The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

MAYBE CISCO HAD a flying saucer overhead around 4 p. m. Wednesday. Over toward Eastland, high in the sky, there floated a white rectangular object. Somebody called us and we watched for a while. It seemed to be moving east, or else the nearby half-moon was moving west.

We contacted experts like Norman Huston, R. W. McCauley, Willard White and Bill Wright. They were inclined to think it was a weather balloon. But they weren't sure, for it wasn't in the shape of weather balloons. In any event, it was interesting.

AND SO WAS A visit we had yesterday with First Lieutenant A. D. Humphrey, who is just back home in Cisco after a little over two years in Japan and Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Humphrey of 2008 Avenue D.

Lieut. Humphrey spent 13 months in Korea and a year in Japan. You've maybe seen him driving his car around with a Japanese license tag on it. The car came home on the boat with him, landing at Seattle, Washington. He drove home from there.

Stationed with the second division's signal corps, Lieut. Humphrey saw action in a lot of the heavy fighting, including bloody nose ridge, heart-break ridge and other battles, and a stretch in the cold country up north.

Lieut. Humphrey already had the Bronze Star, awarded for special courage in action in World War II, and he was given a cluster for it in Korea. He wears the Purple Heart for wounds in Europe in the last war, along with a number of other decorations.

In the service for seven years, the lieutenant goes next late this month to army duty at St. Louis, Mo.

During the past few months in Korea, Lieut. Humphrey had as the first sergeant of his company a fellow named Sgt. Bob L. Humphrey. And Sgt. Bob is his brother, who is now serving his second tour in Korea. If you remember, Bob was home a few months ago.

Lieut. Humphrey doesn't look for anything to come from the current truce negotiations in Korea. He believes the Chinese are using the truce deal as a time consuming proposition.

The lieutenant is glad to be home. He says he is glad to have had the experience in Korea and Japan, now that it's over, but he does not plan to volunteer for any more of it.

His dad is a carpenter here. They've lived here since 1939. Lieut. Humphrey is an old CHS man and has many friends in these parts. And he's enjoying making the rounds.

WE KNEW RIGHT off that another six weeks of school was over and the report cards were out, for here came the Press paper boys late Wednesday with straight "A" cards. Three of them submitted perfect cards and collected a bonus of $1 — John McCanlies, Bobby Cluck and Wayne Fricke. And they're probably more.

We pay the Press paper boys a bonus of a buck for straight "A" report cards.

THE LIONS TALE, official publication of the Cisco Lions Club, offers this "suggestion of the week": When we rebuild our stadium, why can't we build a track around the football field. Brownwood has a good one, and they draw big crowds each year.

This sounds like a good suggestion. Our town hasn't got much of a place to hold track meets. And now would be a good time to start the football field overhauling job.

The Lobo track team is now at work, and Coach Jack Everett plans to take the boys over to Comanche next Tuesday for their first competition. He'll have spring football practice as soon as track season ends.

YOU'VE SEEN THE red hearts on several store counters about town. They were put out by the John William Butts Post of the American Legion to give Ciscoans an opportunity to contribute to the finance campaign of the Texas Heart Association. The funds are spent to help with heart disease work.

RECORD CATCH—When sportsman Julio T. Rodriguez, San Juan, P. R., caught this 52-pound sailfin in nearby waters, he established a new insular record for the species entered in Puerto Rico's inaugural Annual Fishing Tournament. Skipper Antonio Bobyn, right, handled the cruiser from which Rodriguez made his catch off historic El Morro fortress.

RED CROSS WORKERS NEED $362 TO COMPLETE QUOTA FOR DRIVE

Red Cross campaign workers need only $362 today to complete their roll call quota of $1,700, according to Chairman George N. Irvine. Treasurer Paul Farrow reported to Mr. Irvine at noon that a total of $1,338.08 had been turned in to him.

Funeral Services Planned Thursday For Mr. Graham

Funeral services for C. W. Graham, 75, of Abilene were to be held at 3 p. m. Thursday at Elliott's Chapel of Memories in Abilene. Mr. Graham, the father of Charles Graham of Cisco, died in an Abilene hospital at 2:50 a. m. Wednesday following a three months illness.

