The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE COOL WEATHER Tuesday and the past two nights has given us all a second breath for the coming weeks. As far as we can determine, the lowest reading was 56 degrees early Tuesday morning — 44 degrees lower than the even 100 that thermometers registered around 3 p. m. Monday. It was a delightful day and two nights.

OUT IN LUBBOCK, a Cisco resident is getting a good look at the world again. She is Mrs. W. J. Tickner, who lives just south of the city limits on the Rising Star highway. Cataracts had taken the vision away from her eyes. She entered the hospital a few days ago and they removed the cataract from one eye.

The other morning, they removed the bandage. "Praise the Lord," Mrs. Tickner said, as she could see again. Monday, an operation was performed on the other eye. In a few days, the bandage will come off of it. And relatives and friends hope the aged lady will have another good eye for a better look at the world again.

MET UP WITH a newcomer to town yesterday. He is Mr. L. W. (Jack) Leach, who has just bought the old Mosley place nine miles north of Cisco. The Leaches have just moved here from Lorraine and will make their home at the 100-acre farm. Mr. John Dunn handled the sale.

A NUMBER OF people have told us "you had oughta see 'Quo Vadis,' the big movie. As we understand it, 'Quo Vadis' is Latin for an expression like "where do we go from here" or "what next." In any event, the movie is rated as top drawer entertainment. Went to see the Jane Froman story at the movie on Sunday. It was splendid.

YOUR FAMILY'S share of the present Federal debt, which you will have to help pay up sooner or later, is $4,500 and your family's tax in 1952 (including direct and indirect taxes) will be $1,000. That's the dope put out this week in the Merchants Credit Association monthly bulletin.

MRS. JESSE YOUNGBLOOD of Route 2, Cisco, has sent us a clipping that tells the history of the U. S. S. Wiltzie, a Navy Destroyer on which their son, Jessie Ray, is serving.

The Wiltzie joined the U. N. forces off Korea early in the war. It's with Task Force 95 taking part in carrier strikes on the North Korea mainland and blockading North Korean ports and bombarding North Korean and Chinese Communist positions in support of troops ashore.

The Wiltzie has three battle stars. It got one at Inchon, supporting the amphibious landing. Recently the destroyer was named "Communist Public Enemy No. 1" for its part in throwing over 5,000 shells at the enemy, destroying shore installations, enemy troops and gun positions. During this operation, the big guns fired day and night.

The ship was under fire for 24 days recently but came through unscathed and undaunted despite several near misses which sprayed the ship with shrapnel and water.

Jesse Ray has every right to be proud of his ship.

ARTIST RANDY Steffen is attracting some pretty good audiences while he finishes painting the First National Bank's mural in oils at the bank. He's due to conclude the project late this week, and then it will go into the vacant space above the teller's counter. . . Mr. Austin Flint didn't bring home any of the salt water fish, but he reports a good trip and plenty of fish. . . The Bob Elliotts are vacationing this week. . . Something over 700 people went swimming at Lake Cisco pool on July 4th. This was the season's biggest day to date. . . Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal, who had been in Graham hospital for several days, went home Monday and is feeling much better again. . . The Paul Farrows are vacationing. . . They're ready for plenty of rain out at the "Boss Glove plant. A new roof has just been completed. The city owns the building.

BAPTISM IN KOREA—U. S. Marine Cpl. Edward F. Quackenbush, left, Franklin Square, N. Y., and Pfc. Thomas McElroy, right, Lansing, Mich., were baptized in Korea's Imjim River. Former Resident To Be Buried In Cisco Thursday

Charles H. (Hub) Lawrence, 56, former Cisco dairy farmer, died in a Sweetwater hospital at 5:25 a. m. Wednesday after being ill for several days.

Mr. Lawrence was employed in the Piggly Wiggly store in Sweetwater at the time of his death. He moved to Sweetwater in the Spring of 1946 after closing his dairy here.

He was born in Cisco on August 8, 1895, and lived here until moving in 1946. He was married to Miss Maggie Key in Cisco in 1920.

