The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL Week program is a big success. That was the opinion of both school leaders and patrons last evening when the final open house event was held at the East Ward and the West Ward buildings. A large crowd of parents and patrons turned out for the open house.

It's good for the fathers and mothers to be given an opportunity to visit the rooms of their children. In each of the rooms, there was much evidence of the work of the students. For many of us, it was the first look at the new desks and chairs installed in the rooms several weeks ago.

AT THE WEST Ward, Principal C. B. Midkiff told us that they have nine new students this week, due partly to the pipe line crews moving to Cisco to build the new Gulf line. . . . Principal Roy Killingsworth reports that they have six new students in the Junior High, half of which are due to pipe line crews moving here. . . . The high school has one new student, Principal Buck Overall said. . . . Mr. Overall and his basketball boys will go to Austin this weekend to be spectators at the annual state cage tourney.

WHILE MOST OF the students of the city schools enjoy a holiday on Friday, with their teachers going to a Sweetwater convention, members of the Lobo band will hold a long rehearsal. They're scheduled to take part in a festival Saturday at Brady, and Friday will be dress rehearsal day. In the afternoon, members of the band will have a skating party and outing at Lake Cisco Park.

ARTIST RANDY Steffen expected to begin smearing paint today for Section 2 of the First National Bank's mural in oils. The next section is a long one—24 feet, to be accurate. The other day, Charles Spears, James McCracken, Robert White, Roy Killingsworth and Bill Marshall of Dallas went out to help stretch the canvass over the frame. Randy has spent the past three days sketching on the canvass and now is about ready to mix his paint.

SEE BY THE papers where the U. S. Marines are calling Baseball Star Ted Williams of Boston back to active duty. And it doesn't seem like good business to us. His salary is so big that he pays around $50,000 a year in income taxes. On top of losing the $50,000 each year, the government will be paying him around $6,000 in salary. A three year hitch for Williams would cost the government in the neighborhood of $168,000.

And Williams is a man of about 35, with one child and three years of World War II service. Don't you think somebody missed the boat?

MANAGER J. T. Edwards of the Palace Theater tells an experience in the business of raising Golden Hampsters, little animals about the size of big mice. They're used mainly by laboratories for medical study and experiments. Says he once bought two pair and before he had time to consider the situation, he had dozens of them. He finally turned them all loose in the woods of Louisiana.

DON'T FORGET that this is Red Cross Week and our town's quota is $1,700—about 35 cents per person. Let's all do our part and put the drive over in good shape.

