ALL OF YOU WILL want to attend the opening game of the baseball season Saturday night at ABC Field when the new Junior team meets Mr. J. L. Thornton's Cisco All-Stars. It will be a real hard-ball game, and the Junior team is all set to play some 30 games this season.

Mr. Thornton and his All-Stars decided to play the boys with an admission charge of $1 to help them out with their uniform fund. You can get tickets at McCauley Tire & Supply, the Victor Hotel and at The Press office.

ABC Field is in fine shape for the season, thanks to a lot of work by the Henson Pipe Line Construction Co., the West Texas Utilities Co., the ABC Club officials and others. They're studying plans to increase the seating capacity.

ALL GOLFERS OF the area are reminded that Saturday night is the deadline to enter the city tournament. Match play begins Sunday. The club hopes to have a large number of players.

LET'S ALL HELP Mr. Sonny Bosworth find his missing dog. She's a red dog and a good one. She was missing from her pin and had left her collar behind. If you've seen her, give Sonny a call up at 1104 West 14th St. or telephone him at No. 1036-W.

MR. JIM SLAUGHTER wants everybody's help in keeping our town free of mosquitoes. He reports that there are several old wells, cisterns and abandoned cellars that have water standing in them. These places are often open and mosquitoes can breed in them. If you know of such a place, call the city hall and report it. All known breeding places in town have been given a treatment with oil.

If we don't let mosquitoes breed, we won't have any to kill, Mr. Slaughter says. Let's all help him.

ONE OF THE best stories we've heard lately concerned a tourist in Florida who was admiring an Indian's necklace.

"What's it made of?" asked the lady.

"Alligator teeth," replied the Indian.

"I suppose," said the lady, "that alligator teeth have the same value for your people that pearls do for us."

"Not quite," said the Indian. "Anybody can open an oyster."

SAW MR. BILL Wright, the attorney, picking flowers in his front yard late yesterday, and we stopped to watch. It turned out that Mrs. W. and their children are visiting in Oklahoma and that Mrs. W. gave Bill written instructions on what to do daily to her flowers. She has some very pretty pansies and roses and others.

Bill was scheduled to leave today to bring them home. He reports that his mother is due home around the 10th from a tour of South America.

WORK IS GOING ON up at Mr. Fleming Waters' house on West 14th. They're building flower beds, and getting ready to replace some weeds with grass in the yard. Phil Waters is chairman of the construction department.

THE RANCH DAY parade was splendid this morning. It's good for the town to have the collegians take over for a big day. Their enthusiasm and drive is worth much to the community. Their program this year appears bigger and better than ever.

THE LAKE CISCO swimming pool is open for the benefit of area high school students. While the pool opens May 1 each year mainly for the youngsters, it's all right for any of you to go out swimming. The water is nice and cool—about forty degrees. But you'll enjoy it. See you there.

VFV PLANS MEETING Members of the Cisco Post 3359, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Legion Hall. Adjutant James C. Jones urged all members to be present.

the City of Cisco were at the meeting and will serve as the board of directors for the organization, which this year was made a member of the Community Chest organization.

Mrs. J. V. Heyser acted as temporary chairman of the meeting and appointed Mrs. James Flournoy, Mrs. Roy Fonville, Music Club; Mrs. Carrell Smith, P. T. A.; Mrs. John Shertzer; First Industrial Arts Club; Mrs. James Flournoy, City Federation; Mrs. Leo Clinton, Delphian Club; Mrs. Don Choate, Girl Scouts; Arlin Birt, public schools and the Rev. D. M. Duke, Ministerial Alliance.

Nazarenes Call Rev. Duke Again

Members of the Cisco Church of the Nazarene Sunday voted to extend a unanimous call to their pastor, the Rev. D. M. Duke, for the coming church year. In addition, the call was extended for two additional years, giving Rev. Duke a contract for the next three years, beginning with the church year in August.

Rev. Duke came to the Cisco congregation over a year ago and has been active in both church and civic work since his arrival. The call represented a vote of confidence by his members for his fine work while here.

Johnson Smith Is Candidate For Office Of Clerk

Johnson Smith of Eastland Friday requested the Press to announce his candidacy for the office of county clerk of Eastland County in the coming Democratic primaries.

