The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

LAKE CISCO PARK is getting set for a big July the Fourth. Dropped out there late Tuesday to find things looking fine after the rain shower. The miniature golf course is dressed up and ready, and Ted Waters has his two rides for kiddies all set. And the carnival was setting up its rides and the like.

The boys at the swimming pool were studying the situation as to where to build a speaker's platform for the political rally. They kind of figure to put it out over the water, right in front of the pool, where scores of people can have seats while they listen.

And the fireworks materials were being made ready. It will take a lot of getting ready to shoot off a 50-minute fireworks display. The fireworks show this year will be 15 minutes longer and there are bigger and louder pieces to shoot.

Mrs. Ray Judia of Lake Cisco Courts tells us that the city cabins are booked solid for the weekend with old-timers returning for a weekend visit and for reunions.

OUR SCOUTS REPORT that a former Ciscoan appears in the picture, The Half Breed, which is showing Thursday and Friday at the Palace Theater. He is W. F. (Billy Fred) Michael, son of Carrol and Mary Michael. Billy Fred appears as an extra in the picture. He is an insurance man at Winslow, Arizona.

The Michaels oldest son, C. G. lives at Flagstaff, Arizona, and is the top salesman for the state of Arizona with the insurance company. He has been in this business for several years.

COMES A POSTCARD from Mexico to report that the Sutton Crofts and the T. C. Williams are having a wonderful vacation. The water was too muddy to fish, Mr. TCW wrote. But they're having a fine trip. . . The W. E. Deans returned home yesterday from their Mexico City trip. They went to the Lions Convention, too.

THE MARIAGOLDS in front of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's business office are very pretty, indeed. . . The Merchants Credit Association plans an open house at their new offices over Altman's Style Shop this Thursday morning. . . Mr. and Mrs. Zan Burroughs were called to Plainview yesterday due to the illness of her father. Their son, Tommy, was already there, visiting his grandparents. . . Hear that Johnny Spears, son of the Charles Spears, is going to have a grand experience late this week. He will board an airplane at Fort Worth and fly to Colorado to visit his grandparents.

THESE LITTLE GUYS and gals who go to the daily ABC Club play program — 9 to 11 a. m. — are really sold on it. One of them was telling us glowing stories about the splendid program. And the little guys and gals are the ones who should be pleased with it. If the youngsters like the program, then it is a huge success.

YESTERDAY'S RAIN caused the Cisco Indians and the Breckenridge boys to postpone their game at Breckenridge. Manager D. N. Morrison tells us that the contest will be played in Cisco at ABC Field next Tuesday night. And the game scheduled here Tuesday night between the Baptists and Gorman was called off due to a muddy field.

There could be no better excuse for calling off baseball games than rain and muddy fields. Hope a lot more are cancelled for the very same reason.

MR. H. A. BIBLE tells us that they received a fine rain at his big apple orchard southwest of Cisco. The rain gauge there showed 1.9 inches — the biggest rain in three years. This assures Mr. Bible of a fine crop of apples. Some of them are already getting ripe and will be going to market any day now.

A SCHOOL FOR BLIND CHILDREN

MAKING IT EASIER — No longer must blind children in Seattle be sent to the State School for the Blind in Vancouver, Wash. A teaching experiment in the city's public schools permits handicapped youngsters to live at home and attend classes. Young Jim Watkins is learning to do compositions and lessons on a typewriter, top photo, and Bob Peterson is assembling a map of the U.S., lower left. Blind twins, Betty and Barbara Nord, right, get used to exercise bars as kindergarten teacher Mrs. Constance Pierce lends moral support.

Water Reservoir To Be Cleaned Thursday Night

The city water department plans to clean out the College Hill reservoir Thursday night and has asked Cisco residents to use a minimum amount of water from 8:30 to 11 p. m. Thursday, Superintendent John Rodden reported today.

Plans call for the pumps at Lake Cisco to be idle most of the day while the water is being pumped from the College Hill reservoir into the standpipes, leaving the reservoir empty at the end of the day.

