

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

MR. GUY LOMBARDO, the orchestra leader, is expected to visit Cisco sometime Friday morning. He is interested in an oil well here and plans to look it over. He is in a partner with Jimmy Hill of Wichita Falls, and they have an interest in the Jack Hail No. 1 Thelma Richardson—the newest well in the south Cisco pool.

Understand the Lombardo orchestra will play a concert in Wichita Falls tonight, and Keil Lombardo will head out to Cisco early Friday. They've been partners in a number of drilling ventures, and this is their first good well.

WE DIDN'T THINK much of the wind and sandstorm yesterday, but we were impressed with what we saw. A man went into Cate Atkins' newsstand at the Victor Hotel and bought a copy of The Press. He let it get away when he went out the door and it started blowing high and fast. He gave chase. And we were pleased that he thinks enough of The Press to run after it.

THE PRESS IS going to have an article about the school buses some of these days. Mr. Elmer Eade of the Cisco Junior College high school ran into us several months ago and asked if we'd like to have one. Sure, we told him.

We ran into Mr. Frede yesterday at the Lions Club and he told us he's still working on it. Didn't we him a deadline.

AT THE LIONS Club luncheon, young Mr. Johnny Turner played the piano in the absence of the club sweetheart, Miss Jane Flint. Her music is coming along nicely. He's the son of the C. J. Turners.

RAN INTO MR. E. G. Dameron of the Firestone store, and he showed us a score card where he had played golf at the Brook Hollow Country Club course in Dallas. We asked him if he was practicing for the coming annual Open tournament, which will be played in Dallas, but he isn't the case. He had gone to Firestone dealer's meeting in Dallas and some of the boys went for a round of golf.

Mr. Dameron reports that the purpose of the meeting was to see a new Firestone tube-less tire. They'll be on display at his store before very long.

COMES A LETTER from Mr. George N. Irvine of the Humble Company to say "thank you very much for your fine effort in helping put over the Red Cross fund drive. He wrote all the checkers a letter to thank them for their fine results.

We should write Mr. Irvine a letter to compliment him on a job of leadership. Well, he, sir.

MR. R. N. CLUCK'S scouts report to him that mosquitoes are ready being hatched in some of the little ponds of water around town. It seems like a good idea of all of us to check around our places to be sure that there are no places for mosquitoes to breed. Let's get after them early this year.

COMES OUR COPY of Tracks, a railroad magazine, and it tells a story of a youthful Air Force pilot in Korea. The lad had just been his fighter after a mission with the 38th Parallel and in to report to his commanding officer.

"Were you nervous during the 'kick'?" asked the C. O. "Who? Me?" asked the pilot. "No, sir, I was cool as a cucumber though the whole show." "Well," replied the C. O. "I thought you might have been a little jittery when you radioed that 15,000 enemy jets were coming in at eight feet."

Church Of Christ Leaders To Study Building Project

A meeting of elders and deacons of the local Church of Christ has been called for 7:30 p. m. Friday to work on the completion of plans for the erection of a new building which is expected to begin soon.

All officers of the congregation and others of the building committee were invited to attend the meeting.

It was expected that the architectural design of the proposed building would be studied and a date for the beginning of the construction would be discussed.

District Courts May Consolidate Davenport Reports

The next Texas Legislature will consider the consolidation of the 90th District Court and the 91st District Court if it acts upon a recommendation made by a committee of judges who met in Fort Worth last week to study changes in the judiciary.

The 90th District Court, serving Stephens and Young Counties, and the 91st District Court, serving Eastland County, will be consolidated if the findings of the committee are approved, it was reported by Judge George L. Davenport, judge of the 91st Court, who was a member of the group meeting in Fort Worth. Judge Davenport reported that he opposed the recommendation.

Judge Davenport recommended that both courts be retained and that new counties be added to their jurisdiction to justify retention of both.

The recommendation of the committee is not binding on the Legislature but it was believed that the problem would be placed before the law makers at their next session. The committee was formed in an effort to work out changes brought about by population shifts.

