

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

HAVE YOU EVER seen a Century Plant in bloom? No? Well, drive out to Cisco Junior College and look at one. It's kind of between the Girls Dorm and the Classroom Building. There are a number of blooms on the plant, which gets its name from the fact that it only blooms once a century.

If you drive up and watch for a few minutes, you'll see a dozen tiny humming birds. They're hovering a field day at the big plant. It will probably stay in bloom for several days, and it will be worth your time to drive out and have a look.

IF YOU HEARD some loud talking and couldn't quite figure out where it all was coming from the other day, it was the electronics department of Cisco Junior College's night school. The class was testing a 5-mile amplifier. We guess you're supposed to be able to hear it for five miles. It's a 250-watt gadget and it would be worth much to any community in an emergency.

It was a pleasure to note the permanent improvements to the Presbyterian have made here this year. Two new girls' dormitories are in use, along with the new kitchen and other facilities. They've added to the grounds, changed up and enlarged the water system, and improved the property generally.

Plans for the future include more dormitories and much beautification work. It's a splendid step and a fine asset for the Cisco area.

Visitors are welcome, if you'd like to drop out.

WENT OVER TO Ranger last evening for the opening performance of the Jaycee Championship rodeo. And it was a fine show in every respect. The rodeo events and their acts are the best we've ever seen at any rodeo anywhere. The show continues all night through Saturday.

There were perhaps 300 horses in the arena during the grand roundup. These included the Cisco Roundup Club. Probably the most colorful outfit there was the Graham Horsemen's Club with some 30 white horses, advertising their Possum Kingdom Roundup next month.

Two Ciscoans competed in the Merle Dean Bowles race at Stock Show last spring. One thing that we noticed about that steer wrestling event was that just about every one of the dozen contestants ruined a shirt. They all came away with buttons gone, holes in the sleeves or other damages.

There was a splendid crowd. Actually every one of the 3,500 seats was occupied. A goodly number of Ciscoans turned out. Among them were the Frank Clumppits, the Sam Kimmells, the E. H. Lightfoot and Colonel Will Reagan.

HIS HEART'S DESIRE—Six-year-old Craig Thomas, of Syracuse, N. Y., was mighty happy when he received the wings and scroll of an honorary Civil Air Patrol cadet in New York. The presentation was made to the tiny cerebral palsy victim by Col. Early W. Duncan, deputy commander of the CAP, who flew to New York from Washington for the occasion. Craig's mother wrote to Secretary of the Air Force Thomas Finletter, and that started the ball rolling.

Dime Store Paint Brush And Bottle Of Chlordane Finishes Off Roaches

AUSTIN, July 17. — A dime store paint brush and a few ounces of chlordane are the only tools you need to run off those pesky cockroaches, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox advises. But he says keeping them off is a bigger job.

Roaches are disease carriers from way back, the health officer pointed out. They've been found naturally infected with polio virus. And that alone, is reason enough to declare war against the filth ridden pests.

Here's the way to do it: First: get a 2 per cent chlordane spray and a two-bit paint brush from the drug store. Then take all the pots, pans, and dishes from the kitchen cabinet and wash them in soapy water. Now paint the chlordane into all the cracks where shelves join walls, and around the drain and water pipes. That's all — don't paint the whole cabinet. While the spray is drying in the cabinets, paint in the corners of baseboards, behind the stove and the hot water heater where water and gas pipes enter the house.

Take off the motor panel of the refrigerator, and treat the floor and corners of the motor compartment. Paint the walls behind the refrigerator, because roaches will hide any place they can find protection. Be sure to paint around bathroom pipes, too. In older houses it's possible that roaches will be hiding in cracks between the wall boards and door and window frames. So don't pass up a crack because it looks too small to harbor roaches. The young insects are mighty small.

After the spray in the cabinets has dried thoroughly, cover the shelves where dishes and food are stored with paper.

You can get a can of caulking compound for just a few cents, which makes filling cracks permanently an inexpensive process. But run some of the spray into cracks before sealing them up. This will kill ants, too.

All this will help you get rid of roaches, Dr. Cox emphasizes. But if you leave food exposed, they'll soon be back at the same old stand.

Mrs. White had lived in San Antonio for about six years prior to her death.

