NUMBER 168

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

NOTE: WE HEREBY turn a column of our column today to the Rev. Leslie Seymour, superintendent of Cisco District Methodist Churches, who writes of a meeting he attended yesterday.)

By LESLIE SEYMOUR

The Cisco Lions Club couldn't figure out anything else for a program at their weekly meeting Wednesday so they called on me to talk on the subject "Free Press of the Press." And after listening to his report, I am convinced that there isn't anything about The Press — they charge you for copies of the paper and for advertising.

The Editor estimates that in the 15 years as an editor he has covered more than 2,500 assorted banquets, luncheons and meetings. This is quite a record. There's a trend over the country for the number of newspapers to decrease, he reported, noting that several little papers had disappeared from this area in the last few years. The country newspaper, however, is here to stay in the towns big enough to support them.

Supplementing what the Editor said, let me say that the small town newspaper has a very definite place in the community — that it is performing, in a measure, a public service. Our country papers devote themselves to their communities, leaving national news to the big papers. They concern themselves with the home people, recording for posterity the community life in vivid detail. Many scrapbooks have yellow clippings from somebody's home paper about events their owners like to read and re-read over the years.

Our little paper in Cisco is doing a pretty important place in the life of Cisco. It has a payroll of about $2,000 per month. It has 12 paper boys who go into every area of the city five days every week. These boys are getting business training, learning to meet the problems of life. You can go to the head office of many of our nation's biggest businesses and you will find that many of the head men got their start as a newspaper delivery boy.

The country newspaper is an effective weapon in our constant war to preserve the freedoms. Let us all hope that this war will never be lost and that the banners of freedom will always be held high. Certainly, we can count on the country editors to do their part.

WE THANK YOU, Mr. Seymour, for covering the Lions Club meeting. You might have added that the Rev. F. C. Bradley, pastor of the East Cisco Baptist Church, was presented his pin as a new member in a ceremony conducted by Mr. O. L. Stamey. You might also have mentioned that we received several compliments on the fact that our talk was short.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE

There's No Place Like Home—Absolutely No Place" Club are Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Livingston of town. They got back Tuesday after 16 days of vacationing in 12 western states. They covered 4,760 miles in seeing the sights of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California and others of the states out west. Ocie brought back a clipping from a paper out there, as follows: "Trying to make conversation with an old-timer at a polling station out in an arid portion of Texas, a tourist commented, 'Looks like rain.' 'I sure hope so,' sighed the old-timer, 'not for myself, but for the boy here. I've seen rain.' They brought Mr. Doc Cabaness, a jug of ocean water. Underneath he and his brother at Midland plan to take off soon for their annual tour of the western country.

THE FLEMING Waters are back from Dallas where their daughter, who was a polio victim last year, underwent major surgery in an effort to repair damaged leg muscles. They report that she is doing nicely. Comes postcard from Jerre Westfall, the Cisco soldier, who is vacationing.

W. D. Hazel, Local Rural Mail Carrier For Over 44 Years, Will Retire July 31

Will Day Hazel, a rural mail carrier for the Cisco Post Office, will retire when he completes his 44th year of service on July 31, 1952. He has been continuously served, using a horse-drawn vehicle. At that time, his route was 28 miles in length, and at the present time, it is 63 miles long. During this time, beginning in 1921, when he purchased his first motor vehicle, he has worn out so many cars that he can't remember exactly how many.

Mr. Hazel's record of service is unique in two respects. First, the length of time he has been in the service is one of the longest in the nation; and, second, he is retiring from the same route he began on without transfer to any other route and without a break in his service.

Route 4 will be taken over on August 1 by E. L. Hazlewood on a temporary basis. An exam has been scheduled in the near future to select a permanent successor to Mr. Hazel.

The city welfare department has a need for children's clothing of all kinds and sizes, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal said. Anyone with old clothes who want to donate it to the needy was asked to bring the items to the city hall or call the city secretary's office. Mr. Rosenthal said the department is seeking to help a needy family.

Red Cross Needs Nurses To Serve In Polio Season

The American Red Cross has issued an urgent call for registered nurses to serve during the polio season. Incidence of the disease so far this year is running 58 percent above the same period last year, according to statistics released by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"The demand for more nurses is particularly great in Iowa and Texas," according to Kay Fitzpatrick, Red Cross director of Nursing Services for the Midwestern Area. Most of the available nurses will be needed before the epidemic is over, she said.