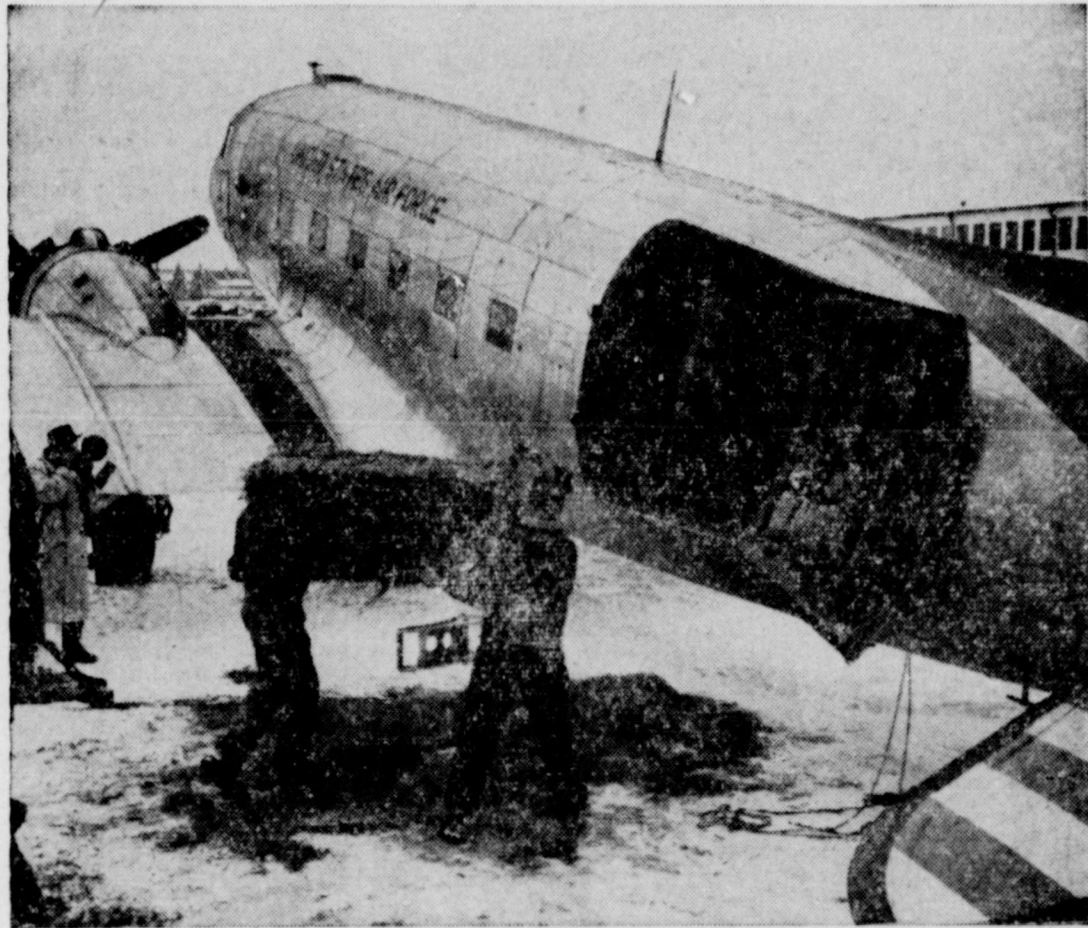

Some of the workers tell us they hear stories in some places about the things the Red Cross has supposed to have done—particularly overseas. These reports are all malicious rumors, and there was a fine article in a national magazine recently quoting a lot of the rumors and then stating the facts.

We've seen the Red Cross at work throughout this country and in the Pacific Islands. And it's work has always been good.

GIRLS WON'T MEET

The Lucky Brownie Troop, second grade girls, will not meet this week but will hold a regular meeting next Thursday, March 13.

MERCY MISSION FOR ANIMALS—Bundles of hay are being loaded into a transport plane of the 36th Fighter Bomber Wing of the U. S. Air Force at Fuerstenfeldbruck, Germany, destined to be airlifted over the snow-covered Bavarian Alps. Famine-threatened animals in the mountains will flock toward the hay being dropped in clearings at strategic points.

Tickets Placed On Sale For Bob Wills Dance Here

Tickets for the Bob Wills dance, which will be held Friday night at the Lake Cisco Skating Rink, were placed on sale today at McCauley's Tire and Supply store and at the Victor Hotel, Chairman Fleming Waters of the American Legion's special events committee reported.

Bob Wills, popular western dance band leader, and his Texas Playboys will play a return engagement here, having appeared at the lake in January. Tickets are being sold for $1.50 per person.

The Legion will use the funds from the dance to help finance improvements at the swimming pool and other park properties. The pool is scheduled to open in May and Legionnaires hope to make substantial improvements before it opens, Mr. Waters said.

Wills and his band plays extensive over the southwest and into radio programs. They have made many recordings, which are popular throughout the southwest. Wills has appeared in several motion pictures.

Durward Smith Is H-SU Letterman

ABILENE, March 5.—Twelve Hardin-Simmons University basketball lettermen have been announced by E. W. (Bill) Ledbetter, athletic director.

Coach Bill Scott made the recommendation for letters for the Cowboys, who won 17 and lost 15 games during the season. Two players, Bill Preston of Abilene, have won three letters. Both are seniors.

Earning letters for the second time are Bill (Hank) Green, Anson; Ray Hibler, Bertram; Jim Covert, Texarkana; Durward Smith, Cisco; Larry Roberts, Levelland; and Dick Burris, Van Nuys, Calif.

First year lettermen are Doyle Brunson, Sweetwater; Tom Burks Hot Springs, Ark.; Wade Burroughs, Burkett; and Joe Simpson, Spur.

Henry H. Curtis Enters JP Race

Henry H. Curtis, a native of Cisco, has entered the race for the office of Justice of the Peace for the Cisco precinct subject to the Democratic primary in July, the Press was authorized to announce today.