Services Planned For Local Man

The body of E. J. Williamson, a resident of Cisco for the past five years who died in San Angelo Tuesday night, was to be shipped to Hattiesburg, Miss., at noon Thursday where final rites will be held probably Saturday.

Mr. Williamson, a retired saw mill operator, was born in Alabama on December 4, 1889. He and Mrs. Williamson came to Cisco five years ago from Mississippi for his health. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his wife and a number of brothers and sisters. Thomas Funeral Home of Cisco was in charge of local arrangements.

Clevelands Will Attend Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Cleveland, Cisco, plan to attend the next meeting of the West Central Texas Optometric Society on Sunday, March 16, in Abilene.

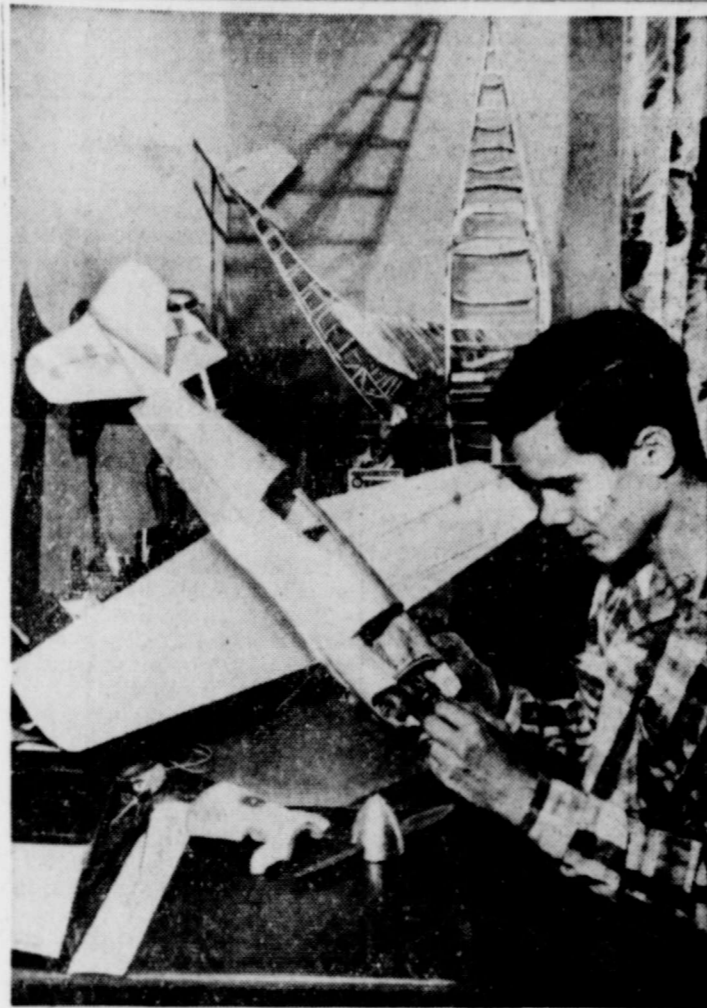

Motoring's Vision is the topic for discussion. "I didn't see" is the common tragic explanation of automobile accidents.

This is not a valid excuse, states the American Optometric Association in a recent booklet published on Motoring's Vision. "When you are driving, it is your business to see. You should see everything necessary to drive without injury to yourself or others," the book said.

Visual skills necessary for safe driving are: clear distant vision, wide field of vision, perfect depth perception, and excellent light and dark adaptation.

Clear distant vision is the ability to see the car ahead, as well as on coming cars, for a reasonable distance. Forty-four states require a test of visual acuity before issuing a license.

FACILITIES ARE READY TO CARE FOR LIVESTOCK SHOW ANIMALS

Exhibitors at the annual Eastland County Livestock Show, to be held at the old Airport one mile north of Eastland on March 28 and 29, will find adequate facilities for taking care of their animals, show officials have reported.

