The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THIS PICTURE "Playtown, A.," which the ABC Club is showing to local civic clubs, has started considerable talk. It is to be shown to other groups next week, and we hope it causes to cause talk and, then, action.

With a little effort and cooperation, Cisco could put a lot of ideas shown in the film to work. Our city has the basic requirements to become the recreation center of this region.

WAS OUT AT the Cisco Country Club late Friday hunting golf holes and noted considerable improvements. They're just about ready to start planting grass for new No. 3 and No. 5 greens. The fairways have been widened, and a good many rocks have been pushed out of the fairways. It looks like they're fixing to move the No. 7 tee box. If they do, they're going to eliminate some golfers like near the No. 6 green, we heard the shouts of excitement. It was out that Prof. Lester Matthews had just parred a hole — maybe his first. He has been among the game, along with Ch. Chambliss and Ken St. Clair, under the tutelage of Bert Clinton. Chambliss and St. Clair own a set of clubs together. Chambliss uses the even number clubs, while St. Clair uses the odds.

COMES A POSTCARD with a golf scene from Mr. W. McDaniel of the Humble company. Writes he: "Just touring the country. We have been several places in Florida. We saw lots of water along the way. Plan to leave Orlando tomorrow and go up to Jacksonville, Fla. Then to old home — Tennessee. Wife and I having fine time."

STOPPED BY THE Church of the Holy Spirit on West 8th street the other evening and inquired, "You fellows going out business?" The busy men were too busy to bother with the joke. They're just about torn up their old church in one piece. They started on May 1 near down the old building and an off the location for a new church building. They are called for leveling the old structure and pulling the nails of the lumber in 10 working days, with members of the congregation doing all the work. The building was over 30 years old. Square cut nails were used in its construction.

The old lumber, still sound, is going into the new building. Members of the church will dig foundation and do such work as they can on the new structure. Some of those working there include Roy Huffmyer, C. E. Higginbotham, Bill Kendrick, A. Z. Rick, Franklin Myrick, C. C. Pen, Harold Pippin, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Krissel, Minister A. R. Miller, Neal Moore, Roy Farley, Earl Moore, I. D. Strawn, Gordon Strawn, T. E. Owens, Hallie Miller and Mrs. Parker, Mrs. W. Dean, Mrs. Roy Farley, Pearl Farley, Tommy Reynolds, Jim Fitzgerald, Herbert Louise Light, Tom Whitt, C. Nix and others.

WILBURN Robbins used his bulldozer to level the lot, and C. Pippin and Robbins are furnishing trucks.

CISCO HIGH School is not only a small school with a small Seniors class this year. They're all. The current crop of seniors is the result of the new 12-2 program which went into effect some years back. Next year's class here will be over the times as big.

On Friday night, the Juniors will meet the Cisco Lions Club, and they will play Cisco Junior College on Saturday night.

The local Juniors will wear their new uniforms in the Tuesday night game. The uniforms

Rifle Club Will Meet On Tuesday

An important meeting of the Cisco Rifle Club has been called for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 13, at the National Guard armory on the Moran highway and all members were urged to attend.

The meeting will also be open to any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 18 years who desire to become a member of the club, it was reported. Those desiring membership in the club were asked to attend the Tuesday night meeting.

The club was organized recently under the sponsorship of the Cisco Rifle Club and will be affiliated with the national organization, which will permit participation in shooting events on a local, district, State, national, and international level.

At the last meeting C. A. Dittmore, Jr. was named president of the newly formed club. Leland Davis was named vice-president and Dale Cook was elected secretary. Johnny McCannies was selected as treasurer and Joe Schaefer was made executive officer.

A charter for the new club has been applied for and should be received soon, it was reported. The club now has 21 members.

Harrell Well Is Near Pay Horizon

The Johnston and Johnston No. 1 Mrs. Frank Harrell, deep oil test just west of Cisco, was drilled in Caddo lime at about 3,350 feet Saturday morning. Outcome of the test was expected during the weekend. The well hopes to find production in the Lake sand, expected at about 3,500 feet.

A failure was reported for the past South Cisco pool during the past week. The KLB Drilling Co. No. 1 Mrs. Bernie McCrea was plugged and abandoned after failing to find Lake sand production.