Mr. Curtis, in making the announcement, pledged to serve to the best of his ability and to run the office in a courteous and efficient manner, if elected.

This is Mr. Curtis' first time to run for public office, he said.

LARGE CROWD VISITS SCHOOLS FOR OPEN HOUSE TUESDAY NIGHT

Large crowds of parents and patrons called at the East and West Ward Schools for a Texas Public School Week open house program Tuesday night. The open house events were staged by the ward schools and the junior high school on Monday night. The observance of school week here had the backing of virtually all civic clubs and other organized groups.

The school week program was being brought to a close with other events today. Secretary B. A. Butler of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce spoke on an education week theme at the general assembly at the high school Wednesday morning.

Visitors are welcome tonight or any night at the Cisco Junior College night school, President O. L. Stamey reported. The music department choir arranged programs in the college auditorium at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday for members of the Lions and Rotary Clubs, respectively.

At the West Ward School, some 450 parents and patrons attended an open house Tuesday night. Principal C. B. Midkiff reported that 433 parents signed guest registers in the various rooms between 7 and 8 p. m. Mrs. T. C. Williams' room won a half holiday, which will be given the students at a later date, when 41 parents of her students attended the open house.

East Ward, with considerably fewer students, had good crowds between 7 and 8 o'clock. The junior high school open house began at East Ward at 8 p. m., and 175 parents signed guest registers in the four rooms, Principal Roy Killingsworth said.

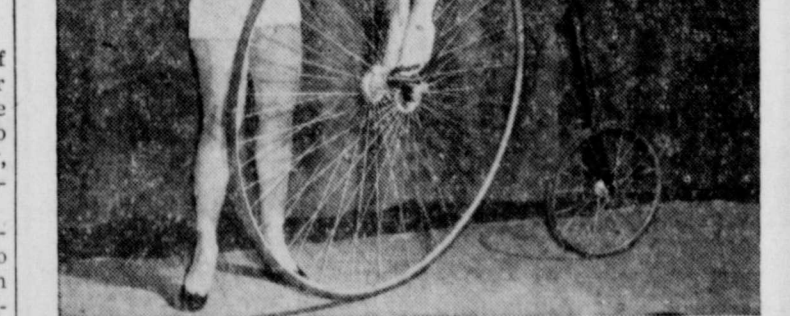

Feature of the open house programs was a display of the work of the students in the various rooms. The parents met the teachers and inspected the buildings and equipment.

Superintendent Arlin Bint termed the week's program as a big success. More than 100 parents signed guest registers at the high school on Monday night. The observance of school week here had the backing of virtually all civic clubs and other organized groups.

WHEN THE WORLD WAS YOUNG—Models Rae Culliton and Beth Kirsten, on bike, didn't mind trying out the very first model of a Columbia bicycle at the Sportsmen's Show in New York, but they were more than glad they don't have to ride that 1877 model when they feel like bicycling around Central Park.

Southwest Cattle Raisers To Hold Annual Meeting

FORT WORTH, March 5.—Members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association will hold their 75th annual convention here March 17-19, Association president Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo has announced.

More than 2000 members and their wives are expected to attend the three-day meeting which will be held in Hotel Texas.

The convention will mark three quarters of a century of progress for an organization dedicated to the advancement and protection of the livestock industry in the Southwest.

Henry Bell, secretary and general manager of the Association, expects that most of the cattlemen will arrive in Fort Worth early Monday, March 17th.

A number of outstanding speakers will address the cattlemen during the convention and plenty of entertainment will be provided, Bell said.

Speakers include Governor Allan Shivers of Texas; Lt. Gen. Robert Wells Harper, commanding general of the Air Training Command with headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.; Lt. Oscar Flores, director of the Mexico-United States Commission for the Eradication of Foot and Mouth Disease in Mexico; Porter M. Jarvis, executive vice-president and director of Swift and Company, Chicago and Harold Cooley, member of Congress from North Carolina and chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture.

Entertainment will get underway Monday evening, March 17th with a dance in the lobby of Hotel Texas. A ladies style show and luncheon will be held at the Rivercrest Country Club, courtesy the Fair Store, Fort Worth.

