The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE BOYS OUT at the Lake Cisco swimming pool tell us that they probably will close down the big pool after Sunday. This will happen unless, of course, a big lake-filling rain falls between now and the end of the week. The water level at Lake Cisco is too low to keep the pool in operation the balance of the summer.

The swimming business also drops off after the middle of August, and pool officials kind of doubt if business would warrant re-filling the pool, even if there was plenty of water.

THE LEGION BOYS, who cooperate the pool, hope to get a general improvement program underway out at the park in the near future. They hope to make some new and needed improvements and make the park into something outstanding for this section of the country.

The skating rink is doing pretty good. It operates nightly. Plans call for forming a skating club soon. A teacher will be obtained to give club members lessons in plain and fancy skating. We'll keep you posted on this matter.

THE WATER LEVEL being low at Lake Cisco, you'd think the fishing would be good. Not so, say the experts. It would seem that with the fish in a smaller area, they'd be easier to catch. The answer is that the big fish which usually feed on the smaller fish are not hungry because they are better able to corral their prey — thus, the fish, and not the fishermen, benefit from the reduced area.

THERE'S BEEN A lot of talk about doing something about the water in Texas, but little action. According to a booklet that we've just received, Texas A. & M. College is tackling the Texas water problem. They're hiring an expert to head up a new research department to conduct a thorough study of the water situation in the whole state.

Enough water for all of our needs, present and future, falls on Texas and is brought into the state by surface and underground streams originating elsewhere, over the years. Our basic water problem, the A. & M. men say, is one of management — to make available and use effectively the water provided for us by nature.

IT WILL BE football time again and soon. Coaches Scat Russell and Paul Mosley of Cisco Junior College are up in Fort Worth attending the coaching school at TCU. They plan to begin Wrangler grid training on September 1. Understand Coach Jay Williams of the high school staff is also attending the school. Our scouts report that Coach Carroll Tatom is again scheduled for Army induction.

A YOUNG LADY who works on the newspaper at Edinburg was a visitor in our office yesterday. She is Miss Dorothy McWhorter, a society reporter. Miss McWhorter, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McWhorter and her brother, John, are visiting in the home of Mrs. W. E. McWhorter in Cisco. Mrs. McWhorter is assistant postmaster at Edinburg.

The hot weather here hasn't especially bothered the visitors, as they're used to warm and humid weather in South Texas.

SPEAKING OF society reporters, The Press has been a little light with society news the past couple of days. Miss Ruth Lanham, chairman of the social department, is directing the Lutheran encampment for youngsters out at Lake Cisco Park. She'll be back on the job next week, and things will return to normal around our office.

WANT A PUPPY? There are five Collie pups — one female and four males — out at the R. L. Seay residence, 508 Franklin Street, off the Breckenridge highway in East Cisco. The puppies are about five weeks old. Anybody who wants one may have same for free by coming after it.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday with the arrangements to be announced later. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery under the direction of Thomas Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lewis was born in Clarksville on June 21, 1878. She moved to Cisco from Oklahoma 28 years ago.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Aug. 8. — Two hundred Eighth Naval District Naval Reservists left New Orleans Monday (August 4) for a two week training cruise to Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, aboard the destroyer escorts USS HAAS and USS WILLETT.

The reservists reported aboard ship Sunday morning (August 3) and had an opportunity to visit New Orleans in the afternoon.

On the trip to and from Ciudad Trujillo, the reservists will learn first hand about life aboard ship. For some, however, this only means brushing up on what they have forgotten since their last active duty.

They will practice such drills as fire, abandon ship, man overboard, and other shipboard drills necessary to maintain a sea-worthy man-of-war.

After a week end of liberty at Ciudad Trujillo and two weeks at sea, the Naval Reservists will return to New Orleans August 16 en route back to civilian life.

Among the group is James D. Smith, seaman recruit, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Smith, Rt. 1, Cisco. Smith is a member of Organized Surface Division 8-96 in Abilene.

Baseball Tourney To End Saturday

The Eastland Yellow Jackets and Eula will meet tonight at ABC Field in the first game of a best two-out-of-three series to decide the championship of the Cisco invitation baseball tournament. The game, a nine inning affair, has been called for 8 p. m.

Eastland entered the finals by eliminating Gorman Thursday night by a 7-2 score while Eula went into the finals by trouncing the Cisco First Baptists 11-1 in the second Thursday night contest. Eastland downed Baird in the first contest and Eula eliminated Throckmorton.