A wash rack has been constructed large enough to take care of several calves, cows or pigs at one time. The hanger is large, roomy, well lighted both naturally and artificially when needed. All livestock is to be housed inside. Cattle and swine are to be in the big hanger at the airport while sheep and goats will occupy one of the smaller buildings. Eastland City officials have proven very cooperative in the undertaking it was said. The city owns the land and buildings.

S. P. Crofts, Cisco, president of the County Livestock Raisers Association, sponsors of the show, advised that practically everything is in readiness for the event. There is no entry fee for the show and both adult and junior exhibitors are urged to enter their animals for the two day show. They have to be on the ground and in place, properly entered with the respective superintendents by 10 o'clock on the morning of the opening day, C. M. McCain, general show manager said.

There are no facilities for showing either poultry or turkeys, however, officials indicated.

The horse show to be held in connection with the affair will be under the direction of Sig Faircloth and Pete Tindall, both of Eastland, who have wide acquaintance with horse men from over the state.

The show arena for livestock has been built large enough to take care of all animals in any one class and is outside of the buildings.

Pipe Line Worker Will Be Buried

Final rites for James Dewey Sylvester, 53 year old Delta City, Miss., man who died suddenly Wednesday while at work on a pipe line north of Cisco, will be held in Greenville, Miss., late this week or early next week.

Mr. Sylvester was stricken while on his job with the Associated Pipe Line Company engaged in laying the big Gulf Oil Company line north of Lake Cisco. The body was to be shipped to its final resting place at noon Thursday. Thomas Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

ANNUAL SCHOOL CENSUS BEING TAKEN OF CHILDREN IN DISTRICT

The annual census of school age children is now being taken in the Cisco Independent School District, Superintendent Arlin Bint reported today. The census must be finished by April 1, and some 1,100 students are expected to be counted.

Census takers for the job are Principals Buck Overall, C. B. Midkiff, Roy Killingsworth and DE Supervisor Norris Young.

All children between the ages of 6 and 18, as of September 1, 1952, should be included in the count, Mr. Bint said. He urged parents to be sure that their children are included in the census.

State aid to the local school district is based on the number of scholastics counted in the census, which is taken each year during the month of March.

Series Of Special Events Planned

"A Dollar's Worth for a Dollar." That's the slogan of Cisco businessmen who this week are inaugurating their first monthly Dollar Day promotion. Friday and Saturday have been designated as Dollar Days, and many advertisements in today's edition of The Press call attention to attractive merchandise values.

Plans as worked out by the trade extension committee of the Merchants Credit Association call for Dollar Days to be held during the latter part of each month. Other monthly promotions will be a regular First Monday trades day, which will begin on Monday, April 7. Every 5th Saturday during the year will be "mystery day."

Virtually all of the city's businessmen are cooperating in the first Dollar Day program.

The first Monday promotion will be tied into the reopening of the Livestock Auction Sales barn here, which is scheduled for Monday, March 24. The association committee was instrumental in obtaining an operator for the sales barn.

A committee of merchants met Wednesday afternoon to make final plans for the first trade promotion program and to discuss the outlook for the sales barn.

"We appreciate the patronage that we enjoy in the Cisco area," President Homer Ferguson of the Merchants Credit Association said, "and we are endeavoring to show our appreciation through offering attractive values for area shoppers."

"The reopening of the sales barn is something that the rural residents have long desired, and we are giving this project our backing because he has a place in the community life."