FARM BUREAU WINS FIRST HONORS WITH INDIAN TRAIL FLOAT

The entry of the Eastland County Farm Bureau won first place in the parade at the annual Indian Trail Festival held recently at Gorman. The float was an Indian Family active in agriculture, showing the squaw with her papoose and the Indian maiden working the crop while the Indian brave was bringing in a turkey from a hunting trip.

Lettering on the side of the float spelled out "Eastland County Farm Bureau" with peanuts. The float was prepared by Joe Bob Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Sparks.

Those portraying the Indians were Mrs. Joe Bob Browning, squaw; Miss Shirley Rogers, maiden; and Glen Clements, brave. The papoose was Mrs. Browning's seven month old nephew.

Cisco Baby Is Victim Of Polio

Four and a half months old Russell Clarence Strother, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strother, 700 Avenue G, became Cisco's first polio victim for 1952 when an illness he had suffered for several days was diagnosed as polio by Abilene specialists Wednesday.

The baby was taken to Abilene by his parents after an illness of three or four days persisted. He was examined by physicians who took laboratory tests and diagnosed the case as bulbar polio.

He was given oxygen Wednesday night and Thursday but had not been placed in an iron lung Thursday morning. His condition was described as serious.

The first game on the schedule is the Eastland Yellow Jackets-Breckenridge Tiger contest set for 8 o'clock tonight. The Eastland team is one of the best in the area and the Tigers, a team of Breckenridge Negroes, was reported to have won all their games this season.

Friday night the American Legion Indians will play the Eastland Yellow Jackets here. Coach D. N. Morrison reported that he would start either Andy Mosley or Alpha Elder on the mound to match throws with Eastland's hurlers.

ASSAULT CHARGES ARE FILED IN SHOOTING CASE WEDNESDAY

Charges of assault with intent to murder were filed against two men in Judge Henry H. Curtis' Justice of the Peace Court here Wednesday afternoon as the result of a shooting at the intersection of West 8th Street and Avenue F.

District Attorney Joe Nuesse said today that the case would be turned over to a grand jury that will meet Monday at the courthouse in Eastland.

Judge Curtis set bond of $1,000 for each of the men, one an Eastland man, and the other a resident of Cisco. Both men made bond immediately.

First Baptists Vote To Conduct Summer Revival

Members of the First Baptist Church voted in a business meeting Wednesday night to continue with plans to conduct the summer revival as had been planned before the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. Ralph T. Wootton.

Plans call for conducting the revival meeting under a high tent on the church lot at Avenue E and West 9th Street for two weeks beginning on August 11. The meeting will be conducted by the Rev. L. D. Ball of Lamesa and the singing and music will be under the direction of Joe Trussell.

It was announced following a business meeting Tuesday night that a pulpit committee would be appointed Sunday to study and recommend a pastor to take the place of Rev. Wootton, who has accepted a call from Hamilton. Rev. Wootton will preach his final sermon here Sunday.

Third Of Liquor Violations Cases Settled By Court

District Attorney Joe Nuesse estimated today that about one-third of the cases filed in Eastland County several weeks ago in raids on liquor law violators have been disposed of. Most of the cases cleared up were on pleas of guilty where fines were assessed.

One case was settled last Monday when the man charged with possessing liquor for the purpose of sale was fined $250 and costs on a plea of guilty.

Mr. Nuesse doubted if any others of the some 40 cases would be tried before September. The 91st District Court has recessed jury cases until the September term of court opens.

Port Wine is named for Oporto, Portugal.

Final Week Due To Attract Many

The largest group of young people of the summer camp program will be in attendance next week at the Lake Cisco Presbyterian Encampment, the Rev. H. Grady James, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, told members of the Lions Club in a talk Wednesday at their weekly luncheon meeting.

Approximately 100 young people of high school age are due to open a week's camp on Monday. The Rev. James Grady, Minister Wells Presbyterian minister, will be director of the camp, and his staff will include some 20 adult leaders.

Rev. James, director for the church's Pioneer Camp for youngsters from 12 to 14 years old, reported that the second week of that program will be concluded Saturday. Some 50 youngsters are in camp this week as compared with 53 last week. The staff included 12 adults.

The daily program calls for the youngsters to arise at 7 a. m. to begin their daily activities, which include an informal religious study period, recreation, a game hour, vesper services and various other features.

Rev. James reported that the considerable improvement program at the camp during the past few months has added much to the camp life. The program included two new dormitories with a bath house for girls, a kitchen, a new water system, better roads, a softball diamond, a floor for the chapel building and beautification work.