Eight Gorman errors aided the Yellow Jackets to collect seven runs off six hits to win their semifinals game. The Jackets played errorless ball during the seven inning contest to hold the Red Sox to two runs off six hits.

The Eula team combined 10 hits with five Baptist errors to win their semi-final game by the 11-1 score. The 10 run rule stopped the contest in the bottom half of the fifth when Eula ran in five runs to bring them to 10 runs ahead of the Baptists. The pitching of Boyd of Eula was too much for the Baptists who garnered only three hits off his throws. Don Johnson got a single and a double and Leech got a bingle.

Saturday night Eastland and Eula will play the second game of the play off series, and the third game, if needed. All the play-off games are nine inning affairs and the admission prices have been set at 50 cents and 25 cents.

One of the largest crowds of the season saw the two Thursday games and a full house was expected for the remainder of the contests.

NOT GOOD ENOUGH

If the Administration has its way, the Federal government will spend $85,400,000,000 of our money this year. The Treasury anticipates an income of $71,000,000,000 which would leave a deficit of $14,400,000,000. Even that picture is probably over-bright — the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation believes that the Treasury's revenue estimates are too high about $4,000,000,000.

Luckily for the present and future strength and security of this country, Congress seems to be finally opening its eyes to the fact that the budget can be cut — and must be cut. Many requested appropriations have been sharply pared, and more reductions are in prospect. All in all, it looks as if Congress will reduce the President's budget by a total of something like $9,000,000,000.

This is good news — but it isn't good enough. A great many experts on government administration and policy are convinced that so far, Congress has only dealt with some of the more flagrant wastes and extravagances. They are convinced that many more billions can be saved without impairing any necessary government activity—including an adequate national defense and a reasonable amount of foreign aid.

The ordinary American family is undoubtedly giving more thought to the tax burden than it ever did in the past. That family must contribute about $1,500 a year to meet the current tax bill. It is the people of modest means who must carry most of the load now — for the rich have long been taxed to the point of confiscation.

Waste can destroy a nation just as it can destroy a business or a family. We're no exception to that firm rule.

A. D. Thomas was a business visitor in Cisco on Thursday. He also visited his sister, Mrs. Barbara Townsend.

Long-grass Silage Saves Forage Crop in Midwest

Grass-Legume Silage Being Packed by Tractor.

Many Midwest farmers were forced by weather conditions in 1951 to resort to putting up grass-legume silage instead of hay in an effort to save their grass-legume forage. This was the "cloud with a silver lining." They learned how to put up long grass silage.

Some did not have forage choppers and could not buy or rent chopping equipment. Thus, many tried long grass silage for the first time. The forage was taken directly from the swath after mowing, without the use of a chopper or cutter, and placed in a stack or trench silo. Results thus far have been highly encouraging, according to Walter Weiss of the Soil Conservation Service in "Crops and Soils" for May, 1952.

Some of the observations made by Mr. Weiss may be of value to farmers who decide to handle some of their forage this way in 1952.
1. For first cutting, allow from 1 to 3 hours for wilting. For second cutting, don't wilt—pick up as close behind mowing as possible.
2. Any buckrake will work, but the point ends of the buckrake teeth must all be lined up. If some are higher or lower than the rest, they cause trouble in loading.
3. The back part of the buckrake teeth should be from 2 to 12 inches above ground when loading, with the points riding firmly on the ground. If the teeth are flat on the ground for their entire length, green hay gets under rather than on the teeth.

4. Windrowing has not proved satisfactory. Pick up directly from mower swath.
5. Don't overload. Average load 1,200 to 1,500 pounds of green material. Travel with load just off the ground. A smooth roadway from field to pile site is an important saver of travel time.
6. Pack green forage thoroughly after unloading in trench or on stack. Keep packing tractor going constantly. Pack once a day for 4 to 6 days thereafter.
7. While packing keep sides of stack as straight as possible and top flat. Too much crown makes packing difficult and dangerous.
8. Where possible protect stack from rain and melting snow.
9. Push a soil ridge against each side of stack when completed.
10. To get long silage out of pile, a serrated hay knife, or a rolling coupler blade fitted with a heavy handle and a three-tined hay fork are only tools needed.
11. No special equipment or type of silo is necessary. Ordinary haying machinery and a nearby well-drained piece of ground are all that are necessary.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The classic picture of the Southerner as a lean type of person is true, if studies of the effect of climate upon the body build are any indication. Nutrition and other factors undoubtedly play a part in determining a person's physique, but medical climatologists (physicians who consider the effect of climate on health) explain differences in the rate of growth in the varying sections of the United States as the result of beneficial or not-so-beneficial climatic conditions. Both in height and weight, children of the upper Mississippi Valley, which receives the most stimulating weather, outstrip those of the same ages in the deep South; they display a more robust figure, that is, more pounds of weight per inch of height. Puberty, the period at which sexual maturity is reached, arrives earlier in the more northerly regions, contrary to the popular myth that it comes sooner in tropical regions.

