The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE NEW JUNIOR High school building is just about finished, and we're told that the general public probably will get an opportunity to look over the new school in an Open House program in the next few days. School officials had hoped to hold an open house before the school opened, but delays in obtaining some of the materials caused their plans to be postponed.

You can watch The Press for an announcement.

MR. CARROLL TATOM, the assistant football coach out at the high school, has been released from any plans the U. S. Army had for him. Months ago, a draft board ordered him up for induction. He was given a deferment until the end of the school year with the understanding that he would be drafted at that time.

Carroll has just been told by the army that they no longer want him. We suggested to him that "they can't do that to you." He grinned real broad and said, "Yes they can."

He's happy that he can stay with the Cisco schools, and all of us are happy. Carroll is a fine young coach and teacher.

OUR SCOUTS report that a group of the Cisco workers for Humble Pipe Line Company had an experience when the heavy flood took place down at the pump station the other day. The big rain caused just about everything there to be under water. The men discovered a man marooned in a tree with water swirling past, deep and fast. Mr. A. L. Farley and Mr. J. White, both of Cisco, rescued the man. Ropes were tied around them and while several blows held on to the ropes, they pulled out and brought back the marooned man.

The Humble men were busy down at the station for days after the flood, repairing the damage.

MEMBERS OF THE Cisco Lions Club applauded long and loud Wednesday for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sweeney after a fine musical program. Mr. Sweeney, who is educational director at the First Baptist Church, has a fine bass voice. Mrs. Sweeney accompanied him at the piano. One thing that makes Mr. Sweeney's singing so good is that he seems to thoroughly enjoy it. It was top class.

WE NEVER KNEW so many people had lost their glasses until we ran an item in The Press the other day about somebody losing a pair. Seven people, besides the owner of the lost glasses, called to inquire about them. The glasses were advertised belonged to Mr. L. D. Wilson. And he was right glad to get them back.

WENT BY THE hospital last evening to interview Manager Ken Russ of The Victor Hotel about his operation. Ken was in the mend and back on his feet. And the situation was right good. He will be out of the hospital in a few more days.

Said he never even suspected that his appendix was bad. He was planning to leave early Monday for Dallas and was busy the night before getting ready. He started being sick at the stomach and before long he was moaning and groaning. The family doctor was called and after a bit of investigation, he directed that Ken be hustled out to the hospital.

ACCORDING TO the papers, the political situation is getting a bit working over down at San Antonio. Cisco's delegate, Miss Helen Crawford, went down Monday and her dad and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford, went along to be her official advisers. They're due home soon.

MANAGER D. N. Morrison of the Cisco Indians, the Legion baseball team, was proud today of the fine showing the boys made yesterday at Breckenridge. After the game, the Legion fed the boys a big dinner. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth took a car load of the boys over and had a fine time. Mrs. Don Choate and children drove over to see the game. You will want to be at ABC Field at 8 p. m. Friday to see the Indians play Breckenridge's junior team in a return game.

REPLACING STRIKERS—Dr. G. I. Roberts, with cap, and Dr. Mark Welsh are shown feeding some animals at the Lederle Laboratories in Pearl River, N. Y., during a strike. About 400 scientists and employees stayed in the plant to continue research work and care for the animals while approximately 4500 employees were striking. Food and bedding were flown in by helicopter and monoplane to the plant which is the only producer of aureomycin in the country.

Nine Girls Will Help Hold Buddy Poppy Sale Here

Nine Cisco girls will assist the Veterans of Foreign Wars hold the annual Buddy Poppy Sale in downtown Cisco all day Saturday, Chairman O. O. Odom, Jr., reported today. The sale will begin at 8 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

Girls who will work in the sale include Misses Nelda Johnson, Mary Scott, Neota Moad, Shirley Hitt, Dorothy Rice, Wanda Hailey, Wrayna Cearley, Frances Latham and Dene Sublett.

The proceeds from the sale will benefit disabled war veterans in government hospitals. The veterans make the poppies which are being offered for sale this weekend throughout the state. "Everybody who works on this campaign is making a patriotic contribution to the cause of veteran welfare," Mr. Odom said. "None of the money that the public contributes will be spent for campaign administrative purposes. We are engaged in this work of assisting the disabled and needy veterans of our Armed Forces because we are pledged to the principle that says 'honor the dead by helping the living'."