"It is not our intention to drain nurses from other duty in which they are vitally needed," Miss Fitzpatrick said. She added that inactive registered nurses were particularly being sought.

Nurses recruited by the Red Cross are requested to serve for a minimum two-month period. Their salaries are paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Red Cross recruits nurses at the request of the NFIP, the organization which provides expert polio care for all and meets the cost of treatment when family finances are inadequate. The Foundation will pay the cost of transportation to places of assignment and will provide maintenance in addition to salary while the nurse is serving in polio work.

Foundation figures show a total of 4,176 cases of polio in the United States since March. This compares with 2,644 last year. Last week 34 nurses recruited through Red Cross in Midwestern Area were assigned to hospitals in Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, and Texas. The need is especially acute in Sioux City, Iowa, and Houston, Texas, where serious epidemics have been reported.

Nurses able to serve during the polio season should contact their local Red Cross chapter, Miss Fitzpatrick said.

90 Presbyterian Young People Present For Lake Cisco Encampment Program

By ARTHUR ODUM, Fort Worth
A record number of young people are attending the annual Lake Cisco Presbyterian Encampment this week, which is being directed by the Rev. James F. Garvin, pastor of the Mineral Wells Presbyterian Church.

Some 90 campers of high school age are at the Lake Cisco camp for six days of instruction and fellowship. Assisting Rev. Garvin is a staff of 14 adult advisors.

The encampment, which opened Monday, will close at 1 p. m. Saturday. During the week the main theme has been testing the daily christianity of the youth to see if their christianity works all during the week, and not just on Sunday.

The daily program calls for the

More Than 7,000 People Eligible To Cast Ballots

More than 7,000 Eastland County voters will be eligible to cast ballots in the 1952 First Primary Election in the 25 polling places Saturday, and a near-record number of residents are expected to take part in the bi-annual election.

In addition to the election, Saturday will be convention day for both Democrats and Republicans. Precinct 5 Democrats (the east side) will hold their meeting at their polling place — the Cisco Gas Corporation office — and the west side Democrats will meet at the city hall. Republicans also will hold a precinct meeting.

Interest in the election has been indicated by the record number of absentee ballots cast. County Clerk Virgil Love reported that 289 residents turned in absentee ballots by the July 22 closing date. Some ten ballots were received at the clerk's office after the deadline, and it will be up to the county committee as to whether or not they will be counted. Mr. Love said this was a record for the number of absentee votes in Eastland County.

The County's some 60 candidates for office — precinct to precinct — will conclude their bids for votes Friday. The candidates have agreed among themselves not to pass out cards or circulars on Election Day, according to reports here.

The polls will open throughout the county's 25 voting boxes at 8 a. m. Saturday and will remain open until 7 p. m. Most of the votes are expected to be counted by midnight.

As usual, Cisco promises to cast the biggest bloc of votes in the county. A total of 1,806 Ciscoans paid poll taxes, and scores of others will be eligible to vote without poll taxes on exemption certificates.

Election judges have been named for the various boxes as follows:

NEW LAW EXTENDS GI BENEFITS TO VETERANS OF KOREAN WAR

The President has signed into law a new GI Bill for veterans who served in the armed forces any place in the world since the start of the Korean conflict on June 27, 1950.

The new law provides five benefits, all designed to assist veterans in their return to civilian life. Included are education and training; unemployment compensation; mustering-out pay, and job-finding help.

The education and training provisions allow a veteran one and one-half days of training for each day in service after the outbreak of the Korean fighting — regardless of where the service was performed — up to a maximum of 36 months.

However, veterans who have previous training under earlier veterans' training laws — the World War II GI Bill or Public Laws 16 or 894 for the disabled — may get up to 48 months, minus whatever time they've already spent in training under those earlier programs.

A veteran may train in school or college, on-the-job or on-the-farm, so long as the school or training establishment has been approved by an appropriate State Approving Agency and meets other qualifications of the law. Only one change of course program is allowed, except under certain conditions determined by the Veterans Administration.

Veterans in GI Bill training will receive an education and training allowance each month from the Government, to meet part of the expenses of their training and living costs. Tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment will not be paid by the Government; instead, they will have to be paid out of the monthly allowance.

Rates for veterans in full-time training in schools and colleges are $110 a month, if they have no dependents; $135 if they have one dependent, and $160 if they have more than one dependent. Those in training less than full time will receive lower monthly rates.