Funeral services will be held in Sweetwater at the First Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Thursday and his body will be brought to Cisco Thursday afternoon. The body will lie in state at Thomas Chapel from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday and a second service will be held at Thomas Chapel at 5 p. m. The Rev. Timothy Guthrie will conduct the services.

Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery with Thomas Funeral Home in charge of the local arrangements.

Mr. Lawrence is survived by his wife, a daughter, Miss Bessie Lee Lawrence; a son, Bobbie Joe Lawrence and a brother, J. M. Lawrence, all of Sweetwater. He was a brother-in-law of Sam Key of Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Laird had as guests during the holidays their children, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Laird and sons of Rotan, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Laird and sons of Ranger, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Walker of San Antonio.

Plans were nearing completion today for a Sunday School-wide picnic of the First Baptist Church at 7 p. m. Friday at Lake Cisco Park, according to an announcement today. Everyone enrolled in the church's Sunday School has been urged to attend.

Preparations for serving the picnic were worked out Monday afternoon as the committee met at the home of Mrs. W. P. Guinn, chairman.

Everyone was asked to prepare food for their family or group. Each person is to bring his own paper plate and cup. The church will provide silverware and the drinks. The picnic basket lunches will be served promptly at 7 p. m.

Committees named for the picnic, which is expected to be attended by several hundred, were as follows:

Steering committee — Felton Underwood, C. S. Karkalits, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson and Miss May-

PRICE DANIEL TO MEET VOTERS OF AREA AT VICTOR SATURDAY

Attorney General Price Daniel will bring his campaign for United States Senator to Cisco on Saturday, July 12, when he will meet with friends and supporters for coffee at the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop at 3 a. m.

Mr. Daniel plans to spend Friday night at the Victor Hotel after a full day of campaigning in West Texas. He plans to be in Cisco about two hours, leaving here for appearances in Eastland, Ranger, Stephenville and elsewhere in Central Texas.

Daniel is completing his third term as Attorney General, being elected twice without opposition since 1946.

He is a native of Liberty County but is a graduate of Central (now Paschal) High School in Fort Worth, class of 1927.

That fall he went to Baylor University, where he earned degrees in journalism and law. In Waco he enlarged upon the record he had made in Fort Worth, won debating and journalistic laurels. There he was editor of both the school newspaper, The Lariat, and the senior class annual, The Roundup.

From Waco, Daniel went to Liberty and began to make use of both his law and journalism degrees. He hung out his shingle as a lawyer at the same spot where another distinguished Texan, Sam Houston, had maintained his law offices. He became co-publisher of The Liberty Vindicator, his hometown newspaper.

Thus as a lawyer and publisher he became a leader in both church and civic affairs. He widened his horizons and in 1939 was elected to the House of Representatives and a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Three times he was elected to the Legislature, and the third term his fellow legislators gave him the highest honor in their power — Speaker of the House of Representatives.

In 1940, Daniel married Jean Baldwin of Houston, great, great granddaughter of General Sam Houston. They have four children, Price Jr., 11, Jean 10, Houston Lee 7, and John 4.

As Speaker of the House, Daniel was legally exempt from military service. However, when the session closed, he enlisted in the armed services of his country — as a buck private in the Army.

From Speaker of the House of Representatives to peeling potatoes on KP duty at Fort Sam Houston, Price Daniel made the change with the same dignity, poise, and sincerity which has characterized his whole life.

His military record shows the same leadership characteristics exhibited in Fort Worth. He rose through the ranks from private to captain and had service in both the Army and Marine Corps, seeing duty in Japan and the Pacific Areas.

While still overseas, friends began booming Price Daniel for Attorney General. He didn't get discharged until late in the political year of 1946, but he waged what has been regarded as one of the most remarkable political campaigns in Texas annals, defeating the son of a former and popular Texas governor in a whirlwind 60-day race.

The last five years and five months, Daniel has served as attorney general, being twice re-elected without opposition.

Everton Asks For Votes In Bid For District Clerk

L. T. (Lois) Everton, candidate for District Clerk of Eastland County, today issued a formal statement in connection with his campaign for the office. His statement follows:

"To the people of Eastland County: "I was born February 4, 1899, in Comanche County, near Gorman, in Eastland County.