Moran News Luncheon Club Sees Canada Film

The Luncheon Club was served by Mrs. Ben Waters and Mrs. Ezra Weir last week. Sixty attended the luncheon. Visitors introduced from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Walker Sayles of Breckenridge, guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Black of Albany. Local guests were Floyd C. Pool and F. B. Cornelius, new cashier of the Moran bank, who made a brief talk. Miss Marguerite Haggard, English teacher in Moran High, Mrs. Karkalis and Mrs. Harold Thomas, three teachers who have an enviable record in their profession were present for the first time together. A film on Canada was shown in the theatre directly after the program.

Mrs. A. E. Davis and son of Victoria have returned home after 10 days visit with her mother, Mrs. Dee Bumpers. While here, Mrs. Davis visited in Lawton, Okla., with relatives a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Black, Jr., of San Angelo announce the birth of a daughter, Marie Elaine, May 12, 1952.

Mrs. J. V. Randolph returned last week from a four weeks' visit to California where she visited two sons, one in Santa Monica and one in Long Beach. Andrew, the youngest, is a Newspaper man on the Santa Monica.

Fisher Asks For Support In Race For County Post

E. C. (Clyde) Fisher, a candidate for Treasurer of Eastland County, today issued a statement in connection with his bid for the office. The statement follows:

"I was born in Comanche County, Texas, on the 31st day of August, 1903. My father was a tenant farmer and my early days of school were spent in several rural schools of that county. I came to the oil fields of Ranger in 1918, living there until 1922 when I returned to Comanche County and engaged in farming during the years of 1923 and 1924. I then moved to Slaton, Texas, spent one year in farming and then returned to Eastland County where I have lived the past twenty-six years.

"Being dissatisfied with my education, I have through the years continued my studies in the field of music, endeavoring to qualify myself for greater service in that capacity. The Lord seeing fit to give me talent, a voice to sing, I have tried to cultivate it to the best of my ability. To you who are not personally acquainted with me, this will give you an idea why I am called the 'Bass Singing Fisher'. I have taught singing schools in many rural communities and am proud to say that I have always received a welcome to return to those places in such work.

I have tried to live so that anyone knowing me had to know some good. If my friends and neighbors will not recommend me, then I am not worthy of your trust.

Population Shows Growing Number Of Older People

AUSTIN, May 29.—In the past, medicine and public health have concerned themselves largely the health and disease problems of youth and middle age said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. We have neglected our aged population and have waited upon the devastations of time before extending aid to the old.

Our population each year includes an increasing number and percentage of older people. In 1950 in the United States, it is estimated that there are 11,000,000 persons over sixty-five years of age, as compared to 3,000,000 in 1900. In absolute numbers, aged persons among us have almost quadrupled in the last fifty years, whereas the proportion of elderly persons to the remainder of the population has merely doubled.

Dr. Cox stated that preventive medicine, private medical care, and social service have assisted in extending the life span. As encouraging as this fact may be, there is an accompanying tribulation: the aged are subject to the chronic diseases which, because of destroyed tissue structure, are especially weakened. Heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other long-term illness resist the physician's most skillful attack and are notably disabling and lethal.

To insure health and peace of mind to our old people, preventive and curative medicine and social service can contribute technics of prevention and care. These technics should properly include the early discovery of beginning disease processes through periodic examinations that begin in early life and continue for one's remaining years.

By such means many cases of chronic disease, with all their agony and sure fatality, might either be prevented or, through the substitution of different living regimens, be rendered tolerable.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carter of Levelland and Mr. and Mrs. Truly Carter of Cisco were in Fort Worth Wednesday visiting Mrs. R. E. McMillan who is seriously ill. Mrs. McMillan is a sister of the Carters.

Zone Meeting To Be Here Tonight

Members of the Cisco Lions Club voted Wednesday to buy and install considerable playground equipment in the area of the Community Gym in the immediate future. The action was taken at the weekly luncheon meeting at the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop.

The club proposes to build several sand boxes along the east side of the gym, two tables with chairs for picnic and other uses, two brackets of four swings each, four see-saws, and erect a backstop suitable for little league baseball play.

This equipment would appeal particularly to smaller children and club members expressed the hope that it could be ready for use in the near future. President Austin Flint said the Lions Club has notified the ABC Club that they are ready to begin work on the playground program.

Lions expect to do much of the work in providing the equipment with volunteer labor by club members. The club has had a fund for playground equipment for more than a year and has been waiting for the beginning of a citywide program, Mr. Flint added.

The club voted to give its part of the proceeds from the recent Lions-Indians baseball game to the ABC Club for use in the summer program. The club's share amounted to $36.