Mr. Smith is 42 years old and was a farmer and mechanic until World War II. He served four years in the armed forces with Armored Ordinance Tank Corps. He received his training at Fort Knox and served overseas in England, France and Belgium.

For the past four years he has been farm shop instructor in the Eastland County Veterans Vocational School. He is married and has two daughters.

Mr. Smith said that he would issue a formal statement later.

SEYMOUR TO SPEAK

The letter stated that the money was used to purchase a plow to be sent to needy Greek farmer.

East Baptists To Finish Building

Members of the East Cisco Baptist Church voted Wednesday night to complete construction work on their building and to complete the educational unit which is a part of the new building.

The work on the education unit was expected to begin soon and when it is completed the church unit will have ample space to care for all classes. The building was erected following a fire some two years ago which destroyed the old building. The Rev. F. C. Bradley, in announcing the plan, said that it was just another step forward for the congregation.

Love Withdraws As Candidate For Eastland Clerk

W. V. (Virgil) Love, Eastland County Clerk, announced today that he has decided to withdraw as a candidate for re-election to the office. He had announced for re-election recently but has since decided not to make the race again.

Mr. Love announced his retirement today ahead of the May 5 filing deadline, he said, in fairness to any other candidate or candidates who may wish to seek the office.

Mr. Love has been in the clerk's office for 16 years, serving eight years as deputy clerk before his election to the office. He now is completing his fourth elective term and was without opposition during the four elections.

"I am very grateful for the wonderful support given me in the county the past and for the many friends who have helped me during my terms of office, Mr. Love said. "I have made every effort to serve the people of Eastland County to the best of my ability."

"As I withdraw my name from the list of candidates, I do so because I feel it is the wise thing to do in the best interests of myself."

New Bonds Placed On Sale In May

DALLAS May 2. — A substantial increase in the sale of United States Defense Bonds is expected as the result of new and more attractive features in these securities, Nathan Adams of Dallas, Defense Bond chairman for Texas, predicted.

Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder announced in Washington Tuesday (April 29) that interest rates on Series E bonds are being raised, that three types of new bonds will be offered, and that two types of old bonds will be discontinued. The changes take effect May 1.

The Series E Defense Bond, the most popular of the savings bonds, with the masses, will have a 3 per cent interest rate, with a better return during the earlier years prior to maturity. The limit of these bonds any one person can buy during a year has been raised from $10,000 to $20,000.

The sale of Series F and G bonds is discontinued as of May 1, although persons having bought them prior to that date will be able to retain them.

Three new bonds — Series H, J and K — are substituted for Series F and G.

Cheves, second base; Dr. Jim Lawrence, third base; Tut Tabor, shortstop; and Bucky Harris, J. D. White and Y. J. Riley, outfielders.

The starting Junior team was released by Managers D. N. Morrison and Bill Burrows as follows: James Brogdon, pitcher; Tommy Reynolds, catcher; James Thurman, first base; Freddie Hayes, second base; Don Emsley, third base; Bob Lloyd, shortstop; and Jerry Weiser, Don Greenhaw and Jerry McMurtry, outfielders.

Beginning Sunday, May 4, courses will be taught each night through Thursday. All young people and adults of the community have been invited to attend the revival, the Rev. Ralph T. Wootton, pastor, reported.

AFTERNOON AND NIGHT EVENTS TO END RANCH DAY ACTIVITIES

An afternoon program, rodeo events, a barbecue and a dance were scheduled Friday afternoon and night as the concluding events of the annual Cisco Junior College Ranch Day. The day's activities opened Friday morning with one of the best parades the city has seen in many years.

A large crowd of visiting high school students mingled with Cisco Junior Collegians to assure the success of the day. College officials reported that attendance was excellent and that the day's program promised to be outstanding in all respects.

A rainstorm shortly after lunch failed to dampen the spirit of Ranch Day participants. The afternoon program was to settle annual contests on beard growing, name typical cowboy and cow-girl students and take care of business matters.

A number of rodeo contests, including calf roping, and races of several kinds, were expected to draw good crowds. Many citizens of Cisco were planning to attend the 5 p. m. barbecue at College Hill. The dance was scheduled for 8 p. m. at the Cisco Country Club.

