usual next Monday.

County-Wide Meeting Studies Outlook For Broiler Industry

Virtually every section of the county was represented by the 40 men and one woman in attendance at the poultry meeting in the Eastland Courthouse Tuesday where the possibilities of the development of the broiler industry were discussed.

Okra, Rising Star, Corbon, Gorman, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger and other communities were represented.

Opinions as to the possibilities of the broiler business were quite varied but no definite plans were made.

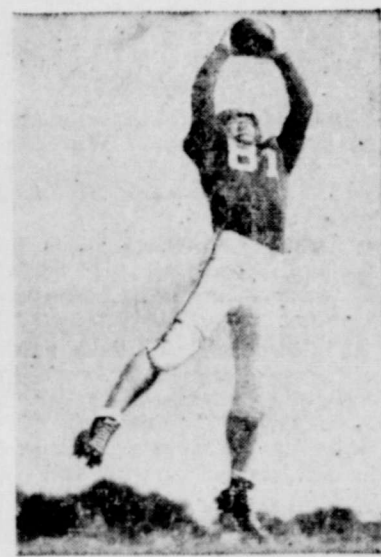

"You can't make a thing on them broilers at 28c and feed selling for more than $6.00 per sack. It is just a losing game," was one man's opinion.

"I don't know about you others but I have my house nearly ready for my chicks and I will soon be in the broiler business turning out 1,500 at a time," said C. H. Groomer of Gorman.

"If the people in Arkansas can grow broilers and make money I know we can, too, for we Texas people are as smart as those in the state of Arkansas,"

SAM BOYD

STANLEY WILLIAMS

Over 100 Football Players Expected To Attend Event

Two of the greatest football ends ever to wear the green and gold of Baylor University and two of the leading pass-receivers of all-time in the rugged Southwest Conference will be in Cisco Friday night to attend the annual Cisco Football Banquet.

The two great sports personalities are Sam Boyd, present freshman coach at Baylor, and Cisco's own Stanley Williams, co-captain and all-America end on Baylor's great 1951 football team which had the best win-loss record of any member of the Southwest Conference.

Williams made all of the all-conference teams and was named to the Football Writers' LOOK all-America first team. For receiving this honor, Stanley and teammate Larry Isbell were given all-expense trips to New York City.

For three years, Boyd was the favorite target of "Bullet Bill" Patterson, one of Baylor's top passers of all time. In 1937-38, Boyd received all-SWC recognition and all-America honorable mention. He played for the West stars in the Shrine game in 1939. Boyd played with the Pittsburg Steeler professional team before going into the Navy. His 42 months in the Navy included 24 months of combat duty on the carrier ROY. Before coming to Baylor, Boyd was outstanding athlete at Cleburne High School. Sam still ranks among the leading pass-receivers of all-time in the Southwest Conference for number of aeriels caught in one season.

Baylor's publicity department recently sent out the following item about Stanley Williams and other ends at Baylor:

Had Baylor's three senior ends — Harold Riley, Stanley Williams and Bob Trout — played on three different successful football teams this past season, Southwest sports writers are of the opinion that each young man would have received more national recognition. As it was, they turned in terrific jobs Saturday after Saturday but never received half of the honors due them. Injuries sidelined Riley for two Saturdays, hurting his chances of repeating on the all-conference team. Riley led the league in pass-receiving in 1950. Williams caught MORE passes than any football player in the SWC in 1951.

Trout was a regular on the defensive platoon, but when Williams or Riley were injured, Bob stepped into their shoes and the offense kept rolling. Trout caught a touchdown pass against Texas Tech and against SMU made one of the finest catches of the season.

Three seasons ago, Williams was an outstanding end on the Baylor freshman team, and Riley was on the varsity. Williams watched Riley's every move and looked forward to 1949 when Stan hoped he and Riley would be the Bruins' regular ends. Stan landed the left end and was one of the league's pass-catching leaders, but Harold didn't play a down. He broke his foot in a "touch" football game a few weeks before the season started. Fellow by name of J. D. Ison took his place, led the SWC in pass-receiving and was named second team AP all-America.

Williams was hopeful they'd get to play together in 1950, but again something happened — this time to Williams. He hurt an elbow and was out most of the season. He played a few downs each against SMU and TCU and came back in the final game with Rice to catch two touchdowns passes.

Riley and Williams have several things in common, but have different athletic backgrounds. Larry Isbell claims Williams will make more "impossible" catches but that Riley is apt to carry the ball farther after he gets it . . .

THE CHRISTMAS neck-tie contest was pretty good at the Lions luncheon yesterday. There were red ties, polka dots, yellow ties, and various and sundry ties of green and deep purple. The big winner was a bow tie — real red lights — worn by Mr. Bob Ellison. Bob tied the tie himself and had the ties in his pocket. Mr. R. W. Culey of the tire store gave a pair of loafer socks as the prize.

