The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS tell us that three of the street safety signs are missing from the high school area, and Mayor G. C. Rosenthal reports that several are missing from the streets around the West Ward School. It seems unusual that anyone would deliberately carry off these signs—signs that were designed to save children from injury or death. Mr. Rosenthal says that if the signs will be returned no questions will be asked. But if anyone is caught taking the signs, the penalty will be the stiffest kind. If you know where any of the signs are, call Mr. George Douglass at 755-J and he will pick them up.

A LADY CALLED us last evening to inquire if we'd decided to go ahead and hold the bachelor's auction. She wanted to buy one, if the bidding didn't run too high. This is Leap Year Day. There hasn't been any Feb. 29 babies born in Cisco by noon, but there was one or two expected before midnight.

HAVE YOU GOT a miniature battleship? A lady we know wants to borrow one to use in a club meeting program. She promises to take good care of it and to return same as soon as the meeting is over. If you have one, give us a ring.

THERE WAS SOME excitement up town late yesterday. Police picked up a woman who had been drinking and placed her in the city jail. Before they were out of sight, she had unlocked the door somehow and took off down the street a block or so before police found that she was out. They took her back and locked her up again. Again, she got out and got into a taxicab. Highway patrolmen came along and a city policeman hailed them. They soon had her back in jail—to stay. She paid a fine before being finally released Thursday night.

OUR SCOUTS report that the cut worms are taking the early gardens. They're even eating onions, which is usually the last thing that a worm or bug will eat. Guess we haven't had any weather cold enough to dispose of said worms.

DROPPED BY THE First Baptist Church the other afternoon and watched the work on the new Nursery Building. The brick work is well underway for the walls. It's interesting to see a brick layer or stone mason at work. Sometimes, we wish we could do things like that.

Speaking of progress on building projects, have you been by the new Junior High School lately? It is certainly coming along nicely. The way they're joining the new building with the old one is making a big and attractive structure.

ON THE SUBJECT of improvements, Mayor Rosenthal's office at the city hall was receiving its second coat of new paint today. And Mr. E. L. Jackson's office at West Texas Utilities Co. has been doubled in size and is being redecorated. Ted Waters' Service Station has installed some new and bigger underground storage tanks.

THE CATALOGUES have gone out for the annual Eastland County Livestock show, which will be held in Eastland March 28 and 29. The Press printed the catalogues, which are 44 pages of show data and advertising. County Agent J. M. Cooper says that everything is pointing to a good show, and that his committees are working hard on the project.

VERY UNUSUAL WEATHER—Two Royal swans in the lake of the Milan, Italy, Zoo pay little attention to the eight inches of snow covering the surrounding park. Most Milanese were astounded by the record snowfall, but the graceful birds accept it rather casually.

Four Promotions Made By National Guard Unit Here

One re-enlistment and four promotions were announced by Capt. Frank B. Sayer, commander of the local National Guard unit, Friday.

Cpl. Wayne Rupe re-enlisted for a second tour of duty with the unit after his first enlistment period ended this week. Pvt. Alfred C. Lenz, Edward H. Miller, J. D. Nelson and Elbert A. Tipton were promoted to corporals.

Capt. Sayer also reported that the unit had received a new piece of equipment to be used in training. The battery received a working model of a 30 cal. water cooled machine gun to be used in training members in the mechanism of the gun. It is a plastic cut away and built on a two to one scale.

The Cisco battery basketball team played the Olden Outsiders in a practice cage game in Olden Tuesday night and the team showed improvement over their first game. Friday night the local team will play the Ranger guardsmen in a basketball game at the local gym. Time of the game has been set at 7:30 p. m. and the public was invited to attend the game.

Sgt. DeLong will be gone from the unit for some two weeks soon after March 1. He is leaving for California at that time. He will return in time to begin work on getting things ready for the summer camp and for other activities prior to the annual encampment.

Home Life Plays Important Part In Education System

"The home plays a prominent part in the education of children," Superintendent Arlin Bint of the city school system told members of the Cisco Rotary Club in a talk Thursday at their weekly luncheon meeting. He noted that during the past decade there has been a tendency toward too much dependence on the schools for part of the teachings that should come from the house.

Mr. Bint was on the program at the invitation of Rotarian E. P. Crawford. It was a part of the Texas Public School Week which will be observed next week.

Mr. Bint said that educators were pleased with what the children were learning in schools, because modern teachers were well trained for their job.

He appealed for more time on the part of parents in giving the students the things they need for spiritual, mental and physical development. He stressed the importance of outside influence on the students and told of the trend in the modern schools to aid in the proper development of the child.

He told club members of the problems that will confront the schools in the future in attempting to care for additional enrollment. He said that a quarter billion dollars would be needed in Texas alone to build the additional classrooms needed to care for increased enrollments and that another half billion would be needed to remodel existing plants.

At the conclusion of his talk he invited club members to visit the Cisco schools during Texas Public School Week.

Visitors at the meeting were Rotarians Eddie Secrest of Fort Worth, Bob Gilchrist at Abilene and Jim Whittington and Jack Frost of Eastland. Other visitors were L. L. Lewis of Rising Star and G. N. Hailey of Fort Worth.

CATALOGUES BEING MAILED TO ADVERTISE COUNTY STOCK SHOW

The catalogue of the annual Eastland County Livestock Show to be held at the Airport in Eastland on March 28 and 29 is off the press and is now being distributed, it was revealed today by show officials.

S. P. Crofts, Cisco, prominent Angus breeder and president of the County Livestock Raisers Association, sponsoring organization, invites all adult and junior livestock breeders over the county to make their plans to exhibit one or more animals at the two day show. There are no entry fees.