Workmen will clean the reservoir during the time from 8:30 to 11 p. m. The standpipes, however, will be full when they begin work, and the pumps at Lake Cisco will be started and refill the reservoir after 11 p. m.

Mr. Rodden pointed out that the quality of the city water is better when the huge reservoir is cleaned regularly.

WORD CLUB TO MEET

The Word Home Demonstration Club will meet Thursday at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. O. Smith. Members were requested to bring apron patterns.

WATER DEVELOPMENT PLANS TO BE MADE BY C of C DIRECTORS

The board of directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce asked its Water Resources Committee to recommend a water development program for Lake Cisco at a semi-monthly meeting at Noon Tuesday at the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop. W. P. Guinn is chairman of the committee.

The directorate discussed the water situation, noting that the supply needs to be increased to enable the city to attract industry. A water resources survey was made several months ago. The board asked the committee to take the survey and work out recommendations for a Cisco area water development program.

The board authorized President E. L. Jackson to name a committee to work out a special Christmas program.

A resolution was adopted commending the ABC Club and the John William Butts Post of the

CISCO LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE TO HOLD AUCTIONS ON WEDNESDAYS

W. C. (Shory) Cravey, operator of the Cisco Livestock Exchange sales barn located in the south edge of Cisco, announced today that the weekly sale would be held each Wednesday in the place of Monday as has been done in the past.

In announcing the change, Mr. Cravey said that he had reached the decision after careful consideration of all the facts. He said that the middle of the week sale would allow farmers and ranchers more time to work the cattle for the sale and that at the middle of the week the market was steadier and buyers could tell better how the trend was going.

The Wednesday sale will not conflict with any in the area and more buyers for packing plants will be on hand each week.

The first Wednesday sale will be held on July 9 and then each week on Wednesday as long as Mr. Cravey operates the barn. Additional improvements on the plant are contemplated, he said, in order to make the facilities handier for the seller, buyer and operators. Mr. Cravey thanked everyone in the area for the assistance in making the first few weeks of the sale a success. He reported that the change in dates would make the sale more attractive for everyone.

Crawford-Harrell Is Newest Test In City Oil Area

Connally-Jackson, Abilene Oil operators, were drilling at about 1,000 feet today in the newest project in the West Cisco Lake Pool area. The firm was drilling in their No. 1 Crawford-Harrell, located west of the area discovery well.

Drill site is 330 feet from the south and 2,330 feet from the east lines of Section 86, Block 4, H&TC Survey. It is 660 feet west of the L. A. Warren et al No. 2. Mrs. Maurine Royall, recently completed as a substantial Lake sand producer in the area.

East of the No. 1 Royall, the Kupp and Dickson No. 1 City of Cisco is due to begin completion work Thursday. Pipe was cemented to 3,538 feet last week after tests had indicated strong gas flow from a 6-foot section of Lake sand. There was a slight oil show in the hole during the test.

A new project for the county is the C. E. Joyce et al, Rising Star, No. 2 J. E. Watkins, which will be a 1,000 foot cable tool test one mile southeast of Rising Star. Location is 1,100 feet from the west and 800 feet from the north lines of Section 11, BBB&C Survey.

CONDUCTS FUNERAL

The Rev. Ralph T. Wootton, pastor of the First Baptist Church was called to Menard on Monday to conduct funeral services for H. L. McDonald, chairman of the board of deacons and oldest member of the Baptist church there. Rev. Wootton was pastor of the Menard church before coming to Cisco.

David James Gorman and son, Rodney, visited relatives in San Antonio over the weekend.

Growing Crops Suffering From Moisture Needs

Growing crops and pastures were suffering from lack of moisture over practically the entire State as hot, windy weather continued through most of the week. Over the weekend scattered showers temporarily eased the droughty conditions in some areas, particularly the trans-Pecos, most central and northern high plains, and some central Texas counties. Southern counties on the high plains, however, continued extremely dry.