Top monthly amounts for on-the-job trainees are $70 without dependents; $85 with one dependent, and $105 with more than one dependent. The maximums for institutional on-farm trainees are $95, $110 and $130, respectively. The law requires that on-job and on-farm rates be reduced, at four-month intervals, as the training progresses and the veteran's own earnings increase.

The law also specifies that veterans taking institutional on-farm training must devote full time to their program.

The new GI Bill places a $310-a-month ceiling on job training, regardless of dependency status. Should a veteran's training allowance plus his earnings as a trainee exceed this amount, VA will reduce the allowance plus his earnings as a trainee exceed this amount, VA will reduce the allowance accordingly. There's no ceiling, however, on what he may earn.

A veteran will get his monthly allowance some time after the end of each month of training completed. Before the VA can pay him, the law requires a certification from both the veteran and his school or training establishment, that he was enrolled in and pursuing his course during that period.

This new method of payment differs from procedures followed under previous veterans' training laws. Under earlier laws, VA paid tuition and other costs directly to schools, and also paid eligible veterans a monthly subsistence allowance.

Although the new law takes effect today, no training allowances may be paid for any period prior to August 20.

The loan provisions of the new GI Bill for post-Korean veterans are similar to the GI loan program now in effect for World War II veterans. Some changes have been made, however, to protect the interests of home-buying veterans.

The amount of VA guarantee on a loan is the same for both groups of veterans. Home loans may be guaranteed for up to 60 percent of the loan, but the guaranteed portion may not exceed $7,500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 percent, with a $4,000 top. And non-real-estate loans, such as GI business loans, may be guaranteed for up to 50 percent with a $2,000 ceiling as to the guarantee. All such loans also may be insured.

VA's direct loan program, now in effect for World War II veterans, has been extended to veterans who served since Korea. Under the program, VA may make loans directly to veterans, but only in certain areas where four percent GI loan money is not available.

Dear Friends and Voters:

Friends, it is regrettable that at last I am forced to reply to the questions as asked by my opponent through the press and otherwise.

First, my life and actions have at all times been an open book. In all my races I have run on my own merits and not the faults of others and, as a result of so doing I have the respect and friendship of each and every opponent I have ever had prior to this race.

Friends, don't you think it would be ridiculous and down right silly for us to go around asking people for whom they voted two years ago or any other time as to that matter.

It is a sacred duty and privilege cherished by us all to vote as we please. If he knows so much about it why didn't he tell you how I voted and why? If he will take a close inventory of his record the past nineteen months he will readily see why I voted as I did.

As to the other question I have already answered it in all papers when I stated I would render all decisions based on law and evidence. No one wants justice meted out to the law breaker more than I. The guilty must be punished and not paroled for more violations.

As to the Walker Case you, my opponent, have had nearly two years in office and an assistant attorney at an expense of five thousand dollars with which to prosecute and still you are using it as a political football to further your own interests. Since you take the position you do I'm just wondering if you are not figuring out some way to drag it out for another two years so you can again holler wolf if you should be elected. You have spent thousands of dollars and accomplished nothing. Why haven't you used your influence to dispose of this Case profitably and as quickly as possible and devote more time to the County's business? About the only burning thing I find throughout the County about the Walker Case is the foolish expenditure of the people's tax money. Is the Walker Case all you have to offer for reelection?

Dear friends, it is not my fault that this was requested by my opponent. I am very, very sorry indeed that it had to be, and if you elect me your County Judge I promise you that I shall put forth every effort in me to rid the County of every blot and conduct the affairs of the office in a courteous, efficient, and dignified manner you pay for and expect to get.

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY

I have attempted to see each of you during this campaign, but I know that I have missed many and I am truly sorry because one of the best things about a political campaign is meeting new people and making new friends.

I am a candidate for the office of County Clerk and will appreciate your consideration. I will not bother you with a lot of campaign promises — I will only say that if you select me for the post I will do everything in my power to do the job in the same courteous and efficient manner VIRGIL LOVE has handled it in the past.

Due to the fact that this is my first time to seek office many of you do not know me, but most everyone in Cisco knows my brother, Homer Smith, former County School Superintendent. Please feel free to check on my Qualifications, my character and my dependability — I will appreciate deeply your support.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The most common variety of intervertebral disk disorder is a ruptured disk. Men are more often afflicted with this ailment, most often in the lumbar region of the back, the hip or loin region.