The services were to be conducted by Dr. E. D. Landreth, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene. He was to be assisted by Dr. C. A. Long and Dr. DeWitt Seago, pastor of Aldergate Methodist Church.

Mr. Graham was born in Jonesville, Va., May 24, 1876. He moved with his family to Pierce City, Mo., when five and remained in Missouri until he came to Texas in 1897. He had lived in Abilene since 1926.

He was married to Miss Willa Edward Hoze in Greenville in 1903 and in 1905 they moved to Alabama where he farmed and ranched until 1923 when he accepted employment with the Texas Highway Department as district foreman. He retired in 1935.

He was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene and a member of the Masonic Lodge in Albany.

Burial was to be in Cedar Hill Cemetery at Abilene beside the grave of his daughter, Iris Graham. Elliott Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

E. G. Johnson, Howard Easter, Clayton Lusby, Floyd Bogar, J. F. Nevins and Roscoe Blankenship of Abilene and J. A. Fletcher of Lamesa were named as pallbearers.

Nance Motor Company of Cisco was to remain closed all day Thursday in memory of Mr. Graham.

Survivors include his wife of Abilene; two daughters, Mrs. Mason Altman and Mrs. Forrest Kendall of Abilene; a son, Charles W. Graham of Cisco; one brother, W. E. Graham of Abilene; two sisters, Mrs. John Thompson of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Arthur Sears of Granby, Missouri; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Walker's Second Trial Postponed Until April 28th

The second trial of Horace Walker, former Eastland County delinquent tax attorney, has been postponed until April 28, it was reported here today. The postponement was granted Wednesday by the 90th District Court in Breckenridge at the request of Walker's attorneys, one of whom was tied up in an Amarillo law suit.

Walker was acquitted when he was tried in Breckenridge several weeks ago on the first of six charges of embezzlement which resulted from an investigation of his work in collecting delinquent taxes in Eastland County.

Walker also faces a civil action for recovery of over $100,000 in funds allegedly collected by him and not turned in, and a federal charge in connection with the case.

WILL SHOW MATINEE

Manager J. T. Edwards of the Palace Theater announced today that a matinee will be shown at 1:45 p. m. Friday. The film is "Sailor Beware," featuring Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, widely known comedians.

OIL BELT TEACHERS ASS'N HAD ITS BEGINNING HERE 20 YEARS AGO

The Oil Belt Teachers Association, which is meeting in Sweetwater Friday and Saturday, had its beginning in Cisco some 20 years ago.

The idea of the association came from the brain of the late R. D. Green, then superintendent of the Abilene schools. He was sitting in his office in Abilene with R. N. Cluck, Cisco school head; R. F. Holloway, superintendent of the Ranger schools, and P. B. Biddle of the Eastland schools, following a meeting of the school officials of the old Oil Belt football district, when he told them of his idea for an association.

It was after one of the most hectic of the always hectic meetings of the group that he had the idea of forming an association of teachers that could meet in harmony and discuss school problems without the usual haranguing.

It was in the fall of 1932 that the first meeting was held in Cisco at the Laguna Hotel with Bob Cluck, Cisco superintendent at the time, as the host. At the first meeting there were some 25 or 30 teachers from seven counties present. Mr. Cluck was elected the association's first president and served for a year. Mr. Holloway was the second president.

Representatives from Eastland County, Taylor County, Stephens County, Brown County, Nolan County, Callahan County and Shackelford County were present at the organizational meeting and formulated the plans and ideals that have been in force for the 20 years of its growth.

From the small meeting the association has grown to be the largest teacher association in the state and its most active. Now, there is a membership of hundreds of teachers from a 35-county area banded together to discuss problems and make recommendations that have meant a lot in the development of the public school system of Texas.

Mr. Cluck is the only one of the four who met in the office of Mr. Green on that day in 1932 who is still alive. He was invited to attend the meeting in Sweetwater as honor guest this year, but was unable to be there because of ill health.

Robert Jackson of Cisco won the middleweight championship of the second annual Baird High School boxing tournament held there last weekend. Only two other Cisco fighters were entered in the tournament. Buck Whitehead lost his opening bout and Edward Courtney won over his first opponent but was unable to fight the second bout because of a cold.

Medals were awarded to the winners of each division and a team trophy was awarded the winning team. The South Taylor High School team took the team trophy on points.