Pelfrey Accepts Atwell Pastorate

The Rev. J. C. Pelfrey, who has been pastor of the Staff Baptist Church for the past nine months, has accepted a call to be full time minister of the Atwell Baptist Church, five miles southwest of Scranton. He will begin his ministry there Sunday.

Mr. Pelfrey, who is a partner in the Meglasson and Pelfrey IGA Food Store on Avenue D, will conduct services twice each Sunday and on Wednesday nights at Atwell.

It was understood that the Staff church has named a pulpit committee to obtain a replacement for Mr. Pelfrey.

Capacity Crowd Sees Senior Play At High School

A capacity crowd filled the auditorium of Cisco High School Friday night to applaud the annual Senior Class Play staged to enable the group to make a parting gift to the school. The large audience appreciated the work of the 14 young performers in the cast.

The play, "A Change of Heart," a comedy, concerned a college professor and his "ideal" child. The three acts produced considerable comedy and a genuine change in the professor.

The players handled their parts well. The play was a difficult production, calling for considerable talent in the players and in staging. The performance was a definite credit to the Seniors and to Mrs. Bill Mitcham, the director.

Philip Waters was in charge of the lighting, Wayne Williams directed the sound effects, and Kenneth Jones handled the publicity. Ushers were Wyleene Bint, Geneva Bint, Jessie Warren, Mary Dell Wood, Jane Flint, Jeanel Miller, Phyllis Garcia, Ella Huber, Mary Nell Whitten and Barbara Schaefer.

Baptist Workers Will Meet Here

"Personal Evangelism" will be the theme of a Cisco Baptist Association worker's conference to be held Tuesday, May 13, at the East Cisco Baptist Church. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. with a song service under the direction of Bill Bullock.

Messages will be brought by Alfred Nelson on "The Need of Personal Evangelism," by George Thomas on "The Individual in Personal Evangelism," and by Bill Hogue on "Christ's Method in Personal Evangelism."

The Rev. Jerry McBride will deliver the conference sermon. Lunch will be served at noon, followed by the board meeting and a WMU program.

NATIONAL GUARD UNIT PLANS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE MAY 22

The Cisco Unit of the Texas National Guard will hold an open house at the Armory here on Thursday night, May 22, according to an announcement Saturday by Captain Frank B. Sayre, commanding officer. The John William Butts Post 123 of the American Legion will assist with the event.

The parents of 17 and 18 year old boys are being especially invited in order for them to obtain any information they desire regarding the National Guard program, Captain Sayre said. The unit has also extended an invitation to its honorary colonels — a group of Cisco area men whose contributions recently made possible extensive remodeling work in the Armory building.

A motion picture, "The Reserve Team," will be shown, and members of the guard will furnish music. Captain Sayre will make a brief talk on the selective service program.

Members of the American Legion will serve refreshments of coffee and doughnuts to all visitors. The general public was included in the invitation to attend.

Putnam Students Attend Banquet At Victor Hotel

Members of the junior and senior classes of Putnam High School and their guests held their annual Junior-Senior Banquet in the dining room of the Victor Hotel in Cisco last Tuesday night as guests of the two women's clubs of Putnam.

The "Texas" theme was carried out in the banquet and the decorations, with Bluebonnets forming the main decoration.

Each member of the two classes was allowed to invite a guest to the annual affair.

Homer Taylor, president of the Junior Class, made the welcome address and Emmetine Tatum, the Senior Class president, gave the response. Clint Rutherford of the Junior Class gave the toast to the Seniors and Jeannette Rogenstein, a Junior, gave the class prophesy.

In carrying out the "Texas" theme, Billy Mac Jobe sang a series of cowboy songs and Fred Heysler told a few tall tales from Texas to complete the program.

Residents Asked To Cooperate In Drive This Week

All plans and preparations had been completed Saturday for the beginning of the annual city-wide cleanup campaign on Monday, and city and civic leaders expressed the hope that it would be successful from every standpoint.

Street Commissioner Don Rupe announced that four city trucks and two National Guard trucks will begin work Monday morning to haul off all the debris that Ciscoans want moved away from their premises. The hauling work will be done without cost to citizens.