"When less than one year old, my parents moved to Kokomo, in Eastland County. I resided there and in Gorman forty-three years of my life. I grew up on a farm and know what it is to work hard. I have worked in the oil fields and I taught school in Eastland County for several years and later was in the Life Insurance business. I am a member of the Missionary Baptist Church of the Gorman Masonic Lodge.

"Thirty-two years ago Roy Nunnally, a former teacher of mine, was elected District Clerk; this inspired me to someday try to be District Clerk of Eastland County. My folks and I have assisted others to hold this office and other offices. In my experience I have found that if you want to accomplish anything in life, you have to fight for it; some office holders will never give the other fellow a chance to realize his life ambition.

"Our present District Clerk has held the office for eight years and is asking for ten. I consider that the people have been extra nice to him, having held the office longer than any other District Clerk.

"January, eight years ago, I was the first person to announce for office of District Clerk, but due to the fact that I was employed in defense work, I withdrew and did not make the race;

Commission Asks Citizens To Help Keep Area Clean

The City Commission, meeting Tuesday night for a regular semi-monthly session, urged local residents to continue their efforts in the interest of cleanliness with the aim of keeping the area free of diseases.

Mayor G. C. Rosenthal reported that the city is arranging to cut weeds from city streets and is ready to help cleanup vacant lots if the property owners desire help. The city has urged all citizens to wage a continuing war against mosquitoes and flies.

The commission approved department reports and the monthly bills.

Ceiling Changed For Soft Drinks

FORT WORTH, July 9.—The Fort Worth District Office of Price Stabilization has announced a revised bottled soft drink ceiling price regulation issued by the National OPS office which lists specifically the prices retailers may charge for 6 to 12 ounce soft drinks when their wholesale costs are increased.

Revision 1 to Supplementary Regulation 43, GPCR, lists ceiling prices of 6 cents a bottle, 29 cents for a six-bottle carton, and $1.16 for a case of 24 bottles, when the retailer has had a 5 cent per bottle selling price and the wholesale price has been increased 16 cents per case by the soft drink bottler.

OPS explained that 16 cents per case was the maximum wholesale increase permitted by SR 43, and then only when the resulting price is not in excess of 96 cents per case.

Other specific retail ceiling prices are listed in tabular form for smaller increases than the maximum of 16 cents and for retailers who have either a 5 or 6 cent ceiling price. The amendment is effective immediately.

Along with hundreds of soldiers from other divisions in Korea, he stayed in the finest hotels in Japan and enjoyed many luxuries unobtainable in Korea. The leaves are part of the Army's policy to give the fighting soldier a rest from the rigors of combat.

Corporal Farnsworth is a mechanic in Service Company, 14th Infantry Regiment.

Rev. D. C. Brisby, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Cherokee, will lead the song services for the revival. He is a young minister who is in considerable demand as an evangelistic singer.

Rev. Bradley reported that the finishing touches were being applied to the church building in preparation for the revival's opening. Considerable work has been done on the building and much new equipment has been secured in recent weeks. Carpets were being laid today on the speaker's platform to complete the improvement program.

The revival meeting will be followed by the church's Homecoming celebration on Sunday, July 27. Plans for this event are now being made. Various details of the program have been assigned to committees.

The general public has been invited to attend the revival meeting. Rev. Bradley said.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

WASHINGTON—Factors that may be expected to affect business operation and volume over the coming months are enumerated by the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Generally, says the report, it looks to students of the business outlook as if the year will be good, as good as last as the first half, and perhaps better for some of the industries that have been lagging. The general strength, they believe, will carry over into 1953. Even those who are pessimistic see no bad omens, says the report, that might ruin business in the first half of 1953.

A look at what has been happening in the past year discloses that gross national product of goods and services has risen from $320 billion to $340 billion, although the general price level within that time has remained virtually stable. Consequently the increase is in actual volume. Civilian employment is about the same as a year ago. The figure stands at about 61.2 million, with the number of men employed down about a quarter of a million and the number of women at work up just about the same. Unemployment is put at 1.6 million which is regarded as a low figure. Private construction a year ago was at the rate of about $60 billion, or about $7 billion above the current rate. New plant equipment, however, is up.