Wheat harvest in the northern high plains rolled along very rapidly as hot, open weather speeded maturity and permitted crews to keep combines moving from early until late. Practically all of the grain was harvested in central High Plains counties and was well past the half-way mark in northern counties.

Cotton in the southern high plains and low rolling plains was subjected to a week of hot, drying winds and blowing sand, which was especially damaging to late plantings. Acreage losses were heavy in some areas and rain was needed badly to prevent additional losses. Week end showers greatly benefited cotton over the north part of the southern high plains.

Central and east Texas crops made good growth, although some increases in insect infestations were reported. Cotton in south central and coastal counties continued fruiting although dry weather caused some shedding. Most late cotton was needing rain. In the lower valley, harvest of some early fields was started. Insects, especially boll weevils, continued active in many fields.

Only a small additional acreage of grain sorghum was planted in the northwest during the week due to lack of moisture. In other areas, the crop made very little growth, leaves were curling, and rain was urgently needed. Early sorghums in the southern low rolling plains were especially hard hit by the hot, dry winds. Combining of sorghums was under way in the coastal bend and some southern counties.

Corn throughout the state was deteriorating in the hot, dry weather. Hay harvest made good progress, with both yield and quality being good. Broomcorn harvest was active in all the southern counties, but rains in the Hondo area over the week end will curtail field work a few days. Peanuts made fairly good progress despite the need of moisture in all areas. Progress of Rice continued satisfactory.

Much needed moisture was received over the week end in the form of light to moderate showers in the central and eastern commercial vegetable areas.

Strong drying winds and hot sun continued to take a heavy toll of Texas range feed. Pastures in east and north Texas continue to supply adequate feed, but rain is needed to maintain their carrying capacity. Local rains in high plains and west Texas areas last week brought temporary relief, but more moisture is needed to bring pastures along.

Pasture feed is again getting short in the Low Rolling Plains and some cattle are being moved from this area. Except for scattered showers, moisture is short in central and south Texas where pastures are getting dry and feed supplies are being rapidly consumed.

Cisco Man Helps Keep Planes Up

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING IN KOREA — Although it's a known fact that the majority of aircraft would be of no value without pilots, little is known of the men who keep them in tip-top flying conditions.

Second Lieutenant Martin W. O'Brien, USMC, brother of Mrs. Hazel L. Thompson of 800 West Ninth St., Cisco, has the not-so-glamorous job of keeping the planes in the air against Communist forces here.

Crewmen, including experienced mechanics, electricians, metal workers, carpenters, administrative clerks, ordnance men, electronics technicians, and other such skilled men, are vital to the Marine group's effectiveness.

Good Rains Reported In Much Of Area; Lakes Register Gain

ALL IN FUN—Pretty Jean Williams was dragged from her stagecoach during a realistic rehearsal of an Indian raid on traveling pioneers for the Cobleskill, N. Y., Bicentennial celebrations. The 200-year-old town will see the stagecoach holdup as a climax of the festivities to be held during the early Summer. Costumes from the days of the Pilgrims and other historical fixtures will help make the event as authentic as possible.

Putnam Has Over Two Inches Rain

A thunderstorm rain shower dumped from a trace to three inches of water Tuesday afternoon on the sun-parched Cisco area, bringing much needed moisture to farms and breaking a two-week heat wave. The Cisco city hall rain gauge registered 2 of an inch.

The rain moved across the Cisco area, north to south. From one to three inches fell in the Lake Cisco and Lake Bernie water sheds. Although only one-tenth of an inch fell at the lakes, the water level at Lake Cisco gained a good inch and Lake Bernie was up 12 inches.

Heaviest rainfall was to the west. Putnam had about two and a half inches in town and three inches to the east and south. The Putnam city lake, which had been virtually dry, had gained six feet of water by early evening and water was still flowing into it. This brought to an end an acute water problem there.

In the Dothan area, west of Cisco, stock tanks were full and it was too wet to plow. Three inches of rain fell in that area. Scranton received about two inches of much needed moisture, bringing relief to large crop areas.

Little or no rain fell east and immediately south of Cisco. Eastland reported one tenth of an inch, and Ranger reported none.