Disks are springy bases located between the bony vertebrae of the spine. The bones are somewhat spool-shaped and in between them are these wire-like cages. Inside the cage is a ball. As the bones of the back bend and move to create back motion, those balls get pushed from the middle of the cages to the sides, to maintain balance and limit the motion of the spine.

When two bones of the vertebrae come almost together as the back is bent, the cage and the ball between those bones are squeezed clear over to the other side, away from the meeting place of the vertebrae. If the strain is too great or if there is a weakness in the cage, the ball may rupture through the cage. That keeps the bones out of line, leading to disability. And the ball is often jammed up against the root of a nerve, causing pressure which creates pain waves sent all up and down the area that the nerve serves.

When pain, limited motion, or any other symptom in either the lumbar or the neck area leads your doctor to suspect ruptured disk, his diagnosis is usually confirmed by x-ray pictures which show the loss of space between the bones where the disk is supposed to be. The amount of pain and the amount of disability which the ruptured disk is causing will determine the type of treatment recommended.

Navy Trying New Plan To Notify Family Of Death

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 23.—The Navy is trying a new procedure to cut down delay and inconvenience to next of kin in cases involving accidental deaths of Navy men away from their duty stations. During the past year, there were 22 deaths in the Eighth Naval District in this category.

The Eighth Naval District—comprising Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas—has been chosen for a six-month trial period for the procedure by authority of the Secretary of the Navy.

The change, suggested by officers of the Eighth Naval District staff, may be adopted by all districts in the continental United States.

Formerly, Navy doctors at this headquarters had experienced a number of cases where undue delays were caused in shipping the remains of Navy personnel to the next of kin. Because the word had to be relayed to Eighth Naval District headquarters by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in Washington as to notification to next of kin, disposition, etc., it had taken from two to four days to get bodies prepared and shipped.

Under the experiment, the delay will be cut to approximately 24 hours, as authority for preparation and encasement of remains in accordance with next of kin's wishes will be granted by this headquarters.

Money has been set up for the Eighth Naval District to defray expenses in connection with the death of a person on active duty with the Navy which occurs while away from a duty station on liberty, leave or under orders to another activity.

Anyone witnessing an accident in which Navy personnel may be fatally injured is asked to immediately notify Eighth Naval District headquarters either by a collect telephone call or collect telegram. This is in addition to notifying local authorities.

Medical officers here will immediately get in touch with a funeral director who will take charge of the preparation and encasement of the remains, notify the next of kin by telegram, and issue orders to the funeral director to carry out the wishes of the next of kin.

BASCOM GILES' OUTSTANDING RECORD MERITS HIS RE-ELECTION

(Political Adv. Paid For By ADAIR DYER)

Dear Voters:

This is my last appeal for your vote and influence. I have done my best to keep the race clean and on a high, dignified level in line with the office of County Judge.

You, dear friends and voters of Cisco, please remember it was I, while County Superintendent, who transferred to Cisco nine school districts, one of which was Bedford, that now is one of the richest oil fields near Cisco. It has the Cooper and Hemphill lease, better known as the John S. Hart Lease which produces around six thousand barrels monthly. The oil sells for $2.65 per barrel. I am extremely glad Mr. Hart has this great income but it is a coincidence that I transferred Bedford to Cisco and he used all his influence to take the district from Cisco to some other place. I do not wish this to be criticism of his freedom of action, but it is well to remember also the loss of this district will be an enormous loss to Cisco for years to come and this has been brought about by Mr. Hart's influence on the election that forced it from you. The above is from the records in the office of Cooper and Hemphill, Victor Hotel, Cisco, and the County Superintendent's office, Eastland.

I know I have run several times but this is the ninth time for him and he is asking not for a second term but fourteen years in public office. He has been paid more from public funds than any other county official on record. This is commendable indeed but just thought I'd call your attention to it.

I shall briefly state here some of the things so badly needed and I'll do my best to accomplish them: Maximum farm to market roads, soil conservation by cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, 4-H club work, better care and more aid for our aged and needy, both old and young.

I promise to mete out a strict justice granting pardons and paroles which serve best the individual and the public, putting principle before politics. I shall cooperate at all times with our peace officers throughout the County in eliminating law violations as much as possible, thus making Eastland County a safer and better place in which to live.

I am well qualified to handle ALL CASES coming under the jurisdiction of the County Judge. I shall cooperate with the Commissioners Court remembering at all times my duties and limitations.