The morning parade attracted a large crowd in town. Hardin-Simmons University's noted Cowboy Band was a feature of the parade. Prior to the parade, the Cowboys played a concert in downtown Cisco.

Two horsemen carried the national and state colors to lead the parade, and they were followed by the Cisco Junior College band. Following was a car carrying city and Chamber of Commerce officials, the Fire Department's safety car and a Fire Truck, Thomas Funeral Home, McCauley Tire & Supply, Randy Steffen's chuck wagon, a CJC English Department float, Osborne Motor Company, Burton-Lingo Co., the Vetreans of Foreign Wars, Warren Motor Co.

Baird High School's band led another section, followed by the Lobo Band float, Philpott's Lee Weir Motor Co., CJC Dormitory girls, Blake's Garage, Eastland High School, a 1910 model car and many horsemen.

The Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band led a section that included entries by the CJC School of Music, East Ward School, A-G Motor Company, Boy Scouts, Los Chicos Club, Muirhead Motor Co., Garrett & Speir, Inc., Junior High Mothers Club, Gallagher Clay Products Co., Singer Sewing Center, Rising Star High School band, the FFA Chapter, the American Legion, L&L Motors, Smithville Colored School, the Cisco Round-up Club.

The last section was led by the Cross Plains High School band, an attractive organization with new uniforms, followed by the Lions Club float, Paul Daniel Motor Co., Nance Motor Company, the Cisco Unit of the Texas National Guard, and the Pippen-Lawler Farm Machinery Company.

NEARLY INCH RAIN

Seven tenths of an inch of rain fell during a brief thunderstorm downpour in Cisco shortly after lunch today. Rain gauges at Lake Cisco registered an even half inch. The forecast called for probably afternoon and night thunderstorms.

County Delegates Will Be Selected

A comparatively large crowd is expected to attend the Precinct 6 Democratic Convention at 2 p. m. Saturday at the City Hall Auditorium as Eastland County Democrats hold their precinct meetings throughout the county.

Purpose of the precinct conventions is to elect delegates to the county convention, which will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, May 6, at the county courthouse in Eastland. The Cisco precinct will elect ten delegates to the county convention.

The precinct conventions will also adopt any resolutions that they might like taken up at the county convention. Party pledges and instructed delegates are expected to be two topics to be discussed by the precinct and county conventions.

Fred Grist, veteran chairman of the Cisco precinct, indicated today that he would be unable to attend Saturday's meeting. The meeting will be opened by a temporary chairman appointed by County Chairman Fred Williams.

The first order of the precinct convention's business will be the election of a permanent chairman and a permanent secretary. Following this action, the delegates will be selected for the county meeting and the resolutions will be taken up.

The county convention next Tuesday will elect delegates to the state convention. Precincts are allowed one delegate for every 25 votes cast in the last gubernatorial election, and the county will be allowed one state delegate for every 300 votes in the same election.

The comparatively large crowd has been forecast on the basis of a general trend throughout the state and nation for citizens generally to take more interest in the affairs of their county. It has been pointed out that the place to start in the election of national leaders is at the precinct level.

Meanwhile, Eastland County Republicans were planning to hold their county convention Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce offices in Eastland. Purpose of their convention is similar to that of the Democrats.

New Foreign Aid Spending To Cost Texas 342 Million

Texas taxpayers will bear $342,860,000 as their share of the cost of the $7,900,000,000 sought by the President for his 1953 foreign aid program, if approved by Congress, according to figures released by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Estimating that Texas taxpayers presently bear 4.34 per cent of the Federal tax burden, the West Texas chamber applied this percentage to the $7,900,000,000 foreign aid total and came up with $342,860,000 as Texas' share.

Subject to question, said the WTCC, is the wisdom of appropriating $7.9 billion for foreign aid in the face of the largest deficit ever confronting the Federal treasury in a year not marked by all-out war.

The statement added that "it is high time the American people were given a complete and candid accounting of what has been accomplished by the scores of billions of dollars already spent for foreign aid over the past decade."

Even if Congress were not to approve a single dollar of the additional foreign aid appropriation requested by the President for the fiscal year 1953, the WTCC pointed out that an estimated $8 billion in unexpended balance would still be available for foreign spending next year.