The rain was too late for early feeds in the areas where it fell. It was worth much, however, to peanut and cotton growers, and some late feeds will be planted. Elsewhere in the county, it was still very dry and observers said it would be too late to do much good if rain doesn't fall within a few days.

Rainfall during June, usually a big rain month, was far below normal.

Exam For Rural Carrier Will Be Conducted Here

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at the Cisco Post Office, according to a notice posted here. A vacancy will occur when W. D. Hazel, rural carrier, retires in the near future.

The examination will be held at the post office here, and receipt of applications will close on July 24. The date of examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants after the closing date for receipt of applications.

On a standard daily route of 30 miles, the salary of a rural carrier is $3,158, with $20 per year additional for each mile or major fraction in excess thereof. Salaries on shorter routes or routes with less frequent service are proportionately less.

Rural carriers whose services are satisfactory receive regular promotions. All rural carriers must furnish and maintain, at their own expense, sufficient vehicle equipment for the prompt handling of mails. They are allowed an equipment maintenance of 9c per mile on the basis of the daily mileage scheduled (this amounts to $823.50 per year for a 30-mile route).

The examination will be open only to citizens of, or persons who owe allegiance to, the United States who are actually residing in the territory served by the post office where the vacancy exists, who have been actually residing there for one year next preceding the closing date for receipt of applications, and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form AN-1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles.

Form AN-1977 and application blanks can be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington 25, D. C.

HUNTSVILLE, July 1. — Five Texas colleges and universities — regionally located — are included among the new-type Reserve Officer Training Corps programs recently created by the Defense Department.

To be known as all-branch units, the four-year courses will be started in September on the campuses of Trinity University of San Antonio, Sam Houston State Teachers college in Huntsville, Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Midwestern University in Wichita Falls and West Texas State Teachers college in Canyon.

All are co-educational institutions and the military science courses will simply be added to the existing curriculums of the schools.

TRAFFIC DEATHS HIGHEST

The nation's military deaths in all wars since 1775 had reached a total of about 1,005,600 at the end of two years of war in Korea, where approximately 19,350 American combat deaths have occurred since the invasion of South Korea on June 25, 1950, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies has estimated.

The Association's continuing comparative study of war and traffic deaths showed, however, that the total of highway fatalities since the first automobile accident victim was killed in New York City 52 years and nine months ago is now far ahead of the all-time war total.

Since February, when the total of lives lost in highway accidents equalled military fatalities for the first time, the historic toll of 1,018,500 traffic deaths has surged 13,000 above the nation's war fatality toll of 1,005,600.

In the four months since the automobile outpaced war as a killer, highway deaths have climbed 6,500. This is more than 10 times greater than the increase of 600 in the number of American lives lost in Korean fighting while the truce talks were being held at Panmunjon during the same period.

With the automobile now far outpacing war as a mass killer of Americans, the Association said, there is little likelihood that military casualties will ever overtake highway fatalities in the

SPEED-KILLER NO. 1

Out of 35,000 lives lost in traffic accidents in 1950, 26,700 were sacrificed on the altar of carelessness. Speed—excessive, killing speed—accounted for nearly half that number. Speed, claiming 13,300 dead and 475,000 injured victims in a single year, is the nation's Killer No. 1.

While all traffic deaths declined from 1946 through 1949, even then fatalities on the open road kept creeping up. In 1950 a deadly spurt of speed accidents claimed 3,200 more victims in rural areas than it had the year before. Last year speed deaths again mounted.

Why do drivers race so heedlessly to destruction on the highway? Hardly to save time. Scorching at 70 is an invitation to disaster. Over any distance, 50 m.p.h. takes only a few minutes longer and offers a better chance of a safe arrival.

When you start out with your family or friends, discount speed before you take off. Give yourself and others in your car an extra margin of safety by leaving earlier and holding your speed within bounds. It's your responsibility to them and to others on the road.