The beginning of fertility in girls, the age at which they can bear children, usually signifies that the long bones cease to grow. Therefore, since girls in the upper Mississippi Valley mature more rapidly, they do not grow as tall as their counterparts in the South. Data from American colleges collected in 1936 revealed that University of Texas coeds averaged 63.9 inches in height and 116 pounds in weight. They were in the medium range of height among college women of the nation but in weight they ranked lowest, another proof that Southerners tend toward leanness.

W. I. Agnew Given Surprise Party On 57th Anniversary

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Agnew surprised Mr. and Mrs. Agnew with a picnic supper at the Agnew home on the evening of July 31, honoring them on their 57th wedding anniversary.

The group all met at the same time at the home of their parents and brought baskets of food which was eaten in the back yard.

Attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huestis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huestis, Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Agnew and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Agnew and Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turknett and Sandra, all of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. Clemon Agnew of Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bob Agnew of Lancaster, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Skete Fambro of Strawn and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brandon of Thurber.

Similar studies on college men of various races and nationalities have shown that the body weight per unit of height is lowest in areas with moist, tropical heat, next lowest in subtropical climate, and highest in the cool stormy regions.

Apparently human beings, as well as animals, do not grow as well under conditions of moist, subtropical weather such as that found in the South. They usually assume a slender body form, and with the exception of the women who may be slightly taller, are of shorter stature than their neighbors to the north.

Bethany Class Has Covered Dish Lunch

The Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Kay Sitton with a covered dish luncheon for the regular business meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 4.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Vera Darr. All business was transacted, and Mrs. Mildred Flint brought an interesting devotional. At the close

Teachers Back Wildlife Study

AUSTIN, August 8.—The Director of Conservation Education and Departmental Publications for the Texas Game & Fish Commission reports that the conservation movement in Texas has received greater emphasis this summer.