Record crowds attended the bouts on all three evenings. Plans call for holding the annual affair in the Baird gym next year.

Paul Moseley of Cisco Junior College and Bill Boles of South Taylor were the referees. The bouts were sponsored by the athletic department of Baird High School and the Baird F. F. A. chapter.

Winners in all divisions were as follows: flyweight — Perry Elliott of South Taylor; bantamweight — Ernest Smith of South Taylor; featherweight — Donny West of Baird; lightweight — Sherman Monk of South Taylor; welterweight — Wilma Hollowell of South Taylor; middleweight — Robert Jackson of Cisco; light heavyweight — Thad Russell of South Taylor and heavyweight — Eddy Brumbaugh of Baird.

Annual Banquet Will Be Climax Of Clinic Study

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce announced today its annual banquet will be held on Friday night, March 28, as the climax of a Community Clinic to be conducted during the week of March 24 with the assistance and guidance of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Fred Husbands, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker, and two members of his staff will spend most of that week in Cisco helping with the Community Clinic.

The Community Clinic, according to President, E. L. Jackson of the local organization, will have for its purpose the formation of a work program that Cisco needs. During the week of March 24, a series of meetings will be held in which members of the Chamber of Commerce will study the needs of the community.

The results of the clinic and the year's work program will be announced at the annual banquet.

A preliminary meeting will be held in the immediate future to set up committees and the necessary machinery to conduct the Community Clinic. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has conducted similar clinics at numerous points in West Texas cities and two staff members specialize in this work.

Plans for the clinic and banquet were discussed and approved at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at noon Tuesday. The announcement today followed confirmation of the dates with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"We expect to analyze the needs of our city and area from every standpoint," Mr. Jackson said. "When we have completed this survey, we can then organize a work program that will have for its basic purpose the accomplishment of those things which we need most."

Mr. Husbands, who will be the banquet speaker, is widely known for his work as a Chamber of Commerce executive. He spent several years as manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce before taking his present position.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Should a married woman sign important documents with her own given name or use her husband's first name? Is "Junior" or "Senior" legally part of your name? Should you sign your middle name or initial? Is "Mr." or "Mrs." part of a legal signature? Lawyers find that people are often at a loss to know how to sign their names to legal documents.

In legal effect, a name is used merely as one method of distinguishing one person from another. Under the Common Law, since very early times, a legal name has consisted of one Christian or given name, and one surname which is the family name.

The law does not pay too much attention to the middle name or initial. However, although the use of the middle name or initial is not required, it is wise to use it since it may be important for identification in some cases.

According to attorneys, married women have more difficulty with their signatures than most other people. When a girl marries she, of course, takes her husband's surname. Thus Mary Lou Jones legally becomes Mary Lou Brown when she marries James E. Brown. But, in practice, she usually does not stop there — she uses his full name as her own, signing herself as Mrs. James E. Brown, instead of Mary L. Brown (or Mary Lou Brown) which is correct.

Can this apparently minor error in Mrs. Brown's signature cause any trouble? Let us assume that the Browns decide to sell their home, which they have owned fifteen years, and move to Oregon. Five years pass, and their former home is now owned by George Smith, who has made a deal to sell it at a nice profit. In checking the title of the property, the name "Mrs. James E. Brown" turns up in Smith's abstract, as it appears on the deed by which James and Mary sold their home.

For the title to be clear, the land records must show that the Mrs. James E. Brown who sold the house and lot was the same identical person as the Mary L. Brown or Mrs. James E. Brown whose name appears on the deed conveying the property to the Browns many years before.

In order that the purchaser may be safe, lawyers and courts must not overlook the possibility that they may be two different persons. If so, the first Mrs. Brown may have died leaving heirs who have not yet relinquished their interest in the home. Other possibilities would present serious implications also.

Proof of identity in this case could involve tracing the Browns through several states, or other methods equally or more expensive and time consuming. While waiting for this proof, George Smith might lose his chance to take a profit. The intended purchaser may have to begin anew his search for a suitable family shelter. The Browns may be out time and money in correcting the discrepancy. In this situation, the "minor" variation in Mary's signature has resulted in trouble for everyone involved.