In extending a welcome to members of the Association Mayor J. R. Edwards of Fort Worth stated that the city is honored to be host to an organization which for the past three quarters of a century has contributed so much to the development of the cattle industry in the Southwest.

"When you come to this convention, you will receive a friendly, warmhearted welcome by people who still have the spirit of Western hospitality and who will be glad to see you," the mayor said.

Mayor Edwards and Amon G. Carter will welcome the cattlemen to Fort Worth at 9 a. m. in the Crystal Ball Room, Hotel Texas, Tuesday, March 18th, when president Willoughby calls the meeting to order. A board of directors meeting will be held on Monday, March 17th.

Johnnie Courtney Is In Boot Camp

Private Johnnie L. Courtney, son of John H. Courtney of Cisco, is now undergoing training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California.

During the eight-week "Boot Camp," as recruit training is commonly called, Private Courtney will become well versed in such basic military subjects as precision drill, first aid, Marine Corps history and mission, and field tactics.

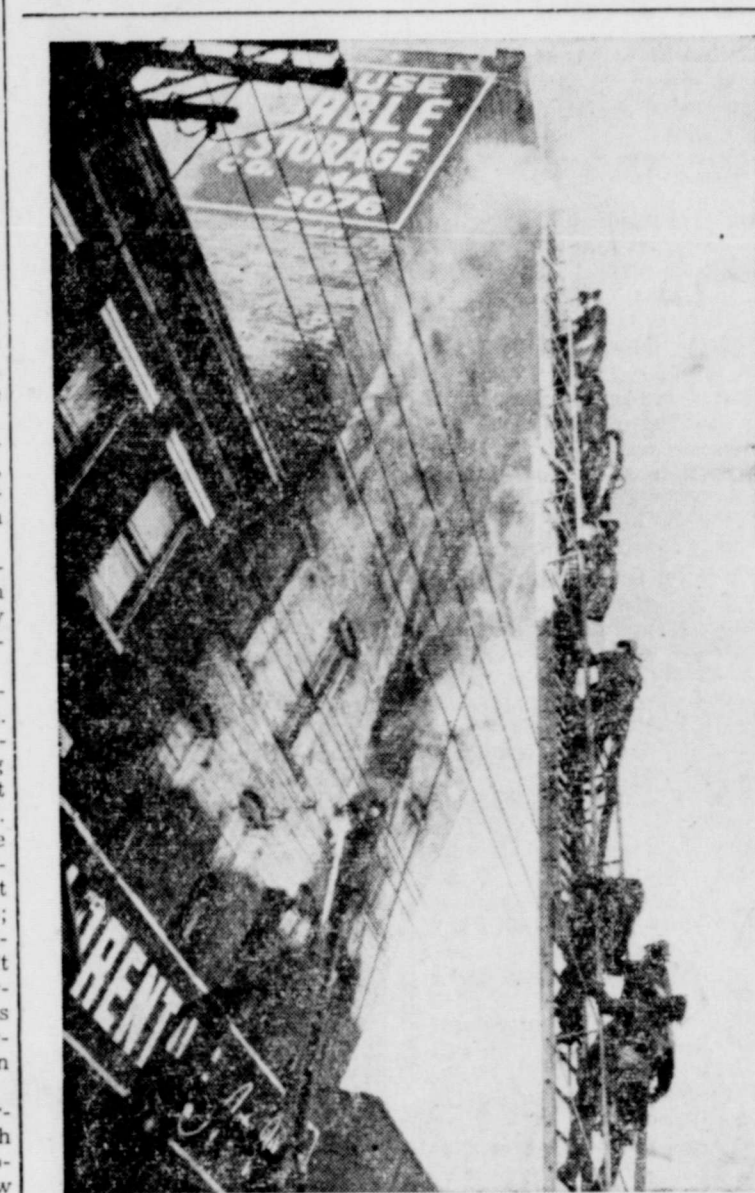

Three weeks of the training period is spent at the Camp Matthews Rifle Range, situated 15 miles north of San Diego. While there, Private Courtney will fire the .30 caliber Garand rifle, .45 caliber pistol, .30 caliber carbine and Browning Automatic Rifle. He will also receive indoctrination firing with the light and heavy machine guns, 60 and 81 mortars, flame throwers and the latest type bazookas. Under a newly adopted training program he will also receive instructions in throwing live hand grenades.