MR. J. L. STAFFORD, the city commissioner, has suggested that start a political column in the paper to carry a list of people who do not plan to seek election. And, he adds, put the name of J. L. Stafford at the head of the list as not a candidate for election.

BIRTH RECORDS EXPECTED TO SHOW 215,000 BORN IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. — Birth records of 303,673 babies were filed in Texas in 1950, more than in any previous year, State Health Officer George W. Cox revealed today. He estimated that the 1951 figures when tabulated, will reach or exceed 215,000.

86 percent of all births were listed by the Bureau of Vital Statistics here. The 1950 test shows that 96 percent are registered with the Bureau.

The tests were conducted by the state departments of health in cooperation with federal agencies.

Health officials attribute much of Texas' progress to improved registration of non-white babies. More than 41 percent of non-white infants were unregistered in 1940, compared with only 11 percent in 1950. Among white babies, registration climbed from 89.3 percent in 1940, to 97.2 percent ten years later, the report showed.

Cox said the increase in number of hospital deliveries probably accounted for a substantial part of the process, but that most of the credit was due the department's statistical bureau and "those local registrars, hospital staffs, physicians, and midwives who have faithfully complied with the law requiring records for all Texas babies."

Sounding a note for even more complete registration, the national report said that birth certificates were becoming "more and more important in daily living."

It's the individual's best proof of citizenship, age, and parentage, according to authors of the report, and a requirement for a driver's or pilot's license, a passport, for entering school, collecting life insurance, old age assistance, dependent children benefits, getting a job, benefits to veterans and their families, and a score of other activities.

Defense plants and many other industries require a birth certificate as proof of citizenship before hiring personnel.

In Texas the success of the health department's programs of immunization, blindness prevention, and crippled children care often depend on complete birth registration, Dr. Cox said.

ial speaker on World Missions will be present. Plans were made to study the World Mission Book, "We Americans, North or South," in individual circles. Mrs. Olson spoke on the work of the American Bible Society and a special offering for this cause will be taken at the business meeting.

The program was then turned to Mrs. J. A. Jamison and all sang the hymn, "Standing At The Portal." A new year prayer was given by Mrs. H. Grady James. The devotional was given by Mrs. Jamison, using 1 Chronicles 29:10-19 as her text. A missionary hymn, "Lowered, Her Watch Thy Churches Keeping," was then sung by the group. Mrs. Jamison gave a talk on the World Program of the Presbyterian Church from the Early Days. Mrs. A. J. Jensen read Romans 10:1-15, a classic message on Missions.

Other parts of the program were as follows: Mrs. W. W. Wallace, What Does World Missions Mean; Mrs. J. E. Coleman, Where Do We Carry World Missions; Mrs. John Kleiner, Why Do We Have World Missions — using Go-Ego and Yego; Mrs. P. R. Warkick, Who Carries Our World Missions. Mrs. Jamison gave the figures of the amount still needed for World Missions. Mrs. A. J. Olson led in a Missionary Prayer. The hymn, "Jesus Shall Rein Where'er The Sun," was then sung by the group, followed by prayer by Mrs. Frank Borman.

Those present were Mrs. John Kleiner, Mrs. A. J. Jensen, Miss Willie Word, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. A. J. Olson, Mrs. A. E. Jamison, Mrs. H. Grady James, Mrs. Frank Borman, Mrs. J. J. Electric Heat for Hotbed Costs Little, Gains Much

A hotbed is a cold frame equipped with a heating system. Nearly all small hotbeds in city and suburban gardens nowadays are heated by electric cables, rather than by fermenting manure, which was the old method.

Cables and thermostats are now obtainable at less than the cost to a townsman of suitable manure, were he able to find it. Current used for heating depends upon the insulation of the frame, and how early in the spring heat is turned on, but it seldom adds an important amount to the light bill. There is a much more even heat, which is beneficial to all plants and vital to those that chill easily. It gives a longer growing period, since the heat does not become exhausted, as does heat from manure, which sometimes fails before the outside temperature is safe.

A frame is constructed in the usual pattern as used for both hotbeds and cold frames, but there is no need to prepare a deep pit such as is necessary when manure is used to supply heat.