FARM DEFERMENTS DATA SENT DRAFT BOARDS BY DIRECTOR

AUSTIN, March 13.—Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, today released the contents of a letter written to all draft board members in Texas on the subject of farm deferments. The letter in its entirety follows: Dear Board Member: As a matter of information on the subject of manpower withdrawals from agricultural areas, you probably will be interested to know that there are three factors contributing to the reduction in farm labor. They are, in the order in which they are causing losses, as follows: (1) Losses due to the heavy migration of farm workers to other employment; (2) Losses due to non-selective recruiting by the armed forces; and (3) Losses due to inductions through Selective Service. Agriculture is being called upon to increase production. At the same time it faces further losses of workers. The Department of Agriculture has requested the farmers of Texas to produce in 1952 a marked increase over the 1951 production. The following increases have been requested: (1) Losses due to the heavy migration of farm workers to other employment; (2) Losses due to non-selective recruiting by the armed forces; and (3) Losses due to inductions through Selective Service. Agriculture is being called upon to increase production. At the same time it faces further losses of workers. The Department of Agriculture has requested the farmers of Texas to produce in 1952 a marked increase over the 1951 production. The following increases have been requested:

Corn: from 42,143,300 bushels in 1951 to 52,000,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 23 per cent. Oats: from 8,145,300 bushels in 1951 to 24,920,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 206 per cent. Barley: from 518,000 bushels in 1951 to 1,357,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 165 per cent. Grain sorghum: from 71,085,000 bushels in 1951 to 124,800,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 76 per cent. Wheat: from 17,307,000 bushels in 1951 to 50,036,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 189 per cent. Rye: from 78,000 bushels in 1951 to 135,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 73 per cent. Cotton: from 4,043,000 bales in 1951 to 4,799,000 bales in 1952, an increase of 19 per cent. Flax seed: from 75,000 bushels in 1951 to 962,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 1,183 per cent. Sweet potatoes: from 1,365,000 bushels in 1951 to 3,010,000 bushels in 1952, an increase of 121 per cent. Quotas were not set on meat and dairy products; however, any decrease in production would immediately be felt by all concerned, both in price and availability. The Selective Service System alone cannot solve the problem, but to the extent that our actions bear upon it, we should employ all means to contribute to its proper solution. It is suggested that your board give serious and careful consideration to all agricultural and other occupational cases and that the provisions of regulations and memoranda covering such cases continue to be responsibly applied. It is also urged that your board avail itself of the services of local representatives of the Department of Agriculture and Labor so that full advantage may be taken of whatever information and guidance they offer. In this connection, I would again urge especially that the local board realize the importance of its assuming fully the responsibility which is yours under the law and that you act within the broad provisions of the regulations as you see the individual case affecting the national interest under local conditions. If there be any of you who have the idea that the absence of specific criteria and rigid rules of measure limits you in your authority to classify as your judgement indicates, please promptly dispel that idea. We cannot overlook the high probability that each physically fit young man will have his turn at service of training, but that in itself makes the proper timing of service more important. Manpower procurement must be an orderly process in which administrative skill, policy coordination, consideration application of the law and regulations, and complete assumption of responsibility are constantly demanded. I know that the Texas boards are doing an excellent job with respect to classifying their registrants and that they will follow the suggestions above to the best of their ability. Your continued cooperation is gratefully appreciated. (Signed) PAUL L. WAKEFIELD, State Director.

Never Too Wet, or Too Dry, Ideal Soil for Garden

Keep Garden Soil Porous, and Break Up Surface Crust, to Favor Free Entry of Fresh Air.

Which is most harmful to a garden, too much or too little rain? This is a good question for a garden club quiz program, because it gets out points of which too few gardeners are aware.

The answer is not easy. On the one hand there are the desert soils, which are barren until irrigated artificially, and then respond with extremely heavy yields. In contrast, areas where the soil never dries will refuse to produce crops unless it has been well drained.

The difficulty here is lack of air, which seems to be even more important than water to the roots of growing plants. Air cannot penetrate soil which is saturated with water, and the effects of too much water are more quickly fatal, than lack of it.

they knew from experience that plants thrived in soils that allowed water to drain away quickly, and were easy to spade and cultivate.

Never add clay to a sandy soil to make it friable, and never add sand to a clay soil for that purpose. Both need the same treatment, increased humus, which is decayed organic matter. Best sources of humus for a new garden include sewage sludge, which is often obtainable free at sewage treatment plants; and not only peat moss, but also the black peat or muck dug from local beds, which are numerous in many sections of this country. Well decayed manure is best of all, where it can be obtained; and the compost pile is a last resort, because it is so difficult to produce enough humus quickly enough to do a good job of correcting poor soil.