Upon completion of recruit training he will be granted a 10 day leave and, if he has maintained a good record, will be promoted to Private First Class. He will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine Corps School for advance training.

Private Courtney was employed by the Hausmen Painting Co. in Austin, Texas, before reporting for service with the Marine Corps.

Over 200 Donors Ready For Bloodmobile Clinic Thursday

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS—Firemen in Cincinnati, O., are shown on a ladder carrying fire-fighting gear to the 10th multiple-alarm blaze in the city in three weeks. This one caused heavy damage to the five-story building and brought the total damage of the 10 fires to an estimated loss of $2,000,000. The firemen are not finding this Winter season a time of rest as they're on the job too much these days.

ANOTHER OIL WELL IN PROSPECT FOR BANKLINE NORTHEAST CITY

Another oil well was in prospect today for the Bankline-Owens pool five miles northeast of Cisco as preparations were being made to complete the Bankline Oil Company No. 1 Mize-Dulin. Pipe had been set to a depth of 3,324 feet in several feet of Lake sand. The well was given the hydrofrac treatment and is expected to be opened in the next day or two.

In the same pool, the Iran Drilling Co. No. 1 Sam Hart, a farmout from J. P. Lohan, was still testing after being re-cemented. The outcome was due to be known this week.

Jimmy Posey Suffers Painful Arm Injury

Jimmy Posey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Posey of 1100 Avenue I, was given emergency treatment at Graham Hospital last Monday when he suffered a painful cut on his right arm. The injury was caused by falling glass from a door.

The youth's condition was described today as satisfactory at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Witt and children and Kenneth Witt of Abilene visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Witt, recently.

$767 TURNED IN FOR RED CROSS AS FEW TEAMS COMPLETE WORK

A total of $767.92 had been turned in at noon today as the first returns in the annual Cisco Red Cross campaign began coming in to Treasurer Paul Farrow at the First National Bank. The city's quota in the drive, which opened Tuesday morning, was $1,700.

Mr. Farrow reported that the initial reported included receipts of some 10 teams of women residing in area canvassers and from three of 14 teams of men working in the business district.

Chairman George N. Irvine was confident that the full quota

Wesley Methodist Church was being equipped with a pump. It is a Lake sand completion and is classed as a "good well."

In the south Cisco pool, the Jack Hailey No. 1 Thelma Richardson was due to be opened late today after being given the hydrofrac treatment Tuesday. This is also a Lake sand prospect.

West of Cisco, the Hamilton and Powell No. 1 E. J. Penn Estate was drilling below 3,000 feet in the Caddo lime. No show of oil or gas had been reported. This is an Ellenberger lime test.

Three miles southwest of Cisco, the Charles R. Kuhn, trustee, No. 1 Rudolph Reich was being plugged and abandoned today as a failure after drilling through the Ranger lime formation. It was understood that no show of oil or gas was logged in any of the upper formations.

In the Grover Hart pool, southwest of Cisco, the Ownby Drilling Company's No. 1 E. M. Snoddy was drilling at about 3,700 feet, near the horizon of the Mississippi lime from which wells in that area are producing.

Operations in other wells in that area were reported to be shut-down for the present.

North of Cisco, the Hickok Producing and Developing Company No. 1 Wright-Harrell was drilling at 1,330 feet in a cable tool operation.

would be raised before the week ends. He urged the various teams of workers to complete their assignments as soon as possible. Some 100 persons were cooperating in the project.

Workers were asked to turn in Red Cross funds collected to Mr. Farrow at the bank.

"We are getting good response from our workers, and we feel that Cisco will go over the top again," Mr. Irvine said. "Everyone knows the value of the Red Cross and we are not having to sell the organization. This makes our task easier."

Final Plans Are Made At Meeting

More than 200 Cisco and Rising Star residents had signed pledge cards today to donate a pint of blood Thursday in a Bloodmobile Clinic at the First Methodist Church basement. The first donors are due to report at 9 a. m.