Mr. Rupe reported that Avenue E would divide the city into East and West zones. Three trucks will begin on 7th Street and work north, and three will begin on 8th Street and work south. The trucks will work all week or until the job is finished.

Residents were asked to have all of their trash and debris ready Monday. They were asked to place the things they want hauled off near the front curb or in the alleys.

Civic leaders, working through a Chamber of Commerce committee, have asked all citizens to cooperate during the week in a project to eliminate mosquito breeding places. Residents were asked to pay particular attention to finding all old wells, cisterns and unused cellars.

"We have an opportunity this week to improve the appearance and the health conditions of our city," Mayor G. C. Rosenthal said. "We sincerely hope that all citizens will take advantage of the offers of free service during the cleanup campaign."

The Chamber of Commerce committee suggested that the cleanup campaign be extended to vacant lots and property. They suggested that the week would be an excellent time to paint, repair and remodel houses, garages and out-buildings.

Timothy-Clover Hay Crop Leads in U. S. Acreage

Cutting a Heavy Crop of Timothy - Clover Hay.

For more than two centuries timothy, a native of Europe, has been the leading hay grass in the United States where it has reached its highest state of development and use. In spite of a decline in acreage of timothy because of fewer horses and the competition from other kinds of hay, it remains the foremost hay grass in this country.

Popularity of Timothy is attributed to its valuable qualities for hay, pasture, silage, and erosion control. It is at its best in New York, third State in total hay production. New York produces more timothy and clover hay than any other State, but Iowa has produced more than half our timothy seed.

Timothy has a wide range of adaptation but in some areas other grasses and legumes have largely replaced it for both pasture and hay.

Timothy and red clover grown in combination produce more and better hay than either alone. At Wooster, Ohio, over a 20-year period, timothy averaged higher yields of hay than any of eight other grasses.

The best production is obtained from cutting timothy hay when in early bloom, and from timothy-clover mixtures cut when clover is in half to full bloom. Timothy cut not later than early bloom and properly cured, compares favorably in protein content and feed value with other hay grasses.

Hay from early cutting, combined with nitrogenous fertilization, often contains twice as much protein as late-cut hay from land deficient in nitrogen. Such hay can successfully be substituted for legume hay in feeding dairy cows during the usual winter feeding period.

Timothy is often included in pasture mixtures because of its establishment and high palatability, but its failure to make regrowth after grazing in late spring or early summer and lack of persistence are disadvantages.

Silage of high protein and carotene content and otherwise of excellent quality is produced from timothy cut in early stages of growth, at a lower cost per ton than corn silage.

Three to five pounds of timothy seed per acre sown in the fall with winter grain or six to ten pounds sown in the spring with oats usually give greater yields than either larger or smaller rates of sowing.

When nitrogen is applied with superphosphate and potash, the yields per acre of both hay and protein are increased. The latter constituents applied without nitrogen are usually not effective, unless the soil is already well supplied with available nitrogen.

Early varieties of timothy, such as Marietta and Shelby, for use in the southern part of the area of timothy adaptation and late varieties, such as Lorain in the northern part, have been developed and limited quantities of seed are available.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

IT'S A BARGAIN—A small admission charge will now permit visitors to inspect Palace House, the ancient, ancestral home of Lord Montagu of Beaulieu, Hampshire, England. The 25-year-old owner is shown polishing some pewter in the dining room before the estate with its gardens and museums opened.

IT'S OPEN TO LADIES

THEY'RE GLAD TO HELP—Women now make up 25 per cent of the students in the Boeing Airplane Company's own drafting school in Seattle, Wash. Here, Gordon Shannahan, a company engineer, shows Mrs. Doris Gregor, wife of a Navy man, where the part she drew on her drawing board fits into a B-50 bomber.

ALL SET—Mrs. Gregor, an ex-model, got final instructions from Gregory Chacos, top photo, in her eighth and last week. Upon completing the course, which is equivalent to one in college, she works at her own board, below, beside other draftsmen who have released engineers to go into design work.

HOME JOB—Actress Joan Fontaine covered her 20-month-old daughter, Debbie, at their home in Hollywood and started making with the clippers on Debbie's hair. Already well known as a career girl, it now appears that Joan's talents are not limited to performances in front of a camera. It's obvious she could earn a living in a barber shop, too.