Members of the Lions Club and other organizations were invited to visit the camp. President E. L. Jackson of the Chamber of Commerce was a Wednesday visitor and met camp leaders and toured the camp buildings and grounds.

The Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, was in charge of the program and introduced Rev. James. Rev. Bob Sanders of Wesley Methodist Church was initiated as a new member by the Rev. Leslie Seymour.

Bill Kendall was a guest at the luncheon.

WEST CISCO POOL OIL TEST IS DUE TO REACH PAY HORIZON SOON

The Connally-Jackson No. 1 Crawford-Harrell, a deep oil test just west of the Cisco city limits, is due to reach the Lake Sand pay horizon in the next few days, according to reports today. The well was drilling in Caddo lime at 3,286 early today.

Drilling, however, had halted temporarily while a new pump motor was being installed. The Caddo lime was topped at 3,200 feet — about the same level as in nearby producers. Elsewhere in the area, the McElroy Ranch Company's No. 1 Wright Estate test, located some seven miles southeast of Cisco, has been started. Drilling depth was not available here.

Are You Flirting With Cancer?

If you live near a factory or if you get too much sun, use hormone creams or smoke too much, you may be flirting with cancer. It's what the scientists call environmental or occupational cancer, and at the present time we know entirely too little about its peril, according to an article in the current issue of Pageant Magazine.

The job you work at, the place you live, the food you eat, even the cosmetics you use are all factors which affect your susceptibility to cancer. Science has moved so fast in two generations, points out the magazine, that we now find ourselves in daily contact with thousands of wondrous new chemicals and agents without giving them a second thought. The U. S. Public Health Service has published a list of 52 suspect agents — like radium which took the lives of factory women in the 1920s who painted clocks with the new wonder substance — which can attack and cause cancer in 27 kinds of human body tissues. Many of them are new substances marvelously useful to industry.

The cancer danger, however, doesn't always lie in laboratory-produced substances. The biggest source of skin cancer is the sun. Sunny Dallas, for example, has 140 skin cancer cases per 100,000 population; Detroit has only 24.

What can be done about the scores of cancer dangers that the general public isn't even aware of? We can rewrite our Food and Drug Laws and give the FDA enough money and personnel to do the proper research and inspection job, the magazine suggests. Right now only one top expert and seven lab men are concentrating on environmental cancer at the government's cancer research institute.

Sometimes control is as simple as wearing gloves or respirators or making a factory smokestack a little higher. Sometimes a rotation of factory workers through a manufacturing process will prevent any one from getting unduly exposed. Or it can be as simple as reading labels on cans, carefully washing your food, staying away from excess exposure to anything.

Poliomyelitis is classed as a neurotropic viral infection, meaning it is caused by a virus which has an affinity for nervous tissue. Other diseases in this same category are mumps, shingles (herpes zoster), rabies, most forms of sleeping sickness (encephalitis), and some forms of meningitis.

The tiny virus that causes polio is believed to get into the body through the mouth, then into the intestinal tract, then to the blood stream and then to the central nervous system, where it attacks the nervous tissue. The nervous tissue from the spinal cord feeds into muscle tissue and when the virus of polio destroys nerve cells, the muscles joined to those nerves fail to get the proper stimulation and undergo shrinking.

In the vast majority of cases, the polio virus gets no further than the mouth, throat or in intestinal tract, causing mild symptoms which may never be recognized as polio.

Among those who are afflicted severely enough for a diagnosis of polio to be made, from 40 to 60 per cent have few or no nerve cells permanently damaged, no visible evidence of after-effects. About 25-35 per cent, slightly more than one-fourth of the polio patients, will suffer nerve cell destruction to the point where they will be left with moderate paralysis, not bad enough to prevent useful activities but enough to leave some crippling of limbs.

John C. White Asks Re-Election To State Agency

AUSTIN, July 17. — The first definite step toward putting the Texas Department of Agriculture on a self-supporting basis was claimed this week by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

White, who is asking a second term in the top agriculture job in Texas, said his department is requesting less aid from the state general revenue fund in 1954, despite plans to increase his office's scope of activities. If White's budget is approved by the Texas Legislature next year, the expansion program will be financed by fees collected by the department, he explained.