Final plans for the clinic were to be made at a meeting of all workers at 1:30 p. m. today, Mrs. W. W. Wallace said. After the meeting, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Charles S. Sandler planned to go to Ranger where technicians were completing a similar clinic today.

Mrs. Wallace said that anyone else who wants to donate blood should report to the clinic. Although more than 200 have signed pledge cards, a small percentage of the number will be rejected after physical examinations, according to the experience of technicians elsewhere.

The blood will be sent to a Fort Worth laboratory from Cisco at the conclusion of the clinic. It will be processed into plasma for immediate shipment to hospitals in Korea.

Committees for the Bloodmobile unit work have been announced as follows:

Mrs. Wallace, chairman; Mrs. Sandler, co-chairman; Mrs. M. E. Goldberg, Mrs. H. E. McGowan, Mrs. Phillip Pettit, Mrs. Homer Slicker and Mrs. Nick Miller, telephone; Mrs. E. L. Jackson, Mrs. A. E. Jamison, Mrs. Dick Bearman, Mrs. Carl Lamb, Mrs. Bill Kendall, Mrs. Aaron Robinson, Mrs. Ernest Schaefer and Mrs. Sandler, registration.

Mrs. Paul Woods, Mrs. Delmar Johnston, Mrs. H. E. McGowan, Mrs. W. C. McDaniel, Mrs. Nick Miller, Mrs. Phillip Pettit and Mrs. Homer Slicker, reception committee; Mrs. Carl Lamb, Mrs. E. H. Lightfoot, Mrs. B. E. Morehart, Mrs. George Irvine, Mrs. C. M. Townsley, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. L. H. McCrea, Jr., Mrs. G. E. Berry and Mrs. N. A. Brown, hostesses.

Mrs. D. Ball, Mrs. J. R. Deen, Mrs. Ona Milner, Mrs. Annie Knuckles, Mrs. J. T. Lawrence, Mrs. Merle Fowler, Mrs. Edward Lee and Miss Elizabeth Coleman, nurses aides.

Mrs. Carrel Smith, Mrs. Don Choate, Mrs. M. M. Tabor, Mrs. W. F. Watson, Mrs. J. J. Tableman, Mrs. Cora Plumlee, Mrs. Charles Cofer, Mrs. M. O. Smith and Mrs. Ernest Schaefer, canteen workers.

Mrs. Wallace stressed the importance of donors keeping the scheduled appointments assigned them. Cisco area donors will be taken at the clinic during the morning and early afternoon, and Rising Star residents will go through the clinic during the afternoon.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PROFITS

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has published a state-by-state break-down of almost a $1 billion "profit" which it said the U. S. Treasury has chalked up from the unemployment insurance system at the expense of the states.

The money was paid by employers under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

The Chamber issued this statement: "The unemployment section of the Social Security Act, passed in 1935, was advertised as a means of encouraging — but in fact it compelled — each State to pass an unemployment insurance law."

"The federal law levied a three per cent tax on employers of eight or more employees. But taxes paid into a state fund can be credited against the federal tax up to a 90 per cent limit."

"This means that the federal tax on all employers covered by the law is 3 per cent of payroll."

"Funds collected from employers by this 3 per cent levy are not earmarked but Congressional intent never has been seriously disputed. President Roosevelt in his 1935 social security message to Congress stated: The 10 per cent not thus offset should be used to cover the costs of federal and State administration of this broad system.

"These funds are meant for State administration of unemployment insurance. But the States have only been getting part of the money. The rest has been poured into the federal treasury and spent for other purposes."

"The joker is federal control of the purse strings. Formerly through the Federal Security Agency and now through the Department of Labor, State unemployment insurance agencies must justify to federal bureaus their requests for administrative funds to do the job."

"Since 1937, the U. S. Treasury has collected $2,257,000,000 from employers under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. In the same 14 years, State agencies have gotten back $1,285,000,000 to run the unemployment insurance and employment service operations."

"The net U. S. Treasury 'profit,' as closely as it can be estimated, is more than $1 billion. This is lucrative business for federal spenders."