The WTCC also declared that Federal agencies in charge of foreign aid spending have smothered Congressional efforts to set up a "little Hoover Commission" to investigate the administration of foreign programs.

SAFETY AND THE HIGHWAY

When our early colonists travelled from settlement to settlement, they relied upon axe scars on the trees to find their way. Later, paths were cleared through forests and underbrush which were finally widened into pack trails for use by horses and oxen pulling ox carts and wagons.

The days of having to wait for good weather to travel are over, due to all-weather roads and the fine highway system we now have. Highway engineers have done marvels in the brief span of the time they have had since the automobile age has come into being.

Until recent years, however, these engineers were not primarily concerned with safety. Other problems at that time had precedence over this factor. With the motor vehicle registration growing at an unreason rate and with people travelling greater distances traffic volume soared. With increased traffic, the danger of accidents rises. One can easily see, that, if only one car leaves Dallas for Austin and another leaves Austin for Dallas, the chances of a collision between these two cars is quite slim. But, as cars are added to this one stretch of road, the probability of at least one accident increases.

The problem of the highway engineer, then, is to see that cars are prevented from making contact with one another or leaving the roadway. Engineers have shown that, under normal conditions, this can be done.

Four lane divided highways have been designed and constructed to prevent oncoming cars from meeting head-on; sharp curves are being eliminated and being replaced by gradual curves; steep grades are being excavated to permit better visibility for the driver; traffic control devices are being improved in every manner possible for the safety of the motorist. All these things and more being done with your safety in mind.

Recent events have proved, though, that in spite of all the engineers have done — even the best of roads still take their toll — due for the most part by the fact that drivers, as a whole, are not keeping in step with the men who design roads and build cars. Most accidents are failure on the part of — not the road, not the car, but the driver.

The Texas Safety Association, in their program for a safer Texas, urges you not to fall into a false feeling of security when you drive on our good streets and highways. Everything is being done for you that can be done but — your safety is up to you.

BIG BONES—Experts at Rome's Zoological Museum put the finishing touches to the skeleton of a pre-historic mammoth, recently taken out of "mothballs" after it had been packed for safety during World War II. It took experts eight weeks to assemble the skeleton, which is one of the largest ever discovered, and now it's on public view again.

Nitrogen Boosts Profits Of Grass Seed Grower

Alta Fescue in June—Left, Fertilized With 200 Lbs. 33% Nitrogen in Spring, Seed Yield, 450 Lbs. Per Acre—Right, No Fertilizer, Seed Yield, 150 Lbs. Per Acre.

Studies with grass seed production have emphasized the great importance of nitrogen in the production of seed and also of forage. Nitrogen acts with incredible—indeed, almost magical—speed with growing grasses. It is almost as if some legendary "fairy wand" had been waved over the earth where nitrogen has been applied. Bluegrass, timothy, the tall fescues, Chewings fescue, brome-grass, orchardgrass, the regrass and smooth bromegrass, and other grasses, respond generously to nitrogen applications in increasing seed yields, more so than to any other fertilizer element.

In Kentucky, nitrogen was found to be the key element in stimulating seed yields of Kentucky bluegrass and was more effective when applied in early spring than in the fall. Where insects were controlled, yields of seed were doubled by the application of 50-60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. On a series of legume and fertilizer plots, the application of small to medium quantities of inorganic nitrogen fertilizers was much more effective in maintaining seed yields of Kentucky bluegrass than association with legumes.

Seed yields of both Ky. 31 fescue and orchardgrass were doubled in Kentucky by the application of 200 pounds per acre of ammonium nitrate. Early spring applications were superior to autumn top-dressings for orchardgrass, while on fescue seed autumn and spring applications were equally effective. When soil moisture was excessive the 200-pound rate of application resulted in considerable lodging.

In Idaho, the application of 30 pounds of nitrogen (150 pounds of ammonium sulphate) annually over a 5-year period increased the average annual seed yields per acre in cultivated rows, over this period, 89 percent or 48 percent for smooth brome, 216 pounds or 61 percent for mountain brome, 184 pounds or 72 percent for crested wheatgrass, and 73 pounds or 53 percent for orchardgrass. In solid stands comparable large increases were also obtained.