Officials of the Cisco club will be hosts tonight at 7:30 o'clock at a zone meeting and dinner at the Victor Coffee Shop, it was announced. O. L. Stamey of Cisco is zone chairman. Club presidents, secretaries and others from throughout this area are expected here for the meeting.

Lion T. C. Williams was named chairman of the Cisco delegation to attend the combination District and State convention to be held June 8-10 in Brownwood. The club is expected to send 10 to 12 delegates.

The program featured several bass solos by Bill Sweeney, educational director of the First Baptist Church, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sweeney. Coach Carroll Tatom was a guest at the meeting.

IS THIS BAD?

At regular intervals, government officials make whooping attacks upon the oil industry. They say it's too big, and should be broken up into pieces. They say it's monopolistic and too rich. They say it's a menace to the country.

In the light of this, it's interesting to note how badly this monster is treating the country and the people.

There are about 210,000 oil companies of one kind or another scattered throughout the United States — which is a rather queer kind of monopoly. Their investment is more than $25 billions, and they employ some 2,000,000 people at excellent wages.

Last year, this nefarious industry spent about $3,000,000,000 to build new facilities, to improve old ones, and to do the things that make possible better service to customers of all kinds — ranging from the man who buys a few gallons of gas for his car to such huge consumers as the armed forces.

In that same year, this menace to the public welfare produced 2,200,000,000 barrels of crude oil — a new record, which topped the old 1948 peak by over 224,000,000 barrels.

Anyone can tell from such facts as these that the oil industry is mighty bad. And one of the worst things about it is that it has grown and done its terrific production job in a climate of freedom, instead of a climate in which tax-squandering bureaucrats make all the decisions and give all the orders. That's what some of the politicians seem to think, anyway!

Chicago's great fire occurred in 1871.

CAUSED BY THE ATOM—When dancer Gene Nelson got up early to go out and view the site of the Frenchman's Flat atomic blast from a snow-covered mountain near Las Vegas, Nev., he couldn't resist giving out with an acrobatic antic. This high leap may be the result of Gene's private source of atomic energy.

A PUNISHMENT TO FIT THE CRIME—Four boys who turned in false alarms in Cortland, N. Y., get busy taking their punishment—scrubbing floors for the firemen who lost time going to false alarms. This and other menial tasks were handed out to the boys, but there was no work done by them on the fire trucks or on the glamorous equipment. Since scrubbing floors is not a popular entertainment, maybe the boys were really chastised.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

The old rhyme, "finders keepers — losers weepers," is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes difficult to define the rights of a finder in court, and much confusion of the subject exists in the mind of the public generally. Confidence men have many times taken advantage of such confusion to "fast talk" unwary individuals out of large sums of money.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts — and finders — for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely "misplaced." In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily — through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstances. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later — even though he fails to do so. Such property is "misplaced."

Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

But when articles are left on a train or bus, in a public hotel room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owners return would be the proprietor or other person in charge. Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to this custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place it is found is private or semi-private, or a place used by the general public.

WHERE GAIETY ABOUNDS—Members of a Japanese defense group celebrate the recent signing of their Peace Treaty with a noisy parade in Tokyo. In honor of the occasion, one of them dressed as the Statue of Liberty and was pushed through the streets. The signing of the treaty once again gave the country the right to control her own defenses.

Every month or so we see a newspaper item telling how some gullible person has learned the intricacies of the shady game known to police as "pigeon drop," at a cost of several hundred dollars. This confidence racket has many variations, but generally runs something like this:

A pair of smooth operators side up to their intended victim on a downtown street. Strangers to each other, they have just found a billfold containing a large denomination bill or a large check, say $1000. They want to split the find, but neither has the money to buy out the other's interest. Now, if the victim can get hold of some cash, they are willing to split three ways, or even to give him more than one-third.

When the sucker produces the money in anticipation of a quick return on his investment, complications develop. One of the confidence workers may have consulted a fictitious employer in the absence of the victim. Now the billfold, its contents and the victim's money must be left in the employer's custody a few days in case the owner appears. Then the division is to be made. He takes the money to turn it in to the employer — just up the street a few doors — and disappears. His co-worker also judiciously takes his or her leave.

Numerous twists, not too credible in print, but all sounding very plausible when suggested by a fast talking confidence man, invariably have but one result — the loss of your money.