Heavy soils, which contain too much clay, may be loosened by adding limestone screenings, which have a chemical effect that makes the fine clay particles coarser, and supply calcium which plays an important part in releasing plant food locked up in clay. The danger of using too much limestone is not great, because it breaks down slowly. It has a mechanical as well as a chemical effect in loosening heavy soil. Weathered coal ashes, and fine cinders will also help to make heavy soils porous.

More humus is supplied to soil by the roots of plants, than by the tops, even when they are saved in a compost pile. But a good program should provide for a constant renewal of the supply of humus, by adding liberal amounts each year.

Let rain into the soil quickly, allow excess moisture to drain, soil must be porous. Sand may be too porous, because it allows all water to run off; and clay usually not porous enough because it holds water and excludes air. Both are improved by decayed organic matter, known as humus, which is like a sponge, holding some water a long time, but allowing it to enter at the same time.

The most important improvement you can make in garden soil is to make it porous. A porous soil is called a friable soil, and a friable soil is said to have good tilth. These are "old gardener" terms, used by men who did not have the advantage of the scientific experiments which have proved the importance of air to plant roots; but

Vets Questions And Answers

Q. — I plan to obtain a GI home loan, but I lost my original discharge papers which I'm supposed to present to the lender. What should I do?

A. — You must apply for a certificate in lieu of the discharge papers from the branch of service from which you were discharged.

Q. — I am a World War II veteran, entitled to a pension because I lost my sight. Do I have to show actual need for the aid and attendance of another person, in order to qualify for the increased rate of $120 a month, authorized by a recent law?

A. — No. Blinded veterans are not required to show need for aid in getting about, in connection with the recent pension increase.

Q. — I am attending school under the GI Bill, and I have about two years of entitlement remaining. Will I be allowed to take the summer vacation off, and resume next Fall, or must I stay in training all year 'round, so as not to lose out under VA's post-cut-off-date regulations?

A. — If your school's practice is to have a summer vacation for all students that want it, you may take that vacation and resume your studies in the fall. The regulations require you to remain in continuous training ex-

Reduction Seen In Trapped Deer

AUSTIN, March 13. — Sharp reduction in the number of whitetailed deer trapped in Texas this season was reported by the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game & Fish Commission.

He said about half the deer needed for re-stocking commitments were taken during the period which began late last October and has just ended.

The Assistant Director said the total trapped was slightly more than 300. The schedule had called for 600 whitetails.

He explained the principal reason for the trapping slowdown was a mild winter on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge where the trapping is done.

"The natural food was so plentiful," he said, "that the deer were not interested in the cottonseed cake used to bait the traps. In ordinary winters the animals relish this food. This winter, because of the mild conditions and plentiful food on the range, the deer kept robust and amply nourished.

"It all goes to point up the problem of planning scientific aids to wildlife and the problems

Navy Needs Men As Teachers For Summer Program

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 13. — Want to teach this summer? The Navy needs qualified Naval Reserve Officers and enlisted personnel not on active duty to teach its Reserve Officer Candidate classes for eight weeks during the summer.

The "ROC" students are college men and women who perform the Navy part of their training during their summer vacations from their studies. Men will train at a naval activity on the west coast, that occur when Nature takes a hand.

The Assistant Director said one result of the trapping decrease was disappointing in some areas where re-stocking commitments had been made.

He added that one conspicuous setback concerned the new wildlife management area near Crockett in Houston County. Whereas several loads of whitetails had been scheduled for release in that area, only a part of one load was delivered. The remaining deer will be obtained through priority arrangements next season, he said.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

There are many different theories as to the exact origin of an attack of angina pectoris, one of the leading heart disorders. Wherever the first cause that creates the attack may originate, however, the consensus of medical studies seems to point to the fact that the effect is brought about, by a lack of blood or oxygen within the heart muscle, the myocardium.