The show is being held at Eastland for the first time in several years. It has been held at Cisco for the past five years. Over $1,000 in cash premiums is listed in the show catalogue for winners of the various classes, according to the committee in charge of working up the rules, regulations and classes for the various divisions.

C. M. McCain, Eastland Rancher, is to serve the livestock show as general chairman, Crofts reported. Crofts also asked that the various advertising committees in the five towns over the county be thanked for their work in soliciting ads to make the catalogue possible. Those who served on these committees were: Cisco: R. H. (Jibby) Donovan, Dr. J. H. Denton and J. M. Starr; Eastland: Vernon Humphries, H. L. King and L. E. McGraw; Ranger: H. C. Wilkinson, Dr. Dick

Cisco Will Send Men To Kaufman

Some 25 or more Eastland County men, including a group from the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, was ready today to make a trip Monday to Kaufman County to study a successful broiler raising program. The Chamber of Commerce here will have at least five representatives in the tour.

Purpose of the trip is to determine the effect of the new broiler industry on Kaufman County and to decide whether Eastland County could profit by promoting a similar program. Arrangements for the tour have been worked out by County Agent J. M. Cooper.

Ciscoans who plan to make the trip include James McCracken, J. A. Reagan, Arlin Bint, Harry Donica and B. A. Butler. Others from this area are expected to go.

Mr. Cooper has asked those interested in going to meet at the city hall in Eastland at 7 a. m. Monday. The men will go in private cars. Regan Brown, Kaufman County Agent, has cooperated in planning a tour of broiler plants in his county.

The Eastland County group will meet at noon in Terrell at Chris' Cafe to have lunch with a group of business leaders. In addition to visiting broiler houses in farm areas, the group will go through a broiler processing plant in Terrell.

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce has considered adopting the broiler program as a major project for 1952, and the committee will report to the board of directors at a noon luncheon meeting next Tuesday.

Several meetings have been held in Eastland County for preliminary studies of the broiler industry outlook with the view of finding new cash activities for area farm residents.

The Third Air Reserve District has adopted the personal interview method to accomplish its goal. That means setting up survey headquarters in various Texas and New Mexico cities. And that's where the Army, Navy and Post Office have helped.

THE CHAMBERS STORY

The Saturday Evening Post is running serially what it calls "One of the Great Books of Our Time." It is Whittaker Chambers' story of the amazing Alger Hiss trial, and the writer of dark events that led up to it.

Most of the first installment of the Chambers series takes the form of a long letter to his children. In this, his main purpose is to try to tell what makes a communist of a man, and particularly a man of Hiss' education, intelligence, achievement, and advantages.

— came to grips in the persons of two resolute men. Mr. Chambers was himself an active communist for many years. He edited communist publications and worked for the underground.

Then, a little later on, Mr. Chambers writes, "Communists are bound together by no secret oath. The tie that binds them across barriers of language and differences of class and education, in defiance of religion, morality, truth, law, honor, the weaknesses of the body and the irresolutions of the mind, even into death, is a simple conviction: It is necessary now to change the world."

That, to Mr. Chambers' mind, is the key to it all: "It is necessary now to change the world." He elaborates by writing, "The communist vision is the vision of Man without God. It is the vision of man's mind displacing God as the creative intelligence of the world."

So Mr. Chambers explains Alger Hiss — and inference, the other communists of high abilities and intelligence. To these people, communism has the force and passion of a burning religion. At hand they see all the tools needed to totally remake the world according to their frightening vision.

From the layout of the blood vessels as they leave the heart, you can get quite faciful and find an allegory that fits in with you and your daily doings.

Blood is pure in the left side of the heart. As the blood starts through the body, it is pleasant to think that the very purest blood might be that which is diverted into the head, with the top grade feeding the right side of the brain and the right hand, the second top grade feeding the left side of the brain and the left hand.

Right away, you run into a complication of your allegory. The nerves of the right side of the brain create the activity for the left hand and the nerves on the left side of the brain create the activity for the right hand, since those nerves cross there at the back of the head. But, anyway, you've got the purest blood directed toward the highest function of man, the use of his brain and his hands.

Then, to continue the allegory, the blood continues its downward

SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE—During the Thirty Years War, when the medieval town of Dinkelsbuehl, Germany, was threatened with destruction, it was saved by one of its women inhabitants. The fortunate event is celebrated each year by a pageant in which costumes of the period are worn as shown in this photo.

Dove Bands Will Go Out Earlier For This Season

AUSTIN, Feb. 29. — The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Texas Game and Fish Commission reported plans for an earlier distribution of dove bands this year.

The intention, he said, is to take advantage of what may be an early nesting period by mourning doves.

The Director said field reports indicate an extraordinary condition this year in that doves were observed mating on a large scale in early January, probably because of the mild winter.

The Director explained that Commission records show that, in rare instances, doves have nested in every month of the year in Texas.

He said the first consignment of bands probably will be sent game Warden early in March.

Individuals or groups desiring to help with the banding routine this year were requested to write the Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin, Texas.

The Director said hopes are for a better banding season this year. Incomplete reports indicate that 3730 doves were banded last year which was a poor dove season.

Completion of the banding cycle when hunters report where and when birds bearing bands are harvested provides vital data as to the feeding, nesting and migration habits of the doves.

Marking Time in the March of Time —

... is somewhat like fishing without luck — there's no thrill to it. But there is real thrill in moving forward, serving humbly and doing some one thing well. We never heard of an abstractor getting rich as such, but we have heard of those who have spent a life-time as we have, building up title institutions that are assets to their communities. Yes, we get a thrill out of every order and a real joy in producing it into a quality product.