Avoid being victimized by keeping these ideas in mind. If it is a bona fide "find," your rights are inferior to those of the true owner, who can probably be located. If there is a check involved, the signer will certainly have stopped payment. A large denomination bill can be cashed without assistance from you or any passerby.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The Man Who Borrows Money —

... must have good security to offer the lending agency or individual before he can expect a loan. There is no better collateral than real estate provided the title is good. More money is loaned on real estate than any other commodity of value. The careful lender always insists on an abstract for the abstract reveals the condition of the title and upon the title rests the applicant's eligibility for the loan.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The spleen is part of the blood-manufacturing system of the body, part of the lymphatic system of the body, and one of those ductless glands, the kind that dump their secretions into the bloodstream as it flows past instead of feeding through a tube into the bloodstream.

As part of the blood-manufacturing system, the spleen has been called the "blood bank" of the body. A blood bank takes the blood from one person, processes it by a series of different analyses, throws away any blood that is not good, and stores the good blood according to type. Then when the blood is needed, it is taken from refrigeration in the bank, sent to the hospital and there injected into the person who needs it.

In such a comparison, the spleen does actually serve as a blood bank. It receives blood from the bloodstream and sends it through all the different tubes in the organ, where it is possible that "things" are added and taken away. After processing, the blood is stored in the middle of the spleen (maybe it's cold inside). In normal times the blood is sent out to the body in regular rhythm as needed, but in times of emergency, such as a hemorrhage, or strenuous exercise, the blood is sent out rapidly to the hospital (the liver) and delivered to the parts where it is needed.

So you have your own blood bank inside of you. There are outside needs for your blood bank, too. If you haven't shared your blood in recent months, you might tie yourself to the nearest blood bank or Red Cross mobile unit and "vent your spleen" for a good cause.

ONE WAY OF SEEING—During a rainy-day parade in New York, three-year-old Janet Marie Staedell crouched under a Great Pyrenees dog named Katy for a better view. Janet is in "off limits" territory, but the police officer behind her wasn't inclined to book the tot as a law-breaker. It was also a convenient way for Janet to keep dry.

IT'S IN THE MIDDLE—A 30-foot elm tree stands forlornly in the middle of a dirt road in the residential section of Thatchen, Mich., near Detroit. Its presence forces annoyed drivers to swing to the side in order to avert accidents, but risking possible scratches to their paint. Although efforts have been made to have the tree removed, it's still there.

HOLD TIGHT—Susie K., thought to be the first Kodiak bear ever raised on a bottle, is spreading her claws in Cleveland in order to get a good grip on zoo keeper George Menszyk, who feeds her. Susie K. was not yet accustomed to having her picture taken; she's just a little girl and, while she'll become camera-conscious soon, a flashbulb scares her now.

ON HER TOES—In Hollywood, Calif., ballerina Carmen de Lavallade is demonstrating her stepping form to orchestra leader Duke Ellington. Carmen was working out for her role in the forthcoming Lester Horton ballet, Liberian Suite, and Ellington may have been giving her a few pointers. He's composer of enough songs to be an authority on any musical problem.

Spring Planting Work Active For Most State Areas

Seed bed preparation, planting, replanting, cultivation of growing crops, and hay baling were fairly active over most of the State during the past week. Late in the week another cool front brought light showers to torrential rains in all areas excepting some High Plains and Trans-Pecos counties. This moisture was particularly beneficial in southern low rolling plains, western plateau, southern and lower valley counties. The high plains south of Abilene, however, continued critically dry.

Growing crops continued to make satisfactory progress over much of the State although in south Texas some corn was too advanced to benefit materially. Wheat harvest continued slowly in early maturing low rolling plains counties and started in north Texas. Local areas reported heavy hail damage. Cool weather and adequate moisture favored well filled heads in the low plains. On the high plains additional moisture would be beneficial, with the crop in the critical heading and filling stage.

Planting of cotton continued active in the high plains where a considerable acreage was being planted, but was interrupted in some low rolling plains and Cross Timbers counties by wet fields. Considerable replanting will be necessary. Cotton in north central and east Texas made fair growth. Some late planting and replanting in these areas was being delayed by excessive rains. Cotton in southeastern and southern counties made good growth and was fruiting in south Texas. Poisoning for aphids and thrips was continued in southeast and southcentral Texas. Boll weevil and pink bollworm infestations were reported in the Lower Valley and adjacent areas.