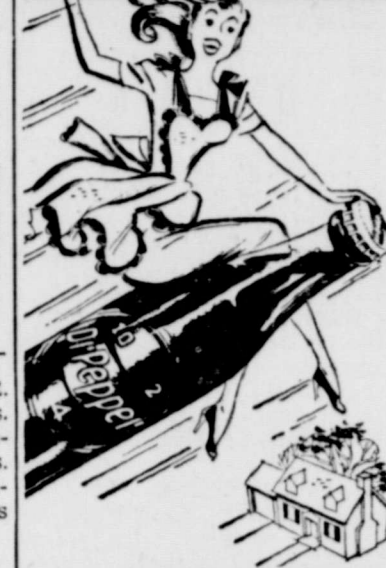

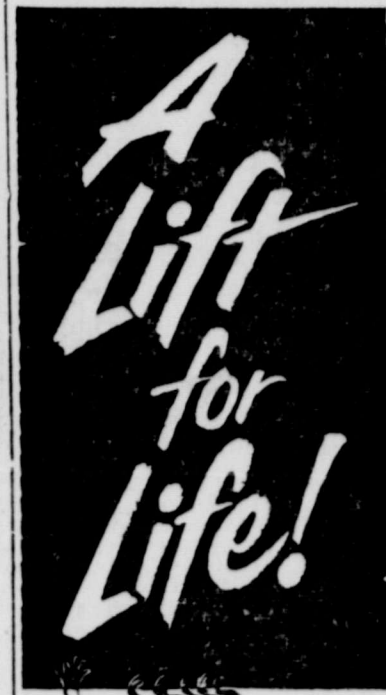

The frame is sunk in the ground about six inches. Soil is removed within it to an equal depth, and the cable is arranged on the bottom in loops, with soil between. Another method is to grow plants in flats, which are placed above the heating cable, which may be imbedded in the soil on which the flats stand. A special type of cable may be obtained, which can be laid on top of the soil, and be protected by grating of wooden slats on which the flats stand. To improve insulation and reduce current consumption, the frame should be banked with soil, to within a few inches of the top.

Arrange the Heating Cable in Loops for Even Coverage.

with four to six inches of soil in which seeds are sown. It is a good idea to place a sheet of fine mesh poultry wire an inch above the cable, with soil between. Another method is to grow plants in flats, which are placed above the heating cable, which may be imbedded in the soil on which the flats stand. A special type of cable may be obtained, which can be laid on top of the soil, and be protected by grating of wooden slats on which the flats stand. Looking Back on 1951 —

... the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore finger and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed when compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live in Eastland County where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than a quarter century.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

BOTULISM is a serious type of food-poisoning, caused by a plant-germ that thrives and multiplies when it is cut off from all air, when it is bottled up. Improperly canned food is the source of botulism, arising usually from home canning since commercial canners have learned to overcome this threat of spoilage.

This germ lives on fresh fruits and vegetables and may be eaten in its raw state without any bad effects. When moist heat, such as used in pressure canning, is applied to those fresh fruits and vegetables, the botulism germs are killed. But in some other types of home canning, without sufficient amounts of moist heat, the germs may remain in the food, and when the air is cut off, those germs multiply rapidly. Acid foods have much less botulism-danger in them than such non-acid foods as corn and beans; so home-canned corn and beans must be especially well prepared and if they look the least bit bad, they should be thrown away.

Botulism poisoning is not a vomiting, nauseating type of food poisoning. It is a collapsing, weakening, overcome-with-heaviness feeling that sets in 12 to 36 hours after eating the poisoned food. It is always an emergency sickness, requiring immediate medical attention. BOWEL is, properly, the whole intestine from the stomach outlet to the anal outlet, the digestive tube of the body, the gut. It is commonly used to signify only the lower part of the intestinal tract, the S-shaped sigmoid colon and the rectum.

BOWLEG is the outward arching of the legs, creating a parenthetical look of the limbs. It is usually caused by rickets, a deficiency disease due to lack of vitamin D.

Patagonia is at the southern end of South America.

Letters

Dear Sir: There has been so much criticism of the legislature for passage of the car inspection law that I shall appreciate it if you will call the attention of your readers to the article in the Fort Worth Star Telegram of a few days back, showing the vote of the members of the legislature on this bill. The article and the official records will disclose that I voted against this bill all during its passage through the legislature. A member of the legislature is subject to criticism for any official act he does, and I have no objection to any just criticism, but I do not like to be the subject of criticism that is wholly unjustified and without cause. I would like for your readers to know that I think, and thought at the time, that this is and was a bad piece of legislation.

The records, I believe, will show that fully 90% of the wrecks are caused by carelessness and drinking, and not one in 500 is caused by mechanical failure. The bill does not do what it was intended to do—eliminate wrecks—but merely causes a lot of useless expense.

Thanking you, and with all good wishes, I am, Yours sincerely, T. M. Collie

Coffee To Europeans

Coffee — half a billion cups — has shown our Western World allies that we care. The "we" being individual Americans who have sent that much coffee to neighbors in Western Europe and other free countries through the offices of CARE. Generous American citizens who feel a responsibility toward others in the world community are remembering that the human spirit needs good cheer as surely as the body needs food.

Coffee is part of all CARE parcels sent to Italy, Greece, Iran, India, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Poland, France and other countries. In many of these lands coffee is still rationed, and so, therefore, welcome. It warms the heart as well as the body, and is an ambassador of good will from the free people of both North and South America to their fortunate allies.