Less than one-fourth of the polio patients suffer sufficient nerve damage to have extensive paralysis. Of the eight per cent or so who die with polio, nearly all suffer from the type known as bulbar poliomyelitis.

The commissioner said his action breaks the general custom of state offices requesting a surplus of funds in hopes of obtaining an adequate amount after legislative cutbacks. The Department of Agriculture was granted $309,540 from general revenue for 1953 expenses. The new budget asks $309,000 in 1954.

"While a saving of $540 may seem negligible on the surface," said White, "it means we are over the hump in maximum tax money spending and our request from year to year are now expected to decrease with no loss of service to agriculture in Texas. The use of department fees to finance new work is a step in the right direction towards making the department self-supporting and, in the long-run, towards lightening the tax burden."

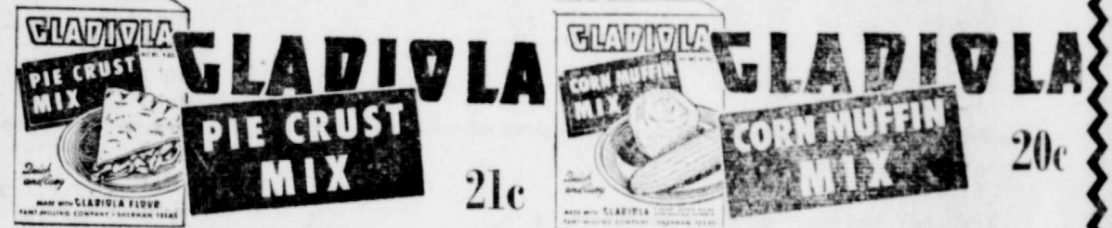

Before White won the agriculture post from veteran politician J. E. McDonald two years ago, he was head of the Division of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public services feature of the State Bar of Texas

Is there a counterpart of our American "Bill of Rights?" Texas lawyers believe that for every guaranteed RIGHT, there is a corresponding RESPONSIBILITY on the part of every citizen.

Recently the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar was presented an award by the Freedom Foundation for its work during 1950-51. One of the projects during that time, and one factor in earning the award, was the development of the following "Bill of Responsibilities:"

I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.

welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.

III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress the law or to oppress the rights of others.

IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the freedom of the press; to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon; and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth in the Constitution.

V. It shall be the duty of every citizen to protect and sustain the unwritten liberties and rights vested in him by custom and usage and to perpetuate the ideals of the equality and dignity of the individual, upon which the Constitution is founded.

VI. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be active in the political party of his choice, and to be vigilant of the public officers, to render all possible aid to them, and to serve in public office by appointment or election when qualified and when called upon to do so. It shall be his duty to strive for the selection of public officers of ability and upright character; and when holding public office, to serve in such manner as will subordinate private or minority interest to those of the people at large.

VII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to achieve the highest practicable level of education, and to work for the advancement of education by supporting and improving the public schools and by fostering the desire for education among his fellow citizens.

VIII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend the right to buy and sell, to own land and other property, to engage in commerce, and to work and earn a living wage, as a fundamental guarantee of the freedom and welfare of the nation.

IX. It shall be the duty of every citizen to instruct his children in the principles of freedom and to spread the ideals of democratic government at home and abroad.

X. It shall be the duty of every citizen to preserve an attitude of self-reliance, and to use all legitimate means to achieve financial independence and security; to practice thrift and economy in his own affairs and to require the same of local, state and federal government.

Crop Prospects Summer As Large Areas Need Rain

Feed crops, pastures and cotton prospects faded further over large part of the State as light conditions continued the past week. Generous rains, however, in some northern high plains, and western rolling plains counties and most of the Trans-Pecos region and pasture prospects in those areas. Showers in the coastal bend and along the upper coast also improved cotton, feed and pasture prospects in these sections.

In the northwest, one-way wheat stubble was well along in sorghum harvest was well along in the coastal bend and was started in some southern counties as hot, dry weather hastened maturity. Start of cotton harvest moved northward with Nueces County reporting its first bale.

Corn prospects continued to decline. Some early planted corn in southcentral and southeastern counties had prospects for fair yields, but in northcentral and northeast areas, the crop was ripening prematurely with light yields in prospect, and a considerable acreage was being cut for silage. Rainfall in favored western and northwestern counties greatly improved grain sorghum prospects and permitted planting of late feeds.