Planting of grain sorghums in the High and Low Rolling Plains continued, with some early planted acreage up to a stand. Planting of late feeds was also underway in remaining areas. The growing crop made good progress, reflecting improved moisture conditions. Corn also made good progress, with sufficient moisture in all principal producing areas. Some of the crop in southern, central and eastern counties was tasseling. Stands are mostly good in central and eastern counties, and considerable fertilizer has been applied.

Peanut planting in northeast Texas was interrupted by heavy rains. Moisture was excessive for planting in the northern commercial area. Peanuts and broom-corn in southern counties were benefited by week end showers, but additional rains were needed. Pecan prospects continued favorable with a good crop set in most areas. Rice made good growth, and planting neared completion. Transplanting of sweet potatoes was active in all areas under favorable soil moisture conditions. Practically all commercial vegetable areas got good rains. Cantaloup, watermelon, and tomato prospects were improved in most central and eastern counties. Harvest of the north Texas onion crop was interrupted.

THE CIRCUS IS A-COMIN'

THERE'S FUN TO BE HAD—While New Yorkers were anticipating the excitement of the opening of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden, performers were busily perfecting their acts for the event. Above left, the three rings are filled with performers, and the Renis-Ferroni duo practice their art, right. Backstage, six-year-old Ilona Fredona sketches two of the midget ballet dancers, lower left. Combining perfect horsemanship with pinpoint acrobatics, the Loyal Troupe go through their paces, too, right.

Maturity of cool season grass and clovers temporarily retarded by last week's rains and summer grass was responding to the generally adequate moisture over the eastern two-thirds of the state. New feed was coming along but was still short in most western and northwestern areas. Scattered showers late in the week were very welcome in southern counties. Supplemental feeding continues on many western and southern ranches.

Bass Spawn On Increase In May

AUSTIN, May 29.—The Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission reported that the 1952 bass spawn production spurted in mid-May after a bad early season showing.

He blamed cold weather for loss of eggs in several hatcheries and said the experience seemed to point up the importance of the temperature control regulator being tried out at San Marcos Fish Hatchery.

But the Chief Aquatic Biologist said plans are being made to assign aquatic biologists to the hatchery staffs next season to try to determine if dietary deficiencies in brood bass are partly to blame.

He said normal early spawn production was reported by only two of the 11 state hatcheries in operation—those at Brownsville and Jasper. The two hatcheries temporarily suspended are Cisco and Medina. Water shortages closed both this year as well as last.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said brood bass began spawning again about mid-May at several hatcheries after the weather lev-

Hunters Polled On Season Dates

AUSTIN, May 29.—The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said close to 1,000 waterfowl and dove hunting date preferences have been received in the sportsmen's poll.

He said there have been about 700 votes on waterfowl and slightly less than 300 votes on doves.

The poll was authorized to determine public sentiment as a guide for recommendations for the 1952 shooting seasons which the Commission will make in July. Primary interest is in preferences for opening the mourning dove season and for the duck and goose season.

Votes to date on the waterfowl range from starting the shooting on October 1 to starting it on December 31. The early date was given by a North Texas man and the later one by a South State man.

The largest vote for any one date was 242 for October 15. One hundred one hunters asked for November 1 and 97 suggested opening the waterfowl hunt November 20. There was a scattering of votes for December opening dates. One hundred nine wrote that they favored zoning the state.

The largest vote on the mourning dove issue totaled 119, seeking October 15 as the opening mourning dove date for the South zone. Most of these preferences came from Corpus Christi in Nueces County. Sixty seven Harris County persons suggested October 1 as the South zone opener on doves. Fifty hunters from Anderson County in East Texas suggested September 1 as the North zone opener on doves.

State Renews 4-H Dairy Food Show

Lovely to look at — delightful to eat, can well describe the appetizing dishes prepared in the 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program, which has been renewed by the State Club office for this year. About 400,000 4-H'ers throughout the country are learning the art of making new and better dairy dishes and desserts. This includes luscious ice creams, tapioca puddings, strawberry cheese pies, orange sherberts and even creamy candies — all high in food value.

June, which is national dairy month, points up in the importance of dairying and dairy foods. Special attention is being given to dairy demonstrations. The young homemakers and farmers, individually and in teams, are carefully working out each step in the preparation of dairy dishes, and demonstrating them to others. They are learning by doing — the watchword of all 4-H'ers.

Achievements of 4-H members in dairy foods demonstrations are being encouraged through awards provided by the Carnation Company. County winners receive medals, while a 17-jewel wrist watch is awarded on the state level to the high individual and each member of the high team. Eight trips to National Club Congress in Chicago next November are presented to the fortunate national winners.

This program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.