Angina pectoris is often associated with disease of the coronary arteries, the blood vessels that enfold and feed the heart itself. The name, angina pectoris, is most often applied only to the pain itself, the symptom of the attack, and not to the heart condition which is present and underlies the attack.

Coronary insufficiency is one of the names by which the heart condition that produces angina pectoris may be known. With this heart condition the need of the heart muscle (myocardium) for oxygen is greater than the amount of oxygen which the blood stream feeds the heart; as long as the demands of the heart muscle are kept down, there is no insufficiency; but when emotion, exercise, rapid temperature changes or any other circumstances arise that speed up the demands of the heart muscle, then the insufficiency develops and with it the possibility of angina pectoris.

The type of activity or change or circumstance that brings on an attack of angina pectoris is always important in the diagnosis of the underlying heart condition. A strenuous game or some violent exercise that precedes the attack would mean that only under extreme conditions does the heart need more oxygen than it normally receives. If overeating, overdrinking or an emotional stress precedes the attack, then it is concluded that the insufficiency of oxygen is somewhat pronounced. If the attacks come without any sort of stress or strain preceding them, then it stands to reason that the oxygen to the heart muscle is at a dangerously low level and would require more restrictive treatment.

Angina pectoris is considered a result of temporary insufficiency in the coronary arteries of the heart. For the given amount of work the heart muscle has to do under a special condition such as stress and strain, the bloodstream fails to provide enough blood and oxygen, the heart muscles squeeze out all the blood and oxygen in the arteries, and the pain known as angina pectoris is felt. With rest or nitroglycerin the heart and arteries relax and the attack passes.

Thus the limitations of the heart are made known and the person suffering from coronary insufficiency learns that he must not stretch himself or his heart beyond that dividing line which means ease or angina pectoris pain.

This is one of the diseases known as functional, meaning it arises only because of the function of the heart. Functional heart disturbances differ from structural heart diseases.

Coronary occlusion is a structural coronary disease, resulting from an actual change in the structure of the coronary arteries. It is sometimes known as coronary thrombosis. Thrombus in an artery is the blocking of the channel to such an extent that the blood can no longer circulate, which results in circulatory failure.

Coronary thrombosis is usually a slowly-building-up process with a sudden, dramatic manifestation of circulatory failure there in the coronary artery. The inside wall of the artery, the intima, gets toughened and the pores in it get bigger; some of the blood accumulates inside the walls of the artery and makes the intima bulge out into the stream of flowing blood. Then the debris in the bloodstream gets deposited along that bulge, eventually blocking the whole stream of blood or gets swept loose by the pressure of the stream and closes up some blood vessel further downstream in the coronary artery. When the occlusion (plugging) takes place there where the debris built a dam, it is known as coronary thrombosis. When the dislodged thrombus plugs up some artery further along the line, it is known as coronary embolism. Both coronary thrombosis and coronary embolism are known as coronary occlusion.

Since 1900 the U. S. has had five Republican and three Democratic presidents.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

NOT TOO LATE

Waiting until the last minute to file your 1951 Income Tax return. Even if you have already paid some tax savings may be available.

While there are few bright spots in the tax picture for the average taxpayer, lawyers say some lucky individuals may be able to take advantage of certain provisions of the Revenue Act. For example, they now claim an exemption for a dependent whose gross income during the year was any amount less than $600. Previously, an income of $500 or more by the dependent barred your claim for an exemption on his account.

If you sold your home during 1951, you may avoid being taxed on any profit made in the transaction by purchasing and occupying a new home within one year. The new residence must cost as much or more than the sales price of the old one. However, you may include note and other liabilities in figuring the cost of your new home.

Suppose you bought a home in 1945 for $5000 and sold it on July 1, 1951, for $8500, making a profit of $3500. If you buy and move into a new home not later than June 30, 1952, costing as much as $8500, no tax will be due on your $3500 profit. This is true even though you may pay only $500 or less as a down payment on the new home and the balance of the purchase price is represented by a note and mortgage.