In another experiment in Idaho, applications of 20 pounds, 37 pounds, 54 pounds, 76 pounds and 90 pounds of nitrogen the second, third, and fourth year of production, to Bromar mountain bromegrass grown in rows under irrigation, the 4-year average increases in yields for the 5 different rates of application were respectively 59 pounds or 17 percent, 141 pounds or 41 percent, 163 pounds or 48 percent, 286 pounds or 83 percent, and 270 pounds or 79 percent.

In Michigan, the application of ammonium sulphate to alfalfa-bromegrass mixture at the rate of 200 pounds per acre where the bromegrass was in rows and 400 pounds where it was broadcast, gave average increases for 2 years of 167 pounds or 62 percent for the former, and 290 pounds or 89 percent for the latter.

Experiments in other States also emphasize the importance of nitrogen in grass seed production. It must not be assumed, however, that applications of phosphates and potash are not necessary to the maintenance of soil fertility and maximum production of both forage and seed in grasslands, for such is not the case. The results cited simply show the spectacular increases obtained in yields from the application of nitrogen where all other conditions are the same. The more favorable these conditions are, the larger the responses in yields of seed from liberal applications of nitrogen, and the greater the profits.

Project To Help Quail Survive Is Started In State

AUSTIN, May 2.—The Texas Game and Fish Commission and farmers and ranchers are working together in a project designed to help the bobwhite quail in its fight for survival.

This popular game bird has decreased in numbers because of depletion of food and protective cover on extensively cultivated farms and heavily grazed ranges. One method which is being used to help restore these vital needs is explained by the Commission's Director of Wildlife Restoration.

The Game and Fish Commission has established a nursery near Buna, where bicolor lespedeza plants are grown. These plants which provide quail with splendid shelter and an abundance of food when properly cared for and cultivated, are distributed without charge to farmers and ranchers.

Several years ago when the value of bicolor lespedeza for quail was established, the demand immediately began to exceed the limited supply of seeds and plants. The shortage still exists.

FAIRY TALE MONUMENT—A unique monument to the baby deliverers—storks—stands in the center of a playground in the U. S. sector of Berlin. The structure depicts for children the old German fairy tale about the long-billed "klapperstorch" bringing babies to mothers from a far-away pool. The figures below represent the infants playing among water lilies before the stork swoops down to carry them off to be born.

Last year the Game and Fish Commission's nursery produced 392,000 plants at a cost of $3.53 per thousand. The purchase of 200,000 more by the Commission at a cost of $8 per thousand still failed to meet the demand.

However, the nursery was able to increase production from 129,000 plants during the 1950-51 season to 392,000 this year, and there are hopes for further increases next fall.

Persons receiving plants must agree to plant them properly, to fence them against livestock, and to cultivate them.

"Proper game management is never an easy job," the Director of Wild-life Restoration points out. "However, the demand for bicolor lespedeza seems to indicate that there are many Texans willing to work hard in order to keep the bobwhite in our state."

All parts of the body are integrated to maintain a positive balance of the constructive, building forces of the body against the destructive, defensive forces of the body. In the broadest sense, the building forces of the bloodstream are the red cells and their ingredients and the defensive forces of the bloodstream are the white cells.

In the usual disease conditions of the bloodstream, when the building forces fall behind schedule, the destructive forces fall behind schedule, too, maintaining the proper balance which is necessary for life. In simple anemias, that balance is maintained.

In pernicious anemia, however, it seems to be the picture that even though the red cells as the builders have fallen behind schedule, the white cells are still going strong. So you have more destructive action than constructive.

Pernicious anemia used to be a big killer. Only in recent years has medical science brought this devastation of the bloodstream under control through minute exacting laboratory studies which outlined the role of the stomach and liver in the onset of pernicious anemia. Today the administration of liver injections and vitamin B-12 seem to get the production and maturation of red cells back to where these cells can serve constructively, re-establishing the balance between building and destruction.

Pernicious anemia is essentially a disease of middle age or old age. Today, when people are living longer because so many diseases of youth have been controlled, there is expected to be a continued increase in the number of patients with pernicious anemia. There need be no fear anymore of this death giant of the past, however, because medicine now has the slingshot to feel it.