"Federal purse-string control under the present system gives the Department of Labor an opportunity to exercise heavy influences over all phases of State agency operations. Through this machinery, federal officials can emphasize or deemphasize certain State functions almost at will. For example, by withholding budgetary funds for what a State may consider a proper expenditure in the detection of fraud among unemployment claimants, the federal bureau is in a position to deemphasize fraud detection if it so desires."

"The National Chamber favors returning to the States all federal taxes levied by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act so that States would then be free to determine for themselves actual operation of their State unemployment compensation laws. Under this method, all money collected from the State's employers would be returned to the State and become subject to the control of the State legislature."

Bluegrass Harvest Method Unlike Other Field Seeds

Tractor Pulling a Gang of Bluegrass Strippers.

The urban or suburban home owner having a bluegrass lawn, the city park superintendent who buys seed for our beautiful city parks and the farmer who includes bluegrass in his pasture mixtures know the value of Kentucky bluegrass as a lawn or pasture grass but very little about the source of the seed used.

The early establishment of bluegrass in Kentucky and its adaptation to limestone regions naturally made that State the first source of seed supplies and gave the present well-known United States name to a grass introduced from Europe. Later, Missouri came into production of Kentucky bluegrass seed and this area has gradually extended northward and westward so that it now includes parts of Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Illinois and is known as the Western District. In recent years this district has produced seven or eight times as much bluegrass seed as is produced in the older area of Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio.

Bluegrass seed is stripped by the seed contractor as soon as the head has turned yellow or brown, and the seed is firm. The stripping season usually lasts less than two or three weeks in any State or general area. The height of the season in Kentucky and Missouri is usually reached during the second or third week in June when a large percentage of the total crop of these States is harvested.

Most of the stripping is done with machines known as strippers or headers usually pulled by tractors. As the seed is stripped the seed heads are thrown beneath and behind the revolving frame or cylinder of the stripping machine into a box, which is emptied manually when filled. The seed heads are then put into large bags and hauled to yards, sheds, barns, or warehouses for curing.

Curing may be done inside a building or shed, but most of the seed is cured in curing yards where the green seed is piled in small windrows 15 to 18 inches high. The curing process under favorable weather conditions takes only two or three days. The average yield of green seed per acre in the United States for the 16 years (1932-1947) was 5.8 bushels, equivalent to 35 to 40 pounds of clean seed.

The loss in weight of curing and cleaning seed averages between 35 and 50 percent and the loss from threshing cured seed from 50 to 55 percent by weight. Hence 100 pounds of green seed will yield 25 to 30 pounds of clean seed weighing 21 pounds to the measured bushel. Although 21 pounds is the standard weight, much of the high quality seed in the market is processed to weigh 24 to 28 pounds per bushel.

Professional strippers or contractors operating large crews usually lease fields from the farmer on the basis of a specified sum per acre or for an entire field or boundary, or per pound or bushel; or they may strip on shares. These contractors are usually the seed processors who prepare the seed for sowing and sell to the wholesalers or retailers.

The U. S. production of Kentucky bluegrass seed in 1951 was 17,500,000 pounds which is the same as the average for the 5 years (1945-49). This is one-third smaller than the crop of nearly 29 million pounds in 1950. The largest producing State in 1950 was Iowa with 25 percent of the total, and in 1951 South Dakota with over 30 percent of the total.

WAKE UP - or die!

Nearly 20,000 people died in the dark—in the night-time traffic accidents in 1950. Over 750,000 were injured in the hours from dusk to dawn. Last year these casualties went still higher.

Night accidents are one of the greatest factors in the increasing highway death toll. Fatigue, poor illumination, headlight glare, faulty vision, and the greater number of dangerous drinking drivers at night are the major causes of this tragic nocturnal record.

Another big factor—in both night and day-time fatalities—is "highway hypnosis." On long drives over smooth, unending roads the steady hypnotic monotony of humming wheels lulls drivers into a dangerous mental blank. Alertness gone, reactions at a low ebb, the worst can happen—and does.

What do you do when you become drowsy while driving? Safe drivers, recognizing the danger signal, pull off the road and relax. Perhaps they stop for a cup of coffee and stretch their legs, or let someone else take the wheel. They know, as every good driver knows, that safety demands alert driving, particularly at night when the killing rate per vehicle is as much as four times greater in proportion to traffic volume than it is in the daytime.