The defense program, which many predicted would bring civilian shortages before this, is now really beginning to roll. It would begin to look now as if the defense program will go forward, without too seriously pinching the civilian economy. There are some sporadic shortages of metals.

The Administration expects defense spending to attain the annual rate of $60 billion by December. The Chamber economists believe it may not reach that figure.

Total inventories in the hands of American business are estimated at more than $70 billion, probably an all time high. Retail inventories, however, have turned downward. The picture is complicated and mixed.

The national income rose from $269 billion for the first quarter of last year to $282 billion for the same period this year. Personal income is estimated at around $260 billion annually, a gain of $41 billion since the Korean war started.

Despite the increase in income, personal consumption has not grown so rapidly, indicating both a reluctance to buy a high rate of personal savings. Although the federal budget will not be greatly out of balance for the fiscal year, the deficit will increase from now on. How that deficit is to be financed is important. If it is financed through the medium of personal savings it will not create the inflationary pressures that will come with bond sales to commercial banks.

For the long run, the Chamber economists see some strong growth factors. In the '40's, 19 million persons were added to the population. In the present decade that number probably will increase to 23 million, constituting a basis for business expansion. Another encouraging factor is the great expansion of industrial research, new product development and product adaption to mass markets.

The fundamental growth factors of industry cannot be over-estimated, says the Chamber. Three industries — oil, chemicals and electric power — have plans for tremendous expansion. One estimate recently made predicts a doubling of power production within the next ten years.

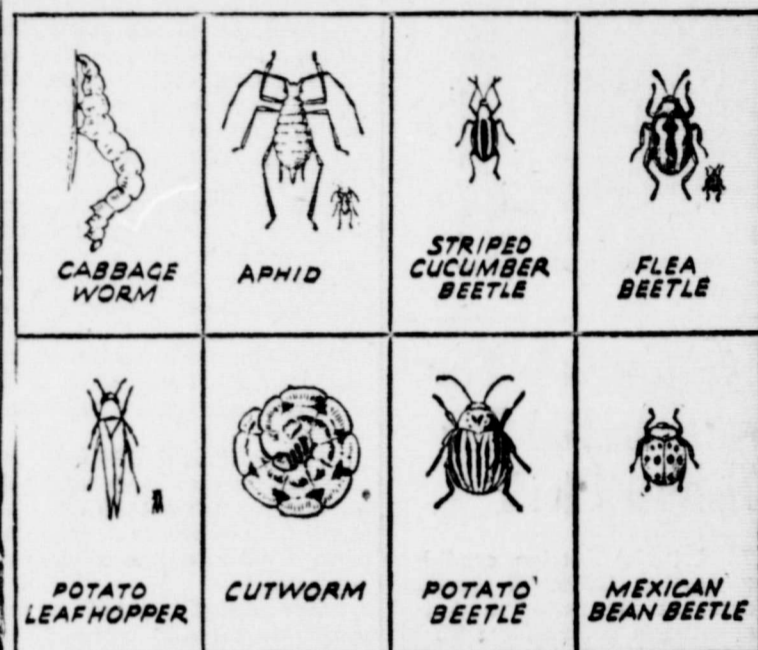

Many readjustments will have to be made when and if the defense program tapers off, but no one can foresee at the present time when this will be.

New Insecticides Carry Triple Threat to Pests

Look for all these insects to invade your vegetable plot.

While D.D.T. still kills more different garden insects than any other prewar preparation, new formulations are now available which research workers consider even better than D.D.T.

Aphids, or plant lice, which drink plant juices, are not all destroyed by D.D.T., though some are. Lindane, one of the new materials, kills all aphids plus the beetles, worms, leaf hoppers and flea beetles which D.D.T. destroys. Lindane is a chemical refinement of a German chemical imported when the war ended. In its original form it was handicapped by a bad odor, but this has been removed. Like D.D.T., lindane kills the insects which it hits, and leaves a residue on the plants which is fatal to pests that eat or walk on it. It also produces a vapor which is fatal to insects that breathe it.