Atlantic Alfalfa Yields Are High Over Wide Area

Second Crop of Alfalfa at Saratoga, N. Y.

So much has been written about Grimm and the wilt resistant Ranger alfalfa, both of north central origin, it is refreshing to hear about Atlantic alfalfa that was developed on the Eastern Seaboard for eastern conditions.

It was bred at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station to meet the need for a variety adapted to eastern soils and climate. Ten years of widespread testing have shown that it not only meets this purpose, but also performs well in other areas of North America. In fact, no other variety has been so consistently high yielding over so wide an area of the United States.

Atlantic represents a combination of more than 100 strains and varieties, introduced from points throughout North America, Europe and Asia. It is probable the variety's outstanding performance under a wide range of growing conditions is a direct result of the large number of plant types which entered into its ancestry.

Ninety-eight separate tests of Atlantic in comparison with other leading varieties have been listed in the Reports of the Uniform Alfalfa Nurseries. These tests represent 30 states and 3 Canadian provinces, with an average of 3 years' data for each location. Throughout the entire group of tests Atlantic outyielded Buffalo, Ranger, Kansas Common and Grimm by an average of about 10%. In Pennsylvania, Michigan, Virginia and province of Ontario, for a period of years, Atlantic has outyielded the others by 20% or more. It was highest yielding of the 5 varieties at 24 of the 33 locations, tied for highest at 2, and was above average in yield at 4 of the remaining 7 locations.

Atlantic has considerable resistance to certain foliage diseases which attack alfalfa in humid areas. Although considered susceptible to bacterial wilt, it appears to have some tolerance for this disease and maintains good stands longer under wilt conditions than do most other varieties except the most resistant types.

Atlantic has been slow in coming into general farm use because of the shortage of seed. This is rapidly being overcome. There should be nearly half a million pounds of Western Grown certified seed available for farm planting in 1952. The 20 states which will use Atlantic estimate they will need 5 million pounds of seed of the variety each year. This quantity of certified seed should be reached or exceeded by 1952.

These observations as to comparative yields of Atlantic with other alfalfas have come from the Uniform Alfalfa Nurseries conducted at more than 30 experiment stations, and the recent rapid increase of available certified seed supplies is being accomplished through the National Foundation Seed Project.

The Man Who Borrows Money —

... must have good security to offer the lending agency or individual before he can expect a loan. There is no better collateral than real estate provided the title is good. More money is loaned on real estate than any other commodity of value. The careful lender always insists on an abstract for the abstract reveals the condition of the title and upon the title rests the applicant's eligibility for the loan.

that there are also waste products in the organs which are too big to be fed through the capillary nets into the veins. So if the veins serve as the sewer drain for the organs, then the lymph system can be considered the garbage hauling system for objects too big to go down the drain.

The lymph channels of the body with their heavy fluids and dams called lymph nodes are a part of the complete blood-manufacturing system. There are 500 to 600 lymph nodes in the body, most of them are located in the neck, under the arms, near the crook of the arms, and in the groin.

ph webs all over the body, the lymph fluid is carried to the nearest "pocket," lymph node, where it is strained and filtered. All the lymph nodes below the chest lead to the second lumbar vertebrae, the so-called lower "lumbago" area of the back.

From this lumbar disk, the lymph channels are carried upward by a pipe called the thoracic duct. There on the left near the puncture of the collar bone and the neck the lymph from all the lower part of the body meets the lymph from the upper left part of the body, and there the two streams of lymph are dumped into the vein that carries the lymph with the blood to the right side of the heart.

Those lymph channels on the right side of the head, chest and arm are dumped into the vein near the juncture of the collarbone and neck on the right side and also flow into the blood stream on the way to the right side of the heart, the so-called impure side of the heart.

As the lymph passes a node, the debris in the lymph stream is left behind to be "sterilized" at the node. Sometimes these nodes get too much debris backed behind their filtering "screens" and a knot forms and protrudes. Such knots are the "bumps" behind the ears, the swellings, that are the usual first sign of measles. Other knots, lymph node swellings in front of the ears, may take the form of mumps.