Friends, if you will elect me your County Judge I will do my best to make you one of the best you ever had. I shall not forget that the job is yours and I'm your hired hand, striving to give you the kind of service you pay for and expect to get.

Sincerely,
C. S. (Clabe) ELDRIDGE

WAVES To Mark 10th Anniversary

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 24. Ten years of service in the Navy will be marked by the WAVES on July 30.

Some 9000 WAVES on active duty in the continental United States, Japan, Hawaii, Norway, Germany, France, Alaska and England will salute the occasion with informal observances.

Captain Joy Bright Hancock, USN, Director of the WAVES, will follow Navy tradition by using a sword to cut a ten-candle cake at the Naval Receiving Station, Washington, D. C.

The annual reunion to be held in Washington July 26-27 will be attended by more than 1200 women, including former WAVES, and women of the Regular Navy and Naval Reserve.

WAVES (Women Appointed for Voluntary Emergency Service) became a part of the Navy on July 30, 1942, when Congress authorized the commissioning and enlistment of women in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

More than 79,000 WAVES were on duty in 900 continental shore activities and performed 450 different kinds of jobs during World War II. Over 4000 were assigned to duty in Hawaii.

Today 28 of the Navy's 62 enlisted ratings are open to WAVES.

Their duty is limited only by restrictions on serving in aircraft on combat missions, on ships other than hospital ships and transports, and in billets classified as "heavy duty."

Garfield was the only President of the United States who was left-handed.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

Thinking of buying a house? Before you sign anything, be sure you know the effects of your action. Many legal problems are involved in such a transaction. This column, and those to follow on this subject, will attempt to point out and explain some of the legal angles connected with your purchase.

For the average person, the buying of a home is the largest single transaction of his life. It is also, in most instances, the most permanent or longest term investment he will ever make. Whether or not he bought wisely will be determined by his ability to resell without difficulty, or to enjoy the use of the premises without annoyance or interruption.

Possibly the first legal problem you will meet will be when you are asked by the seller or his agent to sign a contract of sale or earnest money contract. In connection with the latter, you will be asked to deposit a sum of money which would be forfeited to the seller and agent for damages in event you do not fulfill the contract. Although no forfeit money may be required with the former, you may still be legally liable for damages if you renege. Be sure, therefore, that you know exactly what your obligations are.

The next legal problem would probably be to determine the status of the title to the property. Many persons become confused during this stage, thinking that securing possession of an Abstract or Title Insurance Policy will afford them complete protection against title defects. This is not necessarily true in either case.

Keep in mind that an abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract. Any person may purchase an abstract covering any piece of land, whether he owns it or not. A Title Insurance Policy indemnifies you only up to a certain maximum sum of money, and contains various exceptions to the specified coverage.

Following this would be the problem of transferring the title from the legal owner to you, as purchaser, in such manner that no legal question might later arise concerning your sole and exclusive ownership.

Incidental to your title problems is that of ascertaining what restrictions exist upon the lot you are buying and upon neighborhood generally. Municipal zoning ordinances and restrictive covenants placed upon tracts by previous owners or developers of the subdivision, prove a protection or a hindrance, according to the plans may have for future use or improvement of your property.

Other legal questions may in arranging the method of payment for the house. The that most people need years which to complete such payments makes this a matter to be considered carefully.

These are some of the major legal problems you are likely to encounter in purchasing a home. Of course, a number of other may arise in some cases due peculiar individual circumstances. Subsequent columns on subject will seek to explain the and other interwoven legal considerations.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Land Grants Prove Beneficial For University And Schools Of State

AUSTIN, July 24. — Thanks to land grants, a special tax has never been levied in support of the University of Texas, a doctoral dissertation by Edith Helene Parker points out.

Furthermore, "appropriations from the general revenue have been probably less than 4 fourth of what would have been necessary for a university of equal grade and standing," Dr. Parker declares.

Now historian for the U. S. Defense Department in Washington, D. C., Dr. Parker recently received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University. She wrote on "History of Land Grants for Education in Texas," including all types of public education.

"Nearly one-third of the public domain of Texas has been devoted to the cause of education," Dr. Parker relates. "If there were to be a catastrophe of such proportions as to destroy the funds and plants of the Texas public system of education (in 1950), the people of the state would have to raise three-quarters of a billion dollars to replace what has been in so large measure attributable to the gift of free lands."

Land granted the University of Texas constitutes the largest endowment for an institution of education in the U. S., and, in all probability, in the world," Dr. Parker states.