Perversely enough, other married women feel that their maiden surname is still legal and continue to use it. For instance, a wife may register her automobile in her maiden name instead of her married name. This is not in compliance with the law requiring a car to be registered in the name of the owner.

The law does not consider "Junior" or "Senior" a significant part of the name, as regards identification. However, it will not be incorrect to add such terms to your signature, if you wish.

Similarly, "Mr." or "Mrs." are not legally important or necessary. (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

World Day Of Prayer Program Held Friday

"Christ Our Hope," was the theme of the World Day of Prayer Service sponsored by the United Council of Church Women at the First Christian Church Friday morning. The program was presented by the Women of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Tipton introduced Mrs. Wm. Joyner, leader of the program who spoke on Prayer. Mrs. Joyner said, "praying people hold the real balance of power in the world. This ray highlights the year-round bond among Christians, a bond which nothing can sever. Because prayer is power, it interprets God's plan for all, even as it builds understanding and mutual concern for one another and binds together God's peoples of the world." Several hymns were sung after which a playlet, "Mother Liberty's Children," was presented with the following cast: Mother Liberty, Mrs. S. H. Nance; an early American, Mrs. D. P. King; an American Indian, Mrs. G. P. ## For Big Home Garden Yield Sow Efficient Vegetables

Carrots Are Root Crops.

Before you buy seeds for a Liberty garden this spring, devote a few evenings to considering what vegetables you will grow. To some extent, the list will depend upon the amount of space you devote to this patriotic leisure-time activity. Heaviest yield from small space can be obtained from vegetables of which we eat the leaves. These include the "greens" which are cooked, and the salad leaves, which are eaten raw. They yield so abundantly they are usually overplanted.

Next in food production, compared to space occupied, are vegetables of which we eat the roots, stems, or seed pods. Beets, carrots, parsnips, broccoli, snap beans, turnips and onions all give heavy yields, are rich in caloric value, vitamins and minerals. Don't discard any of these on the theory that you do not like them, unless you have eaten them when half grown, fresh from the garden. This is an experience which only home gardeners can enjoy, and it will give anyone a new conception of how delicious vegetables can be.

Vegetables which give the lowest return in food value for the space they occupy are those of which we eat the seed or fruits, such as melons, cucumbers, squash, sweet corn, peas and lima beans. But if you can grow these on stakes, trellises or fences, thus exploiting the air rights of your garden area, you can afford these luxury crops even in a small garden.

Tomatoes should be grown in every garden, pruned and staked preferably, so they take up no more soil space than carrots, yet yield abundantly over a long season. Cucumbers, melons, and pole lima beans are all good crops for training on a garden fence, where they yield well.

A plan which keeps your garden space busy throughout the season will require some study. The crops which require most planning are those which give a short harvest and should be planted for several crops, maturing one after the other. The tendency is to sow too much in the spring, so there is more than you can use from the first harvest, then a scarcity later on.

Chard Is a Leaf Crop.

Snap Beans Are Pod Crops.

The faster a vegetable grows, the less time it remains in good table condition after it matures. To prevent waste, you must sow at first only enough seed to produce the vegetables you can use before they lose quality. Then make other sowings, to mature in succession, so you always have a new crop, in harvest or approaching it.

This takes figuring, but is not really difficult. A few hours devoted to planning this winter, will save much wasted effort in the spring and summer. To enjoy a garden, you should keep it as small as practical, fertilize it richly, give it plenty of water, protection against insects, and good cultivation. Such a garden if well planned will produce as large a harvest, of superior quality, and with less work, than twice as much space, upon which the same amount is expended without a plan.

Sweet Peas Coming Back to Star in Home Gardens

Sweet peas, once the most popular annual flowers in this country, grown in almost every garden, are making a strong come-back. Varieties which bloom early and resist hot weather are in part responsible, and better methods of growing help a great deal.

It used to be advised, and still is in some garden books, that seed of sweet peas should be sown at the bottom of a trench six inches deep, covered lightly with soil and allowed to grow, the trench being filled in as the plants grew.

Spencer Type Sweet Peas.

Now we are advised to make a drill only 1 1/2 inches deep in which to sow the seeds, which is not only a lot easier to do, but avoids plenty of trouble from poor drainage and disease. Fall sowing is not advised by today's experts except in Florida and California, but stress is put upon the importance of sowing early, as soon after killing frosts have ended as the soil can be prepared.