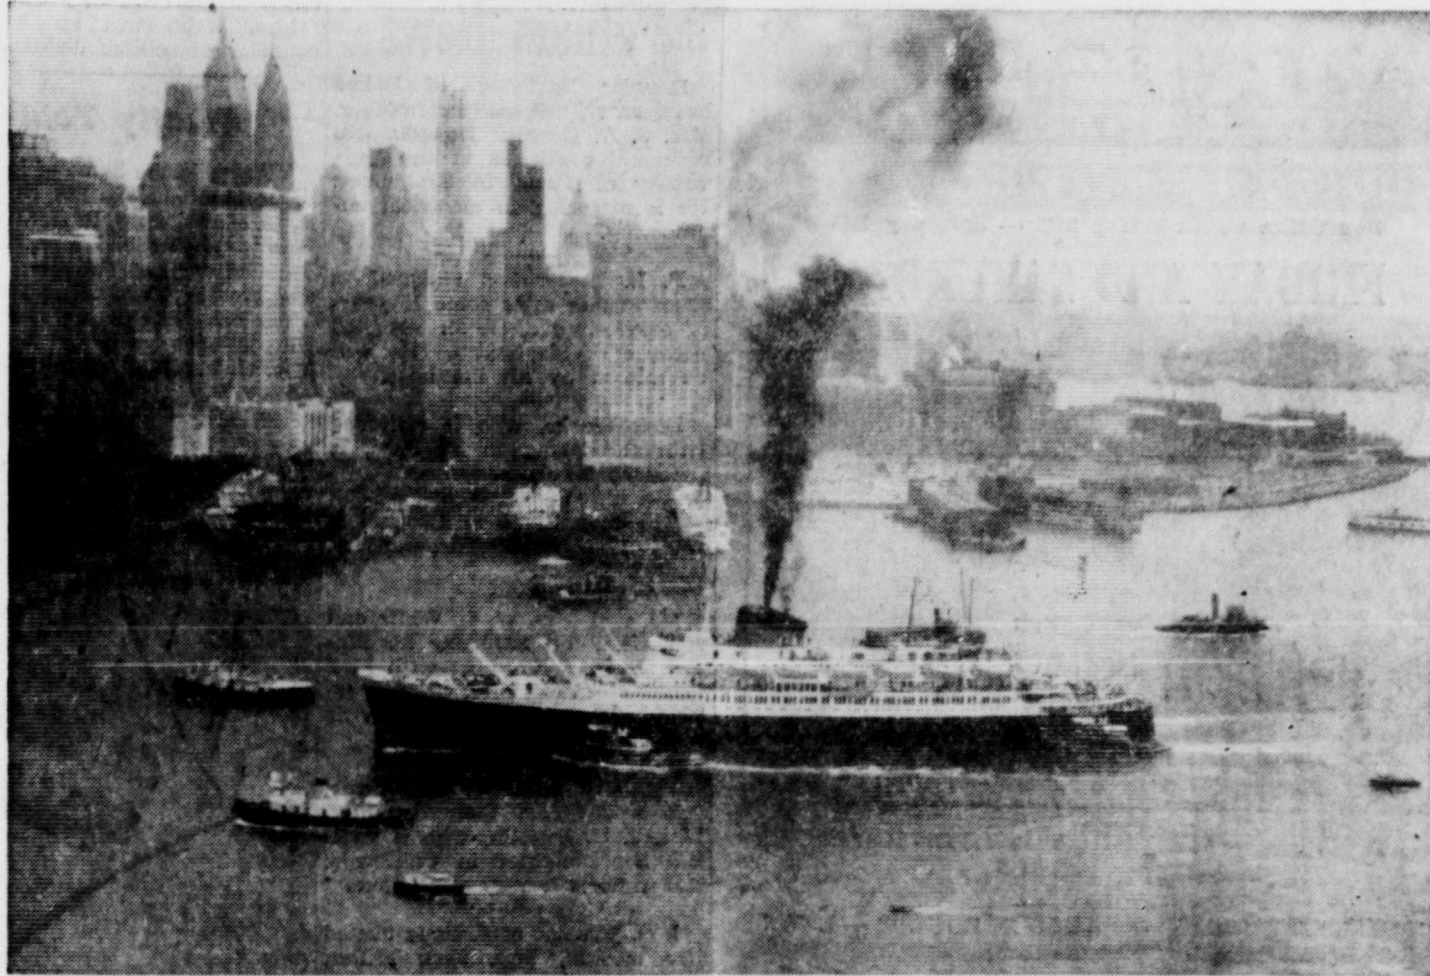

He said teachers from all sections of Texas, and from all grade levels, attended conservation workshops and training courses in many senior colleges and universities.

These teacher training centers included the University of Texas, South Methodist University, North Texas State, Texas State College for Women, East Texas State, Texas Arts & Industries, Sam Houston, Sul Ross, McMurray, Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian, Prairie View and A & M.

Many other educational institutions were actively engaged in training teachers to teach youngsters how to conserve the natural resources.

The Director said many government agencies provided one or more conservation education consultants to assist in these teacher training programs. They included: State Soil Conservation Districts, the United States Soil Conservation Service, the Texas Forest Service, the Texas Health Department and the Department of Public Safety.

The Director said that, as a result of these training courses, hundreds more Texas teachers will be actually teaching boys and girls this fall the basic facts about our natural resource. They will emphasize, he explained, their present status, their value and proper use.

A QUEEN'S EMBARRASSING ENTRANCE—The jinx-plagued maiden voyage of the new French ocean queen SS Flandre nears completion as tugboats pull the 20,264-ton vessel to her pier in New York harbor. Forced to come to a dead stop twice because of clogged filters and stalled a third time by a balky anchor, the ship finally had to be towed into port, delaying a formal welcome.

Thanks Folks, We Got Elected —

... and it is a nice tribute to be favored with the confidence and good-will of one's neighbors and friends. Getting elected, you well know, may apply to business as well as politics. I doubt if we could get very far in a political race, but when it comes to making quality abstracts a host of customers far and near have for more than a quarter century favored us with a vote of confidence, and tstill do. And for that we are deeply appreciative!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor
Pineapple Upside-Down Cake

Broadcast: March 29, 1952

3 tablespoons butter 1/2 pkg. white cake mix (see note)
1/2 cup brown sugar 1/4 cup Pet Milk
6 slices canned pineapple, well drained 1/4 cup water

Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet over very low heat. Remove from heat and sprinkle sugar over butter. Arrange pineapple slices on sugar. Let stand until needed. Put cake mix into bowl. Add half of a mixture of milk and water. Beat hard 1 minute. Stir in rest of the milk mixture and beat hard 2 minutes. Pour batter over pineapple.