"An evaluation of what the University has meant to the state of Texas is beyond the scope of this study," she says. "Through the teaching, research and service program of the University, the progress of the state has been closely allied to the institution of its creation. The free school system of the state, from the elementary grades through the high school and state junior colleges, is complete in the University."

"Higher education is admittedly not entirely free but the low tuition costs, arrangements for self-support of students and facilities for low-cost living have placed a university education within reach of any Texan with the ambition to have it," Dr. Parker added.

The dissertation explains the University's Permanent Fund may not be spent. Only the Available Fund (income from Permanent Fund investments) may be spent, and that income is shared with Texas A&M College.

Cotton And Feed Crops Benefit By Limited Rainfall

Cotton, pasture and late feed prospects were given a distinct boost by a general rain over the eastern third of the State and light to heavy local thunder-showers in most other sections during the past week. Early corn generally was too far advanced to be helped, but deterioration of late corn and sorghums, as well as cotton, was halted for the most part.

Harvesting of cotton was interrupted in the lower valley and coastal bend, as was plowing of wheat land in some high plains counties. The cross-timbers area, a number of west central blackland counties and much of the Edwards plateau and southwestern Texas continue in need of additional moisture.

Prospects for the grain sorghum crop were improved greatly in central and northeastern counties of the high plains and most counties of the low rolling plains. Additional acreage has been or will be planted. The crop was also benefited in northern and eastern counties, but continued to deteriorate in central, Edwards plateau and south Texas counties. Harvest was nearing completion in the coastal bend commercial area and was underway in other southern and southwestern counties. Prospects for late planted corn were improved in eastern and southeastern counties.

Peanut prospects were improved in practically all sections. Harvest of the early crop in the south was started and the fall-crop in this area was up to a stand in most sections. Rice made exceptionally good progress. All early crops were heading nicely and a few fields were nearing maturity. Pecan prospects continue to show improvement over the very small crop of last year.

Cotton deterioration was checked in areas receiving needed rains and the crop for the State as a whole made good progress. Southern counties of the low rolling plains and adjacent counties of the south high plains, where plants are small and development poor as the result of drought, are the principle exceptions. The crop in other parts of the north-west plains areas was making

Monthly Meeting Is Held By Christians

"Bridges For Fellowship" was the theme of the program presented at the monthly meeting of the C. W. F. of the First Christian Church Tuesday July 22, at the church.

Mrs. Bill Huestis called the meeting to order with opening prayer by the Rev. Sidney Spain. The president turned the meeting to Group One who was in charge of the program.

The devotional entitled "Completing The Fellowship," was given by Dorothy Jo Garrett. Others taking part on the program were Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Mrs. Raby Miller, and Mrs. H. R. Garrett. A piano selection by Linda Beth Lucas concluded the program.

During the business session, minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, roll call of the groups taken, and other routine business matters were transacted. The meeting closed by all present repeating the missionary benediction.

A social hour followed in the church basement with Mrs. H. R. Garrett and Dorothy Jo Garrett as hostesses. Approximately twenty five members attended.

Satisfactory growth and the older cotton was fruiting well. In the blacklands cotton was fruiting heavily on relatively small plants.

Satisfactory progress was made in eastern and southcentral areas, but insect activity, particularly in eastern counties, was sharply increased by the showery weather. Rains were beneficial in the coastal bend area by checking premature opening of bolls and promoting the growth and development of later crops. Ginning was at peak activity throughout the lower valley and getting underway in the coastal bend until interrupted by rains. Increased numbers of boll worms, weevils and fleahoppers were reported in most areas, but damage was not extensive except in the lower valley and some counties in east Texas.

Field work was interrupted in most commercial vegetable areas. Shipments of watermelons continued fairly active despite heavy rains in some sections, but harvest of the Panhandle potato crop was further delayed. Some of the remaining Presidio cantaloup crop was lost as a result of flooded fields. The improved moisture situation was beneficial to late cantaloup and watermelon crops, but most of the earlier plantings were too far along to be helped. Conditions were favorable for the early planted fall-crop seed beds in all southern counties. Pastures and range prospects in the eastern third of the state were improved by the general rains. Ranges in the Trans-Pecos and western plateau counties were responding to moisture received the past few weeks, but central plateau counties were needing additional rainfall, as were the counties farther south. Ranges and pastures in most plains areas have sufficient moisture for vegetative growth, although some of the extreme southern counties remain critically dry.