Chlordane, another triple threat to plant pests, is now recommended for destroying insects that are in the soil or crawl about on it. It destroys ants, cutworms, chiggers, wire worms and the like.

A great convenience for the amateur gardener is an all purpose dust, containing materials which will destroy both insects and fungus diseases which may attack plants, without the necessity of a diagnosis. A duster can be filled with such a dust and kept handy. At the first sign of trouble in the garden, it can be used to cover the affected plants with a film of protective dust, before damage has been done. Sprays that give equal protection are also available, and can be used the same way. In application, a plant should be enveloped in a cloud of dust so that all leaf and stem surfaces are covered. Spray should be applied so that the entire plant is drenched and there is a heavy run off.

Experienced gardeners get to know the insects which every year attack their gardens.

Aphids or plant lice, red, black but mostly green, often cling to the underside of leaves, or on the growing ends of growing vegetables, multiplying with amazing rapidity. Rottenone, purethrum, or nicotine dust or spray will kill them if used at the first sign of their arrival.

Striped cucumber beetles appear on young plants of cucumbers, squash and melons as soon as they start growing. A handsome yellow bug with three black stripes, it infects the plant with a wilt disease, as well as eating the leaves.

Flea beetles are tiny flea-like fliers which bore small holes in the leaves of cabbage, egg-plant, and tomatoes.

Leaf-hoppers are like grasshoppers, one eighth inch long, which never stay put but swarm as you approach the beans they are feeding on. Lindane and D.D.T. kill them magically as they walk over the leaves on which there is an insecticide residue.

Squash bugs are reddish-brown, to black, three quarters of an inch long, which lay eggs in clusters on the under-side of squash leaves.

The Mexican bean beetle is the black sheep of the lady-bug family. It is coppery brown with 8 black spots on each wing cover, and lays yellow egg clusters on the under-side of the bean leaves.

Cabbage worms are hatched from eggs laid by white butterflies, and feed on cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and kohlrabi. When you see the white butterflies, spray or dust the plants.

It's exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's today!

however, I came back to Komo and Eastland and voted. At times I had a ballot mailed to me and went to a notary and voted. I have never voted out of Eastland County but one time in my life, and that was when I was in defense work. Before I went into essential war work, I was rejected for the Army, because of an injury, but I am not asking for one single vote because I was rejected for Army service. I considered it more important to remain with the defense work, than make a political race, at that time. I feel that if the people are not willing for me to be District Clerk NOW, they NEVER will be.

"I have always been interested in court procedure. Early during the boom, due to a large amount of litigation, the 91st District Court was created. Even then, the dockets of the two courts were crowded. Several years ago one court was discontinued. The salary of the District Clerk is larger now than during the oil boom.

"In my campaign, I appreciate the support and encouragement of my friends both old and new. It is nice to hear a voter say: 'Keep knocking these doors, as you are now.' Sometimes an office holder is inclined to brag how he performs the duties of the office. It is the duty of any public officer to perform his services politely, honestly, and efficiently; if he cannot or does not, he is not worthy of the honor that the people have bestowed upon him.

"If the office of the District Clerk is a good thing, pass it around; if it is a burden, let someone else bear it for awhile. I would like to be that person. I assure you that if I am elected,

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

A rupture is a breaking out. When the breaking out occurs on the surface of the body, as in a rash or as in the teeth, it is called an eruption.

But when the breaking out occurs under the surface of the body, it is called a rupture. In the abdomen, a rupture may be specifically referred to as a hernia.

Every part of the body has certain restrictive boundaries, like fences. These fences separate one domain from the other, keeping neighboring structures of the body in happy relationship.

As the fences inside the body mark off the anatomical divisions, there are some spots which are noted for being weaker than others. It is usually along these lines that the inside neighbor shoves against the fence so hard that it stretches and tears the fence.

A hernia represents a break in the continuity of the fence, one spot where the inside neighbors crowd out over the boundary line into the neighboring domain.

In every day language, a hernia represents strained relations between two neighboring parts of the body.

I will not ask for ten nor eight years in office. I am asking the people of Eastland County for a fair chance and consideration, please give me your vote."