Harvest continued active in the coastal bend commercial area. In other areas prospects continued downward, with part of the crop being grazed off or baled, and premature ripening was lessening yields per acre. Second and third cuttings of alfalfa were being made in irrigated areas of the northwest and Trans-Pecos. Hay crops were making little growth elsewhere.

Practically all peanut areas continue to need moisture and planting of the fall-crop acreage in the southern counties is being delayed. Rice progress continued very favorable. Broom-corn harvest in the south was nearing completion and some of the early fields in central and eastern counties were being pulled. Some late crops in these latter areas were badly in need of moisture.

Early cotton made little progress and late cotton deteriorated further. In a number of western and northwestern counties, late cotton was greatly benefited by light to locally heavy showers which also stimulated fruiting of early cotton. In north-central Texas, cotton continued blooming but rain was urgently needed for stalk development. In east Texas fruiting made fair progress and insect infestations generally were decreasing. Cotton in southcentral counties made slow growth and continued to shed excessively.

Showers in the coastal bend and upper coastal counties favored growth and fruiting, but some increase in insect damage was reported. Harvest continued active in the lower Rio Grande valley and was started in adjacent counties in the coastal bend.

Conditions were favorable for continued active harvest of the remaining commercial vegetables, mostly cantaloups, potatoes, tomatoes, and watermelons. Supplies of cantaloups and tomatoes for carlot movement were practically over. Carlot shipments of potatoes from the Panhandle were very active, the peak of harvest having been reached the latter part of the past week. A small acreage in the Hereford section was furnishing onions for nearby markets.

Watermelons were moving in good volume from most central and eastern counties, and solid carlot shipments are expected to continue active for the next two weeks. Yields were lowered considerably by dry weather, and all plantings for August harvest are badly in need of moisture. Preparation of seed beds for fall-crop plantings in the southern counties made good progress. Conditions in the lower valley are more favorable at this date than for the past few years.

Pasture feed supplies over much of the State were further reduced. Local rains in some southern high plains and low rolling plains counties and over much of the Trans-Pecos temporarily relieved the critical drought situation but more rain will be needed to bring pastures along. Cattle are barely holding their own in most areas. Some ranchers in the high plains areas are feeding hay to hold shrinkage to a minimum.

"THE GUEST"

I want to recommend this picture to everyone. I think it is one of the best religious pictures I have ever seen. I have personally recommended such pictures as "Stars in My Crown" and "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain" and now I highly recommend "Reaching From Heaven." It is a must for everyone.

After a special screening held some weeks ago here is what some of the people of Cisco had to say about "Reaching From Heaven."
"One of the most unusual pictures I have ever seen. It shows what Christianity is and how it works in the lives of ordinary people." — Mrs. Grady James.

"A very fine picture. Would recommend it to church people of all denominations and to those of no church at all." — Mrs. J. W. Gill.

"God truly is "Reaching From Heaven" today, as always. He is ever mindful of us if we will do our part. We should be interested in the Strangers. "Reaching From Heaven" is powerful and awakens spiritual need. Everyone should see it." Mrs. W. D. Johnston.

"I think this is a wonderful religious picture that meets people in a practical way." — Grady James.

"This a picture with a terrific impact for the highest and best in life. A good family picture." — J. W. Gill.

Also on the program with "Reaching From Heaven" we have another wonderful religious picture, "The Guest."

For fine family entertainment do not miss these two pictures.

... if you are interested in land titles or the property you own no wor may hereafter acquire. Buying good land titles is just about as important as buying good food or good medicine, yet some people have spent their life-time earnings for a farm or home in town with little or no thought about the title. Better be safe than sorry — depend on an abstract for guidance when buying any kind of real estate.

Coconut Icebox Pie

Broadcast: June 28, 1952

1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup melted butter
1/4 cup sugar
3 Tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup Fat Milk

3 slightly beaten egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites
6 Tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup shredded coconut, packaged or canned

Press mixture of crumbs and butter in bottom and on sides of 9-inch pie pan. Chill. Meanwhile, mix 1/4 cup sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Stir in mixture of milk and water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Remove from heat. Stir into egg yolks. Cook and stir over low heat 3 minutes longer. Cover and cool. When cold, add vanilla. Pour into crumb-lined pan. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat in gradually 6 tablespoons sugar. Put on custard, spreading to edge of crust to seal in filling. Sprinkle coconut over top. Chill 3 hours or longer.