Remember—more than one out of every three fatal accidents is due to speed.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

Practically any chemical, even the best of medicines, can act upon the body as a poison when taken in improper dosage. Chemicals not only are "taken" by mouth but also can be absorbed through the skin and breathed through the nose in sufficient dosage at times to poison the body.

In any case of poisoning, accidental or on purpose, the person should be placed under medical care as quickly as possible. No matter whether the poison was drunk, eaten, breathed or soaked through the skin, the first object is to remove the poison from any part of the body where it can be absorbed.

If the poisoning results from drinking or eating, the physician first pumps out the stomach. In order to further clean the poison from the digestive tract, he then gives a salt wash or mineral oil dosage to keep the poison from being absorbed through the intestinal walls.

When the poisoning is the result of breathing in dusts, gases or vapors that are injurious, the person should be moved to an area where the air is not poisoned and kept warm and at rest. If breathing stops, artificial respiration should begin at once. Further medical care consists of giving oxygen.

When the clothing or skin has been contaminated with a chemical known to be poisonous, the clothing should be cut away immediately and the skin washed with floods of cool water and gentle wiping.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q — I am a World War I veteran drawing Civil Service retirement pay. Must I include this money in figuring out whether my total yearly income is below the ceiling for getting a pension for a total nonservice-connected disability?

A — Civil Service retirement payments count as income only until you have received the full amount you have contributed under the program. After that, the retirement payments are not considered, in computing income for pension purposes.

Q — Are there any cases in which a GI loan guarantee can be restored to a veteran's credit?

A — Yes, under the following conditions: If the property is destroyed by fire or other natural hazard; if it has been taken over for public use by the Federal or local government, or if it must be disposed of because of other compelling reasons such as change of employment or illness, not the fault of the veteran. VA, however, must be free from liability on the original loan.

Q — I've been training under the GI Bill, and I had to interrupt my training to enter a hospital. I expect to be hospitalized for a long time. Is there any limit on the length of such an interruption, which is beyond my control, under VA's post-cut-off-date regulations?

A — No. There is no limit on the length of an interruption beyond your control. You will be permitted to resume training within a reasonable time after you leave the hospital.

Q — I am on active duty, and I am covered by a $10,000 indemnity. May I name anyone as my beneficiary?

A — No. Under the law, you may name only those persons within the following categories: spouse, child or children, parent or parents or brothers or sisters, or any combination of these.

Texas Librarian Has All Answers

AUSTIN, July 2.—It's almost a full-time job for one research librarian in the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research to answer such questions as:

"Are any chayote plants available in Texas?"

"How many pound of horse-hair and shark livers are produced in Texas?"

"Tell me all you know about Texas, please."

The Bureau of Business Research, celebrating its 25th anniversary, has a library containing one of the most comprehensive collections of Texas business and economic literature in the state. It is available to the Texas public and is invaluable for research by graduate and undergraduate students in business administration and other fields.

The two-pronged Bureau program, conceived by Dr. A. B. Cox, its founder, includes compilation of current statistical data for business and industry, and basic research in resources, the foundation of Texas wealth. A month publication, Texas Business Review, has been issued since 1928. Other publications include periodical bulletins and permanent studies. The Directory of Texas Manufacturers soon will appear in its eighth edition.

Since its founding, the Bureau has encouraged participation by private institutions in its activities. Extensive research projects have been commissioned by general industrial and commercial concerns, and trade associations. Dr. John R. It Wasn't Your Fault --

... when the party who sold you your home did not have an abstract, but it was your fault if you bought it without an abstract. One authority on titles puts it this way: "Titles were good yesterday, fair today, but sure to be worse tomorrow." Better insist on an abstract when buying real estate of any kind. Noted Musician To Teach At SMU

DALLAS, July 2. — The man who is credited by many national music educators as having developed one of the most comprehensive school-community music programs in the Southeast is going to teach at Southern Methodist University starting in September.

Travis Shelton, whose appointment to the school of music staff at SMU was announced today, will leave his position of 10 years' standing as supervisor of music at Sylacauga, Alabama, to go to the Dallas university.