However, the Bureau wants a record of your transactions, even though no tax is due. If you have already repurchased, both your sale and your purchase should be shown on separate Schedule D and attached to your tax return. If you have not bought your new home as yet, but expect to do so before the one year limit runs out, report the 1951 sale on Schedule D anyhow. But, enter the word "None" in the Gain or Loss column and add a short explanation that you expect to purchase or rebuild. Then, when you do replace, write the collector giving him full details on the transaction. If your plans for replacement should fall through, an amended 1951 return would be necessary.

Another new feature which may save taxes for some people is the removal of one limitation on medical expense deductions for all persons over 65. They are no longer limited to the excess over and above 5% of adjusted gross income. The limit still applies to all taxpayers under 65, unless their husband or wife happens to be 65 or older. In this event, both husband and wife may deduct medical expenses without reference to the amount of adjusted gross income. However, the general limitation of $1250 per individual still applies in all cases.

If you have passed up any of these savings, an amended return may pay dividends.

The new Self Employment Tax is causing extra tax return headaches for some people this year. If you had net earnings of $400 or more derived from a trade or business which you conducted during 1951 as a sole proprietor or as a partner, this new tax may apply to you. Public officials, railroad workers, ministers and various professional people are excluded from the application of this tax, as are non-resident aliens.

Similarly, income derived from farming, interest and dividends from securities, and gains and losses resulting from sale or exchange of capital assets are excluded. Rentals from real property are excluded except in the case of a real estate broker.

This new tax covers many people newly added to the list of those covered by the Social Security Act, and is imposed to help finance the benefits they may later receive. If you are liable for the Self Employment Tax, you should obtain separate Schedule C and file with your regular tax return.

Applying in many instances where no regular income tax is due, this tax will also force some people to file returns even though their gross income of less than $600 would not otherwise require a filing. Suppose you operated a very small business and grossed only $590 in 1951. Under the old law, no return would be required.

However, under the 1951 Act, the Self Employment Tax is carried from Schedule C to Form 1040 and collected as a part of your total income tax liability. If your net income from this small business was $401, you would be required to file a completed 1040 return along with Schedule C in order to comply with the law.

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

H-SU President Will Speak For Oil Men's Meeting

AUSTIN, March 13. — Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, will be the luncheon speaker at the sixth annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association as "a scholar whose learning is liberally flavored with down-to-earth wit, a historian who lives and thinks in the present."

Speaking on the general topic of "oil and education," Dr. Richardson has a deep understanding of both fields. His testimony before Congress in 1949 when Leland Olds was up for reappointment to the Federal Power Commission was credited with helping remove the threat of unwarranted federal jurisdiction over independent gas production and gathering. At that hearing his philosophy upon the business world in general was reflected when he told the committee that he opposed Olds' reappointment because "Mr. Olds' philosophy is not in keeping with our economic system. His credo is that big business is bad business. . . . The evidence indicates that Mr. Olds does not believe in the profit-taking motive."

"I speak here," declared Dr. Richardson, "for myself and a good many friends who still believe in that motive (of profit-taking) and who prefer the society we have, with all its imperfections, to any other that may have been produced without the profit motive."

His book "Texas, The Lone Star State," is one of the most popular histories of the State. He collaborated with Dr. C. C. Rister (author of "Oil: Titan of the Southwest") in writing "The Great Southwest." Another of his books, "The Comanche Barrier," is a history of the South Plains frontier. His latest book, "Adventuring With a Purpose," is the life story of a man who believed in free enterprise, and who built a fortune under the American way. It is the story of A. L. Wasson, Big Spring rancher, oilman and philanthropist.

Approximately 400 Association members from every part of the State are expected to attend. The meeting begins Thursday, March 27, with committee meetings. The full membership gathers the following day for business meetings, luncheon, and the annual dinner.