Sweet peas and garden peas are first cousins. They are cool weather plants by nature, and give their best yields before the weather gets really hot. This makes early flowering vital in sections where spring is a brief interval between freezing and perspiring.

When the old fashioned grandiflora type of sweet peas was made obsolete by the larger and more beautiful Spencer waved strain, it was found that the newer type was so much later in flowering that hot summer weather cut its harvest short in many sections.

It took time to change this, but there are few problems which modern plant breeders cannot solve, and this one was solved some years ago. More and more gardeners are learning that now there are available strains of Spencer sweet peas which bloom early, and resist hot weather, so that a long season of beautiful flowers is possible from seeds sown in the outdoor garden.

Seeds can be sown as early as the hardest varieties of garden peas.

Regular watering is essential; after the spring rains end, the soil should be soaked at least every week, often if necessary to prevent drying out. A liquid plant food rich in nitrogen should be applied every two weeks, equal to an ounce of sulphate of ammonia for 10 feet of row. A mulch of manure, lawn clippings, or similar material will help retain the moisture in the soil and prolong the flowering season.

Sweet peas are legumes, and secrete nitrogen from the air. They benefit if the seeds are inoculated with a bacterial culture sold for that purpose.

"INCLINE YOUR EARS" — PSALM 78:1

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

A heart enlarged by overproduction of muscle fiber, called cardiac hypertrophy, runs into trouble because the blood vessels that feed the heart and the veins that take away the waste products from the muscle lose contact with each other cutting down on the proper nourishment of the heart.

This contact between all arteries and veins in the body is a capillary bed, a lacy, web-like structure of tiny, tiny vessels. As small and delicate as these capillary beds are in all parts of the body, they are even tinier in the heart and there are fewer of them. So when that contact between the arteries and the veins is diminished because of the growing size of the heart, the muscle fibers fail to get sufficient food and air replenishment from the blood. This results in a condition which is known as myocardial strain and is diagnosed by a peculiar rhythm of the heart, known as the gallop rhythm.

Just as the heart muscle may overdevelop under certain conditions, it may also shrink, which is called atrophy of the myocardium. Atrophy is usually caused by a severe and long-drawn-out illness, by starvation or by extreme old age. Since the heart is compressed as it shrinks, the inside of the heart cannot function properly nor can the arteries or the muscles that feed and work the heart.

The heart muscle may become inflamed (myocarditis) in the wake of an extensive inflammation anywhere in the body. It may undergo chronic changes (myocardosis) due to old age or chronic illness, just like any other part of the body. Severe accidents and such wounds as stabs or fractured ribs may interfere with the proper functioning of the myocardium. The blood vessels that feed the heart may get off on the wrong track, cutting paths into parts of the muscle where they don't belong (aneurysm).

But the heart muscle is one of the toughest parts of the body and can usually repair damage to itself many times before it finally makes known to you the fact that all isn't going well and requires some medical attention. When that time comes, attention must be forthcoming to preserve the function of the heart muscle, which is the function of life itself.

... is somewhat like fishing without luck - there's no thrill to it. But there is real thrill in moving forward, serving humbly and doing some one thing well. We never heard of an abstractor getting rich as such, but we have heard of those who have spent a life-time as we have, building up title institutions that are assets to their communities. Yes, we get a thrill out of every order and a real joy in producing it into a quality product.

door by Mrs. W. D. Hazel, Mrs. Ione Fewell, and Mrs. D. Ball.

After the guests had registered each received a Texas Day favor which was a map, edged in blue, with a small cellophane bag of blue bonnet seed tied with blue ribbon and Cisco located on the map.

The meeting opened by all singing, "The Eyes Of Texas." Through the courtesy of the West Texas Utility Company and Miss Eudora Hawkins of Abilene, the film, "America's First Silver Plate, Also The Beautiful China," was shown to the group. The film showed the very beginning of making silver and china until it was placed on the tables and in the stores.

The tea table from which spiced tea, coffee, cookies and mints were served was laid with a lace cloth and held a centerpiece of white stock in blue containers. Mrs. D. Ball presided at the silver tea service.

Twenty-nine guests attended.