When you are driving in a fog of fatigue—pull over! Wake up, or die!

PRICE CONTROL FOR CRUDE OIL IS SCORED BY INDUSTRY TALKER

ABILENE, March 4.—Price control of crude oil was cited as an example of "Big government control for the sake of control and not because of the need for control" when R. F. Windfohr, Ft. Worth, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, addressed petroleum and other business leaders here Tuesday night. Windfohr was guest of honor at a dinner in the Windsor Hotel. French M. Robertson, the Association's District Vice-President for West Central Texas, and local directors were hosts.

Windfohr named price controls as one of several examples of government trends which fit the Marxist pattern for spread of socialism in America.

"Only competition in a free market can dictate a realistic price level, one that presumably takes into account current visible supply and anticipated future demand," Windfohr said. "This means eliminating petroleum and its products from price control."

Without advocating any specific figure as a desired industry goal, Windfohr called attention to figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which show, as of September 11, 1951, today's price for crude, to be on a parity with all other commodities, exclusive of farm products, would be $3.22 per barrel for 40 gravity Mid-Continent crude, up 57 cents from today's price.

Windfohr rejected the possibility of an artificial price raise because of no scarcity of the commodity and because "there is no way to hoard it." He pointed out that in the past 25 years the wholesale price of petroleum products has increased only 17 per cent.

Windfohr is on the second phase of his tour of the state. In January he was guest of honor of the Association's district vice-presidents and local directors at each stop of his South Texas and Gulf Coast tour. The Texas Mid-Continent chief described the Association as the oldest and largest of the oil and gas associations in Texas with a membership that produces about 90 per cent of the state's oil. The Association's role is to look after the whole oil family and does not participate in industry factional disputes, he said.

Windfohr called attention to changes in the industry's problems that have developed during his 30 years as an independent producer. "We've switched from a civil war in our own ranks to a war against a common enemy."

Regarding the industry's tax burdens, Windfohr said that recent efforts to reduce the depletion recognition from 27½ per cent to 15 per cent would have yielded no more than $250 million in federal taxes, less than ½ of 1 per cent of this year's budget. This action could cripple or destroy the nation's fourth largest industry, which now pays $3½ billion in taxes, in order to raise revenues temporarily, he said.

"Would it occur to you, as businessmen, to cripple or perhaps destroy the fourth largest industry in the United States, an industry that generates $3½ billion in taxes annually, in order to increase revenues temporarily by ½ of 1 per cent, unless you had in mind some motive other than fund raising?" he said.

In referring to the tidelands, Windfohr declared: "At this point the planners have a legal hunting license to bag one property and one industry after another.

Make no mistake about it, nationalization of the oil industry has been one of their favorite targets since "Honest Harold" Ickes set it up on the bureaucratic rifle range in the middle 1930's. They will proceed, however, only so fast as they think the nation will tolerate it."

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

Since the function of the arteries around the heart, the coronary arteries, are intricately involved in the muscle of the heart, you need a picture of the muscular function of the heart to understand the feeding functions of the coronary arteries.

All the muscles that are wrapped and overwrapped in figure 3 fashion to make the structure of the heart elastic fibers that can give and take quite a bit as the flow of blood inside the heart makes demand for expansion or contraction.

These muscles, called the myocardium, determine the size of the heart. Then they stretch too far and fail to contract properly they create a bigger heart than normal, which is called cardiac enlargement. Within certain limits a heart can be bigger than normal and still carry on its function without interference, but when it gets too big to fit under a heading of heart trouble. In addition to stretching too far, the heart may become enlarged because of acquiring too much muscle, continually adding more muscle to that already around the heart, which is called hypertrophy.

Improper functioning of the valves inside the heart may be one cause of enlargement of the heart since the heart retains too much blood and stretches, or not enough blood is being circulated from the heart to feed those coronary arteries properly. An acute infection is usually the original cause of damage to the valves inside the heart, so by the chain of reactions most heart muscle damage is often traced back to that same acute infection.

Heart muscle may also be caused by defective metabolism (which leads to the overbuilding of muscle), high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, and vitamin deficiency among other disorders.