Shelton has been very active in music festivals and clinics in the Southeast and as a National Committeeman in the Music Educators National Conference. His music program at Sylacauga prompted the Sylacauga Chamber of Commerce to change its city slogan from "The City of Textiles and Marble" to "The Singing City."

Perennial Flowers Prefer A Rugged Outdoor Life

Growing perennial flowers from seed is so easy and satisfying it is surprising that so few amateur gardeners try it. It is easier to start a long list of lovely varieties from seed sown now, than to start annual flowers and vegetables under protection in the spring.

Sweet Williams are biennials.

The reason is that perennials will grow in the open, without artificial heat, from the time the seed is sown until they bloom. All you have to do is to sow the seed, in a flat, or seed-bed, and give it the same attention you would a vegetable crop.

A flat is advisable for beginners. A standard size, 15 x 24 inches, will grow all the seed in an average packet of the following easily grown biennials and perennials: Anchusa, columbine, carnations, delphiniums, sweet williams, dianthus, Shasta daisies, hollyhocks, pyrethrum, gillardias, hincicus.

Though few of the difficulties and diseases which threaten the indoor seed box are present in the summer, it is best to fill the flat with good potting soil, a third each of sand, peat or humus, and sifted top soil. A thin layer of sphagnum moss sifted over the top will protect the seeds from fungi. Seeds may be broadcast evenly over the flat, unless several varieties are to be sown in the same flat; in which case, sow them in rows. Cover lightly with soil, or sifted sphagnum, water thoroughly, and place in a shady spot until the seeds germinate. This often takes longer than with annuals and vegetables, so be patient, and keep the seed box moist.

When the seeds sprout, place the box where it can get at least six hours' sun a day, plus the rain and irrigation water which falls on your other garden plants. It may need some extra water during a dry spell, since a box of porous soil will dry out quickly. But these hardy flowers require no coddling, and by fall some may be large enough to set out in the garden border.

In gardens with heavy soil, which is inclined to stay wet, it will be safer to let your plants remain in the seed box over winter. A cold frame would be the ideal wintering place, but any sunny corner, where a covering of leaves can be piled over it after the freeze-up, will be satisfactory. See that it goes into the winter with moist soil, but do not let soggy material accumulate above it.

Some of these perennials will die down during winter, others will retain their green leaves. But when spring comes and the protective covering is removed, all should begin growing again and soon reach a size suitable for transplanting to the garden.

If you were growing these plants for sale, you would transplant them in early fall to pots, or other flats, to give them room to develop into more impressive specimens. This is good practice, but can be bypassed by the amateur who wants to avoid this work. The plants will develop satisfactorily in their early stages even though crowded and when moved to the garden next spring will soon attain vigorous growth and normal size. Biennials must be grown from seed each year, but perennials once started can be increased by root division for years to come.

ALWAYS THE SAME—An inn in Miltenberg, Germany, is not only that country's oldest hotel but it still bears the same timbers and framework that were used in the building in the 16th Century. Originally a 12th-Century six-story building, the inn got its present form when renovated in 1590. Royalty from all of Europe has been entertained in the historic inn.

NEW IN MEXICO—The U. S. State Department recently moved the scattered offices of its Embassy in Mexico City from the four buildings it occupied into this modern 17-story structure on the Paseo de la Reforma. The only U. S. Embassy in the world larger than this one is the building in England.

It would take the human voice less than one-third of a second to travel by telephone around the world.

BOB PLAYS TWO ROLES!
...In His Most Outrageously Funny Comedy Hit!

News — Cartoon

C. S. (Clabe) Eldridge
County Judge

If elected I shall do my part to see that Eastland County gets its SHARE of the Farm to Market Roads we so badly need.

(Paid Pol. Adv.)

LAW BREAKER—Though the police might frown upon this youngster's uninhibited action in Washington, D. C., no one would deny that the lad had a fine idea. The mercury was doing its annual rising and that pool not far from the Capitol must have looked inviting. This is proof that at least one person took advantage of a chance to cool off.
